Use Coffee Shops To Spread Red Propaganda

By JAMES TAYLOR

BANGKOK, Sept. 20 (Reuters) —Communist propagandists in Thailand are exploiting one of the cheapest methods of information dissemination in Southeast Asia—coffee-shop rumors.

For every newspaper reader among Thailand's scattered population of 18,000,000, there are at least 10 persons who read little, if at all. But all of them drink coffee and spread gossip in public places.

It is significant that the Communist propaganda technique here does not attempt mass conversion to party ideology. The rumors are passed in simple, colloquial language; there is no attempt to insert the usual party dogma or dialectics. Phrases like "Anglo-American imperialists" have no place over a cup of coffee.

Western propaganda, in the form of multi-lingual printed information bulletins, is in direct contrast. To untutored Thai minds, it could seem almost morosely dull in its studiously-reasoned arguments, its strict adherence to facts—and its patent indications of crusading purpose.

Small Percentage

The bulk of American and British propaganda here is the product of elaborate toil, expensive planning and presentation. Its receptive readers are the educated people, who form only about one per cent of the country's population.

The Communist - inspired rumors have the mob appeal. The Red propaganda machine is geared to a fine understanding of the vulnerable spots in the psychology of the majority of Asians.

Few Thai people wholly believe the coffee-shop gossip which they themselves spread. But it suffices for the Communists purposes that a residue of doubt and suspicion remains in their minds.

In coffee-shop parlance, the anti-Communist western powers fighting in Asia are grouped simply under the common label of "foreigners." Similarly simple is the definition of Russia and its satellites merely as "the peoples' governments."

Yom Kippur Observed Near And Far By Jews

Starting at sundown this evening and continuing until the same hour tomorrow night, the Peterborough Jewish community is celebrating Yom Kippur, the "Day of Atonement", climaxing their 10-day celebration of the Hebrew New Year.

From Jerusalem where the observance began earlier due to the time zone, that for many Jews it was the first time they had celebrated the day of fast and prayer in the land they once again can call their homeland.

All work stopped. Jerusalem's radio "Voice of Israel" was silent. There were no buses, cars, trains or planes running. All shops and theatres were closed.

Ed Youngman Heads Conservation Zone

Ed Youngman of Pontypool, is the new president of the Zone Four, Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association. He succeeds Melville Johnston, reeve of North Monaghan.

The election was held Tuesday night in Port Hope, the conclusion of Zone Four's field day and annual meeting. Included in the zone are all those interested in conservation in the counties of Hastings, Peterborough, Durham, Victoria, Northumberland, Ontario and Prince Edward.

Here is the complete 1950-51 executive: Ed Youngman, president; Howard Harper, Ontario, 1st vice-president; Frank Weldon, Victoria, 2nd vice-pres.; Ralph Banbury, secretary; also Percy Gooding, of Northumberland; Dwight Reynolds, Prince Edward; and Harry Harrison, Hastings.

Resume Ford Talks

WINDSOR, Sept. 20 (CP) — Ford Motor Company of Canada and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) will meet again today after failure Tuesday to reach agreement on wage increases for the company's 11,000 workmen. "The company hasn't changed their offer," George Burt, Canadian UAW director, said Tuesday night. "It's still the five-year contract offer."

Hits New Peak

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Canadian labor income hit a new monthly peak of $683,000,000 in June, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday. An upward swing in employment and a slight rise in average weekly earnings accounted for the record, which was up by six per cent over June of last year.

Not Surprising

WINDSOR, Sept. 20 (CP) — When a man keeps a still at his home, it's not surprising to hear that he has been picked up for drunk driving. It happened to Victor Chelmecki who was fined $100 Tuesday for operating the illegal still; then sentenced to 30 days in jail for the drunk driving charge—his second in the last couple of years.

See Larger Staff

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP)—A spokesman for A. V. Roe Canada Ltd., builders of the new Canuck twin-jet fighter, said Tuesday an eventual 5,000-person increase in staff is foreseen as the company expands due to Canada's commitments in international defence. The plant now employs more than 4,000 workers.

Close Contests Shown In School Soccer Play

King Edward played Central soccer eleven in an intermediate game on Tuesday afternoon, on King Edward Park, ending in a no-scoring battle.

Right from the kick-off, King Edward introduced combination plays but indulged too much in fancy passing, thereby permitting Central to block their progress. In the second period Central were more aggressive in mid-field play, while King Edward peppered the Central goalie—Kelly—who was unbeatable as Beggs, Byers and Dunstan rattled shots on goal.

Central—T. Kelly, goal; R. Ellis and G. Pollock, full backs; C. orrie, V. Armstrong and T. Armstrong, half backs; D. Lustic, B. Naish, B. Sorrie, J. Lustic and N. Lloyd, forwards. Subs., C. Hayman, P. McInroy and D. Dinsdale.

King Edward—J. Parks, goal; R. Murduff and F. Ball, full backs; W. Rowe, T. Collins and P. Waldie half backs; A. Beggs, J. Rowe, R. Stevens, J. Byers and K. Dunstan forwards. Subs., W. Cuff, J. Murphy, R. Rowe.

Referee, Mr. Hill.

King George Won

Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth school aggregation completed the team to play King George in an intermediate game on Queen Alex grounds, with the East City boys winning 1-0.

There was no scoring the first half with neither team showing any brilliancy while in possession of the ball. The second half revealed different tactics by King George and it finally rewarded them with a scoring chance by Dorrington.

Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth—C. Cameran, goal; T. Reid and W. Johnston, full backs; J. Mason, J. Hall and W. Barber half backs; M. Tighe, B. Kilborn, W. Whitnell, P. Stewart and G. Ball, forwards. Subs., N. Olmstead, P. Nelson, R. Mabee, D. Woodburn, J. Dalton.

King George—E. English, goal; R King and P. Denison full backs; P. Hayden, G. Barclay and A. Clarke half backs; E. Innes, C. Crowder, K. Dixon, A. Baptie and B. Dorrington forwards. Subs., L. Hale, G. Pollard, D. Greenly.

Referee, Mr. Anderson, Prince of Yales.

Fake Prince Jailed

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — The self-styled Prince of Palma, Ph.D., was fined $700 and costs or a year in jail Tuesday. The "prince" — alias Earl Anglin James—pleaded guilty to smuggling moving-picture equipment into Canada. He was given until Sept. 22 to pay. James was arrested July 3. Police said his fictitious titles included Prince of the Municipality of Thomond; General of the Legion of Honor; Duke of Scala; Anglican and Roman Catholic Archbishop, and chaplain of Chicago's largest jail.

Actor Learns Problems Of Blindness

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP)—The technicians signalled they were ready and the director announced "let's shoot it."

The make-up man ushered the star, Arthur Kennedy, into the set. The scene began. Bystanders were convinced that Kennedy could not see, and sure enough, they were right.

Kennedy is portraying a blind veteran in "Lights Out." Before he goes into every scene, a make-up man applies contact lenses to the actor's eyes. The lenses fit over the eyeball and shut out light to the cornea. They plunge Kennedy into a world of darkness into which only the strongest light enters.

All For Realism

The whole thing was the idea of director Mark Robson, a sharp man for realism.

"I thought if Arthur knew exactly what it was like to be without sight, he would be even more convincing," Robson told me.

"It was Mark's idea," Kennedy admitted, "but I was all for it. I tried on 80 pairs of lenses before I found the right kind. At first the studio was against the idea. They thought putting in the lenses would hold up production. But we managed to talk them into it."

I asked Kennedy what was the mental sensation of being temporarily blinded.

"It was a feeling of being lost," he said. "It's a hard thing to get used to."

Bruised

The earnest young actor has received a number of bruises during the film and exhibited a nasty one on his chest.

"I was walking beside Robson," he said, "and he didn't remember that I couldn't see. I walked right into a chair and took a tumble. I'm lucky I didn't break a rib."

"Lights Out" concerns a soldier who is blinded in Tunisia and returns home to seek his own security. Robson hopes the film will show seeing persons the best way to treat the blind.

"That is," he explained, "to let them help themselves. They want no special treatment."

Sign New Contract

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — A contract calling for wage increases and a company-paid social-security plan has been signed by seven Toronto bedding plants and the International Union of upholsterers (AFL). About 500 employees are affected. The contract provides a 95-cent hourly starting wage for male employees, 85 cents for females. Previous rates ranged from 70 to 80 cents.

Soft Drinks

An Open Letter To The General Public

Soft drinks have become a part of our Canadian way of life. To hundreds of thousands of Canadians across the Dominion, quality controlled soft drinks offer tops in refreshment value.

The greatest value for a nickel, the soft drink, is still with us, but what has happened to the nickel?

HERE IS WHAT HAS HAPPENED:

1. The recent 30% tax imposed on soft drinks by the Dominion Government (and not 1c per bottle as has been erroneously reported),
2. Costs have risen so rapidly and sharply that it remains impossible to retain pre-war prices. The price SQUEEZE is a most desperate one at the moment.

The effort which the industy has put forth on the matter of increased efficiency through better production facilities, and other cost reduction factors has had a telling effect in holding prices until the present time. Increased sales have also contributed greatly to maintaining the traditional selling price which has not changed since bottle soft drinks became so popular.

There are basic cost increases today, however, which necessitate an increase in the retail price. Following are some items which have increased so drastically:

Sugar — bottles — crowns (bottle tops) — beverage cases — trucks and truck maintenance — gasoline — direct labor — direct selling delivery wages—freight — rents — office wages — business taxes — machinery — carbonic gas — and other subsidiary items.

The majority of beverage manufacturers have decided, and rightfully so in the interest of the general public, that they would rather continue offering pre-war high quality merchandise, made from the finest materials, to retail at 7c

Sincerely,

BOORMAN'S BEVERAGES

RCAF Ice Wagon Returns To Base

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 — The RCAF'S Ice Wagon is back in Canada after a 33-day demonstration and liaison trip to the United Kingdom, RCAF Air Transport Command headquarters announced today.

LAC Clifford T. McKinstry of Peterborough was a member of the crew. While in England a few days before the aircraft returned to Canada he received word that his wife was ill and he proceeded to his Ottawa home.

The RCAF Ice Wagon is a North Star transport aircraft from the experimental and proving establishment at Rockcliffe Airport which is specially fitted for experimental research work in aircraft icing and the measurement of cloud properties. The Ice Wagon, flown by the RCAF for National Research Council scientists, left Rockcliffe Air Station on August 9, and returned this week. The big aircraft, filled with research equipment used in connection with studies of aircraft icing, attracted so much attention from senior technical officials of government establishments and the aircraft industry that its stay in the UK was extended beyond original plans. More than 500 technical experts viewed the aircraft and attended lectures by NRC scientists and members of the RCAF crew.

"We were quite astonished at the amount of interest in our experiments and equipment," said J. L. Orr, head of the low temperature laboratory at NRC and director of the operation. "This marks the first time that we in Canada have sent technical teams 'the other way.' Previously we were indebted to other countries for our experimental data. On the whole the trip was an unqualified success, and we expect to see developments from the UK as a result of our visit."

Ladies' Guild Plans To Hold Fall Dance

BETHANY, Sept. 20—(ENS)—The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Anglican Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Morgan Bigelow for their September meeting.

Plans were made to hold a dance in the Town Hall on October 6. Christmas cards were displayed which are to be sold by the members. Four white satin cushions for use in the church at weddings were turned in by Mrs. Charles Reynolds.

The hostess and members of her group served lunch. Mrs. Rupert Wood invited the women to her home for the October meeting.

Children's Service At St. Andrew's

MILLBROOK, Sept. 20 (ENS)—At the special Rally Day service in St. Andrew's United Church Sunday morning, the Sunday school children and adult classes followed the choir in the processional and occupied the front pews of the auditorium. They sang the second hymn as an anthem.

Those from the Sunday school who assisted with the music were Beverly Patton at the chimes, Glenna Graham at the piano, Gerald Hubbard at the violin and George Ingham at the 'cello. Mr. Herbert Patton, Sunday school superintendent, presided. Scripture readings were given by Marlyn Husser and Fred Weatherilt.

Mr. Tom McManus, the guest soloist from Ida, sang the "Holy City," and Mrs. G. A. Spicer took the solo part in the anthem. Miss Estella Hetherington was at the organ.

Rev. T. G. Husser gave the address, announcing the United Church aim of "enlargement, enrichment and evangelization." He also told the children a story of Japan. The offering is to be used for sick children all around the world.

IN 50 YEARS ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF CANADIAN LIVING

"Daddy, what makes it hum?"

"HARNESSED RAINDROPS, SONNY!" It's a true answer...

In Shipshaw powerhouse you are awed by the hum of twelve gigantic generators. They are driven by rain and snow which fill Lake St. John and pour down the Saguenay River.

The water is channelled to a man-made lake on top of a hill. Then it rushes down tunnels chiselled through solid rock to dash against turbines like the model at which the boy is peering — but weighing 50 tons.

The turbines drive generators. The electricity they generate speeds to nearby Arvida. There it refines shining aluminum out of bauxite from British Guiana.

Over 1000 Canadian companies form aluminum into all sorts of useful articles. All this means work for Canadians. This country supplies nothing but the raindrops — and the brains, hands and enterprise to harness them.

The hum in the power house at Shipshaw is a hymn of progress. It is a sound of Canada's standard of living going up...

U.S. Marines Enter Seoul From Two Sides Big Battle Shaping Up

Keeping Eye On New Manchurian Column Headed For Vital City, Don't Know If Soldiers Korean Or Chinese

TOKYO, Sept. 21—(AP)—United States Marines smashed today at the heart of Seoul, but a North Korean column was reported rolling down from Russian-dominated Manchuria to fight for the Korean capital. The nationality of the armored column of 40 tanks and 200 other vehicles from Red China's Yalu river frontier in Manchuria was not determined by U. S. intelligence officers.

Many Red Koreans who have fought in the south since their June 25 invasion across parallel 38 were seasoned in Communist China's Manchurian armies. Their heavy equipment and planes are all of Russian manufacture.

The American marines and their tanks entered Seoul from the northwest at 6 p.m. Wednesday (5 a.m. EDT), Associated Press correspondent Russell Brines reported from the Inchon-Seoul beachhead.

TOKYO, (Reuters). — A South Korean official, quoted by Pusan radio, said today that "tens of thousands of anti-Communist workers" were rioting in Seoul. The radio said military law had been imposed in the city.

This was the strong force that crossed the Han River in amphibious tractors at dawn Wednesday eight miles downstream from Seoul.

Second Column

Another marine column was moving in from the west after seizing Seoul's airfield across the Han River.

Korean Red troops were converging on Seoul from several directions—many of them from the old Allied southeast beachhead perimeter.

A big battle for Secul seemed to be shaping up—a battle of deep significance if the force from Manchuria should turn out to be non-Korean in its manpower.

A spokesman said it may already have crossed the 38th Parallel, dividing North and South Korea and only 30 miles north of Seoul. It was reported to have started out from the Manchurian border town of Antung on the Yalu River.

Three Thugs Get $1,300 Loot In Club Holdup

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP). — Three men, one armed, held up the Omega Social Club on downtown Yonge Street today and escaped with $1,300.

Peter Yannakas, 60, a chef, was beaten and robbed of $1,000. John Psimoulos, night porter, lost $300. Police said the bandits overlooked several hundred dollars in the club safe.

Psimoulos said he and the chef were the only persons in the club when the bandits entered. Psimoulos met them in the lobby. One bandit, having a nickel-plated revolver, ordered him to a back room.

Police said Psimoulos was not searched, and tried to hide his money. The bandits saw him and grabbed the money.

Psimoulos said one bandit choked him and another poked the gun in his face. He was told he would be killed if he made a false move.

Yannakas said he was struck on the mouth and thrown into a small bathroom. The bandits took $1,000 from him, intended for provisions and staff pay.

He described the gunman as 21-25 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall, with a small dark moustache. The others were 27-35.

Police said the bandits apparently waited outside the club until the night staff left.

New Arms Deal Under Discussion

OTTAWA, Sept. 21—(CP)—A scouting expedition of North Atlantic countries arrived here today to search out what Canada can provide in the way of armaments for West European defence.

The six-country group of armament experts met with trade, defence and Canadian arsenal officials. A Government source said these discussions may lead to the early placement of European armament orders in Canada.

Funds likely will be provided partly by the $300,000,000 Canada has set aside to send defence equipment to West Europe and partly by a $4,000,000,000 fund established by the United States for the same purpose.

Meeting with representatives of Canada, are officials of the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Belgium and Italy. They are part of a new scouting organization, formin gpart of the 12-nation North Atlantic War Production Board.

Policeman Catches Vishinsky Speeding

GLEN COVE, N.Y., Sept. 21 — (AP)—Russia's foreign minister, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, has been warned by a traffic cop that the next time he speeds through Glen Cove he'll get a ticket.

Speeding away from the palatial estate the Russian United Nations delegation occupies here, Vishinsky's car was stopped yesterday by motorcycle patrolman Timothy O'Neill.

Mildly, O'Neill explained to Vishinsky and his chauffeur that 55 miles an hour was too fast for the congested highway. Then the cop added:

"This is just a fair warning. Next time we will have to give you a summons."

Vishinsky smiled politely. His car pulled away—gently.

Has Second Operation

LUTON, Bedfordshire, England, Sept. 21—(Reuters) — George Bernard Shaw, 94-year-old playwright, underwent a second operation in hospital here today. The operation, not believed to be a major one, was for Shaw's kidney and bladder complaint. A steady improvement in his condition was reported Wednesday. Today, before the operation, his condition was described as unchanged.

Hit Of The Show

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 21 — (Reuters) — A fashion-show model stepped onto the stage here Wednesday night, smiled at the audience of buyers and gaily pulled open her housecoat to display the nightie under it. Pandemonium broke loose. The audience stood up, stamped and cheered. Puzzled, the attractive model looked down—grabbed her housecoat around her and ran off the stage. She had forgotten to put on the nightie.

May Have Serum To Help Polio Patients

PARIS, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Pasteur Institute in Casablanca, French Morocco, has a serum with which it is hoped to prevent polio.

The director, 65-year-old Dr. Georges Blanc, told about it on a visit here. He has been running the Casablanca institute for 20 years.

The serum, as he calls it, is to be used the same as vaccine It comes from experiments of 4,000 rabbits. Polio virus, the cause of infantile paralysis, was given to these rabbits. In their bodies it was modified.

The changes, Dr. Blanc says, made the serum safe for humans.

"At least," he said, "it doesn't hurt people. Now we have to find out whether it will help them."

For that Dr. Blanc says he would like to have a hundred monkeys. These animals are expensive and the institute hasn't that many.

The serum will not be tried on human beings directly, because doctors don't do things that way. The monkeys get exactly the same form of polio as humans, and tests of them will show well enough what can be done for people.

Ten monkeys were given the serum at Casablanca and then given what should be fatal doses of the polio virus. Five of the animals did not get polio.

This is a hopeful sign, Dr. Blanc says, but not conclusive It is possible that the five might not have contracted polio anyhow, for reasons unknown.

Skis Used To Rescue 10 People On Glacier

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 21 —(AP)—Survivors of an Icelandic airline Skymaster crash and the three-man crew of a U.S. Army plane which crashed trying to rescue them from atop a 6,000-foot glacier arrived here today by air.

The Skymaster crew of six men and a stewardess had been marooned on the glacier seven days.

Two planes brought the wreck-survivors back from an improvised airfield north of snow-covered Vatnakoell glacier after a ground party had brought them off the ice on skis.

The American crew survived unscathed after their Dakota, equipped with skis, crashed and tore off a wing tip and a rudder while attempting to carry the Icelandic crew off the glacier Wednesday. No one was hurt.

Aircrew Has Ringside Seat For Rare Meteor Display

DENVER, Sept. 21 (AP)—An airliner's crew had a ringside seat for the rare behavior of a meteor which apparently prompted reports of weird rocket ships flashing across Wyoming and Colorado Wednesday night.

Hundreds of reports from the ground followed a definite pattern. Witnesses told of two strange craft scooting southeast along the eastern edge of the Rockies about 3,000 feet above the ground and between 500 and 1,000 miles an hour.

But Capt. H. A. Gurney, piloting a United Airliner, believes he and his crew witnessed the incident that caused it all. And, he adds, "if I hadn't seen it from start to finish, I would have been ready to believe anything, too."

The plane's crew saw the meteor as they flew just east of St. George, Utah.

"A giant meteorite—or meteor—flashed by us, travelling east and a bit south," Gurney related. "It was white-hot, shaped something like a football. The tail was almost as hot, coming out from behind like a "V".

"When it was about 150 miles ahead of us, three pieces broke off the head. They turned from white to red to black. But they didn't fall. They faded out without seeming to drop.

"Then that white-hot nose blew into two pieces. They turned red. They just kept going into space, following the curvative of the earth and the whole thing swinging from east to southeast with the orbit of the earth."

Reports from pilots and others who caught glimpses of the display came in all the way from northwestern Colorado.

US Has Plan To Plug UNLoopholes

Will Give Assembly Military Power To Halt Aggression

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—State Secretary Acheson today submitted to the United Nations General Assembly a four-point plan to give that organization military power to combat aggression anywhere in the world.

The United States Secretary's Republican adviser, John Foster Dulles, described it as "the most important proposal for international peace and security put forth" since the end of the Second World War. Dulles will be in charge of pushing the plan through the 59-country assembly.

The fight over the proposal is expected to start when the Assembly's 14-member steering committee meets today to decide the order in which the Assembly will take up the almost four-score items on its agenda and which of the six main committees will hear each one.

Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky is almost certain to demand priority for a three-point Soviet declaration which he read to the assembly Wednesday.

The United States plan is an expansion and formalization of ideas set forth by Acheson in a speech to the assembly Wednesday.

Korean Experience

John D. Hickerson, assistant U.S. Secretary of State, told reporters that it is a result of the experience gained from the war in Korea and envisions a genuine system of international security.

It would:

1. Enable the veto-free general assembly to meet on 24 hours notice in case of a breach of the peace whenever the security council, which bears "the primary responsibility for the maintenance of peace and security," is hamstrung by a big-power veto. Although Russia is not mentioned by name, American spokesmen made it clear the Soviet Union is considered the probable obstruction in the council.

2. Set up a roving U.N. commission to observe developments in areas of international tension and report authoritatively to the assembly on events there.

3. Ask member governments to set up within their national armed services, units which would be at the call of the security council or assembly to put down violations of the peace. An American spokesman said that although the assembly only had the power to

Settlement Reached In Waterfront Strike

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Sept. 20 — (CP) — Settlement was reached today in the waterfront strike which has tied up all New Zealand ports for the last week, but a state of emergency proclaimed yesterday will remain in force for the time being.

Basis of settlement is that employers will open talks with the union on a number of issues in dispute. This is provided that the men return to work tomorrow.

At the same time the government announced composition of a Royal Commission to inquire into all phases of waterfront work. The commission was established following a country-wide waterfront strike a few weeks ago.

Widow Loses Home In Sudbury Fire

SUDBURY, Sept. 21 (CP). — Despite efforts by provincial police constable G. Gilmore and fire ranger Paul Labat, assisted by employees from a nearby sawmill, fire destroyed the four-room home of Mrs. Jane Brownhill, 74-year-old widow, at Lake Wahnapitae, about 10 miles from here Wednesday.

Mrs. Brownhill, whose husband died five years ago, lost all her household goods and clothing, and a large quantity of cash that was in the house.

PRIME OBJECTIVE—This is an air view of Seoul, Red-controlled former capital of South Korea, which U.S. Marines entered from two sides today. A battle is raging for its control as it is the centre from which all supplies to the Communists fighting in the South are funnelled. With this in U.N. hands, most Red reinforcements can be cut off.

Milk Producers Ask Judge To Arbitrate

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP). — Ontario Milk Producers today asked the Provincial Agriculture Department to appoint a county judge to arbitrate on the recently-announced increase in milk prices.

The producers are dissatisfied with the offer of 10 cents increase on a hundredweight of milk to the producer.

They estimate that out of the 40-cent increase in the wholesale price announced recently, the milk drivers' wages will be upped $3 a week or roughly 15 cents on the hundredweight. The wholesaler, they said, would get the other 15 cents.

Provisions of the Milk Control Act grant power to the minister to appoint a judge as arbitrator in such disputes. Request of the producers for an arbitrator was passed on to the Attorney-General's Department today. Choice of a judge is expected later today with hearings likely to start next week.

Resume Talks

Meanwhile, dairy workers and distributors resumed contract talks started a month ago.

A spokesman for the distributorss aid the unions seek two consecutive days off a week; a general $7 a week increase; three weeks' holidays a year after three years' service and seven days' sick leave a year with pay.

Workers received the five-day week December 1, 1949. From this week's price increase, they got a $3 a week raise in pay.

Five Escape Reformatory

GUELPH, Sept. 21 (CP)—Five youths forced a screen in a kitchen today and escaped from Guelph Reformatory.

Two automobiles were reported stolen a short time later and police said the escapees may be responsible.

Detachments throughout Southern Ontario were warned to watch for Edward Mordon, 20, Hamilton; Lawrence Guy, 19, Windsor, Roger Powell, 20, Hamilton; Harold Smith, 20, Sarnia, and Leonard Freeland, 20, Windsor.

The youths were preparing food for the visit today of members of the Ontario Reform Institutions Department, including W. E. Hamilton, the minsiter.

Police said the escape was reported to them half an hour after it happened. The youths had made their break when a guard left the kitchen.

Three of the prisoners were dressed in kitchen white, the others in blue denim.

Guy, Freeland and Mordon were serving time for breaking and entering; Powell for dangerous driving and leaving an accident; Smith for false pretences.

Stage Farm Free-For-All For Custody of Small Baby

ORILLIA, Sept. 21—(CP)—Four persons have been charged with assault as the result of a fight said to concern custody of a four-month-old baby. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cook left here several weeks ago for Toronto to seek employment. They left their four-month-old child in the custody of Mr. Cook's brother, Bruce, a district farmer. In Toronto the Cooks separated and Mrs. Cook decided to go to her home in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Cook said she made several efforts to recover custody of the child but her husband had telephoned his brother from Toronto, instructing him not to give the child up.

On Tuesday night Mrs. Cook and her mother visited friends at an Atherley Hotel, and there enlisted the sympathies of a group of hangers-on at the hotel and beverage room with the result that three carloads of men accompanied them to Bruce Cook's farm with the alleged intention of restoring the baby to its mother.

Warn Farmer

A telephone call from the hotel warned Bruce Cook and he enlisted the services of neighbors to resist the attack. When the three cars arrived a pitched battle took place at the Cook farm in which fists and clubs were said to have been employed. At least two of the invading force received wounds requiring medical attention.

The invaders had been driven off before police arrived, but four members of the group were still there to be charged with assault. These are Mrs. Murray Cook, her mother, Gerald Van Hezwick of Atherley, and Benny Jarvis of Orillia. The four were freed on bail of $500 each, and are to appear before Magistrate K. A. Cameron here on Friday.

ATTACKS M.P.

LONDON (Reuters)—An unemployed bricklayer today was jailed for two years for attacking a Conservative Member of Parliament with a knife. The bricklayer Gordon Norris, 36, had income tax grievances.

Mercy Plane Reaches Patient

EDMONTON, Sept. 21 (CP) — One of the longest mercy flights in Canadian aviation history was completed at 11:13 a.m. today when an RCAF Dakota aircraft ended a 2,150-mile flight from Edmonton to Eureka Sound weather station in the North-West Territories.

The plane carried an Air Force doctor to the station, where Chas. Leroy Havens of Beverley, Calif., is seriously ill from blood poisoning which has spread from an infected hand to his shoulder.

After the doctor gave the American weather man first aid at the scene, the Dakota was expected to proceed almost immediately on the return flight to Edmonton with Havens aboard.

The landing at the weather station was made on a short, packed-snow landing strip. Jato equipment, a jet device, likely will be used for the take-off from the short strip.

The Air Force doctor, Sqdn. Ldr. J. R. Jackson, and two other para-rescue men were prepared to parachute to the station if the Dakota had been unable to land.

Truck Driver Killed In Belleville Crash

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 21 (CP)— Walter Dupuis, 40, of Montreal was killed today when a transport truck he was driving crashed into a bridge 15 miles east of here.

The transport overturned scattering its cargo of beer and blocking traffic for more than three hours.

East German Reds Flop In Effort To Trick Allies

BERLIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—East Germany's Communists today tried to take away land and light from their Western confreres — but flopped on both counts.

At midnight the Reds cut off electric power deliveries to West Berlin. West Berlin got along on its own resources.

Earlier in the night, on the outskirts of the British zone, a half-dozen Russian soldiers tried to move their border barriers to annex 175 square yards of territory. Some 100 British infantrymen turned them back and British officials planned negotiating talks with the Russians to settle the mix-up today.

There were other incidents, also, indicating the Communists were systematically stepping up their war of nerves against Allied West Berlin.

1. Several hundred Communists tried to stage an unlicensed street demonstration in the French sector, but were scattered by police with fire hoses. About 30 Reds were arrested.

2. East German officials ignored a West Berlin offer that each side release police that had been arrested the day before in a series of tit-for-tat raids on each other's personnel. At the latest count West Berliners have 51. Eastern cops in custody, while 25 West Berlin police are under Communist arrest.

3. The Communist press stepped up its propaganda barrage against the West, shrilling cries of "Ami (American) and Tommy (British) go home." On the other side of the ledger the Russians released, after 14 hours of routine questioning, two American military police they had taken Wednesday in the border area. The men said they had not been mistreated.

Toronto Man Quits Job At University

No Efforts Spared In Warsaw Schools Dr. Infeld Enthuses

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP) —Dr. Leopold Infeld, whose visit to his native Poland this year touched off a Canadian controversy about his knowledge of atomic "secrets," has decided to stay in Warsaw.

Sidney Smith, President of the University of Toronto, where Dr. Infeld had taught since 1939, made the announcement today.

He said in a statement that Dr. Infeld submitted his resignation by mail and wrote:

"I find here excellent conditions for research and scientific work and for instructing the young Polish generation."

When Dr. Infeld's plan to visit Poland became known last March, the matter was raised in the Douse of Commons by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

Asked Steps Taken

He asked that "appropriate steps" be taken "to ascertain the circumstances under which Dr. Infeld plans to return" to Communist-dominated Poland.

Mr. Drew said that Dr. Infeld, a Jew who is an intimate of atomic scientist Albert Einstein who fled from Poland to escape persecution, was "armed with certain atomic knowledge." Dr. Infeld had made a "strangely accurate prediction" in 1946 that Russia would have the atomic bomb within three years.

Dr. Infeld denied possession of any secrets or that he was being "recalled."

"I have no secrets," he told a reporter at that time. "Everything in my brain can be known to the public."

Dr. Infeld argued that "practically all" scientists had said in 1946 that Russia would produce an atomic bomb within three to five years.

Just a Visit

"There is nothing sinister about this visit to the country of my birth," he said before leaving on what was to have been a year's leave of absence. "Since I don't have any atomic secrets, the question boils down to whether I intend to go for a visit."

Dr. Infeld, 51, became a Canadian during his 11 years in this country. His wife is an American.

Attlee Visits King In Scotland

LONDON, Sept. 21 (Reuters)— Prime Minister Attlee was to fly to Scotland today to see the King, who is on a holiday at his Balmoral home.

Government quarters were quick to say there is no particular significance in this and no question of any political crisis.

The visit, they added, is purely a normal one, as the prime minister has not seen the King since Aug. 11.

Attlee and the King probably will discuss the opening of next month's new session of parliament.

Meanwhile, a foreign office spokesman said he had no knowledge of any intention of Ernest Bevin's part to retire as foreign secretary when he returns from New York.

QuadsMakeSlow Entry But Gaining Fast Now

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 21 — (AP)—Mrs. Betty Sara's quads—who took 50 hours coming into the world—are making up for lost time.

Doctors said the babies — two girls and two boys—have gained at the rate of one ounce a day since their slow-motion birth between August 17 and 19.

Their 29-year-old mother has left the hospital. Doctors said the quads probably will be sent home this week. A public subscription has brought £1,500 to aid the infants.

10 Provinces To Meet In Quebec

Hoping To Work Out Modern Laws To Strengthen Nation

QUEBEC, Sept. 21—(CP)—For the first time in 86 years, this ancient capital next week will play host to Canada's national and provincial leaders.

In 1864 the Fathers of Confederation met here to lay the foundations of a unified infant Canada. The conference which opens next Monday in some ways parallels that early meeting. Its purpose is to work out a modern legal framework binding the different parts of the country into a nation. The main problem is arrangement of a constitution capable of meeting present and future needs of Canada as an adult nation.

The meeting also will mark the first meeting here of national government leaders and the chiefs of Canada's 10 provinces.

In 1864, leaders of Upper and Lower Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland conferred. Provincial leaders met here 23 years later but at that time the roster of Canadian provinces was not today's 10.

Safeguard Rights

The formal 1950 conference agenda has not been published, but presumably the government chiefs will put their heads together over the problem of a system for amendment to the constitution with satisfactory safeguards for essential rights.

A formula for a system of amendment was worked out by a special federal-provincial committee during the Ottawa constitutional conference in January.

The committee, made up of the Justice Minister and the Provincial Attorneys-General—met in Ottawa last August to study proposals from the various provinces. Findings of the committee are due to come before the Quebec meeting.

There is no indication how long the Quebec meetings will last, though guesses are four or five days.

The conference is not intended to deal with the question of taxation rights and their sharing between federal and provincial governments, but this question is bound to be referred to.

Most important step might be agreement on a system, suitable to all, of undertaking constitutional amendments as they are required without danger to rights distributed to the partners in confederation in 1867.

UAW Rejects 5-Year Contract

WINDSOR, Sept. 21 (CP). — A five-year contract offer by Ford Motor Co. of Canada was rejected Wednesday by the policy committee of Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO).

A meeting has been arranged for Thursday between the company and the local's negotiating committee to discuss a straight wage increase.

Roy England, president of the local which represents 11,000 Ford employees, said the policy committee ordered union negotiators to accept nothing but a straight increase which would permit bargaining on a new contract next spring.

Company-union talks stalled Tuesday when agreement failed on differing proposals made by the two sides.

The company offered a five-year contract which it termed the best in the Canadian automotive industry. It included immediate wage increases, an escalator cost-of-living clause and annual wage improvements for the next five years. The offer stipulated that no new union demands could be made until 1955.

The union asked for straight hourly increases of 10 cents for production employees and 15 cents for skilled tradesmen to supplement the existing one-year contract, signed last May.

2 Liberal Candidates Expect Acclamation

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP) — An acclamation for two Liberal candidates in the Oct. 16 federal by-election in Quebec province appeared likely today after other political parties indicated they may contest only one of three ridings.

Montreal-St. Mary may be contested by the CCF party which has a local club in the riding. The Rimouski and Joliette-L'Assomption-Montcalm ridings will not be contested by the party.

Rene Corbeil, in charge of the Progressive-Conservative organization in Quebec, said his party will not run candidates in any of the three constituencies. The Union Des Electeurs has not reached any definite decision yet.

Maurice Tessier is Liberal candidate in Rimouski, a riding vacated by the recent death of Gleason Belzile.

Teachers Need Raise

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, said Wednesday his teaching staff needs more pay to keep pace with the cost of living. They have never been paid "on a lucrative scale" and are "fenced in by a relatively rigid salary schedule," he said in an address to the 1950-51 freshman class.

Church Council Supports U.N.

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP).—The General Council of the United Church of Canada Wednesday gave unanimous support to United Nations action in defending South Korea.

Queried as to whether the resolution covered possible pursuit of North Korean troops north of the 38th parallel, Henry Langford, Toronto, international affairs committee chairman, said:

"If the action now going on involves going into North Korea to clean up the situation, I presume we will support it. I know I will."

The motion took the form of endorsing a resolution passed at July sessions of the World Council of Churches. The resolution described the North Koreans as aggressors and said U.N. action was the only solution.

Earlier, the Council urged immediate steps for "conciliation in the Korea situation in order to establish a just peace at the earliest possible time."

The Rev. Dr. J. R. Mutchmor of Toronto, secretary of the international affairs committee, said major representation in conciliation hearings should be given Asiatic countries.

No-Tax Platform Wins Election

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Sept. 21 — (AP). — Political opponents of Tubal Uriah Butler worked today to hammer out a coalition that will prevent his British Empire and Workers' Home Rule Party from getting control of the Legislative Council for this British Caribbean island colony.

Butler, self-styled "chief servant" of the party, rode to victory in Monday's election on a platform that promised no taxes, free housing and food, full employment, a $30-a-month dole to all and free secondary education.

Said Butler, hymn-singing politician who has been jailed for his past activity:

"If there isn't enough money in the treasury (for his program) we'll borrow it and pay it back as fast as we can."

His party won six of the 18 elected seats in the new 26-seat Legislative Council provided under the 1949 constitution.

Main opposition to the Butler party came from the Political Progressives, who won only two seats. But they hope to get the Independents, who got six seats, to join with them. These and the three official members of the Council and the five nominated members would give the Progressives enough strength to beat down Butler.

Dulles told reporters the plan plugs the loopholes in the U.N. charter which have led some persons to denounce the world organization as a mere debating society, and will "transmute words into deeds."

He said it will prevent a repetition of the situation where the U.S. had to act alone in Korea because the U.N. had no forces at its command.

The Soviet plan calls for:

1. Condemnation of propaganda for a new war and punishment of all persons responsible for it.

2. Unconditional prohibition of atomic weapons and declaration that the first government to use the atomic bomb shall be labelled a "war criminal."

3. A "peace pact and one-third reduction of armaments by the big five—Britain, China, France,

Legion Auxiliary Celebrates 4th Anniversary

MARMORA, Sept. 21 (ENS)—Zone representative Mrs. P. H. Tompkins of Brockville paid her official visit to the Ladies' Auxiliary of Marmora Branch No. 237 of the Canadian Legion at its fourth anniversary Wednesday.

Accompanying the Zone Representative were Mrs. Alex Hunter, first vice-president of the Brockville Auxiliary and Mrs. W. Warner of the same auxiliary.

Two new members, Mrs. John Bell of Bonarlaw and Mrs. W. R. Deering of Marmora were initiated.

A letter of thanks was read for $30,300 given to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund by the Ontario Command of the Legion and Auxiliaries.

Mrs. W. R. Deering and Mrs. G. Osborne were then appointed as Sick Committee for the balance of the year.

A donation of five dollars was voted to the Marmora Agricultural Society.

Mrs. Tompkins said if Canada should be drawn into another war, the Auxiliary would have a great part to play as in the last war.

She said three new auxiliaries have begun in the zone: Carrying Place, Morrisburg and Iroquois, now making 13.

A Zone rally is to be held in Deseronto this year.

Mrs. John VanVolkenberg, social convener then presented Mrs. Tompkins with a cup and saucer and a corsage and presented President Mrs. Leal with a corsage.

After a recess, members of the Legion were received as guests for a social evening in which a sing-song and dance were held.

Papers Lead Market On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP). — Papers led a quiet market into firmer ground today on the Toronto Stock Exchange, following uncertainty in early trading.

Nearly the whole paper list advanced or held their ground. Consolidated added ¼ for a year high of $27⅞; Great Lakes advanced $1 to a high of $22.50; while an small turnovers, BC Pulp was up $4.75 for a high of $145.

Refining oils also were mostly up fractions, including BA Oil, Imperial and International Pete.

The market continued to have some uncertainty with some stocks shifting about between small losses and gains, and with most sections showing a mixed picture.

Bell Telephone was the utility feature. Selling ex-rights, it dipped $1.25 while the rights to the forthcoming issue sold between $1.04 and $1.08.

Base metals were mixed, with both Smelters and Nickel regaining early fractional losses. Sherritt added eight cents.

Western oils picked up in activity after early dullness. Calmont Central Leduc, Okalta, and Pacific Pete were active for gains, while Del Rio and Federal Pete eased.

Golds were quiet with Paymaster a trading feature around 75 cents and Porcupine Reef also getting some attention at 95, up slightly.

She and their son and daughter accompanied him to Poland.

Today's announcement said that Dr. Infeld wrote Sept. 13 from Warsaw:

"I find here excellent conditions for research and scientific work and for instructing the young Polish generation. Nothing is spared in efforts or in money to develop the native talent that exists.

Great Desire For Peace

"I have found here a tremendous desire for peace and universal constructive activity. This nation experienced the horrors of war as did none other. It and its government wish to do everything possible to avoid another conflict. My decision is to remain in my native land, to contribute all I can do to the scholarship being done in my field here and to work for peace throughout the world."

Dr. Infeld studied at the universities of Cracow, Berlin, Leipzig and Cambridge and at the Institute of Advanced Studies in Princeton, N. J. There he collaborated with Dr. Einstein in "The Evolution of Physics" and other papers.

Mr. Drew, after Dr. Infeld's rebuttal of his statement in the Commons, commented:

"Those who teach in countries with Communist governments are ordinarily acceptable to the Communist authorities on more than academic grounds.

"It is certain that anyone who is opposed to Communism would not be permitted to teach in a Polish university today. Dr. Infeld's statement alone is sufficient reason to inquire why he is so acceptable to the Communist educational authorities in Poland."

U.S. Marines

Correspondent Brines said elements of the U.S. 1st Marine Division rumbled into Seoul's northwest outskirts just 12 hours after ramming across the Han.

Two-Pronged Attack

Brines reported the leathernecks bore down on the city from two sides. The second column swept in from the southwestern suburb of Yongdungpo to the Seoul satellite airfield and headed for three makeshift bridges spanning the Han. The main Seoul airfield, Kimpo, was taken by marines Sunday. It is 12 miles northwest of the capital on the far side of the Han.

The second thrust inside the Seoul metropolitan area cut the main highway leading south to Suwon.

Figher planes covered both columns.

The Seoul-Suwon highway was the key Red supply artery supporting Communist forces around the Allied perimeter in the southeast. It is also a route for Reds returning from the south to defend Seoul.

U.S. 7th Division troops battled for the last ridge line west of the highway, on the marines' right flank 10 miles south of Seoul.

Going Too Slow

Front reports said the marine tanks found the going on narrow roads too slow and took to the railroad tracks to enter Seoul from the northwest. In the built-up outskirts of the capital, the marines spearhead was slowed for a while by mortar fire.

But marine artillery fire drove some 75 Reds from a cave on heights north of the city. They came out waving a white flag.

AP correspondent Relman Morin reported the drive on Seoul from the northwest and south was a big push "like the big ones near the end of the last war."

Morin said Reds captured on the Han's north bank had been brought into battle from North Korea only five days previously—just after the United Nations started landing a 40,000-man liberation force at Inchon, 22 miles west of Seoul, last Friday.

Ordered To Hold

The prisoners said they were ordered to hold the line at all costs until reinforcements from the south could arrive.

Small bands, hiding out in corn and rice fields, still offered resistance west of the Han river, Morin reported, but these pockets were being cleaned out by South Korean Marines.

To the southeast, around the old United States beachhead, the Reds were withdrawing in some sectors and putting up stiff resistance in others.

On the central sector, U.S. 1st Cavalry troops and South Koreans were closing a two-pronged trap on the Korean Red 13th division The 13th's chief of staff, Senior Col. Lee Hak Ku, 30, saved himself by surrendering.

Believes In Democracy

The senior colonel — highest ranking Red officer yet to give up—told U.S. intelligence officers he surrendered because he had studied democracy and now believes in it.

AP correspondent Jack MacBeth said the cavalrymen and the allied South Koreans were within three miles of sealing the trap on the Red division between Waekwan and Tabu, about 12 miles northwest of Taegu.

The Americans swung northeastward from Waegwan and the South Koreans cut to the southwest from a corridor due north of Tabu.

Elimination of the trapped division would clear the way for an allied advance up the Kumchon-Taejon rail and highway corridor to Seoul. This is the shortest and best route northward to the capital.

Show Deletes Scene Hazing Army Brass

LONDON — (CP) — A travesty on the way generals run their wars has been eliminated from the American revue "Touch and Go," enjoying a popular run at Piccadilly's Prince of Wales Theatret.

The skit portrays three army generals typing furiously to the background of gun-fire and other noises—writing their memoirs Phone calls from the high command are casually ignored, but when a newspaper representative rings to enquire about the progress of their articles, all three leap to the telephone.

Said an official of the theatre "The management felt we should delete this act in view of the international situation. It would be in poor taste to perform it when a war is taking place in Korea."

No Panic Legislation

LONDON, England, Sept. 21—(Reuters)—Sir Hartley Shawcross, Attorney-General, said today there would be no "panic legislation" to deal with Communists in Britain. He said in a speech the possibility of further legislation could not be excluded, "but we must keep our heads. . . There is no need for panic."

Coal Operators Try To End Lewis Divide, Rule Tactics

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — The coal operators of the United States are out to put an end to John L. Lewis' divide-and-conquer tactics.

An important bloc of soft coal (bituminous) mine owners meet here today to complete organization of a new group they hope will meet the president of the United Mine Workers on equal terms.

The newly-formed Bituminous Coal Operators' Association represents more than 25 per cent of the soft coal industry's production. Its founders, led by a group of Pittsburgh coal executives, hope that eventually it will present the UMW with a unified front of all important operators.

The new association is expected to announce that its president will be Harry Moses, now president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co.

The Frick company is the key firm in the coal mining empire of the U.S. Steel Corp.

Moses has been mentioned for more than a year as the operators' choice for the job. He has never said whether he will accept. If he does, he will be given the delicate yet arduous task of dealing with Lewis at coal contract time.

In the past Lewis has often won important gains for his 400,000 soft coal miners by taking advantage of the operators' inability to stick together.

Lewis frequently signed contracts with one segment of the industry and then forced the remainder to fall in line.

Moses and Lewis are old friends —although they have had bitter arguments at the conference table. Their fathers were acquaintances when Moses and Lewis were only boys.

Selwyn Church Holds Anniversary Services

SELWYN, Sept. 21 (ENS). — The anniversary services of the United Church were held on Sunday morning and evening.

The Rev. E. W. Rowland of Grace United Church, Peterborough, was guest speaker at both services.

A special choir at the morning service was under the direction of Mrs. C. Fitzgerald. Mrs. Orville Millar and Mrs. Newall sang a duet.

In the evening, the Wesley choir under the direction of Miss Mary Nichols, sang special anthems and male chorus.

The church was decorated with autumn flowers for the occasion.

Sunday, Sept. 24, a Rally Day service will be held with the Sunday school and church combining their congregations.

The Rev. D. P. Morris will be in charge of this service, assisted by members of the Sunday school.

Ban Newspaper

SINGAPORE, Sept. 21 (Reuters)—The Singapore government today announced a ban on publication of the leftist Chinese newspaper Nan Chaiu Jit Poh for the duration of the present terrorist emergency, in Malaya. Action against the newspaper was taken under a law adopted by the legislative council enabling the government to prohibit the sale and publication of newspapers "systematically circulating prejudicial matter."

Two-Day Hearing

WINDSOR, Sept. 21 (CP) — Windsor will be represented at a two-day hearing on air pollution of the Detroit River which will be held in Detroit Oct. 18-19 by the international joint commission. Ship owners from United States and Canada will give evidence about excessive smoke given off by Great Lakes ships passing between Detroit and Windsor.

Nebraska Tornadoes

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 21 (AP) —A series of small tornadoes swept across farm land a few miles southeast of here Wednesday, wrecking buildings and damaging crops. There were no reports of injuries.

Meat Cutters Strike

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP)—The Amalgamated Meat Cutters' Union (AFL-TLC) called a strike Wednesday against the People's Meat and Provision Company—the first strike in years against a retail meat market. Approximately 40 employees in two stores walked out, charging the stores had ignored the report of a conciliation board which recommended a 45-hour week and a flat $60 a week for journeymen meat cutters.

Fraserville News

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett and daughters Felicity and Constance of Spencerville were week-end guests with Mr: and Mrs. W. G. Waterman of Fraserville.

Little Neil Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook of Fraserville who has been a patient for the past two weeks at the New Civic Hospital ,Peterborough, with pneumonia, has sufficiently recovered to be home.

Fraserville United Church anniversary services will be held Sunday, October 8, with speaker being Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh of Havelock. Special music will be featured.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cowan of West Guilford Friday visited the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hewitt of Fraserville.

U.K. Exports Up

LONDON, Sept. 21 (Reuters) — British exports touched a new monthly peak of £189,500,000 ($587,450,000) in August, the Board of Trade announced. This figure, for what is normally a poor month, represents a 10-percent rise above the average for the first seven months of 1950.

Donkeys Tie It Up

MARMORA, Sept. 21 (ENS)—The CNR track where it crosses No. 7 Highway on Matthew Street has been elevated to the advantage of motor traffic. On Monday afternoon, however, annoyance was caused to some and amusement to others as traffic was held up for about half an hour through a heavy truck load of Colorado donkeys failing to negotiate the shoulder of the road fixed up as a temporary detour.

BY-ELECTION CANDIDATE —Maurice Breton, lawyer, of Joliette, Que., is the official Liberal party candidate in the Oct. 16 federal by-election for Joliette - L'Assomption - Montcalm. The seat became vacant following the resignation of Georges-Emile Lepalme to devote his full time to the leadership of the provincial Liberal party.

EYE TOPICS

LEONARDO DA VINCI "Greatest of Painters"

Leonardo Da Vinci is regarded as a kind of patron every book had to be copied saint. And he is celebrated throughout the world as the man who painted the Mona Lisa and the Last Supper.

Leonardo came to know more about scores of difficult subjects — optics, the human eye, perspective, muscular movement, and various branches of mechanics — than any other man of the Fifteenth Century. And he revolutionized painting.

For, according to experts, he was "the first painter to recognize the play of light and shade as among the most significant and attractive of the world's appearances." Others had depicted chiefly color and outline, and so their pictures tended to be flat. Leonardo's discovery lifted painting out of its prevailing "flatness", gave it depth and dimension.

As in all things else, Leonardo rejected mere theory and tradition, insisted he must see for himself. Here was one secret of his greatness. According to the proverb there is nothing new under the sun, but there are always new ways of seeing old things — and the ability to do this is priceless.

Good vision, then, is primary. It is quite as important for our everyday life as for the artist.

Man Acquitted On Theft Charge

VAL D'OR, Que., Sept. 21 (CP) —Raymond LaFrance, 26, of Gowganda, Ont., was acquitted here recently of charges of theft of one transformer, a quantity of copper wire and other goods from the Pandora Cadillac Gold Mines, Ltd., valued at $3,053.30.

Charges of complicity brought against Hazel Monroe, of Kirkland Lake, were automatically dropped when Judge Camille Beaulieu dismissed the charge against LaFrance at his trial Sept. 9.

The pair were originally charged with vagrancy when arrested on the mine property Aug. 5. They were held in custody under a verbal remand until their preliminary hearing Sept. 12.

Both pleaded innocent to the charges of theft brought at the hearing when Jim Gegear, property guard for Pandora, testified that he found LaFrance holding an axe and that some of the power line poles were down. LaFrance said he had just found the axe and had no intention of stealing anything.

The two remained in custody from the time of the hearing to their trial when unable to furnish bail for release. Bail of $750 was set for LaFrance and $200 in the case of Miss Monroe. The charges of vagrancy were also dropped.

Eat, Drink and Be Merry

A loaf of bread costs 13 cents.
A quart of milk costs 17 cents.
A pound of butter costs 70 cents.

Ladies and gentlemen, for the sum of one dollar, one small dollar, one good dollar, one Canadian dollar, you may buy a loaf of bread a pound of butter and a quart of milk. Stock up now ladies and gentlemen, while these bargain prices last.

• • •

No, our prices are not wrong. The sentences above were our leading editorial on December 8th, 1947. Did those bargain prices last? What does the dollar buy now in Peterborough? A loaf of bread (unsliced) is 16 cents, up three from December 1947. A quart of milk costs 19 cents, up two. A pound of butter costs 59 cents, down 11 cents from the pre-margarine, pre-ceiling days of December, 1947. Thus, our three items together actually cost six cents less now than they did nearly three years ago, when the general cost of living was much lower. Our 1950 dollar leaves us six cents to buy one ounce of steak at 95 cents a pound, or one egg at 68 cents a dozen, whose prices in December, 1947, were 49 cents a pound and 54 cents a dozen.

New Central African Importance

The new emphasis which is being put by Britain on her territories in East and Central Africa is not entirely, or even mainly economic. Indeed, if she had only commercial concern, such ill-fated schemes as the ground-nut planting would have led her to drop any African enterprise like hot peanuts. But in east and central Africa is a great hinterland of strategic consequence.

If the Middle East, or even Western Europe, were to become untenable through war with Russia, deep Africa would provide a huge, self-contained base for manoeuvre, both military and economic. It would be accessible. It has tremendous potential resources, and, even now, it can assist in the revival of Britain's economy. In war-time it could be both granary and arsenal. Further, the African colonies are the last great segments of colonial empire; they are under London's rule.

The United States is showing an equal interest in Africa, diplomatically, commercially and militarily, and is linking its influence with that of the colonial powers already in occupation: Belgium, France, Portugal and Britain. There is petroleum oil, there are mighty rivers for water-power development, there is rich soil in many parts, a cheap-labour native population not yet avidly nationalistic; and there is uranium ore in the Belgian Congo, which, like our own ore from the Arctic, is used by Britain and the United States for nuclear research and in the manufacture of the atomic bomb.

In her new African colonial developments, Britain is cautiously and wisely attempting to safeguard native rights, and to firmly establish her laws and consolidate the peoples before the Union of South Africa, less liberal in its native policies, gnaws at the continent at her northern door.

Ice-Pack For War Fever

It used to be said in old Vienna, of national and international affairs, that the situation was desperate but not serious. It may be said now, here, that the international situation is serious but not desperate. The three international conferences of this month: the Foreign Ministers' meeting, of last week, the Council of the North Altantic Alliance (September 15-16) and the beginning of a new session of the General Assembly of U.N., will underline how serious the problems confronting nations are. But we need not give way to panic or even to the American temperature of its present war fever. The Canadian Government, with far more facts at its disposal than any newspaper has, and privy to the inner councils of western nations, does not at this time consider that Parliament need continue to sit. It is being adjourned until next February. That in itself should reassure the Canadian people. If the international situation were as dangerously, imminently critical as some alarmists say, Parliament would not be recessed.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has taken a further cool view of the situation. When a European statesman even of the calibre of Mr. Churchill calls on Canada to send divisions to Europe, Mr. St. Laurent pointedly reminds Parliament that no government (the British Government, for instance,) has made such demands on Canada. Brilliant as Mr. Churchill is, he is now out of office; he has not the responsibilities of power, nor the detailed information which ministers of government have. Mr. St. Laurent believes that, at this time, Canada's most useful contribution to European defence is not troops, but supplies and equipment. It is a considered view, and undoubtedly an informed one. It can never be said of Canada that in time of real need she has not responded with all her might, including her men. But Canada is not by nature nor capabilities a country to keep a standing army in a foreign field in time of declared peace. She may have to alter her nature; but only upon the official governmental request of our allies to whose mutual support this country is committed, and with the concurrence of the Parliament of Canada, will troops be sent to Europe.

In 1492 Columbus . . . ?

A Professor Davies, of Exeter College, in an address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, has asserted that Columbus did not discover America, but that a Portuguese navigator named Dualma did so, in 1487. Columbus merely followed in Dualma's path and took the glory for himself which Dualma was unable to gain.

We have no way of testing whether this is true or not, but we presume that Professor Davies would not have made such a claim without evidence to support it. Frankly, we do not care, for we have long believed that America was discovered by Leif Ericson and Thorfinn Karlsefne four hundred years before either Columbus or Dualma was heard of. But we are amazed by the personal concern which the Montreal Star shows in the matter; it speaks of "belittling activities" and clings with a faith almost pathetic to the legend of Columbus.

Now there can be no doubt but that Columbus was a brave man, a daring thinker and a fine navigator. But there is also evidence that he was vainglorious, greedy, dishonest and tyrannical—in short, a bit of a crook. Columbus was a notable explorer, but his character does not rule out the suggestion that he might have skimmed the cream off the achievements of another man.

We have no axe to grind in this matter. Columbus—Dualma, it is all one to us. But if Columbus really pinched from Dualma the distinction of being the first Renaisssance navigator to reach the mainland of America we think that Professor Davies does well to bring the matter to light. Let the Montreal Star steer by what lights it will in these matters of history, we are constant for the truth.

He Locked The Car Door

In Peterborough, people rarely bother to lock their car doors when they pop out for a soft drink, a bag of groceries or a new key for the house (the old one having been lost a week). The other evening we saw a man getting out of his 1930-ish contraption to go into a cigar store. He carefully locked the car door. We wondered why.

A car thief would chose a brighter model. Perhaps the driver had a bag of diamonds in the back seat, or a prized issue of this journal. But the fellow left the car window half open. Ah! Maybe there was a baby in the back seat, or a moll. Or—let us whisper it—a gagged man whom he had just beaten over the head and robbed so as to find the price of a now more expensive bottle of pop.

We are not against the practice of locking car doors, and, we are sure, the police urgently recommend it. But it does seem an odd thing to do in Peterborough, especially when the windows are open.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Why struggle to make your guests feel at home? If that was what they wanted they would have stayed there.

Canada, we read, has 8,059 practising lawyers. A least an equal number are in government jobs, practicing on the public.

Cigar manufacturers are said to be considering a small cigar, to appeal to women. Aren't women terrifying enough, without giving them cigars to chew?

A Florida restaurant announces that it caters only to sweethearts. Hm, let's look at the menu. Heart, sweetbreads and lambie-pies for the meat course, and sweeties-pies with honey to follow. And for breakfast, of course, mush.

In Britain today the government assumes the legal expenses of anyone whose weekly income is under $40. The applicant must go before a panel of lawyers and state his case; if they think it a good one a lawyer is assigned to him. This seems a sensible way of furthering the ends of justice, provided the panel lawyers are capable men.

The Machine Tool Age

By C. F. DUNN

AMONG those now feeling indignant about the export of British machine tools to Russia, there are probably some who do not know precisely what a machine tool is. This should cause no embarrassment; as a gap in common knowledge it is itself quite common, and understandably so. Machine tools do their work in factories, where they are rarely seen by the public and rarely make anything the ordinary citizen would recognize as useful.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALMOST all the engineering jobs which were once done with hand tools, or which could not possibly be done by hand, are now done by a machine tool of one kind or another. Precisely defined, it is a mechanically operated tool for working on metal, though a broader definition takes in wood and plastics as well. Lathes, drills, planers, milling and grinding machines, presses, borers, broachers; all these and other machine tools do the jobs which their names roughly imply. Fed with stampings, sheets, or bars of metal, they produce the parts which make machines for everyday use, such as ships and mechanical toys. They cut and shape the parts; they drill them with holes; often with scores of holes at a time; and they smooth them down to fit.

THERE are, of course, things which are not made by machine tools — cloth, for example. But even here the machine-tool maker can say complacently: "We make the machines that make cloth." Without the machine tool there could have been no Machine Age. Today it can be anything from "a nice little drill" whirring up to 2,000 revs. per min. to a press as high as a house for making motor-car bodies, or a lathe weighing sixty-five tons for turning a marine turbine rotor.

◇ ◇ ◇

ABOUT 300 firms now make these tools in Britain, employing altogether about 40,000 people. There are a few big firms whose nameplates are known everywhere. But many more of them are small, intimate groups of men working in back-street machine-shops, calling each other Bert and Charlie and talking an impenetrably private language. Theirs is surely the purest form of engineering. Unlike the man who makes cars and locomotives, they build machines which have no popular function and which produce only inert "shapes." Some of the shapes are small, like the little clips for a bicycle chain; others are massive, like the propeller shaft of a liner; many of them are beautiful, like the finning of a cylinder barrel; but none of them is likely to be thought desirable by any one but another engineer.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE lives of these mechanics are dominated by ideals of precision and high speed. They think in terms of one ten-thousandth part of an inch, and of horse-power great enough to drive a cutting edge through metal so tough that the waste flies off red-hot. They work in the shadow of the great engineering shops of the North and the Midlands, and about the lighter factories of Greater London. And without them engineers, designers, and inventors would now be helpless.

◇ ◇ ◇

JAMES Watt could devise his Soho steam engines, but they could not be made properly until John Wilkinson designed a machine tool as good at boring cylinders as it was at hollowing cannon for the Peninsular War. Since then, as engines and machines have become more complex and more powerful, needing harder metals in their parts and vastly greater speed in their production, there has always been a machine tool for the job, coming along no more than a step or two behind. Parts which could never have been made with the hammer, chisel, file, and honest sweat of the old mechanics are now being turned out with effortless and mindless zeal by push-button machines with complex gears and automatic control. As metals have become more difficult to machine, so has the cutting tool become sturdier and more effective. A tool of tungsten carbide will cut steel at a speed of 800 feet a minute where a carbon steel tool could do no more than thirty feet.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE basic design of the main machine tools has not changed much in the past fifty years; a lathe is still obviously a lathe. But the machines are infinitely stronger and faster, more versatile and more accurate. Even so, they rarely stay good enough for long. The jet and the gas turbine engine have created all kinds of new problems, some of them yet to be solved, demanding wholesale changes in the tooling of aircraft factories.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN any industrial country, machine-tool makers are active only when the manufacturing industries are vigorous and highly mechanized. Technological stagnation in Britain between the wars did not help; the average age of our machine tools in use was over twenty years before the war. But, under the impulse of war production, and of post-war industrial re-equipment, our machine-tool output has jumped ahead. Even so, the makers were working at full stretch even before the new defence programme was announced. They have been obliged to export about half their output, and industrialists have argued, for reasons that were not at all ideological, that we ought to have kept more of it at home. Before retooling for rearmament was foreseen, makers of internal combustion engines, for example, were saying that we would get enough machine tools only if our capacity for maikng them were expanded. Today, the need for more Berts and Charlies, working earnestly to "limits and fits" and ruled by the micrometer in back-street machine shops, would seem to be greater than ever.

Why We Rearm

(London Daily Herald)

The German attempt at world domination seems only to have given place to a similar attempt by Russia. And while it is repugnant to us, as lovers of peace, to have to rearm it is far more repugnant to contemplate becoming helpless servants of the Kremlin like the countries of Eastern Europe.

THE OLD SOLDIER AGAIN ANSWERS THE CALL

Letter To The Editor

PENNSYLVANIA CAN BE REMOTE, TOO

Sir: Your editorial, "Our Little, Remote Town," quoting the news item from the Erie, Pa., Daily Times, amused me very much.

I have had occasion to take a couple of jaunts through the wilds of the Allegheny Mountains myself, and nowhere could things be more rustic and hill-billy in spots than in some of those places in the middle of nowhere, and only 125 miles or so from Buffalo at that.

On one particular route, Salamanca, N.Y., seemed to be the final contact with civilization, and we hadn't shut the motor off in front of the Hotel Dudley before we were accosted by the only Ontario guests in evidence (another Toronto license) begging us tearfully to join them gratis at their ringside table to view the floor show. Such was their relief to see some fellow countrymen, after feeling the curious stares afforded strangers.

Later on in our trip we discovered why. Rounding a bend in the road we suddenly came upon the quaintest corner village. I didn't realize such places were still in existence outside a wildwest movie set. Here the blonde Dutch boys trailed us on their bikes for miles, asking us excitedly to emit "war-whoops." Could we help it if the males of our party were deeply fanned and had chosen to affect brush cuts that year?

Coudersport, Pa., was a good-sized town, too. We must remember that even 70 or 80 thousand population is small time stuff to them, and their numerous cities of this size are almost unknown to Canadians as well. At Coudersport the Quaker influence was strongly felt. Approaching one attractive tourist camp, the apple-cheeked, bonneted damsel who seemed to be fresh out of single cabins that night, coyly suggested that marriage licenses were to be had for 25 cents in their State, and there was absolutely no delay in executing same. I didn't venture to test the truth of this statement.

And so on, throughout the beautiful scenic drives it was the same. We felt like visitors from Mars wherever we stopped. Let me tell you, too, thar's cold in them thar hills! I almost froze to death in August in their unheated, slimely-blanketed cabins — sans modern conveniences, too!

All I can say is, that if the natives of Ontario who have been living for years in Erie, Pa., let that newspaper item go unchallenged, they ought to be tarred and feathered by us on their next visit home.

For I have stood on a main street in Niagara Falls, Ontario, on a scorching July day with my heels rapidly sinking into the tar, and have been approached by an expensive car laden with skis and mid-Eastern American tourists, in search of "Victoria Park, please, so we may disport ourselves and cool off." I'm afraid I was the one who had to cool off.

I am told on good authority too, that the average Californian High School student vaguely thinks of Ontario in terms of a small rural town away up north with the Eskimos.

Yes, the U.S.A. can well afford to raise the standards of their educational system on all sides, and improve the quality of their quiz programs too. An overdose of money is a dangerous toy in the hands of the uneducated masses.

Yours truly,
"RUSTIC FEMALE".

Joseph's Granary

(London Observer)

Dr. Dov Joseph, the Minister of Supply and Rationing, is the Stafford Cripps of Israel—an ex-lawyer, austere by temperament and practice, unsmiling and rigidly honourable in his administration. He is from Canada, and made his name in Israel when, by what seemed a new miracle of the loaves and fishes, he managed to keep the inhabitants of Jerusalem alive throughout the siege.

Yet he is not personally in the public eye. It is seldom that there is even a photograph of him in the newspapers (unlike, in this the genial Sharett and the almost monstrously photogenic Ben-Gurion). But the name Dov Joseph is constantly on the rather rueful lips of Israel's austerity-afflicted population, and there are a great many apocryphal anecdotes about this unassuming but rigorous man.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And God gave Solomon wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largeness of heart, even as the sand that is on the sea shore. (I Kings 4: 29.)

◇ ◇ ◇

After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.... And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. (Luke 10: 1, 17-19.)

For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light (for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth;) proving what is acceptable unto the Lord....

Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is....

Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. (Eph. 5: 8-10, 17; 6: 10.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Two men were hunting lions. Toward evening they chanced upon the tracks of what appeared to be a large lion.

The size of the tracks cooled the ardor of the hunters somewhat, but one of them, showing certain qualities of leadership, turned to his companion and said, "What we need in a situation like this is co-operation. These tracks are undoubtedly those of a large and ferocious lion. Only by working together can we hope to accomplish our purpose. So I will backtrack on the lion to determine where he came from and you follow these tracks and find out where he went."

Jubilee Of Genetics

(New York Times)

Buried in an obscure publication in 1869, the "laws" of heredity discovered by Abbe Gregor Mendel had to be rediscovered in 1900, the year now regarded as that in which genetics as a science was founded. The formulation of the "laws" was one of the great scientific achievements of this century. It is fitting that the jubilee should be celebrated at Ohio State University by 2,500 scientists who came from different parts of the world to honour not only Mendel but such followers of his as Thomas Hunt Morgan, who developed Mendel's principles to a point where we can speak of genetics as "the science of heredity."

In Soviet Russia genetics has been under fire directed chiefly by T. D. Lysenko, a plant-breeder of the Burbank type, who toes the Marxian line. To Marxists environment is of far more importance than heredity, so that, given the right environment, all is well with mice and men. The teaching of genetics is therefore regarded not only as a scientific falsehood but as an invention to perpetuate bourgeois ancestor worship and class snobbery.

It seems to be lost on Lysenko and his disciples that geneticists no longer pin their faith absolutely on heredity. Environment plays its part in their thinking, because of its influence on genes, the units of heredity. Western geneticists no longer hold with eugenists that we are rattling the physical and psychical chains imposed by our ancestors and that Congo savages will always be what they are. Even more important is the fact that a discussion of genetics in human terms is bound to end in a consideration of the relation of the citizen to the state and to proposals for the eradication of the social unfit. It speaks well for geneticists that they have lost some of their old cocksureness, that they now doubt that it is either possible or wise to improve the human stock by applying genetic principles, and that far more must be discovered about the relation of heredity to growth and of both to environmental influences before we can undertake to improve social man with the aid of biology alone.

Election Industries

(New Glasgow News)

Prominent on the shores of Halifax Harbor is a big sugar factory—closed for years. Every election brings promises of its reopening, but they are worth the usual and not a whit more; the factory has stayed shut down.

And that is a pity; a building its size should have some contribution to the economy of Nova Scotia. If not in sugar, then in something else.

Even a distillery would be preferable to nothing at all, since Nova Scotians pay much of their taxes through their liquor stores and we might as well be utilizing our own labour to make the stuff about which there are no technical problems.

Militant French Nationalism Apparent In New Brunswick

By JACK SCOTT

CAMPBELLTON, N.B.—A surprising number of businessmen and civic leaders in Campbellton philosophically accept the belief that New Brunswick will one day be as French a province as Quebec.

"Already, from Moncton north the French-Canadians have the balance of power," a pioneer New Brunswicker told me today. "Their influence is being felt more and more in the capital at Fredericton.

"The Acadian flag is flying all over the province. There's a new and militant French nationalism abroad."

The French have the edge on population not only because of a higher birth rate, but because so many English-speaking young men are continuing to trek to the industrial areas of Ontario for better wages than New Brunswick can offer them.

The French, too, have gone more than halfway in adapting themselves to the situation. In the cities, it's rare to find the French merchant who isn't bilingual. The English, on the other hand, rarely trouble themselves to acquire the other tongue. Their concession to the French population? Hire a French employee.

On the surface there's no friction. Indeed, both sides make a show of hearty good will. But the tension is there.

At least two Campbellton businessmen have discreetly set up branches of their concerns in Ontario. The proprietor of one such firm told me, "This town will be preponderantly French in my time. I'm making damn sure I've got something to fall back on."

New Faces

Campbellton, itself, which looks across the Restigouche River at Quebec (where there are almost none of these messy complications), serves as a kind of barometer of change.

Ten years ago there was an English mayor and only two of the eight-man city council were of French extraction. But for the last seven years an Acadian, L. E. Renault, has been mayor. Catholic votes have the majority on the council. Mayor Renault now runs unopposed.

Other New Brunswick towns with a dual population, notably Bathurst, worked out a "gentleman's agreement" under which a French Catholic, an Irish Catholic and a non-Catholic would rotate as chief magistrate.

In Campbellton, so the story goes, the last "English" mayor, P. W. Caldwell, firmly rejected this idea. ("He could afford to risk offending the French," I was told, "because he was a railway man.") Caldwell lost the election. No one now expects the town will ever have another non-Catholic at its head.

The change came swiftly here because of a switch in the voting system. Non-French own an estimated 85 per cent of the property in Campbellton. So long as the franchise was limited to property-owners English representation predominated. In 1944 the electoral law was changed to give the vote to all citizens who had paid up the $10 poll tax.

The voters' list blossomed suddenly with French names and most English Campbelltonians will assure you that wealthy French-Canadians put up the ante for their poorer neighbors.

In any event, it seems obvious that a masterful organization job was done by the late Benoit Michaud, a colorful, moon-faced barrister and enthusiastic Acadian who was MP for these parts. "An unsophisticated Duplessis," was one description I heard, which indicates a certain harshness in the English attitude to the militant French-Canadian.

Today two of the three provincial members from the district are French (Louis Lebel and John Baptiste D'Astous) and the federal member is Paul Dube.

For Acadia

The Acadian movement, which is called "nationalist" by its opponents, is centred around an organization called the Association for the Promotion of Acadian Education.

According to one of its strongest supporters here the Association's aim is "to claim our rightful place in the schools for the conservation of our language and to enable the Acadian to survive as a Catholic and French entity."

In blunter terms this simply means that these French want their youngsters taught by French Catholics. In Campbellton, as I reported in my last column, they have achieved this aim in spite of the dangers it presents in segregating youngsters of different religions.

The mouthpiece for the Acadians is L'Evangeline, published in Moncton with the motto, "Religion, Langue, Patrie; Instruire et unir pour agir." In talking of "unity," of course, L'Evangeline does not mean Canadian unity, but Acadian.

The Acadian supporter I interviewed today dismissed such terms as "nationalist" and "balance of power" and stated his position with a good deal of logic.

"There's no use trying to avoid the fact that we are descended from French or that we are Catholic. We are and no one can change it," he said. "We see no reason to throw overboard our own background, our culture and tradition merely because Canadians of British descent think it might be simpler for them. We, too, are Canadians. How we live, or how we educate our children is, after all, our own business."

Proclaim Boxing Day

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP) — Christmas is closer than you think. Toronto city council agreed Wednesday to proclaim Dec. 26 as Boxing Day, with a recommendation that as many employers as possible give their employees a holiday.

Pearson Loses To Aussie Over High UN Job

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Canadian External Affairs Minister was defeated Wednesday in the election of seven vice-presidents of the UN General Assembly.

He was six votes short of the necessary total of 30.

He was defeated by Australian External Affairs Minister Percy C. Spender, who won exactly 30 votes.

In theory the voting was for countries without regard to personalities, but the theory did not hold good Wednesday. Australia has been campaigning for months to have Spender elected.

"Unfortunately, Mike Pearson did nothing to win this election, which is a pity, because no man in active life today has done more for the United Nations," a member of the US delegation said.

Many others agreed that Canada could have overcome its deficit of six votes with little effort.

Joke to Pearson

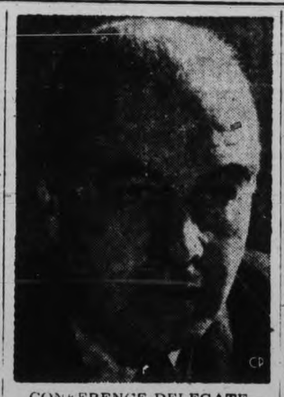
In some quarters, mainly Communist,, the idea was advanced that Pearson was saving himself to run as Secretary-General, but he dismissed the motion with a laugh.

"Trygve Lie is the one man we could possibly agree on," he said.

In all, seven vice-presidents and the chairmen of the six basic committees of the Fifth General Assembly were elected Wednesday. The elections were over within two hours, completing the functional structure of the Assembly.



Pearson's defeat removes Canada from a place of honor and also from a place on the Assembly's strategic general or steering committee.

The surprise of the day was the support given Nationalist China. The Nationalists even won vice-presidential votes from countries that have recognized the Communist regime.

The full membership of 59 nations participated in the voting for the vice-presidencies. The great powers were elected without incident, the United States falling one vote short of the 59, Britain and France two, and the Soviet Union eight. China received 45 votes.

Dr. Roberto Urdaneta Arbelaez, Columbia Minister of War, was chosen chairman of the important political and security committee, led last year by Pearson. He defeated Professor A. M. Baranovsky of the Ukraine, 52 to 5.

Dr. Gustavo Gutierrez, technical director of the Cuban National Economic Board, was named to preside over the Economic and Financial Committee.

CONFERENCE DELEGATE—George V. Ferguson, editor of the Montreal Star, is a member of the Canadian delegation to the 11th conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations. The conference opens in Lucknow, India, Oct. 3.

Can't Decide Whether Drop Williams

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21 (AP)—Steve O'Neill of the Boston Red Sox was confronted today with the biggest problem of his managerial career.

The personable pilot has 48 hours to mull over whether to play or bench his clouting but convalescing outfielder, Ted Williams, when his charges engage the Yankees in a do-or-die series in New York Saturday and Sunday.

O'Neil, two down to the Yankees with but 10 games to go, knows he must sweep the two-game series from the league leaders or start thinking of next year.

Will Williams be a help or a hindrance in the final swing? That is the question. Nobody can answer that. Not even Williams.

One thing is for sure. Ted hasn't helped much up to now. Except for his first appearance when he drove in the winning runs against St. Louis with a homer and three singles, baseball's No. 1 hitter has been somewhat of a bust at bat.

Since then Ted has collected only two singles in five games. He hasn't driven in a single run.

Has Bad Elbow

In fairness to the splendid splinter, the big fellow has been playing with an elbow that still gives him considerable pain whenever he swings hard.

Even from high up in the press box here, it was obvious that Williams was not taking his usual healthy cuts Wednesday as Cleveland was clubbing the Red Sox twice, 6-3 and 7-1. Once, after fanning the breeze with a real Ruthian swing, Ted winced from the pain and waited longer than usual before re-entering the batter's box.

Williams, himself, is in a quandry. He doesn't want to stay in there if his presence will hurt the team's pennant chances. But he also is one of those terrific competitors who can't stay out of the line-up if it's possible for him to play. He believes it is only a matter of time until the arm he injured in the all-star game last July comes around and he will start belting the ball in his accustomed fashion. But time is running out on Ted and the Red Sox.

Mutuals Take 1-0 Win To Get Series

Mutuals edged New Toronto 1-0 at the Bowl last night to take their OASA quarter-final intermediate "A" series in two straight, this being a replay of a protested game. A small crowd saw a swell scrap with the lone double by Bob Crowe and a dinky little two-base blow back of first by Howie Dalton. Only one player on each side after that got as far as third base with Doyle and Bob Greenlaw hooking up in a nifty hurling duel on about even terms. New Toronto got five hits and Mutuals just four, but Doyle walked five to Bob's three.

Both flingers had fine support as the rival squads hustled all the way, with George Hawkes turning in an outstanding game on third throughout. He started the lone double play of the game. Reg. Leether also came up with a fine pickup at short, and Coon looked good in right for the losers. Greenlaw led his side at bat with two hits in four tries, Sutman topping New Toronto at the plate with two in four. The game was well handled.

Giants Have Bought Pavlick For Team

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — New York Giants today announced the purchase of second-baseman Pete Pavlick from Jersey City and the outright sale of outfielder Pete Milne to Minneapolis. Both minor league clubs belong in the Giant farm system.

Pavlick, 24, batted .270 in Jersey City. He led the International League in stolen bases with 22.

Milne, also 24, has been playing with Minneapolis since July of this year.

Bell Gets First

Bell Telephone took a 6-0 victory over Foresters last night to open the Civic Softball League finals, a best-of-seven affair. The second game will be staged tomorrow night at 6:15 in Armour Field.

Harrison hurled three-hit ball for Bell in the seven-inning struggle and he had fine support. The victors got four runs in the first frame and finished up with two more in the third. Some snappy softball was seen on both sides, the winners having the edge at bat and defensively. Teams:

Bell — James, Conway, Ackford, Jamieson, Harrison, Greatrix, Tushington, Boyce, Gillespie.

Foresters — Parnell, Collins, S. Tyndall, Reid, Walling, Roberts, Hobson, C. Tyndall, Daniels, Miller.

Umpires — Hempstead, Castle, and Downer.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Football is quite an expensive sport. More so than other team games. For one thing, grid clubs carry an extra large roster of players with a dozen at a time in action and more than that many on the bench. Those cleated boots, fancy uniforms and heavy pads run into plenty of sugar, not to mention other equipment, referees, transportation and two dozen or more whopping appetites in hotels or restaurants. Ah, yes, mucho mazuma. Hence, we'd like to see a big crowd at Morrow Park tomorrow night for the high school twin bill. PCVS juniors vs. St. Peter's seniors, followed by Runnymede and PCVS seniors. Both games should be well worth viewing.

Word comes from Lindsay that the CHA juniors there have reached a working agreement with Eddie Shore's Springfield Indians of the AHL. Mainly through the efforts of William (Red) Mitchell, Lindsay's recreation director who will coach the junior Kinsmen. It is reported that Springfield will supply some playing material—boys on their list with pro prospects—and also some equipment and possibly financial aid. "The new agreement," writes the Post scribe, "may cause the Lindsay entry to enter junior 'B' competition against such centres as Peterborough, Barrie, Oshawa, Toronto, etc."

Why Not Do It Here?

The trend in hockey is for more and more hookups with pro clubs. The latter, in a highly-competitive sports market, are frequently willing to do business with amateur clubs with a view to later cashing in on good young material. It's a practical setup and helps both amateurs and pros. Local clubs, junior and senior "B", might well get on the band-wagon. Less local sponsorship would be required, and better hockey should result. By all means use local talent as much as possible, but have any imports okayed by trained pro coaches and scouts. And do it now.

* * * * * *

An item we mentioned the other day about being on a City Baseball League team brings a query as to other players in that lineup. Digging up an old clipping, we note such names from over Ashburnham way—the juvenile team was called Hillcrests—as: "Mart Guerin, Baz Clancy, Bill and Roy Walsh, Harold Ralph, Joe Kearns, Pat Calladine, Jim Brooks, Ed Vinette, Harold Mesley, and yours truly. With Frank McMahon the manager. No, we didn't win the title that year, there being a guy named Chuck Bradley pitching for the Maple Leafs. He was too good for any of the clubs in the loop for several years, and had a mighty fine receiver in the late Ab Delahaye.

East City And Mutuals

If weather permits, a hefty crowd should show tonight at the Bowl to see East City and Mutuals resume their hot softball finals. Executive met last night and tossed out Mutuals' protest on the first game Monday and ruled a default on the second game—but ordered the series continued. This means that East City leads the best-of-seven city finals by three games to two. They clash at 7.15 sharp and, if East City wins, that ends it for sure. If Mutuals win, they tangle right away again to settle the league championship. So, it could be two games tonight. And, as we say, weather permitting, this is the clincher tonight and no doubt a hot time between these keen rivals ere the end.

* * * * * *

The Mutuals wrapped up their quarter-final series with New Toronto in a neat number at the Bowl last p.m. before a slim crowd. Won it 1-0 in a fine flingers' duel. Bob Greenlaw, in his last OASA appearance here ere joining the RCAF this week and going to Ottawa, threw five-hit ball in a swell showing. Doyle on the other mound gave up but four hits. However, two fast-moving gents like Bob Crowe and Howie Dalton put two ordinary singles into doubles in the first frame for the one run of the tilt. After that, it was a fine fray with topnotch twirling and good fielding. George Hawkes at third being particularly outstanding. This shoves Mutuals into OASA intermediate "A" semi-finals.

Dese, Dem And Dose

Details were worked out last night and the ex-Legion pucksts this winter will be sponsored by Don McGillis Sr., who will also act as president. . . .The club will need new equipment as the Legion is reported turning the old equipment over to the Trojan A.C. . . . General meeting of the PMHA at 7.30 tonight in the "Y". . . . Larry Aurie has arrived in Oshawa to coach the Generals. . . Randy Ellis expects to play hockey again in the States. . . In senior school soccer yesterday, Prince of Wales, Central and Queen Mary were victors. . . . PCVS and SPS grid lineups for the morrow (games at 6.30 and 8.30) are in this eve. . . . Levantis and Paul arrived recently for the last of the Orfuns' newcomers; team is at Cobourg on Saturday. . . . Jack Matthews is out of the Western lineup with an injured shoulder. . . . Bell beat Foresters 6-0 to open civic softball finals; they go tomorrow at 6.15 p.m. in Armour Field. . . . Smiths Falls lead Brockville in COBL finals three to two. . . . Ogdensburg leds Ottawa in Border Loop finals two to nothing. . . . Same lead as Waterloo have on Brantford in intercounty playoffs. . . . Indians helped our Tigers plenty by trimming Red Sox twice. . . . Still nothing definite on the OBA minor setup. . . . Junior lacrosse school on Sept. 24 at 10 a.m. and at two p.m.; over-age juves invited. . . . Local bantams lost 30-10 in Dalhousie; return fray at six Sat'day night in Miller Bowl. . . . And autumn officially arrives.

By DON GRANT

A loyal football fan, besides trying to become acquainted with the fundamentals of the game, should know the teams and the coaches which he follows.

G. B. Goulding is pilot of the senior PCVS crew, since he came here six years ago he has coached the senior Garnet and Grays to several COSSA championships and has made the team the strongest in the Lakeshore loop.

Through knowledge gained at football courses given at Western University and by Cleveland Browns, Mr. Goulding has annually built green material into championship calibre. He is one of the leading collegiate coaches in Ontario.

Coach Alex Londry of the PCVS juniors has had similar success with his teams in his short time at the collegiate. His squads have won their share of COSSA championships, last year edging out the strong Port Colborne grid team.

Entering his second year as coach at St. Peter's High School is Fred Allore. This year he is coaching St. Peter's first senior team which has been entered in a league with the hard teams from De La Salle and St. Michael's of Toronto. During the past summer he attended football courses under Johnny Metras at Western and Frank Leahy at Notre Dame.

Dick Ouimet is coaching the St. Peter's juniors. Besides playing the game in Peterborough, Ouimet has had some experience coaching, once with the Peterborough Panthers when they first were organized. With light material this year Coach Ouimet is planning to have a fast-breaking squad.

Mentor for the 1950 Orfuns is Harvard (Bammie) Bamforth. His knowledge of the game can be easily found in the football records. During his time at PCVS he built the collegiate grid squads into contenders, then champions. For one year he stepped up into the Ontario senior football bracket with the old Orfuns, that year pulling the upset of the year when they downed the Sarnia Imperials.

ROOKIE INJURED

Emory (Bubba) Church, the Philadelphia Phillies' rookie righthander injured by a liner off the bat of Ted Kluszewski last Friday, was released from hospital Wednesday.

Looking hale and healthy, the former Toronto Maple Leaf star paid a visit to the press box as the Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6 and told reporters he was feeling great.

Lineups Ready To Start Football Frays

A burning desire to return a trouncing given the PCVS seniors on November 30, 1946, may be met Friday night when the Garnet and Grey senior grid squad will meet the senior Runnymede boys from Toronto at Morrow Park.

The Toronto lads, in 1946 the TDIAA champions, met the COSSA champions, PCVS, and whipped them at the muddy Oakwood stadium 20-0. That PCVS team was one of the strongest teams ever to compete for local school honors. These players can still be seen in action today, Jack Sisson at flying wing, Moe Richardson at quarter, Eric McIlveen, Jack Matthews and Blair Thomson, halves.

Coach Bev Goulding feels that this year's team is one of the heaviest he has ever coached at PCVS. They still have several light players for the old PCVS zip.

Northcott Back

Al Northcott, at quarter last year until he broke his ankle, will be starting at the flying wing position Friday. Bryan Young, last year with the champion juniors at quarter, has taken over the same position on this year's senior entry. Al McIlraith, another champion junior, has made the jump into the senior backfield as a half. With the juniors he was the star end. Coach Goulding has two fast backs in Warren Brown and Bob Gandy from last year's team.

Along the front Grant Burns and Jim Grant will be punching holes at inside while two big boys, Jim Telford and Bill English, will be holding down the fort at middle.

Art Galley, another junior, has moved to end with the seniors and Neil Thompson, flashy PCVS basketball player, will be playing his first year of collegiate football on the other end.

The reserves are big Bob (Bounce) Howe, a whole 260 pounds, is the alternate snap. Insides are Don Curtis and Bill Nicholls. Alternate middles will be Stan Facendi and John Burns [illegible] and Larry Cunningham. For the extra strength on the backfield PCVS will throw Jim Galoska, Bus Jenson, Bob Craw and Dave Fortner. Others to be used in the exhibition fray are George White, Art Harrison, Bob Ward, Don Clapper, Don Northey, Drew Buckland and Ted Sanders.

Not Saying Much

Alex Londry is holding back any comments on this year's junior "A" squad until after their showing Friday night against St. Peter's High seniors. Last year the team had nine more practices under its belt before the first game. With the exception of Bryan Young the backfield is the same as last. Bill Stewart, a half last year, has moved into quarter while the halves will be Spencer Hope, Dave Langhorne, Reg Fowler and newcomer Ron Dunn.

The whole line has undergone a complete change. This year's lineup is: centre, Creighton Johnston; insides, Larry Forbes, Hugh Outram; middles, Don Scriver, Murray Grafstein; ends, Dan Griffin, Barry Hollingsworth.

In reserve, Mr. Londry will have Jeff Huddart, Ken Armstrong, Norm Hayward, Gary Gilders, Bob Boorman, Brian Turner, Jim Haggart, Fred Russell, Ron McIlwain, Hugh Pollard, Gary Patterson, and Phil Chevalier.

St. Peter's High seniors suffered a setback this week when half Clare Crowley ripped ligaments in his knee during practice. The knee, hurt last year, will force Crowley out for this year's play.

With a light, but fast, group of footballers, Coach Fred Allore will see how his team will be shaping up Friday when they meet the PCVS junior "A" team in the first of the floodlight double-header. The St. Pete's squad is using this year a split T-formation double quarterbacks with a slight touch of single wing.

At the quarterback positions will be John Armstrong and Harry O'Neill while flying wing will be Carl Brioux and halves John Jones and Jack Richardson. Coach Allore's line is light for a senior squad. He has placed Steve Morrissey at centre, Frank Farley and Gerald O'Reilly at middle, Tom Cavanagh and Joe O'Brien at ends, Terry O'Leary and Don De Laplante at inside. His reserves are few, Greg Crowley, Leo Sullivan, Carl Simmons and Gerald McMurray.

FUNNY BUSINESS —By Hershberger

"George is mad at the government—he's just discovered he paid some more hidden taxes!"

Close Play Served in School Soccer

Prince of Wales scored a last-minute goal to gather up a point at the expense of King George, Wednesday, at Exhibition Park, with a one-all count, in senior school soccer.

The teams were not acquainted with the new playing pitch and were erratic in their movements, Prince of Wales being easy-going; while King George gained the only counter through Simpson on an individual effort. On resuming, play ran from end to end with the custodians brilliant. King George goalie saved a penalty kick but had to admit defeat when G. Downer evened up the count a minute to the finish.

Prince of Wales—J. Allen, goal; B. Godfrey and J. Heron, full backs; M. Clarke, P. Coit and W. Brown, half backs; J. Bonner, C. Whitney, G. Downer and B. Boon, forwards. Subs., G. Hancock, P. Detlor

King George—A. Wilson, goal; [illegible] and A. Harding, full backs; B. Campbell, D. Roote and K. Barker, half backs; C. Butcher, B. Simpson, D. Harding, J. Rogers and R. McKenzie, forwards. Subs., G. Ellis, B. Simpson, P. Johnson, B MacNaughton.

Referee, Mr. Olmstead.

Blanks King Edward

King Edward lost two valuable league points to Central eleven Wednesday afternoon in the Exhibition Park grounds by the score of 4-0.

Taking no chances, Central set a fast pace to upset the King Edward team with their aggressive tactics. Lunn, at outside right, slammed in two smart goals that the goalie had no chance to save as the interval arrived. The second period showed the Central boys had combination plays down to perfection to rattle in two more goals through Gordon and Patterson.

King Edward—J. Sutherland, goal; C. Chalmers and E. Robbins, full backs; J. Phillips, J. Mills, M. McFadden, half backs; A. McArthur, A. Phillips, R. Hobart, H. Woo and A. Curtis, forwards.

Central—R. Gray, goal; R. Rowe and J. Matthews, full backs; S. Brooks, B. Patten, B. Martyn, half backs; D. Patterson, R. Smith, R. Butler, B. Gardner and P. Lunn, forwards. Subs., C. Dunford, H. Gibbs, P. Brown, J Lane.

Referee, Mr. Draery.

Claimed Offside Goal

The amalgamated team from Queen Elizabeth and Queen Alexandra played against the heavy Queen Mary eleven on King Edward Park Wednesday in a senior tilt and lost to the west-enders.

In the early stages the north-enders repeatedly broke through the Queen Mary defence to find the custodian stopping everything ranged at him. The break finally went in favor of the Queen Mary boys when two of their players in their opponents' territory accepted a pass up the field. Opposing full backs claimed offside but the winners' forwards went right in on the goalie to find him saving the shot but Dubay caught the rebound for the only counter registered. Second half revealed nothing interesting.

Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth—W. Macklin, goal; R. Dillman and F. Anderson, full backs; C. McMillan, W. Whitnell and R. Ward, half backs; R. Whitton, R. Druce, J. Johnson, G. Mc-

Orioles Take Series, Edge Out Royals

By The Associated Press.

It will be power vs. pitching as the finals of the International League playoffs begin in Rochester tonight.

The deciding round pits the pennant-winning Rochester Red Wings, who led the league in batting and home runs, against Baltimore Orioles, who turned in the most shutouts, 16.

Baltimore gained the finals on Wednesday night by edging Montreal Royals 5-4 in the seventh and final game of their series. The Wings qualified Monday by defeating Jersey City Giants for the fourth time in six games.

The first two games of the final set will be played in Rochester tonight and Friday night. The series then shifts to Baltimore for a game Saturday night. Sunday is an open date. The fourth game and fifth, if necessary, will be at Baltimore Monday and Tuesday. The sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be played in Rochester, probably next Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Little World Series

The winner will then clash with the American Association playoff winner, either Columbus or Indianapolis, in the Little World Series.

Tommy Fine (7-5) is slated to pitch for Baltimore tonight against Red Wing ace Tom Poholsky (18-6). The Wings won 13 games and lost nine to the Orioles during the regular season.

A seventh-inning homer by Babe Barna brought the Orioles victory last night. The blow snapped a 4-4 tie. Karl Drews started for Baltimore and gained credit for the victory, but needed help in the seventh inning.

Tigers On Heels of Yanks Nose Out Athletics 6-5

By RALPH RODEN.

The final chapter of the American League pennant race opens today, and the solution is anybody's guess.

Of the three contenders, the second-place Detroit Tigers appear to be in the best position to take charge.

The Tigers play single games today and Friday, while the league-leading New York Yankees and the third-place Boston Red Sox are idle. Victories in both of these games would put the Tigers in first place.

In addition, the Tigers have another advantage as four of the Red Sox' and Yanks' 10 remaining games are against each other. They start to knock each other off in the Yankee Stadium Saturday while the Tigers are in Cleveland.

The Tigers entertain Philadelphia Athletics today with Freddie Hutchinson pitching against little Bobby Shantz. A victory would shove the Bengals into a first place tie with New York. The Tigers then move to Cleveland, where they take on the Indians in the opener of a three-game series Friday night.

Here's the picture at a glance:

| | W | L | Pc | Games Behind | Games Left |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 91 | 53 | .632 | — | 10 |
| Detroit | 90 | 53 | .627 | ½ | 11 |
| Boston | 89 | 55 | .618 | 2 | 10 |

Edge Athletics

Detroit kept close on the heels of the Yanks Wednesday by nosing out the Athletics 6-5. The New Yorkers turned back Chicago White Sox 8-1. The Red Sox, however, suffered a severe jolt as they dropped a doubleheader to Cleveland Indians, 6-3 and 7-1.

The Tigers had a rough time before the A's succumbed. The Mackmen piled up a 5-1 lead at the expense of Dizzy Trout in the first five innings, but the Tigers struck back. They won the game with a two-run splurge in the eighth against Bob Hooper. Charley Keller started things with a one-out single. He moved to second on a wild pitch and scored the tying run when Ferris Fain threw Hoot Evers' grounder wild past third. Evers reached second on the miscue and scored the winning run on Don Kolloway's third single of the game.

Ed Ford, 21-year-old rookie lefthander, stopped the White Sox on three hits in hanging up his eighth victory without a loss for the Yankees. The victors clubbed Ray Scarborough and two relief pitchers for 11 hits.

Cool Off Red Sox

Bob Lemon and Early Wynn cooled off the Red Sox, who had won 27 of their previous 32 games. Lemon scattered seven hits in bagging his 21st victory in opener and Ken Raffensberger on six in the finale.

Washington Senators swamped St. Louis Browns 12-7 in the lone American League night game. Irv Noren led the victors by driving in five runs on a homer and double.

Philadelphia Phillies, meanwhile, moved a step closer toward winning the National League pennant. The Phils defeated Chicago Cubs 9-6, to pull 7½ games ahead of Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers. The Braves dropped into a second-place tie with the Dodgers by losing a 1-0 night game to St. Louis Cardinals. The Dodgers dumped Pittsburgh Pirates 7-2.

Two home runs by Mike Goliat and another neat relief stint by old reliable Jim Konstanty featured the Phillies' victory. Goliat's second homer came with two on in the eighth inning and won the game. Konstanty, who came to the relief of Russ Meyer in the sixth, picked up his 16th victory.

Carl Erskine held the Pirates to five hits, including a two-run homer by Ralph Kiner, to square his record at 5-5. Kiner's four-base blow was his 46th.

Cloyd Boyer, bothered by a sore arm, blanked the Braves on four hits. Peanuts Lowrey singled home the only run in the eighth inning. Vern Bickford, gunning for his 20th victory, was the loser.

Cincinnati Reds turned back the New York Giants twice, 4-1 and 2-0. Ewell Blackwell stopped the Giants on four hits in the

St. Kitts-Hamilton Series Even

HAMILTON, Sept. 21 (CP). — St. Catharines Athletics got back into the fight for the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior crown Wednesday night by edging Hamilton Tigers 7-6.

That evened their best-of-three semi-final series at a game each.

Leo Teatro paced the winners with three goals. Pat Smith got the winner midway through the final period after Tony Capula had tied the score for Hamilton with his third goal of the night. Damico, Nutley and Whipper got the others for St. Catharines while Scott and Masters scored Hamilton's other goals.

Largest Payoff

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 21 (AP) — A breath-taking payoff of $449.50, largest in raceway history records, enlivened Wednesday night's harness events at Fort Miami raceway. The history-making long shot, Joe Jester, a five-year-old chestnut horse owned by Mrs. Glynn Trolz of Jackson, Mich., took the second half of the night's classified pace at a mile and one-sixteenth, in a photo finish.

Plan New Talks On Methods Of Church Union

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP)—If the United and Anglican churches really want to unite, "methods of co-operation can and should be worked out," the United Church General Council said Wednesday.

The Council agreed to ask the Anglican church to join in new talks aimed at union, and invited the Anglican church to "pledge itself in a similar definitive manner."

Union was suggested in 1943, but the two denominations have found difficulty in agreeing on a mutually -acceptable ministry. The Anglicans have bishops while the United church has none. Both ordain persons as ministers of the Holy Catholic church.

The Council decided, despite protests from Maritime members, to hold its next meeting in Hamilton in 1952.

United church pensions were increased 25 per cent by another decision of the Council, but the pensioners' cost of living bonus was abolished. Additional payments may be made on compassionate grounds. Under the new scale ministers will receive $25 annually for each year of service. The plan covers all ministers on pension now as well as future pensioners.

The church's missionary and maintenance department reported last year's membership at 806,197.

Prof. L. H. Cragg, chemistry professor at McMaster University in Hamilton, told the Council a minister's job is a lonely one. Ministers rarely had an opportunity to talk to each other about their work. He supported a proposal—later rejected — that the church set up a special department to deal with the setlement of ministers.

Donkey Ball Game

HAVELOCK, Sept. 21 (ENS)—A hilarious scene took place at the Havelock arena on Monday when a game of baseball was played by teams from the Rotary Club and Legion while mounted on Rocky Mountain donkeys. The Legion team was victorious by a score of 4 to 3 and the gate receipts amounted to $196.50.

The line-ups:

Legion—P. Hill, G. Gawley, H. Smith, L. Hornsby, J. Green, V. Fitzpatrick, D. Hill, W. Cartwright and H. McCabe.

Rotary—B. Haryett, H. McNeely, Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, G. Crook, J. Watson, E. D. Chiles, J. Wilde, H. Michaelson, D. Buchanan.

Men On Three Destroyers Find Korea Interesting

By LIEUT. A. J. PLOSZ, R.C.N. Naval Information Officer, H.M.C.S. Cayuga

WITH THE CANADIAN DESTROYERS OFF KOREA, Sept. 21—(Delayed)—(CP)— Canada's three destroyers—Cayuga, Athabaskan and Sioux—have been operating under United Nations command in the Far East for more than six weeks now and life for the officers and men is pretty much one would expect in a war theatre.

At sea it means hard work and sweat for out here the temperature and humidity are high. In port it can mean swapping yarns over refreshments with the sailors of other nations, shopping in the canteens and in the local shops or dancing in a club with a Japanese "taxi-dancer," some of whom speak halting English with a Brooklyn accent.

The naval base where the destroyers come after patrols and convoy duties is situated near a fair-sized city of wooden houses set along sloping hills.

Shopping facilities are good and anything from gaily-decorated silk kimonos, silk scarves to chopsticks can be bought. There is a currency problem—Canadian currency is needed aboard ship; American occupation dollars, or GI script, for the American post exchange and American clubs; Hong Kong dollars for British canteens and Japanese yen for local shops—but the boys soon got used to it.

And the Canadians have found themselves welcome at the American, British and Australian canteens and clubs. One American club has engaged about 20 Japaneses girls as "taxi dancers" who wear western style evening gowns.

In the way of recreation there is swimming, softball, tennis and basketball. Inter-ship competitions are keen and there are movies on board ship and at the theatre in the American post exchange building ashore where admission to a first-run Hollywood production is 20 cents.

Blacked Out

At sea the destroyers operate blacked out and the ventilating and cooling systems have had a hard time keeping pace. The protective anti-flash clothing makes upper deck work a little warm for some members of the ships' companies.

The Canadians have wasted no time in adjusting themselves to local conditions. It's not uncommon to see a white-clad sailor from Alberta or British Columbia riding with mock majesty in a rickshaw; awkwardly manipulating a pair of chop sticks over a bowl of rice in a restaurant or sitting on the floor in a home enjoying a cup of tea with Japanese host.

And when the Canadians go visiting, they leave their heavy Navy-issue shoes at the door, in compliance with Japanese custom.

In this lovely natural harbor are units of the American, British, Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, French and Dutch navies. The language barrier presents no problems to the resourceful sailors who make themselves understood with an amusing collection of gestures, facial expressions and pidgin talk.

Havelock Girls' Organize Athletic Club

HAVELOCK, Sept. 21 (ENS)—A new organization came into being here on Tuesday when the Havelock Girls' Athletic Club was formed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams. Miss Anne McIntyre was the unanimous choice for president, Miss Betty Post was elected secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. William White was appointed entertainment convener, with power to choose her committee.

The club is comprised of the girls who formed the softball team which functioned successfully during the summer months. Mr. Adams who was their coach and manager, will continue to act in that capacity when their hockey team is formed for which Miss Laurena Wright was elected captain. As the club expects to have an increased membership, the forming of the hockey team was left for a later date.

The club meetings are to be held the first and third Tuesdays of each month and the membership fee was set 25c.

Plans were discussed for procuring equipment for the hockey team, but nothing definite was done, the matter being laid over until the next meeting. It was decided to hold a crokinole party at the home of Mr. Adams on September 26.

Mr. Adams conducted the election of officers and Miss Anne McIntyre was secretary for the meeting. Others were: Misses Shirley and Dorothy Ann Holdcroft, Elva Gerow, Muriel Forsyth, Jennie Ellis, and Barbara Brooks.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Maybe it's a break for the rookie George Armstrong, this absence of thumping Bill Ezinicki from the St. Catharines hockey training camp of Toronto Maple Leafs.

The shift of lines brought about by Ezinicki's failure to report when the camp opened Monday shuffled Armstrong, 20-year-old husky from Skead in Ontario's Sudbury district, into a right-wing slot beside Ted Kennedy, Toronto's captain and ace centre.

Armstrong, a sensation in the Allan Cup playoffs with Toronto Mariboros last season, has fitted right in with Kennedy and left-winger Sid Smith.

Another result of the Ezinicki affair is that Howie Meeker has moved from the Kennedy line to the thumping winger's regular spot with centre Cal Gardner and leftwinger Harry Watson and this threesome looks hot.

In the Ezinicki case, the next move now seems up to Bill himself.

The British Women's Curtis Cup team scored an 8-2 victory over the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union team at Toronto Wednesday, making a clean sweep of three doubles matches and copping five of the seven singles sets

Ada Mackenzie of Toronto and Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal were the only Canadian winners.

Jean Bisgood of Bournemouth, with a two-under-part 37 for the first nine, paced the Britons in the singles. She defeated Mrs. N. J. Carlson of Toronto, 4 and 3, and finished one over par for the 15 holes.

Miss Bisgood teamed with Philomena Garvey of Dublin in the doubles to score a 4-and-3 win over Miss Mackenzie and Anne Sharpe of Welland.

They applied the stethoscope to Joe Louis Wednesday and declared the former champion in his "best fighting shape since the war."

The official medical examination, conducted by Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission, was the next to last before the brown bomber meets Ezzard Charles, at Yankee Stadium next Wednesday night for the heavyweight championship.

"Joe has a slight head cold but it's nothing to get excited about," said Nardiello, "no fever, no redness of the throat. Should be gone in 24 hours.

"Joe has a cold before every big fight," added Mannie Seamon, the bomber's long-time trainer.

Nardiello, who has been tapping the ribs of Louis and other fighters for 19 years, said the 36-year-old "unretired" champion was in his best physical and mental shape since 1942.

"He weighs 218, just about two pounds over what he hopes to hit when he goes into the ring," Nardiello said.

"His waist, which was 35 inches, is down to 33. He's hard as a rock."

After the examination, Louis relaxed on the training table and answered the usual questions.

"I feel fine, much better than I did for both Walcott fights," he said.

"I don't think it'll go far—I'll get Charles or he'll get me."

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

Wonder how many follow this practice? I can't help thinking there would be a marked improvement in man's dealing with man if we all did. It would be equally hard to imagine people of this calibre living in houses that were not attractively landscaped. A few well chosen and artfully placed shrubs will work wonders in transforming the appearance of your property. Right now is the time to transplant them.

Wipe Your Feet

I suppose it is only human nature to put off until tomorrow what you don't feel like doing today! One job I have been avoiding in my own back yard must be done at once, if for no other reason than to keep the housekeeper happy. Invariably dirt tracks into the kitchen on my shoes after a session in the garden, even though I try to be careful. A shoe scraper at the back door is the answer and it will have to be installed before a visit to a marital relations board is involved. I plan to make mine out of an old hoe blade.

Indoor Gardening

Now that the thoughts of the gardener will soon be turning indoors, here are two ideas I'm working on. My picture windows do frame a picture in summer while the garden is in bloom but present a dreary sight at times during the garden's off season. By making a large fernery, I'll be able to enjoy an indoor garden all winter this year. The other ideas is one I dug out of a magazine recently. If you enjoy making miniature dish gardens try the idea illustrated for your container.

Record Cabinet

If you have an old piano that has finished its period of usefulness, don't scrap it but make a cabinet for records or books out of the frame. By using the old wood and giving it a new finish you'll be surprised at the attractive case that can be made at reasonable cost.

Victorian Order Nurses Attend 360 Patients

The amount of nursing service given by the members of the Victorian Order of Nurses staff was considerably greater than for the same period last year reported Miss Mary Ross, nurse-in-charge of the Peterborough Branch of the Order at the V.O.N. Board meeting Wednesday afternoon. Nursing care and health supervision was given to 360 patients —an increase of 76 patients over the summer months last year.

The visits for the three months totalled 1,802—400 more than last year. There were 114 visits to prenatal patients; 670 to mothers and babies; 667 to illnesses of a long term nature; 279 to the acutely ill group and 20 patients discharged from the hospital were given continued nursing care by the service.

"While there is a slight increase in all our types of visits, the greater increase is shown in the service to the medical and surgical group," stated Miss Ross. "To date for this year, there is an increase to this group alone of 460 visits."

"In order to cut the cost rate per visit and due to the fact that for the past few summers we have not been busy, we decided not to substitute for the nurse on vacation," reported Miss Ross. "For the three vacation months, therefore, three nurses carried on with occasional relief. The average number of nurses for this period being 3.2."

Reg Chandler, chairman of the Board extended the appreciation of the board members to Miss Ross for the great amount of work that the staff members had done during the summer.

Buckhorn Institute Visits Westwood WI

WESTWOOD, Sept. 21 (ENS)—The September meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening in the town hall with the president, Mrs. Post, presiding. Buckhorn Institute paid a visit and were welcomed by the president and Mrs. F. E. Birdsall. Mrs. H. Shearer of Buckhorn was convener for an entertaining program, consisting of two mixed quartets, two readings and two contests.

Mrs. Redmond Walsh gave an interesting talk on the motto "Life is a grindstone, whether it wears us down or polishes us up, depends on the stuff of which we are made." Mrs. H. Pacey read a paper of current events of interest. Mrs. Aubrey Wood demonstrated the making of tiny cakes, which were later enjoyed in the lunch hour.

The roll call was answered by naming a place the member would like to visit.

The hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Post, Mrs. E. Elmhurst and Mrs. Birdsall and were assisted by other members.

Red Officer Left Soldier For Dead

TAEGU, Korea, Sept. 21 (Reuters) — An American lieutenant was found today midway between Taegu and Waegwan tied to a tree and shot three times in the face and head.

He was barely alive when found, but had strength to tell that he was captured 10 days ago by North Koreans and held as a prisoner in a village. His condition was grave.

The lieutenant said he was asked by a North Korean officer at the point of the pistol to broadcast to American troops over an amplifer, but refused.

Wednesday night the Communist officer took him to the top of a hill, tied him to a tree and told him and left him for dead.

When the Americans attacked nearby Communist positions, the Communist officer returned, shot him and letf him for dead.

PLAN TO MERGE

VICTORIA TRUST AND SAVINGS COMPANY

AND

GREY & BRUCE TRUST & SAVINGS COMPANY

The Board of Directors of the Victoria Trust and Savings Company of Lindsay, Ontario, and the Board of Directors of the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Company of Owen Sound held meetings on September 13th and 14th respectively at which a plan to merge the two companies into one amalgamated Company, to be known as "Victoria and Grey Trust Company," was unanimously approved by each Board. Each Company has called a special general meeting of its shareholders to consider and, if approved, ratify an agreement covering the merger, and notices to this effect have been mailed to shareholders. Definite approval of the plan by the shareholders cannot be obtained until October 31st when both companies are holding their meetings.

Both companies operate under Province of Ontario charters, and have provided a Trust, Savings, and Loan service in central Ontario for many years. It is planned to continue the same facilities and services as are presently maintained at all the branches of the two companies. The two Boards of Directors are to combine to form the Board of Directors of the Amalgamated Company.

The Victoria Trust and Savings Company was established at Lindsay, Ontario, in 1895 and operates branches at Belleville and Cannington. Mr. T. H. Stinson, K.C., of Lindsay is President of the Company, and Mr. H. J. McLaughlin, K.C. of Toronto and Mr. F. G. Perrin of Oakwood are Vice Presidents. The Grey and Bruce Company was founded at Owen Sound in 1889, and in addition to its head office there, operates a branch at Peterborough. Its President is Mr. George D. Fleming of Owen Sound, and Mr. J. G. Fraser, of the same City, Mr. E. W. Cooper, of Meaford, and Mr. T. A. Mackay of Peterborough are Vice Presidents.

Letters to the shareholders recommending the plan to merge are very similar, and the following extract is common to them both.

"Your Directors earnestly believe that it is in the best interests of the shareholders to unite the two Companies: they already have much in common and a friendly feeling has existed between them for many years. Combining their assets, operations, and experience should result in increased business and earnings, thus benefitting the shareholders. The pooling of assets will provide wider diversification of security for the shares thus strengthening their position. The Amalgamated Company, with assets of about $37,000,000 and a long history of service in the Province of Ontario, should enjoy a high standing among Canadian Trust Companies."

The merger agreement provides that shares of each Company are to be exchanged for shares in the Amalgamated Company on a par basis. It is planned to have the shares of the Amalgamated Company of $10. par value, and application is to be made to list them in the Toronto Stock Exchange. Victoria shares being of $100. par value will receive ten of the new shares for each present share. The capital stock of the Grey and Bruce Company being shares of $50. par value will receive five shares of $10 par value of the Amalgamated Company for each present share. Previous to the merging of the two Companies Victoria shareholders will receive a special cash dividend of $7.50 per share, which is being distributed for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares of the two Companies par for par.

Pupils Graduate In Exercises In Bridgenorth

BRIDGENORTH, Sept. 21 —(ENS)—About 75 parents, friends and children gathered in Bridgenorth school Tuesday evening for the annual graduation exercises of Bridgenorth Home and School Association to hear the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Church, Peterborough, speak to the graduating students.

"We only have one life to live and can only live it once and we must set a goal for ourselves so that we may look ahead and watch our own progress as we go through life," he said. He told them to work hard and follow the straight and narrow way. In that course, happiness, peace and security would be found. "Happiness can only be found in helping others," he said.

Rev. D, P. Morris of Bridgenorth United Church as chairman for the evening welcomed the parents, guests and children present and congratulated the Home and School Association on its third annual graduation exercises.

Ten-year-old Michael Smith welcomed parents and friends to the school on behalf of the children.

Twelve members of the school choir sang two selections.

In the valedictory address given by Betty Dalton, she reviewed many past associations at the school and extended wishes for success for the graduating class in their pursuits of life.

Bruce Patterson, principal of Bridgenorth school, welcomed the seven graduates present, and in presenting gifts to each asked that each keep their gifts as tokens of remembrances as a symbol of the good and bad times they had at school.

Graduating were: Pat McDonagh, Betty Nicholls, Betty Dalton, Rita McClaren, Kathleen Newnham, Jim Caldwell, Bob Nicholls, Harry Heard.

Mr. Patterson also presented gifts to the two students, brother and sister, Donna and Dale Doughty, who obtained the best attendance for the past year, being absent from school only one day and a half respectively in the 195 school days in the past year. Both students led their classes during the year.

Speaking to the graduates, Major Anderson, school inspector, said the main point in life was learning to get along with our fellow man.

At the close of the exercises, Mrs. K. Blewett and her committee served refreshments.

GAS PROFIT $2,047

Cavan Church Holds Rally Day Service

CAVAN, Sept. 21 —(ENS)—A Rally Day service was held in Cavan United Church Sunday evening.

The Rev. T. G. Husser, pastor of the church conducted the service.

His text was part of the 22nd verse of the first chapter of James, "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only."

He explained the three E plan of the crusade for a Sunday school and church, enlargement, enrichment and evangelism.

Fraser Carr sang as a solo "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Miss Annie Tinney on the organ.

Bethany Rallies To Get Equipment

BETHANY, Sept. 21 (ENS)—A public meeting of the villagers held in Bethany Town Hall Monday night, was called by the Women's Institute to discuss fire fighting equipment for the community. Roy Jarvis was appointed chairman and Mrs. Ross Carr, secretary.

J. C. Cummiskey explained the current raise in insurance rates had resulted because village fire fighting equipment was obsolete.

Mrs. T. J. Jackson representing the Institute reported equipment purchased by them many years ago consister of two hand pumps, 100 feet of hose, 25 buckets and large cisterns kept in repair for water supply; the society had some money and would work for more as a beginning for modern fire fighting equipment.

The Rev. James Hampson offered to store the present scattered equipment in the parsonage barn.

F. W. Reynolds said that as there had been no recent fires, the first step would be to test hose, rubbers, and other equipment, to see that it was in working order as a temporary measure.

A committee comprised of Clarke Pomeroy, Reg. Edmunds, George Smith, Mrs. H. L. Challice and Mrs. Ross Carr was appointed to inspect and repair the present equipment if it was at all usable; to obtain further information about the cost of proper equipment; the type of a unit that would be most satisfactory for this district, whether chemical or water; to enquire about provincial, county and township grants and report their findings at a meeting October 23.

Serves 12 Years Then Released

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Sept. 21—(AP)—Francis Carroll, former deputy sheriff imprisoned 12 years ago for the slaying of a doctor, today was free from his life sentence. A Superior Court justice granted the 54-year-old Carroll's request for a writ of Habeas Corpus.

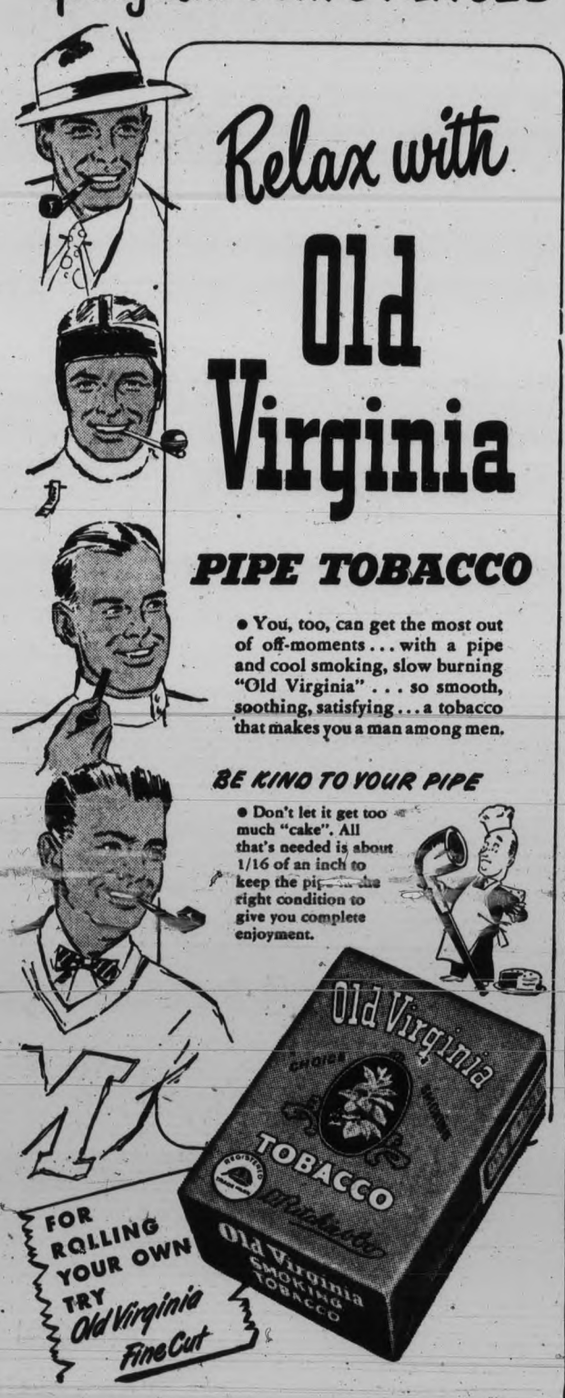
The State has no appeal from the order, which shattered Maine court precedent.

Carroll was imprisoned in 1938 for the bludgeoning of Dr. James G. Littlefield at South Paris a year earlier.

He contended at a recent hearing that he had been sent to prison by fraud and deception and that his constitutional rights to a fair trial had been violated.

Justice Albert Beliveau, in a 4,500-word decision, found that the trial had been marked by suppression and manufacture of evidence.

Carroll and Paul N. Dwyer, 30, a one-time boy friend of Carroll's daughter, Barbara, were both convicted of the Littlefield slaying. The doctor's wife also was slain, but nobody ever has been tried for her death.



Dwyer originally claimed he killed Littlefield because the doctor "made a crack about my girl." In a later statement in prison, he said Carroll did the killing because Dr. Littlefield had learned of alleged incestuous relations between Barbara and her father.

Dwyer pleaded guilty, he said, for fear Carrol would harm him or his mother.

"The case seethes with inadmissable evidence, hearsay, opinion, etc., which could have no other effect than to be prejudicial to Carroll," Beliveau wrote in his Habeas Corpus judgment.

Welsh Urges Cities Plan Civil Defence

CHATHAM, Sept. 21 (CP). — Provincial Secretary Arthur Welsh urged municipalities Wednesday to consider the civil defence program recommended by his department.

Col. Welsh, who came here to open the Junior Chamber of Commerce industrial fair, addressed the Rotary Club.

Because of the deterioration of the international situation, there is grave danger, Col. Welsh said "our way of life is passing through a critical period. Whether we survive is something we do not know. We can at least do our part in seeing that democracy and Christianity, and the way of life on this continent, is not submerged by some other ideology."

Col. Welsh said that thinking people know that all parts of the North American continent are within range of Russian bombing planes, and they also know of the danger of sabotage.

Vital Spots

"We do not know how many atomic bombs Russia has, but we do know she has aircraft to deliver them to any part of this continent. We also realize that in Canada and the United States there are vital places which would be the targets of the bombers."

Col. Welsh said he could enumerate many vulnerable areas, but mentioned only one—the Soo locks. Through these go more marine traffic than the combined traffic of the Panama, Manchester Ship and Suez Canals.

Targets such as these constitute the first danger. The second danger, he said, is the creation of panic among the population. The success of armed forces in modern war are depending on the support of the civilian population. It is not a question of the number of men engaged in conflict but the amount of equipment that can be produced, and the ability to use it.

Outlining the defence plan, Col. Welsh mentioned the importance of the work of augmented fire and police departments, hospitals, and such organizations as the St. John Ambulance, Red Cross and various women's organizations.

"We have ingenuity and faith in ourselves to meet these problems successfully," he said.

Kitchener Woman's Article Wins Award

LONDON, Sept. 21 —(CP)— Edna Cress Staebler, a housewife from Kitchener, won the Canadian Women's Press Club Memorial Award contest for the best story of 1949, it was announced today. The award carries a cash prize of $200.

The junior contest, for women under 25, ended in a tie between June Doman of Hamilton and Marilyn Bell of the Toronto Telegram. Each will receive $50.

An article entitled "How to live without wars and wedding rings," published in MacLean's magazine, won the senior award for Mrs. Staebler from among more than 200 entries. The story dealt with customs of the Mennonite religious sect.

Mrs. Staebler, a graduate of the University of Toronto, was on the editorial staff of the Kitchener Record before she married. She now does free-lance writing and is working on a book about Cape Breton.

Runners-up

Runners-up were Mavis Gallant of The Montreal Standard for her article "Boom Town out of Work;" Clair Tisdale, Winnipeg Free Press, for a series of articles, "Unmarried Mothers," and Marjorie Wilkins Campbell, for "Who Would Want to Live on the Prairies?" published in MacLean's.

Honorable mention went to Betty Hughes Koren, Madeline Levason, Jacqueline Sirois (The Standard), Lucette Robert, Marguerite Wilson, all of Montreal; Barbara Fletcher, Dawson Creek, BC; Pat Prowd, Ellen Harris, Vancouver; Vera L. Daye, Moncton, NB; June Callwood, Mary Lou Dilworth, Eva-Lis Wuorio (MacLean's), Dorothy Howarth (The Telegram), Dorothy Sangster, all of Toronto; Isobel Plante (The Free Press), London, Ont., K. M. Kritzwiser, A. E. M. Hewlett, Regina.

Miss Bell, 22-year-old native of London, Ont., earned a share of the junior award for her report of an interview with Dorothy Taylor, publisher of the New Westminster (BC) British Columbian. She is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario School of Journalism, and worked for The London Free Press while at Western.

Miss Dowan, who was born and educated at Bath, England, shared the award on her report of an interview with Barbara Ann Scott. It was published by her paper, the thrice-weekly Hamilton News, owned and published by the International Typographical Union (AFL). Miss Doman now is on leave in England.

Criticize Rules

Mrs. J. J. Dingman, chairman of the contest committee, said in a statement announcing the awards that judges were high in their praise for the work of Canadian women writers. However, they criticized contest rules which group newspaper and magazine work in the same class. The feeling was that this gave the edge to magazine writers, who have more time to write and edit their work.

The judges were Scott Young of Omemee, former newspaper man and now a free-lance writer; Robert T. Elson of New York, formerly of Vancouver and now chief of Time magazine's US and Canadian correspondents, and Ruth Walker Harvey of Rochester, NY, author and former Canadian newspaper woman.

THE CANADIAN WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB has announced winners in its Memorial Award competition. Edna Staebler of Kitchener (right) has won the Memorial Award. A housewife who formerly worked on the Kitchener Record, Mrs. Staebler won her award with an article entitled "How to Live Without Wars and Wedding Rings" which appeared in Maclean's Magazine. It was a story of the Mennonites. She now is working on a book on Cape Breton. Marilyn Bell, 22-year-old Toronto Telegram reporter (left), tied for first place in the CWPC Memorial Junior Award contest. Miss Bell, a native of London, Ont., joined the Telegram staff in 1949, following her graduation from the University of Western Ontario Journalism School. An interview with Dorothy Taylor, publisher of the New Westminster, B.C. paper, won the award for her.

Wingless Chicks Victims Of Crows

NEWPORT, Shropshire, England —(CP)— The first all-English generation of "shmoos," or wingless chickens, has created an unexpected problem for Newport residents. Since the chicks were hatched from eggs flown from America, the place has been swarming with crows.

Of 44 "shmoos" that were hatched, the crows have already killed and feasted on 15 of them.

Up to the age of six weeks, the chicks get bowled over in the stampede when the crows swoop. They roll around helplessly on the ground easy prey to the second flight of attackers while the luckier variety find safe shelter.

Nfld. Industries Seize Initiative

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. —(CP)— Newfoundland's industries, on the defensive when union with Canada brought an influx of salesmen from the mainland peddling their wares, are now hitting back. Some of the island's province's secondary industries find they can hold their own at home and do all right when invading the other fellows' territory.

The Colonial Cordage Company of St. John's recently received an order from the "mainland" for 30,000 pounds of rope. A biscuit company, Brown-Harvey, Ltd., has established a warehouse at Halifax.

The United Nail and Foundry Co. Ltd. has gone further. Recently the firm purchased a foundry in Cape Breton.

Several Newfoundland industries, however, claim their location off the beaten track is against them. The Associated Newfoundland Industries, Ltd., claims freight rates in the province are higher than on the mainland, particularly in the Maritimes, which means an unfair advantage for Newfoundland's competitors.

Original White Hall Burned To Ground 250 Years Ago

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 21 —(CP)— Not many of the masses who work in Whitehall—London's government row—know that the building from which the street takes its name was burned to the ground 250 years ago.

The original White Hall, then spelled as two words, was built by Cardinal Wolsey in 1528 and later was used for trials, masques, distribution of maundy money and for dramatic performances. In 1693, a Dutch laundry girl tried to dry some linen over a charcoal fire, and White Hall went up in flames.

Now there is no trace of what used to be one of Britain's most famous buildings. Few of the civil servants who stroll down modern Whitehall, a conventional thoroughfare linking Westminster and Trafalgar Square, realize that a turn into Horse Guard's Avenue would take them to the site of the old White Hall, often visited by Queen Elizabeth and criticized by diarist Samuel Pepys for its poor acoustics.

A Member's Miseries

Members of parliament apparently have the same worries from generation to generation. The Times went back to an 1850 issue for this complaint on the miseries of an MP:

"Sir—I happen to be a member representing a district containing about 5,000 electors. Hardly a day passes without the postman leaving at my door letters from these electors asking me to get them places under government.

"If I tell them I must not compromise my own independence by asking favors, they say 'what is the use of a member if he does not get us places?' If I sent a civil reply in the negative from that unfortunate being, the patronage secretary to the treasury, they protest I have not done my best.

"Will you, sir, by publishing this letter, show the folly of the cry of independence under such actions?"

Avoiding Slab Car Hits Ditch

LINDSAY, Sept. 21 — Robert Herlihey, of Minden, was unhurt but his car was badly damaged Monday afternoon, when he crashed into some large rocks in the ditch trying to avoid a slab which fell off a truck. The accident happened approximately three miles north of Coboconk.

The driver stated that he was meeting a south-bound slab-truck when he noticed a slab about to fall off. The slab fell as the car and truck met and Mr. Herlihey swerved to avoid the slab hitting the windshield and as a result lost control of the car, and crashed into the east ditch. The slab hit the car denting the top.

Criticize Sanitary Condition At Civic Playground

Word of the possible closing of three of the city playgrounds next summer due to lack of satisfactory sanitary conveniences reached the Recreation Commission Tuesday night.

In a letter from Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, the commission was told that during the past summer the Health Department received various complaints from citizens about sanitary conveniences at the Fleming Place, Hamilton and McKellar playgrounds.

Dr. Kelly said that he realized that during the present summer season little or nothing could be done, but he was bringing the matter to the commission's attention so that plans may be made to rectify the conditions before next summer.

T. J. Allen asked the director if this could mean that the health authorities might clamp down on these parks next summer if the conditions were not improved. Mr. Sinclair answered "Possibly".

The commission members moved that the letter be sent to the Parks department with the recommendation that some action be taken.

Censors Continue Ban On Magazines

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP)—The provincial government's Board of Censors Wednesday continued a campaign against what it called immoral magazines on Montreal news stands.

The newly-formed board, headed by Alexis Gagnon of Montreal, has already banned sale of five "girlie" magazines in Montreal and more are expected to be banned.

The five magazines banned Sept. 12 are Sir, Eye, Photo, Sun Bathing and Pack of Fun, Mr. Gagnon said.

The board was established through provincial government legislation earlier this year.

Gagnon said the ban may be rescinded upon application by representatives of publishers who can show the board evidence that objectionable material has been removed from the periodicals.

WA Group Invited To Hear Missionary

HASTINGS, Sept. 21 (ENS)—Mrs. Arnold Poole, was hostess to the Ladies of Group 2 of the Women's Association recently.

There was an open discussion on the covering of the chairs at the Church. It was decided that Mrs. F. Foster and Mrs. G. Thompson would investigate the matter.

Memo to HUNTERS...

Now is the time when all over Ontario sportsmen enjoy the thrills of hunting. In marshes, fields and forests, hunters make full use of our abundance of wild game.

Now, too, is the time to consider what this implies. If we think for a moment, we must realize that our supply of game is not inexhaustible. That's why we must observe the game regulations.

Game laws are designed to protect our sport—not to restrict it. If we all consider the importance of conservation at this season, and take only what we can use, we'll have better sport tomorrow.

Conserve today for tomorrow's holiday.

Even Experts Can't Keep Pace With Industrial Expansion

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—So swift is the pace of Canada's industrial expansion this year that even the experts have been caught up in the whirl.

With unusual suddenness one industrial record is shattered by another. Employment is at its highest point in history. Demand for goods and services are at unprecedented levels—and still the march of records goes on.

One government expert, sitting down to compile the surprising fact that the total value of Canada's output of goods and services —the gross national product—this year would reach the unparalleled level of $16,300,000,000 soon, was confronted with the fact that he would have to revise his figures.

Instead of $16,300,000,000, the total value of goods and services now is exepcted to reach beyond $17,000,000,000—a gain of more than $1,000,000,000 in a matter of a year.

Never before in peacetime history has Canada's industrial expansion been so rapid, nor filled with possibilities of even greater developments in the future.

No Predictions

But because of the sudden and sharp changes in the industrial picture, the experts decline to make any further predictions of what 1951 may hold.

It is possible that, because of new war orders and still-greater employment, still further records may be achieved. But somewhere along the line, the experts reason, there will have to be an adjustment in prices.

When will this adjustment come? That is the big question on the minds of many of the government economists. Some believe it may come with the end of war in Korea, perhaps in the spring of 1951.

With an Allied victory in Korea and the prospect of the enemy or potential enemy being firmly held, the demand for commodities may soften and prices may ease.

Other experts merely shake their heads. To them the drive ahead on the road to shattering new industrial records is just beginning.

Givens Funeral

KINGSTON, Sept. 21 (CP) — Funeral services were held here Wednesday for William Robert Givens, retired Kingston newspaper man, who died here Monday. Henry Hill of Belleville, the son of Mr. Givens' stepson, Henry T. Hill.

Vote To Strike

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 21 (CP)—Employees at Stewart's Manufacturing Company here voted Wednesday to strike Monday afternoon. The employees are members of Local 636 UAW-CIO. Only one dissenting vote was cast. Negotiations between the company and the union broke down Tuesday. The union wants a 45-hour week with the same take-home pay, retroactive to June 1, eight statutory holidays, three weeks' holidays for 20-year employees, and other social security demands.

ANGLING CHAMPS — Hon. Harold Connolly, chairman of the 7th International Tuna Cup Matches, presents the trophy, emblematic of world angling supremacy, to the Chilean team. Frederico Weisner of Santiago accepts the cup with a big grin for the cameraman in this Nova Scotia Information Bureau photo. Wearing the sport jacket is Michael Lerner, millionaire sportsman who "discovered" Soldier's Rip, the tide-tortured stretch off Wedgeport, NS, where the event is held. The Chileans, in their first year in the competition, defeated teams from the United States, the British Empire, Cuba, Argentina, Brazil and Scandinavia.

Fatherly Attitude

PACHMARHI, India (CP)—The Indian government is renting quarters here in order to give low-salaried employees inexpensive holidays in this hill station. Some departments have already established canteens and recreational clubs for employees.

Israel Makes Great Strides In Educational System

By STANLEY CLARK

JERUSALEM, Sept. 21—(Reuters)—Since Israel won independence, her educational system has been completely transformed and the number of pupils in various schools has almost doubles. There now are 151,046 children in Israel schools and 1,800 students at the University in Jerusalem. But this is no way presents the complete picture of the country's educational program.

In all the immigrant camps spread about the country, there are schools to teach Hebrew to newcomers from all over the world.

Israel's education system still follows the pattern laid down during the regime of the British mandate. It is in the drive and energy of its application that the greatest changes have been made.

Every small village now has its school, in some cases by far the largest building in the whole community.

But the most exciting aspect of Israeli education today is the work of the teachers in the immigrant camps.

Primitive People

At Ras El Ain, for example, where the Yemenite Jews are in camp in the black tents of their desert ancestors, the people are still almost primitive. A doctor said that when they arrived he found that the men's chests were covered with marks of burns where they had attempted to drive out sickness by the use of red hot iron. The women's arms and legs were similarly disfigured.

Yet already the Yemenites are beginning to speak and write Hebrew and to look forward to the day when they can take their full place in the economic life of the country.

Christian education is allowed to carry on in just the same way as it did under the mandate. There are 2,000 pupils in the 20 Christian church schools of the district and the government has not interfered in any way with the curriculum.

In the Arab schools, the teaching of Hebrew now has been introduced; but Arabic, English and French are also being taught as before.

Apart from religion, the Hebrew language is the unifying influence in this new country. The speed with which it is being assimilated shows what great store the administration places upon a common language.

Medicine Hat Owes Wealth To Natural Gas

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Busines Editor

Travelling east to west across Southern Alberta, the first city you strike is one with an odd name—Medicine Hat.

It not only has an odd name, it has a rare explanation for its existence, and the explanation is "natural gas."

For natural gas means cheap power and cheap power means industry. So you find there, and in neighboring Redcliff, big glass works, potteries, mills for flour and feeds—and acres of flowers under glass which are shipped as far east as Fort William, and, surprisingly enough, as far west as Vancouver. Your breakfast cereal and the cup out of which you drink your coffee may well come from there—as well as brick, tile, sewer pipe, flue linings and so on.

So the 15,000 or more citizens of Medicine Hat are thankful for the benign providence which placed millions of cubic feet of gas under their feet away back millions of years ago.

Gas For Everything

In effect, they just drill about 1,000 feet down, strike gas and then let flow through pipes to their industries and their cook stoves. If you ask what drives or operates almost anything in Medicine Hat, the reply is "natural gas."

They have electricity, but it too is generated by turbines operated from gas. Three utilities, gas, electricity and water, are operated by the city and supply two-thirds of its revenue.

The city, like many other parts of Canada, had its early fast growth and then a period of waiting, but now again is on the move with the rest of Alberta.

For one thing, 100 miles to the west, south of Lethbridge, a great dam is being built on the St. Mary River and this will bring much-needed water right across the southern area to Medicine Hat. It will mean increased mixed farming to add to present wheat farming, ad icreased cattle-raising, and these will mean more population which is bound to add to the wealth of the city.

There are various legends telling how the city got its name; but they centre around a "medicine hat" (the hat of an Indian medicine man) which was found in the South Saskatchewan River, which flows 300 feet wide at that point, and which brought victory to the Crees over the Blackfeet.

One legend is a little sad, involving the sacrifice of the beautiful Princess Wa-Pa-Soos to the river Serpent, but for the most part it seems to have ended all right, with Medicine Hat profiting to this day.

Burt Lancaster Forgets Guns, Tries Sports

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21 (AP) Burt Lancaster has cast aside his gat and his slouch hat for a javelin and a sweat shirt.

The former film mobster has gone on a sports jag and is getting himself the rep of being Hollywood's No. 1 athlete. Lancaster's prowess was hidden under his tough-guy roles until a couple of years ago. He did his old circus act at the gala opening of Barnum and Bailey-Ringling Brothers circus here and amazed the town.

Then he defied tradition and performed his own stunts in "The Flame and the Arrow," leaping about the scenery like a mountain goat. Now he is enacting the famed Indian athlete in "Jim Thorpe, All-American" and doing stuff that would give the average actor a bundle of charley-horses.

New Facet

"It has opened a whole new facet of my career," Lancaster commented. "Before, I was usually the guy whose wife had run out on him or who got into trouble with the cops or something.

"I wanted to do the sports scenes myself. Think it lends more authenticity to a picture. I had to learn most of the things from scratch, since I never did much track or football as a kid.

Gets in Shape

Lancaster even delayed the start of the picture so he could get in shape for the athletics.

"I caught on quickly," he admitted. "All they had to do was show me how once and then I could do it. My training in gymnastics helped me do that.

The picture will show Thorpe as an Indian kid raised on a reservation with a distrust for the white man. He rises to sports fame and scores the amazing feat of winning both the decathlon and pentathlon in the 1912 Olympic Games. But then his honors are snatched from him when it is discovered he once played baseball for pay, thus altering his amateur status.

Wild Animal Escapes

LONDON — (SP) — No one seemed particularly worried when an animal escaped from the London zoo. Officials gave up the search but assured visitors they were quite safe. The fugitive was a tiny field mouse.

LONG SERVICE and good conduct medals, similar to the above, were awarded four provincial police Saturday afternoon by Ontario Police Commissioner W. H. Stringer. The four recipients in No. 8 district (which includes Peterborough) were District Inspector C. W. Farrow, Sergeant Price Morris and Corporals Lloyd McClure and Douglas Wilson of Cobourg. The silver medals are an inch and a half in diameter, and the vertically striped ribbon is in red, green and white. The obverse of the medal (left) bears the Ontario Coat of Arms; and on the back (right) is inscribed the recipient's name and the inscription "For Long Service and Good Conduct."

U.S. Allows Troops To Marry Jap Girls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) —The US Army said Wednesday its Far East Command has abolished a ban against soldiers marrying Japanese girls. A spokesman said the ban was imposed because American laws would not permit such brides to be admitted to the US. It has been lifted, he said, as a result of the passage of a law permitting US soldiers to bring home Japanese brides married before February 18, 1951.

BACHELOR TAX

Britain taxed bachelors in 1695 to pay for the war with France.

Olympic Skater Will Head Big Show At Civic Arena

Another big feature of the Peterborough Centennial celebration will be a new International Ice Show, made up of a company of brilliant skating artists who will play a three day stand in the Civic Arena in this city, September 28, 29 and 30.

Heading the list of skating stars in this latest of ice shows will be Eileen Seigh, brilliant United States Olympic skater. Miss Seigh was a runner-up to Barbara Ann Scott for the North American championship a few years ago.

As well as combining all the color and glamor of brilliant skating, there will be a wealth of comedy for the show. The latest in slapstick comedy will be provided by skating clowns Eddie Branstetter and Leonard Furnas. "The Maxwells," a sensational Australian acrobatic comedy team, who proved extremely popular at last spring's carnival of the Toronto Skating Club will also highlight the show.

Starring in supporting roles will be Bob and Peggy White and Jerry Rehfield who toured with Barbara Ann Scott. The Whites are one of the most accomplished adagio teams in ice show business and Rehfield is noted for his ability to interpret classical and dance numbers on blades.

The elaborate production is produced and co-ordinated by Dorothie Littlefield, who has played a leading part in the development of ballet productions on the stage and on ice, and has produced lavish ice extravaganzas.

This ice show makes its Canadian debut at Cobourg September 26 and 27, from where it will come to Peterborough before starting on a coast to coast Canadian tour.

See Happy Solution For Corralled Collie

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP). — The case of the corralled collie is on the way to a happy solution.

Monday night the city council heard that the city dog catcher, perhaps a bit over-conscientious, had rounded up a suburban dairy farmer's collie while it was herding cows. Before the owner could bail the collie out she was sold by the city pound.

Humane Society officials said Wednesday the buyer had been traced and it's hoped that the cow-herding collie will soon be back on her job.

Grey and Bruce Merger With Victoria Trust

Merging of the Victoria Trust and Savings Co. of Lindsay and the Grey and Bruce Company of Owen Sound has been recommended to their separate companies by their directors.

The proposal is being submitted to the companies Oct. 31 when both are holding meetings.

Grey and Bruce has a branch in Peterborough. That company was founded in 1889 at Owen Sound. Its president is George D. Fleming. Vice-presidents are: J. G. Fraser of Owen Sound, E. W. Cooper of Meaford and T. A. Mackay of Peterborough.

Victoria Trust was established at Lindsay in 1895, and operates branches at Cannington and Belleville. T. H. Stinson K.C., of Lindsay is president.

"Best Interests"

Notices to shareholders recommending the plan of amalgamation includes the following information:

"Your directors earnestly believe that it is in the best interests of the shareholders to unite the two Companies; they already have much in common and a friendly feeling has existed between them for many years. Combining their assets, operations, and experience should result in increased business and earnings, thus benefitting the shareholders. The pooling of assets will provide wider diversification of security for the shares thus strengthening their position. The Amalgamated Company, with assets of about $37,000,000 and a long history of service in the Province of Ontario, should enjoy a high standing among Canadian Trust Companies."

The union agreement provides that shares of each company are to be exchanged for shares in the amalgamation on a par for par basis. It is planned to have the shares of the new company at $10 par value and application will be made to list them on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Victoria shares being of $100 par value will bring ten of the new shares for each present share. Grey and Bruce stock is in $50 demoninations and will bring five shares of the new company.

It is reported that prior to the merger Victoria shareholders will receive a special cash dividend of $7.50 a share. It is being distributed for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares of the two companies.

So Potato Chip Wagon Pays More Fee Than Restaurant!

By DAVE WHITE

"Do you know that Dick Ouimet has to pay more for his licence than a restaurant owner?" asked an irate Peterborough ratepayer who invaded the Examiner office today.

Banging his fist on the desk for emphasis, Mr. Ratepayer demanded: "What kind of a city council have we got anyway? Are they just trying to run a working man out of business?"

Well, that tore it. We decided to mosey downtown and dig up a few facts and figures. For weeks now the licencing of "Dick's Rolling Lunch" has been the No. 1 hot potato (muffin, toasty please) in city council. And it's been the foremost topic of conversation among shoppers, commuters and public-house lawyers.

Something Rotten?

Imagine a 'lil old potato chip truck being reuired to pay a bigger licence than a restaurant. There's something rotten in the state of youknowhere, we said as we started out.

Mr. Ratepayer and I confronted a city official (let's keep it clean and mention no names) and asked him what about it.

"Yes, it's perfectly true," said the official. "Mr. Ouimet pays $50 a year for his hawker's and pedlar's licence; a restaurant owner pays $40."

"Aha, you admit it," exclaimed Dick's doughty supporter. "How come Ouimet is discriminated against. Are they going to give him the heave-ho like the Greek peanut vendor?"

Forget It's Ouimet

"Not at all," said the official. "Forget that it's Dick Ouimet for a moment. There's nothing personal in it. He should never have been classified under hawkers and pedlars; the city solicitor pointed that out. What is wanted is a bylaw licencing mobile food vans and that bylaw is being prepared now."

"At the moment city council is actually permitting Ouimet to have a monopoly of the mobile chip wagon business. And such a monopoly is contrary to Section 272 of the Municipal Act."

"If the bylaw passes city council will doubtless permit others to enter the business, but these vans will be regulated. There will probably be a higher licence fee and the location of these wagons will be restricted to certain streets in the city."

"Why a higher licence fee," interposed Mr. Ratepayer. "Doesn't Dick pay a higher fee than the restaurants now?"

"Mr. Ouimet now has a hawkers and pedlar's licence costing $50, and that is his only expense," said the city official. "That works out to less than 20 cents a day for Mr. Ouimet. Do you think he is entitled to all the city services for that piddling amount?"

Choice of Locations

"What city services," asked Mr. Ratepayer.

The official thought for a moment. "Well," he said, "he has a choice of locations; if the trade isn't good any night he can beetle off somewhere else. He can follow the crowd and restaurants can't do that."

"And Jon't forget," said the official waving an admonishing finger, "it's not Dick Ouimet that draws the crowd downtown in the first place. There are other services such as water and cleaning up which must come from taxpayers."

"A little bit of water isn't anything to make all this fuss about," said Mr. Ratepayer. "Neither is the odd paper cup thrown around. As a matter of fact I don't see many thrown around at all."

Compare Charges

At this point your reporter entered the slanging match. "Let's see how the licences and taxes compare on Dick's Lunch and say the Bluebird restaurant. The two do business in the same area."

"It's complicated but here goes," said the official. "When the restaurant owner starts up he pays the city a $250 transient trader's licence. Then take the Bluebird's 1950 taxes: $389.81 on property and $97.52 on business. Also there is the $40 annual restaurant licence. That makes a total of $777.33 to do business. I grant you the $250 is only paid once—and that's once more than Mr. Ouimet paid—but the other city levies are still $527.33."

"Oh well," commented Mr. Ratepayer. "Dick's not making money selling meals. He's just selling chips—and darn good ones too."

"If everybody retailed goods from mobile vans it would undermine the economic foundations of the city, it would be like an Algerian market place," was the official's reply.

"Mr. Ouimet only pays $50 at present and that's not sufficient for the services he's getting. Don't forget also the restaurants are open 16 hours a day giving service when wanted. Anytime Mr. Ouimet thinks business will be bad be can stay at home. He has no large amount of capital sunk in the business like restauranteurs and he doesn't have to provide lavatories."

"It's still a case of pushing around a little guy," said Mr. Ratepayer. "Very small potatoes indeed."

"It's a case of looking after the ratepayer's interests. Somebody has to pay the shot." And that was the last word of the city official.

That's as far as I got with my story. You heard the arguments. You figure it out.

Failed To Stay At Accident Man Fined $25

A representative of the Ontario Motor League, W. W. Basson, 606 George Street, was found guilty in Police Court today of a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident. He was fined $25, and $12.50 costs.

Evidence was that Basson, driving north on George Street Sunday morning, August 6, scraped a car driven by Roy Driscoll, RR 11, Peterborough, Otonabee Township, which was parked two or three feet from the east curb of George Street, halfway between Edinburgh Street and Antrim Street.

Followed Car

Driscoll said he expected Basson to stop after the collision, which scraped and slightly dented his left rear fender. But Basson continued on. Driscoll blew his horn "and if anything, Basson speeded up."

Driscoll, with his brother, father, and other members of the family in the car, started after Basson, blowing the horn continually. He caught up to Basson north of Parkhill Road, and after driving alongside him about 100 feet, Basson pulled into the curb and stopped.

He and his father went back to Basson's car and his father said, "What the hell's idea hitting a man and not stopping?"

Basson gave no reply and so his father said, "All right, if that's the type of man you are, we had better telephone the police."

"Go ahead and phone the police," Basson answered.

Driscoll's brother Paul corroborated the evidence Roy Driscoll gave.

Basson told the court he saw a car parked on George St. and another car was approaching from the north which seemed to be crowding him. He said he drove as close as he could to the other car, but felt or heard nothing to make him think he had touched the other car. He drove on and looked in rear vision mirror in time to see the car pull out from the curb.

Heard The Horn

A short time later he heard its horn. He slowed up and stopped when the other car drew alongside him. He said a woman in the other car was shouting "What do you mean leaving the scene of an accident?"

He said he realized the people were excited, so he stayed in his car until Traffic Officer Harold Mesley arrived.

He said his car was insulated against road noise like most modern cars.

"This was no road noise!" interjected Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

He estimated the distance from where he passed the parked car to the point at which he stopped at about 150 yards.

Constable Mesley said he found Basson waiting at least 500 feet north of Parkhill.

Film Council Classes For New Operators

The film council training class will start Saturday at 2 p.m. in the library, according to William Graff, librarian. These classes will deal mainly with training in operating projectors and Joseph Cooper, chairman of the training course, will be in charge of the classes.

This is the fourth year that these classes have been held and up to date approximately 100 have been successful in this training. There is no charge for the classes.

Famous Ranch Bought

HIGH RIVER, Alta. (CP). — J. Allen Baker, High River farmer and auctioneer, has purchased 20,000 acres of the historic Bar-U Ranch. The Bar-U, purchased in 1927 by the late Senator Patrick Burns, is one of Alberta's most famous ranches.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

LAY WATER MAINS

Men of the Utilities Commission are working on a water main on Ford Ave. south from Chamberlain St., after finishing a section of High St. Their next move is to Western Ave.

BETHANY BOY NOW HOME

Missing from his Bethany home since Saturday noon, 15-year-old Gordon Wood returned Wednesday morning. He disappeared after losing a borrowed shotgun in Gribble's pond and apparently left home rather than face the consequences. He went to Toronto and then Niagara Falls.

APOLOGIES TO ALDERMAN

"It was a mistake my referring to Alderman Hurrel Dodds as being 'dead against' Dick Ouimet's business," Lorne Bebee told the Examiner today. "I guess I didn't follow my notes when I was speaking at the Peterborough and District Labor Council on Monday night, and I should like to offer Alderman Dodds my apologies."

93RD BTN. MEETS

A meeting of former members of the old 93rd Battalion has been called for 8 p.m. Saturday in the Armouries. Purpose of the get-together is to lay plans for a battalion reunion. The 93rd was formed in Peterborough during the First World War under the leadership of the late Col. T. J. Johnston. Because of its link with the city a number of former battalion members thought it would be appropriate to have a reunion during the centennial year. The last reunion here was in 1936.

Students Name Athletic Heads

Barbara Eastwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Eastwood, 422 Park St., was elected president of the Girls' Athletic Association at PCVS Tuesday. Sheila Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, 305 Stewart St., was named vice-president.

Others on this year's executive are: secretary, Barbara Latchford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Latchford, 579 Patterson St.; treasurer, Doreena Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Patton, River Road south; volleyball, Nancy Rowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paige Rowell, 494 Gilmour St.; basketball, Nancy Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mason, 740 Water St.

In the spring the boys elected their Boys' Athletic Association executive which includes Al Northcott, president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northcott, 344 Mark St.; Reg Fowler, vice-president, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D Fowler, RR 4 Peterborough; Bill Stewart, secretary, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stewart, 780 Water St.; and Greer Elcombe, treasurer son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Elcombe, 688 Victory Crescent.

Echoes Contest Winners Named

The winners of the annual Examiner awards for literary endeavor as judged by the contributions to the P.C.V.S. magazine "The Echoes" were announced today.

Jessie Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blackwell, O'Connor Ave., was the choice for the $25 prize in group for grades XII and XIII for her poem entitled "Sonnet". Honourable mention in this class was given to Joyce Beggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beggs, 90 Lock St. for her poem "Spoor".

In the second group, the $15. prize was won by Michael Craig, Grade IX B, son of Mr. and and Mrs. H. A. Craig, North Monaghan, for his poem "Winter".

The judges for this contest were W. L. Graff, S. S. Thompson and C. E. Potts.

The awards will be presented to the winners at the Collegiate's annual Commencement, early in December.

Class Graduates Mostly Take Advanced Study

Besides winning a record amount in scholarships and bursaries, last year's grade XIII students at PCVS set another high. More than 77 per cent. of them are continuing their education in universities, normal schools and other institutions.

Howard Moebus, head of the career planning department, said today that 56 out of the 72 grade XIII students have entered places of higher learning or professional schools. Universities took the majority, 34, while 18 are attending the Ryerson Institute of Technology, Toronto. Five others, not included in the 56 Mr. Moebus reports on, have returned to PCVS.

The University of Toronto claimed half of the university students this year, 17. Queen's University received nine, including a number of the high scholarship winners, McGill, Royal Military College and Ontario Agricultural College all received two PCVS students, and only one each is attending McMaster and Western Universities.

Local industry absorbed five of the students, while three returned home to work on the farm. One student married during the summer. Two others were unable to be contacted.

The summary for 1949-50 students is: Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ronald Beals, Ross Reagan; McMaster University in Hamilton, Ines Watson; McGill University in Montreal, Catharine Graham, Barbara Browne; R.M.C., George Fanjoy, Carl Sargeant; University of Western Ontario, Phyllis Boggs; Queen's University, Darrell Ackford, Joyce Beggs, Margaret Capron, Phyllis Davidson, Jean DeNure, Ronald Doughty, Kathryn Leslie, Dave Ward, Ronald Clark; University of Toronto, Douglas Dobson, Donna Howson, Dorothy Penhall, Harry Taylor, William Bigelow, Jessie Blackwell, Peter Bowen, Jim Fowler, George Gough, Joyce Kembar, Ronald McGill, Samuel Murphy, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, Joan Seymour, Judith Strickland, Floyd Green, Harold Grafstein; Normal School, George Bedford, Al Bennett, Barbara Bryant, Lynn Davidson, Marilyn Hamilton, Marilynn Hollingsworth, Shirley Hudgin, Joan Krogh, Betty North, Harold Raper, Orlene Shunk, Elda Wilson, Frances Wilson; Nursing, Beverley Frise, Mary Braund, Eleanor McGee; Ryerson Institute of Technology, Dorothy Martin; Farming, Arnold Best, Karl Adams, Ross Jamieson; Industry, Garth Jopling, Ray Foy, Robert Freeman, Donald Hartshorne, Robert Woodgate; Married, Anne Winterbottom; Returned to School, Robert Gandy, David Fortner, Ted Evans, Robert Hagerman, Nancy Brooks; Unknown, John Batten, Maxwell Clark.

Fell From Tree Fractures Arm

Twelve-year-old Conlin Cameron fell from a chestnut tree and fractured and dislocated his right arm in two places Wednesday, shortly before six p.m.

His condition was reported by Civic Hospital officials today as "fairly good."

Constable Stewart Fife reported that the youngster was up in a chestnut tree at Inverlea Park collecting chestnuts. He was reaching out when the limb he was on broke under him and he fell to the ground.

While the youngster was waiting for an ambulance to pick him up, William Wiggs wrapped him in a blanket. Constable Fife notified the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron, 100 Bennett St., and took them to the hospital.

His injuries were a fracture-dislocation of the right elbow, a dislocation of the right wrist and a fracture above the wrist as well as a large bruise on the side of his forehead.

Close Port Hope Line

The section of the Canadian National Railway from Port Hope to Millbrook is likely to be closed. A meeting of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and the Port Hope Board of Trade will be held in Peterborough in the near future to discuss the matter, according to Jim Fraser, manager of the local chamber.

The result of this meeting is expected to be a brief concerning the advisability of closing this line, which will be submitted to Transport Commission in Ottawa.

William Walker Port Hope 103 Years Old

PORT HOPE, Sept. 21—William Walker celebrated his 103rd birthday Wednesday. Up until three months ago he had been able to get about his home, but since then has been confined to bed.

He was born in Cobourg but came to Port Hope when he was 3 years old. He worked until he was over 80 in a furniture and undertaker's business, after which he retired.

His wife died in 1949. Mr. Walker has five children, Mrs. Bertha Marshall, Toronto; Mrs. Frank Morris, Peterborough; Fred of Vancouver; Charles of St. Paul, Minn., and Howard of Port Hope.

Overcome By Fumes In Lacquer Room

Failure to turn on an exhaust fan was believed to be the cause of Ross Bertrand, 20, of 178 Auburn St., falling unconscious at his work as a lacquer dipper at the Peterborough Lock Co., on Wednesday.

He was taken unconscious to St. Joseph's Hospital where his condition was reported by officials today as good.

A fan is provided to carry lacquer fumes away, but it is believed he did not have the fan turned on.

Lots of Strawberries

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP).—Wild strawberries were plentiful throughout the Rainy river district this summer, with as many as 15 berries to a stem. District veterans say it has been the best strawberry year since 1909.

Group Insurance Plan To Aid Smaller Firms

A plan for group insurance for the retail establishments and small industries of Peterborough was approved in principle at the Board of Directors meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday night.

"This insurance plan will be a two-way benefit for employers and employees," stated Jim Fraser, manager of the Chamber. "It will relieve employers by covering part of the salary of members of their staff who are ill and it also will provide more security for the employees."

The plan will cover accidental death and dismemberment, weekly indemnity for sickness and accident and daily hospital benefits that will include hospital extras and surgical benefits.

The insurance will take the form of a contributory plan by both employers and employees through the Chamber of Commerce, which will act as the common employer. Prior to this time only retail establishments and industries with a staff totalling 25 or more were eligible for group insurance.

"All member insurance companies of the Chamber of Commerce are being asked to submit proposals giving their rates and coverage for an overall insurance plan," reported Mr. Fraseer.

The first community in Canada to adopt this type of insurance plan was Brantford. A year ago the Brantford Board of Trade offered a group insurance plan. Since that time 21 communities have followed this lead. The nearby communities of Port Hope and Cobourg have found it extremely successful.

If the response to the local chamber's offer is sufficient, it is hoped that the plan will go into effect very soon.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the citizens of Peterborough are vitally interested in our youth and recognize the importance of adult participation pertaining to the welfare of our children,

WHEREAS one of the principal tasks facing our nation and our community today is the building of our youth into useful and honorable citizens,

WHEREAS it is fitting that we make every effort to keep all children from being prey to any form of delinquency and to foster all good and proper endeavors aimed at helping our youth to achieve the benefits offered by the Canadian way of life,

WHEREAS through the joint efforts of Kiwanis International and The National Kids' Day Foundation as represented by our local Kiwanis Club, a day has been set aside to focus attention upon the problems and the accomplishments of youth throughout the ten provinces at both a national and community level,

WHEREAS the purpose of the day is to provide wherever possible, assistance in helping underprivileged children to enjoy some of the benefits normally accruing to boys and girls in more fortunate circumstances,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Max. J. Swanston by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Peterborough, do hereby designate Saturday, September 23, as Kids' Day in Peterborough and do call upon all citizens to support the objectives of this day and to co-operate to the best of their abilities in making the event a success.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Peterborough to be affixed this 19th day of September in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Fifty.

MAX. J. SWANSTON,
Mayor.

Church Council Rejects Check On Pastor

TORONTO, Sept. 21 —(CP)— The General Council of the United Church of Canada Tuesday refused to recommend that each congregation should review relationships with its pastor every seven years.

Two prominent educationists told the 14th biennial council the move would deter young men from entering the ministry.

It had been suggested by a commission on pastor-congregation relationships. After a long debate, the contentious section was turned down.

The council Tuesday also suggested a $40 monthly pension — without a means test—for every Canadian at 70. It also heard Dr. Kenneth J. Beaton, secretary of the board of missionary education urge the church to get ready for the advent of television in Canada and to use it and make more use of press, radio and film to spread its message.

J. Gordon Cobourn of Toronto a lay member of the committee that drew up the relationships report, said he felt the contentious section might remove some of the dissatisfaction of congregations with their ministers—and vice versa.

But Dr. A. E. Kerr of Halifax, president of Dalhousie University said the step would "cater to carping and discontent in the congregation."

"There are always some people who don't like your hymns, don't think you visit enough, that your sermons are too long or too short. And there are some who would form a little group to take advantage of this measure."

Dean A. D. Matheson of Emmanuel College, Toronto, said it would mean a "sword of domocles" hanging over the head of a young minister.

Hastings News

Miss Eva Oliver of Toronto was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Oliver.

Mrs. Joseph Gorman and daughter Mary of Oshawa spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. F. Coveney.

Biss Betty Warner of Peterborough was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Warner.

Miss A. Mouncey spent the weekend with her parents at Roseneath.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Baker are spending a week's vacation visiting the latters parents at Amherstburg.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Crate and family were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of Cobourg.

Mr. Crate attended the reunion of the 3/47 Battery R. C. A. with which he served Overseas in the World War II.

Miss Davis Oliver has left for Toronto where she has accepted a position.

Rev. Duncanson was guest speaker at the Hastings Home and School and showed the film "Who will teach your child."

NEW YMCA GOVERNOR

E. George R. Clarke, general manager of the Canadian Nashua Paper Co., has been appointed to the board of directors, Peterborough YMCA. The appointment fills the vacancy caused by the death of Charles Lacheur.

JIMMY FIELDS, left, did not have such an easy time holding onto this pelican as the picture suggests. The photographer catching him between a fast succession of flaps and pecks as the pelican struggled to get back into his crate, practically ignoring the fish held out to tempt him "to smile." Picture was taken on the Donaldson Atlantic Line's SS Lismoria which left Montreal recently for Scotland with four of the birds and four beaver destined for zoos in Glasgow and Edinburgh.

Board Representative

The appointment of one of its officials to the council's traffic safety committee has been suggested by the Board of Education. All the facts relating to schools, the number of their pupils, and the locations with respect to streets of heavy traffic are ordinary knowledge of the superintendent, Mr. K. S. Wightman. The letter has been referred to the board of works.

Daring Doctor Risks Life Answers SOS

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP)— Capt. William Donald, master of the motor ship Wendover, told today how the medical officer of the United States coastguard cutter Matagorda risked his life in an open boat to board the British vessel in mid-Atlantic in an attempt to save the life of a British seaman.

It was "one of the finest feats of seamanship I have seen in my 40 years at sea," the captain said.

The Wendover was seven days out of Antwerp en route to Montreal when Alfred Temple, 43-year-old donkeyman, took seriously ill.

Capt. Donald said he radioed for help. The Matagorda, 188 miles away, signalled the medical advice which the master should take until the doctor could come aboard. The Wendover then put about to meet the coastguard cutter.

"I have been a long time at sea, but that feat of seamanship when they launched that boat was something to see," Capt. Donald said. "It was quite dark and a moderate gale was blowing. Only the small boat's engine enabled the doctor and his assistant to cross the intervening strip of water. It would have been impossible for the boat's crew to row it."

Salary Raised

A raise in salary of $100 for Alex Sinclair, recreation director, was voted by the Recreation Commission Tuesday night. Mr. Sinclair was employed by the commission at $2,800 a year. This raise is retroactive to January. His salary will be reviewed again when the budget is brought down early next year.

Use Canadianism To Attract Tourists

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21 —(CP)— Canadians catering to tourist trade should stress their "Canadianism and not disguise it," H. Napier Moore, editorial director of the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company, said Tuesday.

He deplored the use of American flags and names to attract tourists. Americans came to Canada expecting something different.

"Why Miami beaches? Why Broadway cafes? Why southern style fried chicken in Canada?"

He was addressing 300 delegates to the 31st annual convention here of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

NEW Self-Washing DREFT WASHES DISHES FOR YOU

LOOK! While self-washing Dreft is washing my dishes, I am putting things away.

.....JUST SOAK.....

.....RINSE.....

and YOU'RE THROUGH!

[Amazing "FLOATAWAY" action SAVES WASHING ... ING—SCOURING

Yet! Dishes and glasses shine—even without wiping!

It's true! New self-washing Dreft practically washes the dishes for you. You simply let dishes stand in warm Dreft suds for 2 minutes—give a swish of the cloth as you rinse—and you're through. You'll see your dishes and glasses shine—even without wiping.

These self-washing suds save washing, save wiping, save scouring. In fact, while Dreft is washing your dishes you can be doing other things . . . like putting the food away in the refrigerator, or sweeping the kitchen floor.

Even pots and pans soak clean without scouring. That's because Dreft's amazing "Floataway" action gets under grease . . . floats away grease as no soap ever could. Even stubborn grease rinses away without scouring.

Yet self-washing Dreft is one of the mildest suds in the world. Leaves hands beautifully white and soft. Try new self-washing Dreft today. Your dealer has it.

Dreft is safer for dainty washables than the mildest soap flakes.

*Dreft leaves hands beautifully smooth and white, because it's so mild and your hands are in the water such a short time.

¾ cup milk
1 cup Post's Bran Flakes
½ cup finely cut prunes*
1 cup sifted flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, well beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening

● Pour milk over bran and let stand for 5 minutes. Add ½ cup finely cut prunes to bran mixture. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Add egg and butter to bran mixture and mix well. Add flour, beating only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 10 muffins.

OLD-TIME OPERATOR — Montreal's first long-distance telephone operator, spry, 92-year-old Lillian Camp, chats with Frederick Johnson, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, at a convention of the Telephone pioneers of America. She remembers the time—1880—when Montreal had little more than 150 subscribers and all of them were called by name.

Dr. Branscombe Dies In Belleville

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 21— Dr. Morley E. Branscombe died at his home, 64 Queen St., Belleville.

Born in Prince Edward County he attended Albert College at Belleville, later entering Queen's University, where he received a BA and graduated from the faculty of medicine with the degree of MD in 1904. After interning at the Ottawa General Hospital he started practising in Picton and continued until the First World War when he enlisted and went overseas. On his return, Dr. Branscombe made his home in Belleville where he practised.

He was a member of the Masonic Order and was a Shriner.

He leaves his wife, the former Nan Paterson of Brantford.

Base Control On Supply, Demand

WINNIPEG, Sept. 21 (CP). — Charles M. Meek, administrator of the Milk Control Board of Ontario, said Wednesday milk control can only function well by basing price decisions on supply and demand.

Mr. Meek addressed delegates to the International Association of Milk Control Agencies.

Consumption of milk in Ontario has decreased since the peak year of 1946 but this was not "entirely due" to higher prices. Mr. Meek attributed it to a shift of population from urban to rural communities after the war, the rise of other comparative food products, and the demand stoppage from the armies.

However, Mr. Meek said "milk production is not keeping pace with the increase of population even though the daily per capita consumption of milk has decreased."

EMERALD ISLE

About 70 per cent of the total land area of the Republic of Ireland is devoted to crops and pasture.

PC CANDIDATE — Sam Hughes, Progressive Conservative standard bearer in the 1949 general election, has been nominated as that party's candidate for the Oct. 16 federal by-election in Welland. The by-election was called following the death of Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell.

ARAB LEAGUE

The Arab League, formed by pact in 1945, consists of Egypt, Iraq, Transjordan, Saudi-Arabia, Syria, The Lebanon and Yemen.

Expert Describes Care Of Plants

BAILIEBORO, Sept. 21 (ENS) —E. A. Summers, of Bowmanville agriculture representative from Durham, was guest speaker at the September meeting of the Bailieboro Women's Institute on Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Everett Wood with a large attendance and with Mrs. R. Kidd in the chair.

Mr. Summers, introduced by Mrs. John Gainer, told the members how to grow gladioli. He said to dig the bulbs in early fall, cutting the tops close and place in the cellar immediately to dry beside heat.

The bulbs should then be dusted with DDT powder. After drying, the gardener should clean and dust them again, then put them away for winter.

In spring just before planting [illegible] solution of two tablespoons of Lysol with one gallon of water. Planting should be done while they are still damp, about four inches deep.

Dusting the plants with DDT powder occasionally should be continued from the time plants are six inches high until bloom comes.

Mr. Summers, who makes this a hobby, had more than 20 varieties on display.

Mrs. Alex Watt reported that a letter of appreciation was received from the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital for the money sent to buy an overbed table for the hospital.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Hazel Armstrong, October 17, when Reeve Harry Cempbell will be the speaker.

Lunch was served following the meeting.

SEEKS ELECTION — Mel Doig has been nominated by the Labor-Progressive party to contest the Oct. 16 federal by-election in Welland. Doig was the party's candidate in the 1949 general election. The death of Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell caused the vacancy.

Natural Resentment

ROMSLEY, Worcestershire, England —(CP)— Frank Waldron, 63, had to pay £12 10s. (about $39) for throwing a garden fork at his neighbor's cat. He said cat's had killed 12 of his pigeons.

Gen. Anders Sure Red Policy Same If Stalin Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — Wishful thinking that the death of Stalin would change Russian policy is a dangerous waste of time, Gen. Wladyslaw Anders said here Wednesday. The vigorous 60-year-old Polish soldier is a man who knows Russia all too well. He spent more than a year in Moscow's grim Lubianka Prison.

Gen. Anders is best known to veterans of the Canadian Army as the man who led the Polish 2nd Corps in Italy. The Polish troops were bitter fighters and valuable allies. They could claim high battle honors at Cassino, Bologna and Ancona.

Gen. Anders was captured by the Russians in their countermove against the German invasion. He was held prisoner until the Churchill-Sikorski agreement of 1941 set him free to mobilize a Polish force in Russia. During this period of mobilization, he came to know something of the Russian leaders.

Powerful Group

At that time, he says, Stalin was the pivot and power of all policy; Molotov was Stalin's errand boy. But things may well have changed. Stalin is an old man. He may even be dead. But the general is convinced that there is a tight and powerful group leading Russia toward the dreams of world domination.

He considers the Korean attack the first major overt move of the Russian strategy.

Many of the men and officers who formed his 2nd Corps in Italy have come to Canada under Dominion immigration schemes. The general waves aside the idea that he is in Canada to sound out the possibilities of raising a Polish army, but he thinks he would have no difficulty in doing so. And in Poland, his people are wrathfully unhappy under Soviet domination.

CCF NOMINEE—Alvin Swart, a member of the Thorold township council, has been named by the CCF party to contest the Oct. 16 federal by-election in Welland. It is his first parliamentary election bid. The riding was represented by the late labor minister, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell.

Parkay's fresh flavor is guaranteed by Kraft*

Flavor-dated for your protection!

A code date is stamped on every package of Parkay Margarine and the date is checked by a Kraft man at regular intervals.

Combines Act Not Clear CMA Declares

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — The Canadian Manufacturers' Association in a brief submitted to the committee set up by the federal government to study the Combines Investigation Act states that as the act now stands it is impossible for businessmen to be sure what the law is.

Uncertainty constitutes the chief defect in the present combines or anti-trust legislation, the brief states, adding that the original intention of parliament in passing the act in 1923 was to distinguish between combines and ban only those detrimental to the public.

The CMA claims that this has been lost sight of by the courts which have condemned various combinations on finding a substantial lessening of competition, without determining whether this operated to the public detriment.

The brief states that the objective should be to ensure "workable competition," which makes for progressiveness in industry, pushes new methods and products, cuts costs, gives the consumer the benefit of lower costs and greater efficiency, and does not squeeze out smaller firms or prevent new businesses.

Not Detrimental

The association says that certain forms of joint action, such as statistical and economic research by an industrial group, establishment of standard forms, simplification of products and methods, patent cross-licensing and sub-licensing, should not be regarded as being detrimental to the public.

The brief recommends a government tribunal where business men planning joint action could find out if they are within the law. A "cease and desist" procedure should be provided where circumstances do not warrant prosecution.

The CMA says no legislation should be enacted depriving the individual manufacturer of the right of insisting on the maintenance of the resale price he fixes for his goods.

Regarding conduct of investigations by the commissioner, the brief states that the commissioner's official report should not be published until after the trial. The right of trial by jury for a corporation should be restored and the laws of evidence with respect to a corporation should be placed on much the same basis as those for an individual.

COMBAT TRAINING — Engineers on Canada's Special Service Force brigade spend busy days in the Fraser Valley near Chilliwack, BC, training for action in Korea or any other place they may be sent. In this photo members of a group of 400 engineers run a bridge across a valley stream.

Build New Entrance

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Lands Minister Scott announced Wednesday that a museum and new gateway entrance are under construction at Algonquin Park, one of Ontario's outstanding tourist attractions. The gates are being built near the west entrance to the park. Plans call for construction of houses for attendants, one on each side of each gate and an information centre and rest rooms.

Heart Stops 17 Mins.

COLCHESTER, England, Sept. 21 (Reutres)—A 69-year-old man's heart stopped beating for 17 minutes during an operation but started again and his breathing became almost normal, a doctor reported Wednesday. The man died two days after the operation, Dr. John H. Dicon told a coroner's inquest.

Franco Raps U.S.

MADRID, Sept. 21 (AP) — United States policy toward Premier Tito of Yugoslavia shows the American people are "too simple and easily hoodwinked," Generalissimo Franco said yesterday. In a newspaper interview the Spanish leader criticized American aid to Yugoslavia while Spain is kept out of United Nations.

Selwyn WA Starts Winter Season

SELWYN, Sept. 21 (ENS) — The Woman's Association of the United Church opened their fall and winter activities at a meeting held in the church hall.

Mrs. Melville Crapp read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Charlie McIlmoyl gave a reading.

Four letters of thanks were read.

Mrs. Seymour Sweeting invited the members of the WA to hold their October meeting at her home in South Monaghan.

Rev. D. P. Morris thanked the WA on behalf of his wife and himself for improvements made to the parsonage while they were on vacation.

Refreshments were served.

FIRST MISSION

The first Christian mission in Canada was constructed in 1600 at Tadoussac, at the confluence of the St. Lawrence and Saguenay rivers.

Hear Application For New Radio Station

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP)—Application for one new amplitude modulation radio station was heard at Vancouver Wednesday by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's board of governors. Recommendations are expected to be announced by the board today.

R. S. Grant, of Kingston, appeared on behalf of St. Lawrence Broadcasting Corporation, Ltd., which is seeking a licence for AII 1,000-watt station at Kingston.

Jack M. Davidson, supervisor of radio station CKWS, opposed the application, saying the Kingston area is adequately served by CKWS and CFRC, operated by Queen's University. He contended the Kingston area has not a sufficient potential of listening audience to support a third station.

Mr. Grant said the situation in Kingston is different to other areas of similar population as there is no competition from stations in other nearby Canadian cities. He also maintained that merchants and business men in the area which the new station would serve require an additional outlet for radio advertising. He said there also is need of an outlet for the CBC dominion network in that area.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Sept. 21st — Your husband will be enchanted by your lovely hands when you give them the soothing, smoothing care of JERGENS LOTION! Yes, men (even husbands!) love their women to have lovely hands and Jergens Lotion is the very hand lotion to keep them that way! Keep an extra bottle in your kitchen. Use it after every watery chore. Most women who have learned this beautiful way to smooth, attractive hands know that even as fine a lotion as Jergens has to be used regularly to do its good work! Jergens Lotion is 10c, 28c, 53c and 98c.

Ever Played The "Map Game"? You get maps of the places you've always longed to see and plan an imaginary visit. But why not make your map-game a reality? Find out how much your trip will cost, then open a Savings Account for it at the BANK OF MONTREAL! I call mine my "Sunshine Account", and each month I put one-twelfth of my vacation expenses into it. There'll be no sudden stain on your budget if you plan ahead like this! Why not make up your mind now . . . while there's plenty of time to save . . . and open your B of M "Sunshine Account" this pay-day, with the first regular instalment on your next vacation.

A Bargain In Silverware, If Ever I've Seen One! Just think! You can get a set of famous Wallace Brothers Silver Plate for half price and less! In the beautiful "Laurentian" pattern . . . silver-plated on finest quality nickel silver with an extra deposit of silver at the point of greatest wear. All you do — simply save your LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK labels and get — 6 teaspoons ($2 open stock value) for just $1 and 6 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels — OR — a 24-Piece Set of 6 teaspoons, 6 dessert spoons, 6 forks, 6 knives ($10 open stock value) for only $5 and 24 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels. (Labels from both large and small tins are acceptable for both offers.) So get in the happy habit of using Libby's Evaporated Milk in your cooking. Save the labels and send them to me with your money order — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

"Now, Now . . . Who's Flirting!" It's not an act, it's a fact — it's that certain tantalizing glow that WOODBURY'S provocative new powder shade "COQUETTE" gives to your complexion! Whether you're shopping, dining or dancing, you'll see compliments mirrored in every glance when your skin has the satin-smooth sheen promised by a unique ingredient contained in "Coquette". I love its warm, golden rachel tone . . . its tender texture . . . heavenly fragrance . . . and longer cling. Match your powder with the creamy new "Coquette" pink lipstick—and then, then you'll share the conquests of provocative "Coquette"! Choose the powder in 19c, 37c or 65c size . . . and the lipstick is just 49c.

The First Weeks back at school are the busiest weeks for your youngsters . . . so many new lessons to learn and new playmates to play with. No wonder your children's appetites are enormous! But because these first weeks are extra-busy for you, too . . . here's a tip — a meal to satisfy the biggest appetite — and it takes just minutes to prepare! It's delicious KRAFT DINNER. M-mmm! It's a real main dish. In every package of Kraft Dinner is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. And — in the same package, cheddar cheese, already grated, to sprinkle in for rich cheese flavour. For just a few pennies there are ample servings for four!

Add Zest And Excitement To Your Meals all year 'round with HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS! Now is the time to buy the "New Pack"—for every year at this time, at Leamington and Wallaceburg, Ontario, thousands of pickers gather the rosy harvest of tomatoes grown specially for Heins. Then this harvest is transformed by the famous Heins chefs into four family "flavourites" — Heins Tomato Juice — Heins Cream of Tomato Soup — Heins Ketchup and Heins Chili Sauce. Tickles your appetite just to read those names, doesn't it? Stock up now on Heins Tomato Products—then you'll have a rich supply of the "pick of the crop" the year 'round!

Early-Morning Sleepyheads! . . . BLUE RIBBON COFFEE . . . the coffee with such a lively, full-bodied flavour, it's guaranteed to perk up the drowsiest sleepyhead! The minute you open the Blue Ribbon tin, you'll know that this is quality coffee! It's masterfully blended and roasted to perfection — yet it costs no more! Ask your grocer for Blue Ribbon Coffee in the vacuum-packed tin or jar —three distinct grinds to choose from . . . regular for your percolator, drip for your dripolator, or silex for your glass coffee-maker; or the all-purpose grind in the economical paper bag—all with the same wonderful flavour!

"Want To Wash Or Dry?" . . . Everyone wants to wash the dishes when they see the brand new, grand new C-I-L SPONGE. It makes dish-washing a pleasure! You see, this C-I-L cellulose Sponge is soft as velvet when it's wet—kind to your hands and your finest china. Its square shape makes it easy to clean the inside bottoms of glasses, pots 'n' pans. It floats! . . . no fumbling around in the bottom of the dishpan. It's sanitary—can be cleaned in a jiffy under the tap or sterilized in boiling water. And after you've finished the dishes, squeeze your C-I-L Sponge dry and use it to clean tables and sink. You'll find C-I-L Sponges in five convenient sizes at hardware, department, drug, variety and grocery stores . . . be sure to look for the C-I-L label — it's your assurance of quality.

Oops! . . . Don't Throw Away That Vegetable Water! It's full of needed nourishment . . . and you can make the most delicious nourishing soup easily and instantly by adding BOVRIL. Yes, the beefy flavour and goodness of Bovril, added to hot vegetable or potato water, makes marvelous soup . . . and it takes just a few minutes to make. It's simple, too, to make a big bowl of Bovril gravy by adding flour, extra hot water and Bovril after you've cooked your meat. A luscious way to make meat taste like more—and so very economical! There's no doubt about it—in these days of high meat prices, Bovril is wonderfully kind to your budget . . . it gives you more meatiness with your meals for so little cost! Buy Bovril at your favourite grocery or butcher store next time you're shopping.

"It's Time For Another Meal!" is often a happier discovery for your family than for you, the busy cook. But here's a meal-getting tip to make everyone happy. I've made many a delicious, nutritious meal in minutes with CANNED SALMON as the Star. For a gala salad or a hot casserole dish, there's truly nothing like it. Because Canned Salmon combines so wonderfully with many basic dishes, it can give exciting variety to your menus — easily and economically. Yes, if you're interested in cutting food costs, you'll find there's no waste when you use Canned Salmon. All cooked and ready to eat — it's all food — putritious and completely appetising!

I Bought The Most Beautiful Brass Ash-Trays yesterday and they look so wonderful in my living room that next week I'll buy a couple of brass candlesticks. I'm definitely "sold" on this new trend to brassware in home decoration! It adds such glowing beauty to any decorating scheme — contemporary or period. Next time you're shopping, look for the brassware display in your favourite store. And, remember—when you're buying brassware for your home —be sure to buy BRASSO, too! It will keep your brassware handsome for a lifetime . . . and it's so very easy to use—for it's the polish made for brass!

If There's A Brand New Baby in your house, I'm sure you're interested in anything that's specially "right" for him! That's why I'd like to tell you about McCORMICK'S SUNWHEAT BISCUITS! At four or five months, when baby's ready for his first solids, SunWheat Biscuits are perfect for him! You see, the Vitamin D content of SunWheat Biscuits has been increased by direct irradiation with ultra-violet rays. And, as you know, Vitamin D is essential in the prevention of rickets, weak bones and teeth. Each SunWheat Biscuit contains 50 International Units of Vitamin D — also calcium, phosphorus and other food elements. They have just the right hardness to exercise baby's teeth and gums — yet they soften readily and are easily digested! No wonder SunWheat Biscuits are recommended by leading paediatricians.

Don't You Find your young daughter always feels proud when she's helping prepare for guests? Here's a dish she can make all by herself. It's one of those delicious JELL-O desserts. Simply make up a shallow pan of Strawberry Jell-O. When firm, break into bits with a fork and mix with whipped cream. Pile in glasses lined with lady fingers. Of course, any one of Jell-O's seven sparkling "locked-in" flavours may be used — and enjoyed. I like to keep several packages of Jell-O Jelly Powders on hand for everyday and company dinners. Jell-O is a year 'round favourite.

Don't Get Caught Unprepared by the miseries of a cold this Fall! Buy ANOHIST now — and keep it handy! Taken at first sign of sniffles or sneezes, this new antihistamine discovery for colds can stop cold symptoms in a single day! And you can enjoy Anohist's prompt, effective relief for only about 3c per tablet! So, do take my advice and be prepared! Get the Super-Economy Family-Size bottle of 36 Anohist tablets at your druggist's today! Remember: all antihistamines are not alike. They vary greatly in performance. Anohist is the antihistamine formula recommended for family use because of its success in actual clinical tests.

Are You Letting a lack of knowledge about feminine hygiene cast a shadow over your marriage? Wise wives who want a completely satisfactory method of feminine hygiene use ZONITORS. Zonitors are effective, greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors — and write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for a free booklet giving frank facts on feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

After Autumn Housecleaning Is Done, accidents can happen to your furniture, drapes and rugs . . . butter dropped or perhaps chewing gum. But don't worry! Use ENERGINE CLEANING FLUID. It will help keep your home spic 'n' span so inexpensively! You can easily get rid of ugly grease spots on your rugs and upholstery with Energine. Energine removes fresh paint, tar and chewing gum, too! And, though it's so effective, it's absolutely safe! . . . contains no acids nor caustics! What's more Energine works wonders cleaning tubs, basins, tiling and refrigerators . . . stubborn stains vanish and porcelain surfaces shine! You'll find it's a household "must". Take my advice and put Energine on your shopping list today — at drug and department stores for as little as 25c.

Standard Method to Follow Canning of Fall Fruits

By MARY MOORE

Our readers know a column cannot be written without something to write about and I am grateful to them for keeping me oversupplied wih subjects . . .

. . . but this year I did not know I was going to be asked for the routine instructions for canning peaches, apricots, plums, and pears.

I do not expect cooks to know these canning steps by heart, for I always have to look up sugar and water proportions for sugar-syrup (then I change them to suit myself by adding less sugar), but I think if they are interested in canning (and who isn't?) they should clip these instructions for canning specific fruits and file them in their canning file.,

Canned Peaches or Apricots

Peaches should be fully ripened if you hope to have good flavor. Under-ripe peaches cut sharper and have a more attractive finished appearance, but lose out on flavor.

Immerse ripe peaches in boiling water for one minute, when skins will peel off easily. Drop into sterile jars on which you have fitted sterile rubbers. As soon as each jar is filled with peeled peach halves, placed cut side down, fill jars to nearly overflowing with sugar syrup,—moderately light syrup of 1 cup sugar to each 3 cups water which should be boiling hot when poured over peaches. Put on sterile covers and rings and seal to within ⅛ turn of tight. Process in hot water bath 25 minutes at boiling point. If under-ripe peaches are packed you need to give them 35 minutes. If altitude is over 2,000 feet increase times to 35 and 45 minutes respectively.

Food canned in glass jars may be processed by oven canning if preferred. Jars are stood on trivet in large pan containing ½ inch of water. Temperature of oven should be 275 deg. Fahr. and 10 minutes should be added to time allowed for hot water bath processing. Great care must be taken when jars are being removed from oven as they easily crack if subjected to too sudden change sof temperature. Success with oven sterilizing is only achieved by experience.

Canned Plums

Can plums whole, and select fruit that is not soft. Wash them, prick them with a fork and pack into sterile jars. Cover with boiling hat sugar syrup or 1 cup sugar to each 2 cups or 3 cups water as preferred. Cover and seal same as peaches. Process in hat water bath 20 minutes.

Canned Pears

Kieffer and Bartlett pears are preferred by the canning industry. Pare, cut in halves and core. (A small ball cutter makes a good instrument for cutting out the seed section of a pear.) Drop immediately into solution made in proportion of 2 tablespoons each salt and vinegar to 1 gallon water —to prevent discoloration. It is advisable to cook pears in prepared syrup 4 minutes before putting them in sterile jars. Syrup of 1 cup sugar to 3 cups water is plenty sweet enough for this sweet fruit. Skim pear halves out of boiling syrup, put in sterile jars with sterile rubbers fitted on them, fill to almost overflowing with syrup in which they were parboiled and seal. Process in hot water bath 20 minutes — timing from when water boils. Carefully remove from hot water bath, tighten seal and invert to cool.

What's Right

Often when you call your husband at work simply to chat with him for a few minutes or to discuss some minor household matter he seems abrupt and none too pleased to have you call him.

WRONG: Ignore his attitude and call him at work whenever you wish.

RIGHT: Take his attitude as an indication that he doesn't like being interrupted at work and call him at his office only when it is absolutely necessary.

Fabulous Furs

Luxury fur coats look well in the short length this fall. Brown Russian caracal (above) makes a town coat with starlight mink at collar and cuffs. Breath of spring mink is cut (center) in seven-eighths length.

Here is royal pastel mink (above) in a three-quarter length. Cuffs are very wide and are notched, as is collar. Coat is cut with a flare but falls into straight, slim lines. Gloves are long and are worn crushed.

Of Interest to Women

Woman J.P. Not Bored

SUDBURY —(CP)— Wrongdoers brought into court in Sudbury district may find themselves facing the stern blue eyes of Mrs. Percy Coates, one of the first women in Ontario to be appointed a justice of the peace.

Since her appointmenut in 1939, she has held court about once a week, when the two regular district magistrates are away or ill. She has dealt with hundreds of minor cases and remanded serious ones to the magistrates.

Schoolday ambitions of becoming a court reporter led her to specialize in shorthand. Before her course was finished, she accepted a position as reporter in the division court, taking down in shorthand the proceedings of the court. That was 34 years ago.

In 1919 she became secretary to R. R. McKessock, then Sudbury district crown attorney. She combined this job with court reporting and for 11 years did the work now done by two men. She gave up court reporting but continued as secretary after E. D. Wilkins succeeded Mr. McKessock as crown attorney and the work of the office increased with the growth of the north.

One day in 1936, when Mr. Wilkins was ill, Mrs. Coates acted in his place at the assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court, Wearing a black robe with stiff white collar for a day and a half she presented evidence in three manslaughter cases to the Grand Jury.

Drilled in Law

"Mr. Wilkins had drilled me so thoroughly in the criminal code over the years that it was only natural to act for him," she said.

Sometimes Mrs. Coates is asked to perform marriages. As justice of the peace, she hasn't authority to do so.

However, she frequently signs search warrants late at night to enable police to carry out raids.

She pursues an active social life, is a former officer of the Ontario Order of Eastern Star, a member of a hospital auxiliary and of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and superintendent of the Cradle Roll Sunday School class at St. Andrew United Church. On Saturday afternoon when the courthouse is closed, she finds time for a round of golf.

"I wouldn't want to be a criminal lawyer," she says. "But there's a definite place for women as legal stenographers and in various other courthouse capacities."

Present were members of her junior Sunday school class who were grouped around her as Ronald Linton read an address and Nadine Morrison presented a silver berry spoon. Also the girls' softball team, which honored her with presentation of a walnut magazine rack, by Mrs. Jack Gordon and an address read by Miss Mary Lacey. The United Church YPS gave the couple a lovely table lamp, Miss Lorene Timlin doing the honors and Mrs. Reginald Willis making the remarks of good wishes. The church and community feelings were expressed in an address read by Mrs. Melville Dines. Entertainment for the occasion included a solo by Eunice Minifie, a reading by Mrs. Leslie McIntosh, piano solo by Mary Jibb, solo by Lorene Timlin, a humorous reading by Mrs. Allan Linton, a selection by a junior quartet of Ewart Timlin, Marlene, Roy and Linda Turk, a reading by Mrs. Wilbert McMann and solo by Mrs. Paul Harris. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Maurice Irwin who were married Saturday by Major Cyril Everitt of the Salvation Army, at his home on King St. The bride is Dorothy Adeline Batten, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Batten and the late Mr. Batten, Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will reside in Peterborough. R. G. Brook Photo

WA Campaign Opening Tea On 6th Floor New Hospital

Afternoon tea was served to about 200 ladies of the city Wednesday in an interesting location —the convention room on the sixth floor of the new Civic Hospital.

The guests have all signified their willingness to be canvassers in the Women's Auxiliary membership campaign which commences Monday, September 25, and continues until October 25. Their hostesses for the occasion were the Auxiliary Board members who endeavoured to give them a clear conception of what is to be done, as well as entertain.

President Mrs. E. C. Braund, vice-president Mrs. W. E. Fanning and Mrs. G. Miller were receiving at the hospital entrance.

When all were assembled together, an outline of the Auxiliary's work was given the guests by Mrs. Roy Taylor. She particularly mentioned the library, a donation of $11,000 to the hospital building, scholarships offered to the student body, bootees given to new mothers and special favors to patients on holidays, and the travelling tuck shop.

Duties as conveners on house to house calls were explained by Mrs. E. Chambers.

The tea table was lace-covered with centre of multi-colored asters and pink tapers. Past president Mrs. E. Brackenridge and secretary Miss E. Morrow poured the tea.

Arrangements and serving were in charge of Mrs. Chambers who was assisted by Mrs. L. Ingram, Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. Collins, Mrs. R. Taylor, Mrs. Walker Jones, Mrs. F. R. Budden, of Belleville; Mrs. Jas. Matthews, Mrs. L. C. Lawrence, Mrs. R. C. Ward, Mrs. W. Garner, Mrs. C. Huffman, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Mrs. I. F. McRae, Mrs. L. G. Dobbin, Mrs. G. Barns.

Donald Kennedy Gives Travelogue

Peterborough branch of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association was privileged Monday evening to hear a lecture by Donald Kennedy on his recent trip to Europe. His talk was illustrated by colored slides which he had taken on the trip. The beauty of these photographs and the interest of his commentary made the evening most pleasant.

Mr. Kennedy visited London, Devon and Edinburgh before crossing to the continent. There he visited Holland, Switzerland, and Germany. The bomb damage in Germany was very evident in his pictures of that country. He went into Italy, where the heat was intense, visiting Venice, Rome and Florence, and travelled along the French Riviera from Pisa to Nice.

Pictures of the Kawartha lake district proved his statement that scenery in Canada is as lovely in its own way as any, but such a tour is a wonderful experience which can be remembered throughout one's life.

Mrs. C. W. Holman moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

During a brief business meeting preceding the lecture, several new members were introduced and plans were completed for a tea and musicale to be held in the Green Room October 14.

Cleaning Woman Invited to Russia Study Conditions

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(Reuters). —A London cleaning woman who has never been outside Britain will fly to Moscow tomorrow to study social conditions for three weeks.

Rose Wasmer, 42, charwoman in the ministry of works offices, is one of 14 British women invited to Russia by the Soviet Women's Anti-Fascist Committee.

They were chosen by three Anglo-Soviet friendship societies. But Mrs. Wasmer, a busy trade unionist, declares she is not a Communist.

"I am a Socialist," she says. "I am taking a can opener with me and I am going to look for that Iron Curtain.

"I want to see if I can learn anything new from the methods of Russian women cleaners.

"I want to look at the churches and find out the truth about religious worship. I want to see how the people really live and what their housing is like.

"When I get back I shall report the truth—exactly what I saw."

Parent-Teacher Group Meets

St. Peter's Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting of the current school year at the Knights of Columbus Hall Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Robert Macdonald, pastor of St. Alphonsus church, was guest speaker. Father Macdonald stated:

"The Roman Catholic Church in viewing the problem of child education has wisely held to the truth that the human personality must be considered as a unity—consequently it has refused to accept a substitute for its school system in which man as a religious being must be considered as distinct from man as a social or economic being. It is folly to tear apart the human personality so as to have a different mores for society, business and religion. Any system of education that fails to realize this important truth is bound to create an individual who will find himself using a different set of values for his business and his religious life. This of necessity will cause strife within a man with the consequent disintegration of the human personality . . . which is insanity."

Elizabeth Begley delighted the audience with a piano solo, Chopin's Valse in E Minor.

Attendance prizes were won by Room 6 of St. Mary's School and Grade 2 of St. Peter's School.

Find Federation Attracts Wide Interest

LONDON —(CP)— For the first time since it was founded in 1930, the International Federation of Business and Professional Women has chosen a president from Britain—Dame Caroline Haslett. All previous presidents have been United States citizens.

Dame Haslett was appointed at the recent congress of the federation; she is also president of the British Federation.

The attractive, middle-aged woman started work more than 30 years ago as a 10s.-a-week apprentice in a London boiler works. She founded the electrical association for women, and now still is the only woman member of the British electricity authority.

Arouses Interest

The congress aroused wide interest in the British press. Commentator A. J. Cummings of the News Chronicle said in his column that one of the choice remarks of the congress was that of Miss Barbara Ward, well-known economist. Miss Ward suggested that women's goal would be reached "when people say 'that's a good job well done' rather than 'that's a woman doing it.'"

Said Cummings: "I don't think, however, it is now a distant goal."

The City of London honored the federation by providing the famous Guildhall for the congressional banquet—the first time a women's organization had ever dined within its walls.

The banquet was attended by the Lord Mayor, one of 10 men present. Delegates included lawyers, surgeons, writers and business women from 20 countries.

WMS Opposed To Gambling For Any Cause

TORONTO, Sept. 21. (CP) — The Dominion Board of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada yesterday registered opposition to gambling in any form, including raising of funds for "good causes" through lotteries, raffles or bingos.

The resolution, one of a number passed at the closing meeting, urged members to refrain from supporting such affairs in any way.

Other resolutions urged that the Federal government be asked at its next conference with the provinces to ask that liquor advertising be banned in all provinces; that members cancel subscriptions to magazines carrying liquor advertising; that tests for drunken drivers be legalized; that the United Nations be given the utmost support; that the Federal government continue the ban on crime comics, for which it was commended.

Officers for the year were installed by Very Rev. Willard Brewing and include: Past President, Mrs. A. Roger Self; President, Mrs. James Laughland; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. McKillop, Mrs. A. A. Outram, Mrs. J. Russell Harris; Treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Seaman.

Home and School Association News

KING GEORGE SCHOOL

A "Get Asquainted" night opened the season of the King George Home and School Association Tuesday with the executive as hostesses. There was an excellent turn-out of parents and teachers.

Mrs. Hugh Morrison was chairman, in absence through illness of president, Mrs. C. Ferguson.

The program consisted of music and cards, the musical portion of the program being a sing-song led by Mr. Bernie Morin with Mr. D. Munro at the piano. Mr. Morin sang two solos, "Carry me back to old Virginny" and "Galway Bay." A trio of pianist and two violinists contributed several very well received numbers. The musicians were Mr. Brydon Young, Mr. Stuart Clark and Mr. H. Vinette. A short period of games was enjoyed in the form of court whist, and crokinole.

Refreshments were served.

✧ ✧ ✧

HOME AND SCHOOL COUNCIL

Meeting of the Home and School Council, covering the city and district, took place Monday evening in the YWCA green room.

President Mrs. C. G. Collins presided and religious education convener Mrs. James McLeod opened with scripture and prayer.

Reports from conveners were heard and Mrs. L. Raper gave a brief report on the annual conference held last June.

Parent education convener Mrs D. Rostocky announced a course in child psychology to be given at the Public Library, November 20 to 23. Mrs. B. Boucher, health convener, made announcement of the dental health dinner on October 2 at the Empress Hotel and Mrs. E. Chambers, vice-president of the Federation, outlined the regional conference which will be held October 28, also in the Empress.

After a panel discussion and question box, members enjoyed refreshments served by the Lakefield Association.

Early Artists Enjoy Record Reunion

HEMPSTEAD, NY— (AP). — Phonograph records made more than half a century ago were heard at a re-union here of some of the surviving musicians and recitalists who made them.

Twenty-one old recording artists and some of their fans met in this Long Island community for the fourth annual gathering of the Pioneer Recording Artists and Their Admirers.

Jim Walsh, news editor of radio station WSLS, Roanoke, Va., a founder of the group and one of the chief fans, acted as master of ceremonies.

Walsh, who has a collection of 15,000 old recordings, gave high praise to the artists who made records for the infant phonograph industry.

"In the old days," he said, "nothing came out of the horn that the artist did not put into it."

Recorded In 1887

Nowadays, Walsh said, sound engineers can make almost any recorded performance sound good.

Russell Hunting of Yonkers, NY, who made a famous recording of "Casey at the Bat" and started making records in 1896, was among the artists present.

Billy Murray, singer, who started making records in 1897 and is the only surviving member of the "Manhansett Quartette"—one of the first quartettes to make records on wax cylinders— was another old-timer.

Fred Van Eps of Plainfield, NJ, still was in short pants when his banjo playing was recorded in 1887. He recorded "Dixie Melody" on the old Edison records.

"I'm still playing," Van Eps said, "but it took me six years to change over to the new style."

Do Women Know What They Want?

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Women should be sure of what they want before they start pressing for social legislation or anything else, Mrs. Ellen Fairclough of Hamilton, Canada's only woman M.P., said last night.

"It is very important especially to people like us concerned with consumer problems that we should know exactly what we want," Mrs. Fairclough, Progressive Conservative member for Hamilton West, told the Canadian Association of Consumers in convention here. "What do we want? And will we want the same things tomorrow?

Women might ask for a law against strikes. "But if we legislate against the only weapon that the working man has today we may be legislating against the manufacturer tomorrow."

Havelock News

Mr. Allan Archer of Hamilton is the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Roberts and Mr. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gibson and family of Collingwood were the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Chiles. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. James Wilde who was their guest for a few days. On Mrs. Wilde's return journey she was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith of Campbellford who had been visiting the former's parents in Collingwood.

Mrs. Eric Bedore and son Garry are in Toronto owing to the illness of her mother, Mrs. H. Washburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Randal Wood and family who came here in the early summer from South Porcupine left on Tuesday to take up residence in Kirkland Lake where Mr. Woods has procured a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Seger of Toronto are honeymooning at the home of the latter's grandmother, Mrs. William Stevenson.

DOROTHY DIX

Weds at 50, In 16 Months Man Starts to Reno 3 Times

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 50. Have been married sixteen months to a woman sixteen years younger than I am. Didn't much want to marry, but did it to please her and a match-making relative. I have no fault to find with my wife. She is good, considerate of me, sweet and neat, and has never been unpleasant or nagging. She is not pretty and I catch myself not looking at her because she isn't. I have been so little satisfied with marriage that I have started three times to Reno. The first two times I was so uncomfortable in my mind that after ten days I went back home, only to begin wishing I had never married at all. Now I have just completed six weeks at Reno and with the divorce so near I am beginning to think I might want her after all. Still I have not enjoyed married life enough even to try to fix up our house, and I am not stingy, and I am not in love with her or anyone else, but I hate to think of being tied to her as long as I live. What shall I do? R. H. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: My advice to you is to go on and get your Reno divorce for the psychological effect it will have on you. It will clarify your feelings for you as nothing else can. You will lose your wife only to find her, so to speak, and my prophecy is that the next thing you will do after getting your decree absolute will be to buy a marriage licence.

Act Your Age

You are sufferiag from two mistakes. The first is that you are refusing to be your age. At 50 you are expecting yourself to be as sentimental and romantic as a boy, and have all the thrills and palpitations of a young lover.

Forget it. Don't expect to have a young heart any more than to have a young body. You can't run and jump as you did when you were 20. You don't want to sing just for the sheer joy of living. You've lost plenty of the enthusiasm and beliefs with which you started out as a boy, but that doesn't keep you from enjoying life in a saner, soberer way, nor from having many years of usefulness and happiness before you. Only your emotions have slowed down to the tempo of 50.

Your second mistake was throwing your marriage into the discard before you ever gave it a chance. You didn't even try to make it a success. You didn't even attempt to build a home togther. Anything would have been a failure that you went into with that spirit.

After marriage almost every husband and wife go through a period of panic in which for a moment they regret the step they have taken. A sudden horrible sense of finality seizes upon them of having to live with this man or this woman until death shall part them. A sunk feeling at realizing that they have forfeited their personal liberty. Marriage isn't as glamorous as they expected and probably nine out of ten would call it off if they could without scandal or complications. But the mood passes. They get their second wind and a clearer insight into marriage and turn it into what it was meant to be—a happy companionship of a man and woman.

You are suffering from a kind of matrimonial shell shock and you need a sense of liberty to cure you. Once you realize you are free, I think you will deliberately put yourself back into double harness.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young woman of 22 torn between two loves. One of these young men is insanely jealous, so much so that he fakes scenes and says he is going to whip anyone who tries to go with me. He has a new car, but doesn't have a job, and it seems that he is not able to hold one because he devotes too much time to me. The other young man I go with has a job, but no car. Neither of these young men could support me. Would you drop them both and try someone else, or would you try to work out the present situation? A GIRL IN DISTRESS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Neither one of the young men seem anything to write home to Mother about from your account of them, but if you must choose between them take the man with the job who isn't trying to support a car he can't afford. At least, he seems a gentleman, and a reasonable human being and to have some consideration for your dignity and good name, which the cad who goes around making scenes and assuming the right to boss you does not possess.

Whatever you do, don't be foolish enough to marry a jealous man. That way misery lies, for jealousy is one of the faults that cannot be cured.

DEAR MISS DIX: Speaking as an elderly man, I wonder why the modern girl does not realize that the greatest charm and attractiveness for men that a woman can have is femininity. If girls knew how they looked to men they would cast their shorts and their britches into the ragbag and get some skirts. GRANDFATHER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I agree with you, Grandfather, that a girl never makes a greater mistake than when she throws her femininity into the discard. It is her trump card and the one on which she can depend on winning out in both the game of love and of business.

I have often wondered if any man ever proposed to a girl who had on trousers. It must make one feel as if he were popping the question to his little brother.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Colorful Side Dish Made With Eggs in Aspic

MOLDED EGGS can be plain hard-boiled eggs in a tasty, spicy aspic or stuffed eggs in a more bland gelatine.

There are many ways to prepare eggs that you have probably never dreamed of, and the Examiner's tenth release in its series of 24 Culinary Arts Institute Cookbooks is here now to give you many brand new ideas. This cookbook, entitled, "300 Ways to Serve Eggs," is full of colorful new recipes that are further enhanced by photographs that contain a world of serving suggestions in themselves.

Here is one of the many tempting and unusual salad suggestions from the Egg Book:

Eggs In Aspic

1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin
2 cups chicken broth
Salt and pepper
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 small can sardines, boned
Mayonnaise

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup chicken broth for 5 minutes. Heat remaining broth, add gelatin and stir until dissolved; add seasonings, strain and cool. Cut eggs into halves and remove yolks. Put yolks through a sieve, add sardines and enough mayonnaise to make a soft paste. Fill egg whites just level, with the mixture. Pour a layer of gelatin over bottom of mold. When firm place eggs, cut-side down, into mold and cover with remaining gelatin. Chill. When firm unmold and serve on lettuce with additional mayonnaise. Serves 6 to 8.

Use crab meat or salmon instead of the sardines.

To obtain your copy of the Egg Book clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25c at the Examiner Office, or to your Examiner Carrier, or at Braund's Food Markets. If you wish to order your copy by mail send 30c (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, Examiner, Peterborough.

Beginning Work On Thames Dam

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 21 (CP)—Work on Fanshawe dam—to cost nearly $3,000,000 and intended to end London's flood threat—is expected to start "about the middle of next week," it was announced today.

The Foundation Company of Canada and the Fred Mannix Company, joint contractors, are putting up an office hut at the site, about three miles northeast of the city.

Leonard Johnson, secreary-treasurer, Upper Thames Valley Conservation Authority, said first work at the site would be clearing of about 50 acres of trees and top soil.

Work would then start on earthen wings of the dam, and on the coffer dam which would hold back the Thames while the permanent dam was being built.

The complete Fanshawe project includes reforestation, park areas, scenic drives, and boating facilities in all cost about $4,000,000. The provincial and federal governments have said they would share 75 per cent of the cost.

The city of London, and London township will pay the remaining 25 per cent; London 95 per cent, the township five per cent.

Reds Repatriating Two Hundred Nazis

BERLIN, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Russians today announced the repatriation of the "first batch" of thousands of German engineers and technicians who have been working in Russia for five years since the end of the war.

The announcement said these men had been working on reparations "to repair the damage done by the Fascist German invaders."

The first contingent of repatriates numbered 218. The Russians seized and deported thousands of German technicians after the capitulation, including top figures in major industries.

Western observers believed their release at this time was in part Communist propaganda for the Oct. 15 elections in the Russian zone.

Mrs. George Baptie Hostess To Circle

NORWOOD, Sept. 21.—(ENS).—The regular meeting of the Baptist Mission Circle was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Baptie, with the president in the chair.

The president offered prayer, and the scripture reading was taken by Mrs. Albert Gill. Letters were read from Dr. Dorothy Tempany, The Rev. Phillips and Miss Jean Piper in Bolivia.

Mrs. Baker was named delegate to association meetings to be held in Campbellford this fall. Mrs. Anderson gave a reading, entitled "I Believe God," and Mrs. Bingham favored with a solo, "Rest in the Lord."

The hostess served lunch and was given a vote of thanks.

About 25 neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Hogg gathered at their home to bid farewell to their daughter Frances, who entered the new Civic Hospital, Peterborough, as a nurse-in-training on Monday. The evening was spent in games and crokinole, and Miss Hogg was presented with a pen and pencil set.

Food Shortage Grips Hungary

VIENNA, Sept. 21— (AP)—Hungarian press reports reaching Vienna today indicated a food shortage growing in that largely agricultural Communist country.

The Communist newspaper Szabad Nep conceded: "Certain difficulties exist."

"It must be reported that in many cases production of food products and necessary goods is not sufficient to cover the growing needs," the newspaper continued.

It blamed hoarders and speculators for "yawning gaps in all goods." Other Hungarian press reports indicated the shortages were mainly in potatoes, meat, flour, sugar and dairy products.

Western sources here said they had reports that Hnugarian workers were lining up for hours before food stores to try to buy a few potatoes or a little meat.

Tito Approves Stand In Korea

BELGRADE, Sept. 21—(AP)—An American congressional delegation quoted Marshal Tito today as saying United Nations troops should fight to the 38th parallel in Korea, then stop and call for a country-wide plebiscite.

The 38th parallel was the boundary which separated western-recognized South Korea from Communist North Korea.

Senator Claude Pepper (Dem Fla.) said the question was raised during a three-hour chat with Tito Wednesday night at his private villa on the hills overlooking Belgrade. He said the Yugoslav head man gave the congressmen "frank and forthright answers" on many questions.

Pepper and other members of the delegation said Tito, while sticking to an independent stand for Yugoslavia in the Korean conflict, expressed approval of the United Nations' action in taking an immediate stand against any effort to disturb world peace.

He also was quoted as saying the "entire religious situation" in Yugoslavia now is under review.

Have 12,000 Names On Sports Petition

HAMILTON, Sept. 21 (CP). — The Sunday afternoon sports committee submitted a petition today, said to list 12,000 names, to James F. Berry, city clerk. They also handed in a statement criticizing the attitude of some clergymen on the issue to be voted on here Wednesday, Dec. 6.

Next Tuesday, Ald. D. B. Gordon will present a notice of motion to city council to submit the question to the voters. This would not be debatable until the first October meeting.

Find Two Bodies In Fishing Ship

METEGHAN, N. S., Sept. 21 — (CP).—The hulk of the ill-fated swordfisher Sir Echo was pumped dry at this fishing town today and the bodies of her skipper and his son were found where they died when a hurricane wrecked their craft more than a week ago.

The bodies of Capt. Sheldon Goreham, 56, and his 15-year-old son Aubrey were recovered. No hope is held that the other three crew members of the 50-foot craft that was capsized by a hurricane Tuesday will be found alive.

Steel Workers Sign One-Year Contract

BRANTFORD, Sept. 21.—(CP).—A one-year contract providing for shorter hours and an increase in hourly rates was signed Wednesday by local 3749, United Steel Workers of America, and the Brantford works of the Steel Company of Canada.

The new agreement reduces the work week from 42½ to 40 hours and provides for an eight-cents-an-hour pay boost, retroactive to June 16. It also provides for two weeks' vacation after three years' employment, instead of the former five years, and improvement in sick benefit and pension plans.

GUARANTEED SALE

The United Kingdom has guaranteed to buy all surplus Australian cattle for 15 years.

Income Tax Dept. After Housewives

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 21.—(CP).—The Income Tax Department has cracked down on housewives in the greater Niagara area who operate tourist homes to augment their husband's incomes.

During the past week, housewives have received a form letter from the department asking them to file their income tax returns for 1949.

An accountant who makes out income tax forms said today he had made out a dozen forms this week, and had deducted from the gross receipts payments for laundry, light, heat, water, and 50 per cent. for replacement of equipment such as linen. He said only one return had exceeded $600.

There are approximately 1,000 tourist home operators in Niagara Falls and suburban Stamford Township.

Campanaro Funeral

The funeral service for Leonardo Campanaro, 68, of 553 Elm St., who died Sunday, was held from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Peter's Cathedral, Wednesday. The celebrant of the mass was the Rev. G. Weiss. Also in the sanctuary were the Rev. V. Corkery and the Rev. J. O'Sullivan. Pallbearers were Paul Rochetta, Phillip Rochetta, John Basciano Donato Vitarelli, Louis Vitarelli and Guy Chimenti. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery and graveside prayers were said by Father Weiss.

Canadians Finish Course On Subs

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland, Sept. 21 (CP)—The Canadian special service squadron, training with elements of the Royal Navy, has completed a two-week course in submarine warfare and has left for Rosyth, Scotland.

The Canadian squadron is made up of the aircraft carrier Magnificent and the destroyers Huron and Micmac. It is under the command of Commodore K. F. Adams, commanding officer of the Magnificent.

Commodore Adams said his men had "benefitted greatly as a result of the course."

"We have modernized our ideas and reaffirmed in our minds the great necessity for offensive tactics. While we have learned to respect the submarine as an enemy, we have learned even more facts relating to its limitations."

During the course, two Canadian navy flyers Lieut. Vincent J. Murphy of Nanaimo, B.C., and Lieut. G. W. Babbitt of Woodstock were commended for contributions made during the exercises.

First Exhibition Held In Northern Ontario

TIMMINS, Sept. 21 (CP) — Believed the first show of its kind in Canada, the first Northern Ontario Exhibition will be officially opened today by Premier Frost. It will be devoted mainly to the mining and lumber industries of the north country.

The week-long fair will feature contests for hard-rock drilling, log cutting, mucking, log sawing and chopping. District mine rescue teams also will compete for cash prizes.

Girls from the north will vie for the title Miss Northern Ontario.

The winner will receive a free trip to Bermuda. Beauty queens from North Bay to Hearst have entered.

Martin Urges Joint Food Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (CP) —Health Minister Martin of Canada proposed Wednesday that the food and drug laws of Canada and the United States be brought closer together in the interest of freer trade across the international boundary.

He suggested, in an address prepared for delivery before the joint annual meetings of the Canadian and American Bar Associations, that an informal committee be set up to study the elimination of "unnecessary variations" in those laws in the two countries.

This, he felt, would permit a freer exchange of those commodities between the two countries. At present, varying regulations sometimes block the export and import of foods and drugs.

His proposed committee would include members of the American and Canadian bars who are particularly interested in food and drug legislation and government officials from both countries who are concerned with its enforcement.

"I can assure you," said Mr. Martin, "that the government of Canada is interested in achieving more uniform food and drug laws.

"It will give sympathetic consideration to any changes recommended as necessary and desirable for Canada and the United States and, perhaps later on, the United Kingdom and other countries."

Nine Sons, Families At Father's Birthday

DOWNEYVILLE, Sept. 21 — (ENS)—Patrick Perdue celebrated a birthday recently surrounded by his family and friends.

His nine sons, with their wives and families, were, Alvin, his wife and four children; Ray, his wife and two children; Claude and Jack, all of Downeyville; Orville from Lindsay; Warner, Kevin and Sherman from Toronto, and Laverne from Ennsmore.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Braniff and son Leo Jr. from Peterborough; Mrs. T. J. O'Neill, of Bobcaygeon; Mrs. Frank Cavanagh of Ennismore; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Herlihey, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Herlihey of Downeyville.

A fowl dinner was served and a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

Liberal MPP Urges Economy Program

TORONTO, Sept. 21 —(CP)— Walter Thomson, Liberal member of parliament for Ontario, advocated in an address here Tuesday that the Liberal party enter the next provincial election with an "economy program." Mr. Thomson will be a candidate for the provincial leadership at a party convention here Nov. 9-10.

He told the Toronto Liberal Business Men's Club that the gasoline tax in Ontario is too high. He charged the Progressive Conservative government with infringing on the rights of individuals and municipalities in expropriation of land for highways.

Theatre Director Thanks Council

Michael Sadlier of Peterborough Summer Theatre conveyed in a letter to the council Monday thanks for the interest of the council "in making the Centennial play 'At My Heart's Core' such a success. The reception given by the city after the performance made a very enjoyable evening for the cast and friends.

"We were very fortunate in having the opportunity of presenting Mr. Davies' play. I am glad to report that all the visiting press had nothing but praise in writing about the play. It has been a novel step in the history of Canadian cities, and I am glad we have been able to take a small part in helping to celebrate Peterborough's centennial year.

"May I add that we all look forward to our summers in Peterborough, and are very grateful for the warm and friendly reception that everyone here has given us."

Fire Alarm Not Heard Aboard Ship

Passengers Believe Lives Lost Because No Warning

QUEBEC, Sept. 22—(CP)—Belief that there would have been no loss of life aboard the burned cruise ship Quebec if a fire-warning signal had been heard was expressed here Thursday by a passenger aboard the Canada Steamships Lines vessel.

Charles Buchner of Verplant, N.Y., was testifying before an inquiry into the fire which cost seven lives last August when the Quebec burned outside of Tadoussac, tiny lower St. Lawrence river harbor town.

Mr. Buchner told Judge Fernand Choquette of Quebec Superior Court, who is presiding over the inquiry, that he had heard no alarm to warn passengers of the blaze.

Hearing no alarm but aroused by the smell of smoke, Mr. Buchner said he helped wield hoses and noticed that some crew members were wearing lifebelts while "some 30 passengers" who were with him had none.

He lead a group to the bow of the 7,000-ton vessel and there lifebelts were made available to them. He did not think fire-fighting apparatus aboard the vessel was adequate.

Didn't Prepare Rafts

Mr. Buchner had twice asked a crew member to prepare rafts but was told the captain was master of the ship. A number of the passengers did not realize how close to land they were.

The other main witness Thursday—Thomas Waldron of Peekskill, N. Y.—also heard no alarm. He noted only one ship's officer assisting passengers off the burning vessel.

Earlier, the inquiry, which continues Saturday, heard additional testimony from Geoffrey Aldcroft, Montreal engineer whose firm installed fire-warning devices aboard the ship this spring.

The witness said it would have been "easy" for someone to disconnect batteries operating the ship's fire-alarm system. Such an action would paralyze the systems and render them ineffective, he said.

There have been unconfirmed reports of sabotage aboard the vessel.

Will Jail Slack 15 Years As Spy

GREENVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22 (AP).—Alfred Dean Slack today was sentenced to 15 years for wartime spying for Russia.

Judge Robert L. Taylor in pronouncing sentence termed Slack's espionage activities for Russia "shocking."

The judge thus ignored the government's recommendation for a 10-year sentence for Slack, who pleaded guilty last Monday.

Slack was arrested June 15 and charged with passing to Russian agents information on the manufacture of the high explosive RDX. The government said he stole a sample of RDX and handed it, with technical information, to Harry Gould, biochemist also charged with espionage.

Woman's Condition Slightly Improved

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 22 (CP).—Condition of Mrs. John Thompson of Toronto, critically injured in an auto accident near here Tuesday, is slightly improved today, Dr. Austin Walters said today.

Mrs. Thompson suffered a compound hip fracture, scalp cuts, broken wrist and chest injuries when the car in which she was riding crashed into a tree. Mr. Thompson suffered chest injuries and lacerated knee.

Dr. Walters said if no complications set in, Mrs. Thompson's chances for recovery were now fairly good.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Dr. J. L. Thompson of St. John, N. B., has come here to be with his parents.

Sault Officials Outline Defence Plans

SASKATOON, Sept. 22 (CP).—Police Chief I. L. Robertson of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., told fellow officers Thursday how his strategically-located city is preparing for civil defence.

He took part in a round table discussion led by Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, national civil defence co-ordinator. About 80 officers from Canada's 10 provinces attending the Chief Constables Association convention were there.

Chief Robertson said Sault Ste. Marie already has organized more than 3,000 volunteers. High school and technical school teachers are receiving training which they will later pass on to others.

Organize Contractors

Contractors have been organized for demolition, the clearing of debris and temporary construction, Chief Robertson said. Trucks have been classified for service in freighting and the carrying of civil defence personnel, workers or evacuees.

The city had been divided into zones, each with its police and fire-fighting unit, 12 ambulance men and medical services. All wardens had been screened for loyalty. There were weekly meetings.

George Shea, chief of Canadian National Railways police, told how plans worked out during the Second World War were being adapted to a possible future emergency. He mentioned such possible measures as the halting of street cars to facilitate passage of more mobile vehicles engaged in evacuation work and the commandeering of fleets of trucks.

Too Much Excitement

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP) — A 49-year-old bank messenger died of a heart attack today moments after four armed masked men snatched a payroll from him and fled through downtown Brooklyn streets. Harry Schadkin collapsed and died as he was reporting the holdup by telephone to police.

Russia's Aggression Charge Against US Up For Study

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(AP)—The steering committee sent today to the U.N. General Assembly Russia's charges of United States aggression against China, but deferred action on an American proposal to place Formosa's future in the Assembly's hands. Nationalist China was the only country opposing a hearing of Russia's charges against the United States. The American delegation voted to include the item on the Assembly's agenda.

The 14-member committee's postponement of the American resolution was decided five votes to one with eight abstaining. This was done at the request of Nationalist China.

T. F. Tsiang of Nationalist China told the committee: "I have not yet received the instructions of my government in regard to this matter . . . a delay of two or three days would not hamper the work of the assembly in any respect."

Associates of Tsiang expect the Chinese Nationalist government to oppose any discussion on Formosa's status.

Both China and Russia insist that the Pacific Island is Chinese territory and therefore the UN has no right to interfere in its problems. Moreover, both countries have their own Chinese items they want on the agenda.

Last Stronghold

Chiang Kai-shek's representatives oppose UN discussion because the island is the last stronghold of the Nationalist government and they want to maintain legal title to it.

The Russians insist Formosa is Chinese territory because they want the Communist government at Peiping, which they claim is the only legal government of China, to take it over without international opposition.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said at yesterday's meeting of the steering committee that the Russian claim was "sheer propaganda" and he could not understand it.

A British spokesman said last night Jebb had not changed his opinion, but would make no serious attempt to keep either the American item—called "the question of Formosa," or the Russian item — entitled "complaint of American aggression on China," off the agenda.

Aids Sick Man Steals Watch

OSHAWA, Sept. 22.—Theft of a watch from a man suffering a heart attack brought a three-month term Thursday for Bertram Guilbault, 26, of Toronto.

The complainant, Frank Tremblay, told court he was drinking in a hotel with accused when he suffered a mild heart attack. Guilbault took Tremblay to his hotel room and left.

"I noticed immediately that my pocket watch was missing," said Tremblay. Guilbault has a lengthy record.

Eight People Injured In Highway Collision

MATHESON, Sept. 22—(CP)—Eight persons including Robert Potter, Ontario Northern Railroad Commissioner, were injured in a highway collision between two cars early today near here. Matheson is 46 miles east of Timmins.

Hospital authorities said Mr. Potter suffered possible fractured ribs and a deep gash on the right side of his face.

The accident occurred after the railway commissioner had left Premier Frost's party following the opening of the Northern Ontario Exhibition to return to his home in Matheson.

A small dog riding in one of the cars suffered a broken back and was shot by a provincial police officer.

West Berlin Frees 53 Communist Police

BERLIN, Sept. 22 (AP).—An American court today sentenced six Russian zone policemen to five days in jail for trespassing in the U.S. sector of Berlin while unlawfully armed.

They were released because they had already served their term, having been arrested Monday. Their pistols were confiscated.

The release of these six followed the freeing earlier today of 47 eastern Communist policemen, held in West Berlin as hostages for 25 Western police seized by the Communists in a renewed cold war skirmish. It remained to be seen whether the Communist would now release the west's 25 men.

The six were let off easily because they had blundered into the U.S. sector "apparently without wil intent," the judge said.

UK's Bumper Wheat Crop Ruined By Rain and Hail

LONDON, Sept. 22 (CP). — Britain's hope of obtaining substantial dollar savings through a bumper wheat crop has been frustrated by bad weather.

Last month's optimistic forecasts have withered under rain, hail and lightning, agricultural experts now say it will be Britain's worst grain harvest in living memory.

National Farmers' Union on Thursday night described the harvest as "dreary, disappointing and disastrous."

The Farmers' Union said that in Devonshire alone more than £1,500,000 ($4,650,000) has been lost.

Exactly a month ago today, the NFU issued a statement saying that if things turned out as expected, Britain would obtain 375,895 tons more home-grown wheat than last year. It said this would represent a saving equivalent to $25,000,000 in U.S. funds on the basis of the price that would be paid for dollar wheat under the international wheat agreement.

Then the rains came. Within a few days NFU's latest statement says "reports poured in of laid and twisted crops from 20 counties."

The agricultural correspondent of the News Chronicle said only mechanization of Britain's farming had prevented a disaster that could have unbalanced the national economy for this year.

"Even as it is," the correspondent said, "we shall be poorer by some millions of dollars."

Casualties In Battle Said Heavy

Red Resistance Fierce In Former Capital, Expect Long Fight

TOKYO, Sept. 22—(AP)—The Allied 10th Corps and North Korean defenders battled bitterly for Seoul at close quarters today on both sides of the Han river. Some of the fighting was at bayonet range.

To stand off reinforcements for the Red-held capital, the Allies put forces across rail lines and highways north and south of the city.

Units of the U.S. 7th Division drive into Suwon, 20 miles south of Seoul, from the 10th Corps' Inchon-Seoul beachhead.

Suwon is a vital communications hub astride the major route of Communists withdrawing from the United Nations' expanding [illegible] Pusan beachhead in the far southeast.

U.S. Marines used bayonets and flame throwers to make a mile-wide swath through Seoul's industrial western suburb of Yongdungpo, on the south-west side of the Han. Other Marines cut the rail and highway lines into the capital from the northwest.

Tougher Phases

These were the toughening phases of the amphibious assault aimed at seizing Soul, the distribution centre for Communists faltering and fleeing in the south. Barring effective reinforcements from the north, it also puts the Reds in the tightening jaw of a giant vise.

A tank-led Red mystery column reported Thursday by U.S. intelligence to be moving southward from Red China's Manchurian border, remained a mystery. Washington army spokesmen said they had heard nothing of such reinforcements and nothing more was reported by the 10th corps Friday.

A spokesman at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said U.S. 7th division troops entered Suwon without opposition. In addition to blocking Red reinforcements for Seoul from the south, Suwon provides an airfield that can handle good-sized planes.

Cowboy Writer To Visit West

LONDON, Sept. 22—(CP) — Charles Chilton, 33-year-old Cockney who makes his living writing about the wild and woolly west, sails for the United States today to see what the cow country really looks like.

Using library books and his imagination, Chilton for two years has written and produced a BBC horse opera which has an estimated listening audience of more than 10,000,000. His scripts proved so realistic that authorities in Tombstone, Ariz., appointed him honorary marshal.

So far the last six days Cockney Chilton, who had never been on a horse before, has been getting up early to take riding lessons in Hyde Park's Rotten Row.

His absence in the United States will mean temporary time-out for four Canadian stars of Chilton's show "Riders of the Range"—Charles Irwin of Sherbrooke, Que., Paul Carpenter of Montreal, Macdonald Parke of Cornwall, Ont., and orchestra leader Jack Fallon of London, Ont.

BULLETIN

TORONTO (CP) — Agreements providing for general wage increases of up to 11½ cents an hour were signed today between the "big three" of Canada's meat-packing industry and the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.). The agreements, to run for two years, cover 5,000 employees of Canada Packers employed in eight plants, 3,000 Swift Canadian Company workers in seven plants and 2,000 workers in seven plants of Burns and Company.

Population Climbing

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) —Ontario's population has probably passed 4,500,000, Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar said today. At the end of 1949 it stood at 4,411,000, he said. This year's increases have likely put it over the 4,500,000 mark. From 1940 to 1949 the population increased by 640,000.

Sound Waves Can Shatter Big Steel Bars

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP) —High-frequency sound waves powerful enough to erode diamonds and blast steel bars into fragments have been harnessed and now are ready for industrial application, the National Instrument conference was told yesterday.

John W. Butterworth, director of hypersonics for Brush Development Company of Cleveland, O., said the technique sets up stresses equal to 1,500,000 times the pull of gravity within the material and, literally shakes it apart.

These sound waves can emulsify liquids almost instantly by smashing the particles togetner into a "homogenized" liquid that never will separate, said Butterworth.

A similar process "can be used to impregnate materials like fabric and wood with chemicals to prolong wearing qualities and make them fire-resistant."

Better Vaccines

In the medical field, "ultrasonic energy will help produce improved vaccines against diseases such as penumonia."

Present vaccines, he said, are created from the entire cells of pathogenic bacteria and sometimes produce dangerous allergic reactions as a result of the protein included in them. Ultrasonic energy shatters the cells and releases cytoplasm, a clear, protein-free liquid, for production of non-allergic vaccines.

Butterworth reported that his company has invented a saucer-like ceramic for focussing the sound waves much as a magnifying glass focuses the sun's rays to burn a hole in a piece of paper.

High-frequency electric power vibrates the ceramic from 100,000 to 1,000,000 times a second, producing sound waves that are inaudible to human ears, sensitive only to frequencies under 20,000 a second.

Dog Tired Travelling Vanishes In Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP). — Butch, a 36-pound dog called a "bu-hound" travelled safely from Norway to Canada—only to get lost in Montreal today.

The dog arrived Thursday by air from Norway. He was unloaded to await air transportation to Quebec. But a kind-hearted freight handler let him have a run on Montreal airport.

That was the last time Butch was seen. The airline which lost the dog organized a ground search party, police were called in and low-flying aircraft were asked to buzz the field.

Butch, with hair as white as snow, still could not be found.

Split In Attlee Cabinet Left Wing Wants Election

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP). — The left wing of the Labor party began campaigning out loud today for a new national election within the next few weeks.

The Socialist Weekly Tribune called on rank and file Labor members to rebel against Prime Minister Attlee and support this course at the annual party conference starting October 2 at Margate.

The Tribune reflects the views of Health Minister Aneurin Bevan and his strong following in the party. His wife, Jennie Lee, is a member of its editorial board.

The demand for a quick election brought into the open a split in Attlee's cabinet. Attlee is known to favor postponing the appeal to the voters, perhaps until next February.

The Labor government now has an effective majority of only seven votes in the House of Commons.

The Tribune insisted: "There is only one decisive way in which the deadlock can be broken That is by a new appeal to the polls."

The weekly said that in a new election "it might be perfectly possible to secure a majority of some 60 or 70." It added:

"That prize, if it could be gained, could alter the whole situation at home and abroad.

"It could give the government the power to ensure that Socialist principles were applied in sharing any new burdens that this country must carry.

"More important still, it would enormously strengthen the Labor government's authority in foreign affairs."

Employment Picture Bright For Rest Of 1950 Labor Minister Gregg Says

High Living Costs Force Married Women To Start Seeking Jobs; Increase of 14,300 Women on Waiting List

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(CP)—Although unemployment increased during the nine-day rail strike last month, the employment picture for the remainder of this year looks bright, Labor Minister Gregg said Thursday. In his monthly statement on the employment situation, Mr. Gregg said now that the railways are back in operation "many new hirings can continue as scheduled."

"For the balance of this year employment in manufacturing is expected to be above the high level reached in 1949." The accelerated defence program and the increase in demand for many products would be responsible for the increase.

Mr. Gregg said that during the rail strike some firms temporarily laid off workers while others postponed making additions to their staffs.

As a result, registrations at National Employment Service offices increased to 151,600 at Aug. 31. This was about 5,000 more than at Aug. 17, but 6,500 below the total at the beginning of the month.

Worst Spots

The increase in registrations — the first in almost five months—was mainly concentrated in Ontario and the prairie regions, where most of the layoffs of non-railway workers occurred. In Newfoundland and Quebec the number of registered unemployed decreased in the two weeks of the strike. In the Maritimes and British Columbia the increase in registrations was relatively slight.

Mr. Gregg said the employment situation for women continues to be much less favorable than for men. At Aug. 31, there were 54,000 women registered at the employment service offices, 14,300 more than at the corresponding date of 1949.

Reports from managers of local employment services offices indicated that married women are seeking jobs in much greater numbers than last year, largely because of the increase in the cost of living.

Nassau Police Seek Blonde In Oakes Case

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22 - (AP) A Nassau police official investigating the murder of Sir Harry Oakes, was returning to Miami today and was reported to be seeking Betty Roberts, a blonde who was an important witness in the seven-year-old case.

Betty, a friend of Marquis Georges De Visedelou Guimbeau, testified she talked with Alfred De Marigny, Oakes' son-in-law who was accused of the murder, at about the hour the slaying of the Canadian mining millionaire was committed. Defence counsel contended De Marigny could not have killed Sir Harry if he was at home at that hour.

Augustus Roberts, assistant police superintendent, flew to Florida, from Oakland, Calif., where he talked with Edward Majava, 31-year-old mechanic, and announced Majava was "telling the truth."

Roads Important For Defence Brigadier Warns

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 (CP)—A Canadian army engineer said Thursday that if war comes it will be too late to start a road development program. The work must be done in peacetime.

Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, Royal Canadian Engineers, gave the Canadian Good Roads Association his views on highway facilities the country will need in the event of war.

The normal flow of road traffic would be changed, resulting in a much increased number of vehicles, a different type of vehicle, and heavier units. There would be "eccentric loads" of abnormal width, height and weight.

Dispersion of industry would depend on roads. Though extensive highway development might not be justified on economic grounds at the time, it could be justified on economic plus defence considerations. After an attack on an area, roads probably would provide the only way of getting immediate help to a stricken area.

Plenty In U.S.

Brig. Walsh said that while there are comparatively few targets in Canada which would justify an atom-bomb attack, there are plenty in the United States. Aircraft failing to reach American targets could be expected to select secondary objectives in Canada.

In war the railways would be vulnerable to sabotage and could be disrupted by determined individuals. But roads were difficult to sabotage in a short space of time and could be repaired more easily than railways.

Czech Lovers Finally United

TORONTO, Sept. 22—(CP)—Two sweethearts from Czechoslovakia were reunited today after being kept apart for more than a year by immigration rules.

Kitty Kleiner, 24, finally reached Toronto from the United States to enrol in the University of Toronto's School of Social Work. She was embraced on her arrival by Denis Chrastansky, 25, who has been in Canada since 1948. They hope to be married by Christmas.

Last September, while Kitty was studying in the United States on a student visa, the couple met on the bridge spanning the International boundary at Niagara Falls. They held a tryst on the sightseeing craft Maid of the Mist as it plied up and down the river below the falls.

Denis lacked permission to enter the United States and Kitty could not come to Canada until she obtained a Canadian student visa.

Plane Crash Lands 2 Fliers Uninjured

TRENTON, Sept. 22 — Two RCAF members escaped uninjured from a forced landing by their Harvard aircraft in a farmer's field five miles west of Frankford at noon Thursday. The aircraft, from Central Flying School, Trenton, was on a routine training flight.

Air Force authorities said FO. P. E. Paquette was instructing PO Siegle at the time. No cause was given for the crash landing. The aircraft was not extensively damaged.

Fon's 110 Wives Prefer To Go On Living That Way

LONDON, Sept. 22 (Reuters)—The 110 wives of the Fon of Bikom are quite content with their domestic arrangements.

That was announced officially—and for the second time—in London Thursday.

The Fon and his family live in the Cameroons, Nigeria, which is under British trusteeship. He is a tribal chief, and he claims to be 100 years old.

For many months official-looking persons from Lake Success and London have been visiting the chief and his wives. They wanted to know whether the wives all liked being married to one man.

Well, they do. That's flat and—they hope—final.

Thursday's offical confirmation came in a British colonial office report to the UN general assembly.

Of polygamy, the report said: "It is a useless academic exercise to consider possible solutions to the problem it causes without taking into account the views of those who practice it."

Up To Women

It was from the women themselves that the desire for change must come, it added.

Earlier this year a four-man UN Trusteeship Council commission visited the Cameroons and returned to report: "Polygamy is a type of social security."

It revealed the chief has all those wives because he inherits the wives of his predecessors.

Thus, it said: "Plural marriage is partly a means of sustenance to the women involved."

The investigations into the matrimonial affairs of the Fon of Bikom began when a British Catholic women's organization brought the matter to the notice of the UN several months ago.

The British report on the Cameroons pictured something of a Utopia—a land where widows and old folks don't need pensions, where babies are never abandoned and where naughty children are rare.

Social welfare was a family concern in the Cameroons, said the report. No provisions need be made for orphans, and pensions were not contemplated. All classes of the community requiring special care were adequately looked after. The 'family welfare scheme' catered for the needs of old folk, the destitute and the handicapped.

Allowed To Practise

Native doctors were still allowed to practice provided they did not use poisonous materials in their "medicines." But orthodox medical services were increasing and there was a growing confidence in modern medicine.

The inhabitants obtained their food from plants in the territory and from nearly all the animals living there. These include the antelope, wild pig, monkey, and snake.

Describing the achievements during 1949 as notable, the report said that a share of the year's $151,200 profits from bananas, palm products and cocoa had been set aside for the 1,033,000 inhabitants.

But the report is a warning to intending visitors to this "paradise"—it has no hotels.

Officer's Wife Asks Clemency

YORK, Pa., Sept. 22 (AP). — An army lieutenant's wife said today she has petitioned President Truman to set aside a court martial death sentence imposed on her husband for disobeying battle orders in Korea.

The nature of the orders was not disclosed.

Mrs. Kay Gilbert is the mother of two and expecting a third child. The Gilberts are Negro.

She quoted an Aug. 5 letter from her husband, Lieut. Leon A. Gilbert, 32, as saying:

"I am now under arrest for not carrying out an order which would have led me and 12 other men to certain death. . .

"If it would not have been for you and the children, I would have gone willingly but a man seems to place his family above all in these matters."

In a later letter, Lieut. Gilbert told his wife he had been sentenced to death Sept. 16 and would be executed within a month.

Gilbert served in the Second World War and was honorably discharged in 1946. He was recalled to service as a reservist in 1947.

Papers Lead List Into New Highs

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — Papers led a broad list of industrial stocks into new high ground for a second successive session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Demand was steady as market leaders were carried strongly ahead for gains ranging from fractions to more than a point. Volume for the first three hours was 875,000 shares.

On the industrial board the list again climbed to a new peak average price level. Utilities, steels, foods, agricultures and textiles followed papers higher.

Gold stocks slipped quietly. Dome mines bucked the trend in senior producers for a fractional advance but juniors showed declines up to 10 cents.

Base metals moved irregularly, at times showing signs of resuming recent strong climbs. Key issues like Consolidated Smelters, Noranda, International Nickel and Hudson Bay brightened.

Western oils lost part of opening gains. Advances were reduced as the session progressed but the majority of leaders remained in plus territory.

Group To Study Taxes For Farm Federation

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—The Ontario Federation of Agriculture Thursday appointed a committee to study the taxation problem that results when expanding cities spread into rural areas.

The committee, headed by J. C. Brodrick of St. Catharines, federation president, was established after delegates from 10 counties spent the day discussing the problem without reaching a solution.

Delegates said rural taxation went up as more urban dwellers spread into rural municipalities. The reason was the need for more schools and municipal services which, in many cases, didn't benefit the farmers.

They reached general agreement, however, that farmers should pay school taxes only on the assessed value of their homes—not on the assessed value of their entire farms.

Power Shortage In Four Years

SCHUMACHER, Sept. 22 (CP) —Premier Frost of Ontario said Thursday night the southern part of the province will face a severe power shortage within four years unless the St. Lawrence river power project is developed. He addressed a banquet marking the opening of the first Northern Ontario Exhibition in this community near Timmins.

Earlier in the day, he said at Matheson, 40 miles east of here, that the St. Lawrence power project would have to be developed "with or without" the aid of the United States.

Turning to a group of U.S visitors in his audience, he said:

"I wish you would tell your Congress representatives what a great thing the 1,250,000 horsepower of electricity would mean to us, not to mention what an equal amount of power would mean to your own country."

He urged them to encourage Congress to endorse the St. Lawrence development as soon as possible, especially in the light of "critical situations" which may confront both Canada and the United States as a result of the trend of world affairs.

Deny Dr. Infeld Has A-Secrets

OTTAWA, Set. 22—(CP)—Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, vice-president of the National Research Council, Thursday said that so far as can be ascertained Dr. Leopold Infeld had no access to information dealing with Canadian atomic or military secrets.

"We want to point out categorically," Dr. Stacie said in an interview, "that Dr. Infeld never had anything to do with our atomic energy project."

Dr. Steacie said he wanted that information made known in view of "certain statements" made in connection with the scientist.

The N.R.C. vice-president was commenting on a Toronto report which said that Dr. Infeld, a University of Toronto professor since 1939, has returned to his native Poland and has decided to remain there.

Driver Acquitted Failing To Stop

Taxi driver Kenneth McArthur was found not guilty in police court of a charge of failing to stop at a stop street.

The charge was laid as a result of an accident Aug. 19 in which Gordon Wallace, 268 Caddy St., riding a bicycle crashed into the side of the car. He dislocated his shoulder and suffered an internal hemorrhage on his hip.

Wallace said he was riding south on Water Street on his way to work a short time before eight a.m. He saw the taxi coming down the Murray St. hill travelling west.

He said the car failed to stop at the corner and it was in front of him before he could do anything about it except duck his head and hit the car with his shoulder.

McArthur said he stopped at the corner long enough to look at a note he had made of an address he was hunting. He looked both ways on Water St. and saw no traffic.

He didn't see the bicycle until after it had crashed into him.

Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C. said he would have to give McArthur the benefit of the doubt.

Jet Planes Attempt Non-Stop Flight Again

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP). —Two U.S. Air Force F-84 Thunderjet fighters took off from Manston Airbase, England, at 9:01 a.m. EDT today in a second attempt to fly 3,600 miles non-stop to New York.

The two single-engine planes, piloted by Col. Dave Schilling and Lt.-Col. W. D. Ritchie, completed their first refuelling over Prestwick, Scotland, an hour later. They hoped to reach New York within eight hours.

The flight, if successful, would be the first non-stop jet plane crossing of the Atlantic, the longest single-engine jet flight and the fastest London-New York trip ever made.

Hold Indian In Stabbing

MASSEY, Sept. 22 — (CP) — Police said today they are holding Francis Stevens, 26-year-old Indian from the Spanish River reserve, on a charge of wounding in connection with a stabbing Thursday night at the Stevens' home on the nearby reserve. Massey is 55 miles west of Sudbury.

Police said a six-inch hunting knife is believed to have been used to inflict two severe wounds on Alfred Efakogan, another reserve Indian. One wound was between the eyes and the other in the left side, between the ribs. Efakogan is in hospital in Blind River and his condition is said to be fair.

The stabbing followed a drinking party held at a dance in a hall near Stevens' house.

Guests told police that at one stage, Stevens grabbed a rifle and threatened to shoot everyone in the house. The rifle was taken from him and everybody but Efakogan and Stevens left.

Casualties In Battle

The field had been used by U.S air transports evacuating civilians before the Reds entered Suwon July 1—one week after invading South Korea.

Gain 20 Miles

Suwon is 120 miles northwest of Waegwan, where the U.S. 24th division advanced two miles to expand the northernmost bridgehead across the Naktong river This was on the highway to Kumchon, Taejon, Suwon and Seoul. Elsewhere on the Pusan perimeter allied forces punched out gains up to 20 miles Friday morning.

The fighting in Seoul's Yongdungpo was hand to hand, in closely-jammed and shell-shattered factory buildings.

The fierceness of the Red resistance in the suburb appeared to foreshadow the same tough struggle in Seoul, a city of 1,000,000 where the Reds have some 18,000 isolated troops.

Associated Press correspondent Tom Lambert, with the forward fighting forces, reported marine casualties at Yongdungpo were "relatively heavy."

In Two Columns

Tank-led marines who crossed the Han Wednesday eight miles northwest of Seoul had split into two columns: one striking southeastward down the railroad tracks to the capital's outskirts, the other hitting for high ground to the north.

The second column reached a high ridge overlooking Seoul from the north where artillery could sweep the approaches from the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang, 120 miles northwest of Seoul.

Marines on the northwest outskirts of Seoul were dug in 2½ miles from the heart of the sprawling capital. They were within sight of Seoul's few tall buildings.

Uncertainty over where the city's limits extend resulted Thursday in a premature report by aerial observers that the marines had entered Seoul proper.

Dig In On Mountain

An estimated 3,000 Reds were reported dug in on South Mountain—a dominating height located in field dispatches only as being near the Han River.

On the northern side of the beachhead arching eastward from the port of Inchon, British and South Korean marines joined in repulsing an attack by some 1,000 Reds on Kimpo Airfield, 12 miles northwest of Seoul. For a while, the Communists had the field under mortar fire.

With the Seoul battle approaching a showdown, United Nations forces in the south expanded the old beachhead in all sectors.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry Division made a spectacular 20-mile thrust north of Tabu.

"She's a rout now," Maj.-Gen. Hobart R. Gay told AP correspondent Jack MacBeth. The First Cavalry commander added: "We've had a great day."

The offensive had carried 32 miles north of Taegu, to within 15 miles of Sangju, on one of the main routes to Seoul. Prisoners were being brought in. More surrenders were expected as hunger becomes more acute in the trapped Red ranks.

The South Korean capital division swept down from high ground overlooking Kigye on the north of the old beachhead and drove 1½ miles farther north. Kigye, 10 miles northwest of the recently-recaptured east coast port of Pohang, was the jumping-off place for a then-menacing Red break-through Sept. 5.

New Emblem For China

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22. —(AP).—A new national emblem symbolizing both the ancient might of China and the ideas of her present Communist leaders was announced Thursday by the Peiping Red radio. The new emblem, in gold and red, consists of the five stars of the Red Chinese flag shown over the Tien 'An Men, or "Gate of Heavenly Peace" which is the main entrance to the former Imperial Palace in Peiping.

Canadian Dollar Soon To Be Revalued—Prediction

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(CP)—The World Telegram and Sun says Thursday that U.S. dollars are flowing into Canada at such a rate that it is only a matter of time when Canadian currency will be revalued to place it on a parity with U.S. funds. The newspaper says in a financial-page story that the net result of a rush of U.S. funds into Dominion securities and bank accounts has been a rise in quoted prices for Canadian bonds in New York.

Previously, it says, bonds could be bought here at discounts up to 18 per cent, compared with the official Canadian currency discount of 10 per cent. Now the discount on such bonds was around 10 per cent.

"The theory is that if Canadian and US dollars are on a parity the New York market ultimately may match the Canadian market on any given bond," the newspaper adds.

Better Position

It says the rush to buy Canadian securities recognizes this and other developments of the Dominion's natural resources.

The newspaper says the explanation of the outflow of US dollars lies in the fact that Canada is in an improved economic position, is expected in some quarters to get large armament orders from the United tSates, and is reversing the trend of the flow of fuel with expected early opening of a pipeline transporting oil into the United States.

It adds that Canada's gold holdings as of July 31 totalled $1,320.-000,000, and now are estimated at $1,500,000,000.

Gardiner Urges Increased Hog Production

GUELPH, Sept. 22—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner urged Canadian farmers Thursday night to go into hog production and put more dollars into their pockets.

In an address before the Rotarians' Farmers' Night banquet here, he said farmers could make more money during the next two years by feeding hogs than in any other way.

"A good eastern crop of feed grain and an abundant supply of frozen western wheat," he said, "should raise the production of hogs over at least two years."

He said that Canada has had no accumulations of surpluses of staple farm products since 1944. There have been temporary surpluses of potatoes, apples, honey, processed milk and cheese. Federal assistance was extended in all cases.

There had been some very rash Canada's butter production had The government, he said, did not plan to have butter for export. statements made about butter. balanced her home requirements almost exactly.

Some 67,000,000 pounds of butter now were in storage, but that was not a surplus. It was the amount of butter produced in the summer which must be carried over for the winter months.

Institute of Aerophysics To Be Opened In Toronto

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP) — The University of Toronto's unique Institute of Aerophysics will be formally opened next Tuesday by Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff, it was announced today. Its main purpose is supersonic research.

The institute, only one of its type in Canada, is located at Downsview Airport, just north of Toronto. Its key piece of equipment is a gleaming steel sphere, higher than a three-storey building.

Air is pumped from the sphere until something better than 99 per cent vacuum is attained. Then, when a valve is opened, the air whooshes back in through the wind tunnel at speeds up to seven times the speed of sound.

Stationary models in the tunnels are studied and shock waves photographed as the air rushes past. The experiments show precisely what would happen if the model itself were travelling thousands of miles an hour.

Train Scientists

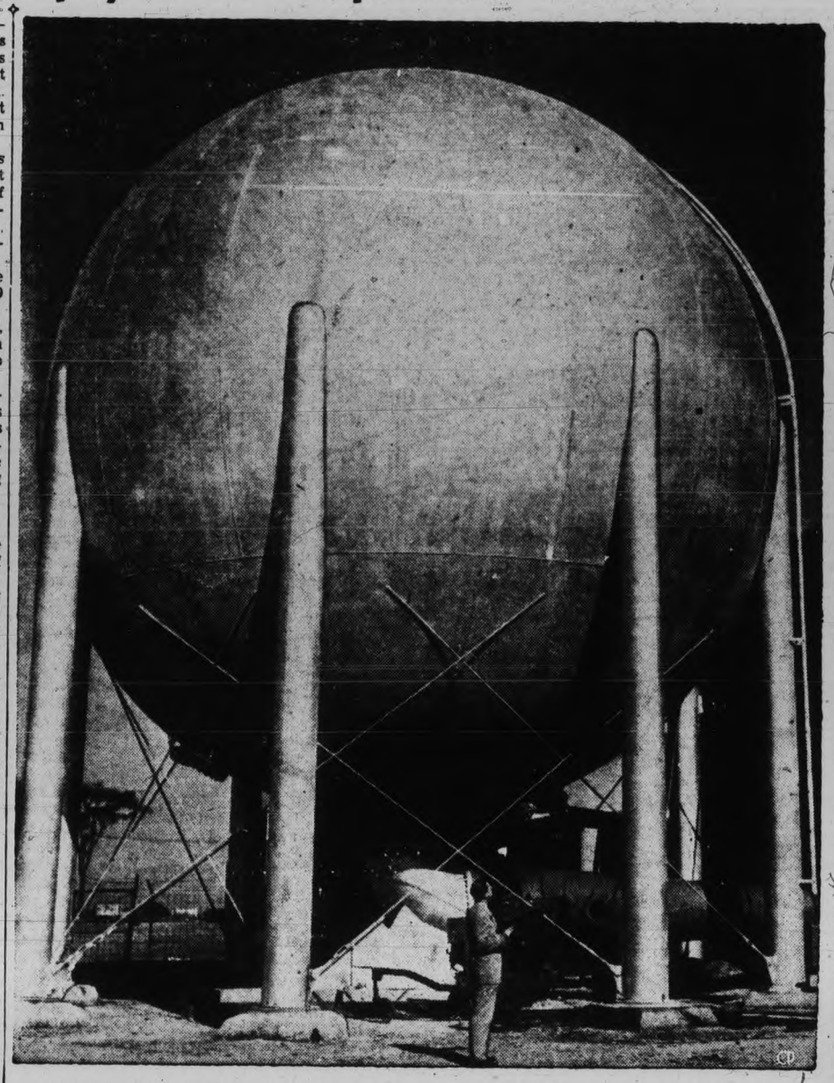
The primary purposes of the institute, built with the aid of federal government grants, are:

1. To train scientists in the basic physics of gases, applied aerodynamics and ballistics with special emphasis on rocket propulsion and supersonic flight.

2. To conduct research in these fields and develop practical applications.

The federal government contributed $250,000 toward the cost of equipment for the institute and another $100,000 to help cover operating costs for the first three years.



Director of the institute and designer of its laboratory is Dr. Gordon N. Patterson, professor of areodynamics at the University of Toronto and one of the continent's most renowned supersonic research scientists.

Dr. Patterson set up the Australian government's laboratory during the war. He is a member of the aerodynamics panel at the United States naval ordnance laboratory at White Oak, Md., where he spends one week in four.

Advisory Committee

An advisory committee has been appointed to keep Dr. Patterson in close touch with design problems encountered by Canadian industry and the armed forces.

Representatives of the forces, of Canadian and United States universities, of the defence research board, the national research council and the Canadian aircraft industry will attend the official opening. Attending in a body will be the Commonwealth Advisory Aeronautical Research Council, comprising delegates from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

SUPERSONIC RESEARCH — Dwarfed by this gleaming steel sphere, higher than a three-storey building, is Dr. Gordon N. Patterson, director of the University of Toronto's Institute of Aerophysics which will be officially opened Sept. 26. Designed by Dr. Patterson, one of the continent's leading authorities on supersonic research, the sphere is one of the key pieces of equipment at the school. By pumping air from the sphere, shown in this photo, 99 per cent vacuum is obtained. Allowing the air to rush back into it, scientists obtain speeds up to seven times the speed of sound.

Three Perish In Fire

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 22. — (AP).—Three small children perished in a flash fire that swept their home while their parents were working in a mill Thursday night. They were Donna, five, Nancy, four, and Donald, three, children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gilley. Their baby-sitter, 14-year-old Greta Merrill, escaped in her nightgown.

Body 1500 Yrs. Old

MOGGERHANGER, Bedfordshire, England, Sept. 22.—(Reuters).—Police were called in from nearby Bedford Thursday when construction men digging in an orchard unearthed a man's skeleton. But it was decided no inquest would be necessary. F. W. Kuhlicke, curator of the Bedford Museum, identified the bones as those of a Saxon man, from 1,100 to 1,500 years old. The teeth were perfectly preserved.

Ask Ersatz Gasoline

BONN, Germany, Sept. 22. — (Reuters). — The Germans, who gave the word "Ersatz" to the world, want Allied permission to resume production of one of their chief wartime products—Ersatz gasoline. The West German labor minister, Anton Storch, said Thursday the Allies will be asked to permit resumption of synthetic gasoline production, banned by the Allies after the war.

6 Scalded To Death

PORT SAID, Egypt, Sept. 22.—(Reuters).—Six persons, including a father, mother and their two children, were scalded to death Thursday when a jet of hot water streamed into their launch. They had just disembarked from the Greek steamer Ionia. The water apparently came from a vent in the side of the ship.

Crew of 53 Lost

TOKYO, Sept. 22—(AP)—All 53 crew members of a Japanese fishing vessel were believed lost today in rough seas off the northwest coast of Honshu. Kyodo News Agency reported the 85-ton vessel radioed for help Thursday. Ships that answered the call found no trace of the distressed vessel.

To Tour Australia

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(Reuters).—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, left today with his wife for a tour of Australia and New Zealand. The head of the Church of England plans to return at the end of January.

Make Commando Raid

HONG KONG, Sept. 22.—(AP).—The pro-Nationalist paper Kung Sheung Daily News said today the Chinese Nationalists made a commando-like raid last week on Namoa Island, 10 miles northeast of Communist Swatow. Unconfirmed elsewhere, this report said the Nationalists withdrew after seizing more than 100 prisoners.

$10.00 TO CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

If This Famous Treatment Doesn't HELP You GREATLY

IF YOU ARE SERIOUSLY ILL, SEE YOUR DOCTOR

BUT

If you have been feeling irritable, restless, tense and jumpy, if your nerves make it difficult for you to get more than three or four hours rest at night, or if your appetite has left you

THEN

There may be no need to get away for a rest, take costly treatments or cause extra expense by family upsets that mean special household help, nursing, or time missed from work, if you act now!

HOW?

By taking the Dr. Chase six week Nerve Food treatment right in your own home and carrying on your regular work or housekeeping duties. In many cases, benefits are felt almost immediately. This well tested and proven formula of Vitamin B1, iron, and other essential minerals will help to restore your nerves to a new quiet strength; will help you to rest better than you have for weeks; will help to improve your appetite so that you are waiting eagerly for every meal.

$10.00

The six week treatment requires six small boxes, ($4.14), or two large-size boxes ($3.58), of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Take them according to the directions enclosed with every box. If at the end of this treatment you are not more than delighted with how much better you feel, return promptly to the Dr. Chase Medicine Co. Ltd., Oakville, Ont., the six direction sheets from the small boxes, or the two large top carton flaps from the large size. Back comes $10.00, (more than twice the cost of the treatment), directly to you. No quibbling, correspondence or delay, and we earnestly suggest that you use this $10.00 to consult your Doctor.

We make this agreement with you to demonstrate, beyond question, the great merits of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. For our files contain thousands of case histories, showing the benefits obtained by taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The records show, that in many of these cases, results were obtained in 21 to 28 days.

Under these conditions you owe it to yourself and your family to get started on this helpful home treatment right away. For either we pay you double the cost of the treatment—or you find out it is worth ten times the cost to you to enjoy a better life—with more relaxing rest—better appetite and a renewed zest for living.

End of Korean War?

The battle for Seoul and the momentum of the present American advances everywhere give some reality to the prediction made last Tuesday by Hume Wrong, Canadian Ambassador to Washington, that the Korean war would soon end. He was addressing a joint meeting of the Canadian and American bar associations in the American capital.

• • •

There are other signs of the beginning of the end. North Korean officials themselves said when the invasion of South Korea began that to succeed, the campaign must be finished off by the end of August. South Korea has not been done in, and Korean Reds must now believe that they have lost—unless China or Russia intervenes directly on their side. The Americans now have a heavy preponderance of military equipment and they have, as they have had from the beginning, complete dominance in the air. North Korea has almost nothing aloft. The United Nations troops are still outnumbered, but not significantly now. The United States itself is turning its official attention away from complete concentration on Korea and the Far East. Once again it is looking toward Europe, planning on sending more arms and men, and spending more billions for its European front against Communism.

• • •

The rout of the Korean Reds will pose problems. Who is going to keep them routed? How? Where—at the 38th parallel, or sitting on them all over Korea? Will U.N. sanction a complete occupation of all Korea? If it did, what would China and Russia from whose territory Korea is a pimple, do then?

• • •

The war has still to be won, but victory seems in the offing. After that the political problems have to be faced. What is the design for meeting them?

Nationalization On A Majority Of Six

Mr. Attlee and his Cabinet have apparently decided to go ahead with the nationalization of Britain's steel industry on the strength of a vote of confidence which gave them a majority of six. This is bold action, indeed, and it seems bolder still when we recall that the Labour Government of Britain polled a smaller vote than the combined vote of the Conservative and Liberal Opposition at the last election, and is therefore, in a sense, a minority government.

Apparently Mr. Attlee has been having trouble with the left wing of the Labour party, which thinks that he is not zealous enough in carrying out the socialist program. It is suggested that his eagerness to go ahead with the nationalization of steel is a means of silencing this criticism. If that is the case, it is a poor excuse, and it may not be long before the Labour party suffers for it.

Reforms and changes on a large scale should not be attempted by a government which is not certain that it represents an unmistakeable majority of the people. This certainly cannot be said of the Labour Government. The determination which the Labour Government shows in this matter may very easily alienate great numbers of moderate socialists who think that such action is a flouting of public opinion. But once the steel industry has been nationalized, it will not be possible to unnationalize it. As Mr. Churchill has said, you cannot unscramble scrambled eggs.

There has been no very strong evidence that the steel industry needs to be nationalized; it appears to be working as efficiently as any industry can do under the conditions in Britain today, which are the result of fifteen years of disorganization. Steel is being nationalized to fit a socialist program, rather than because of any real need to clean up or re-organize the industry.

Labour has not been very successful with its program of nationalization. The railways under national management have been a little less efficient than they were before. The coal mines under national ownership have certainly given the miners better conditions of work, but these improved conditions have not resulted in an increase in coal production. What reason is there to suppose that steel production will be increased, or even maintained at its present level, under national direction? And this is a time when Britain, like other democracies, cannot afford anything which may interfere with the production of necessary materials for armaments.

Mr. Attlee has taken a very long chance on a majority of six. No doubt he has reckoned the cost carefully, but we shall not be surprised if it proves that his reckoning was faulty.

Dr. Malan Foregoes Isolation

Dr. Malan, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa is cultivating friendly relations with the rest of the Commonwealth, and the democratic world which he has affronted for years. He said this week in Durban "anti-British and isolation bogeys are dead". Well, that is nice to know. Dr. Malan realizes that South Africa perched by itself alone at the southern end of a continent may need warm friends and armed allies. But to cultivate them will require a little more than gestures. British liberalism and American belief in equality and freedom have been shocked by his nationalism and policies of racial segregation. They have been disturbed by his virtual seizure of the native protectorate, formerly German West Africa, to which the Union has no title recognized by other nations. Other Commonwealth countries and the United States would undoubtedly like to see a change in Prime Minister Malan's domestic policies before they clasp him—not so long ago an admirer of the Nazis—to their bosoms.

Will Russia Risk War?

The difference between rousing a people to the need for adequate defensive measures and dinning war-cries into their ears is as great as the difference between preparing against war and preparing to make war. There is so much belligerent propaganda against Russia on this continent that the difference between national preparedness and outright aggressiveness has been blurred in many people's minds. The accusation of war-mongering can be made against Americans with some justification. War is never inevitable, but American tactics since 1948 make it surer than Russian tactics since 1945 have done. It sometimes seems that it is the U.S.A., not Russia, which is most ready to risk war.

There is much evidence to indicate that Russia in fact does not want to become involved in a major war, now, three years or a decade hence. She has patently stayed out of Korea. She has her hands full in Europe. The Molotov Plan, the Communist answer to the Marshall Plan, which was started eighteen months ago, is not working at all well for the countries outside the borders of Russia. E.R.P. dollars (Marshall Aid) have done wonders in Western Europe; the Cominform's Council for Mutual Economic Assistance has wrought ill by Russia's satellites. When it was first formed, the CMEA was greeted with enthusiasm by countries within Russia's sphere. But in practice, it has operated entirely for the economic interests of the U.S.S.R. and ignored the national interests of the satellite countries.

An informed observer of eastern European affairs, A. V. Sherman, has said in a special article which we published on this page on Tuesday, that:

> The working of CMEA and the Molotov Plan in practice is now leading to growing political and economic resistance. As they see their standard of living being reduced rather than raised, the workers are going slow and the peasants hiding their crops. Recent statements by satellite Communist parties show that they have purged from a tenth to a fifth of their membership, varying according to country. The use by Stalin of Hitler's method of economic negotiation at pistol-point is resulting in a distorted economic development of Eastern Europe and arousing, slowly but surely, the same resistance.

Does Russia want war now, having the restive peoples of half a dozen countries at her door? And will she be able to risk war ten years from now, by which time countries like Bulgaria, Romania and Poland may have been driven by ruthless Russian economic despotism into Titoism?

These are a few pieces in a jig-saw pattern of many pieces which, when cooly put together, may give a picture far difference from the present American view of Russia's belligerency.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Miss Violet Pretty has been chosen as Britain's Beauty Queen for 1950. Unfair advantage? She was born Pretty!

In Egypt a man is now permitted an old-age pension for only one wife. That's a mean way to discourage the keeping of harems!

A contemporary urges that "dangling dickey-birds" on the windshields of cars be made illegal. What about outlawing some of those funny birds behind the wheel?

A news item reports that the girl who won the Miss British Columbia beauty title "did it without a bathing suit". But just when we had booked our ticket for B.C. we learned that she wore a gingham dress. We are entering suit against the B.C. Tourist Bureau for spreading false information

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: There used to be a pamphlet published by the Examiner telling the meaning of the war memorial in Confederation Park. Would you be kind enough to give us this matter in your column?

And is the City Hall to be built of the usual ugly red brick?

ANSWER: Thanks for your questions. (1) The War Memorial. I believe the pamphlet you refer to gives this high-flown description, penned, I suspect by some gentle lady of sentiment and patriotism. (The description and photograph are presently in the centenary library exhibit.) "The pedestal is granite and carved on it are the inscription and names of those of our own who gave their lives in the fray. Above are two artistic and beautiful bronze figures of heroic dimensions. The left figure (i.e. the rear one) represents the enemy, full of rage, hate and fury, destroying all in his downward path. In his left hand is a burning torch, but the sword has fallen from his right hand, for in his mad haste he suddenly sees before him the majestic figure of the knight, typical of the Canadian valour of our own dear dead boys. There he stands, calm, strong and dignified, sword in right hand, but the left raised in warning and command to come no farther or take the consequences. The foe lets his sword clatter to the ground and covers his face in token of despair and the sure defeat he sees awaiting him."

It is one of the virtues of a work of art (and Peterborough's Great War memorial is a work of art, really fine; it was designed by Walter Allward who did the Vimy Ridge memorial) that different people can see different things in it. After reading this exalted—and somewhat contradictory — explanation, I went over to take another look at the two figures. The strong, recoiling rear figure has a Martian helmet, and small wings. Perhaps "the enemy" had wings, but I doubt that this figure is merely a representation of "the enemy". The noble warrior restraining him has a magnificent torso but a weaker, gentler face than "the enemy". Further, his shield is on his back, his breast is bare.

I would not dare give as specific an interpretation as the printed one. It seems an allegorical representation of peace and war; righteousness triumphing over evil. It is the theme of Book VI of Milton's "Paradise Lost", when Michael, "of celestial armies Prince" leads forth "my armed Saints" to do battle with the hosts of Lucifer (Satan), who is the fallen archangel. (This would explain the wings on the rear figure, but not the lack of them on the other one.) In Milton's story,

> A noble stroke he (Michael) lifted high
> On the proud crest of Satan....
> ....Ten paces huge
> He (Satan) back recoiled.

And Michael split Satan's sword in half, as the rear figure's sword is broken. Incidentally the Knightly figure's shield bears St. George's cross.

The symbolism of the sculpture is clear in its main outline: clothed with the breastplate of righteousness, and armed with the sword of justice, virtue halts, stuns and nobly vanquishes such an evil as war.

It has been suggested that the figures represent the Council recoiling before the uprightness of Mr. Dick Ouimet and his potato-chip-wagon supporters. This is just somebody's waggish fancy, for I am sure that the statuary antedates the chip-wagon controversy.

(2) City Hall: No, it is being built of stone, not brick. But why the aspersions against red brick? Some of the finest buildings in the world are of red brick, e.g. in old Frankfort (its cathedral) in Stratford, (the modern Shakespearean theatre). One of the best walls we have in Peterborough is the long red brick west wall of the C.G.E. building backing on Monaghan Road.

DEAR ALPHA: I was interested in the account of the Youth Hostel being started in a former church building at Fenelon Falls, and would like to know about other such projects. Are there other Youth Hostels in Ontario and Quebec and are they patterned after the ones in England and Wales?

ANSWER: The Youth Hostel Association of Canada has the purposes and practices of the older Y.H.A.'s in Britain, Germany, Sweden and the like. Owing to the vast distances and scattered population here, the Youth Hostels are in pockets, rather than in chains in Canada. There are some in the Eastern Townships, some in B.C., various other groups. For administrative purposes there are five regional areas and offices: Maritimes, St. Lawrence, Great Lakes, Mountain and Pacific. You can have more information by writing to the National Secretary's office, Canadian Youth Hostels Association, 1A Classic Ave., Toronto 5.

NOTE: Slight substantiation is given the rumour that a negro was mayor of Peterborough in the 1850's. (I dealt at some length with this story last year, suggesting that it was a one-day, back-store bit of local political waggery, when the man was elected by default.) Mr. Pammett, in last week's instalment of his history, mentions that according to the 1848 census there was one negro living in Peterborough.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Brought in by a gentleman from Lakefield in person. He brow-beat some timid young ladies in the premises below and thundered "Where's Alpha?" They said: "That's a name de plum. He is an invisible voice and can't be seen. You can't see him." But the gentleman persisted and presently was directed to my cage in the floor above, where he found me nervously dunking cheese in a cup of tea.

He said: "Hello. So you're Alpha. You said last week you wanted questions. Here's one and what I don't know, you're supposed to. Where in hell is my wife?" That shook the cheese out of the tea-cup!

Then he elaborated. "I mean, where is that line of verse found? It's in an American humorous poem about Orpheus and Euridice. You remember, the classical story, how Orpheus has been granted permission to go to Hell to fetch his wife Euridice who, bitten by a serpent, died and went to the infernal regions. Well, one line of the American poem goes, that Orpheus stood at the portals of the underworld and shouted 'Where in hell is my wife?'" My Lakefield gentleman, besides offering the interesting question, warmly praised this column: "I read it every Friday first thing. Wouldn't miss it for the world. You can't, you mustn't stop it". All of which was highly flattering to Alpha's ego, which has not been stroked too often by readers. In fact, sometimes I have wondered if I am the only one who reads the thing, apart from the people looking for an answer to the specific question they have sent in... Question? What was my Lakefield gentleman's question? It is: Who wrote the poem, and where can a copy of it be found? Other readers who have a whiff of it, please blow the thing this way....

FOR THE RECORD. On Sunday morning Peterborough goes back to Standard Time. Toronto has inconveniently decided to stay on Daylight Saving Time until November 26th. Last year, when that metropolis chose a similar late date for the return to Standard Time, Peterborough city fathers, after much vacillation, kept us on D.S.T. to November 27th too....Christmas is now 94 days away, and this year it falls on a Monday.

FLYING SAUCERS AGAIN!

French Concern at British Defence Plans

By FLORA LEWIS

FOLLOWING the hurrahs of relief with which the French greeted General George Marshall's appointment as Secretary of Defence in Washington there have been expressions here of hope that some similar or perhaps less dramatic shifts may take place in Britain.

To the French, the main significance of Marshall's appointment is reaffirmation of the "Europe first" policy. Now that the question seems to be settled in the United States concern over Britain's attitude towards the continent has begun to mount. The French are not so sure that Britain, as they would wish, also intends to devote its main effort to Europe.

The first reaction here to Prime Minister Attlee's announcement of British re-armament plans was one of pleasure, but, on second thoughts responsible French quarters have questioned both the adequacy and the intention of Britain's plans.

It had been hoped that Britain would send three rather than one new division to Germany. Even more important, according to the newspaper Le Monde, is the fact that Mr. Attlee's goal of 22 British divisions does not specify how much is to be allocated to continental defence. "Le Monde" feared the figure would be low.

Despite French interests overseas there is a natural tendency here to insist that continental Europe has a massive defence priority over any other area. Britain's more global concerns are regarded wearily. Le Monde complained "the participation Mr. Attlee offers for the defence of Europe is so slender that it seems to imply abandonment of the continent at the first attack, unless France and the United States are counted upon to hold back the invasion".

Britain's refusal to take part in the Schuman Plan for pooling European coal and steel resources and British opposition in the past to attempts at strengthening the Strasbourg Council of Europe have reinforced French suspicion.

THIS does not mean that there is any clear-cut doubt of British plans but rather a vague uneasiness, constantly shaped and modified by daily developments. There is, of course, a certain amount of inverse jealously about everyone doing his fair share for defence. The French have, however, found some reassurance in what they consider "the European approach" that the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, has taken to German rearmament. It is not only the old fear of Germany and the very important domestic political troubles which might follow re-establishment of German Army that worry the French. They also feel that since there is a limit to how much aid America can send, a decision to form full-fledged German divisions now would inevitably reduce the quantity of help France could expect.

The French press, with appropriate note of British support for the French position, has forecast a compromise on Germany, in the New York meeting of the Western Foreign Ministers. It is clear that the attitude of the French Foreign Minister M. Robert Schuman is popular here in so far as any concession to Germany can be popular. The defence of Germany is nothing more than an ugly necessity to the French who do not see the Germans as the comforting buffer that Americans seem to find them. There is a growing willingness here to let Germany produce materials, perhaps even weapons for Western defence, but most Frenchmen would vastly prefer to have the output in their own arsenals.

Apart from Germany, the main French interest in the New York meeting is to discover just what help can be expected from the United States. The fortnight before the Conference had brought the Franco-American discussions to an impasse in which the French were saying, "Tell us what you can send and we will tell you how much more we can do" and the Americans were replying "Decide first exactly what you will do and we will then tell you how much we can add to your efforts".

The conflict on Germany has led to anxiety that a bargain may be proposed to exchange the increased American aid, particularly the financial aid which France requires as much as or more than equipment, in return for French and British acceptance of the formation of German divisions.

FORTUNATELY for the Government there seems to have been a consolidation of opinion backing the rearmament programme, with the exception of the Communists. The Communists have intensified their campaign against any and all defence measures in step with the Government's determination to take them. At the moment, they are seeking to arouse opposition to the extension of military service from one year to 18 months but, it appears, without any considerable success.

Threats of political strikes no longer carry the same menace as they did a year ago. It is no longer considered possible that the Communists could succeed in any large-scale disruption of the country's economy, unless they can find good economic reasons to call the workers out. But the rearmament programme, if improperly managed, could unleash economic evils that would provide these reasons.

(Special to The Examiner from the London Observer.)

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Let his mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. (Phil. 2: 5-9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (I Pet. 1: 3-5.)

Reds, Westerners Work On Air Safety

By DANIEL DELUCE

BERLIN, Sept. 22 —(AP)— A funereal calm hangs over room 179—the last room in Berlin where Russians and westerners work at the same table.

The Soviet lieutenant on duty looks glum and bored. He taps idly with a pencil on his log book, in which he has written scarcely 20 lines.

An American sergeant at the other end of the table wonders aloud how he'll like being a civilian again after 21 years in uniform.

A staff sergeant from London tells of the job he might go back to in his family's pub in Fleet Street.

Room 179 is on the ground floor of a building on Potsdamerstrasse. Two hundred rooms were booked there for the allied control authority back in the Potsdam era.

Few Rooms Used

Nearly all the rooms are unused and locked. The only one that Russians come to is 179. A sign on the door says: "Allied air safetly centre."

In room 179 Russia and the west do two things: Exchange flight plans for aircraft in the three 20-mile-wide Berlin corridors, and deliver protests against each for violating four-power traffic rules.

Nobody gets much in the way of apology or regrets. The violations are relatively harmless. An American airliner cuts a corner of Soviet-occupied Thuringia. A formation of Russian jets skims the outskirts of West Berlin.

Only Serious Incident

The only serious east-west aerial incident occurred early in 1948. A Soviet fighter collided with a British transport, but the west's verdict was that it was a Russian pilot's error, not intentional.

When the allied air lift was roaring at full strength in a single day—1,398 flights delivered 12,940 tons to Berlin—the Russians at the centre arranged for western rescue parties to reach lift planes which had crashed in the Soviet zone. These courtesies were appreciated but weren't the stuff that headlines are made of.

Traffic now rarely exceeds 25 American and British planes in a day. The French have a couple. The Russians each morning announce in vague terms the day's operations for hundreds of fighter planes at their air bases in the corridors.

Of all the vast array of inter-allied agencies created in 1945, the Air Safety Centre along has survived without a Soviet rupture.

The unwritten rule of the Air Safetly Centre is: "No politics here."

If War Comes To West Coast Lytton, BC, Likely First Target

By DAVE McINTOSH

LYTTON, B.C., Sept. 22 (CP)— If war ever comes to Canada's west coast, this village of 500 hanging on a ledge in the Fraser Canyon might be one of the first targets of enemy bombs.

Here, at the junction of the Thompson and Fraser Rivers, lie within 50 yards of one another the two trans-continental rail lines and the Trans-Canada Highway.

One well-placed bomb could knock out all three. This also might be done at other points along the canyon. But nowhere do the three come so close together. Such an attack would leave only a highway over Allison Pass near the United States border and through the Okanagan Valley to connect Vancouver with the rest of Canada.

If the residents realize they are sitting on a potential hot spot they give no sign of it. One shrugged and said: "With atom bombs, who's safe anywhere? Anyway, why say there might be a war? There might not, too."

Unique Spot

The Canadian National Railways line winds down the north bank of the Thompson, the Canadian Pacific Railway line down the south. At Lytton, the CNR crosses the Thompson and its station is just a few yards below the CPR stop. This is possibly the only place in Canada where the trains go across your roof and through your cellar at the same time.

After the stop, CNR trains cross to the west bank of the Fraser. Six miles south of here at Cisco, the lines swap river banks again via two bridges, one almost atop the other, and continue 170 miles on to Vancouver on either side of the Fraser.

The Trans-Canada Highway runs through Lytton just above the railroad tracks. Some of the road's tortuous turns now are being taken out and cliffsides blasted away. The loose rock can't be dumped down the precipice because the rail lines lie below. It has to be carted away truckload by truckload. The job, part of the Trans-Canada Highway project, will be complete in about four years.

Need Steady Nerves

At Hell's Gate, 36 miles south of here, the road rises to 800 feet directly above the boiling river. There are no guard rails most of the way down the Thompson and Fraser Canyons from Savona to Hope—a distance of 145 miles—and you have to have steady nerves to drive the road. Despite this, there hasn't been a fatality on this section of road in five years.

Lytton people say they are filthy rich. All spring, summer and fall the dust swirls in their faces: Lyttin is one of the hottest places in Canada. This dust is laden with gold particles. Though not worth mining today, there is still gold in this shelf of rock.

Harry Binks, '68 Widely Mourned

ROSENEATH, Sept. 22 (ENS) The funeral service for the late Harry Binks was held on Wednesday at his late residence near Fenella. The Rev. R. C. White, pastor of Fenella United Church conducted the service.

Born in England 68 years ago, emigrating to Canada at an early age, Mr. Binks spent the greater part of his life in this district. His death occurred on Monday, following a lengthy illness.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elma Rogers of Fenella.

Interment was in Bethany (Macklin's) cemetery. The long cortege showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were neighbors of the deceased. Messrs. Frank George, James Curtis, Fred Talling, Norman Jewell, William Montgomery and N. C. Leach. Neighbors also carried the large number of floral tributes, namely: Messrs. Hugh Sherwin, Elderidge Sherwin, Delbert Adams, Frank Adams, Herman Davis, Hilton Jewell, Laurie Hope and Charles Barker.

Home And School Unit To Be Discussed

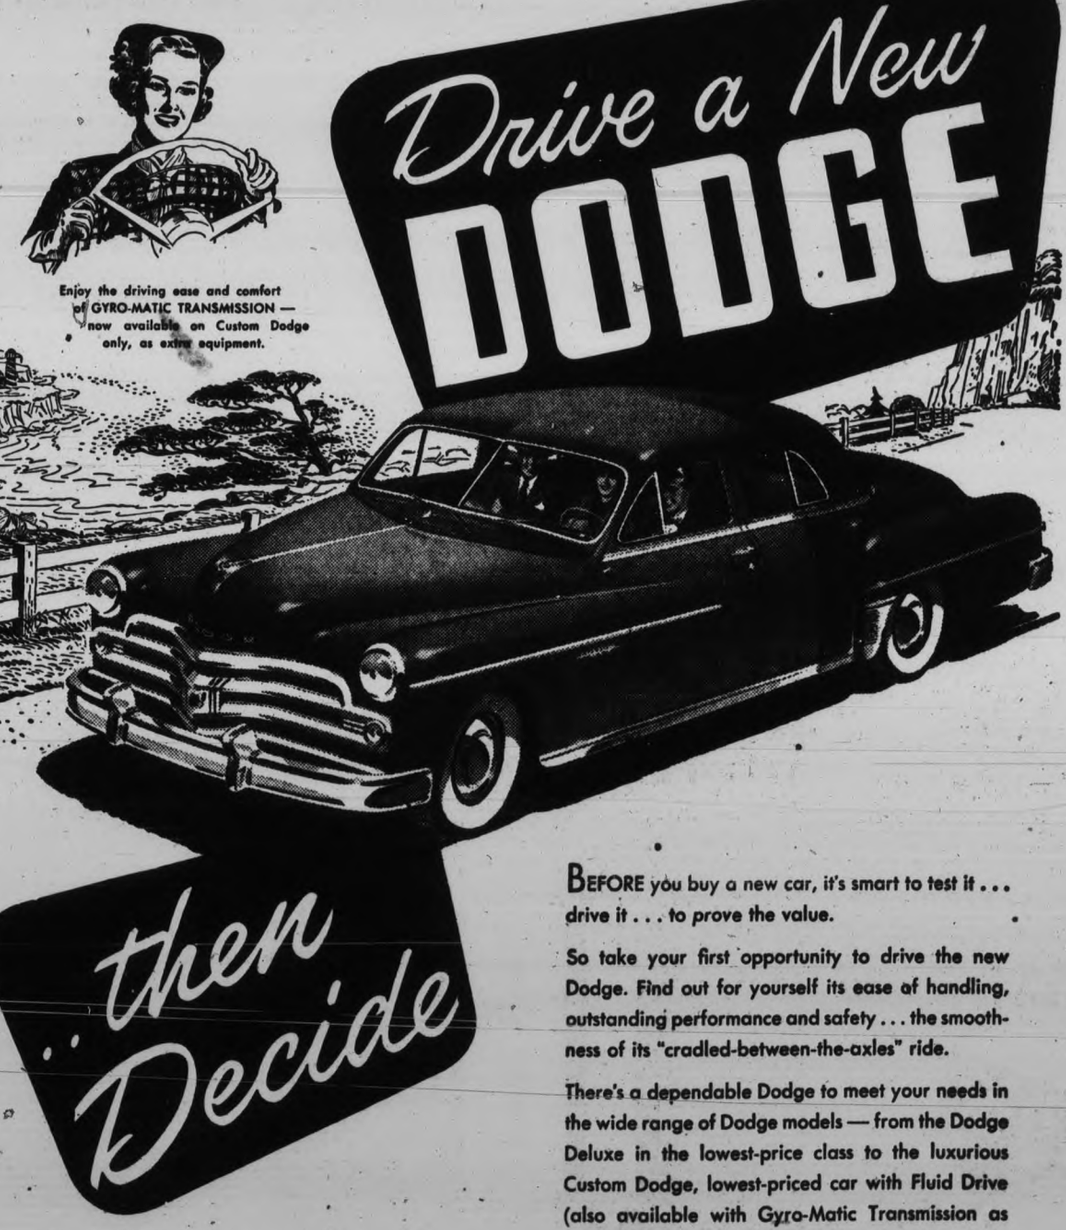
NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS)— Upon the suggestion that a Home and School Association be formed in Norwood plans have been made to hold an organization meeting Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m. in the public school. Anyone interested is asked to attend. The Home and School organizer for Peterborough county and the vice-president of the Ontario Home and School Association plan to be present for the meeting.



The public school opened this year with an enrolment of 212 students. During the summer the school board equipped the crafts room as a grade room and engaged a teacher for the new class. The teaching staff now includes Miss Beatrice Borland, Mrs. Jean McMillan, Mrs. Reta Pakenham, Duncan Sinclair, Mrs. Mary Small and Kenneth Trumpour.

Wounded Woman Not Expected To Live

STRATFORD, Sept. 22—(CP)— Lorene Jacques, 25, of Woodham, Ont., was admitted to hospital here Thursday with a gunshot wound in the abdomen, suffered early in the day.

An emergency operation was performed but hospital authorities said they did not expect her to live.

Provincial police from Stratford are investigating the shooting.

East City Defeats Mutuals To Win Wm. Taylor Trophy

East City trimmed Mutuals 9-3 at the Bowl last night before a small crowd to take the City Softball League championship and the Wm. Taylor Trophy, winning the four-in-seven finals four games to two. The series had been resumed after a protest and a default by Mutuals, but it was ended up properly on the field of play with the Ashburnham outfit earning the title all the way.

The victors had good pitching from Terry Woods and they hustled throughout, cashing in on every chance to get a run as they piled up the lead. Both sides were rather loose in the field but it was an interesting game as Mutuals came on late in the fray to threaten. There were no hard feelings shown and the umpiring was good. The losers congratulated the winners at the finish. Catcher Al Menzies was ejected in the seventh for arguing too hotly with Umpire Bill Leggitt on a plate decision.

Terry Good

Tall Terry Woods scattered nine hits in a fine slab showing, getting good support by East City most of the route. George Hunter went pretty well, too, until running into trouble in the seventh. Howie Dalton, in a relief role, looked real good the rest of the way. A double-play by East City and a catch by Spencer were fielding features.

George Sullivan and Jake Wade were the big stickers for the city champions, each coming through with three for five, Wade having two doubles and Red one. Red Carpenter of Mutuals clicked for two in three, while Bob Crowe had three hits in five tries, and Howie Dalton banged out a homer over the right field fence. Despite some miscues on both sides, the rivals were on the hop all the way, but East City proved better opportunists to earn the title.

Parkway Leads Way In Major Bowling

Parkway took both high pinnage with 3,218 and high single game with a 1,227 count to lead the way in the Major Bowling League at Playfair this week. M. Dorris had top triple of 818 and the best single—a neat chore. H. Legrow clicked for 329, P. Meraw had a 324, B. McCarrell and B. Harris 320, and J. Lowrey 304.

Edgewater took six points from Kawartha Deaf Club as Parkway took six from Woods. There were 4-2 wins for Bassels over McWilliams, Wonder Bread against Modern Tailors, Caccavella's crew over Odeon, Mongraw's from Plazas, Wade's over Calverts, Bickells against McLeod's, Post Office over Crowley's, Hunts from Campbell's, Bailey's over B.A., and Selkirk's over Coughlin.

To Coach North Bay

NORTH BAY, Sept. 22 (CP).—Bucko McDonald announced on Thursday he will coach North Bay Black Hawks in the Eastern Canada Senior Hockey League this year. The former defence star has been playing coach of Sundridge Beavers for the last four seasons when the Beavers have won two Ontario intermediate B titles.

Wings Square Accounts With Orioles

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP).—Tom Poholsky, ace right-hander of Rochester Red Wings, picked an opportune moment to square accounts with Baltimore Orioles.

Poholsky won 18 games during the regular season but failed to beat the Orioles, who defeated him three times.

The 21-year-old righthander got his revenge Thursday night as he pitched the Wings to a 12-2 victory over the Orioles in the opening game of the best-of-seven International League final playoffs.

Poholsky turned in a neat six-hitter, but lost a shutout when Clyde Kluttz poled a two-run homer in the second inning.

Kluttz' belt put Baltimore ahead 2-1, but the Wings came back in their half of the second with a five-run barrage that routed starter Bob Raney. Don Richmond featured the uprising with a three-run homer. Russ Derry and Don Bollweg also homered for the winners, who belted ou' 15 hits. Dick Cole and Larry Ciaffone collected three hits apiece and each scored three times.

Play Second Game

The second game will be played here tonight. Either Eddie Yuhas or Jackie Collmun will pitch for Rochester against Irv Medlinger or Tommy Fine.

The third, fourth and fifth games of the series will be in Baltimore Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights. Remaining games if necessary will be played in Rochester. The winner then will meet the American Association's playoff winner, either Columbus or Indianapolis, in the Little World Series.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Here's what happened out at the greens last night. V. Hill's rink won the playoff for No. 2 group honors. H. Staunton won the semi-final game in the club singles from A. Mauder, and when Mrs. F. Staunton won from Mrs. H. Beatty, Mrs. P. Moore's rink slipped through to win the ladies' club championship with a total of 31 points. The group winners are:

No. 1—S. Cummings, I. Cipen, F. Worsencroft, R. Hopkins, skip.

No. 2—A. W. Lean, F. Turner, W. Saunders, V. Selkirk, skip.

No. 3—G. Lancaster, C. Mowry, H. Allison, S. Shields, skip.

Ladies' championship—Mrs. C. Parker, Mrs. M. Lauder, Mrs. A. Jackson, Mrs. P. Moore, skip.

Tonight we have the men's doubles tournament at 7:15 o'clock. Choose your own partner and be on time.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock mixed doubles tournament.

Tomorrow evening the Family Hour tournament.

Down in Port Hope on Wednesday our ladies did fairly well, coming away with the major prizes.

First three wins — Mrs. L. Yeotes and Mrs. L. Bearne, skip.

High two wins—Mrs. H. Beatty and Mrs. F. Dawe, skip.

High one win—Mrs. J. Kingsbury and Mrs. W. Hepburn, skip.

Race PostPoned

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 22 (AP) The postponed $56,000 "Little Brown Jug" is set to go today—unless the weatherman takes a hand again. Heavy rain and a flooded track washed out the three-year-old racing classic on Thursday. Fire hose was used to pump some of the standing water from the half-mile track at the county fairgrounds, and gasoline was on hand to help dry the oval should the showers cease.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It's football tonight at Morrow Park under the lights. At 6.30, Alex Londry's PCVS juniors have an exhibition with Fred Allore's senior St. Peter's. This is followed by an exhibish betwixt Runnymede Collegiate of Toronto and Bev Goulding's senior PCI-ers. Two good grid games expected to open the local nigh school season, with cheer leaders, color, and no doubt a big crowd. Next week-end has PCVS seniors at East York, while St. Peter's play St. Mike's in Toronto. The junior PCI-ers next week-end go to Oshawa—junior "A", that is—and PCVS takes on St. Peter's in junior "B" here Oct. 4.

* * * * * *

Harv Bamforth's local Orfuns are off to Cobourg tomorrow for an afternoon game with the Galloping Ghosts. A 2.30 touch in the ORFU senior "B" schedule. This one should be a tough tilt. Both squads have bolstered plenty and the Rapid Wraiths won their opener over Orillia while Orfuns lost 1-0 to Oshawa. The Bamforth band has its full quota of imports now, with a couple more seniors from Beaches—along with their Ottawa huskies—so they'll be mighty hard to beat from here on in. But then the Speedy Spirits of Cobourg are definitely not pushovers. And there's a lot of rivalry between these two squads. Orillia comes here next Wednesday night.

About Those Protests

Foresters protested the 6-0 win of Bell Telephone over them the other night to open the three-of-five Civic Softball League finals. The teams go again at 6.15 tonight in Armour Field. What interests us is that Foresters base their protest on the pitching delivery of Harrison of Bell. 'Twas only Monday when trouble arose in a City Softball League playoff at the Bowl. East City claimed Bob Greenlaw was pitching with an illegal delivery, taking an extra step. Umpire Holly Mowry began calling "balls" and the Mutuals protested the game. The loop executive tossed out the protest, saying it was a matter of the umpire's judgement. Well, sometimes yes, sometimes no. There's a rule on it and we'll quote part, at the request of the Foresters.

* * * * * *

Rule 26, Sec. 1: "Preliminary to pitching, the pitcher shall take his position facing home plate with both feet on top of the pitcher's plate or one foot on top and the other in contact with same, and in the act of delivering the ball to the batsman he must keep one foot in contact. He shall not raise either foot until in the act of delivering the ball, nor may he make more than one step in such delivery. Before delivering the pitcher must face the batsman with the ball in front of him. The arm, however, must be swung parallel with the body (underhand). Pitcher in starting his delivery may touch the ball twice but must be in continuous motion, and on the first or second forward movement must release the ball to the batter." If the guy violates the rule, the pitch is illegal, time is called immediately by the umpire and a ball is called on the batter.

* * * * * *

East City Are Champs

The men's city softball finals were finally wrapped up at the Bowl last night with East City winning 9-3 o'er Mutuals. It gave 'em the title and the Taylor Trophy four games to two, and it was done on the field—not in a committee room. Everyone was satisfied, including Mutuals. The latter club wanted it played off before George Sullivan (classy East City player) left today for the pro puck wars. Everyone showed good sportsmanship last night, and the East City crew are worthy champs. A real bunch of battlers, and we are glad that Terry Woods—who kept the team in there through the first half of the schedule—was the winning hurler in the final fray.

* * * * * *

Al Watkins received word last night from the OBA that the Ottawa peewees would be here at three Saturday aft in Riverside to play Bill Post's local squad. First of a two-in-three provincial semi-final, return being a week later in Ottawa. Ed Woodcock's bantams are still idle and probably will be for another week. Efforts to bring the Ottawa bantams here this week-end failed, and the local team declined to play in the capital on Sunday. Some of the parents here don't believe in Sunday sports. Anyway, there's an OBA peewee playoff here tomorrow and we hope it draws a good crowd.

Harried Hayman Seeking Fast Backfielder In Rush

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP). — Anybody happen to notice a fast backfielder around? Coach Lew Hayman of the Montreal Alouettes football club is looking for one—or even a couple.

The harried maestro needs two backs to give a little oomph to his groggy Canadian champions. What with injuries and an inexplicable lack of punch, Hayman has been driven almost to the point of distraction.

The Montreal football faithful have gone all the way.

In the last three games — all shocking losses—any resemblance of Alouettes to their Grey Cup championship status has been not only incidental but largely accidental.

Affairs reached such a state before last week's game at Ottawa that president Leo Dandurand said flatly there was too much complacency and smugness about the squad.

Changed Minds

But I think their mental attitude has changed now," he said today. "They have just about had that sort of stuff knocked out of them."

Dandurand pointed to the long list of injuries that has beset the club, in addition to the indifferent display of many.

The collapse of the 1949 champions has had Hayman trying frantically to put his finger exactly on the reason or reasons associated therewith.

Lack of condition, mental attitude and just plain dumbness have been advanced by scores of football fans.

In the backfield, Hayman has three uninjured regulars—Virgil Wagner, Rod Pantages and Tommy Manastersky.

Pete Thodos, Joey Pal and Bobby Cunningham are still out with injuries. Frankie Filchock has played with a damaged finger and shoulder injury. Both his passing and prestige suffered.

Johnny Harper and Bruce Coulter, chest injuries and all, will go against Hamilton Tiger-Cats Saturday.

Definite decision about Ab Box may not be made until closer to game time. The 41-year-old ex-Argo was hauled out of retirement to handle the kicking last Saturday. He was stiff and sore after the chore and has had business interests up north to look after this week.

Proximity Loses First Race In 1950 Season

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 22 — (AP).—Just when it seemed that Proximity was likely to go through the 1950 harness racing season without losing a race, the great eight-year-old mare went down to defeat.

It happened Thursday night in the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot at Roosevelt Raceway. The winner was Pronto Don, a five-year-old gelding owned by the Hayes Fair Acres stable of Du Quoin, Ill., a $9. second choice to the odds-on Proximity. He took the $22,500 first money by a nose.

Demon Hanover, the 1948 victor owned and driven by Harrison Hoyt of Bethel, Conn., was second—where he performed most of the trip.

Proximity might have won but for breaking stride in the final eighth of a mile. She finished third and duplicated her race of a year ago, when she also broke and wound up third.

First Loss

Owned by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst of Victor, N. Y., and driven as usual by Clint Hodgins the Clandeboye, Ont., reinsman, Proximity went into Thursday night's event with a 1950 record of winning 18 of 21 heats. Although beaten in three heats, she had not been defeated in a race this season.

Greatest money winner in harness-racing history, Proximity picked up $7,500 for finishing third, boosting her all-time total earnings to $244,254.

The veteran Sep Palin of Indianapolis sent Pronto Don to the front in the first half-mile and kept him there for the remainder of the long trip—four circuits of the half-mile oval. Pronto Don's time was not sensational—4:20 2-5 over a strip only slightly dulled by drizzling rain. When Proximity won the race in 1948, she set a world record of 4:17.

Bethany Triumphs

Two champion teams, Kendal on top for South Durham and Bethany for North Durham, played the second of a two out of three series in the Durham County finals in Kendal on Wednesday night, with Bethany winning by a 12-8 score.

Edmunds on the mound for Bethany was in top form, Reynolds receiving, the pitcher and catcher were also the star batters.

Quantril started on the mound for Kendal and was replaced by Cornish in the fourth; Winters receiving.

The teams:

Bethany—Edmunds p, Reynolds c, Sisson 1b, Stewart 2b, H. Ryley 3b, Ginn ss, Smith and B. Ryley lf, Lowes cf, Kerr rf.

Kendal—Quantril and Cornish p, Winters c, Thompson 1b, Cornish and Quantril 2b, Armstrong 3b, Gilmer cf, West lf, Kenny rf.

| | R | H |
|---|---|---|
| Bethany .....212 250 0 | 12 | 15 |
| Kendal .....031 202 0 | 8 | 11 |

Umpires: Borland of Peterborough, at plate; Cameron and Devine of Port Hope, on bases.

The final game will be played on neutral ground at Bailieboro, September 27 at four o'clock standard time.

BOOTS ONE OUT — Gerry McNeil, Montreal Canadiens new netminder, boots one out as the National Hockey League squad opens training for the 1950-51 season at the Montreal Forum. McNeil, last year with Cincinnati Mohawks of the American Hockey League, succeeds veteran Bill Durnan who has retired after seven seasons in the NHL.

P Of W Lose To King George

King George intermediate soccer eleven now lead with two wins in the first week of Public School soccer. They defeated Prince of Wales 2-0 Thursday afternoon on King George school grounds.

Prince of Wales opened up with a burst of speed but wilted later to allow Dorrington and Bantie to register two goals in the first period, while in the second half Scharfe, Prince of Wales custodian, was brilliant in goal to hold down the score.

Prince of Wales—L. Scharfe, goal; K. Auldbrooke and W. Douglas, full backs; G. Burnett, K. Johnston and R. Johnston, half backs; [illegible] Copp, C. Rowland and S. Morley, forwards. Subs., T. Heffernan, D. Bernice, W. Corner.

King George—E. English, goal; P. Dennison and R. King, full backs; A. Clarke, G. Barclay and P. Hayden, half backs; E. Innes, C. Crowder, D. Baptie, D. Dorrington and K. Dixon, forwards. Subs., L. Hale, J. Donaldson, D. Greenly.

Referee, Mr. Cunningham.

Central Lost

Central intermediates lost to Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth eleven, Thursday, on Queen Alexandra school grounds by a 2-0 count. After five minutes of play Tighe forced his way towards goal to defeat the custodian with a hard drive. Just before the interval Mason scored from a scrimmage in front of goal.

Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth—N. Olmstead, goal; W. Johnson and R. Willis, full backs; D. Woodward, J. Hall and H. Conway, half backs; M. Tighe, R. Baker, R. Whitnell, P. Stewart and G. Ball, forwards. Subs., R. Nelson, J. Dalton, W. Baker, G. Stewart, R. Kilborn.

Central—T. Kelly, goal; R. Ellis and T. Armstrong, full backs; C. Sorrie, W. Sorrie and G. Pollock, half backs; D. Lustic, P. Naish, V. Armstrong, J. Lustic and F. Lloyd, forwards. Subs., P. Dunford, D. Dinsdale, P. McInroy.

Referee, Mr. Scrutton.

Tigers Whip Athletics 8-2 Tied With Yankees For Lead

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit Tigers tonight go after undisputed possession of first place in the see-saw American League pennant struggle, while the idle New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox twiddle their thumbs.

Detroit takes on the tough Indians in Cleveland in the opener of a three-game series while the Yanks and Red Sox mark time in New York. Boston and New York open a two-game series in the Yankee Stadium Saturday.

The Tigers Thursday tied the Yanks for the lead by trouncing Philadelphia Athletics 8-2. The Red Sox and the Yanks were not scheduled.

Here's the picture at a glance:

| | W | L | Pct | GB | GL |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 91 | 53 | .632 | — | 10 |
| Detroit | 91 | 53 | .632 | — | 10 |
| Boston | 89 | 55 | .618 | 2 | 10 |

Hal Newhouser, 29-year-old lefthander, has been selected to pitch for the Tigers against the Indians' Bob Feller. Both boast identical 14-11 records.

Tough Adversary

The Indians have proved one of the Tigers' toughest adversaries this year. They have clashed 17 times, with each side winning eight games. The other resulted in a 13-13 tie. The victories were evenly distributed, four for each in Cleveland and Detroit.

Newhouser has beaten the Indians four times and lost to them twice. Both of his defeats came in Cleveland's municipal stadium. Feller holds a 2-1 card against the Tigers.

Meanwhile, Yank manager Casey Stengel has a pitching problem to solve. His team will work out at the stadium today and two of his aces, righthander Vic Raschi and lefthander Ed Lopat, will try out their ailing arms.

Raschi, a 20-game winner, was examined Thursday by the club physician, Dr. Sidney Gaynor, who reported him suffering from a slightly-inflamed muscle behind the shoulder. Gaynor was of the opinion that Raschi would be ready to pitch Sunday.

Lopat will probably get the nod for the series opener if he shows no traces of his recent arm trouble. If Lopat is not up to par, Allie Reynolds will get the call to face the Red Sox' Mel Parnell.

An injury-plagued pitching staff hindered the Athletics in their game with the Tigers Thursday.

The Tigers jumped on Joe Coleman, who has had arm trouble, for six runs in the first six innings and were never headed. Coleman, who walked nine, lingered six innings. The A's have only nine pitchers, including three rookies.

Goes All The Way

Freddie Hutchinson went all the way for the Tigers and was rapped for 13 hits, five more than the Tigers collected. Four double plays eased Hutchinson's task. The victory was his 17th.

The game was the only one scheduled in the American League.

In the National, Boston Braves defeated St. Louis Cardinals 5-0, and Brooklyn Dodgers thumped the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-8 to remain tied for second place. They trail the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies by seven games. The Phils and Chicago Cubs were idle.

Warren Spahn blanked the Cards on two hits to rack up his [illegible]. The Braves loaded things up in the first inning when Sam Jethroe crashed his 17th home run with a man on base.

The Dodgers overcame a 4-1 deficit with four runs in the fourth inning and followed up with five more in the fifth to clinch the decision over the Pirates.

In the only other game, Cincinnati Reds defeated New York Giants 8-5. The Reds piled up a 7-1 lead in four innings for Howie Fox, who blew up in the eighth and granted four runs before Frank Smith came on to save the game.

The victory ended an 11-game winning streak for Giant righthander Sal Maglie. The loss was Maglie's fourth against 16 victories. Three of the setbacks were administered by the Reds.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The famous "long count" fight at Chicago 23 years ago tonight let heavyweight champion Gene Tunney keep his title in a battle with Jack Dempsey. Tunney was down in the seventh round and referee Dave Barry pushed Dempsey to a neutral corner before starting the count. Tunney won on points and retired undefeated in 1928.

High Pinnage Of 3411 To Open City League

Sunocos rolled high pinnage of 3,411 to open the men's city five-pin season last night as they took four points from Bond Clothes.

Two shutouts were registered as Campbell and Bests whitewashed a team captained by Harold Killen and McGillis Hotel crew took Clapper's Sports by the same margin. Shockey's, Fashion Craft and Cavanagh's took two games each from Swartz Furniture, Moore's Tire and Dunn's Tailors.

Bond Clothes rolled high single game of 1,265. Tony Vitarelli had high three of 804, followed closely by Vince Anthony with 800. W. Miller had top single 334; Roy Suddards 328; Vince Anthony 313; Jack Playford 308 and Walter Firth 302.

The league is operating with 12 teams this year with genial and popular Bill Harris as president, Jack Playford, no new addition to City League competition, as vice-president, and Mel Akers taking on the duties of secretary treasurer, replacing the very capable Frank Wood, who for many years held this position with the City League.

The Silver Mile

Here are a few Kiwanis projects which benefit "kids":—
- ★ Medical Assistance to Children
- ★ Kiwanis Music Festival
- ★ Hamilton Park Playground
- ★ The Little Olympics
- ★ Kiwanis Key Clubs
- ★ Junior Farmers
- ★ Camp Holidays for Underprivileged Children

To help raise funds for underprivileged children, the Kiwanis Club will try on Saturday to accumulate a mile of silver coins. On George Street between Brock and King Street red tapes will be placed on which your donation may be placed. Kiwanians will be in attendance from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

If you know of any youngster who needs assistance please get in touch with any Kiwanis member. He will pass the information to the committee in charge of that work.

Rays Win Second

Raybestos downed Westclox 11-4 last night for their second win in as many starts of the Industrial Fastball League three-in-five finals. The Rays swung mean maces to garner four runs each in the first and eighth innings with one counting in the second and two more in the ninth. Westclox were held to single runs in the first and seventh with two tallying in the fifth. Evans and Guerin both saw slab service for the losers, not getting the best of support, while Nicholls was in good mound form throughout for the Rays. Teams:

Raybestos — Crampton, 2b; E. Maudsley, 1b; Pryde, ss; Giles, c; Crary, 3b; L. Maudsley, lf; Simpson, cf; Maio, rf; Nichols, p.

Westclox—Donoghue, 1b; Morin, 3b; Guerin, 2b, p; Wyatt, ss; Parsons, lf; White, cf; Evans, p; Gosselin, 2b; Millar, c; Weir, rf.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Coach Dick Irvin, who can be as talkative at a hockey training camp as an owl, came right out Thursday and said the kids training with Montreal Canadiens "are the finest group of rookies we've had since 1940-41."

That was the year Elmer Lach, Ken Reardon and others made their start with Canadiens.

"As a rule the rookies are flying in the first couple of days and then start to tail off," said the coach.

Just then Paul Masnick, stocky young centre from Regina, racked up his fourth goal of the day, and Irvin became downright loquacious.

"Our gang is getting stronger each day and it's going to be tough to pick our team. We have six boys who look topnotchers and a couple more who aren't far off."

Irvin said those who have impressed him most are Jean Beliveau of Quebec, Masnick, Dickie Moore, up from the junior Canadiens, Reg Abbott, ex-Brandon Wheat King, and a trio from the farm pastures of the American Hockey League, Frank King, Tom Johnson and Bud McPherson.

Winnipeg backfielder Tom Casey is still leading Western Football Conference in point-scoring.

Statistics released Thursday by league secretary Bob Gillies show the Negro speedster has amassed 30 points, all on touchdowns.

In second place is Saskatchewan Roughriders' quarterback Jack Hartman with 26 points. All but five of his points have been scored on converts and field goals.

Royal Copeland, former Toronto Argo halfback now with Calgary Stampeders, is third with five touchdowns for 25 points.

One point behind him is the place-kicking playing coach of the Edmonton Eskimos, Annis Stukus, with 24 points, made up of 17 converts, two field goals and one single.

Al Rollins, thrown overboard by the New York Rangers seven seasons ago, seems to be gunning for Turk Broda's job in the Toronto Maple Leafs' net.

Rollins was stricken by rheumatic fever while at a Ranger training camp at the age of 16. His hard fight along the comeback trail has seen him play hockey with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, help Edmonton Flyers with the Canadian amateur title in 1948, and play with Kansas City Flyers of the United States Leagues.

Rollins played 27 games for Pittsburgh Pirates last season. This season, said Leaf coach Joe Primeau at the team's St. Catharines camp, "he has come up with flashes of mighty good goaltending. He has been particularly good on close-in plays."

Melville (Butch) Keeling, former forward with New York Rangers, of the National Hockey League and an NHL referee for the last three years, has accepted an offer to coach Brampton Regents, an Ontario Hockey Association Junior club, it was announced Thursday.

---

Goalie Frank Brimsek will stick to his earlier decision—he will retire from hockey.

"I have decided to retire," he wired Thursday from his home at Eveleth, Minn., where he considered an offer from owner Coley Hall of the Vancouver Canucks in the Pacific Coast League.

Canadiens To Sponsor Kitchener OHA Entry

KITCHENER, Sept. 22 (CP). — Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League probably will sponsor a Kitchener entry in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A circuit, Alderman George Hainsworth said Thursday night.

Hainsworth, former goalie with Toronto Maple Leafs and the Canadiens, said he had received a letter from general manager Frank Selke of Canadiens saying the Montreal club probably would sponsor the club. Hainsworth has been heading a committee trying to arrange sponsorship.

CHEVROLET

GIVES YOU MORE AND COSTS YOU LESS

LOW FIRST COST

Hard facts, not fancy phrases, determine any car's value. Study the market carefully, feature by feature and value by value. Then compare the Chevrolet price tag with that of any comparable car. You'll find beyond doubt that this impressive, powerful, six-passenger automobile is the value-leader by far!

CHEVROLET

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

HIGH REPUTATION

Here's convincing proof that throughout years, Chevrolet has earned a reputation for unwavering excellence! In a recently conducted coast-to-coast survey, an overwhelming majority of motorists named Reputation as the most compelling reason for Chevrolet's popularity.

ECONOMICAL OPERATION

For all the power you want when you want it, with consistently economical fuel consumption, there's no better engine than the highly-improved Chevrolet valve-in-head, with its ultra-efficient new carburetor. And that's not all! Many thousands of enthusiastic owners will testify that Chevrolet needs less maintenance, less servicing than any comparable car.

MODERN STYLING

In every detail, the new Chevrolet is in the very forefront of the style parade. Those flowing, graceful lines radiate quality from every angle. And don't forget — its consistently advanced styling is one reason why Chevrolet is tops for trade-in value.

BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE

Just get behind the wheel of a Chevrolet, and you'll soon know the meaning of brilliant performance. In city traffic, on busy highways, on rough back roads, Chevrolet has the edge on all its rivals. And it stays at the peak of its performance, — mile after mile, month after month.

COMPLETE DEPENDABILITY

Built for Canadian driving requirements, reflecting its superior craftsmanship in every detail, Chevrolet is further backed by a nationwide organization of skilled service and maintenance specialists. No wonder it is renowned for delivering dependable, trouble-free performance under all conditions!

GREATER SAFETY

Built-in safety factors are an integral component of every Chevrolet. The immensely strong box girder steel frame . . . exclusive Certi-Safe hydraulic brakes . . . the ample reserve of power in the valve-in-head engine — all are designed for your protection.

GREATER ROOMINESS

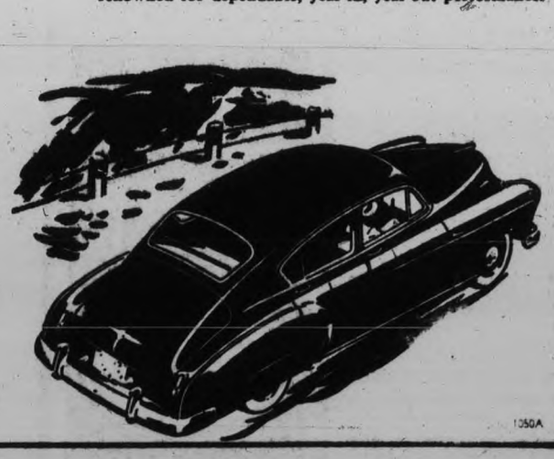
There's hip-room, head-room, leg-room and room to spare for six adult passengers in a Chevrolet. The big doors swing wide to let you in and out without undue stooping or crouching. And the bigger, more capacious trunk has ample room for all your luggage — and your passengers, too!



It's best in its class for styling, for performance, for comfort and for operating economies—yet it costs far less than any comparable car. That's why Chevrolet is first in value!

Let the record speak for itself! In a recent impartial survey conducted among thousands of motorists, Chevrolet proved to be in greater popular demand than any other car.

No wonder Canadians buy more Chevrolets than any other make of car. They know that Chevrolet, built and proved in Canada for Canadians, is unequalled at its price for comfort, safety, lasting beauty and all-round dependability.

HIGH TRADE-IN-VALUE

Records prove that used car buyers as well as new car buyers consistently favor Chevrolet over other cars. That's because Chevrolet is first in the low-price field with all the qualities of much higher priced cars, and also because it's renowned for dependable, year-in, year-out performance.

Canadians Ate More Pork Than Farmers Produced In August — Ray Weldon Farm At Harley Rented For District Pasture Demonstration — Ayrshires Average $327 At Spencerville Sale — Chas. Osborne Of Bowmanville Tops Wheat Club Competition In Durham.

August marketings of Canadian hogs showed an increase of 12.5 per cent over that month in 1949, and in the same period pork consumption from regular marketings was nearly 20 per cent above the corresponding volume last year.

Total marketings of hogs for the year to the end of August were 21.5 per cent higher than during the same period last year. In spite of that substantial increase, and available supplies of pork, purchases for export under the United Kingdom bacon agreement to date this year total slightly more than 15½ million pounds. This compares with the purchase of nearly 20.5 million lbs. in the first eight months of 1949.

Even with increased marketings, the reduction in the quantity available for export is entirely due to the increase in consumer demand for pork products in Canada

Domestic pork distribution in August showed a 19.6 per cent increase over August 1949. The over-all increase in domestic consumption of pork to the end of last month was 20.5 per cent more than for the same 1949 period.

Bacon purchased for the United Kingdom contract during the last four months of 1949 totalled 80,000,000 pounds. Taking into account the increased domestic consumption, officials of the Canada Department of Agriculture expect that the export surplus during the last four months of this year will be somewhat reduced notwithstanding expected heavier marketings.

However, purchase of the balance of about 45,000,000 lbs. of bacon for this year's UK contract probably will be completed towards the end of the fourth quarter.

Of the total August marketings of hogs almost 45 per cent originated in Ontario. Quebec with 25 per cent had almost as many hogs alone as the four western provinces combined.

Canadian bacon exports during the last 10 years were valued at 3.8 billion dollars, which exceeded the exports of the previous 40 years. That statement was made by L. W. Pearsall, director of marketing services for the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, at the poultry and livestock conference at OAC.

It has been the record of the industry that Canada has consistently produced more bacon than the home market required. For 80 years Canada has exported surplus bacon to Britain in varying quantities.

In 1939, hog marketings totalled 3.7 million, with total exports of 186 million pounds. Five years later these figures had more than doubled, and had reached 8.9 million hogs with exports of 695 million pounds. This year, maketings will approximate 5 million hogs, with exports of bacon estimated at probably 60 million pounds.

Mr. Pearsall told that conference the decline in marketings and exports during the last few years was directly attributable to a drastic and sharp decline in western hog production. During the last five years, eastern marketings had maintained the level of wartime peak production.

CHEESE INDUSTRY'S CHANGE

Peterborough district factories boarded 5,764 cheese as reported in the Examiner of June 22, 1898. Thirty-five factories were represented at the sale in the town council chamber. At an average of around 85 lbs. to the cheese that sale offered almost half a million pounds.

Westwood factory topped the offerings with 300 cheese; Lang 260; Shearer 250; Fleetwood 249. Many of the factories were located in Durham county, as indicated by the names Blackstock and Ballyduff.

The price was 7 13-16c; nine buyers were present. The peak year of Canadian cheese production in that long period was 1904.

"In those days Toronto did not reach out 10 miles for its milk requirements," G. A. Gillespie mentioned yesterday. "It was after 1910 that we had a big factory near Courtice on No. 2 Highway, that was selling its cheese on the Peterborough board.

Population has increased, people have learned the benefits of milk and more generally are drinking it. A great deal of milk is diverted into ice cream."

In Peterborough Silverwoods are probably using a million gallons a year for the ice product.

On the other hand, a group of farmers in the Marmora district are interested in a factory that is now in construction for year round manufacture of cheese and other dairy products.

With meat prices at their present peaks, the dairy industry should be equipped to advertise its excellent Cheddar cheese.

There is substance in such dietary elements as whole wheat bread, butter, cheese, honey, milk, eggs, although it might not be attractive to the porterhouse steak and lamb chop addicts.

DUNDAS HOLSTEIN SHOW

James R. Henderson of Portsmouth was judge of the Black and White Day, South Mountain Fair, Dundas county. A total of 78 head were shown by 15 breeders. In Glengarry county there were 54 head shown by 19 exhibitors.

✦ ✦ ✦

DURHAM HOLSTEIN SHOW

Sixteen Holstein breeders of Durham county marshalled 116 of their animals at the county Black and White Day at Orono fair.

Glenafton Futurity, a two year old bull owned by Central Durham Club won the grand champion title, and quite a number of his offsprings carried off first honors in various classes.

In the senior bull calf class, five of the nine entries were Futurity sons, taking first, third, fifth, sixth and eighth positions. The winner was Browview Futurity Ace, owned by James T. Brown and Sons, Newcastle. He went on to the Junior and Reserve Grand championships. Winner of the second prize, Elderslie Triune Sir Heilo shown by A. Muir and Son, Courtice, took the reserve junior award.

James T. Brown and Sons also won the junior bull class with a son of Futurity, and placed first in the junior get of sire class on a group of his progeny.

Reserve senior champion was Otonabe Triune Buster who stood next to the grand champion in the two year old class for A Muir and Sons. Their herd captured the female senior, grand and junior championships. The aged cow in milk, Elderslie Heilo Sally took the grand, and the junior title went to their winning senior heifer calf, Elderslie R. A. Noella.

Otonabee Betsy Posch, first in a class of 19 junior heifer calves for J. T. Brown was reserve junior champion.

Lawrence S. Malcolm, Nestleton, a new exhibitor, won the class for three year old heifers in milk. His entry provided strong competition for the senior championship.

First in the senior get of sire class went to a group of animals from the herds of Carlos Tamblyn and J. W. Bowman. They were sired by Montvic Hiemke Pietje Posch.

J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, was judge. Muir and Sons collected six first and two seconds; J. T. Brown and Sons, six firsts; J. W. Bowman three firsts; Central Durham Bull Club, Lawrence Malcolm, E. J. Brown and C. Tamblyn, one first each.

DURHAM WHEAT CLUB

Charles Osborne of Bowmanville piled up 228.8 points to win the Durham County 50 Bushels Winter Wheat Club, and the first prize of $20, plus the title of 'county wheat king.'

In second place was Ernest Larmer of Nestleton with 217.8, just one more than James T. Brown of Newcastle, with 216.8.

In fourth place was Russell Bragg of Bowmanville, 212.8; followed by Alfred Allen, Bowmanville, 209.6; Donald Thompson, Nestleton, 207.8; L. J. Wood, Bowmanville, 206.6; Howard Trewin, Burketon, 200.8.

John Cruickshank, Hampton, 198.2; Lloyd Kellogg, Port Hope RR1, 196.2; John Rickard, Newcastle, 189.8; Edwin Ruthven, Port Hope, 189 points; Clarence Turner Bowmanville, 189; Garnet Rickard Bowmanville, 182.8.

R. K. Squair, Bowmanville, 182.6; A. L. Blanchard, Hampton, 180.2; Jim Robinson, Campbellcroft, 173.6; Ernie Armstrong, Fraserville, 172.

Others below that mark were M. A. McHolm, Port Hope RR1; Orville Hindman, Hampton; H. Bruce Tink, Hampton; Walter Longyear, Campbellcroft; Thomas Baker, Hampton; Elmore Scott, Campbellcroft.

Howard Trewin of Burketon was the only club member to sow Dawson's Golden Chaff. All the others switched to Cornell.

Top field scores were: C. Osborne and J. Cruickshank, tied, at 86; James T. Brown 85; Howard Trewin 80. All the others were in the 70 brackets.

Top yield scores were: Osborne and Larmer tied for first at 71.4; Russell Bragg 69.9; A. Allen 68.3; J. T. Brown and Donald Thompson, tied, at 65.9; L. J. Wood 64.8; L. Kellogg 61.6 and H. Trewin 60.4.

The club is carrying on into 1951, and members have been asked to send in their applications as soon as their wheat was sown.

DISTRICT PASTURE TEST

The Ray Weldon farm at Hartley in Victoria county has been rented for five years by the Ontario Department of Agriculture for experimental pasturing of cattle.

Purpose of the Department is to assist beef cattle breeders, especially, in determining the best pasture practice. The Weldon farm will be divided into three sections. One will be left in natural grass as a check plot, and will be used to ascertain the number of cattle it will carry over a certain period.

A second section will be fertilized, and the third will be broken up this fall, reseeded and fertilized. Object is to increase pasture efficiency and obtain definite information of the capacity of the three types in supporting cattle.

Nine hybrid grasses developed by the Department of Agriculture's research division will be used in this project.

Field days will be held at the farm when the foundation work becomes sufficiently advanced. The Ontario government has set aside $15,000 for the rental of these demonstration farms in five districts. Peterborough, Victoria and the northern part of Ontario county comprise one of them. Others are in Lanark, Bruce, Middlesex, Elgin.

The Weldon farm was chosen by Prof. N. J. Thomas of OAC and R. H. Graham of the livestock branch of the Department, from a number recommended by a committee representing the three counties.

Leroy Brown, agricultural representative in Victoria, said yesterday that preparations have been laid out for action this fall in getting the demonstration project started.

$327 AYRSHIRE AVERAGE

Ayrshires averaged $327 in the dispersal of the Bruceburn herd at Spencerville. The 54 head totalled $17,645. The 1949 grand champion female at the Ottawa Exhibition last year sold for $1,350.

LIVESTOCK HAVE FARED WELL

Beef and dairy cattle in the Peterborough district have thrived this season, and livestock generally appeared to have fared well, Frank Paterson said today in a round-up of observations during the last three days in the county.

Improved pastures are giving bigger yields of milk and meat. There is a lot of good grass from reseedings and fertilizer.

"I noticed a shortage of legumes in some of the grass pastures," Mr. Patterson said. "Those fields would lack balance and the increase of protein that is needed. It is quite evident that a lot of our farmers have been making real progress in their pasture programs."

"There is a lot of good grazing, and stock should be in the fields until the cold weather comes. That is the economic side of investment in pasture. I noticed that poultry is coming off the range and is being brought into shelter for the late fall and winter."

"Farmers are filling silos. Much of the corn is green and soft. Damage from frost occured on lower land recently. Some fields have been hardly touched. Frost damage looks to be spotty. Bert Armstrong of Otonabee has another good stand this season. As farmers have been reporting recently, their corn needs another two weeks of favorable weather for maturing.

Has Clover Seed

Stewart Whittington is ready to harvest a fair amount of clover seed. A lot of the fall wheat is up and looking fine. The acreage appears to be more than I estimated. Total will hardly be up to last year's big seeding. Many promising catches of the new seeding of clover are to be seen these days. We saw on Tuesday that the Hope tobacco crop has not been hit by frost, in contrast with the reports from Norfolk county of frost damage Sunday night.

"We are getting a steady flow of enquiries about soil testing. This morning was an example—three farmers came in for containers of soil samples. That is one of the encouraging signs."

Chemical Problem of Soil

Mr. Paterson said he was suggesting that OAC look into a problem of the high lime land of this district. "I think the answer is more humus with phosphorus so that it doesn't "fix" with lime. This is one of our chemical problems of Peterborough farming.

"Lime is natural to our soil. When you apply phosphorous fertilizer, such as superphosphate to high lime land, the lime and the phosphorous combine in an insoluble compound. The name of it is tricalcic-phosphate. But, the plant can use the phosphorous only when it is in a more simple compound."

"A high humus content acts as a buffer between the lime and phosphorous. That is why manure and sweet clover, for instance, are important. Humus helps retain the usefulness of phosphorous to the plant over a longer time. I know this in the field of chemistry, but our farmers are looking and we are seeing results, but the over-all problem is still there."

✦ ✦ ✦

FIGHT WHEAT SMUT

Ernie McWilliam of Dewart Milling Company reports that 98% of the lots of wheat that were cleaned recently at the plant for fall seeding were treated for smut.

This extra precaution is a cheap form of crop insurance, costing 20 cents an acre. Some seed men advise it should be extended to the spring grains as a preventive of fungus infestation.

Experience of a fortunately few farmers this season in mill rejection of their entire loads of wheat emphasized the risk of smut, and demanded sensible action to forestall this cereal enemy.

Last of the Summer Moons

The harvest moon of Peterborough's centennial year is at the full Monday night, gilding the sky with its glory borrowed from the sun as it did a century ago when this phase of the moon was the only illumination lighting citizens the way home along the rough streets of the newly incorporated town.

Indoors the tallow candle feebly dispelled the dark in those nights when men still depended on that simple medium of the Promethean fire. Even the common match was only then emerging under men's inventiveness applied to slow discovery of the uses of such aids as phosphorous and sulphur.

The candle mould was a necessary domestic utensil. The tallow-chandler was a man of business in the cities. The polishing of brass candlesticks was a daily detail of housekeeping, and the chandelier was a refinement in the homes of men of property.

In their wondering about the future, those first citizens of Peterborough could not have imagined that their community was to become one of the principal centres of the making of machines that would turn night almost into day. Of all the achievements of their century, the electric light was to them the greatest boon.

If to the incurious that is simply water going over the dam, probably they are no more interested in the seasonal shift of the stars. Antares is gone from the southern sky, the fire star of summer. Arcturus is moving off to the west. Anyone can locate its brilliance out from the handle of the Dipper, and wonder at the infinity of the universe by the cosmic fact that the diameter of Arcturus if 60 times the diameter of the sun.

Aldebaran is coming out of the east, companion to the great winter constellation of Orion that will dominate the sky from December until March with the same magnificence of a century ago.

The harvest moon of 1850 shone upon a simple way of life, hardwood on the hearth for heat, candles for light, and ticks of straw or feathers for the bed. A century of progress has changed that domestic scene even to his sleep, haunted by fear of an impalpable, ghostly thing which men call fission of the atom.

Hope To Grow Rhodesian Rice

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia—(CP)—Plans to establish a huge rice belt in the swamps of Northern Rhodesia and adjoining territories are being formulated by the British government.

The scheme, to cover thousands of acres, is expected to cost millions of pounds. To minimize Labor difficulties, production will be mechanized as much as possible.

The plan was originally raised in 1948 and recently the war in Korea has prompted serious attention.

The plans are on a long-term basis, not only to reduce the dependance on supplies from the Far East, but also with the ultimate object of an export trade.

According to one official report, the first objective will be to set up rice research stations in the various swamp areas. These appear to be fertile and give indication that when drained and reclaimed they will yield good crops of Cassava, sweet potato and maize as well as of rice.

There are some experiments already under way, with promising results. The expansion of present production, it is believed, can best be accomplished by increasing the effectiveness of native agriculture.

Former Roseneath Resident Celebrates 100th Birthday

ROSENEATH ,Sept. 22 (ENS) Mrs. George Burkell celebrated her 100th birthday in Winnipeg on Saturday, September 16, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown.

Mrs. Burkell was born and lived near Roseneath until after her marriage, when she and her husband heeded the call "go west young man, go west." Her maiden name was Roxy Merrill and the Merrill homestead is now owned and occupied by her great nephew, Cecil Blodgett. This farm is situated about a mile north-east of Roseneath village. A piece of land was given by the Merrill family and a small church erected, that is known as Merrill's Church. Although this church has been closed for upwards of thirty years for regular services, once a year a service is held in the church when the annual decoration service is held at Merrill's cemetery adjoining the church. The small church and the cemetery are well looked after by a cemetery board.

Mrs. Burkell's last visit home to Roseneath was in 1935 at the age of 85 years. She motored with relatives to attend the graduation exercises at Toronto University when a grandson graduated, and then came on to Roseneath to visit relatives.

Mrs. Herman Blodgett, Mrs. Charles Blodgett and Mrs. Wilbert Blodgett, Roseneath, are neices by marriage.

Mrs. Burkell's immediate family have all predeceased her with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. Sam Brown, with whom she resides.

Sues For $50,000 Damages In Death of Husband

COBOURG, Sept. 22 (ENS)—No criminal cases are on the list for the fall sitting of Supreme Court which opens here on Monday next. Mr. Justice D. Wells will preside. One jury case is on the civil list. Two motor accident damage cases and two divorce actions comprise the non-jury cases.

In the jury case, Alba Cryderman of Bowmanville administratrix of the estate of John L. Cryderman, is suing Ernest and Albert West of Orono and John L. Gillespie of Hartford, Connecticut. The amount of the claim is $50,000.

Plaintiff alleges that her husband was struck, while riding along the highway near Bowmanville on his bicycle, by two cars, the first one driven by Ernest West and owned by Alberta West and a second car driven by Gillespie. The fatality occurred in June of last year.

The first two defendants claim that the cyclist swerved in front of their car. The other defendant claims that the cyclist was thrown into the path of his car by the impact with the first one.

Dr. Daniel McVicker of Deseronto is plaintiff in an action against Roy Ament of Haldimand township, result of a collision between their two cars last November near Grafton. Plaintiff seeks damages totalling $1,540.30.

Doris Gertrude Young of Port Hope vs. James H. Young of Ottawa is an action for divorce as is also Russell Peterson of the RCAF, Trenton, vs. Ada Frances Peterson of Colborne.

Cattle Prices Down 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP). — Cattle prices were 50 cents lower on slaughter steers and heifers and steady on other classes this week at the Ontario stockyards, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today.

Calves were steady along with lambs and sheep. Hogs dropped $1.

The heavy cattle run of 8,563 head included 1,600 westerns, mostly stockers. Carried from last week were 200 cattle. The fresh supply was 1,600 more than last week but was 600 fewer than for the same week a year ago.

Good to choice weighty steers sold at $29-$30.50. Medium to good light steers were $28-$29 with common downward to $20. Good heifers were mostly $27.75-$28. Medium to good cows sold at $20-$23 with canners and cutters from $15.50-$18. Good bulls were mostly $23-$24 and common light bulls sold downward to $18. Choice fed yearlings brought $31-$33. Stockers were active and firm at $27-$29 for better quality with some short keeps up to $31.-50. Common stockers sold downward to $20.

Calves totalled 2,048 head. Prices were steady on better vealers at $30-$32 with tops at $33. Common to medium light weight vealers were steady at $20-$29 while calves sold slowly and a shade lower.

Hogs amounted to 2,455 head. Prices dropped $1 a hundredweight to $30.25 for Grade A. Sows sold at $23.50 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts were 2,746 head. The supply included four cars of Westerns. Good ewes and wethers were steady at $28. Bucks sold at $27 and feeder lambs were $25-$26. Good light sheep sold generally at $13-$15 a hundredweight with culls downward to $8.

Most Canadian Centres Go Back To Standard Time

By The Canadian Press

Most Canadian communities will go back on standard time at midnight Saturday but several larger cities will continue on daylight time for a month or more to save electric power.

In the others, clocks will be set back the one hour that they were moved ahead last spring.

Working from west to east, the clock-shifting routine will go on in British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Alberta is unconcerned about it all for that province holds to standard the year round.

In Ontario, Toronto, Oshawa and Hamilton have approved an extension of daylight time to Nov. 26 as a hydro-power conservation measure.

Only other exceptions in the east are several cities in Quebec, and Halifax. Nova Scotia's first city will remain on daylight time until Oct. 28. That, too, is a power-conservation move.

In most parts of Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley, the switchback to stanard time was Sept. 9. The rest of the province changes this weekend.

Montreal, which normally sets the time pattern for Quebec City and Levis, will go back to standard Oct. 28. Daylight dates of April 30 to Oct. 28 were fixed by Montreal city council early in the year, and the council has turned down recent requests from Board of Trade, railways and radio stations to advance the closing date.

Thus Quebec, Three Rivers, Levis and Granby are scheduled to stay on with Montreal until Oct. 28. Sherbrooke is due to switch back to standard Sept. 30.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP) — Today is the last full day of summer. The season ends at 10:44 a.m. EDT Saturday—the moment at which the sun is directly over the equator in its yearly southward motion. From then until Dec. 22, it's autumn.

US Steelworkers Plan To Ask Raise In Pay

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22—(AP) —The CIO United Steelworkers served notice Thursday on the U.S. steel industry that it will seek a wage increase next month.

President Philip Murray said the big union's executive board had voted to ask 1,400 big and little steel companies to reopen wage provisions of their contracts Oct. 9.

Murray disclosed his plan just a few hours after the Aluminum Co. of America offered its 45,000 employees a 10-per-cent boost.

The offer will have to be accepted by the USW and eight other unions which represent Alcoa's 30,000 production workers.

The contracts call for reopening on wages Nov. 1. Murray said the companies will be requested to advance that date, saying:

Need Mutual

"Obviously, the national interest requires that we conclude a mutually satisfactory agreement at the earliest possible date."

Murray said that if the steel industry did not agree to advance the date for bargaining conferences, the union would adhere to the contract provisions.

The contract also provides that if no agreement is reached on wage demands by Dec. 31, the union is free to strike Jan. 1.

Murray made the announcement at the conclusion of the first day's session of a scheduled two-day meeting of the 36-man USW executive board.

He said the 1,400 letters to the steel companies wil be put in the mail tonight.

Student Pool At University Aids Employers

MONTREAL—(CP)—The McGill Placement Service plans to help employers having trouble with employees bleary-eyed from overwork.

University experts have found, unavoidable overwork at certain seasons places a heavy load on regular employees. This often causes a decrease in the quality of the work and consequent strain in employer-employee relations.

The Placement Service is cataloguing student capabilities to find out how undergraduates can help relieve the strain during rush seasons.

The various skills and arts of some 1,200 students will be listed. Then when an employee shows signs of cracking up under too much extra work, the employer calls the placement service and an experienced student is sent to relieve the worker.

The students, too, will welcome the chance to make money to pay for their education and to gain valuable experience in their profession.

43-Hour Week 7-Cent Raise Outboard Offer

Negotiations between the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co. and the Independent Outboard Marine Workers' Union have entered the final stage.

The final company offer would reduce the work week from 45 to 43 hours and maintain the same take-home pay. In addition there is a seven-cents-an-hour straight increase.

It is understood that the offer has been tentatively accepted by the negotiating committee of the union, but must still be ratified at a membership meeting. Acceptance of this offer, affecting 460 production workers, is expected.

Lowest starting rate under the new agreement would be $1.03 with automatic progressions during the first year to $1.10 an hour. This means that the lowest wage for an hourly-rated worker at the plant would be $1.10, the lowest piece-work rate of $1.16. Both are believed the highest in the city.

FIRE IN MARMORA—But only a few bushes set on fire deliberately by Fire Marshall Clifford Campbell Thursday, to test the efficiency of the village volunteer brigade. Led by Chief Arnold Walker, the men of the brigade sprang to action as soon as the alarm was sounded. In six minutes a jet of water was combating the blaze near the old Pearce mill.

Victory Hy Wins Lindsay Race

Stan Blewett's blind horse "Victory Hy" took the three heats of the 2.15 class at Lindsay Exhibition Thursday. He ran the first mile in 2.16, clipped the time to 2.12 in the second heat and hung up the best time of the day at 2.11 in the third heat. The Kingston entry "Lucy Lester" broke a sulky in the first, in which second money went to the Hugh Davis entry, Parsons, of Peterborough, and then was up for second money in the two other heats.

J. McIntyre's "Turnabout" also from Peterborough, was first in both outings of the 2.29 class. Time of the first mile was 2.21 1-5, and second 2.29.

Fire Inspector Tests 21-Man Brigade

MARMORA, Sept. 22 —( By Staff Reporter)— Marmora's fire truck rushed into action at 4 p.m. Thursday afternoon, turning the hose on a bush fire in the village, six minutes after the alarm was given.

The blaze, which was started deliberately by Fire Marshal Clifford Campbell, of the Ontario Department, was a test for the 21-man volunteer brigade, which was equipped last winter with a new fire truck.

As soon as the alarm was sounded, the men of the brigade downed tools and in about three minutes, they were at the scene of the fire. A clump of trees and bushes in front of the ruins of the old Pearce grist mill were burning and a thick column of smoke marked the spot from all parts of the village.

Six minutes after the alarm was given 15 men of the brigade were playing a strong jet of water on to the fire. In about another six minutes the fire was out.

There are no fire hydrants in the village and all water for fire-fighting is pumped from the river.

This practice fire was the first in the village to be extinguished with the new equipment. There was a fire in the brush land northwest of the village in the spring and although outside the boundaries of Marmora, the brigade took the new truck there, because the village was being threatened.

Another fire this year was in a garage, but that was put out without using the new truck.

Fire Chief Arnold Walker and his son, Deputy Chief Jim Walker, led the fire-fighting operations Thursday.

Council Asked To Acquire Land For Bypass Highway

The proposed traffic bypass on the west side of the city as laid down in the Faludi master plan returns to the attention of the council in a recommendation of the city planning board.

The board's letter to the council presents a resolution approving the plan of the bypass as prepared by City Engineer Chalmers, and recommending that the council acquire the necessary land for a right-of-way south of Sherbrooke St.

The general route is from Clonsilla Ave., in the vicinity of Second and Third Avenues, immediately south of Sherbrooke St., crossing Sherbrooke St., west of the highway, continuing northerly east of the Civic Hospital property and west of the Hatton housing subdivision.

That northerly projection would cross Weller St. and Park Hill Road, west of Monaghan Road and the properties on its west front, turn easterly at the northwest corner of Jackson Park, and follow a course along McClellan Street to No. 28 Highway at the junction of the centre line of Smith, at the waterworks plant.

Relieve Downtown Area

This bylaw was proposed originally as a means of relieving through traffic from down town streets. It was contemplated for the accommodation of traffic to the northeast, and from that direction, for the benefit of the city's own local traffic facilities in the future growth of Peterborough.

The council sent the planning board's memorandum on to the board of works for consideration in committee. The Master Plan of the city marks out this proposed road along the west boundary, a reminder of the discussions about this traffic relief proposal when the plan was in preparation.

No Rear Light Motorist Fined

"It's an expensive light bulb," Mrs. John Kelly, Peterborough, complained in police court, as she paid a $1 fine and $2 court costs after being found guilty of driving without a light showing on the rear license plate of her car.

Constable Douglas Stark testified he had been riding a police cruiser on a call on Park St. south of Lansdowne St. Aug. 27 and spotted a car without a light showing up the license plate. He reported the license number and it was traced to Mrs. Kelly.

"Why didn't you stop me and tell me the light was out?" asked Mrs. Kelly.

Constable Stark said he had been in a hurry on a call and didn't have time.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said police officers were under no obligation under the Highway Traffic Act to stop and warn people.

Mrs. Kelly and her husband said when they started from the Exhibition a few minutes before the light had been on. They knew nothing was wrong until they got a summons. They then examined the light and found the bulb was loose in its socket and replaced it.

Mr. Kelly had rewired the lights only a week before and put new bulbs in. The bulb was defective, they said, and worked only sometimes.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Kelly, there is nothing I can do but find you guilty," Magistrate Philp said.

The minimum fine on such a charge is $5 and $2.50 costs. But Mrs. Kelly pointed out the summons had stated the fine and costs would amount to $3. It was a mistake, the magistrate said, but he would let it go through at that amount.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

NAME OMITTED

Owing to an error in the prize list given to the Examiner after the Old Time Fiddler's Contest on Tuesday night, the name of Mr. Norman Sweet was omitted. Mr. Sweet was awarded the second prize.

ONE PLUS ONE—NOTHING

Malcolm (Mac) MacIntyre of Lakefield Park went fishing at the village powerhouse dam on Thursday evening. Sport was dull until a small pickerel took his bait. While reeling in the undersizer to release it, a muskie, judged to be about 14 pounds, grabbed the pickerel amidships and struggled against the pull of the line to take the tasty morsel below for a feed. After a four-minute tussle the lunge gave up and disappeared. Mac reeled in the chomped pickerel, released it while it, too, swam away. Net result, two fish lost, complete disgust.

Marmora To Get New Theatre

MARMORA, Sept. 22.—(ENS). —To the great surprise of most residents, Marmorians learned on Thursday that their village is to have a modern picture theatre. A. J. Maynes, Tweed, Madoc and Marmora merchant, has purchased from Carl Heath the former W. A. Sanderson property on Forsythe Street, purchased recently by Mr. Heath, and into which he had moved on September 11. The residence, in its framework, one of the oldest in the village, is to be torn down for the erection of a theatre to seat between 400 and 500 persons. Marmora Village Council has issued a building permit and construction work is expected to start almost immediately. In the meantime, Mr. Maynes plans to visit theatres in the United States and Canada to see the new designs which are proving popular and convenient for the public before making his personal selection.

LILY BLOOMS AGAIN

Mrs. James Robinson, 123 James St., is counting four blooms on an Easter lily that flowered once already this year. Mrs. Robinson received the lily as an Easter gift from her son and later planted the bulb in her garden. The second blooming is an unusual occurrence.

Japanese Girls Eager To Learn Western Ways

Miss M. Foerstel, an Anglican missionary returned after three years service in Japan, told the women of the rural deanery of Peterborough Thursday night that the young girls of Japan are eager to learn Western customs.

There were morning, afternoon and evening sessions of the annual deanery meeting held by the Women's Auxiliary. More than 125 women attended Holy Communion in the morning with the Archdeacon W. P. Robertson celebrant. Later the women were addressed by the Rt. Rev. John Arthur Jagoe, Bishop of Bermuda.

Miss Foerstel, dressed in a Japanese robe, spoke on the life of young people in Japan both before and after the Second World War.

At present the girls are anxious to learn Western customs and wish to dress like women in the United States. This conversion however is hindered by lack of leadership, she said.

During the war 72 Anglican churches were destroyed in Japan, said Miss Foerstel, but since then 51 have been rebuilt.

The afternoon collection was allocated as follows: two thirds toward furnishing a nurses' residence at Aklavik; a third toward rebuilding the burnt-out "New Life" sanitarium in Japan. Another $10 was added to the sanitarium fund at the evening offering.

Work In Bermuda

Bishop Jagoe told of the work of the Anglican Church in Bermuda. The Cathedral of the Holy Trinity in Hamilton was a centre of attraction for tourists, he said.

Mrs. J. C. Long, a Toronto WA member, spoke in the morning on being an informed member of the WA and in the evening on how the "extra cent a day" fund helped finance "Strachan Houses," Toronto, a home for indigent Anglican old-age pensioners.

E. A. Adams First Full-Time Agent of Reserve Indians

Ernest A. Adams, a Peterborough grocer, has been named superintendent of the three Indian Reserves in the Peterborough district succeeding Vincent Eastwood Jr. who is retiring from the position after 24 years on the job.

Mr. Adams takes over as a full-time superintendent of 730 Indian men, women and children Oct. 1. Previously the position was run as a part-time job by Mr. Eastwood.

But in recent years the work has expanded through social welfare adopted by the federal government such as Family Allowances, Old Age Pensions and the Veterans Land Act and other veterans' rehabilitation schemes.

Mr. Eastwood was the last part-time superintendent in Ontario.

Mr. Adams, a veteran air gunner of the RCAF, sold his business on Albert St., Thursday and is learning his new duties. A new office will be opened in the Barrie Building on the third floor from which he will do his work as a member of the Indian Affairs branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration.

As superintendent, he will be the man through whom all the affairs of the Indians of the three reserves will conduct their lives and business. He will record new births and keep in intimate touch with them until they die.

He will see that Indians get medical and hospital care. When youngsters are old enough for school they go to the reserve school. When the men are ready to buy land and have a household of their own, the business will be transacted through the superintendent.

And when they become old, the superintendent will see they get their pensions.

Limitless Duties

The duties of the superintendent are almost limitless. In a poster calling for applications for the position, some of the duties were noted: "enforcement of law and order; to protect the Indian population from fraud, trespass, and illegal acts of white men; to maintain friendly relations with and among Indians; to be responsible for promoting and encouraging the education of Indian children, including maintenance of school attendance; to encourage and supervise the Indian population in carrying on their various activities of agriculture, stock-raising, gardening, general employment etc.; to assist sick, aged and destitute Indians and to issue relief supplies of food, clothing, and so on.

Supervises Chief's Election

He also supervises the election of chiefs and councillors. "It all adds up to a full time job," Mr. Eastwood said.

The three reserves are Rice Lake reserve southwest of Keene with 76 Indians; Mud Lake (Curve Lake) reserve between the north end of Chemong Lake and Buckhorn Lake with a population of 422; and Alnwick reserve near Roseneath with 232 Indians.

Mr. Adams, with almost six year's service in the air force, was the RCAF's only air gunner Wing Commander. He made 64 operational trips from England, 45 of them with the RAF Pathfinder Squadron 97.

After his operational flying was finished, he was given administrative work in the air force. For a time he was stationed in Bournemouth where he was in charge of air crew postings.

When the Canadian repatriation scheme was adopted in the summer of 1945, the veteran airman was moved to Torquay, the Canadian air force repatriation centre where he was in charge of one of the wings and was promoted to Wing Commander.

Varied Career

Mr. Adams is modest about his war record. He admits to his Lancaster bomber being shot up a few times but says he was given a DFC for "being a good boy."

Before joining the air force in January, 1941, Mr. Adams was goldmining in Kirkland Lake. He was born and raised and had his schooling in Omemee where his [illegible]

Since leaving the RCAF, Mr. Adams has been proprietor of a grocery store on Albert St. near Park St.

Mr. Adams is married and has a three-year-old daughter.

Bermuda Bishop Chaplain To King On Private Visit

A visitor to the Peterborough district for a few days is the Rt. Rev. John Jagoe, CB, CBE, DD, Anglican Bishop of Bermuda. Bishop Jagoe is seeing Canada for the first time, though, as chaplin in chief of the Royal Air Force, he met many Canadians during the Second World War.

His visit is a private one and he intends to conclude it with a trip to Nova Scotia and then a leisurely trip back to Bermuda through the United States.

While in Peterborough he is staying with Archdeacon W. P. Robertson. Bishop Jagoe and Archdeacon Robertson are old boyhood friends; both are natives of County Cork, Eire, and as divinity students attended Trinity College, Dublin.

Knows Canadians

Bishop Jagoe did not share the delusion, common to many travellers coming to Canada for the first time, that he was likely to be snowbound and would have to travel to some parishes by ski or snowshoe.

"Oh, no," he said, brushing the suggestion away, "I knew what the country was like pretty well. While I was chaplain-in-chief of the RAF (1944-49) I met many Canadians and they told me about their country."

While holding that rank Bishop Jagoe travelled around the world visiting RAF airbases in such places as India, Malaya, China and Japan. His parish encompassed the globe, though his headquarters were at the Air Ministry, London.

Bishop Jagoe is also an honorary chaplain to the King.

Thursday he spoke to the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary in the rural deanery of Peterborough. Sunday he will deliver the sermon at the annual harvest festival service.

WarkworthDean Dies At Rectory

WARKWORTH, Sept. 22 — Dean of Northumberland and Durham, Very Rev. Joseph B. Ferguson, pastor of St. Jerome's Church, died Thursday at the rectory after a short illness.

Dean Ferguson was born in 1872 at North Adjala in the Orillia district, studied philosophy with the Holy Ghost Fathers in Pittsburgh and at the seminary of philosophy, Montreal. He took the theology course for Holy Orders at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and was ordained to the priesthood in May, 1912 at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Warkworth Appointment

After serving as assistant at the Cathedral and in Lindsay, Dean Ferguson was appointed pastor of the parish of St. Jerome, Warkworth, continuing in that responsibility until his death. Endowed with an amiable disposition and attractive personality, Dean Ferguson was one of the best known priests of this section of the diocese of Peterborough, was beloved by the people of his parish and greatly respected in the community of Warkworth in whose affairs he was always interested. He had many friends in the city of Peterborough who will learn of his death with deep regret.

There will be office of the dead Sunday at 3.30 p.m., and the funeral will take place Monday morning. Requiem mass will be celebrated by Bishop Berry of Peterborough, and Very Rev. Father McCorkell of St. Michael's College will preach the sermon. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Dean Ferguson was predeceased a few years ago by his brother Monsignor Thomas Ferguson of Brantford.

Christmas Turkey Prices Much Higher

The Ontario Turkey Association said yesterday that Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys will probably cost more this year.

In a schedule of suggested minimum prices sent out to turkey raisers, it said the raisers should get a minimum price of 88 cents a pound for hen turkeys prepared for the oven and 76 cents a pound for Toms on the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets.

Other prices the Association recommended are: hens, live birds, 65 cents a pound; hens, feathers off, 73 cents; toms, live birds, 53 cents; toms, feathers off, 61 cents.

OBITUARY

JOSEPH SCOTT

MARMORA, Sept. 22—(ENS) —Joseph Scott, well known resident of Marmora who had been ailing for some months but bore his sufferings with fortitude, died at his home here about midnight on Wednesday. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and was born at Shanick in Marmora township, 78 years ago. A great deal of his life was spent in farming but later he was employed by the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited from whose services he retired eight years ago. He was of a kind and friendly disposition and most popular with his neighbors. He was a member of St. Paul's Anglican Church, a lifelong Conservative, and a past master of Marmora LOL 319 under whose auspices the funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon, leaving his late residence for service in St. Paul's Anglican Church at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, the former Pearl Henderson, one son, Gordon, at home, and two daughters, Mrs. Gordon McFarlane, Marmora, and Mrs. Lawrence Meiklejohn, of Campbellford; also one sister, Mrs. Annie Bouchard, of Eldorado.

Stop-Work Meetings

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 22—(Reuters)—The Communist-controlled Australian Waterside Workers Federation today called for "stop-work" meetings at all Australian ports as a protest against the high cost of living. The Federation adopted a recommendation by its federal council which was relayed to the branch executives for consideration.

PROVINCIAL TOURNEY

A number of noted golfers will compete Saturday at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club in the OGA fall tournament. Phil Farley, several times Ontario champion, is coming from the Scarboro Club along with Bob Fair. Herb Epstein of Oakdale, Herb Jacobs of Rouge Hill and Ted Woodall of Weston, are other notables in provincial play. A large number of local players is expected in the post-entry list Saturday morning.

Shaw May Leave Hospital In 2 Weeks

LUTON, England, Sept. 22—(Reuters)—Doctors said today that George Bernard Shaw might be out of the hospital in two weeks if the condition of the 94-year-old Irish playwright continues to improve.

A hospital bulletin issued today said he spent a satisfactory night Thursday night after undergoing his second operation in 10 days Thursday.

His recovery from an operation for a broken thigh Sept. 11 has been delayed by a recurrence of a long-standing kidney disorder, for which yesterday's operation was performed.

Canada's Thriving Tourist Industry Appears Heading For Record Years Despite War

By The Canadian Press

Canada's booming tourist industry, taking the Korean war and the recent rail strike in stride, appears headed for another record year.

A survey by The Canadian Press shows the majority of Canadian travel officials confident that final 1950 figures will eclipse last year's all-time high when tourists spent a whopping $286,000,000 in the dominion.

Travel officials in seven provinces reported that the number of visitors crossing their borders in the first eight months this year was well above the corresponding period of 1949.

Only Manitoba, plagued by the devastating Red River floods this spring, reported a drop. No comparative figures were available for Newfoundland or Quebec.

Highest in History

Ontario, host to more than 2,000,000 US visitors already this year, reports that traffic from across the border during July—296,761 cars—was the highest for any month in the province's history; Alberta and Saskatchwan report "the best season yet" both in number of tourists and money spent.

American visitors are spending as much, or more, than the $286,000,000 they poured into the country last year. But they are seeking better value for their money. This trend towards greater discrimination is reflected both in the type of accommodation sought and in goods purchased to take back home.

"A fairly definite pattern has emerged both here and elsewhere throughout the continent," says Tom C. McCall, deputy travel minister for Ontario. "This shows definitely that the good establishment, whether it be a resort, a hotel, a motor court or a tourist camp, has enjoyed excellent patronage this season."

Both Ontario and Alberta report far less "junk buying" this year, with fine-quality goods such as woollens and China in heavy demand.

Had Little Effect

Except for Prince Edward Island, the crippling eight-day strike that halted railway traffic in Canada during the last week of August appears to have had little effect on the tourist industry, largely due to the fact that the majority of tourists arrive in Canada by automobile.

In PEI, where the strike halted operation of the Canadian National Railways ferry link with the mainland, the rail stoppage is estimated to have caused a loss of 3,000 visitors. But PEI still welcomed 102,000 up to the end of August, up 5,500 from last year. Newfoundland officials say the strike may have reduced the number of visitors planning to come to Newfoundland for the tail end of the inland fishing season, one of the island province's major tourist attractions.

The outbreak of war in Korea had a greater impact than the rail strike. Almost every section of the county reports that the outbreak was followed by a large number of cancellations of US tourist reservations.

Blames Korea

Although the spring floods were mainly to blame, Manitoba officials say the Korean situation also played a major part in cutting Manitoba's tourist traffic in the first six months this year to 93,115 against 137,027 in the corresponding period of 1949.

Alberta officials, however, believe in some instances it caused a boom. Although persons in retail trades cancelled reservations, a number of manufacturers are reported to have encouraged their top officials to take "a big holiday" this year because heavy war orders expected for 1951 might prevent them getting away.

Another major trend this year appears to be the number of Canadians "seeing Canada." Of the estimated 1,180,000 tourists visiting British Columbia, 330,000 are from other parts of Canada and more west coast residents spent their holiday in their own province. BC estimates that tourists are spending $5,000,000 more this year than the $75,000,000 spent in 1949.

Ontario and New Brunswick both report a marked increase in the number of motorists from other parts of Canada. In New Brunswick, the most marked increase is the number of Ontario and Quebec cars seen on the highways; in Ontario, motorists from Quebec and BC are on the increase.

Attractions Vary

Favorite tourist attractions vary with the provinces.

Saskatchewan credits the fine fishing in her northern lakes with attracting a large number of 8,569 US cars entering that province up to the end of July, an increase of 737 cars over the same period last year; a new attraction in New Brunswich was Fundy National Park, opened in Albert county July 29.

Mountain resorts and the oilfields are prime attractions in Alberta, where 196,000 automobiles from outside the province have registered this year, compared with 177,000 in the same period last year.

The Maritime provinces report tourists are not only staying longer this year, but that many are buying land for summer homes.

Lunch-Time Spectacle

MONTREAL (CP).—Two minor downtown fires within a few minutes were nicely timed for lunch-hour crowds. First one at 12.25 was extinguished in a few minutes. Second one started at 12.40 and was put out in good time for the workers to get back to work by one o'clock.

Mayor Swanston Proclaims Saturday National Kids' Day

"It is a pleasure for me as mayor of this city to proclaim Saturday as National Kids' Day in Peterborough and gentlemen I hope that it is a success." With these words, His Worship Mayor Max Swanston handed a proclamation to this effect to Al Plaskett, president of the Kiwanis Club at the club's dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel, Thursday

The mayor, members of the city council and city clerk F. A. Outram were the guests of the Kiwanis Club at this meeting.

The mayor, as guest speaker, paid tribute to the Kiwanis work with particular mention of their great interest in children. He commented on the splendid projects of the club which had been carried out in King Edward, Jackson and Hamilton Parks.

"We in the council know of the good work that the Kiwanis and other service clubs have done for the citizens of Peterborough," stated the mayor.

He mentioned that members of the service clubs had always taken a great interest in civic affairs and from time to time had been members of the council and Board of Education.

"Our city would be much better off, if you chaps in Kiwanis and other service clubs would take some of your time and put it into municipal affairs," commented the mayor.

The speaker was introduced by Director Bill Ovens and an expression of thanks to Mayor Swanston on behalf of the club was made by Bernie LaPointe.

The business part of the meeting was taken up with planning of events for the National Kids' Day which will be held on Saturday.

Bucket Brigade Controls Fire

COBOURG, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Fire of undetermined origin occasioned some damage to a shed at the rear of the residence of Stuart Houstan on Bolton Street early Wednesday morning. A neighbor, Mrs. Olive Davey, saw the fire as she looked out the bedroom window. While awaiting the fire department, neighbors organized a bucket brigade with Mrs. Davey manning the pump at the well. Through their efforts they were able to keep it from reaching the house. The fire department extinguished the fire with little difficulty.

Find Chromite Deposits

NEW DELHI —(CP)— Indian geologists have discovered large chromite deposits in the Keonjhar district of Orissa. Their nearness to the centre of the iron and steel industry and to the port of Calcutta gives them added importance.

Andrews Says Hollywood Needs New Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22 (AP)—Where are the stars of tomorrow? asks Dana Andrews, one of the stars of today.

The handsome actor, who rose to prominence during the war, now is one of Hollywood's established stars. He has managed to jump the gap between a new star and one with a degree of permanence, or as much permanence as anyone can have in this perilous business.

How do I know Andrews is established? Well, his salary is probably close to $100,000 a picture. And he owns a yacht and this week is driving his first Cadillac. That's how I know.

Reflections

Dana was reflecting about the new crop of stars between scenes of "The Gaunt Woman" (that's the name of a ship, they tell me).

"I keep hearing that the industry needs new stars," he said, "but where are they? In the past year there have been hardly any new faces that look as though they might last. Eventually the industry is going to suffer, because Hollywood's success has always been based on the creation of exciting new stars."

Andrews said the lack is especially noticeable in the ranks of the feminine stars.

Old Names

"Look at some of the top names—Betty Grable, Joan Fontaine, Olivia Dehavilland, Irene Dunne, Claudette Colbert, Bette Davis," he said. "They were all in the business before I entered it, and I've been in it 11 years. Very few new stars have been developed since then."

The fault, he hinted, lies in Hollywood's selection of new talent.

"Apparently they don't pick the young people who are willing to work for what they get," he said. "I know of one example of a guy who had a good future at 20th-Fox. But all he wanted to do was leading roles. When they asked him to help out on tests, he refused. Or if he did them, he sloughed off. The guy was last reported doing bits at Monogram."

Journalism Quarters Get Close Scrutiny

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 22 (CP)—The University of Western Ontario's new journalism quarters will be given close scrutiny Sept. 29 by more than 75 editors and publishers of Ontario newspapers.

Situated in the new campus building, Thames Hall, the department of journalism now boasts classrooms, a laboratory with two copy desks, individual typewriter desks and a soundproof radio-broadcasting studio. The radio room is complete with all equipment found in a regular radio-broadcasting studio.

In another room, Canadian Press and Associated Press teletype machines keep the students informed on up-to-the-minute developments in world events.

Young People Train For Special Choir

MILLBROOK, Sept. 22 (ENS)—The Inter-church Young People's Group met Monday evening in the parish hall. A choir of 20 voices is being trained to sing at the evening service in St. Thomas' Anglican Church on Youth Sunday.

Plans were begun for the first function of the fall season which is to take the form of a banquet to be held in the waiting room October 10.

Election of officers is to be held October 16.

A presentation of two pieces of sterling is being made to Melba and Roy Dawson whose marriage took place last June.

Don Spicer, the president, was in the chair.

Gets 27th Term

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—William Green was named to a 27th term as head of the American Federation of Labor Thursday, and in accepting said he has hope the division within American organized labor soon will be over. The 77-year-old Green told the AFL's 69th annual convention he will endeavor to compose AFL's differences with the CIO and bring about labor unity.

Labor Council Expels Trio At Convention

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—The Toronto District Labor Council (TLC) Thursday night expelled three members who were branded as Communists or Communist sympathizers by the Trades and Labor Council at its convention last week.

President William Jenoves, a TLC vice-president, told a council meeting that a list containing the names of more suspected Communists is being prepared.

Expelled from the council were Sam LePedes, top man of the United Garment Workers in Toronto; Reg Wright, president of the Consumers Gas Local of the International Chemical Workers; and Helen Weir, business agent of Local 168, Hotel and Club Employees' Union.

Only Mr. LePedes was present at the meeting. When he arose to protest the council action, Mr. Jenoves cut him off with: "Brother LePedes, you no longer have a voice here. You can either remain as a visitor or leave."

Business Acumen

CHRISTCHURCH, NZ (CP)—The son of a Canterbury district farmer looks forward to a financial career. He sold wool, that at five cents a pound had been bought 30 years ago to fill mattresses, to a local dealer for 43 cents a pound.

ALL FRY-CADBURY BARS NOW 6¢
INCLUDING TAX

Last December, Fry-Cadbury Ltd. reintroduced 5¢ Chocolate Bars.

The public showed its hearty approval of this policy; sales grew so rapidly we had difficulty in meeting the demand.

Today, higher material prices, especially of cocoa beans and sugar, make the 5¢ price more difficult to maintain.

Nevertheless, Fry-Cadbury Ltd. is glad to announce that, due to careful planning and efficient production, the basic 5¢ price of all Fry-Cadbury bars remains unchanged until further notice, and, of course, the same fine quality will continue throughout.

Now, however, to meet the national emergency, our Government has placed a special new tax on all candy bars which means your Fry-Cadbury bars will cost you 6¢.

It is certainly worth remembering that Cadbury's Dairy Milk — Canada's finest milk chocolate — is only 6¢ a bar including tax.

THE TRUTH ABOUT TOOTH DECAY

Science has proved that much of the decay that makes cavities is caused by acid-producing bacteria . . . formed by tiny food particles which remain on the teeth after eating.

To prevent acid-producing bacteria from attacking the teeth, keep your teeth clean by brushing them immediately after meals.

Pepsodent with Irium gives you the greatest cleansing action you can get. Thus the surest way to fight tooth decay is to use Pepsodent immediately after eating. Pepsodent gives you the cleanest teeth and when teeth are cleanest they are safest from decay.

Travelling Reporter Enchanted By Bay Of Chaleur, Shells, Clams

By JACK SCOTT.

DALHOUSIE, N. B. — Twenty miles is, I'll admit, a pretty poor total for a day's travel, but our daughter's shoes went to sea and that led us to the Indian with the fiddle and the two buckets of clams. . . .

But perhaps a full report will be in order. Anyway, I'd like to get it down so I'll have a reminder some future day of another of the pleasant times.

So. We set out shortly after nine in the morning from Campbellton, bound for Moncton, a couple of hundred miles down the coast. It looked like a miserable day. The clouds were like gauze. Except that they weren't clouds at all, but our first experience with an Atlantic fog. It shredded away 10 minutes after we'd set out and the curtain went up on a spectacular Indian Summer day. Not a cloud in the sky.

We rolled through the small town of Dalhousie, up a steep hill through some wooded country and then back to the sea. . . or, more properly, the Bay of Chaleur. Here the highway went straight as a string along the shore and here the spring acted up again. A leaf in one of the trailer's springs works loose. Every other travelling day I have to get out and get under and knock it into place with a hammer.

While I was struggling under the beast the ladies had repaired to the sand beach and, when I'd completed my chore, called for me to join them. Well, Moncton was only a couple of hundred miles away. No need to kill ourselves. And that blue, dancing sheet of water had a hypnotic appeal.

I sauntered down to join them, little dreaming (as the saying goes) that it would be six hours later when I'd saunter back.

Sailing Shoes

They'd found a treasure trove of shells of that kind you put to your ear to hear the sea. These were miniatures, exquisitely fashioned and colored with some like pastel calico, some with peppermint-stick swirls in blue and green and gold.

The gals had decided they'd make beautiful necklaces or even earrings and a concerted search was under way for choice specimens. The kids had taken off their shoes and stockings to retrieve the more priceless gems from the water.

I lay back on the warm sand, closed my eyes and dreamed of making a million with a seashell necklace factory. When I glanced up some 10 minutes later I saw that the incoming tide had picked up Judy's Oxfords and they were floating like tiny ships some distance offshore.

A hundred yards down the beach was a heavy old dory, silver with age (obviously placed there for scenic effect) and with all hands shoving we managed to get her into the water. She took a lot of water, but we poled her out over the sandbars and retrieved the errant shoes, still bone-dry on the inside and obviously headed for Prince Edward Island.

We drifted along with the tide, leaning over the gunwale to watch the show under the bay's calm surface. Small fish flashed through a sinewy forest of sea plants, purple jellyfish undulated bonelessly by and an occasional crab moved rheumatically down a street of kelp.

The tide had now swept us along a quarter of a mile from where the trailer was parked and within earshot of violin music. Looking up, we saw an old and weather-beaten Indian sitting on a log on the beach bowing away at a battered fiddle. It was a strange, discordant pixie kind of music, but a happy sound and suited to the surroundings.

The old man stood up with an almost audible creaking and beckoned us to come ashore. We beached the dory, which was now half filled with water, and the ancient native came down the beach and said: "You like to buy clams?"

The Feast

An hour later we were squatted around a hot fire of driftwood that burned with a green and orange flame. In two old four-pound Crisco tins, each filled with a couple of dozen clams, the water was coming to a boil.

Clarence (for that, so help me, was the Indian's monicker) had told us that the secret was to let the water boil over three times. Then the clams would be ready.

At the first boil the grey shells had opened their arms, revealing the pale yellow delicacies inside. The water was the color of milk and with a creamy head on it and the steam, drifting by four eager schnozzles, had the aroma of the Atlantic in it.

They lived up to this advance notice and, following Clarence's inelegant instructions, we ate them with the fingers, nipping the weekend with his parents off the black collar at the teeth, and thus gaining every last ounce of that firm, subtly flavored flesh That such morsels should come from such an uninspiring creature as the clam!

Then we strained the water from the tins and drank the hot nectar which has a tang and a gentle bite to it like nothing you've ever had before.

When we'd collapsed back on the beach Moncton suddenly seemed an enoromus distance away and when the gals wandered off again to augment their shell collection I lay back in the sun, dreaming of making a million with Scott's Own Original Bay of Chaleur Clam Nectar ("It's Brewed Over Driftwood Fires.")

Never did get beyond that 20 miles.

Board Of Trade Members Visit Nepheline Mine

NORWOOD, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Members of the Norwood Board af Trade and their wives on Wednesday afternoon toured the Nepheline Mine at Stony Lake, and then met at Irwin Inn for dinner. Dr. A. R. Atkinson introduced C. K. Bantock, field secretary of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, who gave an address on the ultimate aims of the Chambers of Commerce of Canada.

In the last three years the number of individual groups have grown from 100 to 675. Since Canada has reached third place in world trade, it behooves each individual community to develop itself in order to retain this position and to benefit itself in so doing, the speaker declared. He stated that industry forms a solid background for good and poor times, and that because of a great exodus of industry from European countries and the fact that this is an era of decentralization, there are real opportunities in this line and every citizen should be an ambassador for his home town.

Speaking of agriculture, Mr. Bantock warned that epople should not neglect the human relations aspect of the farmers in the surrounding area.

In dismissing civic affairs, he intimated that he believed the population of Canada would double in the next half-century, and hence the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is stressing town and community planning as an aid in avoiding the mistakes of the past due to lack of foresight.

In closing, Mr. Bantock said: "While we are planning for our own community, we must remember that we are building a nation.

Perrin Rork thanked the speaker. Two films were then shown and a social hour spent.

Abbott's Baby Budget Hits Ontario Liquor Drinkers

By The Canadian Press

Finance Minister Abbott's "baby budget" has cut deeply into the pocket of Eastern Canada liquor-drinkers.

The budget raised the tax on liquor to $12 a proof gallon, an increase of $1.

A Canadian Press survey shows prices of 26-ounce bottles in Quebec jumped 20 cents as a result. Ontario prices were increased 15-35 cents a bottle. There were 15-and 20-cent hoists on some brands in Nova Scotia. Western prices are so far unchanged but are under review in three provinces.

The Quebec Liquor Commission attributed the 20-cent boost directly to the new tax. The Ontario Liquor Control Board said its increases are the result of both the tax and price increases by some Canadian distillers.

Main effect appears to have been an equalizing of eastern and western prices. Liquor prices in Ontario and Quebec were generally lower before the tax increase than were western prices.

Hardest Hit

Hardest-hit was Ontario. The price of Canadian rye jumped anywhere from 25 cents for a $4 bottle to 35 cents for a $3.40 bottle. Lower-priced brands were up 25 cents.

Canadian gins, selling before at $3-$3.75, now are $3.25-$4. Canadian highland whiskies, which sold in the $3.75-$4 range are up 20 cents.

A straight 20-cent increase was also put on the prices of imported liquors — Scotch and Irish whiskies, cognac, brandy, gins, rums and liqueurs.

In Quebec, the increases took the form of a straight 20-cent boost on 25-and 26½-ounce bottles, and 30 cents on 40-ounce bottles.

Imported Scotch, formerly $5.25, now is $5.45 for a 26½-ounce bottle. Brandies, rums, liqueurs and gins are similarly affected.

In Nova Scotia, the 15-cent hikes apply to brandy (now $7.40). Canadian rum ($4.40), imported Scotch $4.65) and imported gin ($4.65). Up 20 cents are imported rum ($3.95), Canadian rye ($4.70) and Canadian gin ($3.65). Canadian Scotch is up 30 cents to $4.55. There has been no change in liqueurs and wines.

Increases are expected any day in British Columbia, where minimum prices now are: Rye, $3.25; gin $3.25; Scotch $5. On top of these prices there is a three-percent sales tax.

Liquor prices are under review in Alberta and Manitoba; no increases are reported from Saskatchewan. Indications in Manitoba are that any increases will be deferred until pre-budget stocks are cleared.

The federal budget has had no effect in New Brunswick, where Scotch ranges from $4.52-$7.28 a quart; rye $3.74-$6.24; gin $3.64-$4.42; rum $3.64-$5.56, all including a provincial sales tax.

Landmark Burns

NAVAN, Ont., Sept. 22 (CP)—A century-old landmark, a two-storey log house, was destroyed Thursday in a fire which threatened to sweep through this village 14 miles from Ottawa but which was finally extinguished after a two-hour fight by a milk-can brigade. The old log house, known as the Visser homestead, was occupied by two families—Mr. and Mrs. J. Nadeau and their six children and Mrs. Anne Morrison and her son, Lloyd.

School For Prospectors

MARMORA, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Dr. Harding, of the Department of Mines, who has been in this district for the past three months, has offered to hold a school for prospectors in Marmora, probably in November.

Those interested in attending such classes are asked to get in touch with the Marmora Distict Chamber of Commerce through its president, A. F. Fraser, or secretary R. E. Neal, or with Reeve V. M. Lynch.

Meat Strike Settled

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — A two-hour strike by employees of two Toronto meat stores appeared settled Thursday night. # Fifth Wife Charged As Drunkard

CHICAGO, Sept. 22—(AP)—J. Leslie Younghusband, much-married Chicago cosmetics and perfume maker, Thursday charged his fifth wife with adultery and drunkenness.

The allegations of his amended divorce complaint matched in these respects her charges against him, which also include cruelty.

The 54-year-old Younghusband charged his wife, a 34-year-old former dancer, once performed "naked dances for the benefit of (one) Tommy Doe" in Ontario.

She also drank to excess and encouraged their children, Jill, 6, and James, Jr., nine months, to drink, the complaint said.

Judge Daniel A. Roberts postponed the divorce hearing until Sept. 28 to give Mrs. Younghusband, the former Mary Louise Uhlman, time to prepare her legal answer.

Happened At Orillia

Younghusband's first wife died. Three subsequent marriages ended in divorce.

The man who gave flappers kissproof lipstick in 1923 charged his wife committed adultery at a skeet match in Syracuse, N.Y., 10 years ago with one "Dan Doe."

The dance in the nude for "Tommy Doe," Younghusband alleged, took place in 1940 at Orillia.

For her part, Mrs. Younghusband charged her husband was an adulterer, a drunkard, and a giver of expensive gifts—such as mink coats—to other women.

She allged he spent "thousands of dollars" on detectives, wire-tappers, photographers and gigolos trying to "frame her."

Chinese Cooks Are Experts In Vegetable Cookery

By MARY MOORE

It is because I like Chinese food that I am writting this. If you happen to like tender but crisp vegetables; eating with chop sticks, even down to the last grain of rice, one at a time; and perfection in your flavor combination—then you and I will get together.

For I ate a ten-course Chinese dinner and never once resorted to fork or finger, and it was fun.

One gentleman who seems to be an authority claims "the main feature of Chinese cookery that appeals to occidentals (that's you and me) is their knack of getting vegetables very hot without overcooking and getting them to the table while they are still in this perfect state."

A dish simply called "Pork with Tomatoes and Green Peppers" very clearly bears out his point. We had this, I loved it, and recommend it.

Pork with Tomatoes and Green Peppers

Cut four large slightly underripe tomatoes and two large green peppers into crescents and large squares. Brown 2 pounds lean pork cut into cubes, in a slightly greased skillet, then add I finely chopped clove of garlic and cook one minute, when some of the fat will be tried out of the pork. Add 1 cup canned consomme, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate (MSG), 1 tablespoon soy sauce and 1-2 teaspoon crumbled fresh or dry sweet basil. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes—or until pork is tender. Then add the green peppers and cook 3 minutes. Next add the tomatoes and cook 2 minutes. Stir in 2 teaspoons cornstarch made into a paste with 2 tablespoons water and stir until thick and simmer 3 minutes. Serve at once with fluffy boiled rice.

You can never pass for an expert cook of Chinese food unless you can produce fluffy rice with every grain separate.

Steamed Rice Chinese Style

Wash three cups long grain rice and put in pan with tight-fitting cover. Add 7 cups boiling water, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons salt. Cover tightly. Put over high heat until it boils. Stand off heat until it stops boiling over but do not remove cover. Return to as low heat as you can manage for 45 minutes. Stand off heat for 10 minutes before serving to steam rice grains from bottom of pan which have stuck there. Serve at once.

✧ ✧ ✧

Cauliflower with Egg Yolk

Break a medium cauliflower into flowerets and steam until nearly tender—stem end should have some crispness. Saute in 2 tablespoons butter or peanut oil until lightly browned. Put in hot serving bowl. Sprinkle with salt and MSG (an indispensable ingredient to Chinese cookery—this is the pure protein of wheat). Sprinkle sieved hard-cooked egg yolk over top and serve at once.

Him Soon York (sweet-sour pork)

Simmer 1 1-2 lbs. pork cut in small strips with ¼ cup soy sauce, 2 cups water and 2 tablespoons sugar 45 minutes. Cut into chunky pieces I large green pepper and 2 underripe tomatoes. Mix together 1-2 cup chopped green onion, 2-3 cup cubed canned pineapple, and 1 cup sweet pickles. Make the sauce by boiling together 1 1-2 cups each vinegar and water, 1 cup sugar. Make a paste with 1-3 cup cornstarch and 2-3 cup pineapple and pickle juices. Stir this into the sauce until thick. Make the batter by sifting together 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, and beating in until smooth 1 beaten egg and 2-3 cup water. Dip the cooked and drained pork in the batter and fry in 1-inch deep peanut oil at 380 deg. Fahr. until golden. Lightly saute the tomatoes, peppers and onions and pineapple and pickles in same fat and skim out and garnish meat platter with them. Pour hot sauce over all and serve at once. This is ideal for us this month—for you can use shank meat and all of the vegetables are at their lowest price.

Stylish Women Impress Czech

WINNIPEG —(CP)— Irene Kankova says quietly: "I've always been lucky."

And the 23-year-old Czech, now assistant director of the YWCA's junior division here, needed luck. She was expelled from Charles University at Prague, arrested by the Secret Police, escaped from jail and fled her country.

Within two weeks of her arrival in Germany—that was in 1949—she got a job with the world YWCA. Finally she arranged to come to Canada.

"One day I hope to become a Canadian citizen," she told a Winnipeg reporter. "But first I want to learn to speak perfect English and perhaps finish my education." She started work toward her doctorate of philosophy at the Sorbonne, Paris.

Four things impress her about Canada, she said: The automobiles, the food, the hospitality and the youthful, smart appearance of the women.

Roseneath WA Observes 16th Birthday

ROSENEATH, Sept. 22 (ENS) "Be willing to practice the Christian life where you are, put power in it and do the pattern God wants you to do," was the challenge thrown out by Mrs. Arthur Luffman, Baltimore, as guest speaker at the 16th birthday celebration of the WA of Roseneath United Church. Mrs. Luffman chose as her subject "Faith Without Works is Dead."

The meeting was held in the township hall. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. R. C. White. The president, Mrs. Ford Derry, presided with Mrs. Ivan Thackeray as secretary and Mrs. Bart Thackeray, pianist. The roll call was answered by a verse of scripture.

Rev. R. C. White was in charge of the devotional period. A historical sketch of the WA was presented by Mrs. F. Derry. It was organized in 1933 by Rev. and Mrs. L. W Scott and Mrs. Frank Turner, now of Cobourg, was the first president with Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite as secretary-treasurer and had a membership of seven. The following past presidents spoke briefly; Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, Mrs. Leslie Tucker, Mrs. Bart Thackeray. Mrs. A. Nill was unable to be present. The secretaries were: Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, Mrs. Joseph Braithwaite, Mrs. C. Grigg, Miss Irene Brown. Mrs. Isaac Skuce and Mrs. Ivan Thackeray. The treasurers were: Mrs. Clarke Sandercock and Mrs. Fred Norris.

A valued member of the society Mrs. Heman Blodgett made the first birthday cake and it was on her suggestion that these birthday anniversaries of the WA are held.

The long table at the front of the hall, covered with a linen cloth was centred with a three-tier birthday cake complete with candles, and decorated by Mrs. Derry, late summer flowers in sliver vases were on either side of the cake. The guests of honor seated at the table, were the officers, past and present, the guest speaker, Mrs. R. C. White and Mrs. Herman Blodgett. In the midst of them was a vacant chair in memory of the late Mrs. Joseph Braithwaite, a former officer and valued member of the society.

In the candle-lighted ceremony, the first president, Mrs. Turner, lit the candles on the cake.

Mrs. Fred Norris had charge of the following program: Mrs. Walter Gallagher, a reading; Misses Mary Halstead and Carole McMillan sang a duet, with Mrs. Flex McMillan piano accompanist; Mrs. Lorne Thackeray contributed a humorus reading; Mrs. Oscar Adams and Miss Yvonne Adams played an instrumental duet on piano and violin; Miss Nilda Brown, a piano solo.

Mrs. J. N. Lovelace on behalf of the guests, thanked the society for the invitation to be present.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. White.

The hall was gaily decorated with a profusion of late summer flowers for the occasion.

Early Shoppers Buying Wool Bargains

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON —(CP)— The threatened price-rise in British wool textiles has resulted in early buying of jumpers, cardigans and twin-sets.

Present prices are the best yet and eager shoppers are taking fill advantage of the bargains.

There is an abundance of short-sleeved jumpers in many styles and colors, all priced under £1 ($3.10). Among possible choices are plain ribs in brights reds, yellows, blues and greens. Even the usually hard-to-get blacks are available.

For color-interest, there are patterned yokes, fair isles, alternate stripes, plain jumpers with front bibs of small motifs and cap-sleeved styles with contrast coloring or striping.

For those who like a twin-set, prices range from around 35s. to the £4 10s. neutral-shaded lambs wools.

Nice Twin Set

A mixture of super-fine angora and the best botany makes a twin-set with a firmness that prevents stretching and loss of shape. This is achieved by a fine jacquard stitch.

Beautifully tailored in fine stocking stitch, sets are procurable in lambswool, angora, alpaca, jersey, jaska, botany and the fine two-ply Shetland.

Popular choice in this year's long-sleeved jumpers are plaid checks, dice checks and tartans. All have plain-colored waist, wrist and neckline and can be found in McLeod and Buchanan tartans, Glenurquhart and Shepherd's checks.

For evening wear, off-the-shoulder numbers have intricately-shaped cuff-tops or open-work necklines. A popular choice for the casual dance is the blouse-sweater with transparent white silk torso gathered onto a black, ribbed waistline and black boater neckcum-yoke line.

One of the more charming evening favorites are the fine open-work lace jumpers lined with a stiking contrast in satin, moire or taffeta.

Newest colors are mink, cardinal wine, Edwardian green, walnut, parma violet, pale winter lilac and burnt heather.

Canadian Consumer Assoc. Demands Price Protection

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—The Canadian Association of Consumers Thursday demanded protection against unwarranted price boosts following tax changes.

The annual meeting of the National Women's Organization said that boosts in many commodity prices after tax changes were unnecessary. A resolution asked Finance Minister Abbott to take action to prevent unwarranted price boosts.

A second resolution asked that if it becomes necessary to impose price controls, the base period for the establishment of prices should not extend past Aug. 1, 1950.

The resolution, presented by Mrs. C. K. Newcombe, of Winnipeg, said "the CAC feels that many prices have been advanced in anticipation of price control rather than because of necessity."

Elected President

Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr,, of Oakville, was elected president of the organization.

The CAC also:

1. Decided to investigate claims that some manufacturers are issuing free coupons for soap at a time when soap prices have increased.

2. Decided to ask better business bureaus to investigate claims of "fancy, red salmon which is neither fancy nor red."

3. Voted down a resolution introduced by Mrs. Pat Conroy, of Ottawa, wife of the secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labor, urging the government to control and reduce prices.

4. Urged provincial governments to establish compulsory inspection and grading of meat.

Council of Women Planning Events of Interest

The Local Council of Women honored Mrs. E. B. McWilliams with presentation of a life membership certificate and pin during the regular meeting held Thursday afternoon at the YWCA. President Mrs. Steinkrauss presided, Corresponding Secretary Mrs. W. H. Morton made an address and Treasurer Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy presented the gift.

Considerable discussion took place on the manner in which this Council will observe National Council day, which has been set for October 26 with the aim of publicizing the National Council and obtaining funds to make a donation to the foundation fund being set up. Tentative plans for a tea on October 27 had been made at an executive meeting early this week, and another suggestion was for an evening entertainment. A committee of Mesdames E. Wand, F. Merrett, H. T. Rehill, W. H. Morton, W. F. Connal, E. B. McWilliams, M. Moncrief, W. T. Fanjoy and W. Steinkrauss will meet Monday afternoon at Mrs. Rehill's home on Anne St. to decide what will be done.

Convener of Laws Mrs. F. Merrett received approval on plans to bring Mrs. B. L. Underhill of London, Ontario, a most successful lawyer, to this city November 16 to address an evening meeting, open to the public, on the subject, Succession Duties.

Mrs. G. Rutherford, United Nations convener, advised that the local study group will bring General A. G. L. MacNaughton, chairman of the International joint committee, to speak in this city October 26. She will take names of those wishing to attend and then secure a block of tickets, which are free, to accommodate the number.

A film of recent pictures of Newfoundland and the eastern coast may be brought here by the Council when they become available in February through arrangements now being undertaken by Mrs. Rutherford.

The annual meeting of Provincial Council, November 23-25 in Toronto was announced and the sub-executive appointed to fill out a proposed slate of officers for election at that time.

Mrs. K. Simpson received cash donations to make up $45 for the continued support of an European child for three months. She also read a letter from the Unitarian Service committee asking for further help.

A letter of thanks for a food parcel sent to London, England, last spring was read.

Mrs. Steinkrauss opened the meeting with a prayer from the united centennial service of last Sunday evening. Minutes were read by Mrs. Fanjoy in absence of recording secretary Mrs. A. W. Nelson.

Twenty three members attended and a telegram was received from second vice president Mrs. A. A. McIntyre who is out of the city.

Urge Attention to Religion When Teaching Young Folk As Normalites Welcomed

Official welcome to 130 students registered at the Peterborough Normal school for the 1950-51 term was given Thursday by the staff, with assistance of practice teachers, representatives of city schools, boards of education, inspectors, clergy and public institutions, who attended the reception and afternoon tea.

Mayor M. J. Swanston, extending civic greetings, commended the 101 young women and 29 young men for "entering one of the most necessary professions."

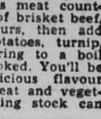
As chairman of the Board of Education, Mr. Frank Jobbitt expressed a similar feeling and said "my tenure of office has given me a higher regard than ever for the teacher."

"That religion is too often left out in the education of the youth of today and that the future of this city and its environs depends on what we teach the children," were the pointers to deeper thought left by Salvation Army Major Cyril Everitt, president of the Peterborough Ministerial Association, who introduced the speaker of the occasion, the Rev. Walter J. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican church.

"I am very gloomy about the future of Christianity in this country," said Mr. Gilling. His reason is that religion has not been included as a necessary subject for study in the school curriculum, and in this century thinking, manners and behaviour in all phases is at a very "common" level.

He made statement of a fact, already apparent to many, that there is more and more frustration, more and more unhappiness in the world, yet a higher standard of education, and said "It is because education has failed to instruct these people in the art of living."

"What Christianity needs today is personal representation. It must have men and women who are true apostles, who do something about religion." Mr. Gilling urged the students to "deliver what you have to say with firm conviction, believing that salvation of the world depends on those who have the task of bringing along the young folk."



Headmaster Mr. Leo Copp as chairman greeted the students and guests.

Two new members of the staff introduced were Miss Timlin, librarian, and Mr. John Londerville, master.

Mrs. Dorothy Goldie who gave two vocal numbers, and her accompanist, Mr. Charles Allen, were introduced by the music director, Mr. Quirt McKinney.

Afterward, while guests introduced themselves to the students and chatted, the staff members served tea and refreshments. At a beautifully appointed tea table, arranged by Mrs. F. Turner, Mrs. Leo Copp and Mrs. F. R. Smitheram filled the cups.

SPEAKING OF FOOD —

These days most mothers are looking for economical ways of stretching food dollars and at the same time providing the family with nourishing and appetising meals. Here's a main course with all the essentials, yet one which is economical to prepare. From your nearby Dominion Master Market's meat counter, select a choice cut of brisket beef, simmer this for 3 hours, then add vegetables such as potatoes, turnip, onions and carrots. Bring to a boil until vegetables are cooked. You'll be surprised at the delicious flavour when you serve the meat and vegetables, and the remaining stock can be used for soup.

When you're shopping at Dominion's meat counter, you'll find an unusually tempting variety of roasts, steaks, chops and other cuts to choose from and it's no accident that Dominion enjoys a unique reputation for meats of tenderness and flavour. Dominion's meat buyers are experts with sound knowledge of the shopper's tastes and needs. Quality, backed by personal service and Dominion's shopping guarantee make your Dominion Master Market an ideal place to do your family food shopping. And here's a tip . . . if you like fresh caught fish be sure to see the variety at Dominion

Recently on a shopping trip to Dominion, your reporter, being a fancier of cheese, was delighted to see the large variety [illegible] cheese with a real nippy flavour, mild Canadian Cheddar, not to mention the vast assortment of creamed cheese and imported varieties. It immediately brought to mind a host of dishes and tempting salads made with cheese. Small wonder that cheese has been a favourite food for hundreds of years. Next time you're planning a cheese dish, salad, or looking for inspirations for lunches and entertaining, it will pay you to first visit your Dominion Store.

Here is an idea for using Kraft Velveeta Cheese:

EGGS WITH VELVEETA SAUCE
½ lb. Velveeta
¼ cup milk
Hard-cooked eggs
Toast
Pimiento
Melt the Velveeta in the top of a double boiler. Gradually add the milk, stirring until the sauce is smooth. For each portion place two hard-cooked egg halves on crisp toast and cover with a generous amount of the hot Velveeta sauce. Garnish with pimiento cut in small fancy shapes.

P.S.: In case you're in doubt, your Dominion Master Market is located at George and Sherbrooke Streets in Peterborough.

Easy to Add Some Variety To Monotonous Sandwiches

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP)— Those same old sandwiches day after day—they're monotonous to make and can become pretty dull eating unless mother determines to introduce a little variety into junior's school lunch.

Health experts warn that a child's health as well as his progress and interest in school may be affected by the meals he eats. In view of this, the school lunch should be regarded as more than just a mid-day snack. It is a mid-day meal. Sandwiches are easy to carry and nutritious if ample portions of the right fillings are selected.

Some Ideas

Meat and poultry: Slice, with lettuce. To left-over meat loaf, bologna or liver, add grated onion, celery or carrot.

Fish: Flaked with cucumber, or tomato juice.

Egg: (Hard cooked or scrambled) chopped or mashed with diced celery, parsley or chopped onion.

Cheese: Sliced or grated, plain or with onion, lettuce, celery, parsley, jam, jelly or nuts.

Peanut butter: Plain or with honey or molasses, banana or other fruit.

Vegetables: Shredded lettuce, sliced tomato, cucumber, radish, shopped raw cabbage, carrot with raisins or grated cheese, baked beans.

Fruit: Chopped raisins, dates or prunes.

Need Hot Dish

A hot dish in the school lunch is highly acceptable, particularly in cold weather. Food should be selected which can be successfully heated. It is placed in a glass jar labelled with his name. This can be heated in a hot water bath at school.

Creamed beef may be the selected hot dish, accompanied by raw carrot, brown bread, cookies and milk.

Thick vegetable soup is another easy-to-make preparation. Brown bread also may go along with this, together with an apple for dessert and milk.

Good Ideas

From the tea bureau came several interesting suggestions for dressing up the popular beverage.

Tea cocktail: One tea bag; one cup boiling water; one cup grapefruit juice; two teaspoons lemon juice; cracked ice.

Add boiling water to tea bag and brew for five minutes. Remove the bag and allow the brew to drop to room temperature. Put into a cocktail shaker or jar with tight-fitting cover, add fruit juices and cracked ice. Cover tightly and shake vigorously until the ice is practically dissolved. Serves from four to six persons.

✧ ✧ ✧

Lemon flavored tea biscuits also have been suggested as an accompaniment for iced tea. Just add the grated rind of one lemon and a tablespoon of sugar to your favorite baking-powder biscuit recipe. If desired, garnish with slices of candied lemon peel.

DOROTHY DIX

In Raising a Daughter Teach Self-Control, Self-Support

DEAR MISS DIX: I am rearing a family of four girls whose ages run from 8 to 18, and I often wonder if I am not neglecting some important part of their training. Would you mind telling me what you think parents of growing daughters should teach them? HELEN B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By the time a girl is 18 she is virtually on her own nowadays, and whether she stands or falls, whether she wrecks her life or saves it, depends upon the principles that her mother has bred into her. All of the chaperoning that a mother can do has to be done while her little daughter is in the cradle. All of the protection a mother can give her daughter is to teach her how to protect herself.

Dorothy Dix

So I think that the most important thing that a mother can do is to teach her daughter self-respect. Teach her to keep clean, physically and spiritually, and to value her body. Every mother should teach her daughter as soon as she is able to understand anything at all to know herself and to guard against her own weaknesses. She should teach her especially to guard herself against her own passions. All temptation comes from within. Teach a girl to guard herself against herself and you have done all that can be done to protect her.

Don't Be Too Strict

In trying to protect your daughter, don't overdo it. A too-strict home is worse than a home that has no restrictions at all. Youth is going to have its pleasures. It prefers to take them decently at home, but if that is forbidden it will find them abroad. You can make boys welcome and see that they have a good time at your house and so know what sort of lads your daughters are associating with and what they are doing. Or you can shut your door against them and have your girls lie to you about where they are going and pick up boys on the streets and make blind dates.

Give your daughters as good an education as they will take, but see to it that they are taught some way to support themselves. Teach them how to sew and how to cook. Especially how to cook. Whatever else a woman needs to know in life she always needs to know these two things. For on them depends not only her own convenience but the well-being of her family.

And teach your girls good manners and the amenities of like. They are a woman's passport to every grade of society. All doors open to her before their magic. If you will teach you daughters these things, the remainder will take care of itself.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have one of the best wives a man ever had. She is good-looking, loving, kind, a real helpmate and a fine housekeeper, but I have been untrue to her and even forced her to live in the house with the other woman to save my reputation. More than this, I made her stand for it when the other woman sneered at her and said cruel, mean things to her. Now I am tired of the other woman and want my wife back, but I am afraid she will not love or respect me again. How can I make her feel toward me as she did before I treated her so badly?

ANOTHER FOOL

ANSWER: Well, brother, you can't. The trouble with our foolishness is that we can never undo it. We have to go on paying for it as long as we live.

We talk a lot of nonsense about forgiving and forgetting, but in reality neither is possible. We think we can betray those who love us, that we can trample their pride in the dust, that we can neglect them, that we can show ourselves mean and selfish and untrustworthy and then, when we have got over our temporary infatuation or feel in a good humor again or need their help in some way, we can say that we are sorry, and that those we have wronged will immediately become oblivious to our offenses against them and restore us to our old place in their esteem. But it never happens.

Of course, many women do make the gesture of pretending to forgive and forget because it saves their faces and puts the relationship between them and their recent spouses on a more agreeable basis, but deep down in their hearts wives never forgive their husbands' infidelities and they never, never forget, no matter how deeply they bury their wrongs in silence.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Is married life supposed to be a fifty-fifty proposition, or 99 per cent woman and 1 per cent man? I have seen cases where the wife was the whole show, while the husband was just sort of a background.

CURIOUS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Of course, the ideal marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition in which the husband and wife should share equally, but I am afraid it will seldom be that way as long as human nature is what it is, and one person is stronger and more aggressive than another.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Unusual Egg Dish Can Be Welcome, Nourishing Treat

SAUTED MUSHROOMS make a tasty base to pairs of savory eggs pressed together and covered with sauce.

For al kinds of unusual ideas for preparing eggs, you must see "300 Ways to Serve Eggs," the tenth cookbook in the series of 24 Culinary Arts Institute Cookbooks that are now available to readers of the Examiner. This gem of a cookbook, like its predecessors, Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups, Salads, Meats, and Fish, treats only one phase of cookery but treats it thoroughly and imaginatively.

Here is one of the many easy-to-make, unusual to serve recipes in the Egg Book:

Savory Eggs

Cut eggs into halves, lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks, add seasonings, cream, parsley, anchovy or any desired relish and refill the white. Place on slices of toast and pour white sauce over them. Serves 6.

HERB—Mix yolks with chives, thyme, chervil and sweet marjoram.

THURINGER—Mix yolks with ¼ cup minced cooked Thuringer sausage and 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento.

Serve savory egg in halves on toast or in pairs on broiled mushroom caps.

This valuable cookbook has ideas for using eggs in appetizers, main dishes, salads, sauces, and desserts. You will want to obtain your copy of the Egg Book right away. All you need do is clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25c at the Examiner Office, or to you Examiner Carrier, or at Braund's Home Food Markets.

PURELY MENTAL

Scientific tests have indicated that time is generally over-estimated in rooms painted in red tones; underestimated where blue predominates.

What's Right

A woman sees a couple she knows having lunch in a restaurant.

WRONG: She stops at their table to chat, feeling that it is all right for her to stand talking if she says to the man at the table: "Please sit down."

RIGHT: She says "Hello" to the couple but doesn't stop to talk, since the man will feel he must remain standing as long as she does.

Take That Vacation You Can't Afford

You'll have more fun for less money if you take your holidays when the crowds don't. Hotel rates are lower. Travel is more pleasant. "Natives" are friendlier. And the weather's fine!

In October Reader's Digest (now on sale) there is an interesting article on how to plan a rewarding out-of-season vacation—where to go—what to ask for in advance.

Don't miss "Take That Vacation You Can't Afford" in the new Digest. It's just one of 36 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines and current books. Get your new Digest, today.

6—In Memoriams

DECK—In loving memory of my wife, Mrs. Albert Deck, who died one year ago, September 22, 1949.
What would I give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face, to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In heaven that happy life.
—Husband

DECK—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Albert Deck, who passed away one year ago, Sept. 22, 1949.
You can only have one mother,
Patient, kind and true,
No other friend in all the world
Will be as true to you.
For all her loving kindness
If all the world deserts you
To your mother you can turn.
So all we can do dear mother
Is to go and tend your grave
And leave behind a token of love
To the best mother, God ever gave —Lovingly remembered by her son Clifton and family.

DECK—In memory of mother, who passed away September 22nd, 1949. Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break but all in vain.
—Ever remembered by Una and Sam and family.

HANWELL—In loving memory of mother, who passed away three years ago, September 22.
While you, dear mother, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

Fire Starts In House Rescue Six Children

WINDSOR, Sept. 22 (CP) Firemen, parents and a 13-year-old girl rescued six small children Thursday night when fire threatened a crowded Windsor home. The house, in which seven families were listed as living, was filled with smoke from a basement fire. No one was injured.

Patricia Van Dyke, 13, carried 14-month-old James Pierce to safety. Firemen and parents carried five other children through the dense smoke to the street.

Wilmot Jackson, owner of the house, said the fire was believed started from a cigarette butt.

Jet Makes Non-Stop Ocean Hop

Companion Aircraft Crashes, Pilot Parachutes

LIMESTONE AIR FORCE BASE, Me., Sept. 23—(AP)—An oil-spattered Thunderjet fighter plane here is proof that jets can hop the Atlantic in one swoop—if they're refueled in flight.

This one did it Friday, completing the world's first non-stop, intercontinental flight by jet aircraft.

A companion plane came to grief over Labrador, but its pilot parachuted safely.

Col. David C. Schilling of the United States Air Force flew his single engine F-84 fighter 3,300 miles from Manston, England, to Limestone in 10 hours and one minute.

Head winds kept the ace of the Second World War from endangering the 1949 record set by a Panamerican Airways Stratoliner that flew 3,565 miles in nine hours, 16 minutes with a 110-mile-an-hour tail wind.

Schilling said "everything went perfectly" on his flight.

Not Enough Fuel

Air force officials in Washington said his flying mate, Lt.-Col. William D. Ritchie, had trouble refuelling from a tanker plane over Goose Bay, Labrador, and apparently didn't get enough fuel to carry his ship through.

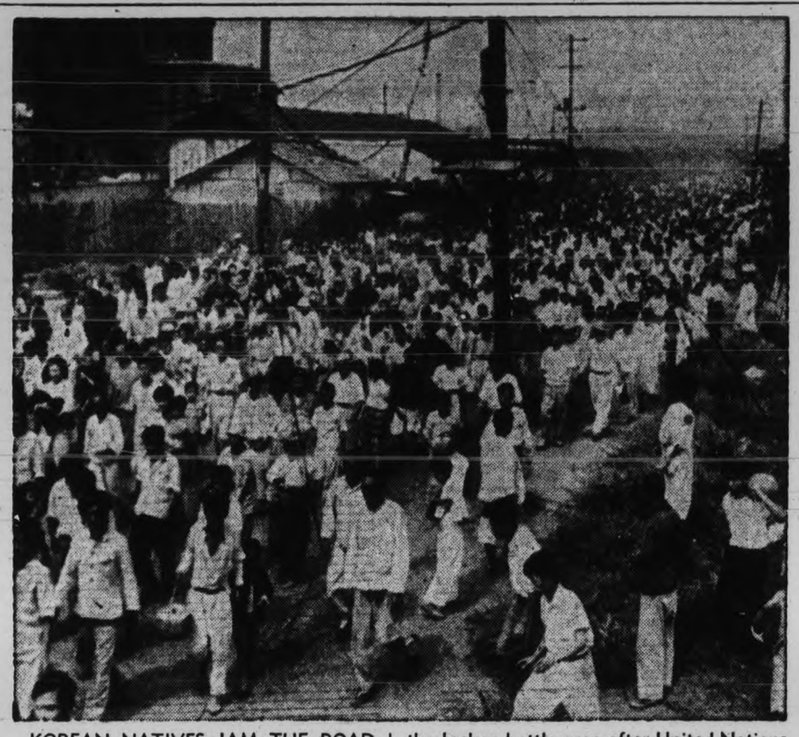
A rescue helicopter from Goose Bay picked up Ritchie unhurt.

Both veteran pilots were on a mission to give jet refuelling techniques an acid test.

Air refuelling already is standard practice for bombers.

The F-84's took on jet fuel from flying tankers over Prestwick, Scotland, Keflavik, Iceland; and Goose Bay by a British-developed method.

The jet pilot rams a nozzle projecting from his craft into a funnel-shaped nozzle that trails from the tanker plane.



Fuel starts flowing automatically. It stops when the fighter's tanks are filled.

Quick Work

Observers speculated the air-refuelling exploits of Schilling and Ritchie may have demonstrated how quickly Thunderjets could be rushed to Europe.

The jets can travel only about 2,000 miles with extra fuel tanks.

Ritchie and Schilling were unsuccessful earlier this week in an attempt at flying the Atlantic non-stop.

Plane Missing With 16 Aboard

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23 (AP)—The United States Coast Guard said today an air force B-50 bomber carrying a crew of 12 and four passengers is overdue at Tucson, Ariz.

The plane left Goose Bay, Labrador, Thursday night and was due at Tucson about noon Friday.

The Coast Guard said the scheduled route of the bomber would have taken it over Gore Bay, Ont., Omaha, Neb., and Albuquerque, N.M., with its first landing at Tucson.

The only large body of water along the route is Lake Superior.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Likely On Monday

TORONTO, Sept. 23—(CP)—A total eclipse of the harvest moon Monday night will be visible almost everywhere in Canada except in the Yukon and in northern regions of the Northwest Territories.

It will start at 11.53 p.m. EDT Monday and last until 12.39 a.m. Tuesday. The eclipse will be the only one that can be seen in Canada this year and there will not be another until 1953.

Unlike eclipses of the sun which become visible in different areas at different times, the eclipse of the moon, caused by the earth's shadow falling across the moon's face, can be seen at the same time across Canada.

Ottawa Decides To Parallel U.S. Controls

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Official sources said Friday the government has decided to parallel "in effect" but not "in detail" all of the controls introduced in the United States by President Truman.

The policy, similar to that installed by Canada during the Second World War, has twin aims, an informant said.

One is the aim of fighting inflation and diverting essential commodities in an orderly manner into defence production.

The other is to make certain that United States manufacturers do not use Canada as a "back door" to obtain supplies which, because of controls, they could not procure from producers in their own country.

In line with this policy, the government already has obtained legislation from Parliament which gives it the right to curb instalment buying and control the price and allocation of any commodities considered "essential" in the country's defence.

Introduced Soon

Thus, in a matter of weeks, first post-war regulations to curb credit buying will be introduced by the government.

In the weeks that follow, said the informant, there will be other controls instituted. These will deal with the allocation of steel and other metals now under control in the United States.

The steel industry likely will be asked to control the flow of steel on a voluntary basis. If this does not work, then compulsory controls will be instituted. Other metal producers, such as aluminum, copper, lead and zinc, will be asked to follow a similar policy.

The Canadian system of controls, the informant said, may not be capable of total prevention of shipment of essential goods to a non-essential user.

Three US Tourists Hurt As Car Crashes Into Truck

Three unidentified American men were taken to Ross Memorial hospital, Lindsay, late Friday night when their car crashed into the rear of a three-ton dump truck on Highway 7, a half mile south of Reaboro. Eyewitnesses say that the American car containing two other passengers was attempting to pass the dump truck as both vehicles drove toward Lindsay. The driver of the car saw an oncoming car and tried to pull back into his own lane of traffic. Apparently he misjudged and the car smashed into the rear of the truck.

The impact drove the truck, owned by Victoria Motor Sales, into the right-hand ditch against a tree but the driver, Richard Spratt of Lindsay, was uninjured and the truck only slightly damaged. The car is a total wreck.

Provincial Constable F. N. Link-later of Lindsay investigated. The three Americans were given medical attention by Dr. William N. Earle of Omemee.

Japan Volcano Has Eruption

TOKYO, Sept. 23 (Reuters)—Eruption early today of Mount Asama, volcano 100 miles northwest of Tokyo, caused the death of one person, the disappearance of a mountaineer, and injuries to three other mountaineers.

They were all involved in a panic-stricken descent after the mountain staged its worst eruption recorded in the last 30 years.

Mountaineers who escaped said the mounatin threw up lava rocks as big as a man's fist which rained down on them.

The eruption threw smoke 30,000 feet into the air and scattered large quantities of volcanic ash over an area of more than 50 miles.

Police Officers Now Reinstated

QUEBEC, Sept. 23 (CP).—Premier Duplessis Friday announced the reinstatement of two provincial police officers recently cleared of conspiracy charges, approved a new $30,000,000 hydro-electric plan and described arrangements for accommodations of federal and provincial leaders at next week's constitutional conference here.

At his weekly press conference, Mr. Duplessis said that Detective Lieut. Marcel Patenaude will return to his post as chief of the hold-up squad while Detective Sgt. Gaston Archambault will be reinstated to the force.

Both were suspended after bank robber Charles-Emile Poliquin, accused them and a former provincial detective, Paul Hervieux, of conspiring with him to commit bank hold-ups. All three were acquitted.

Referring to the dominion-provincial conference, the Premier said it was the first time such a "representative and important" Canadian conference had been called for Quebec.

"All the governments of Canada will be represented for the first time," he said.

He added that Prime Minister St. Laurent and Premier Frost of Ontario have been provided with the quarters of the legislative council speaker and the legislative assembly speaker, respectively.

Other provincial leaders have been allocated spacious quarters occupied by Quebec government officials during the regular session of the legislature.

Drug Injection Eases A-Rays

LONDON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Discovery of a drug injection which may provide an "internal shield" against atomic rays was reported today by three British government research men.

The drug is thioureaa substance commonly obtained by heating urea, one of the main constituents of animal urine.

In experiments carried on at the government atomic energy laboratory in Harwell, mice were injected with the drug and then exposed to lethal doses of X-rays Of nine mice so treated, eight survived.

Mortality among mice either untreated or injected with a variety of other drugs ranged from 14 to 100 per cent.

Successful Fishing Trip Nets 43,000 Sweep Tickets

BUFFALO, NY, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has reported a successful fishing expedition. The catch was about 43,000 sweepstakes tickets figuring in an alleged $2,000,000 international lottery ring.

Harry G. Maynor, agent in charge of the Buffalo, FBI, office, said:

"A couple of fellows fishing down near the Peace Bridge (over the Niagara River between Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont.) noticed an army duffle bag floating in the water Friday night.

"They opened it out of curiosity and pulled out a handful of these tickets."

The fishermen notified an immigration inspector, who summoned the FBI.

Maynor said FBI agents recovered the bag and subsequent investigation disclosed the tickets were part of a shipment consigned to Sam Salone, 42, who was arrested in Rochester, September 13. Their face value was $53,750.

Salone is awaiting a hearing November 8 on a charge of conspiring to violate a Federal statute prohibiting interstate transportation of lottery tickes.

He and Serafino Camilo, 54, also of Rochester, were accused by FBI of having contracted as exclusive agents for Canadian sales of the tickets.

A dozen men were arrested throughout the United States in connection with the alleged lottery ring after the RCMP reported picking up a taxi driver carrying some of the tickets across the Canadian-American border.

150 Troops Killed Or Wounded

Communists Overrun Allied Sector After 2 Companies Hit

WAEGWAN, Korea, Sept. 23—(CP)—American planes and Communist guns killed or wounded more than 150 British troops today.

The Americans hit the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders with Napalm (jellied gasoline)) incendiary bombs and raked them with machine-gun fire after the British troops had called for air support.

After the fighter-bombers had stuck, the Communists swept over the position—held by two Argyll companies—and long-range Communist guns lobbed shells into the British lines farther back.

In 30 minutes the dead and wounded were believed to be well over 150.

The mistaken raid was on high ground which the Argylls had just captured.

The planes dropped their explosives too far back in spite of huge recognition panels laid out by the Scots.

Before the Communist attack the Argylls called for artillery support but none was available, the Americans having already withdrawn their guns.

Watches Bombing

An Associated Press photographer, Gene Herrick, watched the bombing incident from an advanced command post about 400 yards away.

Herrick said he made a number of pictures, but soon put down his camera to help carry litters of British wounded across the Naktong river.

While he was helping to carry a wounded private across a bridge North Koreans opened fire on the litter column with a 76-millimetre self-propelled gun.

The AP photographer said many of the British Tommies were angry, but others, including Pte. Arthur Holmes of Liverpool, were philosophical. Holmes said, "It's just one of those things. This is something that couldn't be helped. Up to now the Yank air force has given us very good support."

Hard Hit

Pte. John Grant, of Glasgow, said "the better part of two companies was hit," and several officers were lost. Grant himself was injured.

On the way back from the command post, Herrick said he heard Pte. Stanley Williamson, of Birmingham, tell an officer, "it was hell up there, sir."

The officer replied, "that's all right, son. You did a bloody good job."

Williamson said he was hit in the leg and slightly wounded by North Korean fire before the air attack.

Rap UK Government On Newsprint Export

LONDON, Sept. 23. (Reuters)—John Gordon, editor of the London Sunday Express, today attacked the British government decisions to export newsprint to Australia and New Zealand while home papers are "virtually living from hand to mouth."

Britain has never been faced with a more "serious, threatening and critical situation," he told the annual conference of the Institute of Journalists.

"Our worst fears have been realized, with the result that, at the present time, stocks of newsprint for the whole of the British Isles have fallen to below 70,000 tons, or less than seven weeks' supply," Gordon said.

Labor Takes Credit

ST. NEOTS, Huntingdonshire, England, Sept. 23—(Reuters)—Britain's volume of trade with the dominions and colonies, "far greater than before the war," is a result of "hard and careful planning" by the Labor Party, Hilary A. Marquand, Minister of Pensions, said Friday night. This increase has not been achieved by chance, he added.

More Rumors Fly

PERTH, Scotland, Sept. 23—(AP) — Princess Margaret went to Drumlanrig Castle in Dumfrieshire Friday night to spend the week-end and gave friends of the Earl of Dalkeith fresh reason to believe he is the chief suitor for her hand. The young Princess will be the guest of the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch at the historic castle. Among the other house guests will be their son, the 27-year-old Earl.

Judge Adjourns Quebec Fire Inquiry

QUEBEC, Sept. 23 (CP) — Judge Fernand Choquette of the Quebec Superior Court, Friday adjourned inquiry into the burning of the river cruise ship Quebec until Monday after it was announced that ship's officers and passengers from the United States would take the witness stand next week.

The Quebec burned near Tadoussac on the lower St. Lawrence river last Aug. 14 with loss of seven lives.

Mr. Justice Choquette said the adjournment would enable him to study 38 exhibits, most of them produced by the ship's owners, Canada Steamships Lines.

Capt. Cyril Burch told the inquiry Friday that emergency instructions in both French and English had been posted in various parts of the ship in plain sight of passengers. Each cabin contained instructions telling the occupant which lifeboat he should run for in case of evacuation.

Lots of Signs

The judge asked the ship's master if there were any instructions aboard the ship for passengers who had no cabins. Capt. Burch replied that certain officers were assigned to take care of such passengers in an emergency but the captain was not directly in charge of these duties.

Judge Choquette Friday issued a third call to persons who might wish to testify at the inquiry. It was expected here that the investigation would continue for at least another week.

Capt. Burch said there were graphic descriptions in each cabin telling passengers how to adjust lifebelts and red arrows were painted in corridors indicating where passengers were to muster at boat stations in an emergency.

Charge RCAF Kills Wounded

MOSCOW, Sept. 23. (AP) — A Pravda correspondent reported from Korea today that "Canadian fliers, drunk with gin, are killing the wounded being evacuated" from Seoul.

(An RCAF transport squadron has been flying supplies from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokyo as part of the United Nations forces. There has been no announcement, however, that the Canadians have been flying into Korean airfields.

(The Moscow dispatch made no further reference to Canadians.)

McRuer Goes To Goderich Judges Bloodless War Ends

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP) — Phfft!

That was the last sputter of the bloodless battle between Chief Justice J. C. McRuer and Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder.

The chief predicted it last week when he said mysteriously: "The matter will solve itself."

Most folks thought perhaps he meant because of the Canadian Bar Association meeting in Washington. Both he and Mr. Justice Schroeder went to Washington this week.

(They had quarrelled silently over who was going to try the criminal cases at the local assizes and who the civil cases.

(The chief, because of his seniority in the Ontario Supreme Court, took over the criminal court — to which Mr. Justice Schroeder had been assigned.

(Mr. Justice Schroeder alked. For a week he just didn't show up in civil court, where 120 cases awaited trial.

(Then came the big do in Washington.)

But despite the chief's statement about the matter solving itself, people wondered. What about the B r Association meeting ended—as it does this week-end?

They got their answer Friday.

Mr. Justice Schoeder gets back his criminal cases Monday, Chief Justice McRuer goes to Goderich for the assizes there.

A third man presumably will get the Toronto civil court.

Peace? It's wonderful.

But, just in case, let's call this an armistice.

UN Troops Gain 35 Miles In South Korea Tighten Pincers On Seoul

Fresh Red Reinforcements Reach Old Capital As Bloody Battle Predicted, Allied Soldiers In Outskirts Of City

TOKYO, Sept. 23—(AP)—Allied Marines tightened the clamps on Seoul from two sides today. But fresh Red reinforcements for the Korean capital already had arrived from the southern front. The pinch on Seoul came as Allied forces forged their greatest gains of the war on the southeastern front. A United States Intelligence officer said elements of the Korean Communist 9th division, previously fighting the U.S. 25th division on the old United Nations beachhead near Haman, reached Seoul Friday.

The Reds evidently swept northward up the main Taejon-Suwon-Seoul route before tankled U.S. Seventh Division infantrymen seized Suwon and its airfield Friday evening. Suwon is 20 miles south of Seoul.

Associated Press correspondent Relman Morin, with the Marines at Seoul, reported two American columns were driving on the ancient capital of 1,000,000 from the north and southwest.

The northern prong, including South Korean Marines, was in Seoul's outskirts within two miles of the heart of the sprawling city. The southwest prong took the shell-battered industrial suburb of Yongdungpo, on the south banks of the Han river and pushed on toward ruined railroad bridges.

Reckless Sacrifice

Marine Intelligence reported the Red reinforcements from the south joined three individual regiments and a "rehabilitation battalion" in defence of Seoul. The battalion, comprised entirely of soldiers previously imprisoned for military offences, is expected to be sacrificed recklessly.

Earlier, Gen. MacArthur announced that Allied troops had fought into Seoul's northern outskirts.

It was the first official word of such a penetration. Aerial observers previously had reported U.S. Marines inside the Korean capital but later checks showed them 500 yards from the city limit.

"United Nations forces north of the Han river are in the outskirts of Seoul," MacArthur reported, without elaboration as to

3 UK Boys Stage Fight With 11,000 Eggs

NOTTINGHAM, Englnad, Sept. 23 (Reuters)—Egg-short Britons wept today when they read of the exploits of three young boys in an egg warehouse—but the boys just laughed and said they enjoyed every minute of it.

What they had done, a juvenile court here was told, was break into the egg storage rooms and stage a battle, with eggs as ammunition. They worked their way through 11,000 eggs.

The two youngest boys, aged 9 and 8, were fined £2 each. The oldest boy, 11, who laughed throughout the court hearing, was ordered to a detention home for three weeks.

British housewives are rationed two eggs a week.

Guards Silent On Rumors Of Jail Breaks

SOREL, Que., Sept. 23 (CP)—Reports—and denials—of a series of jail breaks from the century-old jail in this ship-building centre 50 miles down the St. Lawrence River from Montreal had residents wondering today.

Reports have it that two prisoners, one of them an accused murder, broke out of the jail, committed a number of burglaries and then returned behind bars of their own volition. A third man is said to have broken out and failed to return.

Quebec provincial police had little to say. But earlier in the week two officers arrived here from Montreal, and it is believed they were sent to prevent further jail-breaks.

On the other hand, jail governor Lucien Badeau denied there had been a series of escapes and added he was "still on the job" despite reports to the contrary.

"I don't care what they say," he said. "I'm still on the job and I'll stay on until told otherwise."

Still Locked Up

Mr. Badeau said that Donald Watso, 24-year-old Indian awaiting trial on a charge of murdering his grandfather and one of the three prisoners said to have been involved in the breaks, was "safely locked up behind bars here as he has been since first brought here six weeks ago."

Rickey Decides Leave Dodgers

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—(AP)—Branch Rickey, one of the most colorful figures in baseball, apparently has decided to part company with Brooklyn Dodgers.

Walter F. O'Malley, Vice-president of the Dodgers, said today Rickey telephoned him and announced that he had "signed a contract to sell his stock."

For eight years Rickey, with his bushy eyebrows and big cigars, has been synonymous with the famous Brooklyn team. He was always in the public eye, and in 1947 he brought up Jackie Robinson from Montreal in the International League to play for the Dodgers, the first Negro in modern big-league baseball.

The New York Daily Mirror, in a copyright story, says that "Rickey, it is understood, has sold his 25-per-cent interest in the Brooklyn baseball club to Webb and Knapp, huge real estate firm."

US May Step Up Value Of UK Pound

LONDON, Sept. 23— (AP)—Improvement in the sterling area's gold-dollar position renewed speculation Friday that the exchange value of the pound may be stepped up to $3 or more in relation to United States funds.

The present U.S. value of the pound is $2.80. In Canadian funds it is worth about $3.10. Prior to devaluation on Sept. 18, 1949, the pound had been pegged for 10 years at $4.40.

Best informed officials both in the treasury and near the cabinet describe talk of revaluing the pound as "premature."

It is known, however, the subject has been under study in the treasury.

Legion Funeral For Veteran Boer, Great War

The funeral service for James Robert Baskin, of Norwood, who died suddenly at his residence Monday was held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion Thursday from his residence to Christ Church (Anglican). The Rev. P. A. Rickard conducted the service.

Mr. Baskin was born in Hemmingford, the son of the late William Baskin and Liza Watt. He came to Norwood as a boy and was educated in Norwood schools and was a member of Christ Church. He spent several years in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia in railway construction. He served in South Africa in the Boer War and was also a veteran of the First World War with the Canadian Mounted Rifles. When the cavalry was disbanded, he was transferred to the engineers, in which unit he was decorated with the military medal for bravery.

While overseas he married the former Ethel Gell and at the end of the war, they returned to Canada and resided in Norwood.

Construction Supervisor

Mr. Baskin was employed for a number of years by the Thompson-Heyland Lumber Company and in recent years supervised road construction under the Department of Highways. He was a staunch member of the Conservative party.

He leaves his wife, the former Ethel Gell; two daughters, Mrs. G. M. Matherson (Maude) of Herford, England, and Betty Anne Baskin at home; two sons, James of Renfrew and Edward of Toronto; three sisters, Mrs. William Baskin (Maude), Mrs. Fred Kempt (Anne) both of Norwood and Mrs. Robert Humphries (Catherine) of Memphis, Tennessee, and six grandchildren.

Legion Led

The members of the Legion led the funeral procession to the church and after the service, to the cemetery. The pallbearers were Roderick Webb, Kenneth Tedford, Earl Cuthbertson, Percy Kempt, John Parker and W. H. Giffen.

The Legion funeral ritual was conducted by the Rev. E. E. Pugsley, chaplain in World War I. The salute was taken by Sergeant B. M. Bell of Havelock, assisted by William Garden Jr., Bruce Parcels of Norwood, Henry Gerow, Percy Hill and R. Brownof Havelock. Trumpeter C. Gallagher of Peterborough sounded the last post.

The comrades of Mr. Baskin of the Boer War present at the funeral, David Nixon of Norwood and James Foster of Peterborough. Legion members were present from Norwood, Tweed, Birdsall, Marmora, Hastings, Havelock and Peterborough.

Attending the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott and Mr. Ross Ellis of Renfrew; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Styvington, Mr. George Nicholson and Mrs. Beryle Peters of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phillips of Fenelon Falls; Mr. and Mrs. William Hearst of Tweed; Dr. and Mrs. Carleton, Mrs. Roy Longhurst and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lumsden of Peterborough; Mr and Mrs. John Garland, Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. George Wrightof Havelock; Major George White of Madoc and Col. R. E Birdsall of Birdsall, Ontario.

Peterborough Temperatures

Today:
Night low..40 Noon ..43
Barometer ..... 29

Yesterday:
Highest....66 Lowest..42

One Year Ago:
Highest....50 Lowest .37

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion Public Weather Office at 9.30 a.m. EDT.:

Synopsis:

There are striking contrasts in weather patterns across Canada today. While strong winds lash rain across the B.C. coast, Alberta and Saskatchewan enjoy record breaking warm weather, and Friday the temperature at Edmonton soared to 83 degrees.

It's a different story over Ontario where September's coldest outbreak so far swept southward to reach the Lower Lakes regions this morning. Snowflurries were reported in the White River, Kirkland Lake and Haliburton regions, and bleak cloudy weather will continue in these sections today. In the southwestern portions of the province there will be more sunshine although the day will be decidedly cool.

Frost is forecast for most of the province tonight, but winds are expected to remain sufficiently strong to prevent a severe general frost in the southwestern regions.

The outlook for Sunday is sunny and continuing cool with decreasing winds.

Forecasts:

Eastern Lake Ontario, Haliburton and Georgian Bay regions:

Cloudy with a few sunny intervals today, clear with frost tonight. Sunday mostly clear and continuing cool. Winds northwest 20, light tonight, northwest 15 Sunday. Low tonight and high Sunday at Muskoka 30, 60; Killaloe 30, 55; Trenton 35, 60.

Summary for Sunday: Mostly clear and continuing cool.

St. Andrew's WMS Host To Village Ladies

HASTINGS, Sept. 23 (ENS) — The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church entertained the ladies of the village at their thank offering meeting on Thursday.

The president Mrs. C. Dodd presided. The scripture was read by Mrs. H. McMillan. Mrs. S. Whitred and Mrs. J. M. Ritchie sang.

Mrs. McCullough, President of the Presbyterial brought greetings. Good wishes were also extended from the St. George's Anglican Church by Mrs. E. Smullin, Trinity United by Mrs. J. M. Baker, Warkworth by Mrs. C. Meiklejohn.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Tumer of Campbellford who told of her life, as a missionary for 18 years in India.

The church parlours were decorated with large baskets of flowers. The tea table was very attractive with a lace table cloth centred with a silver basket filled with pink asters. Mrs. W. S. Fife and Mrs. W. G. Warner poured tea and the assistants were Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Stanley Fife, Mrs. J. McMillan, Mrs. D. Warner, Mrs. Allan Sherwin, Mrs. W. Chrysler.

Hastings Loses 12-11

HASTINGS, Sept. 23—(ENS)— Hastings Juniors looked like sure winners at Gravenhurst for seven and a half innings last night as they went into the bottom half with a comfortable 11-2 lead in the second of a best of three series in the OASA Junior C semi-finals. Then the roof fell in on them, as Gravenhurst who up till then had just been going through the motions, suddenly came to life and when the dust cleared away, were just two runs short of tying it up.

They did this in the eighth, holding Hastings scoreless, while pushing across the necessary runs and in the ninth with two men out crossed the plate with the winner, thus forcing a third game to be played in Oshawa.

West handcuffed the opposing batters for six innings, but a couple of errors in the seventh, along with the hostile crowd seemed to affect the entire team, and from there in it was a losing cause.

Irwin was the winning pitcher, going all the way, and after being hit fairly freely in the early part of the game, really proved tough in the last three innings.

West got hold of the last hit of the game a terrific four-bagger.

Dead 24 Hours Woman Is Found

A 75-year-old recluse, Mrs. Herbert E. McKee, was found dead in her house at 492 Charlotte St., Friday at noon by Constable G. H. Moor-Gough and Harold Andrew who forced their way into the house.

Dr. Herbert Young, coroner, said the woman had been dead at least 24 hours and had apparently died from a heart attack.

Police were called by a niece, Miss Loretta Roseborough, who had gone to visit Mrs. McKee Thursday with some groceries, but received no reply to her knock. When she was unable to get an answer again Friday, she called police.

Mrs. McKee was found lying on the floor of her living room near a day bed. Dr. Young said no post mortem would be held.

Since her husband died 15 years ago, Mrs. McKee has allowed no one in the house except her niece and a neighbor, a Mrs. McIntyre.

She was born in Smith township, Nina Elizabeth Roseborough, daughter of Alex Roseborough and Annie Madill, both deceased. She has lived in the city for the past 40 years.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. M. Blewett of Oshawa and Miss Clara Roseborough and a brother Walter, both of Peterborough. She was a member of Trinity United Church.

A private funeral service will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

Price-Fixing Trial

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP) — Trial of nine Ontario and Quebec glass companies, charged with price-fixing, opens here Monday. The trial has been delayed several times since Justice Minister Garson announced his decision to prosecute the firms late Feb. 7.

Frost Predicted

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP) —A cool weekend, carrying a threat of frost by Sunday morning, is forecast for most of Ontario by the Dominion Public Weather Office here. A storm in northwestern Quebec produced the cold snap, which dropped temperatures below the freezing mark in some parts of northern Ontario.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ELLSWORTH HARTLEY JEWELL

Mrs. Ellsworth Hartley Jewell, 66, of 463 Albert St. died Friday in hospital following a six weeks illness. She was born in Otonabee, the former Annie May Weaver, daughter of the late Thomas Weaver and May Annie Pimmett. She has resided in Peterborough for more than 40 years coming here from Otonabee. Mrs Jewell was a member of Park St. Baptist church.

She leaves her husband, Ellsworth Hartley Jewell; 3 daughters, Mrs. S. Mitchell (May), Mrs. L. Gilmour (Jean) and Lillian Jewell, all of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. W. Godfrey of Peterborough and Mrs. J. Gillespie of Young's Point and two brothers, Herbert Weaver and Ward Weaver, both of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place Monday at 2 p.m. at the Nesbitt Funeral Home. The Rev. E. J. Whan of Park St. Baptist Church will be in charge of the service. Burial will be in Lakefield cemetery.

MRS. THOMAS McMILLAN

Mrs. Thomas McMillan, 197 Rubidge St. died at her residence Friday following a lengthy illness. She was born in Glasgow, Scotland, the former Lily Clark, daughter of the late John Clark and Mary Robb. She has resided in Peterborough for 27 years, coming here from Glasgow.

Mrs. McMillan was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, a member of the Ladies' Aid and an active member of the West End Group.

She leaves her husband, Thomas McMillan; two sons, John C. of Toronto and Thomas P. of Peterborough and three sisters, Mrs. J. Cairns, Mrs. D. Smith and Mrs. D. Coats, all of Glasgow, Scotland.

The funeral will take place Monday at the Comstock Funeral Home at 3.30 p.m. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Church will be in charge of the service. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

MEDERIC BOUCHARD

Mederic Bouchard, eight-year-old son of Lionel Bouchard and the former Margaret Smith, of 12 John St., Lindsay, died suddenly Friday in a Peterborough hospital. He was born in Toronto and attended St. Michael's school, Toronto. He has resided in Lindsay for a short time, coming there from Toronto.

He leaves his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bouchard; one brother, Lionel Jr. and his grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Perrier, Toronto.

The body is resting at the Duffus Funeral Home until 4 p.m. today, when it will be taken by motor to the Washington and Johnston Funeral Home, Toronto, for funeral mass and interment on Monday.

ATTEND CCL MEET

Five delegates from Canadian Congress of Labor unions in the Peterborough district will be attending the 10th CCL convention in Winnipeg, September 25-29. They are Alfred Barber, Local 210, United Packinghouse Workers of America; William Gunn and Bruce E. Morgan, Local 293, UPWA; A. E. Johnston, director of the Trent Valley Area Board, Textile Workers Union of America; and Lionel Jones, Campbellford, Local 743, TWUA.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS

County Council will meet for what probably will be a one-day session on September 29, 10 a.m. Included on the agenda will be discussion of possible expropriation measures for a lot at the junction of the 3rd line of Dummer and the McCracken's Landing road, five miles north east of Warsaw. The corner there is a dangerous one and council has undertaken—as its major roads project of the year—to turn the right angle turn into a gradual curve.

BC Alpinists Gain One Peak, Fail On Others

VANCOUVER —(CP)— Five mountain peaks on the eastern border of Garibaldi Park, about 50 miles north of here, are as tough a challenge to alpinists as any in the whole of British Columbia.

That's the word from Vancouver men who have conquered but one of the peaks.

"Terrifically dangerous" climbing, impeded by rotten rocks, was encountered by the party on the treacherous, snow-crusted slopes of the Fire Range, north of Harrison Lake.

A lofty 7,500 feet above the sea level, the highest of the five peaks at the eastern end of the range was first surmounted when Herman Genshorck, Ian Kay and Jack Lintot made a gruelling, 16-hour climb from a base camp at the 5,500-foot level.

Within 200 Feet

Less fortunate were Allan Melville, Jack Brussell and Walt Sparling, who tackled the westernmost peak. After 21 hours of hiking and climbing, they were forced to turn back—200 feet from the summit.

"There were too many dangers to risk going farther," one member of the party said.

The climbers said the sheer mountain slope, averaging 70 degrees, forced them to use ropes during the entire downward journey. Overhanging cliffs which frequently afforded the only upward route, added to the hazard, they said.

The successful climbers dubbed their conquest "Mount Firefly." The western peak is still unnamed—even unofficially.

The other prisoner, who like Watso, was reported to have escaped and then returned to his cell after committing burglaries in Sorel, was identified as Gerard Robidoux, 26, awaiting transfer to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary near Montreal.

The third man who is said to have escaped twice and is still on the large is Fernand Dube, 28-year-old laborer from Cap de la Madeleine, near Three Rivers.

The prisoners are said to have escaped each time through an unlocked door during the day and to have returned the same way during the night.

To Head Foundation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) —The Washington Post says today in a copyrighted story that Paul G. Hoffman will become head of the Henry Ford Foundation, a multi - million - dollar research, educational and philanthropic organization. The paper adds that William C. Foster, now deputy administrator, will succeed Hoffman as administrator of the economic co-operative administration.

Rap U.S. Clothes

LONDON, Sept. 23 (Reuters)— Britain's leading male fashion oracle Friday classified the United States as a country of "satirical Peter Pans—they've never grown up as far as clothes are concerned." John Taylor, editor of the trade paper Tailor and Cutter, let loose his broadside in an interview. "At present American clothes resemble the fantastic fashions of equatorial regions," Taylor said.

Tourists Aid Britain

LONDON, Sept. 23 (Reuters)— American tourists spent more than $6,000,000 in Britain during August, the British Travel Association said Friday night. This excluded fare payments to British shipping and air lines. The total number of American tourists here in August was 19,236. In the eight months ended August, 130,000 Americans visited Britain.

TEAM NOT COMING

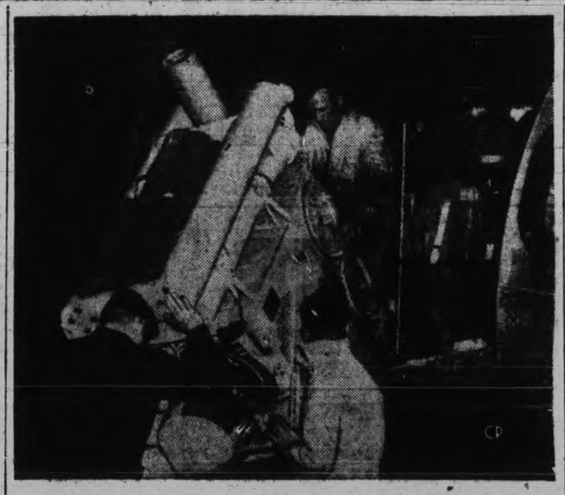
Word was received today from Ottawa that the peewee baseball team of that city would not be here this afternoon for an OBA semi-final playoff with the Peterborough boys. No reason was given, and secretary Albert Watkins, of the Peterborough Minor Baseball Association, is putting the matter in the hands of the Ontario Baseball Association.

Comb Boston For Lost Pup Ottawa Owner Raises Howl

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP). — They're scouring Boston, Mass., for Rover, the young, cow-herding collie pup from Fairview Farm, who got himself impounded, then was sold by mistake to an American visitor for a mere $3.



Rover was picked up by an Ottawa dog-catcher one morning early this month near his suburban farm home. Later he was sold to a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Elizabeth Kerr of Boston. Then the Ottawa Humane Society found it had sold Rover in mistake, for he hadn't been in the pound the required 48 hours.

Things began to happen when Rover's seven-year-old master, Ralph Henry, came on the scene. He raised a howl, demanded Rover back. Society officials hurriedly called all border points, checked hotels, tourist bureaus and health authorities. But Mrs Kerr and Rover had disappeared.

Then they began checking Boston, where there are 75 Kerrs. None of them so far checked has Rover.

Society officials fished in their pockets, produced $35, and went out and bought a purebred collie for Ralph. But he wasn't having any pedigreed pup and insists they get Rover back.

No other dog will do.

ENGINE HEATER — Preparing an aircraft for a flight to the top of the world is no simple task. This National Defece Department photo shows crewmen loading an engine heater aboard the specially-equipped RCAF Dakota which last Thursday evacuated a stricken weather bureau employee from Eureka Sound, 680 miles south of the North Pole. The heater was used to keep the aircraft's engines warm at refuelling stops in the Northwest Territories.

Berlin Incidents Said Plot To Aid Russians In Election

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, Sept. 23 —(AP)— Maj.-Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said Friday the revival of harassing tactics by the Communists in Berlin this week was a deliberate plot.

It had two aims, the U.S. commandant said in an interview:

1. Shake the confidence of the West German.
2. Steam up the East German with a false air of emergency to get out the vote for the Russian zone Oct. 15 elections.

Taylor said he had been expecting such moves for weeks. After a conference with the borough mayors of the West sectors, he commented: "They are staunch boys. They are not in the least distusbed by these tactics."

Revived Cold War

The Russians and their East German Communists teamed up this week to touchoff a revived "cold war" affecting barge traffic from West Germany, the personal safety of the West Berlin police force, the peace and order of the West sectors, the electric current supply from the east, and the actual fixed sector border between the Russian zone and the British area.

None of the incidents were important except that they fit a deliberate pattern, Taylor said.

Some western quarters believe the Communist election next month may be only the start of the anti-western drive. These observers have heard rumors that the East German regime, once it calls itself permanent through the medium of the rigged October voting, will be granted a new status by the Russians.

The East German Communist Government formally pledged Friday a "ceaseless fight" against the rearming of Western Europe. An official communique adopted by the council of ministers of the Soviet-sponsored regime called on the Germans "to unfold national resistance" and to sabotage wherever possible the goal of the west to bastion itself against Russian expansion.

Taylor said he hesitated to forecast any move by the Soviets, but he commented: "The national front, of course, will 'win' the elections. The Russians may then extend some sort of sovereignty on paper to the Germans."

Out of such an action could conceivably emerge a demand by the East Germans that all occupation troops and officials quit Berlin. The Russians could accede piously to this without taking one soldier out of Germany. The West would have to move behind the Elbe River. West Berlin would fall to the Communists like fruit off a tree.

U.N. Troops Gain

whether they were U.S. or South Korean Marines.

While these forces inched forward, U.S. infantrymen driving south from the city and north toward it from the old Pusan beachhead fought within 85 air miles of each other.

Gain 35 Miles

Tank-led U.S. 1st cavalry division soldiers made the most spectacular gain—35 miles in 35 hours. They raced through disintegrating Red defences at the northwest end of the Pusan perimeter. Their advanced position was 85 miles southeast of U.S. 7th division troops who captured Suwon and its big airfield, about 20 miles south of Seoul.

Red resistance stalled the 27th brigade. It is fighting in a sector southwest of Taegu, seeking to take Songju on a secondary road leading north toward the U.S. 24th division positions at Kunchon. Thousands of Red troops in the southeast sector faced the threat of being trapped by the swift dash. Five thousand already were cut off. Low-flying planes went after them today in good weather, seeking to add to a kill of more than 1,100 Friday.

MacArthur's summary, covering 24 hour operations up to Friday midnight, said U.N. forces on all fronts inflicted 5,920 Red casualties and captured 685.

Bearing Fruit

The General's plan to catch the Reds between forces at Seoul and the southeast beachhead, then break them apart as a fighting unit, was beginning to bear fruit.

Saturday's Far East air force summary said planes along the Pusan beachhead lines "assisted ground elements . . . to such an extent that mass ground-force advances were possible for the first time in the Korean conflict."

Maj.-Gen. Hobart R. Gay, commanding the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division called the situation in front of his men "a rout."

Other U.N. forces along the southeast perimeter rolled forward for advances up to 12 miles.

The U.S. 1st cavalry task force began its 35-mile dash near Tabu, 13 miles north of Taegu. A division spokesman told AP correspondent Hal Boyle that the force today entered Sangju, a highway point, after crossing the Naktong river. AP correspondent Jack MacBeth said he flew over the area today, witnessed the crossing and saw Sangju in flames but could not confirm entry into the town.

Sangju is astride a highway up which the Reds might have sent troops toward Seoul. It also is across another highway leading north from Kumchon.

Saturday the Reds at Kumchon were fighting to hold off U.S. 24th division troops battling within eight miles of the town. If they had to retreat, they have only two main roads to take—toward Sangju or toward Suwon where the U.S. 7th division stands in strength.

Bloody Battle

Seoul's Red defenders, cut off from supply and reinforcement north and south, gave every evidence of intent to fight the bloodiest battle of the war.

Three thousand of them were dug into honeycombed defences on 700-foot south mountain inside the city. They had artillery in a public park atop it.

North of Seoul, U.S. 1st division Marines were in high positions while South Koreans moved along the main railway leading into the city. AP correspondent Tom Lambert said they were about 1½ to two miles from Duk Soo Palace, in the approximate centre of Seoul.

Lambert's dispatch, which preceded MacArthur's summary, said one hill barrier stood between the marines and Seoul proper.

Lambert reported that marines near the southwest edge of Seoul, but across the Han river from it, have secured Yongdungpo after a costly battle with flame throwers and bayonets. Seoul's airfield, on the southwest bank of the Han was a "No Man's Land." Marines drove the Reds away, then were forced to withdraw themselves.

175 Workers Get 7 Per Cent Packers' Boost

A new two-year agreement between Canada Packers and the United Packinghouse Workers of America will give 175 Peterborough workers a wage boost of 7.4 per cent. The present probationary rate for men is $1.02 an hour and the labor rate $1.06.

The agreements to run for two years, cover 5,000 employees of Canada Packers employed in eight plants, 3,000 Swift Canadian Company workers in seven plants and 2,000 workers in seven plants of Burns and Company.

F. W. Dowling, Canadian director of the union, said in a statement:

"The wage increase plus other improvements will amount to 15 cents during the first year of the contract and will increase to more than 20 cents by the time the contract expires Aug. 1, 1952".

The agreements call for cost-of-living adjustments, improvements in vacation and welfare plans, a reduced work week and improved union security.

A general wage increase of 8½ cents an hour will be retroactive to last Aug. 1. An automatic increase of three cents an hour is to be made next Aug. 1. The work week is to be reduced from 44 hours to 42 in Burns and Canada Packers and to 40 hours in Swift's.

The provisions for cost-of-living adjustments and the automatic increase of three cents next August are based on a recent agreement between the United Automobile Workers (CIO) and General Motors Limited.

"We believe that the cost-of-living formula will protect our membership against a lowered standard of living because of constantly rising prices," Mr. Dowling said.

Mrs. Clysdale Funeral

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Florence May Clysdale, of 227 Westcott St., was held on Wednesday at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. E. J. Whan, of Park Street Baptist Church, officiated and pall-bearers were Ralph, Walter and William Hamilton, Wesley Bell, Chester Hamilton and Byrl Clysdale. Burial was at St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw.

The Juicy Orange

We have often reflected what fun it would be if we could treat the Government the way the Government treats us. When Mr. Abbott tells us that we are going to pay higher taxes on certain goods, we begin paying them right away. But when Mr. Abbott says that the Government is going to economize, the moment when the economy will begin is left conveniently vague. How delightful it would be if, when Mr. Abbott announced new taxes, we could reply: "Aye, aye, sir; we'll get around to these just as soon as we can". That is the way the Government deals with its promises of economy.

* * *

The cry for economy is not new; it has been going on since the present Government came into power, and so far we have seen no sign that anything is being done about it. Quite the contrary; the Montreal Gazette has been doing some digging, and has discovered, for instance, that the Department of Public Works has spent $7,126,375 last August, as compared with $4,728,860 in August of 1949; and in nine other departments the costs are up this year, as well.

* * *

The Financial Post, in an interesting graph, shows us that Canada had 46,106 employees at Ottawa in 1939, and paid them $70 millions; in 1950 Ottawa has 127,196 people on the payroll, and pays them $284 millions. The Ottawa Journal compares Mr. Abbott to a rugby player who is gaining no yards in his run toward economy. And, lest it be said that these critical newspapers are all Conservative in opinion, let it be pointed out that the Winnipeg Free Press has declared that "This is not only the time to talk about economy; it is the time to economize".

* * *

How to economize? Well, what about that horde of Civil Servants? It is a popular joke now that "nothing is so permanent as a temporary job at Ottawa". Making allowance for the increase in the nation's affairs, we are convinced that a good business administrator could cut their number to 75,000 and run the country as well as it is run now. The country became badly encrusted with barnacles during the war; it is time the hull was scraped.

* * *

All governments are wasteful and extravagant, because all Cabinets are made up of men who are suddenly put in charge of more money than they had ever previously dreamed of. They do not get much of it for themselves, but they have great sums at their disposal. They hold positions of honour, and they are usually honourable men. But as business administrators they are in the infant class, and their deputies are often very little better. They do not waste money in obvious follies, but on huge staffs and bad organization on a scale which would wreck any ordinary business in a year. Economy is possible, but we fear that until an election draws near, it is not very likely. Canada is such a juicy orange, and it is so easy to squeeze it—far easier than taking care of the juice.

$10 A Head For The Printed Word

Statisticians estimate that Canadians spend about ten dollars every year on books, magazines, newspapers and other printed matter. It is a pretty miserly sum. This is a per capita estimate, and includes public and private money spent on libraries, comic books and trade journals. After these and subscriptions to magazines, church journals and newspapers, there is little left over for the private buying of books. Considering that nearly all Canadians say they can read, it is something of a national scandal how few books there are to be found in ordinary homes. Even in the homes of some university graduates one may have to search hard to find a dozen books which are not old college textbooks or a Christmas gift from Aunt Annie who believes her niece or nephew to be literate.

In the last year for which there are collected figures (1946) printed books were produced to the value of $12,500,000 about half for advertising purposes. Canadians still import most of the books they buy, and even when the dust cover of a book suggests that it has been published by a Toronto firm, the chances are that the linen cover shows a different (and American) publisher, and the title page proves it. Usually the price is fifty cents or a dollar higher than the U.S. price.

It is difficult to assess the number and value of our book imports. As far as records show some thirty million dollars worth of books are imported each year from the U.S.A. From the U.K. we import more than two million dollars worth yearly. The value from France, the third largest supplier, is about half a million. Thus Canada imports (by value) three times as many books as she produces.

Periodical publications produced in Canada bulk larger than books in the story of printed words. In 1946 their value was $89,000,000 some $56,000,000 of this being paid for by advertising, and $33,000,000 by subscription and sale. There is no record of the cost of subscriptions paid by Canadians for periodicals published abroad, but it is certainly higher than the subscription from abroad for Canadian publications.

The 90-odd Canadian daily newspapers account for more than half the sales of Canadian printed matter. Canadian dailies have a total circulation of more than three million copies. About 80 per cent of these are in English, the rest in French except for small numbers in Yiddish and Chinese. More than ninety per cent. of all newspaper circulation is in cities, and weekly papers serve a larger number of people in rural communities than do dailies. Weekly or monthly publications (Sunday papers, magazines, Ukrainian, German and Polish journals and the like) have together a larger circulation than the daily papers.

That is an outline of the story of the greatest medium of mass communication in Canada: The Press, in all its shapes and forms. Radio lags far behind, for there are, without counting other printed matter, as many daily newspapers in circulation as there are homes with radio sets. Motion pictures, the third great means of mass communication, have not the ubiquity of print. In 1948 Canadians on the average attended movies about eighteen times and paid, during the year, seven dollars each in admission. Contrast this with the twenty million newspapers being bought each week, and the ten dollars spent each year, per head, on them and periodicals.

Trust Companies To Amalgamate

The proposed merger of the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Company, and the Victoria Trust and Savings Company is of distinct local interest. The Grey and Bruce (named after the counties) has been in operation at its headquarters in Owen Sound since 1889. It has had a thriving branch in Peterborough since it took over during the war the banking affairs of the Toronto Savings and Loan, whose head office is in Peterborough. The Victoria Trust, established in Lindsay in 1895, has likewise a sound history of financial service to central Ontario.

It is of special interest in these days of enormous financial institutions centred only in the biggest cities like Toronto and Montreal, that flourishing trust houses can be reared in smaller places like Owen Sound, Lindsay and Peterborough. Peterborough, of course, has a reputation for developing financial enterprises and financiers, as the Toronto Savings and Loan and its chief officers have proved. The two local institutions, the Grey and Bruce and the Victoria Trust with their various branches in this part of Ontario, are by no means small potatoes in a rural patch. When the merger goes through (as we presume it will), their combined assets will amount to more than $37,000,000.

Sensitive Plasterers

On Wednesday a group of plasterers quit a job they were doing in a vocational school in Saskatoon, because some members of the vocational committee criticized their work and the mess that they made in doing it. The plasterers have said that they will go back to work when the hurtful words have been retracted.

It is amusing to read of plasterers flouncing out of the room when their work is criticized; it is reminiscent of brides who pout and sulk when it is suggested that their biscuits are not well baked. It is sad, also, to think that in Saskatoon they suffer from bad plastering and are forbidden to say so.

Our advice to the plasterers is this: let them desert plastering and take up either politics or one of the arts. After they have been in city affairs, or provincial or dominion affairs for a few years, after they have painted fifty pictures, or written ten books, or acted in twenty plays, they will have found out how severe criticism can be. They will have thickened up their thin skins. They will have found out that shoddy work cannot be protected by a hoity-toity manner. And then perhaps they will be glad to go back to plastering, which is child's play compared to the pursuits we have mentioned.

Toronto is reported to need 25 new churches. Does that mean that those they already have are uncomfortably crowded?

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.

My Dear Nephew:

Earlier this summer your Uncle Gomeril and I observed our seventy-fifth wedding anniversary. You did not send a greeting card, for which abstention I thank you; we received several cards, all of a nauseating degree of sentimentality, which had no conceivable relationship with the sort of domesticity which your uncle and I have waged during the past three-quarters of a century. You might, however, have sent a few flowers. Several people sent bouquets of what I learned as a girl to call "windflowers", but what people now call "everlastings". Whether this was intended as a delicate reference to the unusual durability of our match, or whether it was an ironical allusion to the hardy good health which we both enjoy I cannot determine.

We celebrated the occasion by visiting Niagara Falls for a few days, to rest and observe the great Natural Wonder. The Chamber of Commerce there offers a certificate of congratulation to all honeymoon couples, upon which appears a wish that their union may be as beautiful and enduring as the Falls itself. It occurred to me that the Falls is as much distinguished for its violence and its extreme dampness as for beauty and endurance, but as your uncle and I completed our honeymoon and all that goes with it long ago this was a matter of merely academic concern to us.

We were, however, much affronted by the number of honeymooners who infested the place, wandering about hand in hand, wet smiles and goggling eyes proclaiming their condition for all the world to see. When your uncle and I were married and went to the Shetlands on our wedding trip we took great pains to look like a married couple of several years standing.

Perhaps we were foolish so to do, but I think that our reticence was preferrable to the mawkish displays of unfledged connubiality which we observed at N.F.

We visited, among other places, a restaurant maintained by the Provincial Government, at which a bottle of wine cost almost twice as much as it does in a liquor store, also maintained by the Provincial Government. Your uncle commented upon this in his accustomed ringing tones, but of what avail is it to protest against official extortion? Complaining about a government is, as Holy Writ tersely phrases it, kicking against the pricks.

Your affectionate aunt-by-marriage,
BATHSHEBA MARCHBANKS.

◇ ◇ ◇

To Genghis Marchbanks, Esq.

Dear Cousin Genghis:

I am terribly sorry that I was unable to be present at the Gala Opening of your new pawnshop; I understand that it was a wonderful affair, and distinguished by your own special brand of hospitality. Water ran like water, I am told, and guests who had brought their own sandwiches were permitted to eat them on the premises.

Let me deal with your last letter, before bringing up anything else. No, I do not want any binoculars at specially reduced prices, nor am I in the market for the telescope which you offer cheap. I have never been able to see nearly as well through binoculars as through my own unassisted eyes. No doubt this is sheer optical obstinacy, but it is true. And I have never been able to see anything at all through a telescope.

This is not for lack of goodwill. I admire telescopes, and would love to clap one to my eye, sailor-fashion, while taking a walk in the country, or even when attending the ballet. But all a telescope does for me is to flatten my eyewinkers uncomfortably.

But I am in the market for a good concertina. Concertinas run in the Marchbanks family. Uncle Fortunatus plays one. I play one. And the other day I discovered our little niece Imoinda extracting the usual cow-stuck-in-a-swamp noises from a concertina which I discarded some years ago when I bought my super-Wheatstone. Can you find a nice instrument for Imoinda which some needy concertinist has hocked?

Your affectionate cousin,
SAM.

Charming Nancy:

I have been neglecting you shamefully; almost as shamefully as you have been neglecting me. But I write now to tell you of a discovery I have made which should be of interest to the whole female sex, and particularly to that part of it which, like yourself, is chiefly concerned with matters of fashion and allurement.

What is the greatest single beautifier available to womanhood? Is it a cream, or a top-dressing for the face, or a perfume which steals away the critical judgement of the beholder? No, poppet, it is shoes that fit.

How did I find this out? Well, yesterday I sat in a restaurant, munching a bowl of breakfast food—it was evening, but I practically live on breakfast food—when in came a young man with, obviously, his Best Girl. She was stylishly dressed; her hair was nicely arranged, and she wore a few gew-gaws which indicated that she came from a home of some wealth and possibly even of cultivation. But her face was the impassive mask of a Gorgon.

They sat down near me, and immediately, under the table, I saw her kick off her shoes. And at once her face melted into that expression,—half Madonna, half Aphrodite—which reduces the male to a jelly. Beauty suffused her as though the moon had sailed from behind a cloud. She ordered a steak at $3.50, and a peck of lobster and a Baked Alaska to go with it, and her escort did not even notice. It was worth it, he seemed to think, to be the companion of that girl.

Now, Nancy, if that girl means to make the most of her considerable gifts, she must either go barefoot, or get the shoes she needs. And so I say to all her sex,

Yours with warmest admiration down to the ankles,
SAM.

Reconstruction and Town Planning

By JEAN LE GUEVAL

JUST after the Liberation, it was estimated that 600,000 homes in France had been destroyed. England, though she had suffered much during the conflict, had lost 233,000.

France has therefore had to make a tremendous effort, first to clear up the ruins and level the ground, and then to begin a vast programme of reconstruction.

The Ministry for Reconstruction and Town Planning has had to work out 1,800 plans for towns and villages, a task entrusted to 400 architects. A rapid survey of the work in progress or already finished will enable us to set out the new methods of town planning which have been gradually adopted by the rebuilders.

The architects, like their predecessors in 1919 and 1925, began work in the devastated areas, and the new houses rose along what was left of the streets.

Laying down the building line, paying attention to the placing of windows and the slope of roofs, was but a first step. Then the human element came into town planning the individual and the social group were taken into account.

To the two traditional methods of lay-out and building, houses put up in a continuous line, and detached houses, a third has been added, called by the architects: open order. No more courts closed on all four sides, but open vistas on green spaces. When there is sufficient land, gardens are set out between the buildings and the children of the flats can play in them in safety.

Since they need pay less heed to questions of alignment, the architects have been able to place the houses better according to the area and its climate. Again, on extensive jobs, they have made great efforts to vary the plans of their buildings, to adapt them to the surrounding country and to alternate light buildings with heavy and more solid constructions.

In these "model" towns, the big need has been felt to be to give man a pleasant place to live, a place in which he may enjoy his leisure to the full.

◇ ◇ ◇

EVEN in the standard block of flats, variety is possible. In building the walls many architects have used the method of construction which depends for its support on several separate points—girders, partition-walls etc. ...because this method allows the greatest variety of appearance. Everyone's wishes and even whims can thus be consulted. Such a type of building can cater for inhabitants in very different situations, and this encourages a coming together between the various professions, trades and classes. The experience of the last years has gone to prove that, in France at least, the ideal housing solution is neither the sky-scraper nor the individual house. Too big blocks of flats result in big supplementary charges on the rent and the individual house makes for vast, stretched out suburbs, which are expensive in the matter of drainage and transport.

In fact, it has been found that it is still the three or four storey block of flats which is the best solution to the problem, and the one which is in general the most acceptable to the average Frenchman.

Letters To The Editor

TRUE EXAMINER SPIRIT

Sir: The other evening, meeting our Examiner newsboy at the cottage door in Chemong we said, "The Globe and Mail has stopped delivery in the Park, we suppose you will be stopping soon too". The little fellow drew himself up proudly and replied, "Sir: The Examiner never stops, it goes on forever."

THANKS TO LIONS' CLUB

Sir: I would like to publicly thank the Lions Club for the swimming lessons which they so generously provided for our school children. We appreciated very much the excellent way in which Mr. Bill Lech instructed and looked after the children. May I also congratulate Mr. Lech on the fine aquatic show which terminated the lessons?

Yours very truly,
JEAN I. WHITELEY.
611 Weller Street.

LICENSES FOR ALL?

Sir: The Examiner is to be commended for throwing open its columns to so many protests against the treatment of 'a little guy.' I know nothing of the matter except what I have seen in the paper. I do not know what the existing by-law is, nor what new by-law is proposed. I do not know Mr. Ouimet, nor have I any personal interest in the matter.

But I gather that a license fee of fifty dollars, or more, will have to be paid, or, alternately, that Mr. Ouimet is to be extinguished.

What I should like to know is whether the license, or the extinguisher, is to apply only to the one individual or to all mobile vans selling goods in the city, including every bread van, every milk van, and every farmer's buggy. And supposing some of these start selling potato-chips?

Yours,
SENIUS

Ireland's Catholic Stamp

(From Irish Information)

The Irish government is issuing a new commemorative stamp to mark the occasion of the Holy Year. The design of the stamps features a pictorial reproduction of the bronze statue of St. Peter in St. Peter's Basilica, Rome, which is well known to every pilgrim to the Eternal City. The statue was placed by St. Leo the Great in the original Basilica of St. Peter in A.D. 445. It is customary for pilgrims visiting Rome on entering the Basilica to kiss the right foot of this bronze statue and this veneration by pilgrims down through the centuries has resulted in the wearing away of this right foot. The inscription of the State "Poolacht nah Eireann" (Republic of Ireland) is shown in the Irish language only, at the foot of the stamp. The words "Annus Sanctus" the date MCML and the Papal insignia appear at the top.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read.

And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he opened the book, he found the place where it was written, The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him. And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears. (Luke 4: 14, 16-21.)

City Has 95 Press Agents

(Editor and Publisher)

We recall the periodic blasts of U.S. editors against the hordes of propaganda agents—so-called public relations men — in federal government and then we read the item from Los Angeles about 95 press agents on the municipal payroll there. We realize that public relations men do perform some useful functions in big organizations by helping reporters get information from the right people.

But when a municipal police department has 25 public men, a fire department 12 and the water and power department 20, as was discovered in Los Angeles, then there is a suspicious aroma of press agentry designed only to get a favourable press to perpetuate incumbents in office.

"So far, all your quiet-little-caravan-holiday-away-from-it-all hasn't got us Yaks and North Koreans."

One Thursday evening a short time ago Peterborough land surveyor John G. Pierce left Toronto by air for Winnipeg. The next morning, in company with Ed Gauer, Manitoba surveyor, he took a Manitoba Air Service seaplane from Lac du Bonnet and spent the night 40 miles south of Hudson Bay, more than 1,700 air miles in less than 24 hours, still in Ontario. On Saturday morning the aircraft, piloted by my friend Norman McCoy, took them well out onto the Bay tidal flats at the mouth of Black Duck River. The surveyors landed and examined a new cement survey cairn recently erected by a field party on the northernmost terminus of the Manitoba-Ontario Provincial Boundary. A small supply of provisions left by John's party in the Spring of '48 was located intact—nary a prune had been nibbled by rodents—which gives you an idea of the scarcity of wildlife in the Land of Little (or no) Sticks.

Setting down on lakes every 80 miles or so southbound, they flew through and over countless thousands of migrating geese to overnight at God's Lake on Saturday and Winnipeg on Sunday. John was at work Tuesday morning as usual. You may think this was nothing unusual in our age of air speed, but, to strike three consecutive days of CAVU flying weather in that part of the north country that breeds bad weather, was nothing short of a miracle at this time of the year.

Last Sunday's fine weather had fishermen running to bait dealers for green frogs. Grant Lytle, Water St., N., saw his stock at a dangerous level and phoned out-of-town pickers to rush supplies. To satisfy his customers, Grant flew in a friend's plane from Peterborough to Oshawa, took on 1,000 greenbacks and got them back in time to get rid of them. Such methods of supplying demands to sportsmen have built Grant a solid business and how the brotherhood gets the word around is painless advertising at its best.

Ohio Eyes On The Kawarthas

Associate director Ed Newman of Cleveland's American and Canadian Sportsmen's Show called in to say "hello" on Tuesday. The Kawarthas were his last call homeward after visiting communities as far north as Manitoulin Island. Looks as though there's something cooking in the way of Peterborough participating in the '51 Show, with a booth. With our district enjoying the patronage of Ohioans to the tune of 75 per cent of our tourist traffic, the current interest to show our wares next Spring would appear to be a "must". I will report each slight rumor on this issue.

Conservation Officers Now Issue Licences

District trappers are going to find a change in things when they apply for licenses from now on. Instead of getting them from local issuers as in the past, they will go to the Conservation Officer in their own home areas. This method has two advantages; to the C/O who will have a more complete picture in his own territory, and, to the trapper whose prior rights to trap in his own Township or County may be controlled and protected.

Beagling; Imported Pooches, Too

A good many Peterborough men are going to the dogs, beagle owners, that is, on Oct. 21-22nd, when field trials are to be held on George Hill's farm, three miles of the city on Highway 7. George, who alone owns 16 beagles, is field secretary, Jim Howard, president, Richard Duder, vice, George English, field marshal and Bud Lloyd, publicity. Imported pooches from clubs in Oshawa, London, Toronto, Buffalo, Brantford and Medina, N.Y., will swell the event to one of the largest and most important runs in Eastern Canada. Each dog will run for three hours, the 13-inch-high class on the first day and the 15-inchers on the second. Give Lloyd a buzz at 23935 for more particulars, prizes and such.

Writes editor Bruce Bannock of the Lynx Weekly Leader: "We are preparing for the big duck barrage over Thanksgiving week-end in the rice marshes of Troutfly Township, as usual. Our Conservation Club of ten members is going to carry out its new slogan, 'The only real duck factory on earth is the hen duck. Don't shoot them.' The old hands have observed over the years that drakes on some marshes may outnumber hens by as many as 12 to one. They feel it is possible, by passing up the hens, to save the ducks and hunt them, too." Thanks, Bruce, for your club's conservation ruling. It will be food for thought among the Kawartha duck hunters, I hope.

Healthy Sleep

The most complete and healthy sleep that can be taken in the day is in summer-time, out in a field. There is, perhaps, no solitary sensation so exquisite as that of slumbering on the grass or hay, shaded from the hot sun by a tree, with the consciousness of a fresh but light air running through the wide atmosphere, and the sky stretching far overhead upon all sides. Earth, and heaven, and a placid humanity seem to have the creation to themselves. There is nothing between the slumberer and the naked and glad innocence of nature.

Next to this, but at a long interval, the most relishing snatch of slumber out of bed is the one which a tired person takes before he retires for the night, while lingering in his sitting-room. The consciousness of being very sleepy, and of having the power to go to bed immediately, gives great zest to the unwillingness to move. Sometimes he sits nodding in his chair; but the sudden and leaden jerks of the head, to which a state of great sleepiness renders him liable, are generally too painful for so luxurious a moment; and he gets into a more legitimate posture, sitting sideways with his head on the chair-back, or throwing his legs up at once on another chair, and half reclining. It is curious, however, to find how long an inconvenient posture will be borne for the sake of this foretaste of repose. The worst of it is, that on going to bed the charm sometimes vanishes; perhaps from the colder temperature of the chamber; for a fireside is a great opiate.

CHRIST CHURCH (ANGLICAN) IN BOBCAYGEON, said to be one of the most heavily endowed village churches in the Province, was built in 1870. It was designed by the late John Belcher, a city engineer of Peterborough, and dedicated by Bishop Bethune in 1871.

Christ Church Village Gem

By COLLETTE FERGUSON

Christ Church, Bobcaygeon, 79 years after its construction, links modern times with the spirit of pioneer days for the residents of this Kawartha community. Very few changes have been made to the exterior of this Anglican church from the time it was dedicated, August 14, 1871. It is believed to be one of the most heavily endowed village churches in Canada. As a result of these endowments and gifts, the interior has been so richly adorned that in the past few years it has taken on a shrine-like appearance.

The site on which the church now stands was part of a 3,000 acre area secured by Thomas Need in 1832. In 1863, the land set aside by Mr. Need for the church was deeded by him to the synod of the Diocese. Work was started on the church seven years later and on August 14, 1871, Christ Church was dedicated by Bishop Bethune.

The church building was designed by John Belcher. He had been trained in Cork and had experience in Liverpool. Mr. Belcher was the city engineer of Peterborough and was official architect to the Roman diocese of this city.

The rectory was completed in 1872, for the first minister, the Rev. Charles William Patterson. The church was consecrated in 1881 and the Parish Hall was constructed in 1907. In 1927, the old rectory was pulled down and a new rectory built.

One of the unusual features of Christ Church are the beautiful memorial windows. Among the first of these windows to be installed were the Boyd Memorial windows which were dedicated in 1921.

Among the many gifts which have made this church so richly and beautifully furnished was a two-manual pipe-organ in memory of Meta Annie Boyd, donated by her three daughters, in 1935. Another unique gift was a very valuable panel of tapestry, a portion of that which covered the sanctuary walls for the coronation of the King and Queen in 1937, which was sent from England by Mrs. John Nind.

Other gifts include the Dr. and Mrs. Boyd memorial pulpit; the Chancel carpet donated by Mrs. Charles Dowding; a maple Nave floor the gift of Mrs. William Whyte and a solid oak Credence donated by Mrs. C. E. H. Clement.

The names of the ministers who have served Christ Church since its construction, 79 years ago are: Rev. Charles William Patterson, Rev. Thiddeus Walker, Rev. George Horlock, Rev. Henry Charles Avant, Rev. William Farncombe, Rev. Walter J. Creighton, Rev. F. Louis Barber, Rev. Edmund Greaves, Rev. Thomas B. Clarke, Rev. Thomas A. Nind, Rev. Thomas R. Haughton, Rev. William G. G. Dreyer and Rev. Percy Cecil Howard.

RICH FURNISHINGS AND ADORNMENTS in Christ Church (Anglican), Bobcaygeon, as shown in the interior photo, Above, were gifts from wealthy parishioners. The richly carved pulpit was donated by the Boyd family in memory of Lieuts. H. Ormsby and Mossom R. Boyd. The panel of tapestry hanging from the vaulting of the chancel was used in the sanctuary of Westminster Abbey, during the Coronation, 1937. It was donated by Miss S. Boyd and Mrs. John Nind.

Peterborough Canny In Financing Rails, As Projects And Rival Lines Boom In 1850's

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

Port Hope and Cobourg plans to build railways into the backwoods collapsed in 1837; however, the sustained period of prosperity from 1844 to 1856 revived speculation. Cobourg was sidetracked in 1846 into building a plank-road to Gore's Landing, with the hope that it might be continued to Peterborough; due to high tolls and weather damages, this company failed before 1850. In 1846 the Port Hope and Peterborough Railway secured a charter, and the next year issued an engineer's report estimating cost of construction £58,000 and yearly revenues £23,757. £10,000 was subscribed in Port Hope, but when Peterborough did not subscribe any money the project faded into thin air.

The Guarantee Act 1849 and the Municipal Loan Fund Act 1852 made railroad financing much easier, and the unprecedented prosperity of the times made optimism fashionable. Everyone with a few spare dollars was speculating in railway stocks and bonds, and railway charters were granted freely by the government. The telegraph from Quebec to Toronto was finished in 1847, the Northern Railway was building by 1850, and in 1852 the Toronto Locomotive Works began making railway engines and cars. In 1851 the Grand Junction Railway was chartered to build from Belleville through Peterborough to Georgian Bay; the Peterborough County Council joyfully voted £850 for preliminary surveys, and in 1853 pledged the county to take £100,000 in stock.

Fortunately, the Grand Trunk Railway took over the charter that same year, and abandoned the Belleville-Georgian Bay scheme in favour of a line from Montreal to Toronto, so that the Council did not have to pay up. Another company promptly obtained a charter to build from Kingston to Peterborough, but this also fell through. Only the Port Hope and Cobourg promoters remained steadfast.

Canny Peterborough

A new charter was issued in 1852 to the Port Hope Company, which surveyed alternative lines to Lindsay and Peterborough, and sold £50,000 stock in Port Hope. When the canny Peterborough investors would not subscribe, while Lindsay bought £20,000 stock, the railway was named the Port Hope, Lindsay & Beaverton Railway, and built through Millbrook, Bethany, Omemee to Lindsay, where the first train entered October 16, 1857. In the meantime, the Cobourg & Peterborough Railway was chartered in 1852 and began building the next year, amid local jubilation; the Cobourg promoters, Hon. Geo. Boulton and Hon. Ebenezer Perry, were encouraged because their friend, Hon. John A. Macdonald, attorney-general in the MacNab government, favoured a bill to place the Clergy Reserves assets in the hands of county councils, to aid in building schools, roads and railways.

By working seven days a week, the Cobourg-Harwood line was opened on May 19, 1854, followed by a grand celebration on the Queen's birthday in which the Peterborough fire brigade took part. Trains ran twice daily each way, being met at Harwood (Sully) by the steamer "Otonabee" which ran to Peterborough. Harwood land values promptly skyrocketed by $3 to $400 an acre in a short-lived speculative boom. By November 15 the line had been carried across Rice Lake on a precarious pile bridge and trains came north to Hiawatha, whence Fisher's stageline took passengers up the Otonabee road to Ashburnham.

Railway Completed

On December 8, 1854, the Peterborough Review announced that the railway was completed, "Thanks to the energy and public spirit of Cobourg we shall no longer be compelled to spend a whole day in travelling 27 miles." The line was formally opened December 29 when a free excursion brought the Cobourg council, the railway directors, and many townspeople north to Peterborough on 12 cars pulled by "two powerful locomotives"; at 15 miles an hour, the trip was made in less than two hours.

The Review grew ecstatic: "The neighing of the noble steam horse might distinctly be heard in the distance as he proudly rushed forward over his iron pathway at a terrific pace, bringing in his wake a long train of cars filled with human beings." Crowds greeted the train at the station in Ashburnham, on Hunter Street where the McCarthy & Johnston coal office now stands, and Mayor Stevenson of Peterborough delivered an address.

The visitors were taken across the bridge under a triumphal arch to the town hall, where two hundred of the more prominent were entertained at a banquet. Among the speakers were Judge Hall, John Langton, MP, Samuel Strickland, Sheriff Conger, and William Weller ;the last-mentioned made a few cutting remarks about Peterborough people sharing in the profits of the railway without contributing to the cost, $1,100,112.

Always Difficulties

The Cobourg - Peterborough Railway was in difficulties from the start, both natural and financial. In January 1855 ice damaged the Rice Lake bridge and the line was not reopened until April; one train ran each way daily until November and the line earned about $6,000 to $7,000 a month, but then blocked cuttings and a wobbly bridge forced suspension of service over winter. In 1856 through some suspicious connections a government loan of £10,000 was secured, and used to fill in the southern end of the bridge above water level. As their charter to build on to Chemong had expired, the Cobourg promoters subscribed £40,000 to charter a Peterborough and Chemong Railway in a desperate effort to take the backwoods trade from the Port Hope-Lindsay - Peterborough Railway, and in 1857-58 they pushed a line north from Ashburnham station up the east bank to Perry's Mills at Nassau.

The Port Hope promoters bought majority control of the Peterborough and Chemong Railway, which thereupon lapsed into disuse without proceeding to Chemong Lake. From 1857 on, the Rice Lake bridge grew more and more dangerous, and the bondholders took over the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway in 1859 due to falling revenues. The last train crossed the bridge early in 1860, and the northern section of the line through Otonabee closed down permanently after part of the bridge floated away in the winter of 1861-1862, allegedly with some help from agents of the rival railway.

Business Rivals

From 1854, the Port Hope Railway had been cutting into the business of the Cobourg and Peterborough, as shipments were made downriver to Bewdley, thence three miles overland by wagon to the Port Hope Railway, at Campbellcroft. In 1857, John Fowler, of the PH, L&B Railway proposed to build a branch from Millbrook to Peterborough for £50,000, if Port Hope would subscribe £10,000 and Peterborough £30,000. For this purpose, when the total Peterborough assessment was $59,537.57, the town borrowed $120,000 on 20-year debentures paying 6 per cent which sold at a discount. The railway paid back $80,000, but due to some refinancing, the net cost to the town of the railway was $70,000, leading to financial difficulties later.

The line was completed in May 1858, and on the Queen's birthday a free excursion of 3,000 Port Hope people visited Peterborough, with a return excursion of 5,000 from Peterborough on May 31. This line at once secured most of the Peterborough trade, although the Cobourg company made a valiant effort to compete when their trains stopped operating, by taking goods to and from Peterborough in steamers to meet their trains at Harwood.

To the east, a Belleville company secured a charter in 1858 to build a railroad north to Marmora with convict labor from Kingston Penitentiary at an estimated cost of £150,000, but this project remained in the survey stage like so many other early railway schemes.

Canada Directory of 1857 Has Vital Peterborough Facts

"PETERBOROUGH, C.W. — A flourishing town in the County of Peterborough, situated on the Otonabee River, in the Township of Monaghan. Lumber is the principal trade of the place, about 23,000,000 feet of manufactured lumber being exported annually. There is also a considerable business in wheat and flour. A railway connects this town with Cobourg and the Grand Trunk Railway, distant 30 miles, fare $1. Stage fare from Port Hope, distant 30 miles, fee $1. Mail daily. Population about 4,000."

The paragraph above is taken from the section on Peterborough, Canada West, in a great thick book of 1,544 pages, called "The Canadian Directory for 1857-58." This interesting factual volume is now in the possession of Walter Bothwell, Park Hill Road.

Peterborough has gone far since it was a "flourishing town of about 4,000." So has Canada. To think that in those years a directory of the whole of Canada—then only Quebec (Canada East) and Ontario (Canada West), could be encompassed in 1,500 pages, including many advertisements. Not only Canada, but seven of the chief cities of Britain, and twelve from New York to Cleveland, and up to the Lake Ontario shore are indexed for business.

In general the Directory lists the places of business in each town, and the principal inhabitants. For instance Peterborough has nearly four columns of names, beginning with Allan, George, innkeeper, Hunter St. ending with Williamson, John, grocer, Hunter St. In between are such names as: Bank of Montreal, Robert Nicholls, agent (he was husband to Charlotte Jane Nicholls, Peterborough benefactress); Burnham, George, M.D., Water St. (his house, behind the Library, is the only one left now in the block being prepared for the new city hall; it is now the MOH's offices); Burnham, Rev. Mark, A.B. rector of Church of England.

Well-known Names

Other well-known names in the directory of Peterborough are: Clementi, V. M.; Cluxton, Wm., town treasurer, importer and general merchant, agent for half a dozen insurance companies; Robert Dennistoun, barrister on George St.; Bradburn, Thomas, general store; Gilmour, Rev. John, Baptist; James Hamilton, founder

DEATH

O eloquent, just, and mighty Death! whom none could advise, thou has persuaded; whom none hath dared thou has done; and whom all the world flattered, thou only has cast out of the world and despised: thou hast drawn together all the far-stretched greatness, all the pride, cruelty, and ambition of man, and covered it all over with these two narrow words, Hic jacet.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH (1552-1618)

George St.; Lundy, William, grocer, George St.; Harstone, A., wholesale and retail grocer, and wine and spirit merchant, George St.; Morrow and brother, tin and stove ware, George St.; Pengelly, James, saddler, Hunter St.; Roger, Rev. John M., Free Church; Rubidge, Charles, registrar for county; Stevenson, James, mayor of town, tin and coppersmith, George St., Weller, Charles A. barrister at law, George St.

There are five Halls listed: George B. judge of County and Surrogate Court; James, sheriff, and agent for Bank of Toronto, and Provincial Insurance Company; John J., clerk of Division Court; William, merchant, Simcoe St.; William, saddler and harnessmaker, Simcoe St.

It is obvious from the lists of names and addresses that George and Hunter were the chief business streets, and the chief intersection must have been at that corner.

Interesting note: the number of worthies who combined half a dozen jobs like Judge Hall and Robert Nicholls. Gaol (note the English spelling of the word jail) was Stephen Norton, and he is credited with only the one occupation. Robert Croan was both grocer and hairdresser.

Many of the types of jobs in which these people engaged have long disappeared, others are on the way out, or under different names: tinsmith, pottery (that was William Brownscombe on Murray Street), shingle mill, carriagemaker, livery stables, waggon maker, ironmonger, saddler, cooper, (William Kingdom on Simcoe street), fanning mill, axe maker.

Three people are listed as keeping boarding houses.

Many of the names in the directory are familiar to us now because of their descendants, or because they have become street names.

Other Towns

In camparison with Peterborough's four columns in the Canada Directory 1857-58, Port Hope, credited with a population of 5,000, has ten columns of names—an indication of the relative importance then of the two places. Kingston, "population, including the military, about 13,000," has forty columns of names. It is a significant change from today, when Kingston is no bigger and no more important than Peterborough.

Toronto, whose population was then some 50,000, is given a special section in the Directory, as "the Metropolis of Upper Canada." . . . "The city is laid out in the form of a parallelogram, with singular regularity, the streets intersecting each other at right angles." This marks Toronto out as a new, big place, laid out on "modern" lines, in comparison with Montreal and Kingston and Halifax.

Another point of interest about the book, published in Montreal: All the advertisements are grouped together at the end of the book, nearly 400 pages of them. Advertisers range from Kerby House, Brantford, C. W. advising that the proprietor is preparing to receive 2,000 visitors for the Annual Exhibition of the Provincial Agricultural Association of Upper Canada, to Boston and New York firms. New York advertisers saw fit to take 140 pages in this Canadian directory, Boston 20 pages, Cleveland and Albany also advertised. In fact, most of the advertisements are American, an indication of the extent which Canadians depended on American suppliers of artificial limbs, books, wagons, pianos, farm machinery, and the way the Americans cultivated the Canadian market.

PCVS Juniors Get Win From Saints

Lack of reserves in the St. Peter's seniors ranks bogged down the opener of the double-header with PCVS junior "A" gridders. After Jack Richardson, SPHS half, left injured (at this time of writing the extent of the injury was unknown) the separate school team had only two spares and they lost 11-0.

Considering the pounding the St. Peter's line took they stood up well. The PCI'ers batted them from the kickoff in order to open gaps for plunges by Spencer Hope and Reg Fowler. The backfield suffered slight cases of slippery fingers.

Early in the first the PCVS boys hemmed in the St. Pete's After Carl Brioux booted to the SPHS 35 Fowler whipped around left end to the 18-yard line. Bill Stewart, at quarter, called a pass but had no receiver. He promptly raced around the right end on a five-point run. Dave Langhorne missed the chance for the extra point.

Faded Late

St. Petes held PCVS to the lone score until late in the third quarter. Brioux tried to boot the ball out of SPHS territory but the kick was blocked with PCVS recovering on the 31 SPHS. Two downs failed to advance the ball and Spencer Hope kicked nearly to the deadline. Armstrong was smeared for a point.

Three times in the fourth the PCI'ers were within feet of paydirt and three times they lost the ball. Finally after St. Pete's stopped Fowler six inches from a touchdown, Armstrong tried to pass. Bill Stewart went up high to intercept and raced across for the touch. The kick for the extra point was again blocked.

Spencer Hope was the top player for both squads as he plunged well and snared Stewart's passes. Reg Fowler showed signs of his 1949 playing form with long jaunts through the line.

Lineups:

St. Peter's High School—flying wing, Carl Brioux; halves, Jones, O'Neil, Richardson; quarter, Armstrong; centre, Morrissey; insides, O'Leary, Crowley; middles, Farley, O'Reilly; outsides, Cavanagh, O'Brien; alternates, LePlante, McMurray, Simmons.

PCVS Juniors—flying wing, Dunn; halves, Langhorne, Hope, Fowler; quarter, Stewart; centre, Johnson; insides, Forbes, Outram; middles, Scriver, Grafstein; outsides, Hollingsworth, Griffin; alternates, Huddart, Armstrong, Hayward, Gilders, Boorman, Turner, Haggart, Russell, McIlwain, Pollard, Patterson, Chevalier.

SIGN 3 AMATEURS

Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League have announced the signing of three amateurs who played hockey in Ontario last season.

The three players signed are George Ford of Toronto and Bronco Horvath of Port Colborne, who played for Galt Black Hawks of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A group last season, and Regina-born Eddie Busch, who played for Hamilton Tigers in the OHA Senior A loop.

Cricket Club Enjoys A Successful Season

By C. H. IRESON.

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club had a long and successful season this year, playing 22 matches, winning 11, losing nine and drawing two. They lost to Grove twice and TCS at the start and dropped their last four matches but between May 24 and Sept. 9 the team lost but two matches.

Wins were from Grove School, Parkdale 2, W. Toronto 2, Toronto "B" 2, Dentonia, Carleton County, St. Edmunds, Oshawa. They lost to Grove, TCS, St. Edmunds, Bermuda, Dentonia, Halton County, New Hambledon, and Ottawa Valley, drawing with Toronto C.C. and Parkdale.

The highest team score was 203 against Toronto "B" and 199 for four wickets against the same club. High individual scores included 89 by B. Roberts and F. Booth, the latter also scoring 52 twice. A. Pope had 80 not out, 75 not out and 52, while W. Wright had 53. Highlight of the season was the grand show made by the club in the Toronto and District Council. It is divided into three sections. In 1949, the locals joined the Council and finished on top of the Rawlinson section, being promoted this season to the Godin group. At the end of this season, the team finished second. The standing:

| | W | L | D | Pt |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Toronto "B" | 8 | 2 | 0 | 16 |
| Peterborough | 7 | 3 | 0 | 14 |

APPEAR BEFORE BOARD

Race-horse trainers seeking licences next year in Ontario will have to appear before a board of examiners composed of an Ontario Racing Commission veterinary and a panel of commission-appointed trainers, it was announced in Toronto Friday.

The commission said also that all horses racing in Ontario will be tattooed and the numbers registered with the commission.

Bert Faulkner, now in charge of the racing strip at Hamilton track, has been retained as consultant on track conditions.

He will have charge of putting all running track racing strips in the province in condition before next year's racing starts.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Our own version of the little skit. Two ball fans discussing the visitors' lineup. "Who's playing first?" Joe asks. "Yeah, he is," Jim replies. "Who is?" "Yeah, I told you he was. Hoose on first." "Look, Jim, I asked you that." Jim growls: "Now you look, I told you the guy's name." "What?" "No, Watt's on second." "Okay then, who's on third?" "Nope, Hoose on first and Watt's on second—got it?" "Right." "No, you chump, Wright plays short." "Well, for the luvva Mike, who's on third, or what's on third, if you prefer it that way?" Jim says patiently: "Look, Hoose on first and Watt's on second, so how could either of them be on third." "That's right, I suppose." "Nope, Wright's on short."

* * * * * *

Well, sir—and you, madam—Joe decides he'll try a new tack. Something screwy about the whole thing, or else he's taking a ride from Jim. This business of Hoose on first, Watt's on second and Wright at shortstop. It doesn't still let a guy know which player is holding down third base. He says: "Now, Jim, don't you know English?" Jim snorts: "Of course I do, that's Tommy English catching for them. A .365 hitter, too." Just before mayhem sets in, Joe tries once more very carefully: "Jim, can you tell me the name of the ball player on third for them?" And Jim says: "Oh, sure, that's Schwartz."

Merry Matadors Back

Pro wrestling returns to Peter Robinson's borough on Tuesday with a three-bout card at the Brock Arena. Hundreds of city and district grapple fans will welcome back the behemoths in their Tuesday tangles throughout the fall and winter. Big rough bozos ranging from 230 to 290 pounds doing their darndest in a most illegal mat manner usually, but always lots of action and excitement. Colored Seelie Samara and towering Hi Lee—the rough 285-pound Texan—headline the card, with Pat O'Shocker and Pat Flanagan in an all-Irish semi-final, and Abe Zvonkin (no mick) against Jack Moore in the prelim. There 'tis, folks.

A minor lacrosse playoff at six this eve in Miller Bowl to wind up, probably, the OLA season here. Port Dalhousie plays the local bantams and have a hefty lead in their series. While the homesters should win the tilt, their chances of taking the round aren't too bright as 20 points are a lot. Cournyea, McDougall and Sutherland went best for the young Petes in the opener. Other local players are: Simmonds, Heffernan, Board, Chambers, Davis, Hunt, Kane, McGuinness, Murphy, Doris and Ketcheson. They're the last of the Mohicans this year in the gutted-stick wars for Peterborough.

PCVS Gridders Victors

High school football—of an exhibition nature—made its 1950 bow at Morrow Park last night before a goodly gallery. PCVS squads started off on the right foot in both junior and senior play. Alex Londry's junior lads won 11-1 from the senior "B" St. Peter's High, the latter fading late as they lack weight and were shy on reserve strength. Besides losing Jack Richardson through an injury. He had a dislocated shoulder. The Londry crew hustled and showed real promise, with Spencer Hope and Reg Fowler turning in a neat display throughout. Bev Goulding's senior line showed to advantage while Warren Brown got two tries for them as they beat Runnymede 11-0. The PCI-ers should go places this season. Cheer leaders, color, etc., to mark the grid openers.

Rog Wood, Jerry Creasy, George Davidson, Harry Hill, Aaron Bitman, Vic Napolitano and Tony DeLaurentis have returned to the States so far, with Charlie Walsh going Sunday. A few of them may return for week-end games, but others can't make it. Take away eight imports and the Merchants can't have too many left.

Rays Get Title In Three Over Westclox

Raybestos defeated Westclox 7-2 last evening to win the Industrial Fastball League final series and the championship in three straight games. It was to have been a best-of-five series, but Ray's proved too strong and wrapped it up in speedy style.

The losers were held to lone runs in the first and fifth innings on good pitching and fielding by Rays, while the latter scored a pair in the third, one each in the next three chukkers, and settled it with two more in the seventh. They hit in timely fashion and cashed in on all slips. Teams:

Westclox—Donoghue, c; Morin, 3b; Heffernan, 1b; Wyatt, ss; Parsons, lf; White, cf; Guerin, p; Shearer, 2b; Millar, rf.

F-O-O-T-B-A-L-L

By DON GRANT

To start a down in football the players line up on the ball along the line of scrimmage until the quarterback calls "Team Back". The players then hustle back out of hearing range of the opposition to form a circle or huddle to be informed by the quarterback the play to be used on the down.

This portion of the game can be and has been developed into the color of the sport. Some teams call out members starting at one and ending when the huddle is complete. Others use chants which they drone out when approaching the line of scrimmage after the huddle.

Some teams, usually the light squads, try the no-huddle system to wear down the heavier opponents early in the game. This type of playing demands intelligent footballers who will know the plays perfectly by the signal-calling system. There is also a strain on the quarterback who must keep his eyes open to catch any weakness in the opposition's defensive play.

The no-huddle system livens up the game by the speed with which the plays are called and worked. Sometimes teams which use the huddle system are inclined to jog back to the huddle without any sign of life causing a dull break.

During the past several years in this area the local teams have varied the huddle or no-huddle play for deceptive play. Most have several plays which are drilled continually so that a player can swing into action when he hears the signals being called without the use of a huddle. This quick no-huddle play often catches the opposition disorganized and goes for long gains. One lakeshore team often used this quick no-huddle play last year for a quick kick on the second down.

PCVS Senior Gridders Win Against Runnymede, 11 to 1

By DON GRANT

"Seven come eleven," cried the PCVS footballers Friday night, and two little, but big enough, elevens popped up for two victories.

Alex Londry's Junior A grid squad out-fumbled the St. Peter's High School Senior B group 11-0, while Bev Goulding's senior Garnet and Greys opened the Collegiate football season with an 11-1 win over Runnymede Collegiate seniors, Toronto.

Large holes ripped in the Runnymede line by the well-conditioned PCI'ers paved the way for a steady ground attack.

Except off the kickoff, Runnymede failed to dent PCVS territory in the first quarter. Garbutt, Toronto quarter, matched kicks with Northcott until late in the quarter when Galley recovered a Toronto fumble on the Runnymede 37. McIlraith, Warren Brown, and Bob Sandy took the ball to the 10-yard line. Brown then pushed it to the four. Too long a huddle cost them the first down. They missed on a forward pass and fumbled on the third.

Brown Goes Over

In the second Northcott booted the Runnymede 3-yard line, but Garbutt returned in two plays later to the 35. Bus Jensen and Brown tore through on plunges to the 5-yard line, McInraith went to the one, and Brown finished the job on a handoff for the first major. Young missed on the convert attempt. A PCVS drive was cut short at the half on the Runnymede 10.

Runnymede bounced back in the second half with plunges by Menzies, Parsons and Garbutt. Twice they hurled the locals back into the defensive area. A fumble recovered by Don Curtis for the PCVS changed the stage in the latter part of the quarter. Twice the PCI'ers dug deep into the scoring zone but twice they were penalized, nullifying the plays.

Starting at the Runnymede 25 the Torontos worked up to the Petes 20 in the fourth. Peterborough gained possession and kicked, but rouged on the play to make the score 5-1.

On the March

Play jostled back and forth between the PCVS 20 and the centre strip until Northcott intercepted a pass at centre and went to the Runnymede 47. He then threw a pass to Neil Thompson at the Toronto 25. He in turn lateralled to McIlraith, who went on to the 5-yard line.

Warren Brown chalked up his second touchdown when he bucked through centre. Young made the convert good to end the scoring at 11-1.

The teams:

Runnymede CI — Flying wing, Drysdale; halves, McMahon, Elliott, Parsons; quarter, Garbutt; centre, Cox; insines, Wilson and Marsellus; middles, McIntosh and Wright; outsides, Mandzy, Fligg; alternates, Cituiski, Lyons, Ringer, Brown, Mitchell, Mazur, Frise, Butler, Bickerton, Stubbings, Sjeridan, Corbett, Dodd, Ward, Hanna, Tomlinson.

PCVS Seniors — Flying wing, Northcott; halves, Gandy, Brown; McIlraith; quarter, Young; centre, Frise; insides, Grant, Burns; middles, English, Telford; outsides, Galley, Thompson; alternates, Ward, Mongraw, Sanders, Northey, Fortner, Craw, Jensen, Cunningham, Curtis, Nicholls, J. Burns, Galoska, Harrison, Facendi, Clapper, White, Buckland, and Howe.

Athletics Whip Hamilton 19-7

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 23—(CP).—St. Catharines Athletics ended the three-year reign of Hamilton Tigers as Ontario Senior Lacrosse champions today by dumping them 19-7 to take their best-of-three Ontario Lacrosse Association semi-final, two games to one.

St. Catharines will meet Owen Sound Crescents in the final round.

Jimmy McMahon and Tony Damico pumped home four goals apiece for the winners. Tank Teather got three and Harry Whipper, Ken Kroft and Leo Teatro each counted a pair.

Blain McDonald, a former St. Catharines ace, and Norm Shortridge tallied two goals apiece for the losers.

Orioles Lash Red Wings 11-5

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP).—Baltimore Orioles enjoy a slight psychological advantage over the Rochester Red Wings in the final round of the Interprovincial League's Shaughnessy Cup playoffs.

Baltimore tied the best-of-seven series at a game apiece Friday night in Rochester by trouncing the pennant-winning Red Wings 11-5, and the series now shifts here for the next three games.

The first game will be played tonight. The teams will be idle Sunday because of a pro football game in Baltimore's Municipal Stadium. The fourth and fifth games will be staged Monday and Tuesday nights. The sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be played in Rochester.

Either Irv Medlinger or Bill Kenndy will pitch for Baltimore tonight against Eddie Yuhas or rookie Jack Faszholz.

The Orioles won Friday night's game with an eight-run fourth inning. A two-out wind-blown pop fly that fell for a single opened the floodgates for Baltimore in the fourth. Austin Knickerbocker and Babe Barna featured the uprising with home runs. Butch Woyt also homered for the winners, while Don Bollweg socked one for Rochester.

Yanks Get Half-Game Lead As Indians Trip Tigers

By RALPH RODEN,

New York Yankees once again are a half game ahead in the American League pennant battle today thanks to an old alumnus, Joe Gordon.

Gordon, in one of the most dramatic games of the stretch drive, smashed a home run Friday night to give Cleveland Indians a 4-3 victory over Detroit Tigers. The defeat dumped the Tigers out of a first place tie with the Yanks.

Gordon led off the last of the ninth with his game-winning blow after the Tigers had tied the score at 3-3 on a two-out, two-run homer by Don Kolloway in the top of the ninth.

The Yanks and the third-place Boston Red Sox were idle. They open a two-game series in Yankee Stadium today. Boston is two games back of the pace-setters

Two crack lefthanders, Mel Parnell of the Red Sox and Eddie Lopat of the Yanks, will be the opposing pitchers at the Stadium today. They boast identical 17-8 records with Parnell riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak.

A Yankee sweep of the two games will virtually knock the Red Sox out of contention as they would then drop four games behind with only eight games to play.

Continue Feud

While the Red Sox and Yanks go at each other, the Tigers continue their feud with the Indians with a single game today and another tomorrow.

Art Houtteman (10-19) has been nominated to pitch today for the Tigers against Cleveland's Mike Garcia (10-10).

The Indians scored all of their runs in Friday night's thrilling encounter after two outs. Big Luke Easter drove in their first three runs off Hal Newhouser who went the distance for Detroit.

Easter socked his 28th homer after Larry Doby walked with two down in the first inning to give Bob Feller a 2-0 working margin.

The Tigers counted an unearned run in the third but Easter stroked a two-out run scoring single in the bottom of the third to restore Cleveland's advantage to two runs.

Feller breezed along in great style until two were out in the ninth. Johnny Groth then singled and Kolloway followed with his sixth homer to tie the score. Joe Ginsberg and Newhouser kept the rally alive with infield hits but Johnny Lipon grounded out to end the threat.

Gordon began the last of the ninth by socking Newhouser's second pitch over the leftfield fence to break up the game. The blow was Gordon's 19th roundtripper.

Edge Cincinnati

In the only National League game, Pittsburgh Pirates edged Cincinnati Reds 8-7 in 10 innings under the lights at Forbes Field Pinch-hitter Wally Westlake broke up the game with a two-run single. Bob Usher of the Reds sent the game into overtime with a three-run homer in the ninth.

The league-leading Philadelphia Phils return to action today and take on the Brooklyn Dodgers in a two-game series at Philadelphia. The Dodgers and Boston Braves are tied for second place, seven games behind the Phils. Any combination of six Philadelphia victories or six Brooklyn and Boston defeats will give the Phils their first pennant since 1915.

Teacher-Airman Heads Thriving BC Co-operative

By DAVE McINTOSH

KEREMEOS, B.C. —(CP)— When Bert Munden got out of the RCAF after navigating with a pathfinder squadron in Europe, he looked around for a place to let his wheels down.

A native of Edmonton, he had taught school on the prairies for 11 years. During the war, his wife became ill and, on doctor's advice, moved to this town of 1,200 in the south end of the Okanagan Valley, not far from the US border. She started up an auto court.

When Munden, now 37 and father of three, came home, he settled in Keremeos. In five years, he has become owner of a 10-acre fruit ranch and general manager of the Keremeos Growers' Association Co-operative. As such, he plays a small but vital role in the valley's $25,000,000-a-year fruit and vegetable industry.

Very Old Town

Keremeos — an Indian word meaning "meeting of the winds" —is one of the oldest towns in the BC interior. The old Hudson's Bay Company post, with an ancient grain grinder, still stands on the side of one of the mountains which overhang the town.

So enclosed is the town by the mountains that the sun is shut off early in the evening and darkness falls much sooner than on the coast.

Bert Munden started keeping books for the co-op: "I had book learning and the growers had a hard time finding such a guy here." When the secretary became ill, he took over and three years ago he became general manager. Through the Veterans' Land Act, he acquired his own ranch.

Munden's job is looking after the business affairs of the 236 grower-members of the co-op. The ranches lie on the narrow tablelands just above the river banks and under the sheer mountain cliffs. Their owners have names like Wesenberg, Maisonneuve, Shmunk and Hencheroff. Many of them came here from the prairies.

BIG Annual Turnover

The co-op owns two packing plants, a hardward store (for orchard supplies) that does a $50,000 annual business and a feed store that does an $80,000-a-year business, selling to cattle ranches whose herds roam the mountain slopes.

The packing plants employ 150 —nearly all women— at season's peak, a packer can make between $8 and $12 a day and a sorter gets around 62 cents an hour. A fast packer can fill 200 boxes a day, 150 apples to the box. They wear adhesive tape at the ends of their fingers to protect them against the paper wrappings. The tape wears out so fast it has to be replaced three times a day.

Munden doesn't worry about marketing the fruit. This is done by BC Tree Fruits Ltd. at Kelowna, the big co-operative that is the selling agency for all 3,700 valley growers.

Paid on Delivery

Each grower is paid on delivery of his fruit. The co-op cleared $380,000 last year after all expenses and this was returned to members—an average of about $1,000 each.

In a good crop year—and when prices are good, too—a rancher with a 10-acre lot can gross between $4,000 and $5,000.

However, the picture isn't as rosy as that right now because last year's hard winter killed off between 200,000 and 300,000 of the valley's trees—roughly one quarter.

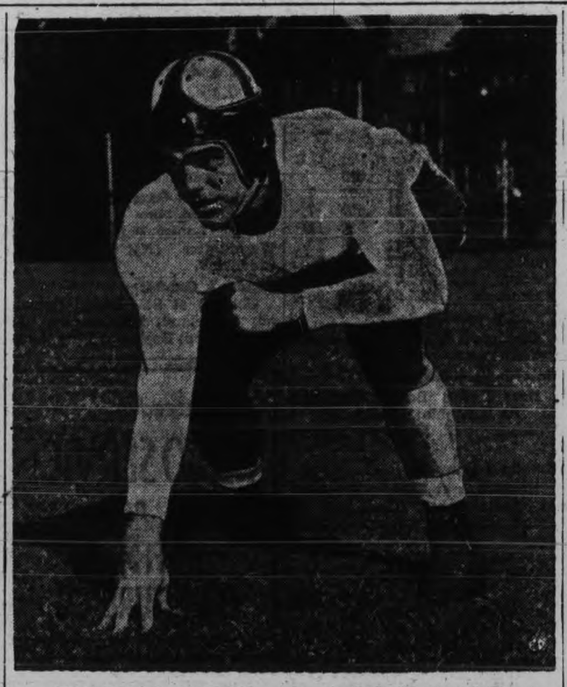
Incidentally, if you have ever wondered about those road-side fruit stands, they are a boon to growers. They can often sell a good deal of fruit this way that ripens too early for the packing plant to handle.

Church Interior All Saints Is Redecorated

The first Sunday in October will mark the completion of a two-year redecoration program in All Saints' Anglican Church. During the past two years the interior has been completely redecorated — the sanctuary two years ago and the main part of the church during the summer.

Ecclesiastical decirator, A. W. R. McDougal of Toronto is in charge of the project.

The walls have been painted buff and ivory and the wainscotting has been given a stipple finish. The ceiling with its overall cross beam pattern has been decorated with painted religious symbols—Cross, Rose, Chi Rho and IHS. Stencilled designs have been added to the beam joints.



The floor of the sanctuary has been sanded and refinished and the Holy Table has been lengthened. A new platform has been built for the baptismal font which will be placed opposite the pulpit. A memorial cover has been added to the font.

The rugs have been lifted and cleaned and the pews scrubbed and polished. New Gothic panels have been added to the entrance and an imitation stonework design has been painted around the doors and windows.

New Lights

Thirteen memorial amber hexagonal Gothic lanterns make up a new lighting system that has been installed. The church has been rewired with the latest type of magnetic controls. The memorial lighting will be dedicated at a special service, October 4.

During the redecoration, the services at All Saints' Church have been held in the Parish Hall.

STALWART IMPORT — Here is Eddy (Buckets) Hirsch, 29, one of seven United States imports signed this season by Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League in their hunt for the Grey Cup and Dominion senior football title. The 210-pound centre played for the professional Buffalo Bills last season after leaving Northwestern College. He is five feet, 10 inches tall.

2 Rival Unions Exchange Bitter Words

MONTREAL, Sept. 23 (CP) — Rival textile unions Friday night fired broadsides at each other, charging "collusion" with management after the United Textile Workers (AFL-TLC) had won a vote of confidence from 2,700 employees of the Dominion Textile Company here.

But both the UTW and its bitter opponent in the certification election, the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CCL), agreed that approximately 1,500 workers voted for the UTW and 1,000 for the TWUA.

The CIO Union has charged that its AFL rival is Communist-dominated in Canada.

"Another example of industry and Communism in collusion," said Sam Barron, Canadian director of the TWUA Friday night in a press statement commenting on the vote.

"The company was fighting alongside the CIO against us," replied R. Kent Rowley, Mr. Baron's opposite number in the UTW.

"Nonsense," said a Dominion textile spokesman to the collusion charge. "It is an old union battle cry."

Long Fight

The struggle for the right to represent Dominion Textile Company employees exploded several months ago when Azelus Beaucage, business agent of the UTW's Local 102, quit the union and took a large number of members over to the CIO organization.

Mr. Beaucage alleged that Mr. Rowley and several other UTW leaders were members of the Labor - Progressive (Communist) Party and that he himself had been forced to join the LPP because of Communist influence in the union. Mr. Rowley denied the charges.

Sulphone Remedy Cures 79 Lepers In South Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa — (CP)— Sixteen European and 63 natives have been cured of what was regarded until a few years ago as an incurable type of leprosy.

After lengthy treatment with a sulphone drug the patients were discharged recently from a South African leper institution.

United States scientists, experimenting with sulphone as a treatment for tuberculosis, accidentally discovered that the drug reacted against leprosy bacilli. Two sulphones have been used during the last five or six years at the Public Leprosarium in Carville, La., and a number of cures have resulted.

Soon after its discovery the drug was tested in South Africa. The patients recently discharged were the first to undergo treatment.

One of them had entered the institution when he was 28 years old. At the time he was a farmer in the Free State, with a wife and children.

"Hopeless" Case

His case was regarded as hopeless. "The only thing we could still do was to fill in the date on a death certificate," said one of the health officers at the institution.

When he was given the new drug he responded immediately, and after four years of the treatment was told that he was cured and could go home.

Another of the discharged patients is a married woman with three children. When she entered the institution three-and-a-half years ago, her eyes were affected.

"Today I can read," she said. Her face has improved remarkably and there is a healthy red glow where formerly marks had been.

She had to point out her slight deformity before it became noticeable.

It was also difficult to distinguish the other discharged patients from people who had always been normal and healthy.

Victoria Editor Plans To Retire

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 23 — (CP)—Retirement of Harry P. Hodges as editor-in-chief of The Victoria Daily Times, effective Dec. 31, was announced Friday by Stuart Keate, publisher.

Mr. Hodges, born in England in 1884, concluded 34 years with the Times at his year-end retirement. He was appointed editor-in-chief in October, 1944.

Mr. Hodges retired recently as a director of The Canadian Press.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, wife of the retiring editor and a newspaperwoman herself, is speaker of the British Columbia legislature. She writes a daily column for The Times.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

When you consider that a football team has three downs to make 10 yards for a first down, the statistics make Ken Charlton, hard-driving veteran backfielder for Saskatchewan Roughriders, look pretty good.

He boasts the best ground-gaining average of any ball-carrier in the Western Canada Football Conference—approximately nine yards for every time he has carried the ball.

The 29-year-old former Ottawa Rough Rider has lugged the ball 19 times for a net gain of 171 yards.

Tied for second-place ball-carrying honors are Tom Casey, the Winnipeg whizz and league-leading scorer, and Riders' young fullback Nelson Greene. Both sport a 6.8 yard average. Casey, one of the conference workhorses, has carried 52 times for a net gain of 354 yards while Greene plunged 19 times for 130 yards.

In the passing department, Edmonton's Lindy Berry owns the best percentage, completing .537 of his tosses. He has tried 149 passes, completed 80 for a total gain of 1,549 yards and had 12 intercepted.

Toronto Alderman Ross Lipsett said Friday he will ask city council to expropriate the Woodbine race track and asked city council's parks committee to make a survey of the property to determine its suitability as a public park.

The alderman's announcement followed refusal of the Ontario Jockey Club to allow the city to use part of the property for a new highway. Mr. Lipsett said the only alternative was removal of the race track, annual site of the King's Plate and other top racing events in Ontario.

Believed to be the best of its kind, the all-Canada hockey school of professional instruction will be held at Moose Jaw, Sask., Oct. 2-14.

Art Somers of Winnipeg, Cecil (Tiny) Thompson of Calgary and Johnny Gottselig, all former National Hockey League players will be the instructors. The tuition fee is $75 per student.

The program calls for two-hour sessions on the ice in the morning and afternoon with motion pictures at night.

To Issue Debentures

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP)—The Ontario Municipal Board Friday authorized the city of Toronto to issue debentures totalling $779,000 for modernization of the Canadian National Exhibition's cattle building and construction of an East Toronto community arena. The $125,000 for the arena was approved on condition that an equal amount be raised by public subscription.

Yacht Cub Proposes Civil Defence Unit

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—(CP)—The Avalon Yacht Club of St. John's is investigating the possibility of forming a power boat squadron that could be used as a civil defence unit in the case of a national emergency.

The squadron would be voluntary and the members would supply their own boats and services without any renumeration.

President Don Clouston said that the club has not been officially aproached by anyone in connection with the idea but the members have already set up a committee to look into the matter further.

Meaning Of 'Calgary' Covered In Confusion

CALGARY —(CP)— Calgarians have always taken for granted that the name of their city comes from a Gaelic word meaning "clear, running water." But now it appears that might not be so.

The late Col. James MacLeod, early Mounted Police officer, named Fort Calgary after his Scottish home in the Isle of Mull. His son, Norman MacLeod, recently visited Scotland and looked into the derivation of the name of Calgary.

His finding? The word Calgary might mean anything from "hard water," "a bristle," "a shelter," to a proper name.

Deputy Minister

Labor Congress To Throw Out Red Members

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 (CP). — Communism's voice may be shut off from the National Councils of Canadian Labor next week

Almost-coincident moves of the Dominion's two big labor congresses — one accomplished and the other expected—will leave Reds with no national forum.

The moves:

1. Action of the 500,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada last week in barring Red-officered or Red-dominated unions from membership in the TLC.

2. Expected action of the 360,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor here next week in authorizing its executive to toss out Communist-dominated unions

Both measures go far beyond any previous action taken by Canadian unions against Reds.

In the Canadian Congress of Labor, which opens its annual convention here Monday, it may mean several organizations—unless they clean house — will be thrown out along with the Red-influenced United Electrical Workers.

To Get Final Boot

The UEW, now under suspension by the Congress executive council, is due to get the final boot at the convention next week. At odds with the CCL leadership for years over the leftist policies of its leaders, it eventually was suspended 10 months ago on the issue of non-payment of its per capita dues.

It will get the axe next week in the same way as it was applied by the 1949 convention to the Communist-influenced International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In both these cases, constitutional questions apart from that of Communism have been employed.

But for the future the C.C.L., in the same vein as the T.L.C. moved last week at Montreal, is going to use the direct issue of Communism to give the heave to Left-Wing unions.

Certain To Pass

The C.C.L.'s executive council, it was learned, will sponsor a resolution empowering it to suspend any union considered to be "dominated" by Communists. The measure is certain to pass the convention, expected to have an anti-Red majority of about 750 to 50.

The new measure will not constitute an outright guillotine for suspected Red unions, for they will have the right of appeal to the next convention. However, C.C.L. conventions usually back up the decisions of their executive.

Apart from the Electrical Workers, several unions are expected to find themselves in hot water when and if the anti-Red edict passes.

Topmost of these would be the Red-run Fur and Leather Workers' Union, which has about 5,000 members and constitutes the loudest Left-Wing voice in the Congress now that those of the Electrical Workers and the Mine-Mill Union are removed.

TIES FOR PRIZE — June Doman, 20, women's editor of the Hamilton News, tied for first place in the junior division of the Canadian Women's Press Club Memorial Awards for writers under 25. Born in Bath, Eng., Miss Doman came to Canada in 1948 and joined the staff of the Hamilton paper the following year. An interview with Barbara Ann Scott, Canadian skating star, won the prize.

FEWER HEADACHES

Stock Markets Gain Higher Ground

By FRANK KAPLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Stock markets broke into fresh ground this week. Steady buying boosted prices higher and pulled the average price level of industrial stocks to their highest peaks in about 20 years.

This was the fourth successive week of advance for the markets. The trend has been upwards for the last three months despite minor interruptions.

Inflationary ideas have been influencing much of the recent buying, according to observers Generally, investors are optimistic. Prospects of excellent earnings and higher payments and the extra fillip aided by possible rearmament orders encourage the bullish view.

On the other side of the fence are possible changes in taxes—especially an excess-profits tax—government controls, a touchy international situation and what some observers believe to be a technically weak market position following a rapid, uninterrupted advance.

On High Ground

New York bucked its way into fresh high ground Friday. For four days the market labored upwards until an extra burst of buying early Friday pushed the Associated Press 60-stock average to 82.6, the highest point in 19 years, and a gain of .9 from the previous Friday.

Canadian markets advanced at a more rapid rate than Wall Street. Paper stocks were the favorites. Reports of heavy United States buying in Canadian stocks and bonds in recent weeks have attracted investors to the market Observers say that Americans are buying Canadian issues in expectation of the Canadian dollar going back to parity. There is considerable discussion in U.S. financial circles of a resumption of parity but Prime Minister St. Laurent said some time ago that the government was not considering such a move

Continues Climb

In Toronto, the exchange's industrial index continued climbing into fresh territory with a gain of 5.30 over the five days. The index has been at the highest point recorded since it was first compiled in 1934 for several weeks.

Western Oil stocks attracted mild demand for a gain of 2.89 while Base Metals bucked heavy profit-taking in adding .40. Gold stocks attracted attention early in the week only to lose the advantage in two days of selling for a loss of .12.

Papers showed a gain of 40.05 to highlight advances on the Montreal averages Other gainers were: Banks .06; utilities .2; industrials 9.0; combined 6.1; golds .38. Industrial volume was 568,993 as against 540,244, and mines 1,252,576, as against 2,072,133.

Domestic Exports Up To $257,100,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Canada's total domestic exports rose to $257,100,000 in August from $251,700,00 in August, 1949, the Bureau of Statistics reported Friday in a preliminary survey of foreign trade during that month.

Estimated total imports climbed to $268,900,000 from $212,100,000 a year ago.

Domestic exports to the United States increased to $167,100,000 against $115,400,000, but to the United Kingdom declined to $42,500,000, compared to $62,900,000.

Estimated imports from the United States amounted to $175,300,000, compared to $143,600,000, and from the United Kingdom to $34,200,000 against $26,200,000.

Awarded Damages

TORONTO, Sept. 23—(CP)—Damages totalling $5,027 were awarded from the Ontario unsatisfied judgments fund Friday to two Windsor men who said they were unable to collect from a U.S. army corporal for an automobile accident June 27. Alexander Foran received $3,500; William Morton $1,000. They were awarded also $529 costs.

May Allow Prisoners Serve Night Sentences

GUELPH, Sept. 23—(CP)—Reform Institutions Minister Hamilton said Friday his department is studying a plan to permit some types of convicted persons to work by day and serve their sentences at night.

Mr. Hamilton said the plan would be restricted to a select type of individual willing to cooperate and anxious to reinstate himself in society. It would allow him to keep his job and support his family.

The plan would not apply to narcotic cases, habitual offenders or persons convicted under the criminal code.

Two Youths Jailed On Robbery Charge

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 — (CP) — James Willmott, 21, and Clifford Todd, 23, were each sentenced Friday to six months definite and six months indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory on charges of robbery with violence.

The two were convicted of having beaten Joseph Joreczek, 42, and robbed him of $60 last July. Joreczek, who said he met Willmott and Todd in a beer parlor and began drinking with them, was detained for four days in hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the beating.

See Slight Reduction In Meat Prices

MONTREAL, Sept. 23 (CP). — Lack of demand and heavy supply have caused a slight reduction in meat prices here during the last two weeks and prices are expected to dip lower next week, wholesale dealers said Friday. They said the downgrade appears to have been felt throughout Canada.

Whether beef prices will decline to any appreciable extent is questionable, wholesalers said, but pork, which has seen the sharpest break, should decline even more within the next few weeks.

Meat packers said the drop was due to the fact that this is the time of year when livestock is liquidated in greatest numbers.

Auxiliary Squadron

WINDSOR, Sept. 23—(CP)—Establishment of an auxiliary RCAF squadron in Windsor is under consideration by the Department of National Defence, Hon. Brooke Claxton has advised Don F. Brown, Liberal member of parliament for Essex West.

Dies Of Wounds

LONDON, Sept. 23—(CP)—Lorene Jacques, 25, died in hospital here Friday of shotgun wounds which authorities said apparently were self-inflicted. Dr. A. R. Routledge, coroner, said his investigation indicates Miss Jacques committed suicide.

Fine Quartette In Farm Brawl Near Orillia

ORILLIA, Sept. 23—(CP)—Two women and two men Friday were convicted of assault for their part in a farmyard brawl over the custody of a four-month-old girl.

Fined $20 and costs of 15 days each were Mrs. Murray Cook, 21, mother of the baby, Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Winnifred Jackson, 52, and Benny Jarvis, 24, and Gerald Van Hezwyck, 38.

Mrs. Cook's estranged husband, a 230-pound former paratrooper, testified that she slapped his face during the melee Tuesday night. It started when "a lot of cars" drove up to his farm, disgorging persons apparently bent on getting Mrs. Cook's daughter, Murlene.

The infant, who has been in Cook's custody since he separated from his wife, slept soundly during the battle royal.

Cook and his brother Bruce and some neighbors beat off the "attack" and the visitors fled as police approached. Murray admitted waving a gun but said it was not loaded.

Mrs. Cook denied trying to get the baby. She and her mother, planning to return to their home in Sault Ste. Marie, just wanted to pick up a coat and a camera, she said. Jarvis and Van Hezwyck had gone along "for protection."

Said Constable D. F. MacDonald who got there at the tail end: "It looked like a regular donnybrook."

U.S. Costs Rise

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) —The U.S. government's cost-of-living index rose 0.3 per cent between July 15 and Aug. 15, with increases in all major items used by moderate-income families except food. Retail prices as of Aug. 15 placed the consumers price index of the Bureau of Statistics at 173 per cent of the 1935-39 level.

STAYS IN POLAND — Dr. Leopold Infeld, whose visit to his native Poland this year touched off a controversy about his knowledge of atomic "secrets," has decided to stay in Warsaw. Dr. Infeld, who taught at the University of Toronto since 1939, submitted his resignation by mail and wrote: "I find here excellent conditions for research and scientific work and for instructing the young Polish generation."

Seven Convicts From Guelph Still At Large

GUELPH, Sept. 23—(CP)—Two prisoners escaped from the Ontario Reformatory here Friday, bringing the number of convicts at large to seven.

James Tesky, 17, of Woodstock and Barrie, and Thomas McKay, 16, of Toronto fled from an unguarded woollen mill after breaking the glass of an unscreened window.

Five other prisoners escaped from the reformatory kitchen Thursday, forcing a door and cutting a screen over a storage-room window. They escaped in two stolen cars, one of which was recovered in Toronto.

Many Answers Are Given To All-Important Question

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

To the seemingly simple question, "What does it mean to be a Christian?" many answers have been given.

I heard of one young woman, who when asked by an evangelist whether she were a Christian, reply that she was. But she told a friend afterdwaras: "Of course I wasn't a Christian in the sense that he meant; but I belonged in a Christian land. I am not a pagan, so I must be a Christian."

More reprehensible, in fact thoroughly dishonest and disgraceful, was the attitude of certain public officials in Germany before both world wars. A symptom of the corruption that was eating at the heart of that great land was a condition of office requiring all officials to be Christian communicants. Some of these officials, though actually rationalists or even aethists, met this condition by formally taking communion once a year—a blasphemous recognition of the most sacred of Christian rites.

Other answers to the question, though less reprehensible, are nonetheless mistaken. To be a Christian, it might be said, it is only necessary to belong to a Chrisitan church, or to one of the many denominations professing Christian faith and organization.

On the contrary, some might be considered Christians who belonged to no church at all.

Few, for instance, would deny that Abraham Lincoln was a Christian, and a very good one. Yet Lincoln never joined a church, declaring, however, that if he found a church requiring no condition of membership other than that of love to God and one's fellowmen, that church would he gladly join.

Now, there is no call for pessimism concerning the church. It is my firm belief that by far the greatest number of sincere, earnest, God-loving, and man-loving people are in the churches. Nevertheless, one need only observe the lives of many members of churches to realize that church membership is not, in itself, the same thing as being Christian. Or, if one is a church member, without displaying actual Christian graces and character, he is a Christian only in a very formal and unreal sense.

From all wrong answers, one turns then to the true answer. It is set down with clarity and exactness, in Romans 8:9, "If any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His." These are the words of Paul, but they conform to the words of Jesus, who said to His disciples. "If ye love me keep my commandments."

Clergyman Raps Anglican Laxity In Church-Going

NORTH HATLEY, Que. (CP)—The Anglican parishioners of North Hatley who have their various excuses for staying away from church may be fooling themselves but Rev. Mark Beaufoy has them pretty well taped.

He indicated this in a monthly bulletin generally entitled "Parson's Pleasure," but re-titled "Parson's Pleading" in its September issue.

Here is how Mr. Beaufoy listed the non-attendance excuses and his comments on each:

1. "I'm unable to get to church because of age and/or sickness."

It is surprising how a tummy-ache will stop folk coming to church when they wouldn't dream of letting it stop them going to a movie.

2. "I have work to do on Sunday."

Have you tried to arrange your work so you could get to church?

3. "Oh, I listen to the radio-services."

A useful extra, but no substitute for meeting together in your own church.

Blame Weather

4. "The weather prevents me from coming."

Does weather stop you going to a movie?

5. "Company arrived just before church-time."

Your friends would respect you if you said: "We are just going to church; will you come with us?"

6. "The service times are awkward."

So, sometimes, are train-times. But you arrange your program to fit.

7. "Sunday's the only day the family are at home."

Worship by the whole family together in church would bind that family more than anything else.

8. "We can't attend because of the children and/or baby."

Does it require both husband and wife to look after the baby?

9. "I have no Sunday clothes."

My dears, God doesn't care about your clothes.

10. "I am as good as others who go."

Our services are for the good as well as the bad.

11. "I can't stand the minister."

I know I am a weak and sinful man; please, then pray for me and give me some encouragement by showing a little more interest in your church.

"IS THERE AN IRON MINE IN THE MAKING?" is the question on the lips of citizens of Marmora. Four Northern Ontario diamond drill crews, three of them since June, have been probing through the limestone strata on the Rogers farm, two miles south-east of the village. The Bethlehem Steel Corporation are undertaking the exploration on a group of optioned farms. Officials, drill runners and village fathers "in the know", will make no statements about results to date. Townspeople are optimistic and have even cleared the building site for a new theatre. In the LEFT photo, drill helper Chauncey Cox, left of Marmora examines a rock core from a diamond drill with 'Gene Payette, runner, of Cobalt. A typical drill rig in operation at No. 8 test hole is shown in the CENTRE photo manned by a father and son team from Timmins, Leo and Olida St. Louis. Lawrence Daley of North Bay, RIGHT photo, "breaks his rod" at hole No. 9.—Examiner Staff Photos.

If Horse Is On Way Out Why So Many At Fall Fairs?

By HARRY THEOBALD

LINDSAY, Sept. 23—The horse show at Lindsay Exhibition points up a paradox of present day agriculture. The horse is supposed to be on the way to extinction with the dinosaur and the dodo bird, reduced to a skeletal museum piece. And, lo and behold, he turns up as the show piece at every fair in the country from the township show to the C.N.E. and the Royal, and in between, Lindsay and Peterborough, likewise Norwood (running in a plug for G. A. Brethen, Oct. 9).

Farm statistics tell you that the tractor does all the work on today's farm, that the horse is no longer a bearer of burdens; and the automobile has left him no place on the highway.

Plowing match programs either ignore him, leaving him out of competition altogether, or reduce the horses classes to the odd spot from residual respect. Observation tends to confirm these evidences of extensive decline of the horse in rural economy.

These sketchy impressions raise the question of how the scores of horses, as at Lindsay, put in their time between annual appearances in front of crowded grandstands and in the big show rings of coliseums. No one sees a carriage horse on the road today. Town traffic frowns on the high stepping hackney as an anachronism, putting a brake on speed. Now and then you catch a glimpse of some of the draft breeds at light chores about the farm, but generally the verdict of the statistics draws corroboration, until it has to take the horse show into the reckoning.

Offers Better Prizes

Directors of fairs apparently have the correct dope. Lindsay, for instance, allots thirteen pages of its prize list to the horse classes, and also appropriates the biggest money, from $10 up to $85 and $40.

First prize for cattle in any class is $9. Turn to hackney ponies, likewise for example, and the top is $20 for the single pony and $25 first for pairs. First prize in the sheep classes is $5 and swine $6. Hence the paradox of present farming.

Farmers and their special gov-

Students Stage Keen Campaign

Both parties in the PCVS election campaign for the Students' Council executive, the Buttons and Bows, worked themselves into a feverish state during the past school week.

Candidates for president, Mary Craw for the Bows and Kay Grier for the Buttons, opened the annual battle of wits Monday at the senior assembly as they presented the planks of the party platforms. James Armitage and Ronald Strickland, jostling for the vice-presidency, spoke Wednesday to student body. Jennie Luther and Carol McKenzie, treasurer candidates addressed the students Friday for 5 minutes.

Mock radio programs, presented on the stage, have been the features of the week's drive for votes. One skit, a tragedy (the couple had been going steady for 23 years and she had dared to allow him to hold her hand once), advertised the Bow party and a new type of soap, Eureka, 'the soap which will even wash your dirty old mother-in-law away."

The Buttons took advantage Friday night of the opening football games to push their campaign. A car decked with posters and buttons drove along the race track at intermissions urging the students to back the Button party wholeheartedly.

Monday afternoon will see the campaign draw to a close as the secretary candidates will speak, Donald Ash and Donald Hillis. The presidents will be allowed two minutes to sum up their campaigns.

City To Return Standard Time Sunday Morning

Peterborough will officially return to Standard Time at 2.00 a.m. on Sunday September 24 thus bringing to an end the period of Daylight Saving which has existed since late in April.

But it is a safe bet that many clocks and watches will be put back the hour before the two o'clock bell tolls. Citizens usually put their clocks back before retiring. Thus one hour extra will be given those who like to lie in their beds on Sunday morning.

Church goers have noticed that when the time changes there are always some who forget and appear at an earlier mass than they intended to, or are at their church at ten instead of eleven o'clock. The same thing happens in the spring when the city goes on fast time. Then things are in reverse and they miss the mass and come into the church services when it it practically over.

Bus schedules will remain the same operating as they did on the same times as when the city was on Daylight Saving. But when you now telephone the railroad station you will know that the time given you for the train to leave will be the time you are operating on and you will not have to do any calculating. People were never sure whether you should add an hour or take an hour away.

Changes Announced

But some changes have been announced in the railways' schedule.

On the CNR, the daily, except Sunday, which now arrives at 7:35 p.m. will arrive starting Monday night at 8:40 from Toronto. It will leave for Belleville at 8:50. The Sunday only train to Lindsay and Toronto which has been leaving here at 5:40 p.m. will leave Peterborough on Sunday at 7:10 p.m.

The other departures will remain the same: 7:23 a.m. for Lindsay and Toronto; 12:18 noon for Port Hope; 5:30 p.m. for Lindsay and Toronto.

The CPR Ottawa train now in Peterborough at 4:35 a.m. will be on its way to Toronto at 4:55 a.m. The morning local to Toronto will leave 7:10.

In the evening the local from Toronto arriving will come in at 8:40 daily except Sunday. The early morning train from Toronto to Ottawa through Peterborough at present due in Peterborough at 1:05 a.m. will be here at 1:35 a.m.

The Sunday local from Havelock to Toronto at present leaving at 5:45 p.m. will be leaving earlier at 5:30. The Saturday afternoon train which was scheduled from 3:05 will be discontinued starting Sunday and the evening train added.

Bethlehem Steel Corporation Testing Marmora Iron Veins

The descriptive phrase "hard as iron", is not half as hard as trying to find out something about the current exploration for iron deposits near Marmora. In a community that owes its very beginning to iron mining, 90 to 100 years ago, its citizens know there is something going on, ironwise, a couple of miles south-east of the village. At least six villagers are working on the project, some of them since June. The man on the street can direct you to the spot in a jiffy. He hopes it is the beginning of another shower of manna for Marmora. But hopes must be founded on facts and the latter are very closely guarded.

As the result of an aerial survey made of the district more than a year ago, the Ontario Department of Mines issued a paper and maps dealing with the possible presence of iron and magnetic ores. The Bethlehem Steel Corporation, who are among many iron and steel companies constantly on the alert for new ore deposits, was sufficiently interested to investigate the Marmora field.

Options Secured

Its field men secured the option on several properties near the village and registered them at the County Registry Office, Belleville. Immediately following paper preliminaries, a diamond drill crew appeared, set up their three-legged timber rig and started to bore through the limestone strata.

A visit to the area this week revealed much activity on the Rogers farm. Three drills were in operation and a fourth was being set up. Canadian Longyear Company is the contractor.

A diamond drill is just what the name implies. Powered by a portable gasoline or diesel engin, a hollow steel barrel, or rod, is spun into the rock at any angle determined by the engineer or geologist in charge. At the end of the barrel a heavy copper collar embedded with splinters of bortz, or synthetic diamonds, cuts through the rock leaving the cutting, or core, inside the hollow rod.

When a ten-foot core barrel has been driven its exact length, the drill runner and his helper use the drill motor to pull up various lengths of drill rods which are detached by pipe wrenches until the core barrel end is hauled out. The smooth rock cutting is removed and laid precisely in corrugated wooden core boxes.

Reveal Mineral Secrets

To geologists and rockwise diamond drillers, the rock cores reveal secrets of the earth's crust, lengths of barren gray limestone, sections of greenstone glistening with arsenopyrite, pink granite, gneisses and schists. Metalurgical assaying will weigh the values of ore, if any, and plot a vertical section of the property as deep as the drills are driven. Veins and ore bodies may take shape and not until then will experts determine whether or not there might be a mine under their feet, where a shaft should be

MAIN ST. TOPICS

ROTARY SPEAKER

William L. Graff, Public Librarian, will tell members of the Rotary Club some of the little-known bits of interesting Peterborough history at a meeting of the club in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel Monday at noon.

PRESENTED WITH KEY

James Dutton who for many years has been a member of the Board of Administration of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and is at present its chairman was honored at the recent opening of the new administrative offices in Toronto when he was presented with a gold key for his long and faithful service to the Board.

CLOTHING FOUND

Police are looking for the owner of a bundle of women's clothes picked up in Confederation Square this week. The clothes, all in good shape, consist of slacks, skirts and a jacket. A purse with a three-inch horseshoe in it was also found this week. The unlucky owner can claim it by identifying the purse and its contents at the police station.

NOBODY INJURED

When two cars collided at Highways 7 and 30, shortly after 8 p.m. Friday, nobody was injured but damage amounted to $250. George Newton, 60, RR 2, Havelock, was driving south when he collided with Robert Neal, 23, Marmora, going west. [illegible] to Neal's car was $250 and to Newton's $50. The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable C. A. Naismith.

ANOTHER LILY

Not to be outdone by Mrs. James Robinson of James Street who reported four lily blooms Friday, Mrs. W. J. Collins, 191 Reid St. walked into the Examiner this morning with a handsome large bloom, a veritable Easter lily, much out of season.

So much out of season that Mrs. Collins said that one reason for cutting the living proof today was that she feared frost would get it tonight if her knife had not.

Baseball Figure Vernon Dawson Dies Suddenly

A native of Peterborough and one of the most enthusiastic promoters of senior baseball in this city, Robert Vernon Dawson, 619 Gilmour St., died Friday afternoon in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Dawson, who was in his 64th year, died suddenly after an illness of less than two weeks. He returned from a trip to Victoria about three weeks ago and was taken to hospital Sept. 12 for a rest and general medical checkup.

He took a turn for the worse late Friday morning and died at 1.30 p.m.

Early 1951 Mr. Dawson would have been associated with the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co. for 40 years. The news of his death came as "a great personal shock" to his friend and colleague, David Leether, plant manager.

To Brinton In 1911

Mr. Dawson joined the sales staff of the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co., serving directly under the late Ivor Brock. At the time of his death Mr. Dawson was sales manager for the whole territory. He was also a director of the company.

But it was as a promoter of senior baseball that he was best known in the city and district. Without his enthusiastic support, it is unlikely that the floodlights would have been installed this year for night ball games at Riverside Park.

Canadian Products Wanted In Lands of The Far East

Jim Wharry, vice-president and assistant general manager of Quaker Oats Co. Ltd., went around the world flying 26,088 miles in the air in about 40 days and came back with the realization that Canada with its changes in weather, its form of government and its way of life was about the best there was.

Mr. Wharry went half way around the world starting off from Vancouver and San Francisco to establish agencies and appoint agents for Quaker Oats in Manilla, Hong Kong, Blangkok and Singapore. By the time he had reached Singapore he was closer to home if he continued on around the world than if he had retraced his route. And so he flew over the middle east, Europe and spent three days in London, Eng., before coming home by way of Iceland, the north Atlantic, and Goose Bay, Labrador.

Job Well Done

In his travels he discovered that Canada is liked and Canadian products are wanted. The Canadian government trade service, he found, had done an excellent job in interesting the business men of the Phillipines, Thailand, Hong Kong and Singapore in Canadian products.

His trip which began August 8 and ended Sept. 18, showed him a world of strange contrasts. In the Philippines, a newly-formed republic was struggling against ineptitude, inefficiency and lack of experience in governing to run their country which until two or three years ago was a United States colony.

But in the British colony of Hong Kong a stable if undemocratic government gave local people and visitors alike a feeling of reliability and trust.

At Manila, the superstructures and funnels of about 20 half-submerged Japanese warships still clutter the harbor. This was the most obvious evidence that the Phillipines was recovering more slowly probably than other countries which had been overrun by Japanese armies.

Traces of the army which had swarmed over the Far East still remain. On Wake Island, refuelling spot in the middle of the

Workers Pass Hat To Pay Own Wages

MONCTON, NB —(CP)— Men working on the new public swimming pool here take more than a cursory, business-like interest in their jobs.

They passed the hat around recently to help pay their own wages and other expenses of Playtime Projects Ltd., a non-profit organization that is handling the $30,000 job.

J. H. Norton, general manager of the organization, said: "I think this splendid gesture illustrates the remarkable spirit prevailing among the citizens of this city."

Fear Many Differences Will Slow Down Conference In Quebec

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

QUEBEC, Sept. 23—(CP)—Representatives of Canada's 11 governments meet Monday for the reopening of the Federal-Provincial constitutional conference called to study the possibility of giving this country complete jurisdiction over her own constitution. The conference will continue the work started last January when the government representatives met in Ottawa and agreed that Canada should have the power to amend her constitution without recourse to the United Kingdom parliament.

While agreeing on that point, the governments are far from agreement on the most suitable formula for future constitutional amendments. The difference in some of the views of the governments is so great that no agreement may be possible at the meetings here.

An official of one of the governments said no one can predict what will happen at the conference, but a wide gap remains to be bridged. It was possible that the conference would find after three or four days of study that the gap cannot be closed at this time.

Want Rights Protected

The provinces, he said, are not ready to place the power to make constitutional changes in the hands of the central government unless provincial rights are fully protected. There is a difference of opinion on the type of guarantees that should be given. There also is a difference of opinion on the dividing line between federal and provincial rights in some fields.

When the conference first met Jan. 10 last, Prime Minister St. Laurent said it had three main purposes:

1. To complete the process of placing within Canada the power to amend the constitution.

2. To provide safeguards for the historic minority rights incorporated in the constitution.

3. To establish adequate guarantees of the federal character of the constitution by providing for the participation of both federal and provincial authorities in the appropriate amending procedure.

Mr. St. Laurent said Canada is the only member of the Commonwealth and the only sovereign state lacking power to amend the constitution by its own action.

Amendments not Passed

The United Kingdom parliament still has to pass on amendments to the Canadian constitution—the British North America Act—which affect matters within joint jurisdiction of the central and provincial governments. The provinces have had power since Confederation in 1867 to amend the constitution on matters within provincial jurisdiction.

Last year, the federal government obtained power from the United Kingdom to amend the constitution on matters solely within federal jurisdiction. At the same time, the federal government passed legislation abolishing judicial appeals to the Privy Council in London and making the Supreme Court of Canada the country's court of last resort.

The transfer to Canada of power to amend the constitution on matters within joint jurisdiction of the federal and provincial governments would, in the words of Mr. St. Laurent, "establish within Canada full and final responsibility for all our national affairs."

Transfer Desirable

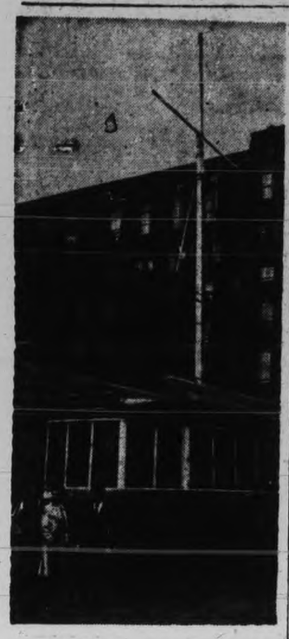
The provincial governments agreed the transfer was desirable, and the January conference agreed that all Canadian constitutional laws should be grouped broadly and be subject to amendment as follows:

1. Provisions which concern dominion parliament only — amendment by act of parliament.

2. Provisions which concern the provincial legislatures only—amendment by act of the legislatures.

3. Provisions which concern parliament and one or more but not all of the legislatures—amendment by act of parliament and act of each of the legislatures concerned.

4. Provisions which concern parliament and all the legislatures—amendment by act of parliament and by such majority of the legislatures and on such additional conditions as may be decided.



5. Provisions concerning fundamental rights, for instance, language rights, and amendment of amending procedures—amending by act of parliament and of all the legislatures.

6. Provisions which should be repealed.

The provinces agreed to draft briefs outlining their views on how the various sections of the constitution should be classified and how they should be amended.

The briefs were studied at a three-day meeting in Ottawa in August by a committee made up of the attorneys-general of the 11 Canadian governments. The committee, after meeting in private, reported it had reached a "substantial measure of agreement," but there were still some differences.

Premier Duplessis of Quebec then invited the governments to reconvene the main conference in Quebec and the invitation was accepted.

WA Make Donation To Church Treasurer

ROSENEATH, Sept. 23 (ENS)—A donation of $50 to the funds of Centenary Church from the WA was made at the September meeting held in the church on Thursday afternoon. The president, Miss Hilda Arthur, presided, with Mrs. Neil Sherwin as secretary. Mrs. Arnold Elder was organist. A balance on hand of approximately $67.00 was reported by the treasurer, Mrs. Reginald Timlin.

Many finished articles of sewing were on display in preparation for the annual fall bazaar, which will be held in Roseneath Township Hall on Saturday, September 23.

Toronto HospitalPlans Food Dollar Survey

OTTAWA, Sept. 23—(CP)—The Health Department said Friday that Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children is to undertake a detailed study of the way in which families with low incomes spend their food dollar.

The survey, to be financed by a federal health grant, also will determine whether those families are getting the most food value for their money.

Black Granite Found At Rouyn

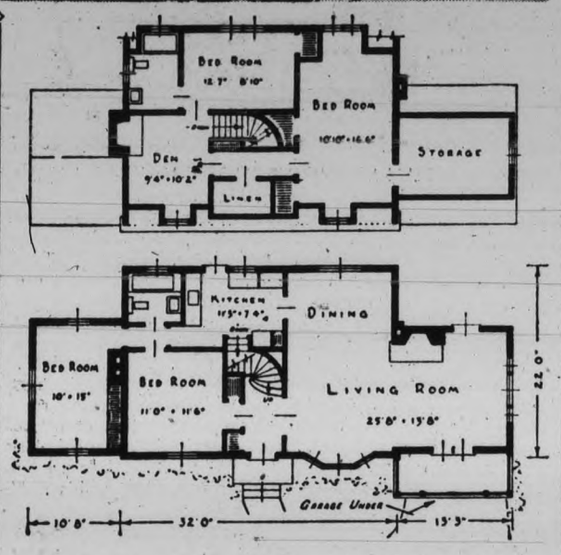
ROUYN, Que.—(CP)—In the heart of one of Canada's richest treasure troves of gold, copper, zinc, silver and other metals, a new source of wealth has been found—black granite.



Until comparatively recently prospectors searching for the more glamorous ores disregarded the grey rock which lies in a district about 10 miles from this thriving northwestern Quebec mining town. Now the black granite—said the only commercial deposit in North American—is being worked by a group of Rouyn business men and is being shipped to all parts of the country.

Its presence was discovered in 1946 when the Quebec Government was building a road through Beauchastel township. A stonecutter, J. A. Lacroix, saw the blasted pieces of rock and interested some fellow-residents in the possibilities of the granite for building and monuument purposes.

Ex Lariviere, secretary-treasurer of the company formed to quarry the granite, said geologists who have examined it claim it is a better grade of granite than that obtained from Sweden, previously considered the best. The Rouyn black granite is said to be harder and polishes to a glossy black as compared with the grey tones said to prevail in the Swedish product.

Barracks Now Church

DAFOE, Sask. (CP). — Foote Copeland Church, transformed from an air force barracks building by volunteer labor, was used for the first time when a church supper celebrated its opening. About $1,500 worth of labor was donated to renovate the building and to construct a basement.

HOUSE No. 385A — The owners of this lovely home have good reason to be proud of it. Not only is its exterior unusually appealing, but its interior is something to positively brag about! First of all, the eye is caught by the beautiful living room and dining room — skilfully blended by the architect. Both areas possess huge windows with fine vistas. There are four bedrooms — two on each floor. Notice that the den has a big fireplace. Oddity of the second floor plan is placement of the bathroom. For further information, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Truck, Car Collide Minor Damage Done

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 23 — (ENS). — Minor damage resulted Thursday night when a Wigley's transport truck driven by Maxwell Fowler, 612 Armour Road, Peterborough, met in collision with a car driven by Lloyd Kargus of Letterkenny, north of Bancroft.

The two vehicles were proceeding north on Front Street. The truck had just pulled out from the curb, and the car, passing the truck, struck the front left bumper. The truck suffered very little damage, but the right side of the car was damaged to the extent of about $40.

Chief George H. Hardy, who investigated, said no charges would be laid.

Pull Posts Out Parking Meters Through In Town

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 23—(ENS)— Town workmen have begun removing parking meter posts from the sidewalks of the town, and the noise of the air hammers reverberated the length and breadth of the town Thursday.

There were about 120 standards to be removed, and this job is now just about completed. All that remains to be done is to fill the holes in the sidewalks, and the episode of the parking meters, which raised much controversy and argument during the past year, will be a closed chapter in the history of Campbellford.

The meters have not been operating since August 4, when the one year trial period was up. The heads of the meters were removed from the posts shortly afterwards.

The question of the meters, both pro and con, was probably one of the most talked about items in the town for some years. When they first appeared on the streets, everyone voiced their own opinion as to how they would help or hinder the town.

Some vowed they would not put any money into the contraptions, but one law abiding citizen drove up to the curb one day as the posts were being installed, parked his car, walked over to one of the hollow posts to which the heads had not yet been attached, and dropped a nickle down the hole.

As the meters were not legally in operation, and the town could not collect money for parking, the workmen had to remove the post from the fresh cement, and retrieve the gent's coin. He even protested when the workmen offered it back to him.

They made convenient hitching-posts for farmers who wished to tie a horse to the meter, and this was sometimes done. However, if the driver overstayed his meter time, the local police had trouble sticking a parking ticket under the windshield wiper in this case.

The police also never did quite figure out what to do in the case of two smaller English type cars occupying one parking space and paying only one coin for two cars. Although they did not take up any more space than one of the larger automobiles, they were still two vehicles. Two drivers teamed up in a venture of this kind on Front Street last spring, but nothing happened.

GETS NEW POST—Air Commodore H. M. Carscallen, chief staff officer at the Northwest Air Command in Edmonton since 1949, has been transferred to RCAF headquarters at Ottawa to become deputy air member for operations and training. Air Commodore Carscallean, shown in this RCAF photo, is a native of Hamilton, Ont., and a graduate of Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and Queen's University.

Not Quite Cricket

CALGARY (CP).—The worries of W. R. Castell, head of the Calgary Public Library, are not confined to business hours. He received so many off-duty telephone calls at home from radio quiz program fans that he wrote a letter of complaint to the office of the city clerk. He said his staff also had been "snowed under" by enquiries from quiz fans

European Doctor Treks World To Flee "Isms"

SYDNEY, N.S. — (CP) — A Lithuanian doctor who at various times has been pursued by Germans, Russians and Arabs would like to practice in a country with no "isms."

Dr. Jacob Lipshitz fled with his family from native Lithuania to Russia at the age of nine, when the Germans took over. The Russian revolution meant a trek to Germany. Between the two world wars he studied medicine in Berlin and later practised neurology and psychiatry in the German capital.

He was on the move again a year after Hitler assumed power in Germany, ending up in Palestine. His family, disagreeing with his beliefs, stayed behind. Only one is now alive.

For 13 years the roaming doctor practised in Jerusalem, playing a leading role in the formation of the Haganah organization. During the second world war he served four years with the British army. In 1947, he settled again in Jerusalem.

Then came the conflict in Palestine, and he found himself besieged by Arabs. The small Haganah group after more than two months escaped at night from the Arab besiegers. For 15 more months he fought with Jewish troops and when it was all over his practice was still in Arab territory.

Now he's a ship's doctor, looking for a land with no "isms."

Children's Dep't Of Libraries Begin Classes

The staff of the Boys' and Girls' Department of the Public Library, have made plans for a full year's activities which will start Monday.

Children's classes for grades III to IX of all the public and separate schools of the city will start Monday at 9 a.m. A total of 49 classes will attend the George St. Library and 16 classes will visit the Branch Library.

Each class will make four visits to the library during the year. In first round of classes book talks will be conducted by Mrs. M. E. Phippen, assistant to Miss Wesley. The children will give the book talks in the second round from books selected as suitable for each grade. Other features of these classes will be discussions on art and the playing of records. The object of the librarian and her assistants is to acquaint each child with every aspect of the library.

Cup to be Awarded

At the end of each round a cup will be awarded to the most outstanding class in participation in library reading. Last year, Grade V of Queen Alexandra School taught by Miss B. Hart won the cup as the most outstanding class for the year.

The Saturday morning art and craft classes under the supervision of Mrs. Phippen will start September 30 at 9 a.m. These will be followed by story hours.

Through the year films of an educational nature will be shown to the children.

Special activities groups will be held the last Friday of each month. These will take the form of plays, contests, a puppet show, a masquerade of book characters and other events.

Three Children Fire Victims

MONTBRUN, Que., Sept. 23 — (CP)—Two children were burned to death Friday and another later died in hospital when fire swept through the dwelling of their parents' home 25 miles north of Rouyn in northwestern Quebec.

Burned in their home were Guy, 4, and Solanges, nine months. Francois, 3, died later in hospital in nearby Noranda. The victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drapeau.

When the fire broke out, the father was away at work while the mother was visiting a neighbor. Seeing flames shooting out of the house, the mother and neighbors rescued Francois but the child died in hospital several hours later.

Forced To Cut Surplus Plant Power

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP) — Because of increasing consumer demands, the Ontario Hydro Commission is being forced to cut the supply of "surplus" power to some industries, Chairman Robert H. Saunders said Friday.

He was commenting on reports that two Niagara district firms have laid off men because of power restrictions. North American Cynanamid Company at Niagara Falls, world's largest mnufacturers of fertilizers, laid off 100 and said it will lay off another 100 next week. The Norton Company at Chippewa laid off 40.

Mr. Saunders said increased industrial production brought on by world conditions has pushed Hydro's peak load more than 7,000,000 kilowatt hours higher than the peak load for the beginning of August. It is expected to be heavy throughout the rest of the winter.

Forced To Act

"We have been forced," he said in an interview, "to cut down on the supply of surplus power sold under contract to some industries which are heavy users. Our contracts call for supplying power under three categories—firm, interruptable and at-will power. These latter two are sold at cheaper rates.

"Contract terms call for cutting the at-will amounts whenever necessary at any time of the year. The 'interruptable' power can be reduced at peak hours.

"We have appealed to the public to conserve power. We are trying to keep away from restrictions and cut-offs. But the industrial demand has been gradually increasing for the last month and a half."

Heads Constables

SASKATOON, Sept. 23—(CP)—Chief Constable John Chisholm of Toronto was elected president of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada Friday. Irvin L. Robertson of Sault Ste. Marie, was chosen Ontario director. The closing session of the convention decided to hold the 1951 convention at Halifax, which won the choice over Chatham.

Absolute Necessity In Home Is Adequate Closet Space

Closets and storage nooks are simply "places to put things," as most people often remark. Storage space not only is an absolute necessity in the home but it also must be well planned and adequate in size.

Family possessions and family housekeeping habits vary, and it is therefore difficult to establish fixed standards for closets. However, in the construction of a new home there should be a minimum of one closet for each bedroom, a coat closet, a linen closet, and a closet for cleaning and other equipment.

Basement or Attic

In houses of traditional design, additional storage space is generally provided either in a basement or an attic. In many modern houses, even those which are not of so-called modern design, both attic and basement have been eliminated. This is justifiable if adequate space for storage is provided in other parts of the house.

As a rule, the shallow closet is considered to be the most economical and can be most conveniently arranged, provided the opening is nearly as long as the closet itself. When the closet is long, two doors usually prove more convenient than one wide door.

An ordinary bedroom closet need not be more than about 24 inches deep, since coat hangers are only 18 inches across. About six inches should be allowed below garments for cleaning purposes after the hanging rods have been installed. A shelf placed above the rod adds to closet convenience.

In the average small home, a closet furnished with quilted satin and chromium is not necessary because simple, well-planned carpentry may produce equally gratifying results. A closet to hold women's clothing should have hanging space ample to accommodate long evening and dinner gowns. A man's suits are short when hung and so shoe space may be provided under his clothing. Children and young people sometimes need storage space for their toys and other cherished possessions.

Hooks in a closet should not be placed within five inches of the door, should not be placed on doors less than 30 inches wide, and when used by small children should be placed within their easy reach.

Inventory First Step

Proper closet planning requires first, an inventory of the family's possessions which will need storage space. The average family must usually store, in addition to clothing and linens, such things as trunks, luggage, toys, possibly a variety of sports equipment, odd pieces of furniture and seasonal decorations, extra china, seasonal clothing, utensils and tools, and many other small and large items.

It closet space is not intelligently planned, there will one day be a sad realization that alteration must be made. Such afterthought may prove expensive.

Big German Contract

JOHANNESBURG — (CP) — South African railways have awarded a £1,696,000 ($5,257,600) contract for 100 light steam locomotives to the German firm of Fried Krupp. The tender was £250,000 lower than the nearest tender from Britain, and £470,000 below the lowest South African one.

Writer Decides He Can Do Screen Play Too

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23 (AP)—Having seen movies about agents of the FBI, Secret Service, Post Office Department and Public Health Service, I am preparing a screen play of my own.

I am calling it "Wild Goose Chase," a box-office title if I ever heard one. Adhering to the formula for government agent films, I came up with this plot:

The camera roams over scenes of public buildings in Washington, DC, as march music is heard in the background. We come to a view of an impressive edifice and the narrator, who has a voice like Walter Pidgeon's, but isn't, begins talking.

"This is the home of the Fish and Wildlife Service," he says. We take an informative tour of the service will end up in the office of the chief. He scowls over a report just off the teletype. "Send for Hudson," he tells an assistant. "He can handle this."

Plot Thickens

Hudson can be James Cagney, Richard Widmark or Dennis O'Keefe, according to the picture's budget. He listens as the chief tells the grim assignment: "Some radioactive geese have been found in Montana; get to the bottom of this."

Hudson puts on his hat (all government agents wear hats) and goes home to pack. His wife, played by Anne Baxter, helps him. As he leaves, she murmurs, "darling, do be careful." He smiles and waves goodbye.

He steps off an airplane in Montana and goes right to work. He examines the geese. They are an Arctic type, not usually found that far south. Laboratory tests show traces of uranium. Hudson takes specimens of earth from the geese's feet.

Now comes the arduous chore of tracing the earth specimens. Hudson hops into a jeep and bounces all over Montana, examining dirt under a microscope. His wife is distraught over not hearing from him and flies out to join him (I had to get some romance into it).

And The Climax

Finally the trail gets hot. Hudson finds a hidden canyon where the earth specimen matches. Posing as a sheep herder, he stumbles into a mining camp and uncovers the whole plot. Three alien agents are mining uranium and sending it out via goose to their base in the Arctic. Two of the men try to shoot Hudson, but he plugs them first. The other escapes down the mine shaft.

Now the chase. All these pictures must have a chase. This one follows through 10 minutes of ducking behind beams, shooting down elevators and sloshing through water. His bullets expended, the alien gives up at the bottom of the pit, like the rat he is.

There it is, Hollywood. What am I bid?

MRS. HILDEGARD HAMILTON, prominent Fort Lauderdale, Florida, artist, poses with one of her pictures after giving police a possible clue to the murder of wealthy Sir Harry Oakes seven years ago in Nassau. She repeated a story told to her two years ago by Edward Majava, 31-year-old Oakland, Calif., mechanic. Majava told Oakland police he knew the identity of the murderer.

Elevator Plan Up To Growers Says Kennedy

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP). — Agriculture Minister Kennedy said Friday night the Ontario Bean Growers' Association's plan to build a $40,000 elevator was entirely the association's affair.

Mr. Kennedy was commenting on a statement by D. M. Campbell, chairman of the association, that a reversal of policy by the Department had left the association with a white elephant on its hands.

"The whole thing has nothing to do with the government," the minister said. "It's their money and it's not our job to tell them what to do with it."

Mr. Kennedy explained that a $90,000 trust fund had been placed at the growers' disposal to use as they saw fit. The Department had turned down their request to use $40,000 for an elevator because the matter was not for the government to decide.

Present Goodwill Gift

A gathering Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Johnston and Miss Elsie Johnston, Nassau, will be for them a long-remembered occasion. The surprise visit was made by a large goup of neighbors because of Mr. Johnston's retirement from the CGE power house at Nassau where he has worked for the past 42 years and the family's subsequent departure from the neighborhood. A good will gift of a set of dishes was presented by Mr. Stewart Lockington. The evening, spent in gay fellowship, ended with the serving of refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Lockington, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McNaughton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Campbell and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lockington, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Martin and Jim, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lockington, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Gene O'Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lockington, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lockington, Mrs. Gertrude McCall, Mrs. Una Campbell, Misses Helen Brown, Irene McNaughton, Jean McNaughton, Mary Garbutt, Ella Best, Messrs. Hewitt Lockington, Walter Garbutt, Harry Lockington, Timothy Crough and Charlie Brown.

Engleburn Avenue Couple Observing Golden Wedding

Celebrtaing the fifieth anniversary of their wedding, which was solemnized September 22, 1900, in Kingsclere village, England, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, of 263 Engleburn Ave.

Joining in the festivities are the ten living members of their family of 11, 20 grandchildren ranging in age from 21 years to six weeks, and other close relatives. Many friends will call on the couple during the hours of their reception this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams have been in Canada since 1912 when they located at Springville. Early in the First World War Mr. Williams joined the army, later went to England and then was invalided home. He has not been able to work since. Before leaving England he was an attendant on a sheep farm of 500 acres.

His wife gave up her position as a schoolmistress when they were married. In her work she was often in contact with the minister who performed the ceremony for them, the Rev. A. T. Finch, who, now 96 years old, writes to her each Christmas.

Here from Kingston today are three sons, Reginald, Hector and Jack, with their wives and children. Ronald lives at home and the fifth son Kenneth was lost in the sinking of the Athabaskan in 1944.

Six daughters, all living in Peterborough are Mrs. Roy Pitchford (Doris), Mrs. Harold Lewis (Iris), Mrs. Wilfred Gedge (May), Mrs. Bernadine Keating, Mrs. H. Merrett (Gwen), Mrs. Harry Wells (Edna).

The eldest grandson, Hugh Williams, has just entered the RCAF and is in Toronto at present.

Vardy-Platt Rites

In St. Paul's United Church at Warkworth on Thursday afternoon Doris Ella Platt, Reg. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Platt, Norham, became the bride of Mr. Jack Douglas Vardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Vardy of Bancroft.

The Rev. H. G. Lester performed the ceremony in a setting of colorful gladioli and dahlias. Mrs. Lulu Knight played the wedding music and Mrs. Norma McCleary sang. The selection she gave before the marriage was "Because" during the ceremony the "Lord's Prayer" and at signing of the register "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin designed with rounded neckline and nylon yoke and a full skirt featuring panels of shirred satin. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught with a floral headdress and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and ivy. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Donald Keller, sister of the groom, who wore green taffeta and carried a bouquet of corona gladioli with pinnochio roses and ivy and wore a matching head arrangement of roses and ivy.

Mr. Leslie Platt attended the groom and ushers were Donald Keller and Gordon Platt.

The reception was at "Woodlawn," Campbellford, where the bride's mother received in a gown of wine crepe with black accessories and corsage of Johanna Hill roses. The groom's mother wore grey flowered crepe for the occasion and had black accessories and corsage of Bettertime roses.

Leaving on a wedding trip to Ottawa and points east the bride was wearing a cinnamon brown suit with dark brown accessories and brown plaid topcoat. Her corsage was bronze 'mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Vardy will live in Belleville.

with matching accessories and corsage of crimson roses.

Wedding music was played by Mr. John Armstrong, organist, and Mrs. C. Viscoff sang "Ave Maria" during signing of the register.

After a reception at the Kawartha Country Club the couple left to honeymoon in Toronto and Detroit. They will live in Peterborough.

Home and School

QUEEN ELIZABETH SCHOOL

Queen Elizabeth Home and School Association monthly meeting was held Tuesday night, Mr. J. E. R. Munro, principal of Queen Alexandra School was guest speaker and his toipc was "Education". He congratulated Jane Jarvis and Roy Bedford on their graduation and Mrs. Harry Race presented them with graduation cards. The valedictory was read by Jane Jarvis.

Mrs. Race led the members and pupils present in a sing-song, with Mrs. Tucker at the piano.

Two films, "Emotional Development of Children" and a children's story were shown by Mr. J. Loveday.

It was decided that meetings in the future would be held on the third Tuesday of the month.

Miss Brown's class won the attendance prize.

A social half-hour followed and lunch was served. A cake made especially for the occasion was served to everyone, with ice-cream for the graduates and teachers.

Church History Of City Is Outlined

Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Friendly Group held in the Guild Room of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was Mrs. W. C. Steinkrauss, who took as her subject "Peterborough's Church History."

Mrs. Steinkrauss' subject was particularly interesting in view of Peterborough celebrating its cenetennial year.

Mrs. E. J. Hill conducted the meeting and devotional period was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Cochrane.

Mrs. A. E. Caldwell played a lovely piano solo.

Vote of thanks to the guest speaker, soloist and those who had contributed to the program was voiced by Mrs. G. Tully.

At the conclusion of the meeting a social half hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the social convener, Mrs. P. Findlay and her committee.

St. Andrew's WMS Decorations Flowers and Vines

A quantity of the fall flowers that have escaped frost found themselves the centre of much admiration Friday afternoon when they lent their beauty to the decorating of St. Andrew's Church parlors for the tea held by the Women's Missionary Society. With crimsoning grape vines and clusters of bright orange mountain ash berries bouquets there was a seasonal and colorful background on all sides as more than 100 guests enjoyed a visit over the tea cups. were the outstanding detail of the tea table, and formed a border for the silver vase that held baby 'mums.

Salmon pink dahlia flowers were the outstanding detail of the tea table, and formed a bordr for the silver vase that held baby 'mums.

The tea was poured by Miss Fanny Dixon and Mrs. E. F. Reid and servers were Miss Hall, Mrs. F. Dawson, Mrs. W. J. Stacey, Mrs. F. Milligan and Mrs. J. Jessen, with Mrs T. H. Skinner, the general convener of the tea, supervising the replenishing, and Mrs. J. Ascott in charge of the kitchen.

In the tea room Mrs. J. S. Boyd and Mrs. F. W. Moeser were selling home-made candy and Mrs. H. Tremaine had plants, handwork and novelties for sale.

A concession for home baking was in charge of Miss E. Preston who was assisted by Mrs. Jessen and Mrs. H. Davis.

The Evening Auxiliary WMS had another where they sold home made candy, baking, preserves and pickles, and hand-made goods. Miss Marion Manning was in charge with Mrs. Clayton Andrew, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. G. Crompton and Mrs. R. M. Hardie assisting.

President Mrs. F. W. K. Harris and Mrs. M. J. Aiken were welcoming the guests and Mrs. D. Hillier was taking admissions.

THE PERFECT DRESS for fall and winter — the long look, with skin tight sleeves and slim skirt of pin striped wool knit, the dress goes with or under anything. It's shown above with an apron of gold colored tweed.

Hasting Assoc. Holds 1st Meeting

HASTINGS, Sept. 23 (ENS) — The Hastings Home and School Association held their first regular meeting on Monday with president Mrs. J. G. Thompson presiding.

Mrs. Crate thanked the members for the card and beautiful flowers sent to her while confined to the hospital.

During the next month the graduating class are to be presented with their school pins at the October meeting. Roll Call showed grade 5 the winner once again.

Mrs. S. Whitred introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Mr. Duncanson of Norwood, who showed the film "Who will teach your child" and then conducted a lively open discussion.

Principal Thurston moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Duncanson The committee in charge served lunch.

Require $25,000 Ask for Diapers For Greek Babies

TORONTO —(CP)— Canadian women are being asked to help overcome the diaper shortage in Greece.

The request is being made by Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, vivacious head of the Unitarian Service Committee Fund for child war victims in Greece.

"We are asking every woman in Canada to send just one diaper in an envelope to the fund headquarters at 48 Sparks St., Ottawa," says Dr. Hitschmanova, a doctor in philosophy and former newspaperwoman in Czechoslovakia and France.

The energetic, dark-haired woman who came to Canada in 1942 to escape the Nazi Gestapo, will shortly begin a Canada-wide tour to raise money for the fund.

"We need $25,000 immediately," she says. "I do not know where I am going to get it, but there are so many kind Canadians, I know I will.

"One dollar will buy three diapers and three dollars a woollen blanket."

No Soap Available

She also is asking for colored flannelette. The colored cloth is preferred to white because in Greece there is no soap and white material is only white till it is washed.

In a recent interview here she told of children in Greece who received their first shoes from Canadian boxes and of children in homes maintained by Canadian foster parents, under which individuals in Canada pay $45 for three months' care of a child.

Foster parents receive case histories and photographs of their adopted children and may correspond with them.

One of her prize possessions is a photograph of a French bride and groom, both with artificial limbs provided by her organization.

It takes $150 in Canada currency to buy an artificial limb for a Greek child, and Dr. Hitschmanova says hundreds of children in that country are in need of them.

Samaritans Plan Convention Colorful Parades

Gaiety and color, somewhat out of the ordinary to conservative-minded Peterborough, will be spreading into the streets next weekend when the Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans, Cyzicus Sanctorum No. 24, and the Cairo Zuannas No. 110, Ladies of the Orient, are host and hostess to the northern division and district for a three-day convention.

Though it is the 34th semi-annual meeting, it is the first in which Peterborough ladies have had a part as the local chapter was only formed this year.

For the street parade, commencing at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon, and the patrol drills at the Armouries from three to five, the conventioners will be weaing brightly colored pantaloons and blouses of oriental design topped with a bright fez which is distinctive of membership. There will be prizes of $150 each for the best uniformed patrol drill of each Order.

Contrast of color will be noted when these playground members from the ranks of Oddfellow and Rebekahs march with the CGE Pipe Band, in their tartans, and the Citizens' Band, supplied by courtesy of the centennial committee, in their grey and maroon uniforms.

The convention is to get under way on Friday, with registration at the Empress Hotel and in the evening there will be an informal dance in the Kawartha Room. Divisional sessions Saturday morning will be at the IOOF temple and that evening the city is giving a reception at the Empress, to be followed with a banquet, floor show and vaudeville. For Sunday a trip over the Lift Lock is scheduled.

Ladies' chapters which have already signified intention of sending delegates are Niagara Falls, N.Y., St. Thomas, Detroit, Toledo, Ohio, Hamilton, Windsor, Sarnia, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Ontario, Fort Erie, Leamington, Comber, Chatham and Ferndale, Mich.

Burns-Gleeson

The wedding took place Monday morning in the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church of Mary Sheila, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Gleeson of Lindsay, and William John Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burns, Peterborough. The nuptial mass and ceremony were solemnized by the Rev. G. Sullivan.

Given in marriage by her brother Mr. Jack Gleeson of Rochester the bride wore a navy suit with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses and she carried a white prayer book. Miss Evelyn St. Thomas, her bridesmaid, wore a grey suit

GI's Office Experience Best Matrimony Training School

A young man wants to know if working girls make good wives. To which inquiry one must return the noncommittal answer of: "Yes—and no."

Undoubtedly in many ways the best training a girl can get for matrimony is in business. It broadens her mind and cleans her vision. It brings her down out of the clouds and plants her feet on a hard world. It cures her of sentimentalism and the propensity to make everything a personal issue, which are the curses of her sex.

It teaches her to control her temper and her emotions, for no girl could keep a job if she went into hysterics every time she was criticized. It teaches her promptness and accuracy, for her bread and butter depends on her punching the timeclock at the precise minute and turning out good work. It teaches her the value of money and how much labor and pain and weariness go into the making of every dollar.

Dorothy Dix

Teaches Understanding

Above all, it teaches her understanding and sympathy with men. She knows, as the homekeeping girl cannot possibly know, how terrific is the strain of life upon men, how killing is the pressure under which they work.

She knows from experience that the worker cannot always control his or her own time. She knows what it is to have nerves so frazzled that everything that anybody did irritated her into a sharp speech. She knows what it is to be tired when she came home at night that all in the world she wanted was just to crawl to a couch and flop down on it and rest.

So the working girl is pretty sure not to waste her husband's money and to get value for every cent she spends. She is also pretty sure to be interested in his work and to be willing to make sacrifices to help him along. She doesn't have conniption fits when he is late for dinner or telephones fices to help him along. She at the last minute, that he has to meet a buyer from Oshkosh. She does not feel herself aggrieved because he does not feel bright and chatty of an evening, nor does she drag him out when he is half dead with weariness to night clubs.

So far the business school is better than the domestic school for brides, but if it fits them in some ways for marriage, in other ways it unfits them. For the effect of a business training seems to be to kill the domestic instinct in women.

At any rate, you seldom see an ex-business girl who isn't bored to tears by cooking and washing and scrubbing, and who doesn't pine for her mahogany desk or her old place behind the ribbon counter. Of course work in a kitchen is no harder than work in an office and sweeping floors is no more monotonous than pounding a typewriter, but the one is done in silence and alone while the other is done to the tune of bustle and excitement, people coming and going, and gay comradeship.

Girls just naturally get more kick out of beautifying themselves of a morning and going downtown to work than they do out of putting on an apron and getting busy with the vacuum cleaner. Besides, the girl in business feels that she is an important cog in a big machine, whereas she despises labor that she can do with one hand and half a lobe of her brain. A young woman who gave up a high executive position in a big firm to marry one said to me: "To put me to run a six-room apartment is like putting a thousand-horsepower engine to do a one-horsepower job."

The Domestic Type

Of course there are girls who have the domestic complex, who never thrill to anything but pots and pans and whose favorite reading is the cookbook. These are always outlanders in the business world. They never take root in an office and they are never happy until they hang up their own parlor curtains. But the average woman, and especially the successful business woman, no matter how much she loves her husband, always casts a wistful backward glance at her old job.

Then there is the financial side of the matter. For any woman to once hold her pay envelope in her hand is for her to have tasted blood, and never again can she be contented to be a parasite and have nickles and quarters and dimes doled out to her by even a generous hand. She has realized that she can stand upon her own feet, that she can support herself, that she need not be dependent upon anyone. That is the greatest and most glorious feeling that any human being ever experienced, and the joy of it is raised to the 'nth power to a woman, because it is something she didn't dare even hope for.

And so when a girl marries and gives up her financial independence and goes back to panhandling a husband for her clothes and movie money, she doesn't take kindly to it, and she doesn't do it in a way that is soothing to masculine vanity. If a man wants a wife who will kiss the hand that hands her a dollar bill and who will tell him how wonderful and generous he is, he should never pick out a working girl.

So it would seem that there are both advantages and disadvantages to marrying a working girl. Which, of corse, also goes for marrying any kind of girl.

FORCED RETIREMENT

After he was deposed, Napoleon III of France retired to Chislehurst, Kent, England, where he lived until his death in 1873.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Shrimp, Egg and Sherry Make Exciting Combination

POACHED EGGS can find many friends in the Egg Book varying from seafood to vegetables.

For any number of culinary surprises you must see "300 Ways to Serve Eggs," the tenth cookbook released by The Examiner in the series of twenty-four cookbooks being made available to the readers. Each cookbook in the series treats one phase of cooking, such as Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups, Salads, Meat and Fish. All kinds of easy to follow, unusual to serve delicious to eat recipes can be found in this priceless series. For instance, here is a recipe from the Egg Book which is a real find for the harried hostess looking for an idea for a luncheon, supper or buffet main dish:

Poached Eggs in Sherried Shrimp

½ clove garlic or slice onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup tomato pulp
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ cup cream
¼ cup sherry
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 cup cooked shrimp, cleaned
Salt and pepper
Buttered crumbs (about 1 cup)
4 poached eggs
Brown garlic in butter. Remove garlic, add flour, tomato and parsley. Cook about 2 minutes, stiring constantly. Add cream, sherry, Worcestershire sauce and shrimp. Cook about 5 minutes longer. Season. Pour into greased individual casseroles lined with buttered crumbs and bake for 10 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Place a hot poached egg in centre of each casserole and garnish with pepper and paprika. Serves 3 or 4.

To obtain this Egg Book all you need do it clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper, and present it with 25 cents at the Examiner office, or from your Examiner carrer or at Braund's Home Food Market. You can also order your copy by mail by sending the coupon with 30 cents (5 cents additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, The Examiner, Peterborough.

What's Right

Someone compliments you on a new possession.

WRONG: Make a point of telling how much it cost, if you think that will make it more impressive.

RIGHT: Don't mention the price, since it is poor taste to tell how much you paid for the things you own.

SATURDAY'S

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Some time ago I ate "peach dumpling" dessert, and have been wondering ever since how to make these dumplings.

They were not in the form of apple dumplings, but more like a dumpling you drop in a stew. If you know of such a recipe and had space for it in your column I would appreciate it very much.

A Reader

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: My name for the dessert you describe is peach or apple or apricot slump. Since my dumplings have not shown signs of going into a slump yet when made this way the name apparently does not jinx them—and my youngsters love telling folks they are having "slumps" for dessert.

Peach Slump (could use apricots, blueberries, plums or crushed pineapple)

One quart sliced peaches, 2 1-2 cups water, 1 1-2 cups flour, 1 1-2 teaspoons baking powder; 1½ cups sugar; aeaspoon of salt, milk. gratings of lemon rind are optional. Make a fruit sauce by boiling the sliced peaches, water and sugar together in a board saucepan. (If lemon rind is used it is added to this fruit.) Mix together in a sifter the flour, baking powder and salt, and sift. Then stir in just enough milk to make a soft dough that will drop from a spoon. When fruit is soft (about 12 minutes) drop this batter onto it by tablespoonfuls. Cover closely at once. Cook 13 minutes on top of stove. Serve and pass pouring cream or cold soft egg custard.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Would you please send me your calorie chart, and is homogenized milk fattening?

I have a little girl 8 1-2 and she is real chubby.

Do you have ideas on how low calorie lunches should be made for school, and how much do children need to be healthy. Thank you very much. I enjoy your column very much.

Mrs. C. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I have sent you the calorie chart.

Homogenized milk is whole milk and could be considered fattening but since it is essential to the health of a growing child it is not one of the things you can eliminate.

I certainly do have ideas on low calorie lunches—I eat them every day.

Give your child a 2-slice sandwich of whole wheat bread (each slice not more than 1-2-inch thick) with ¼-inch thick slice of lean meat or 1 hard-cooked egg chopped with not more than 1 teaspoon butter in the sandwich. Put thick leaf lettuce in too.

Give her a tomato, a banana, a pear or apple and see to it that she takes with her or buys at school 1-2 pint of whole milk.

She will be famished at 4 o'clock. Give her a glass of milk and an orange, or a glass of tomato juice and a rye crisp cracker the instant she enters the house, then give her something else to do to keep her mind off food.

Do not give her cake or pie or cookies—give her plenty of every kind of fruit instead. Reduce her amount of sugar on her cereal and let her use whole milk on it instead of cream. Write again and let me know how you progress.

I am taking it for granted that if your daughter is very much overweight anything I suggest will be done under supervision of your doctor.

Watch this column every Saturday for my answers to letters.

Of Interest to Women

9 Press Women Will Tour Britain

TORONTO, Sept. 23 —(CP)— James S. Duncan of Toronto, chairman of the Dollar-Sterling Trade Board, told nine Canadian radio and newspaperwomen today that their forthcoming trip to Britain "will be an invaluable contribution to the furtherance of trade between the two countries."

He spoke at a reception given the group on their departure for a three-week tour of the United Kingdom under the joint auspices of the Dollar-Sterling Board and the Dollar Exports Board of the UK.

Heading the group is Byrne Hope Sanders, a member of the Dollar-Sterling Board and editor of Chatelaine magazine.

Others are: Mrs. Reta Myers, Vancouver, president of the Canadian Women's Press Club; Margaret Aitken, the Evening Telegram, Toronto; Kay Rex of the Ottawa Bureau of The Canadian Press; Joan Marshall of the CBC, Moncton, NB; Armande Marc, La Patrie, Montreal; Mrs. Maude Kerr, The Family Herald, Montreal; Pat Wallace, The Vancouver Daily Province; and Mrs. Pearl L'Ami, The Winnipeg Free Press.

Mr. Duncan said the group represents two powerful forces in directing trade—Canada's women consumers and the principal media of publicity. They could therefore impart Canadian tastes to British manufacturers, and inform Canadian women of Britain's trade efforts.

Committee Says Movie-going Safe For Normal Child

LONDON — (CP) — Movie-going by children less than 16 years of age as a social habit of intellectual, moral, health and educational significance is examined in the recent report of a government committee.

The committee was formed two years ago to consider the effects of cinema-going on children and whether any modification was advisable in the system of film classification and the organization of juvenile film clubs.

The report says that the habit is strongly ingrained in the modern child, and that there is no danger where normal children are concerned.

Physcial harm to eyesight and hearing is considered negligible, but some nervous effects were detected. For this reason, two recommendations were made. First, that a minimum age of seven for unaccompanied children should be rigidly observed. Secondly, that no children under 12 years of age should be allowed in cinemas after 8 p.m.

It was also suggested that a permanent central committee on children and the cinema, composed of child welfare and child psychology experts, be appointed to protect the interests of young film addicts and to give advice to public authorities.

6—In Memoriams

BRADY—In proud memory of Flight Sergt. Charles John Brady, killed in action over Germany, Sept. 23, 1944.
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keep his memory ever dear,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Lovingly remembered by his mother, brother and sisters.

CAVALIER—In loving memory of our darling, Jane Cavalier, who was killed four years ago today, September 23, 1946.
A beautiful memory dearer than gold,
Of a darling whose worth can never be told,
Alone unseen she stands by our sides
And whispers, don't grieve, death cannot divide.
Deep in our hearts her memory is kept
Of one we loved and cannot forget.
And though the years may be many or few,
We will always be thinking dear Janie of you.
—Lovingly remembered by Gramma and Grandpa and Aunt Barbara and Harold

CAVALIER—In loving memory of our darling daughter, Janie, who was killed four years ago today.
Time speeds on, four years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light,
We miss that light, and ever will,
Down here we mourn, but not in vain
For up in heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by mother and father.

Servel Refrigerators

Due to a freezing unit that has no moving parts Servel is always SILENT

Nothing to wear out—no cause noise. Look at a Servel with the door closed and compare its simple classic beauty, it modern lines. Then look at Servel with the door open and notice its spacious interior, its compact arrangement of shelves and freezing unit. Add up all these fine points plus the fact that more than 3,000,000 Servels have been sold and you too will choose Canada's finest refrigerator

Electric —

Models operate on a tiny electric element (takes the place of machinery).

Kerosene —

Models (where you are out of reach of hydro) operate from a small Aladdin lamp.

Find Moncton's Phenomena Really Worthwhile Seeing

By JACK SCOTT.

MONCTON, N. B — Moncton has a couple of real good phenomena.

Ordinarily I am kind of lukewarm on phenomena. Mountains that look like things, for example I can never figure them out.

When we were in Port Arthur a couple of native sons nearly went berserk trying to show me "The Sleeping Giant," a long low mountain across Thunder Bay. Just looked to me like a long, low mountain. They finally got so red in the face and threshing their arms about so that I said I did see it. People are touchy about their phenomena.

Indian legends, too, leave me cold. The Indians of this country have sold the white man some fairy tales that make Hansel and Gretel look as straightforward as a bank report.

Let an imaginative Indian get a glimpse of some unusual rock or a vace or waterfall and he can whip you up a quaint tale involving the great wind of the Thunder Bird, a princess named Nek-Ee-Hok-A-Ug, or some such handle, the Great Manitou and assorted fixtures. All of which will be promptly put between covers by a Junior Chamber of Commerce and distributed to tourists (who put them away carefully in the glove compartment of their cars, never to be seen again.

But to get back to Moncton. Moncton's phenomena are so simple that even a child or a tourist can understand them — or, at any rate, know that they exist. I refer, of course, to the famous tidal bore on the Petitcodiac River, upon which Moncton is located, and the so-called Magnetic Hill, both moderately astounding.

We took in both events yesterday and while this has been done before (as far back as 1758 in the case of the bore) I have some notes here on both.

The Bore

Best place to see the bore (and please, none of your jokes about mothers-in-law) is from a small park in midtown Moncton. A clock-face is displayed prominently here to tell you when the thing is next due. If you're early I suggest you try a small cafe there called the Bore's View Cafe which serves a plate of fresh lobster for 75 cents. Quite a phenomenon in itself.

The tourists all line up at a railing which looks out on the Petitcodiac and a most uninspiring sight it is. There's a great wide bend in the river here and at low tide, which it is when you turn up, it's a rather desolate looking mudbank. The dirty chocolate stream moves sluggishly down to the Bay of Fundy.

Then somebody (possibly a plant by the Junior Chamber) shouts: "There it is." And anyway off at the bend you see a thin white wave moving upstream, stretching from one muddy bank to the other.

At this point everyone begins talking and you can pick up some mighty interesting, if unreliable, information. Wave moves at six miles an hour . . . or perhaps it's eight. Caused by the terrific high tides in the bay. So much pressure and volume of water squeezes into the river that it gets all heaped up and the wave forms.

Sometimes its only a few inches high, sometimes up to four or five feet. Today's we hear, is a good three feet in height. American in brown gabardine suit says: "This is the second biggest bore in the world. The biggest is my wife." Everybody titters.

And now the bore is coming past us. It has a small, but impressive roar. Its wave curls along the muddy bank, slurps through the pilings of docks and wharves and goes by like a line of cavalry. I was delighted to see that hundreds of seagulls were riding along with it, making a good haul of befuddled fish. Behind the first foaming wave comes the tide and now—hesto presto—the Petitcodiac is running backward.

The Hill

From the river front we drove back through the town and five miles north to the Magnetic Hill.

Story is that about 25 years ago some Moncton blades parked their Model "T" at the foot of this hill and got out to have a couple of snorts. Whereupon the old Ford started silently backing up the hill and all the lads solemnly swore off drinking. Probably not a true story.

We followed instructions, drove the car "down" the hill to a white post, turned the motor off and put her in neutral. Car promptly began to roll backward "up" the hill.

Course, there's nothing really "magnetic" about the slope. It's a very deceiving optical illusion which tourist-conscious Moncton has carefully preserved (a new highway skirts around the original road so that you can spend all the time you like coasting "uphill.")

A native we met on the scene told us he likes to hang around and see how the hill divides people into two classes. "Get one type who knows that the hill isn't what it seems and won't admit it looks that way," he said. "Other type sort of enjoys being fooled. Get a lot more fun out of life that way."

The commercial possibilities of the phenomenon haven't been overlooked and there's a fine inn right alongside. Serves delicious lobster.

Bethlehem Steel

sunk and how the underground workings should be laid out.

Diamond drilling is costly business — a runnr gets $1.10 per hour—but the necessary preliminary in any mining venture. Bethlehem Steel have completed 7,000 feet of drilling in the Marmora area to date and apparently are planning on stepping the program up by adding more drills in future.

The above total of drill footage is not great when one considers that many of the large mines in Canada do more than this amount every month in addition to daily mining procedure to probe for new ore, to lengthen the life of the mine.

The Marmora drillers are experts from Northern Ontario—Cobalt, Timmins and North Bay. Their helpers are from the village. George Poirier of Timmins directs the work under Dr. W. G. Wahl of the parent company who is opening a field office in the Jones and Potts business block.

An official statement by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation may be made within the next two months. They have no news for release at the present time. But, citizens of Marmora, feeling that no news is good news, have developed an aura of optimism for the community's future prosperity. A recent decision to erect a modern theatre was no doubt a result of this feeling.

Should drilling results fail to produce an iron mine, considerable money for wages and supplies is being paid out and in the opinion of a snooping reporter, will continue for some time to come. And everyone in Marmora has his fingers crossed and wears a bright new smile.

Baseball Figure

called that he first met Mr. Dawson shortly after the first world war. At that time the mayor himself was playing senior ball. "Vern was really interested and a good supporter even then."

"About 1930 Vern, Hugh Campbell, the late Pete Lang, and Bill Kaye took over the senior team; and Vern was vice-president for years."

Mayor's Tribute

"We are all going to miss him," said the mayor. "There was nothing in sport or for the general good of the city that he didn't back—financially and with personal enthusiasm. But he wanted to remain anonymous at all times."

Ed Murphy, manager of the senior baseball club, paid this tribute: "Without Vern Dawson, George Clarke and Hugh Campbell baseball in Peterborough would have died a slow death. Up to the first floodlight game the club was nearly $1,000 in the hole. In the last eight nights that deficit was more than met and the club showed a profit."

Baseball President

As president of the senior baseball club Mr. Dawson promised city council that they were prepared to raise $15,000 as their contribuation toward meeting the cost of the lights.

"The promise was more than made good," said Mr. Murphy. "They went over their $15,000 objective."

Mr. Dawson was born in Peterborough, son of the late Adam Dawson and Jane Butler. His father was a well known local blacksmith.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Donald Murray (Phyllis), Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong (Elsie), Toronto, and Mrs. Donald A. Loucks (Phyllis), Peterborough. His brother Frank died two years ago, and his wife, the former Pauline Simmons, died in 1947.

Mr. Dawson was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

The funeral service will be at the Comstock Funeral Home, Rubidge St., at 2.30 p.m. Monday. The Rev. William Kibbiewhite, of All Saints', will officiate. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

McMillan Funeral

Funeral service for the late Donald Roy P. McMillan, 68, of 251 Simcoe St., was held on Friday at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiated and pall-bearers were H. Fredrick, W. O'Hern, A. Hillier, C. R. Donoghue, C. McMillan and James Graham. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Train Jumps Track

ELSBERRY, Mo., Sept. 23 (AP) The four rear cars of the Burlington Railroad's Zephr-Rocket jumped the tracks about a mile north of here Friday night. They did not turn over, however, and only four persons were reported injured, none severely.

Americans Worry About Tomb Of Pocahontas

GRAVESEND, Eng.—(Reuters) Pocahontas, dead these many years ,threatens to put the Indian sign on one aspect of Anglo-American relations.

Pocahontas died in England and was buried at Saint George's Church here. The church has fallen into disrepair, the congregation has dwindled away and there is talk of closing it.

Word of all this has got back to Virginia, Pocahontas' old stamping grounds, and residents of the old colony have taken to making long-distance calls to protest any action that might mean that Pocahontas' tomb be desecrated or obliterated.

What with the time differences, the phone calls generally wake up the Rev. Richard Daunton-Fear, rector of the church.

He has gotten so tired of being aroused to hear a southern drawl ask what's with Pocahontas that he has even gone to the American Embassy in London.

"They said they were too busy with the Korean war," he reports.

Then he adds: "If the Americans want to make it a shrine why doesn't one put down, say, $200,000 to maintain the church? It's their move—if they want to make one."

Meanwhile, he begs, no more midnight phone calls so that he, like Pocahontas, can rest in peace.

If Horse Is

ernmental departments are chiefly concerned with production and cash returns from the farm plants and establishments.

The every day inference from agricultural operations suggests that the horse contributes diminishing returns in profitable farming. But, prize money for a team of heavy drafts, any breed, divides $110 into four parts, $35, $30, $25 and $20. And that show feature, the six-horse hitch gets $40, $35, $30 and $25, when the directors are mapping out their prize list.

Good Horse Show

That was a splendid horse show at Lindsay Friday afternoon. The spirit of contest was keen as a result of large entries all the way down the card, even to the four-horse hitch. So, the directors must be right, especially when they hear the applause of the crowded stand, often repeated. Probably they know the answer to the overhanging question of what those four and six horse teams do every day in the week, and where are the roadsters and carriage horses around the seasons.

The other livestock classes were fairly substantial in number of entries. Seven Holstein breeders showed 86 animals. They were: A. Muir & Sons, Courtice, five firsts; W. J. Murphy, Lindsay, six firsts; Walling Bros., Haliburton, two; N. W. McConkey, Peterborough, three; Hon. George S. Henry Todmorden, two; estate of A. D. Fleming, Reaboro, two; Percy Shroter, Dunsford, one first. The judge was D. S. Dunton, Brampton.

The Murphy herd included the grand champion bull, and junior champion female. A Muir & Sons had the grand champion female, and Mr. McConkey, reserve junior champion male and reserve grand champion female.

Exhibitors of Guernseys were: Jack Fraser, Concord, Fraserdale Farm; Guerneygail Farm, Mrs. N. R. Gale, Lindsay, RR 1; N. W. McConkey, Peterbrough, and H. Shiner & Sons, Tyrone.

The strong Fraser herd walked off with the championships. Mrs. Gale showed the reserve grand champion male; and Mr. McConkey, the reserve grand champion male. Fraserdale hung up 19 first prize ribbons; Mr. McConkey four, Mrs. Gale four; and H. Shiner & Sons, Tyrone, one.

Exhibitors of Jerseys were: F. C. H. Bent & Son, Omemee; Garnet Kerr, Campbellford; Dr. W. W. Sherwin, Orono.

Sherwin was awarded 14 firsts; Kerr seven; Bent & Son five. Female grand championship went to Garnet Kerr.

Exhibitors of Herefords were: Mervin Smith & Son, Cavan; F. E. Birdsall and W. Mood, Birdsall's; A. A. Linton & Son, Cobourg; Col. McAlpine, Fenelon Falls; W. J. White, of Balsam. This was the strongest of the beef breeds.

Shorthorn breeders competing were: M. H. Pimmett & Son, Indian River; Ross Flett, Oakwood; Ernest Crawford & Sons, Oro Station.

Aberdeen-Angus cattle were shown by Malcolm Bailey, Uxbridge; Ronald Marquis, Sunderland; Edward McDowell, Millbrook and R. C. Baker of Claremont.

James Mowbray of Unionville judged the Aberdeens and Archie Clysdale of Peterborough the Herefords.

Lindsay directors chose one of their leading citizens, Thomas H. Stinson, K.C., for the formal opening of the Exhibition.

Bert McLean, manager, remarked to the Examiner: "Tom Stinson has been one of our loyal supporters as long as I have known him. He has been a real benefactor in helping us reach the place our Exhibition holds today. I believe in recognizing one of our own citizens when he is a man of Mr. Stinson's quality."

Lindsay directors manage to provide many seats for people around the grounds. In that accommodation for the resting of tired feet the board was materially helped by Radio Station CHEX and Shell Oil Co.

CHEX had two prominent display positions, and has contributed a great deal in recent years to the publicity Lindsay Exhibition has accomplished.

H. Oldham, Toronto, British Trade Commissioner to Canada, spent five hours at the Exhibition Thursday.

One of the bright spots in the exhibits building was the exceptionally attractive display of grain, one by the Woodville Junior Grain Club; and the other by Lindsay Kiwanis Junior Grain Club.

The entries were shown in white cotton bags against a green background of artificial grass and spruce bows. That was giving grain its due.

"We ordered 5,000 entry and exhibit tickets, and ran out of them Thursday," Mr. McLean said. "We had to get 2,000 more. That gives you an idea of what we have here this year. We went down $10,000 from rain last year, and we are spending $10,000 this year. You have to take a chance on the law of averages, and be prepared for the breaks when they come your way. We have spent $100,000 on our plant in the last ten years, and our many improvements show where the money went. The public appreciates all the conveniences you provide for them.

"We distributed 25,000 advance sale tickets two weeks ahead of the show. That's one way of advertising."

Conklin's Midway, the Sarnia Band, vaudeville and acrobatic program, horse races, and more than 150 commercial exhibits suggest background of Lindsay's fair.

Two Cars And Truck Tangle In Accident

Two cars and a truck were involved in an accident on Stewart St. north of King Friday evening.

Cars were parked on both sides of the street. One of the parked cars, driven by Jack Hartley, 290 Stewart St., was pulling out from the curb when it met in collision with a truck being driven north by James Berardi, 480 Parnell St.

The Hartley car was forced into a car parked in front of it owned by Jan Bennanski, 290 Stewart St. Damage was done to the fenders of all three vehicles. Constable Douglas Farthing investigated.

Death Sentence Reintroduced N.Z. Groups Ask

WELLINGTON, NZ —(CP)— Nine years after the death penalty for murder was abolished in New Zealand, the government has brought forward a bill for its reintroduction.

Opinions differ on the effects of the abolition of the death penalty. In the seven years before it was abolished in 1941, there were 54 murders and in the following seven years there were 87, an increase of 61 per cent.

However, opponents of capital punishment claim that other factors were responsible— a substantial rise in population, the war and the disturbed post-war years.

Want Penalty Restored

Nevertheless, many organizations have for long been demanding that capital punishment be restored and claiming that serious crime has greatly increased since its abolition. Advocates of a return to capital punishment have included justices of the peace, several women's organizations, farmers' unions, juries and B. L. Dallard, until recently controller-general of prisons.

The death penalty was abolished by the Labor government in accordance with party policy. The bill for restoration has been introduced by the new National party government, but it has indicated that it will allow its members a free vote. The bill excludes from the death penalty pregnant women and persons of under 18, and also excludes infanticide.

Norwood Children Lost Wandering With Dog

NORWOOD, Sept. 23 (ENS)—Members of the fire department and a large number of volunteers turned out to hunt two small children who failed to arrive home Friday evening.

As darkness came on and the temperature dropped, the parents became worried about the youngsters lost some hours.

The children were found wandering with their dog about a mile over the hills from the village near Webster's Woods.

Mrs. Frank Elmhirst

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Frank Elmhirst, 73, of Lot 13, Concession 3, Otonabee Township, was held on Thursday from the family residence. The Rev. J. S. Ferguson of Birchcliffe, officiated and pallbearers were William Redpath, Ross McIntyre, Percy Wilson, Wilbert Scott, William Dickson and Alfred Elmhirst. Flower bearers were Victor Foley, Fred Carpenter, Roy Faux, Morris Parry, Jack Godfrey, Jan Reszka, Arnold Wood and Clifford Irwin. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Canadian Products Wanted

Pacific, small Japanese tanks sit rusting and Japanese cargo planes squat crumbling away on the beaches.

Despite what a North American or European would think, the people of Hong Kong whom Mr. Wharry talked to were no more nervous over the war in Korea and the Communist menace than people here, perhaps even less so. This was in spite of the fact that Communist-held territory is within sight from the hills around Hong Kong.

Annual Pilgrimage

Western culture has made a few dents in the way of life of the people of the east. When Mr. Wharry was travelling over India, Pakistan and Iraq, the Moslems were on their annual pilgrimage to their holy city, Mecca in Saudi Arabia. But some of them were travelling by air.

In Bangkok, Thailand's teeming capital interlaced with canals, the chief means of transport is the samloh, a three-wheel bicycle. In the streets between beautiful old temples children play, the smaller ones naked, and dogs fight.

At night frogs croaking in the canals and dogs fighting set up a racket which robs visitors of their sleep.

In an hour and a half stops at Basara in Iraq Mr. Wharry crossed the Tigris and Euphrates rivers and visited a date palm plantation.

There were short stops in several other cities, such as Karachi in the east and Munich in the west. At every one of them there was the irritating ritual of the passport and examination of papers, including proof of medical examinations.

Lack Of Dollars

Everywhere was the strangling lack of dollars. Canadians wanting to do business in any part of the world must, like the rest of the countries, find a way to get around this shortage and the sterling block of British Commonwealth members, erected as protection.

Free Exchange

In Hong Kong there is a partial solution to the dilemma. An open market in money has been established in 140 money shops in the city with the okay of the government.

This free exchange provides the method by which a Canadian firm can sell indirectly inside the sterling bloc. By involved manipulation, money is bought and sold in the exchange to facilitate the passage of goods to Hong Kong and from there on to countries and cities in the sterling bloc such as Singapore and to other countries which perhaps have some sterling.

Besides the difficulties of trying to establish business conections in such a complicated and disrupted world money market, Mr. Wharry found it was not always easy to work when temperatures went up to 110 and down to 90 and moisture saturated the air. Tropical worsted suits were almost no help under those conditions, Mr. Wharry found.

And it didn't affect only the new arrival. In spite of the fact that North American and European business men working in the east had almost all the aids and comforts that could be bought, the unchanging heat and lack of distinct seasons except for brief and violent rainy periods, gave them no relief from depressing sameness day after day. They miss winter giving way to spring, then lush summer and crisp fall.

Mr. Wharry was glad to come home where temperatures were considerably lower and leaves were beginning to turn and you escape the frantic chase for American dollars.

VALET FREES 3 OCCUPANTS OF WRECKED, BLAZING CAR

Robert Foster, 29, of Hamilton, Ont., with his wife's help, saves three young men from perishing in flames

1. The sight that met the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Foster after midnight on the Mount Albion Road was anything but pleasant. An old model sedan had careened off the road, ploughed 60 feet along a gulley and smashed into a tree. A broken fuel line had sprayed gasoline on the hot motor and flames broke out. Leaping from his car, the young valet ran to the scene.

2. One man had been thrown to the road. The hood had been ripped off and the motor wrapped around the tree. In spite of her husband's protests, Mrs. Foster insisted on helping to get one man out. Then Foster had to rip off the back part of the front seat to get the other two men free. By this time the whole car had been enveloped in flames. An explosion might easily have followed.

3. Foster put three of the victims in his car and drove them to the hospital. The fourth was taken in a police ambulance. Thanks to the coolness and unselfish efforts of Robert Foster and his wife, the four seriously injured men did not burn to death in the wreck. We are proud to present THE DOW AWARD to this gallant young Canadian citizen.

Marmora W.I. Visits Belmont Ladies

HAVELOCK, Sept. 23 (ENS)—A three-fold program marked the September meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute Thursday afternoon at the Township hall when they entertained the Marmora branch, observed "Grandmother's Day" and were visited by the district president, Mrs. H. Shearer of Buckhorn.

Mrs. Shearer stressed the splendid results that come when members feel the responsibility of their work and do whatever job they may have to the best of their ability. She spoke about co-operation with the leader because it was impossible for one person to carry on alone. The main thing to have in mind she said was the good you are going to do your community and through it, your country. She thought it would be a good idea if the branches would copy the Salvation Army's motto: "Others."

Mrs. P. Gray, president of the Marmora branch, thanked the Belmont ladies for the invitation to visit their branch.

Mrs. Robert Anderson of Belmont Township, 82, was the oldest grandmother present and received a cup and saucer from Mrs. Charles Ellis, president of the Belmont branch. Mrs. N. G. Irwin, a visitor from Miami, Manitoba won the prize for the grandmother who had the youngest grandchild while Mrs. Arnold Dafoe won the prize for the grandmother with twin grandchildren.

Mrs. W. Ketchen and Mrs. W. Harris were the conveners for the program.

Mrs. W. Goodsby entertained with two vocal solos with Mrs. H. Scott as accompanist. Readings were given by Mrs. W. Harris and Mrs. C. Ellis.

Mrs. C. Ellis read a letter reporting the Women's Institutes of Ontario had contributed $17,105 to the Manitoba Relief Fund in addition to clothing and quilts Arrangements were made for attending the conference on "Personality and Dress" to be held in Norwood on October 2 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The secretary announced that the receipts from the recent home baking sale were $20.40 and the bank balance was $54.24.

Frank Linton of Campbellford addressed the meeting in the interests of the Memorial Hospital in that town for which $30,000 is still needed.

Those attending from the Marbora branch were: Mesdames P. Gray, M. Kouri, F. R. Wells, G. Kerr, F. Grant, G. Empey, E. Post, J. Nobes, R. Neal, E. Prentice, F. Leal.

Would License All Teachers Says T. W. Mayor

TORONTO, Sept. 23 —(CP)—Licensing of teachers was suggested Thursday night by T. W. Mayor, of Kingston, president of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

"If we teachers are ever to reach the status of a profession, then we must have such a system," he told 400 members of the federation's Toronto district branch. He proposed that licences be issued by the federation to supplement the teaching certificates given by the Ontario Education Department, just as sanction by professional groups supplements the legal licence of doctors and lawyers.

He said teachers should have more control themselves than at present over who is allowed to teach.

Wins Nobel Prize

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 23 (AP) —Dr. Ralph Bunche, former United Nations mediator in Palestine, has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

MAY INHERIT FARM—John Joseph McDonald, 19, has arrived in Canada with an opportunity to inherit a 480-acre farm in Alberta's Peace River country. Richard Wolstencroft, 60-year-old farmer of Bad Heart, Alta., who was born in Lancashire, has no heirs. Recently he wrote to his native town of Bolton, Eng., offering "the right lad" a chance to come to Canada and ultimately take over his farm. This Canadian Pacific Railway photo of McDonald was taken as he arrived at Quebec aboard the Empress of Scotland.

French Units Test Strength Of Guerrillas

SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 23 —(Reuters)—French units pushing north-west towards the fallen Foreign Legion outpost of Dongkhe near the China border, were believed Friday to be feeling out cautiously the strength of the Viet Minh Communist guerrillas there.

They had not yet reached the burnt-out town, a French Army spokesman said. The French lost it Monday after two days' fighting in which 200 French Legionaires made a stand to the last man.

Other usually-reliable French sources were not sure Dongkhe was the primary objective of the current Communist operations.

Kaokay, 120 miles west of Dongkhe, saill is menaced.

Viet Minh guerrillas are massing in the rugged mountains around Pakha at the east end of an arc of defence posts defending Laokay.

Laokay, on the Yunnan border, commands the Red river valley communictions from China to the French-held Tonkin Delta rice bowl.

Urban Or Rural Townships

TORONTO, Sept. 23—(CP)—Max Sloan, head of the assessment division of the Ontario Municipal Affairs Department, and former Peterborough assessor, said last night that, to overcome taxation problems, it may become necessary to define townships as urban or rural.

He addressed county representatives of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, who yesterday set up a committee to study taxation questions that arise when expanding cities spread into rural areas.

Mr. Sloan said the acts governing county assessment were passed during the 19th century and early in the 20th century. At that time, farm lands were considered those which would not demand the type of services required by city areas. Since then, however, many former farm areas have become suburban residential areas.

One of Ontario's disabilities is that 24 per cent. of its land is tax exempt, Mr. Sloan added.

Parents Hitch-Hike Get Missing Daughter

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 23—(CP)—Two-year-old Patricia Ann Larocque was reunited with her parents Friday after they hitch-hiked from Brantford to meet her.

The child had been reported missing since Aug. 30, when Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Larocque left her in Delhi in the custody of a family of transient workers while Mrs. Larocque went to Brantford to give birth to a child. The child was stillborn.

Larocque told police that when he returned to Delhi to get Patricia Ann, the family had moved, taking the girl with them. He later received a letter from the family saying they were in the Jordan Station area near here and offering to adopt the girl.

The Larocques rejected the offer and hitch-hiked to St. Catharines to claim their daughter.

Escaped Prisoner Gets Wish For Penitentiary

SUDBURY, Sept. 23 —(CP)—An escaped prisoner from Burwash Industrial Farm Thursday was granted his request to be sent to Kingston penitentiary.

Arraigned on a charge of escaping custody on July 13, Wilfrid Bernier of Timmins was tentenced to two years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty.

"I don't like Burwash and I want to go to Kingston," said Bernier.

Magistrate W. A. Woodliffe said in granting Bernier's request that "a man in his state would surely attempt a second try and it is probable he would bring someone with him."

Bernier was arrested last April in Timmins on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Complete 8 Quilts For Flood Sufferers

ROSENEATH, Sept. 23 (ENS) Eight warm quilts are completed and ready for shipment to the Manitoba Flood sufferers it was reported at the September meeting of Fenella Women's Institute held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Harvie. Plans were made for another quilting to be held in Fenella Community Hall on September 26.

There was a large attendance of members and visitors and the first vice-president, Mrs. Frank George presided over the opening. exercises and business period.

Plans were made to entertain Roseneath and Harwood Institutes on October 10 in the Community Hall. There will be a guest speaker from WI Department, Toronto, for the occassion.

Mrs. Ambrose Fanning, district director of Fenella branch presented a detailed report of the annual meeting of the West Northumberland District Institute held at Wicklow.

During the program period prizes were given for the best bouquets of gladiolus and dahlias to Mrs. Clifton Rogers and Miss Ruby Herrington.

At the conclusion of the program period, the hostess served refreshments.

Mission Circle Hears Of Life In Red China

MILLBROOK, Sept. 23 (ENS) —Mrs. T. Wideman was hostess for the first meeting this fall of the Golden Links Mission Circle of St. Andrew's United Church.

In her financial report Miss Edith Thorn stated that $50 of the $65 allocation has been sent to the Presbyterial secretary.

Plans were made for attending the circle rally in George Street Church, Peterborough, Oct. 11 The Millbrook Circle is to supply 20 pies.

Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, the president read a letter from Miss Jean Stewart of Chungking, China, the Circle's special missionary for prayer. She told of a trip to Chengtu in a postal truck surrounded by a convoy of army transports. Since the victory of the Communists in China, travel of missionaries has been very much restricted, although the Chinese are still allowed to move about freely.

Work in the school has changed greatly also. English is not so important a subject as it was and Russian is given more time in the curriculum.

A skit was put on by Mrs. T. Wideman, Mrs. E. Powell and Mrs. J. Rowland.

The supper hostesses were Mrs. Johnston Rowland, Mrs. Lavern Gibson, and Miss Marjorie Skitch.

The October meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Melville Ball.

Increase Sale Draught Beer

COBOURG, Sept. 23—(ENS)—The working man in Cobourg is not pleased with the increase in the price of beer and the attitude of the customer is occasioning some concern to the hotelkeeper. Reaction to the boost in the price of bottled beer is fairly general in all the hotels and is reflected in increased sale of draught beer to the customers and a sharp drop in bottled beer.

"There would have to be a whole lot more draught beer sold than is being sold now to balance off the drop in bottle beer sales plus the extra we now have to pay for the kegs," an official of the local hotelkeepers' association told the Examiner.

Selwyn Grandmothers Honored By WI Group

SELWYN, Sept. 23 — (ENS— The regular meeting of Selwyn Women's Institute was held in Selwyn Hall Wednesday. Grandmothers of the community were guests and a special program was presented.

Prizes were presented to, the oldest great-grandmother, Mrs. Ed. Preston; the oldest grandmother, Mrs. F. Sweeding; the grandmother with the most grand children, Mrs. Herb McConkey; the youngest grandmother, Mrs. George Geisel.

At the next regular meeting October 18, a Pot Luck supper will be served for members and their husbands.

Dutch Follow Lead

THE HAGUE, Sept. 23 —(Reuters)—The Netherlands is expected to follow the example of Britain, France and the United States in ending the state of war with Germany. Informed circles said consultations with Belgium and Luxembourg, The Netherlands' Benelux partners, will be necessary.

Allies Close In On Seoul From Four Sides City's Capture Likely Soon

New Crossing Made Over Han At Dawn As North Koreans Battle Fiercely; U.N. Troops Racing From South To Close Trap

TOKYO, Sept. 25—(AP)—American troops bit deep into Seoul today from four directions. United States officers held hopes the Korean capital would fall to Allied forces within hours. But there were few signs that the stubborn North Korean defence was cracking up. An American flag flew from a hut on the highest point in Seoul's Tongmaksang district, planted there by a Marine company Sunday night.

Marines from this position could pour mortar fire into Seoul's Army barracks and other Red strongpoints.

Marines in the Tongmaksang area searched one of Seoul's several prisons searching for American prisoners; South Korean underground agents said the Americans had been moved out of the city several days ago.

Troops of the 7th Division—an American-South Korean outfit—were thrown into the climactic struggle for the city Monday.

New River Crossing

The division's 32nd regiment swept across the Seoul-Suwon highway and crossed the main river southeast of the city under cover of dawn mists.

It was the second Han crossing in two days and the third since last midweek.

Marines stormed across the river Sunday near Yongdungpo, southwest suburb of Seoul.

They linked up solidly in the west section of the city with another regiment of marines who had crossed the Han Wednesday northwest of Seoul.

One marine column was driving into Seoul from the north where Red opposition was stiffest.

Reinforcements swelled the mass of Allied troops in the Korean second-front beachhead.

Haul Airborne Troops

Twenty-four hundred airborne troops—sped from the U.S. to Japan by ship—save been landed at Kimpo field northwest of Seoul. Within a few hours they were in action.

A fresh South Korean division was landed at the Inchon beachhead port and moved up to fight.

Allied forces struck mightily out of the old southeast beachhead for big new gains.

Paratroopers Dropped, Aid Survivors

HALIFAX, Sept. 25—(AP) — Para troopers have been dropped in the area 100 miles southwest of Goose Bay, Labrador, where 16 United States airmen are awaiting rescue, the Fort Pepperell air base near St. John's, Nfld., reported today.

A B-50 bomber crashed Thursday after taking off from Goose Bay for Tucson, Ariz., on a training flight. A helicopter, meanwhile, is to be used to move the airmen to a nearby lake, where a Canso Amphibfan will fly them out.

Search for the missing aircraft, carried out by scores of planes of the U.S. and Canadian Air Forces, ended Sunday when an R.C.A.F. Lancaster out of Greenland, N.S., located the 16 about 95 miles southwest of Goose Bay. The only word received by search and rescue headquarters here said all 16 men are alive.

Piloted by FO J. M. Wallace of Halifax, the Lanc was 30 minutes out of Goose Bay when a smoke signal attracted it to the area where the survivors huddled around a crudely - constructed shelter.

No sign of the bomber was found and details of how the crew members escaped were not available at Goose Bay. No medical supplies were requested.

The giant B-50, on a routine training flight from Goose Bay to Tucson, Ariz., disappeared after leaving the lonely northern base. The search extended from Labrador to the deserts of the southwestern U.S.

Don't Cut Power Ottawa Asks

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP). — Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission said today he has received an "urgent" request from the federal government to avoid making further cuts in power supplies to Niagara district industries.

Mr. Saunders said the government was particularly concerned that power shortages should not hamper the operations of one Niagara industry which was "the empire's main source of magnesium," used to a considerable extent in manufacture of jet fighter aircraft. He declined to name the company.

The commission announced last week that because of increasing consumer demands the supply of "surplus" power to some industries was being cut.

Won't Have Election This Year–Attlee

LONDON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee has replied with a firm "no" to demands raised in some sections of the Labor party for another general election this year.

A source close to 10 Downing Street said nothing short of a parliamentary defeat for Attlee would bring elections in Britain before 1951.

This informant said the final decision rests with the Prime Minister and Attlee prefers to hang on with his effective majority of seven in the House of Commons, particularly in view of the unsettled international situation.

A group of left-wing Labor supporters have been reported advocating an early election with the hope of improving Labor's majority. The Conservative opposition press has freely predicted an election this year.

Fire Destroys Cheese Plant

Best Ontario Producer Now Heap of Rubble

NEWBURGH, Sept. 5 —(CP)— The Newburgh cheese factory, seven miles north of Napanee, which for the last three years has produced more cheese than any other factory in Ontario, today is a smouldering heap of rubble.

Fire, first noticed about 8:30 p.m. Sunday night, swept quickly through the stone and artificial brick structure and was not brought under control until 10:30 p.m., by volunteer firemen from here and Napanee.

Damage to the building is estimated at $100,000 and to the contents, equipment, supplies, cheese and powdered milk, $30,000. The building, owned by Mac Remington, was partially covered by insurance.

The fire is thought to have started in the boiler room, an addition built only last year. The flames and smoke were noticed by Hubert Simpkins, a village storekeeper, as he came out of church.

He immediately notified his brother, Vernon Simpkins, chief of the Newburgh Fire Department. Everyone in the village of some 500 persons who could help turned out to try to save the factory which employs 10 men.

Emergency Operation

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Ewell Blackwell, star right-handed pitcher for Cincinnati Reds, today underwent an emergency operation for removal of his appendix. Dr. Reed Shank said the lanky hurler's appendix was "in bad shape" but that there were no complications." Blackwell, who pitched only Sunday, was stricken Sunday night while on the way from Pittsburgh to St. Louis with the ball club.

Mosher Urges Outlawing Of Red Unions

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25—(CP)—Outlawing of Communist-dominated unions from the Canadian Congress of Labor was urged today by A. R. Mosher in his presidential address opening the CCL's 10th annual convention.

President Mosher's declaration was seen as heralding a stepped-up purge of Reds in the Congress, whose leadership has been engaged in a running battle with union leftists for several years.

The Congress leadership, it was learned Friday, will ask the convention for powers to suspend Communist - dominated unions from the CCL. This may result in about three bodies being cut off from the union centre in the next year.

Need Greater Unity

Launching the week-long session of spokesmen for 360,000 Canadian trade unionists, President Mosher also declared:

1. Labor organization must be increased and there must be a greater degree of unity between Canadian labor bodies in the best interests of the workers.

2. Political action by Labor must be accelerated until, in co-operation with other groups, it can develop a party strong enough to be elected to power nationally and provincially. (The Congress supports the C.C.F. party.)

3. Labor legislation should be on a national, rather than provincial basis, particularly for such industries as steel and meat-packing houses, and conciliation machinery should be overhauled.

4. Living costs should be held down through price control, and there should be enlarged old-age pensions without the means test, a broad national health insurance scheme, higher unemployment insurance benefits and improved disability benefits for workers.

5. Labor wants the government to make full employment a permanent feature of the Canadian economy.

In lashing out at Communism, the veteran founder-chief of the C.C.L. expressed belief "that we should refuse to permit any Communist-dominated union to remain in the Congress and undermine its efforts to build up a responsible and democratic labor movement."

He noted that the Congress in the past had unhesitatingly condemned Communism and its supporters, and he added that the Korean question had shown more clearly than ever before that Communists are willing to follow the party line, "no matter how absurd or illogical it may be."

Of labor "unity," Mr. Mosher said some progress had been made in promoting co-operation between the C.C.L. and the other major national labor party, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

U.S. Sends Sympathy For Bombing Britons

LONDON, Sept. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee expressed his thanks today for an official American message of sympathy after the accident bombing of British troops in Korea by U.S. planes.

In a letter to U.S. Minister Julius C. Holmes, Attlee said:

"I have been myself on active service and I know that mistakes occur. They are tragic for those concerned, but it is part, I fear, of the inevitable consequence of such operations which we must face."

Holmes, sent Attlee a letter on Saturday expressing "the deep sense of sorrow" of the United States over the incident.

Conference To Decide New Details

Eleven Governments Taking Part, Try To Avoid Dispute

QUEBEC, Sept. 15—(CP)—The 11 governments of Canada plunged swiftly today into the complex and ticklish task of setting this country's constitutional house in order.

Varying expressions of opinion emerged as Prime Minister St. Laurent and the 10 provincial premiers met to seek a method of bringing to Canada the power to amend the Canadian constitution.

The 70 delegates heard these views expressed by the Federal government and Ontario and Quebec, the big three of the meeting:

1. Premier Duplessis of Quebec called for a formal declaration by the British parliament that this country has a right to a constitutional setup of its own.

2. Prime Minister St. Laurent agreed with the suggestion that the Canadian governments first must tell Westminister to whom it is to abdicate the constitution-ending power.

Tackle Mechanics

3. A proposal by Premier Frost of Ontario that the conference concern itself solely with the mechanics of amending the constitution and that it leave problems of interpretation to a later day.

Mr. Frost, placing the first concrete proposal before his fellow premiers and the federal authority, suggested the conference turn over to a sub-committee of attorneys-general the task of working out a method of amending the constitution.

He appealed to the conference not to allow itself to become bogged down in the legal mire of interpretation of constitutional authority, nor to attempt immediately to define the shadowy lines dividing federal and provincial jurisdiction in the constitution.

Those problems, he suggested, could be dealt with later on, as they periodically arose in the day-to-day relationships between the federal and provincial governments. Then, if the problems could not be resolved, they could be referred to the courts for a final decision.

Mr. Duplessis felt the conference should ask Westminster for a declaration of Canada's right to its own constitution.

Patchwork Effort

The Quebec government leader said he thought the work of the conference so far, of classifying constitutional powers as accorded by the British North America Act, while important, still remains a "patchwork" effort.

Premier Duplessis, who spoke first in French and then in English said he thought a fresh step should be taken and that it should be a recognition of the fact that Canada is "now of age and wishes to act accordingly."

The Quebec premier made his statement after Justice Minister

Jail Governor Suspended In Quebec Probe

QUEBEC, Sept. 25 (CP)—Suspension of the Sorel, Que., jail governor was revealed today by a high provincial government official following reports that prisoners were able to escape at night and return in the morning.

The official said Lucien Badeau, 58-year-old governor at the Richelieu County Jail, had been suspended and that the results of a full investigation into reports of "night sorties" by prisoners now was i the hands of Hon. Antoine Rivard, Quebec solicitor-general.

The official said provincial police in Montreal were ordered to take over administration of the Sorel jail.

An inquiry was launched after reports of a "jailbreak" by three men, one of them awaiting trial on a charge of murder.

Escape Twice

The trio escaped twice, it was reported, and two of them returned each time, but Fernand Dube, 22-year-old Cap de la Madeleine laborer, decided not to go back on the second trip away from the jail. He is still being sought.

Crown Prosecutor Paul Emile Ally of Sorel said Donald Watson, 24-year-old Indian who is charged with murder of his grandfather confessed to police that he, Dube and Gaston Robidoux, Sorel machinist serving five years for robbery, "walked out of jail through an unlocked door," and took part in two burglaries before returning.

SWINDLED STORES

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP). — Dorothy Donnelly, 34-year-old mother of two children, was sentenced today to 18 months on charges of swindling several stores of $1,200 with worthless cheques. She was convicted of similar charges in Windsor several months ago and was placed on suspended sentence.

Alberta Forest Fire Smoke Blacks Out U.S., Ontario

By The Canadian Press

The weird, reddish smoke cloud thinned out over southwestern and central Ontario today and seemed headed east. The thick pall of smoke, born in northern Alberta where forest fires are raging, today had reached the weather station at Killaloe, near Pembroke in eastern Ontario.

There was still a fair concentration over Toronto shortly before noon but at western Ontario points the sun was winning through. The smoke had not reached as far east at Ottawa.

Meteorologists promised the haze would not obstruct the view of tonight's total eclipse of the moon as long as there was no normal overcast.

A thick pall of smoke, wafted to the stratosphere by freakish air currents, moved southeastward and descended to throw a mid-day blackout Sunday over the area, some 2,000 miles away. Residents of the prairie provinces were unaffected.

But citizens of Ontario, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and the middle Atlantic States watched the sky break out in patches of yellow, brown, pink, purple and blue-black.

Their theories as to the cause of the phenomenon ranged from atom-bomb explosions and the end of the world to a celestrial upheaval brought on mysteriously by the switch-over from Daylight to Standard time.

Animals Upset

Cows demanded to be milked ahead of schedule. Chickens took one look at the sky and headed for their roosts.

Power-short Ontario took a jolt as lights were turned on throughout the affected area. Consumption skyrocketed 180,000 kilowatt hours above normal.

Major-league baseball parks turned on their floodlights. At Cleveland where the blackout hit early, an entire afternoon game was played under the lights for the first time in American League history.

Airline pilots felt their way cautiously through the thick clouds and reported that they extended from 7,000 to 20,000 feet.

At the source of the disturbance, firefighters battled 36 separate blazes, touched off last week by an unprecedented heat wave, and reported some success.

As temperatures dropped to normal and rain fell over part of the area, the worst fire—a 50 square mile blaze at Wanham, 340 miles northwest of Edmonton—was brought under control.

50-Man Posse Seeks Man Missing 5 Days

WHITBY, Sept. 25—A 50-man posse spent Sunday afternoon searching the wooded area around Manchester, 18 miles north of here, for a 63-year-old man missing since last Wednesday.

Ernest Boyce, who lives with his sister's family, near Utica, east of Manchester, was the object of the intensive but fruitless search.

A small millpond in the district was dragged for more than an hour and volunteers directed by Provincial Constable Gordon Keast and Game Warden Ben Smith combed fields and bush without success.

9 Glass Companies Plead Guilty To Price-Fixing

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP) — Nine glass companies accused of operating a price-fixing combine pleaded guilty and indicated they will ask for leniency on grounds that their prices and profits have always been fair.

Hearing of the charge started today in assize court before Mr. Justice W: R. Treleaven of the Ontario Supreme Court.

The companies, all in Ontario and Quebec, were named in a report handed to the federal government last winter by Fred A. McGregor, at that time combines investigator. He said the companies operated a price-fixing and restraint-of-trade combine for 20 years.

Harold Walker, representing Pilkington Brothers (Canada) Limited, one of the firms accused, started the defence presentation.

"On reviewing the evidence when it was made available, we found that there was no doubt that our clients had agreed upon association prices for glass in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec," he said. "We are satisfied that the associated glass jobbers have not made large profits and have not exploited the public.

"In fact, the price of glass has risen less since 1926 than that of any other building material. Nevertheless, we have told our clients that these favorable factors do not constitute a defence to a charge under clause (D) of section 498 of the Criminal Code because of the interpretation given by the Supreme Court of Canada to the phrase 'agreeing to unduly lessen competition.'

"This interpretation makes the agreement by the association members to use a common price book illegal regardless of its effect on prices or profits. In view of this, we have reluctantly advised our clients that they are technically guilty and I therefore move to amend the plea of Pilkington Brothers (Canada) Limited to a plea of guilty."

Senate Ignores Truman Veto

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—The Senate Saturday overrode President Truman's veto of a hard-boiled set of Communist controls. A smashing 57-to-10 vote made them the law of the land.

Then Congress hurried home for the election campaign. Members will return Nov. 27 to act on excess profits tax legislation and make way for the new Congress in January.

Enactment of the anti-subversives bill was delayed 20 hours and 48 minutes by a filibuster carried out by a handful of senators. They finally stepped aside after debating futilely against the bill, which Truman contended would actually help the Communists and "weaken our liberties."

The determined band, conceding they had no chance, insisted nevertheless that the vote be delayed until the senators thought over the veto message and heard from home.

Backers of the bill, speaking briefly as the debate finally wound up, rejected the President's arguments entirely.

50 Armed Townsfolk Round Up Suspects

STONEY CREEK, Sept. 25 — (CP)—Fifty townsfolk armed with rifles, shotguns and pitchforks surrounded an entire block of Stoney Creek's business section early Saturday and cornered two men suspected of breaking into a drug store and a clothing shop.

Police had turned on a fire alarm to rouse the village.

The suspects were captured after Constable Thomas Gulliver fired a volley of buckshot.

Theodore Wocjek, 22, of Hamilton, and Robert Rogers, 38, no given address, appeared in Dundas police court on charges of shop-breaking and theft and were remanded to Sept. 26.

Truck Ablaze Madoc Man Pulled Out

Brakeman Rescues Trapped Youth After Driver Killed

TWEED, Sept. 25—(ENS)—Quick action of a CPR brakeman saved a 22-year-old Madoc youth from a blazing truck early Sunday after the truck collided with a slow-moving freight train.

Driver of the truck, Douglas Maynard, 22, of Madoc, was killed. Wilfred Murphy, pinned in the wreckage after the crash, was pulled out by brakeman G. E. Palmer.

The collision occurred where the CPR line crosses highway 37 near Tweed.

Failed To See Train

According to Provincial Corporal Jack Hatch of Madoc, the truck driver failed to notice the train. Engineer E. Bannon of Smiths Falls, said he saw the truck, blew the whistle and rang the bell.

After the crash, Murphy was pinned in the truck by the twisted emergency brake, and his arm was caught in the steering wheel. Gasoline and oil in the truck ignited and the truck burst into flames.

Ken Johnston, 21, also of Madoc and a passenger in the truck, was thrown 20 feet by the impact. He and Murphy were taken to Belleville General Hospital, suffering multiple injuries and shock.

Dismiss Charge In Fair Riot

ORILLIA, Sept. 25 (CP)—An assault charge against Ted Taylor of Niagara Falls, Ont., was dismissed Friday because of what Magistrate Kenneth Cameron described as "confused and conflicting evidence."

Provincial police charged Taylor following a near-riot at a fall fair at nearby Oro Sept. 13. They accused him of attacking Harvey Town of Orillia with a hammer.

Witnesses said that Taylor, a concessionaire at the fair, was hit repeatedly by tomatoes taken from a display stand and thrown by patrons.

Taylor's employer said Town was one of the leaders in the tomato-throwing. He denied that a hammer was used and said that he (the employer) had the concession's hammer at the time. He said also that Town offered to drop the charge in return for $10 to pay for damage to his clothing but the police insisted on pressing the charge.

Bank Clerk Shot

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP). — J. P. McGaughey, 22, a junior clerk, was found fatally shot today in the basement of a bank in the Kingsway district on Toronto's north-western outskirts. A .38-calibre revolver that belonged in the bank vault was found beside him. The man had been employed in the bank two weeks. Bank officials said they could suggest no reason for the apparent suicide.

New Gadget At Chalk River

14-Ton Machine Ressembles Rocket Ship

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 — (CP) — Looking something like a rocket ship, a 14-ton six-foot-high gadget has taken over a room at the atomic energy plant at Chalk River.

Used for research purposes, it is an electrostatic accelerator, also called a van de Graaf generator. Capable of producing at least 4,000,000 volts, it is used as a source of high-speed atomic beams for breaking up atomic nuclei.

"In this record," the National Research Council said in an announcement, "it will serve as supplementary equipment to the atomic pile. It can produce beams of charged particles of accurately-known energy and direction in contrast to the great numbers of slow neutrons provided by the pile.'

There are similar accelerators in operation in the United States and England, being used to study what goes on inside an atom.

The machine was designed and built in the NRC radio and electrical engineering division here, after consultation with the inventor, Dr. Van de Graaf of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass.

The machine, housing a complex system of electrodes, is pumped up with nitrogen gas to a pressure of 200 pounds a square inch to prevent electrical breakdown of the large voltage produced.

Bookie Scandal Involves New York Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP) — Rumors raced through New York City's police and political ranks Sunday, spurred by a sensational probe of police-bookmaker graft which has yet to reach its climax.

Most widespread of the reports was that Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien would resign. His ouster has been demanded in the wake of evidence that a huge gambling ring was feeding $1000,000 a year in protection money to city police.

The Brooklyn Eagle said Sunday that Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri had dismissed O'Brien and that an unnamed member of the force would take O'Brien's place Monday night.

About an hour after the newspaper published its story, Impellitteri denied that O'Brien had been fired.

Another report was that boss bookmaker Harry Gross once more had changed his mind and now was ready to reveal the names o' policemen to which his $20,000,000 bookie syndicate had dished out graft.

Ready To Talk

Held on $250,000 bail, the perfume-fancying Gross previously had admitted big payoffs to cops of high and low echelons although he refused to name names. But Gross' reputed payoff man, Artie Karp, surrended to the King's County district attorney's office and promptly began to tell all.

Hustled before a grand jury, the flashily attired Karp listed the names of police to whom he allegedly handed out a share of the $1,000,000 protection pay.

Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz said Karp's revelations had broken the case wide open.

Official sources said Saturday night that six policemen named by Karp have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Monday. They also said a vice-squad supervisor was switched to desk duty by O'Brien.

The gambling expose seemed certain to play a major role in the current state and city political campaign. New York City has a Democratic administration.

Synopsis:

Ontario spent another cool night with frost being reported as far south as Georgian Bay, Haliburton and Eastern Lake Ontario regions. However, steadily rising temperatures are in view for most of the province today and Tuesday.

Winds aloft continue to sweep smoke from the Alberta's forest fires across Northern Manitoba, thence southeastward over Ontario and into the eastern states, a journey of more than 2,000 miles. Reports from aircraft indicate that the smoke is located in layers at various altitudes. This condition will continue to cause weird discolorations of the sky over Southern Ontario today.

Forecasts:

Eastern Lake Ontario, Haliburton and Southern Georgian Bay regions. Cloudy today and Tuesday with extensive smoke haze aloft. Warmer Tuesday. Winds light. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Trenton 40, 70, Killaloe 35, 60; Muskoka 40, 65.

Summary for Tuesday: Cloudy. Warmer.

Loses Hay, Saves Pigs From Burning Barn

MARMORA, Sept. 25 (ENS) — The barn on the property of William Burke, at the back of his house on Forsyth St., was totally destroyed by fire Saturday shortly after 3 p.m.

The building, measuring about 20 by 40 feet, housed six pigs, which were rescued. Its contents of hay and a few bags of grain were destroyed as well as a stack of hay just outside the building.

Mr. Burke was having wood cut in his back yard at the time of the outbreak. He immediately phoned the fire brigade but although the engine was quickly on the spot, the fire had made such rapid progress that it was impossible for more to be done than the rescue of the pigs.

3 Brothers Meet At A Wedding

TIMMINS, Sept. 25 (CP). — Three brothers, separated for many years, have been reunited because one of them wanted the other two as attendants at his wedding day.

Only one, Frank Asselin, 23 stillbears the surname of the father who turned the boys over to the Children's Aid Society in 1933 after deciding that he could not support them in his home at Lowther, near Kapuskasing about 75 miles northwest of here. The other two use the surnames of the couples who adopted them.

The difference in names was the biggest obstacle Henry Robitaille, 19, faced when he set out a month ago to find his brothers, although he knew the youths lived here. Through Children's Aid records and a faded photograph, he traced Frank, with whom he had been in touch from time to time, and finally found the other brother, now 17 and known as Vital Deforge.

Conference

Garson submitted to the conference a report of a special conference committee attempting to classify constitutional powers for amendment purposes under a set of six headings.

It was then that Mr. Duplessis called the report a "patchwork" effort.

"It seems to me that we are proceeding more or less on shreds and patches and I don't think that goes well with the situation of today," he said.

Not Accomplishing Work

"We are not accomplishing the work we should. Let us get from Westminster a declaration that the provinces have the right to their own constitution. Why not have it said right away that we have the right to prepare a Canadian constitution?"

"Why go to London and ask them to accept amendments?" he said. "Let us get London to recognize our right to an essentially Canadian constitution."

When he spoke in French, Premier Duplessis suggested that when the new constitution is drawn up it should be drafted in English and French, the country's two official languages.

He thought it might be considered a "treaty" in that it would represent a meeting of "two great races and two great civilizations."

Premier Duplessis said that in the work of preparing a Canadian constitution Quebec wishes to "co-operate loyally in friendly fashion."

Allies Close

The U.S. 1st Cavalry rolled 55 miles in three days—from Tabu to Poun, 18 miles northeast of Taejon.

American and South Korean forces fought into Chinju, Hyopchon, Kumchon, Hamchang, Uisong, Andong, Yongdok. These gains virtually restored the battle line that existed one month after the war broke out with Red invasion across Parallel 38 June 25.

The two fronts were only 60 miles apart—from Poun to Osan—30 miles south of Seoul. Patrols of the U.S. 7th Division stabbed into Osan Sunday.

Fight Desperately

The North Koreans fought desperately to hold open an escape route to the north. The battle centred around Kumchon.

Other crumbling Red divisions were in danger of being sealed in the south when the two Allied beachheads converge.

The crossing of the Han by U.S. 7th Division troops was made under the guns of South Mountain, 700-foot fortified height within Seoul's south limits.

From it, Red guns command a wide stretch of the Han.

U.S. artillery hurled barrages of shells at the peak for a half hour before the crossing. Then amphibious tractors churned across the Han, upstream from three ruined bridges.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said three Red Korean regiments were fighting on Seoul's northwest defence ring. A spokesman said parts of two Red divisions—the 9th and 18th—were on the south bank of the Han Sunday, apparently trying to cross into the city.

Another Communist force was squeezed between U.S. 5th regiment Marines fighting into Seoul from the southwest and 7th division infantrymen in the southeast city limits.

Marines were within less than two miles of Duk Soo Palace, city centre and former seat of South Korea's government.

Must Take Ridges

They still had to fight over several ridges into the heart of the city. Small pockets of the enemy were fighting from mud-hut to mud-hut.

Another 7th division column striking south through Suwon and into Osan recaptured large stores of American supplies.

A spokesman said the American supplies had been lost in the fall of Taejon.

Seventh division infantrymen destroyed five Russian-made tanks near Suwon. They had been rumbling north to the aid of Seoul's Red defenders.

There was no let-up to the allied breakthrough in the southeast.

A spokesman said the U.S. force that raced 26 miles Sunday from Sangjuto Poun kept moving today against virtually no resistance.

The Reds were concentrating their defence in the Kunchon area one of the few road centres through which crumbling Communist divisions can escape northward.

That was where the Reds locked in battle Saturday night with tank-led elements of the U.S. 24th Division.

High Casualties

Associated Press correspondent Hal Boyle said the battle has raged continuously since, with casualties heavy on both sides.

The 24th Division fought into Kumchon against Reds dug in on ridges. Clouds of smoke from bursting shells merged over the burning city.

The Reds were caught between two American divisions—the 24th and 1st Cavalry.

"These people haven't sense enough to know their position is hopeless," an American colonel said.

But elsewhere along the front, Reds were surrendering with safe-conduct passes showered on them by Allied planes.

On the southwest front, the U.S. 25th Division entered devastated Chinju, the push-off front of the Red offensive against Pusan in August.

The group struck more than 70 miles in 48 hours.

Reds defended the rubbled city from heights. Allied planes strafed and bombed them.

Along the northern wall northeast of Taegu, the South Korean 8th Division cleaned out Uisong and captured large stores of equipment, including two tanks and five howitzers.

Other South Koreans entered Andong, northeast of Uisong. There they found Red Koreans booby-trapping their dead as well as buildings.

Harvest Moon Will Have Total Eclipse

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—Tonight the harvest moon will be totally eclipsed. The spectacle will be visible over nearly all North America, parts of South America Western Europe and Africa. The northernmost regions of this continent will not see it.

(In Toronto the eclipse will begin at 11.53 p.m., EDT, today and end at 12.39 a.m. Tuesday. At 12.16 a.m. Tuesday the eclipse will be total).

Wherever the sky is clear, the moon will not be black, but a copper color. That color will come from the earth.

As seen from the moon during an eclipse, the earth is a huge, perfectly round black disc, surrounded by one of the most beautiful halos in creation.

The halo is red, and due to the same cause as the red of sunsets. The sun's rays during this period of the eclipse, will be shining directly behind the earth (as seen from the moon) and will shine through the ring of air all around the earth's edges.

This air is more than 200 miles deep, although above the first 10 miles it is rarified. The ring thus seen is a brilliant red near the earth, shading off to lighter red in the outward direction.

The red glow is enough to illiminate the edges of the earth slightly, so that they are pink rather than black.

First Stages

The first stages of the eclipse begin at 9.20 p.m. EDT, This is the moon's entry into the penumbra of the earth's shadow. That part of the show merely darkens the moon's face slightly. Usually only experts can detect the darkening.

At 10.31 p.m. the umbra begins. This is the earth's total black shadow. It will appear as a black curving disc, cutting the moon's glowing edge, and moving slowly across its face. The edge of this shadow has the sharpness of a knife-edge. At 11.54 p.m. totality begins. The moon then is completely covered by the earth's shadow.

The moon begins to emerge at 12.40 a.m. This sight is a glowing bit of the curving edge of the moon moving out from the black—or copperface. The moon leaves the umbra of black shadow, at 2.03 a.m. At 3.13 a.m. the moon leaves the penumbra, ending the spectacle even for astronomers.

Industrial Stocks Climb To New Ground

TORONTO, Sept. 25—(CP)—Industrial stocks rolled further into new high price ground as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Papers again paced the climb. Steels, constructions, refining oils, textiles and foods also showed wide majorities of gains. Most advances were held to fractions although a few leaders showed gains ranging up to more than a point. Canada Cement showed the widest advance, up a 4½ at a new high at 48.

The remainder of the market settled into a narrow and irregular price path. Leading junior and senior and gold producers declined quietly.

Base Metals steadied with gains and losses about balanced. A few market leaders pushed into plus territory. Noranda was a standout and Consolidated Smelters also brightened.

Western Oils sagged slowly but found some mild support in midsession that reduced losses. Declines ranged up to 20 cents and were almost double gains. Volume for the first three hours was 917,000 shares.

Trade Experts Discuss Tariffs

TORQUAY, England, Sept. 25 (AP)—Trade experts of 40 countries meet here Thursday to try to lower tariff barriers which tend to hinder the free flow of trade between countries. Talks will be held under United Nations sponsorship.

Until the mid-1930s the manmade trading barriers did as much as anything to arouse international jealousies and friction, producing countries building high tariff walls.

Like-minded countries which did not compete with one another, banded together to swap concessions or preferences.

Classic examples were the United States and her dependencies and Britain and her dominions. The clash of their competing trading systems impaired political relationships.

Besides the U.S., Britain and the Commonwealth countries, many Latin-American republics, most European states and several Asian states will attend.

West Germany, Austria and Korea are due to be present too. Communist - led Czechoslovakia also will be there.

The conference will be the third since the participating countries began their work in 1947.

Conduct Funeral Rites For Mrs. E. Scarlett

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 25 (ENS)—The Rev. A. E. Toombs of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Dr. D. M. Smith of St. John's United Church, conducted funeral services on Saturday for Abigail Cuttle, widow of the late Edward Scarlett of Campbellford, who died at her home on Grand Road after a lengthy illness. She was in her 87th year. Her husband died some 19 years ago.

Mrs. Scarlett moved to Campbellford from Wellman's Corners 9 years ago. She was born and educated in Madoc.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Southwell (Gertrude) of Campbellford and Mrs. Wm. Downey (Blanche) of Cookstown, and one son, George Ross Scarlett who is in the U.S.A.

Mrs. Scarlett was a member of St. John's United Church, Campbellford and a member of the WCTU.

Pallbearers were Roy, Ernest and Kenneth Holland Ernest McKeel, Robert Fox and Carmen Downey. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mosher Urges Broadening Of Labor Laws

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP) — Broadennig of the field of federal labor laws and improvement in conciliation board procedure in industrial disputes were called for today by Prseident A. R Mosher of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

In his opening address to the CCL's annual convention, Mr Mosher struck out at some unnamed conciliation boards for the tone of their reports.

(The CCL head also is president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, largest unoin engaged in the recent rail strike. He has been sharply critical of the majority findings of two boards that sat on the rail dispute.)

"Reports issued by certain conciliation boards in recent months in industrial disputes which are of vital importance to the public have shown an almost reckless disregard for factual accuracy, and have had consequences which have defeated the very purpose for which conciliation boards are established.

"Some recent board reports have actually resulted in a worsening of labor-management relations. In some cases, decisions are made on considerations of expediency rather than of sound principles."

Need Trained People

Mr. Mosher said the answer might lie partly in developing panels of trained persons, representing the views of labor, management and the general public, to serve on boards.

Dealing with the extension of federal labor laws, he said "labor legislation should be on a national rather than on a provincial basis."

"There is," he said, "a marked distinction by the responsible authorities to attempt to introduce federal legislation or to take the necessary steps to obtain power to do so."

The result was "senseless lack of uniformity" in various provinces, which bewildered workers and unions.

(Federal industrial relations legislation now covers a number of interprovincial industries such as railways, communications, aviation and shipping.)

Motorcycle Ride Cost Two Youths Plenty

COBOURG, Sept. 25 (ENS). — Richard Martinell, Port Hope, who allowed his friend Gordon Palmer of Port Hope to ride his motorcycle on September 8 in Hope Township, when Palmer's licence was under suspension, paid $10, and costs, for that offence. Palmer was fined $25, and costs, for driving while his licence was suspended.

The cases of the three juveniles charged with breaking and entering in August, who have been remanded several times while the court authorities pondered what to do with them, were finally disposed of Saturday.

All three are regarded as below par mentally, but Ontario Hospital officials at Orillia will admit only one of the three boys. Pending his admission he was remanded out of custody to the care of his parents.

The second boy was sent to the military examining board at Kingston to get into the army, but he was turned down. Magistrate R. B. Baxter remanded him out of custody to the care of his father, who will take him on his farm. The third lad was also remanded to the care of his parnets and will be sent back to school.

ROSENEATH, Sept. 25 (ENS) —Seventy dollars was raised by Centenary W.A. at its annual bazaar held in the township hall on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Hilda Arthur, president, officially declared the bazaar open.

This small group of energetic workers had previously held two home cooking sales during the summer months.

Harold Shaw Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP) — Harold Shaw, 69, who was wartime entertainment director of the Toronto Citizens Committee that put on hundreds of shows for troops during the Second World War, died in hospital Saturday. Since the war he had been in charge of entertainment in military hospitals in Ontario. Mr. Shaw was born in England and came to Toronto in 1909.

Believed Drowned

KINGSTON, Sept. 25 (CP)— Alexander David Creasor, 19, son of Mrs. Jean Creasor, of Montreal, is believed to have drowned while paddling in Sydenham Lake Sunday. The canoe in which the lad left from Sydenham early Sunday morning, was found laet in the afternoon, Provincial police, accompanied by district residents, are searching the entire area.

GRAVE FOR TWO—Wrecked Seabee of British Columbia Air Lines is pulled from the sea off Bowen Island near Vancouver after it plunged into the waters carrying two occupants to their deaths. Two others escaped. Drowned were pilot Allen N. Beach and N. J. Labans, a timber worker.

Farewell Party For Steenburghs

HAVELOCK, Sept. 25 (ENS)— Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Floyd Steenburgh, of Victoria settlement, Belmont township, were guests of honor at a farewell party at the Free Methodist parsonage, Cordova Mines, on Friday evening. Relatives and friends of the Victoria and Cordova congregations bid farewell to the couple prior to their leaving the community to make their home in Marmora.

Mr. and Mrs. Steenburgh were presented with a Pumaston wall plaque of the Lord's prayer, and their son, Harrison, received a ball point pen. The address, read by Mr. Douglas Young, signified the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Steenburgh and their son are held.

The presentations were made by Betty Anne Steenburgh and Donna Lee Steenburgh, grandniece and granddaughter respectively of Mr. and Mrs. Steenburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wells, of Marmora, were present and the former showed colored films of Florida and also of local scenes. Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, of Cordova, sang a duet and prayer was ofered by the Rev. A. J. Thaxter. More than 60 attended. Refreshments were served.

Pay Surprise Visit

In addition to the presentation at Cordova the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Steenburgh paid a surprise visit to their home recently and presented them with a tri-light floor lamp.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Fred Ellis and the address was read by Mrs. Vernon Althouse.

After Mrs. Steenburgh's reply the gathering sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds." There were 35 guests. Refreshments brought the social evening to a close.

Mr. Steenburgh purchased the farm where he lives 35 years ago. Now that he is retiring, his son Floyd, of West Virginia, U.S.A., has purchased it. Mr. Floyd Steenburgh and his wife and five children will take up residence there.

LOL Attends Funeral Of Joseph Jones Scott

MARMORA, Sept. 25 (ENS). — The funeral Saturday of Joseph Jones Scott was attended by a large circle of friends and members of the Orange Order. Mr. Scott was a Past Master of Marmora LOL 319.

The cortage left Mr. Scott's house on Madoc St. for St. Paul's Church, where a service was conducted by Rural Dean J. M. Brownlee. By special request, the choir sang "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," and later with the congregation, sang "There is a Blessed Home."

Rural Dean Brownlie delivered a message on the angel's message at Bethlehem, "Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy."

Following the committal in Marmora Protestant cemetery, the burial ritual of the Orange Order was conducted by the Worshipful Master of Marmora Lodge, Wor. Bro. Cecil Holland, assisted by Past County Master Gordon Jones.

Pallbearers were E. C. Prentice, J. Moffatt, E. McFarlane, P. Gordon, F. Matthews and F. Wiley.

LOSS OF THE MAINE

Two hundred and sixty officers and men died when the US battleship Maine blew up in Havana Harbor February 15, 1898.

Frost Hits Tomatoes In Low Lying Areas

COBOURG, Sept. 25 (ENS). — Frost hit tomatoes in low-lying ports of this district Saturday night. Pickers worked hard on Saturday and got a good percentage of the ripe ones in, but there are a great many unripened tomatoes still in the fields. Another frost would cause heavy damage.

Saturday afternoon light snow fell for a few minutes north of Cobourg. A bitterly cold wind made Sunday's sunshine very bleak.

RECORD BEET CROP

Sugar-beet crop in Canada this year is estimated to be about 300,000,000 pounds—largest ever recorded.

Will Increase For Commuters Tickets

OTTAWA, Sept. 25—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners, in an order made public Sunday night, has granted a number of railways the right to increase by 20 per cent their current rates on communters' tickets.

The lines included in the order are the Canadian National Railways, Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Northern Alberta Railways Company, the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company, Montreal and Southern Countries Railway Company, the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway Company.

United States lines included in the order will be affected only so far as their Canadian operations are concerned.

The board also ordered that the railways issue commuter tickets good for 40 trips on the same conditions and at rates 10 per cent less than those now applying on 50-trip tickets. It said the 20-trip tickets, now available only to holders of 50-trip tickets, will be made available to holders of 40-trip tickets.

The new commuter rates will replace higher commuter tariffs proposed by the railway late last year. These proposed tariffs were suspended by the board following receipt of a number of protests by commuters, particularly those in the Montreal area.

The new rates will become effective as soon as the railways file the necessary new tariff schedules with the board.

The board's order with regard to issuance of 40-trip tickets was to meet commuter protests that some of them did not make enough trips to use up the 50-trip tickets within the month of their validity.

U.R. Welcome Club Holds Weiner Roast

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 25 (ENS) — Activities for the fall season of the U. R. Welcome Club of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church got under way on Thursday when the club held a weiner roast at George Bailey's cottage, Percy Boom.

After a devotional period, led by Aileen Hazell and assisted by Alma Wallace, there were a couple of humorous readings by club members. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games and the lunch committee served hot dogs and tea.

Aileen Hazell spoke on behalf of the group and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Bailey for their hospitality. The next meeting will take place in St. Andrew's Church October 5.

Utilities Private Office

The Peterborough Utilities Commission, an elected body, and its General Manager, have a long history of operating in the public service with care, caution and a rare eye to financial solvency. The public money which they always seem to be able to keep in the pot come fire or high water, pays for new mains, wires and other essentials, and still the pot is not empty: a pot of gold, no less. Sometimes the glitter is so splendid that they throw caution to the winds and give the citizens, for instance, a splendid park at the Filtration Plant, complete with a monkey or two, and centenary cakes to hang over our main intersections. They have now decided to give themselves a new office building.

• • •

A new office is required, since their present premises in the old City Buildings are to be vacated when the new City Hall is ready. The Utilities Commission, with sturdy independence, do not want office space in the new City Hall beside other minions of the civic body. They are going to have their very own roof. A corner adjoining the Utilities plant on Aylmer between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie streets was cannily bought last year. Now plans are laid for a new office building there—a modest one estimated to cost some forty thousand dollars of their public money. (The money being spent on the new City Hall—in which space might have been had—is also in a sense a public trust, but it is not their own Utilities Commission kitty.)

• • •

The Dalhousie and Aylmer street site is certainly nearer the centre of population than the new City Hall square; an advantage which most of the public will not appreciate when they come up or down town to shop and pay various bills including the light and water bill. The Aylmer street corner is not as near the shopping centre and as handy to business firms as the present office, or indeed, as the new City Hall square. But the Utilities business office and administration will henceforth all be conveniently together, if cozily isolated.

Hashing Time

Toronto has done it again. In complete disregard of the convenience of the rest of southern Ontario, in fact in the very week that other centres like Peterborough proclaimed their return to Standard Time, Toronto said it was going to keep D.S.T. until the snow flies; in fact, until November 26th, four weeks before Christmas.

Toronto may cajole Hamilton into following suit, but is unlikely to bamboozle other Ontario places. Peterborough went back to Standard Time last Sunday. It was time it did. School is in and young children need their early evening sleep. Dawn is late, and workmen do not want to be leaving home before the sun rises. Summer has ended and the delights of autumn nights are at hand. Why shorten them by an hour?

An hour's difference in time between Toronto and the rest of Southern Ontario is confusing and annoying. Business men, having to commute or telephone, are muddled. Travellers are confounded. Train and bus schedules are put awry. Mail and truck deliveries are disturbed. There are stronger reasons for having uniform time in southern Ontario than there are for Toronto's postponing its return to Standard Time almost until December. But it should not always be the task of other centres to adjust themselves to Toronto's caprices.

It is proper for Toronto to do a little kow-towing to the rest of Ontario, and keep in time-line with outside centres. What would Toronto be without its feeder centres like Peterborough? A muddy settlement on the lake shore with its two small rivers for open sewers and main streets. Toronto's high-handed hoiking of hours, without due notice and without consulting other places affected, is the latest instance of the conduct which makes that city unloved except by Torontonians.

Dr. Austin Rand, an expert on birds, says the owl is the stupidest of fowls, while the noisy birds, such as jays and crows, are the most intelligent. This supports what we have long maintained about humans—that those who have anything to say are ready to say it, and that the silent as stupid more often than they are profound.

Politician At Work

Officials of the Democratic Party in California had become increasingly uneasy as the political campaign in that state progressed. For the governorship, their candidate was James Roosevelt, son of the late Franklin Roosevelt, and his candidacy made a visit by his politically adept mother imperative. If Eleanor Roosevelt failed to go west and say a good word for James, the Republicans would certainly use that failure as political ammunition.

The Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, however, is Helen Gahagan Douglas, a staunch member of the party and long a friend of Mrs. Roosevelt's, but by no means friendly toward James. In fact, it was an open secret that Mrs. Douglas was rather less than lukewarm regarding James' nomination, and that the latter was doing nothing to help the former's campaign. It had even been hinted that James had done very little to help his own cause. So the officials were worried about how Mrs. Roosevelt would manage to give her support to two candidates obviously antagonistic, despite the fact they were running under the same party label.

They could have spared themselves the trouble of worrying, for they were treated to the sight of a politician at work. Mrs. Roosevelt carried both candidates off to her son's home, and began talking—about international affairs, with occasional references to strictly family matters. During her entire visit, the California campaign received about one minute's attention from her, when speaking publicly. Yet she was roundly applauded by large audiences, and none could say she had not done well for both James and Helen.

James Roosevelt has been active politically, and with some success, since his father's death. Franklin, Jr., has perhaps shown even greater political promise. Their mother, however, seems to rate second only to her late husband for political adeptness in the family.

Is Tipping Really An Evil?

Several Canadian newspapers have commented recently on the custom of tipping; they have done so because tipping is being widely discussed in Britain, where a government commission has been investigating the subject—particularly as it relates to hotels and restaurants—for some time. We are interested to find that most of our contemporaries share two opinions: (1) that nothing can be done to stop tipping; (2) that tipping is a bad thing.

We do not agree with either opinion. Tipping can be stopped. The Trans-Canada Airlines have stopped it on their planes by forbidding their employees to accept tips, and by asking their customers not to offer tips. They also pay their employees wages which make tips unnecessary. In many hotels and restaurants wages are small, and yet people are eager to accept the jobs they offer because they can make far more than their wages out of tips.

Why is a tip a bad thing? It is a direct payment to a man or woman who has done something for you. We see nothing wrong with direct payment for service rendered. We dislike "gyp" tipping, such as the obligatory quarter which everybody on a chair car gives to the porter, though he may have done no more than brush a hat. But most tipping is related to a service done. Why, then, do newspapers which support free enterprise object to it? If a waiter takes special pains to make you comfortable in a restaurant, or if a chambermaid gets you three pillows instead of one, or if a man blacks your shoes the way you like them, why should you not give him a commensurate reward?

It has been suggested that tipping a man puts him in a servile position. We do not agree. If he is in a job where he is likely to be tipped, he is already in a servile position—that is to say, he is a servant. And what is wrong with being a servant? Somebody must do the menial jobs, and the man who does them well is a successful and probably a happy man. There must be an honest and mature recognition of the fact that not all people are of equal capacity.

Tipping is rather a nuisance. But we think that it is so because most people on this continent tip too much. Ten cents is looked at askance, and even a quarter has lost much of its magic. But if we cannot get rid of tipping—for we do not suppose that the methods which prevail in the T.C.A. will be widely copied—we can revise our scale of tipping. Ten cents for a small job; a quarter for a troublesome job; anything above that to be decided on merit. And if those who receive tips do not like this scale, let them remember that nobody is obliged by law to give them anything at all over and above their wages.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Calgary Herald states that "the average girl's waist measures 28 inches". An isolated statistic like that tells us nothing. A girl whose waist is 28, may easily have a bust measure of 20, and a hip measure of 38. And then what have you got? A human pear, that's what!

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

THE Centennial Service in the Civic Arena on the evening of September 17 was remarkable in many ways. It was probably the largest religious service ever held in the history of this city. The musical arrangements were no less remarkable. I very much regret that it would be out of place for me to offer any criticism (favourable or adverse), as I was amongst the 200-odd participants, and would lay myself open to the charge of personal bias whatever I said. I would however heartily endorse the suggestion made at the service by more than one speaker that the choirs that sang that evening should get together again. So far as I know it was the first occasion that there has been such a large and representative gathering of members of all choirs in the city. It was very appropriate that the anthem chosen should have been written by a Peterborough man, Mr. Frederick Mann, doyen of city organists, who has done so much to uphold the dignity of the musical profession and been so active in philanthropic works in this city. I was pleasantly surprised by the acoustic properties of the arena. They are somewhat better than one finds in a hall that has been specifically built for concerts. The main drawback is the site of the place, which makes it hard to fill except with a large choir or band. I am averse to loud speakers, as they distort the quality of the sound. It is better to place a soundboard over the platform to increase the resonance and to prevent the soundwaves from losing themselves in the roof.

◆ ◆ ◆

CENTENARIES are very much in vogue nowadays. Is it because so little of a memorable nature occurs? I wonder how many things they will be commemorating in 2050. This year we have commemorated the bicentenary of Bach, the centenary of the City of Peterborough, and the centenary of the Derby hat. My attention is also drawn by a reader to the fact that on August 28, 1850, the first performance of Wagner's opera "Lohengrin" took place. The work had actually been completed two years earlier. Then in 1849 came rioting and political unrest in Dresden, where Wagner was Court Kapellmeister in charge of the operatic performances. Wagner himself was implicated in the disturbances and orders for his arrest as a "politically dangerous individual" were issued. Unlike Socrates under similar circumstances he was not inclined to "face the music", and through the intervention of Liszt he was enabled to escape to Paris, the scene of his earlier privations. Unsuccessful once again in gaining a footing in Paris it was Liszt who acted the part of fairy godmother to him. Gratitude was never Wagner's strong point, but the following passage, written in 1851, shows that even Wagner had some inklings of that generous emotion. Referring to his exile he writes, "Again I was thoroughly disheartened from undertaking any new artistic scheme. Only recently I had had proofs of the impossibility of making my art intelligible to the public, and all this deterred me from beginning new dramatic works. Indeed, I thought that everything was at an end with my artistic creativeness. From this state of mental objection I was raised by a friend. By most evident proofs he made me feel that I was not deserted, but, on the contrary, understood deeply by those even who were otherwise most distant from me; in this way he gave me back my full artistic confidence. This wonderful friend has been to me Franz Liszt".

◆ ◆ ◆

WAGNER had a considerably stronger craving for recognition than is common in composers. At that time he was friendless—later on he surrounded himself with a coterie of uncritical admirers who had unconditionally surrendered to his spell—but it can be seen that Liszt's intervention at this period was of critical importance. Without it Wagner might conceivably have given up the struggle for recognition and ceased composing. Without Liszt there might have been no Tristan, no Meistersinger, no Ring, no Parsifal. How unlike Schubert, for instance, who kept on pouring out Symphonies, Masses, Chamber Music and songs which were for the most part never performed in his lifetime. This may or may not have preyed on his mind (we have no record), but it certainly did not interfere with his output, which was enormous. But let us return to Wagner. He continues later on "At the end of my first stay in Paris, when ill, miserable, and despairing, I sat brooding over my fate, my eye fell on the score of my "Lohengrin"; totally forgotten by me. Suddenly I felt something like compassion that this music should never sound from off the death-pale paper. Two words I wrote to Liszt; his answer was the news that preparations for the performance were being made on the largest scale the limited means of Weimar would permit. Everything that men and circumstances could do was done in order to make the work understood. Errors and misconceptions impeded the desired success. What was to be done to supply what was wanted, so as to further the true understanding on all sides, and with it the ultimate success of the work? Liszt saw it at once, and did it. He gave to the public his own impression of the work in a manner, the convincing eloquence and overpowering efficacy of which remain unequalled. Success was his reward, and with this success he now approaches me, saying: "Behold, we have come so far; now create us a new work that we may go still further."

◆ ◆ ◆

THE date of the first performance, August 28, was also the 101st anniversary of the birth of Goethe, who spent the last half of his long life in Weimar. At the same time a statue to the German writer Herder, to whom the young Goethe was so indebted, was inaugurated. Though the critics gave Lohengrin a mixed reception there is no doubt this performance did much to establish Wagner's reputation. Liszt had invited musical and literary friends from all over Europe, and they would be bound to spread his fame on their return. During Wagner's own lifetime it proved the most successful of all his works, and in this year of grace the Bridal Chorus from it, together with the Mendelssohn Wedding March (which I mentioned earlier this month), forms an almost indispensible part of a musical wedding service. Let us hope that the newly-wedded bride takes to heart the moral of "Lohengrin" and refrains from asking her bridegroom inconvenient questions!

A Naive Admission of Featherbedding

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

WE have occasionally read statements from railwaymen and railway unions denying that the practice known as featherbedding exists in this country, but they may find it difficult to explain a letter published recently in a Toronto newspaper. The letter was signed "Locomotive Fireman", and The Financial Post describes it fittingly as "a naive admission". The correspondent criticizes a previous letter to the editor which advocated Dieselization of the railroads as a cure for the smoke nuisance, and then wrote as follows:

"I wonder if the public realizes that if the railways were to fully dieselize, thousands of railroaders, such as boilermakers, ashpit men, coal chute men, lighters-up, pumping station men, etc., would be unemployed. Also many trainmen would be laid off because there would be fewer trains as the diesels would pull more due to the fact that two or three units could be coupled together and still be operated by just two men. I would like to further state that the railways are not getting a fair deal. They have to build and maintain their own roadbeds which costs millions, while their competitors travel on roads maintained mostly by the taxpayer."

So free an admission of featherbedding is unexpected from one who is, according to his signature, a railway worker. The correspondent points out that two men could handle the work that now requires approximately a dozen men. At the same time, he is opposed to such a change, presumably on the ground that the men displaced might be forced to seek more useful occupations.

It is an old argument. We do not know when it was first used, but it is not unlikely that some plaint of that nature was heard when the wheel was first invented, since a platform on wheels could carry more than a man or woman; consequently, a number of human bearers would be displaced. We do know, however, that when machines for processing certain kinds of cloths were first installed in Britain, men who had processed cloth by hand condemned the machinery bitterly, rioted and wrecked some of the mills and new machinery. There were prophecies of increasing unemployment, but they eventually proved false. And whenever new methods or new machines have displaced men, similar prophecies have been heard—yet today, in the most highly mechanized nations, record high levels of employment prevail among greatly increased populations. Furthermore, standards of living have risen in those nations, along with the growth of mechanization and population.

The correspondent's reference to motor trucks is not altogether fair. Transport companies pay very substantial taxes on the fuel they use, even though their roadbeds are maintained by public funds. It might also be pointed out that the taxpayers of Canada, in one way or another, are paying a percentage of the cost of operating a railroad. And all railway users, by the frank admission of "Locomotive Fireman", are paying to keep men at work when large numbers of them could be replaced by machines — this at a time when Canada's railways are far from prosperous.

With the regularly recurring deficits of the C.N.R., with the possibility that subsidies or public ownership may become necessary to keep the C.P.R. in operation, both systems must seek to reduce operating costs. They find, however, that one of the most effective methods of doing so—gradually, for as a matter of both fairness and common sense it neither should nor could be done overnight—is flatly opposed by workers who believe that featherbedding comes first.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Moses spake unto the children of Israel, according unto all that the Lord had given him in commandment unto them.... Behold, I have set the land before you: go in and possess the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give unto them and to their seed after them. (Deut. 1: 3, 8.)

◆ ◆ ◆

Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgements, even as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land hither ye go to possess it. Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. (Deut. 4: 5, 6.)

◆ ◆ ◆

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. (Isa. 55: 7-9.)

◆ ◆ ◆

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.... She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.... Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her.... The wise shall inherit glory. (Prov. 3: 13, 15, 17, 18, 35.)

Junior Farmers

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

There's an old story about a dim-witted city slicker who said to the farmer: "Do you keep cows?" The farmer looked at him disdainfully. "Certainly not", he replied. "My cows keep me."

The fact remains that in the past quite a few farmers did keep cows which were poor producers and didn't give enough milk to pay for their stall and feed. Those days are gone now—and junior farmers' clubs are one of the reasons.

Youngsters who belong to these groups quickly learn to pick out good animals from bad.

Art Unchanged

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

The California judge who gets the test case of two young drivers of midget automobiles will need the wisdom of Solomon. The pair received citations for parking two cars in one space and refusing to put more than one nickel in the parking meter.

Bald men are said to be watching the case with interest. If the ruling is in favour of the young drivers, men with only a fringe of hair will be encouraged to take their case to court to see whether they can get two haircuts for the price of one. Seems a similar principle is involved.

Ex-Liberal President, Arthur Haines, Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 25—(CP)—Arthur Judson Haines, 72, former president of the Ontario Liberal Association and member of the Ontario Legislature for Lincoln constituency from 1937 to 1941, died in hospital Sunday.

Mr. Haines, formerly a member of the Niagara Falls Parks Commission and chairman of the Rainbow Bridge Commission, resigned his seat in the legislature in August, 1941 in protest against the granting of a beer-and-wine license to a St. Catharines hotel adjoining the local arena.

One of the founders of the Jordan winery in 1920, he retired some years later to confine his activities to fruit-growing.

Rail Mail Clerks Expect Increase

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—Salary increases for about 1,300 Canadian railway mail clerks were forecast Sunday by C. R. Copeland, president of the Canadian Railway Mail Clerks' Federation.

Speaking at a banquet given by London district of the association in honor of two retiring members, Mr. Copeland said "prospects for salary increases were good."

Negotiations were being carried on in Ottawa now, he said, and he expected the announcement of the increases before parliament re-assembles in February.

Mr Copeland said he did not expect the increase to go into effect before next April.

About 60 members of the association, from many parts of Western Ontario, gathered to pay tribute to Ralph Hedger, of London, and Noble C. Lanaway, of Goderich, who are retiring because of ill health.

Thrown From Car

WEST CARTHAGE, N.Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Edith Mae McCormick, 50, of Morrisburg, Ont., was fatally injured Sunday when she was thrown from an automobile in which she was riding when it crashed with another vehicle. Police said her husband, Leslie J. McCormick, and a daughter, Patricia, 21, were only slightly hurt. The accident occurred at nearby Munns Corners.

Prehistoric Migration Proven In Alaska

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25 (AP)—Discovery of the first proof of prehistoric migration across the Bering Straits from Asia to Alaska was announced Saturday by the University of Pennsylvania Museum.

Dr. Froelich G. Rainey, museum director, said his associates on the "largest archaeological expedition ever sent to the Arctic had found relics of what may be the earliest human settlements in North America.

The discoveries were described as perhaps the first reliable evidence substantiating the old theory that the inhabitants of this continent were primitive Nomads who crossed the Bering Straits in the Stone Age.

British Peer Now Bankrupt

BATH, England, Sept. 25 (Reuters.)—Britain's tallest peer, six-foot-seven Lord Brougham and Vaux, who inherited about £500,000 from his grandfather, is broke. In fact, he is more than £18,000 in debt.

Lord Brougham, 41, told a bankruptcy court here Saturday his bad luck dated from the night in 1932 when he lost more than £100,000 in a casino while taking on the open bank single-handed in baccarat.

He agreed he had been guilty of unjustifiable extravagance.

Though he stopped gambling after the big loss of 1932, his debts had mounted steadily in the last few years. Since 1948, creditors had brought continuous actions against him.

Recently, earning £8 a week working for a company formed to sell his estate, he lived in a stableman's cottage.

He told the last meeting of creditors he hoped to settle his debts infull by 1953, when his son, now at Eton, will be 21. The son will then inherit about £100,000 from a trust fund set up his father.

The court adjourned the hearing to Dec. 22.

Milk Plant Burns

NEWBURGH, Sept. 25 (CP) — Fire Sunday night destroyed the Newburgh Milk Products Company plant in this village seven miles northeast of Napanee. Fire department officials estimated the loss at $400,000. The company manufactured butter, cheese and powdered milk.

in the face of death
the real-life story of a cancer victim

What would you be thinking and doing in your last precious months of life — if you were soon to die of cancer? In The Standard this week, Mr. C. T. Russell, for whom cancer has marked a date on the calendar, continues his deeply-moving testimony with a stirring plea against legalized mercy killing. He tells how he changed from "a miserable introvert" into a man with peace of mind in the face of suffering and approaching death. His diary this week is a courageous story of his struggle to make the most of his remaining days at work — at home — at play — strengthened by abiding religious convictions.

The Standard is privileged to print Mr. Russell's story "In the Face of Death", in the hope that it will offer strength and inspiration to all who read it.

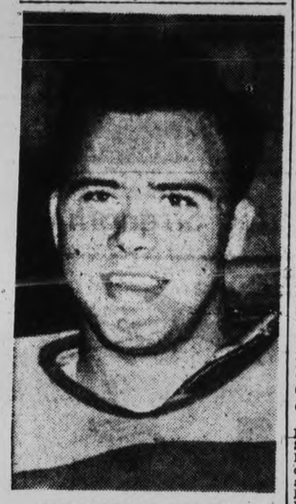
Fumbles Hurt The Orfuns As Ghosts Gain 10-3 Win

What makes the coach's language hot,
What makes home fans perspire,
When the grid machine stops rollin'
And commences to backfire?

It isn't just the rival squad
Which local players blame:
It's that everlastin' fumble
That undopes a football game.

(Chorus)
Oh, the unexpected fumble,
That butter-fingered shame;
It's the everlastin' fumble
That undopes a football game.
(Copywrit)



And so Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts racked up a 10-3 ORFU senior "B" victory over Peterborough's Orfuns Saturday on a windswept gridiron by Lake Ontario. Quite a few frostbitten fans saw an exciting open game, and quite a few shillings changed hands afterwards. It was Cobourg's second win in two starts and the second reverse for Orfuns, who have Orillia to contend with here this Wednesday.

A Peterborough fumble gave the Speedy Spirits an unconverted try in the first quarter, Cooper's kick to Peachy deep in Orfun territory being dropped and Currelly snatching the leather lemon for the touchdown. Don McGillis fell on a Cobourg fumble in the second heat and Bill Huntley kicked a 30-yard field goal for the Bamforth bunch. Cobourg earned a try (not converted) in the third on a long forward fling by Cooper and a finger-tip catch by Hawkins who ran 20, and there was no score in the fourth, but Orfuns messed up an almost sure touchdown on an extension in the fourth from the Cobourg 20-yard chalk, a fumble on a lateral when in the clear giving Cobourg possession.

Prove Costly

While Cobourg had five fumbles to Orfuns' four, the latter proved more costly. The heavier Ghosts—who have a speedy backfield—clicked on three forward passes while the losers got only one, both sides having several incomplete and some intercepted. First downs were almost even, Cobourg getting nine to Peterborough's eight. Through the first half, Orfuns drove up the field several times and looked the better club, but in the last half the Ghosts proved better opportunists.

Cooper, Darragh and Medhurst shone in the backfield for the winners, with Currelly, Bevan, Smith and Hawkins prominent throughout as the whole squad played well in the tight game. Bill Huntley, Spike Matthews, Russ Scriver and Ron Hodgson turned in a terrific effort for the visitors with Jim Conlin, Gord Beatty, Frank Fitzgerald and Don McGillis catching the eye with fine charging, blocking or tackling. Wally Farr was another effective lineman, but the whole team toiled hard. Three Toronto imports Murray Sullivan, Babe Levantis and Ken McKim, showed well and Chuck Paul (who arrived late) proved he could kick. All in all, it was a most even and rather open game between two strong, well-matched squads, but Cobourg cashed in on breaks to get the verdict.

ONLY SCORE—Bill Huntley got the only Orfuns' score Saturday in Cobourg, kicking a field goal, as the Ghosts downed Orfuns 10-3. Huntley did some great plunging all through the hot scrap.

Orfuns. Flying wing, Conlin; halves, Peachy, Huntley, Matthews; quarter, Scriver; snap, Beatty; insides Masters, DeCarlo; middles, F. Fitzgerald, Farr; outsides, D. McGillis, Dalton; alternates, Hill, Fraser, Paul, Baker, Burns, Lynch, Archibald, Davidson, McKim, Bartley, R. Fitzgerald, Sullivan, Levantis, Thompson, Hodgson, J. McGillis, Bonney.

Cobourg: Flying wing, Currelly; halves, Bevan, Darragh, Medhurst; quarter, Cooper; snap, Longhurst; insides, Seale Jarvis; middles, Burdick, Holman; outsides, Hircock, Hawkins; alternates, McConvey, Poynton, Saunders, Lewis, Bradin, Lees, McNally, Douglas, Smith, Martin, Hamilton, McMinn, Forster, Campbell Baker, McGuire.

Officials, L. Deadey, R. Kuance, J. Ferrier.

Summary:
First Quarter
Cobourg 5—Currelly's try.
Second Quarter
Orfuns 3—Huntley's placement
Third Quarter
Cobourg 5—Hawkins' try.
Fourth Quarter
No score.

Napanee Defeats Cobourg Team 5-2

NAPANEE, Sept. 25—Napanee defeated Cobourg 5-2 here Saturday in the first game of the OBA Intermediate Eastern "B" playdowns. Cobourg took the lead in the fourth inning when Cleary and F. Goody opened with successive triples and the latter scored on an overthrow. After the flurry McTaggart was the master.

The Napanee pitcher retired 12 in a row and although Cobourg had two on in the eighth and ninth he easily snubbed any scoring threat.

Joe Jocko had three hits in four tries for Cobourg, batted in three runs and handled eight fielding chances at third base flawlessly. McMillan had two hits for Cobourg.

Local Juvenile Ballsters Oust Oshawa

Lefty Spike Batchelor pitched Len Symond's battling juvenile baseball squad to the lakeshore title Saturday, in Oshawa, as they handed the Motor boys a 10-3 defeat in the fourth game of a best-three-series, before a large crowd.

Prior to Saturday, the teams had each won a game by a margin of one run while the second game ended in a tie. Thus the locals qualify to advance further in the OBA playdowns this week (probably against Toronto).

Batchelor fanned 11, gave seven scattered hits and passed four in a fine effort besides proving potent with the willow as well. He hit safely twice and drove in a run.

Bunched Blows

Petes bunched hits in the third and fourth for six runs as the big bats of Murph McGrath (who caught a great game), Lawrence Foley and Roger Wilson clicked when hits meant runs. Wilson drove in two in the third and Foley a pair in the fourth, while Brian Young, Bob Gandy and Leo Sullivan starred afield and at bat in the pinch. But the whole crew went well in a splendid showing.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

In spite of that bleak northwest wind that blew across the greens from early morning until sunset, the local club went ahead on Saturday with the open mixed doubles tournament, as advertised.

And once again, in spite of the cold day the attendance of 18 pairs was quite gratifying. The entry would have been much larger had it been a fine day. Many withdrew early Saturday morning when the weather man said "cloudy and quite cool."

One game was played before the noon hour and two games during the afternoon. As far as we know that is the last open tournament for this season.

And while this is in no way official, it is our opinion that unless the weather warms up considerably this week, as far as lawn bowling for 1950 is concerned, we've had it.

Sports In Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 25 (ENS).—Sport fans had plenty to see in Cobourg over the weekend. Saturday afternoon, the Cobourg Galloping Ghosts defeated Peterborough Orfuns, 10-3 in a Senior "B" rugby fixture. Also on Saturday afternoon Kin Tigers lost to New Toronto, 14-15 in a juvenile softball play-off, the locals blowing up to lose a game that appeared on ice. In the evening the Legion lost to Port Robinson in a junior softball playoff game, by the score of 10-13. Down at Napanee Cobourg was defeated by Napanee by the score of 5-2 in the first of a best out of five provincial intermediate "B" OBA playoffs.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Can't help thinking with regret of the sudden passing of Vern Dawson, president of the senior ball club. Though we're glad his dream of floodlights in Riverside was fulfilled before he died. He became an officer of the club back in '33, being vice-president for some years ere taking over the presidency—besides being on the COBL executive. Big Vern was a genial man and yet a tireless worker for sports, also aiding minor ball here financially. The only times our friendship of 17 years ever became strained were when he thought we mentioned his name in the paper unnecessarily. He didn't want credit for anything he did. Baseball circles here will miss him sorely.

No Time To Fool Now

Our ORFU senior "B" Orfuns can't mess around any more. They have to get in Wednesday and beat Orillia Bombers here that night, or they've had it. First loss—that 1-0 heartbreaker to Oshawa Raiders—didn't cause undue alarm, but that 10-3 reverse to the Ghosts in Cobourg makes it serious. Another defeat would be fatal. Yet the Bamforth squad (which only now is up to full strength, apart from Doug Plunkett) feel they can beat any club in this tough group. Bad breaks beat 'em twice in close contests—and we don't mean to take a thing away from strong opponents. But fumbles have been Orfuns' downfall so far, and they certainly rate better breaks from here on in. With a full squad out, they ought to take Orillia, while Oshawa and Cobourg are softening each other up. Locals also get return cracks at Oshawa and Cobourg.

Russ Scriver, Spike Matthews, Bill Huntley, Ron Hodgson and several more turned in a whale of an effort Saturday. Guys like Don McGillis, Wally Farr, Frank Fitzgerald, Gord Beatty and some more. With three Toronto imports, Murray Sullivan, Ken McKim and Babe Levantis, showing plenty of promise. This team is bound to really roll. Outplayed the heavier Ghosts the first half but fumbles beat them. Yet, Cooper and Co. were pretty terrific, too. A powerful pack and a swell scrap as play moved up and down the field with lots of open action to make one forget about frostbite.

Other Football Action

It looks now like the only grid game here this week will be the Wednesday one. PCVS seniors are off to Toronto on Friday to play the strong East York crew, while St. Peter's seniors open their schedule in Toronto at Oakwood Stadium on Friday, also. Saturday sees the PCVS junior "A" pack starting regular play in Oshawa. Quite a few former PCI-ers saw action Saturday when Queen's beat Guelph Aggies 17-5. Moe Richardson and Jack Sisson each counted a touchdown for Queen's, while Griffin and McIlveen also wore the Tricolor. Gray, Graham and Dewart labored in the Aggies' lineup.

Len Symonds' local juvenile baseballers won 10-3 in Oshawa on Saturday to take that OBA series in four games, one being a draw. Lefty Batchelor scattered seven hits for the young Petes as he fanned 11 and helped his cause at bat. Murphy McGrath, Larry Foley and Rog Wilson were also healthy at the plate, and the whole team clicked well. They may meet Mimico next in provincial playdowns. Our bantams go to Ottawa Saturday, while the local peewees are kicking plenty because Ottawa sent last-minute word Saturday that they couldn't make it here for their week-end OBA game. The Ontario body may chuck out the Ottawa entry for failure to appear for the scheduled playoff.

Flying Dutchmen In

By The Canadian Press.

The in-and-out Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen dealt themselves back into the Ontario Hockey Association senior circuit Sunday after the OHA executive upheld them in a player dispute with Toronto Marlboros.

The Dutchmen whose entry this year looked doubtful in midsummer, announced Saturday they were pulling out because Marlboros refused to release Dinny Flanagan, former Stratford junior.

OHA secretary George Panter told coach Walter Schaefer of Kitchener that the OHA will rule Flanagan is Kitchener-Waterloo property because he signed a playing certificate with the club. That put the Dutchmen back in the league.

A NEW HAWK—Goaltender Harry Lumley goes into action for his new bosses—Chicago Black Hawks—at the National Hockey League team's North Bay training camp. The Black Hawks got Lumley in a five-for-three player deal with the Detroit Red Wings, defending Stanley Cup champions.

OGA Tourney Taken By Phil Farley

Phil Farley of Scarboro led the way at the Peterborough Golf Club on Saturday in the OGA district fall tournament, carding 73 (three over par) for first gross in Class "A". E. A. Nerlick of Thornhill had second gross of 79. Seventy competed in cold, windy weather, under direction of E. H. Banks, OGA tourney manager.

In Class "A", first net was taken by Fred Hollowell of Peterborough Club with 73, Bill Tredway of Scarboro having a 74. Dave Watson of Scarboro had best gross in Class "B" with 83, a stroke better than Herb Bradburn of Peterborough. Gord Burns' 68 gave the Kawartha Club entry best net, and Howard McLean of Kawartha was next with 71. In Class "C", 76-year-old J. E. Cassan of Islington had best gross of 91, his caddy being his cousin, 81-year-old W. Cassan. Bob Green of Peterborough had 93. Eddie O'Toole of Peterborough had first net of 70, two better than Joe Frost of Peterborough.

Poor Weather

The inclement weather kept down the entry, only two entering from Kawartha Club, and the strong day-long wind hurt play to some extent, but OGA and club officials agreed that it was a succesful tournament under the climatic conditions. Bob Abbott of the OGA exectuive was in attendance, and Stan Payne looked after the details.

Club president G. H. Cutmore welcomed the visiting golfers and guests to the Peterborough Club, and officials and guests were entertained at an informal dinner in the evening at which Mr. Banks congratulated the club on conducting the tournament so well.

Max Bentley Arrives At Maple Leaf Camp

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—Max Bentley, Toronto Maple Leafs' deceptive-skating centre, joined the National Hockey League club at its training camp Sunday night after completing a special leave to harvest his wheat crop at Delisle, Sask.

Max said his brother, Doug., came east on the same train and joined Chicago Black Hawks at their North Bay camp.

Leafs' only remaining absentee is rightwinger Bill Ezinicki, who is at his Winnipeg home complaining of ill health.

Bantams Lose To Ports In OLA Series

Port Dalhousie Lions defeated Barney Dundas' local bantams on Saturday night at Miller Bowl by a score of 18-11 to win the round and the Ontario Lacrosse Association title. The locals went down battling hard to the end against a heavier team.

Led by Bud McDougall, Petes took an early four-goal lead in the first quarter and seemed headed for a one-sided victory. The Ports steadied down, however, and managed to hold the short side of a 5-3 margin as the bell sounded. At half-time the visitors led 7-6 as play see-sawed back and forth at a dizzy clip with little to choose as the boys gave all they had coming and going. With an 11-8 margin at three-quarters, Ports put on a spurt to enjoy their best effort in the final with seven tallies to salt it away.

Selikan and Roy with 16 points between them were best for Ports with Eckart brilliant; and for the Petes, Bud McDougall, Simmons, Davis, Cournyea, Board, Hunt and Sutherland all scored with McDougall netting five and two assists. The teams:

Port Dalhousie Lions — Goal, Eckhart; defence, Hope, Daniels; centre, Selikan; wings, Mower, Montague; rover, Roy; alternates, Long, Benson, Hall, Parkins, Baker, Lee, Rhodes, Holman spare goalie.

Petes — Goal, MacInnes; defence, Simmons, Board; centre, Sutherland; wings, Hunt, Davis; rover, Cournyea; alternates, Heffernan, Doris, Kane, Murphy, Chambers, Roberts, McDougall.

Referees — Tiger Hewitt, Bill Mackie.

PMHA Executive Makes Plans For Big Season

At the first meeting of the PMHA for this season in the YMCA, the association's financial statement for the first time in its history showed a creditable cash balance. Officers this year are: President, Les Mountney; vice-president and timer, Johnny Russelle; secretary-treasurer, Ed. Faux; chairman in charge of referees and protests, Earl Druery; Chairman of schedules and publicity, Arn Olmstead.

Entries will be received for bantam, midget and juvenile series by Ed Faux, 397 George St. N. until Oct. 13. These entries are to be in writing and must have the team name and that of the manager and coach. Last year's teams will be given preference.

Players' certificates will be mailed to managers right after the closing date for entries. Referees are to contact Earl Druery, 151 Cameron St., by letter at once. The next open monthly meeting will be held late in October. In the meantime, items for executive or committee action should be sent to the secretary-treasurer.

Seelie Samara And Hi Lee To Open Wrestling Season

Two of the strongest performers in the professional wrestling ring today will head line the opening mat bout of the season Tuesday night in the Brock Arena. They are Seelie Samara and Hi Lee. Seelie is a fast-moving big Negro and strong as an ox, while the towering and scowling Texan has height and poundage to spare—as well as a bag full of the nastier tricks of this rough game. Few wrestlers come as big as Lee and none come any more villainous. It promises to be a sizzling bout to whet the appetites of impatient city and district grapple followers.

Sky-Hi Lee

The semi-final on this opening card sounds like a civil war in Southern Ireland, bringing Pat O'Shocker and Pat Flanagan in against each other. The latter Pat is well known for his hot ring action and O'Shocker will have to be good to hold his own in this one. Abe Zvonkin tackles Jack Moore in the prelim, both being husky and ring-wise battlers. Zvonkin is a former rugby player. The whole program appears to be a fine start for the seasons which runs locally every Tuesday night through the winter months. Mat fans are asked to keep Tuesday in mind.

Robinson's Prize Boner Blow To Tigers Pennant Hopes

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1950 American League pennan race is just above over but it will long be remembered as the year Catcher Aaron Robinson pulled one of the biggest "boners" in baseball history.

Robinson's blunder gave Cleveland Indians a 2-1, 10-inning victory over Detroit Sunday and practically erased the Tigers' pennant hopes.

The defeat dropped the second-place Tigers 2½ games behind New York Yankees who knocked third-place Boston almost out of contention by trouncing the Red Sox 9-5.

The Yanks need only six victories of their remaining eight games to clinch their second straight championship. If the Yanks win only four, the Tigers must win all of their seven to beat them out.

Robinson's rock happened this way:

With the scored tied 1-1 in the 10th, Bob Lemon led off with a triple. Tiger Manager Red Rolfe ordered Ted Gray to walk the next two batters to set up a force play at every base.

Larry Doby popped to first-baseman Don Kolloway, Luke Easter followed by a grounder to Kolloway. Kolloway stepped on first to retire Easter and pegged to Robinson who stomped on the plate while Lemon was starting his slide about eight feet away.

Didn't Tag Lemon

Umpire Bill Summers thumbed Lemon out but the pitcher slid across the plate. Robinson, apparently thinking he still had a force play, made no attempt to tag Lemon. The Cleveland bench dashed at Summers and when it was pointed out that Lemon had to be tagged in order to be declared out, Summer reversed his decision.

Robinson said later he thought Kolloway hadn't tried to touch first base before firing the ball to the plate.

"When Easter hit that ball down the first base line, I saw Kolloway field it but Easter is such a big guy that he had my vision blocked off and I never saw Don touch first base for the out.

"When I got the ball I stepped on home figuring it was a force-out."

Lemon Stars

Lemon was the whole works as he stopped the Tigers on five hits for his 22nd victory and scored both runs. Lemon socked his sixth homer in the fourth and Johnny Lipon tied it in the seventh with his first homer of the year. That's how matters remained until the Robinson "incident."

The Yanks had fairly easy sailing against the Red Sox before 66,924 fans at Yankee Stadium as they blasted five Boston pitchers for 15 hits. Vic Raschi allowed six hits, posting his 21st victory.

Two home runs by Ted Williams and another by Bobby Doerr accounted for half the Red Sox hits.

In remaining American League games, Washington Senators tripped Philadelphia Athletics 3-1 and St. Louis Browns dumped Chicago White Sox twice, 5-0 and 6-1.

Plastered by Dodgers

Philadelphia Phillies lost ground in the National League race as the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers plastered them 11-0. The Dodgers now trail by five games. Right-hander Erv Palica tamed the Phils on two hits and featured a game-winning, six-run rally in the fifth with a grand slam homer.

To clinch the pennant, the Phils must win six of their nine games, all on the road. The Dodgers, winners of six straight, have 11 games left, all at Ebbets Field.

In other National League games New York Giants defeated Boston Braves 12-4, Chicago Cubs trounced St. Louis Cardinals 8-3 while Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates divided a double-header. The Reds won the opener 7-1 behind Ewell Blackwell, and the Pirates the nightcap 3-2.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press.

Pitching — Erv. Palica, Dodgers, pitched Brooklyn to 11-0 two-hit victory over Philadelphia and contributed grand slam homer to aid his own cause.

Batting — Yogi Berra, Yanks, banged out four hits, drove in two runs and scored one to pace New York to 9-5 victory over Boston.

Hint Shotton To Join Pirate Team

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Burt Shotton says he isn't going to retire from baseball yet which strengthens the rumors that Branch Rickey will become general manager of Pittsburgh Pirates after he sells his Brooklyn Dodger stock.

What has Shotton's future plans to do with Rickey going to the Pirates? That's easy. The two have been the Damon and Pythias of baseball. Where Rickey goes, Shotton is sure to follow.

The 66-year-old Shotton said Sunday: "I'll be in baseball next year. I don't know where, but I'll have a baseball job."

It's almost a cinch the Dodger manager won't remain in Brooklyn after Rickey leaves. The Brooklyn board of directors is almost certain to clean house and Burt, if he doesn't resign first, is expected to be swept out.

If Shotton is through in Brooklyn and he's to remain in baseball, where will be go? With Rickey to Pittsburgh of course.

"I'll stay in baseball as long as Branch needs me," he has said many times.

Changes Tune

When the impending sale of Rickey's stock first was disclosed, he was quoted as saying that Pittsburgh was not his next port of call in baseball. But yesterday, he changed his tune slightly.

"I did not say I would never go to Pittsburgh. I was trying to say it as not yet out of Brooklyn and that I have made no arrangements to go to Pittsburgh or anywhere else. Outside of that I am unwilling to discuss my personal affairs," he said in a statement handed out by Harold Parrott, travelling secretary of the Dodgers.

20 Fatalities Reported Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents took the lives of 14 of the 20 persons who died violently in Eastern Canada over the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey counted 13 fatalities in Ontario, six in Quebec and one in New Brunswick. The first autumn weekend of the year was free of violent deaths in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

The biggest toll taken by a single accident was the death of a father, mother and daughter in a level-crossing crash at Lachine, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Briggs and their seven-year-old daughter, Margot Lynn, were killed when a Canadian National Railways train struck their automobile. Suzanne Aline Briggs, 4, escaped with severe head injuries.

Miss Sione Gagne, 20, was fatally injured when a car in which she was a passenger collided with a truck near Napierville, Que., 25 miles southeast of Montreal.

Pinned Behind Wheel

At Bathurst, N.B., Jack Branch, 29, was killed when his car plunged over an embankment, pinning him behind the wheel. A companion escaped injury.

Other traffic victims, all in Ontario, were:

Morris Williams, 31, at Langstaff; Robert Hempel, 7, near Cornwall; Mrs. George Ellis, 31, near Antrim; Jack Adair, 19, at Strathroy; Mike Neville, 70, at Pigeon River; Douglas Maynard, 22, at Tweed; Michael Penchoff, 52, at Toronto; Morris Williams, 54, near Richmond Hill, and George Maxted, 57, at Hamilton.

Two persons were believed to be drowning victims. Provincial police dragged Sydenham Lake, near Kingston, after finding the canoe in which Alexander David Creasor, 19, of Montreal, had been paddling. The body of Mrs. Anne Snyder, 40, was found in the Ottawa River at Ottawa.

A fall from the top of an 11-storey building took the life of C. M. Sommer, 64, in Montreal. Fernand Michaud, of St. Germain, Que., a soldier stationed at Valcartier Camp, was found dead with a bullet fired from his own rifle into his head.

Roger Lanthier, 28, fell under the wheels of a freight train on which he had been riding near the Quebec border east of Cochrane.

Four-month-old Pamela Davies, forced by a back injury to sleep on her stomach, was suffocated in her crib at Toronto.

Papal Knight Visits Pope

QUEBEC, Sept. 25 (CP)—One of the first duties of a papal knight is to call on the Pope as soon as possible after the appointment. But, Harry S. Gignac, of Windsor, a knight of St. Gregory, who returned to Canada Saturday aboard the liner Scythia, found that domestic affairs and Adolf Hitler kept him 14 years late from his papal interview.

"When I was first notified of the honor, I was unable to go because of family matters," he said. "Later the war stepped in and things seemed to pile up after the war. But when I finally decided to make the trip I took my own car, travelled through seven countries, a total distance of more than 7,000 miles. And I had a private 20-minute audience with His Holiness."

Pope Pius received him warmly, as though he had never noticed the time lapse, Mr. Gignac reported.

"We talked mostly about Canada and His Holiness was especially interested in the type of business men's weekend retreats we have in certain parts of Ontario. He said they were one of the greatest movements in the Roman Catholic church for positive Catholic action," Mr. Gignac said.

Three Lay Preachers Arrested In Quebec

VAL D'OR, Que., Sept. 25 (CP)—Three Baptist lay preachers were arrested Saturday night as they tried to hold a street prayer meeting. They were charged with violation of a municipal by-law prohibiting street meetings without a permit.

One of the arrested men was Robert Parish, of Pembroke, a 25-year-old University of Toronto engineering student. The names of the others were not known.

They were released on $50 bail and are expected to appear in police court today. A total of 23 Baptist preachers have been arrested in this northwestern Quebec mining town in the last two months and 17 are in jail serving two-month sentences.

Lost Their Appetite

NEW WESTMINSTER, BC (CP) Amateur safecrackers managed to knock off the dial of a safe of a woodworking concern, but finally gave it up as a bad job. They left a hammer and a chisel behind, as well as a partly-demolished lunch.

UE At Winnipeg To Appeal CCL Suspension

Despite the fact their union has been suspended from the Canadian Congress of Labor, a sizeable delegation from the United Electrical Workers is attending the CCL convention opening today in Winnipeg.

The UE is appealing the suspension of the union last December from the CCL. The CCL executive board charged the UE with being in arrears with per capita tax. However it was considered inevitable that the left-wing UE would be suspended.

For some time its leadership had been at loggerheads with top CCL officials and it was charged by the right-wingers with being Communist-dominated.

The UE appeal will be read by George Aldrich, Toronto. C. S. Jackson and other top district officers, were not permitted to present the UE case as they were previously suspended after making critical statements about the Ontario Federation of Labor in 1949.

Outright expulsion of the UE as a "red-dominated union" is expected at the present convention. This will leave about 4,000 production workers in Peterborough without representation in Congress.

T. P. Davies, president of Local 524, is attending as an observer.

Run Over By Car Not Seriously Hurt

Four-and-a-half-year old Douglas Grieve was run over by a car, but his doctor, Dr. Robert Young, reported to police the boy was not seriously hurt.

The youngster received a deep cut on his head, and injury to his left shoulder.

Driver of the car, William Darling, Rockcroft, told police he was driving east on Brown St. on Saturday afternoon. He saw the child run out from the north curb in front of his car, but he was not able to stop his car in time. His car left a 35-foot skid mark.

The front right wheel of the car ran over the boy's leg, but the car stopped just as the rear wheel reached the child's body.

His mother, Mrs. Norman W. Grieve, 380 Grady St., picked up the boy and carried him home. Dr. Young was called and said the child was not seriously hurt.

Traffic Officer Claire McGillen and Constable Stewart Fife investigated.

Wind Hurls Slabs Onto Windshield

A miniature whirlwind 15 miles west of Peterborough Saturday night caused a freak accident in which Mrs. Mary Flett, Norwood, sustained facial cuts and her car was slightly damaged.

Some pieces of slab wood were whisked from the load on a passing truck and one of them smashed through Mrs. Flett's windshield. Mrs. Flett was able to continue her drive to Norwood.

The accident was at Highway 7 and the 3rd line of Asphodel. The truck was going west and the car east when the small twister caught up the top layer of the loaded slab wood.

Provincial Constable Roy Feeley investigated.

New Quarters To House Alcoholics Anon.

New quarters for the Peterborough Alcoholics Anonymous Club will be opened at 408½ George St. on Thursday night.

The quarters were occupied years ago by the Belmont Club, now defunct. They are being remodelled and re-painted to suit the purposes of the AA's.

There are five rooms and a hall in the club's suite—a general meeting and games room, a kitchen, lunch room, the secretary's office, and living quarters in two rooms.

Floors in the new quarters have been sanded and refinished. Walls are being painted, and in one room a bar—soft drinks style—is being set up.

Opening Thursday

Thursday night the club rooms will be open to the public, and the main speaker will be Clare W. ....., of Toronto, now a large manufacturer, but once an alcoholic. Other speakers, also onetime alcoholics, are on the program.

Following opening ceremonies, the rooms will be open to any alcoholic who wishes to use them. There will be living quarters for alcoholics temporarily out of work, and a job placement service will be available for them.

War Reporters Hold Convention

The Canadian Press War Correspondents' Association widened its membership during the weekend by electing nine new members.

They are: Ralph Allen, Allan Kent, Gregory Clark, Dick Sanburn and Wallace Reyburn, all war correspondents during the Second World War, and Robert Francis, R. S. (Dick) Malone, Peter MacRitchie, and R. C. (Rod) MacInness, all former public relations officers in the armed forces. Their admission brings total membership to 37.

The C.P.W.C.A. was formed in 1945 as an organization of Canadian Press war correspondents. Last year a new constitution provided for opening membership to correspondents for Canadian newspapers and to P.R.O.S.

The sixth annual meeting was held Saturday and Sunday at Glenwood Lodge on Stony Lake.

Officers re-elected to two-year terms are: J. F. Sanderson, Montreal, president; John Dauphinee, Winnipeg, secretary, and C. A. Day, Toronto, treasurer.

The association decided to obtain a presidential gavel inscribed with the name of Sam Robertson, Canadian Press war correspondent lost at sea during the war.

Main Street Topics

EXPECTS $1,500 PROFIT

G. A. Gillespie said today that Peterborough Exhibition this year might show a profit of $1,500. All the accounts have not yet been paid, but the financial statement is nearing completion, indicating the expected balance.

OLD MODEL CAR BURNS

An old-model car driven by Joseph Hill, Dummer, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. It burst into flames after crashing into the north ditch on Highway 7, east of Norwood. Hill was uninjured. OPP Corporal Lloyd McClure and Constable Jack McKendry investigated.

BEST BEEF HERD

Three herds dominated the beef classes at Lindsay fair: Herefords: Ridgehouse Farms owned by Col. R. F. McAlpine, Fenelon Falls; Aberdeen-Angus: Malcolm Bailey of Uxbridge; and Shorthorns E. L. Crawford & Sons, of Oro Station. The Dominion Bank special for the best herd of beef cattle went to the McAlpine Herefords.

SEPTEMBER CHILLS

Weekend weather was colder than many a Hallowe'en at the end of October and many another Remembrance Day at Nov. 11. It thoroughly chilled a big crowd at Lindsay Fair Saturday. The seasons have been out of joint since last winter, and they are still upset.

COMPLETE PLANS

J. L. Sparrow, chairman, and B. W. Switzer, director, Ontario Industrial Education Council, attended at Balsam Lake over the weekend a meeting with the executive of the Technical Research Council of the Ontario Educational Association. The meeting was held to finalize material on the apprenticeship plan for industry in Ontario.

CARTS STOLEN

A truck driver for a soft drink firm reported recently that two hand trucks for handling cases have been stolen from his truck. He says the trucks are worth $20 each and that he must replace them. He believes they have been taken by children.

ICE-MAKING BEGINS

Walter Smillie, Civic Arena manager, reported today that the ice machine was turned on Saturday in preparation for flooding, which will begin late Tuesday. Except for an eight-hour period, the machine has been running continuously ever since. The ice will be in well before the ice revue opens Thursday night.

CENTENNIAL ENDS

This will be the last week citizens of Peterborough will be able to see the Centennial display at the Public Library. Librarian William Graff reports that the display will be taken down Friday and Thursday will be the last day for the public.

OBITUARY

JAMES JOSEPH MURPHY

James Joseph Murphy, 180 Dufferin Street, died suddenly Sunday evening at his home at the age of 79. He was born in Whitby and had lived in Peterborough for the past 55 years.

For the past 50 years Mr. Murphy has been a city employee, working for the Board of Works.

He was the son of Matthew Murphy and Ellen Griffin. He leaves his wife, the former Margaret Perrault; three daughter, Mrs John Keating (Loretta); Mrs. Ernest Francis (May) both of Peterborough; Mrs. Joseph Bice (Jennie) of Toronto; three sons, William, James and John Murphy, all of Toronto. He also leaves 21 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Mr. Murphy was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church, where requiem mass will be said at 10 a.m. Wednesday. The funeral will take place from the residence. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Elements Affect Rice Harvest

Black rice of Rice Lake is priced at $1.40 a pound at Harwood, and up on that luxury level it is out of reach of the average person, who used to buy it at 25c and 35c.

Nature in several elements has been adversely affecting conditions favorable to the Rice Lake cereal. Birds, carp, frost and eventual shifting of mud flats in the bed of the lake were causes mentioned by V. M. Eastwood as having gradually brought the rice crop to slim harvest.

It has many culinary uses, and not the least favorable was boiled with milk, raisins, and a dash of spice.

Some years ago the rice harvest was a source of revenue to the Indians of both Hiawatha and Alderville communities. The late Fred Roy took a series of exceptionally interesting photographs of the different steps in that harvest, from the beating of rice into canoes to the hulling and heating. One of the rice camps used to be on Sugar Island.

Brown's store at Roseneath, where tons would be sold annually, had to move the price up to 75c a pound in the face of diminishing crop and increasing demand some years ago, and that trend has become accentuated during the war and since then.

Carp have got into Rice Lake. They are vegetarians, uprooting the rice stalks. An unseasonal frost several years ago did considerable damage at flowering time.

With the price up to $1.40 and many disappointed customers, the public may wonder why something effectual cannot be done to bring this natural cereal back into production.

Hope To Finish Sewage Job Before Winter

Construction on Peterborough's new sewage disposal plant is moving slowly, but surely. In operation this week will be the recently built settling tanks which will remove most of the coarse material from the sewage.

Had Several Setbacks.

Reg. Mason, construction superintendent for George Hardie Ltd. of Toronto, said today the plant should be operating before winter, despite several setbacks.

One of these setbacks was the inability of the blowers in the compression and pumping station to run more than four hours at a time. Bearings in the blowers are almost gone, and the machines will have to be removed.

The two 50-foot digestion tanks slated to be finished last, are more than a third finish now. Final sedimentation tanks, formerly rectangular, are being made circular for easier operation.

Another setback came with the spell of wet weather two weeks ago. Work slowed down almost to a standstill at that time.

Original deadline for completion of the plant has been passed, but both the construction company and Gore and Storrie, Toronto consulting engineers, expect the job to be done before winter comes.

Ice Show Coming To Civic Arena

Glamour, brilliance, skill, speed and comedy will be featured in the new International Ice Review to be staged in the Civic Arena Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The star of the show will be Eileen Seigh, beautiful as well as brilliant. Miss Seigh was a runner-up to Barbara Ann Scott for the North American championship and she has also starred in the Olympics as a member of the American ice team.

Another sensational skater highlighting the ice revue will be John Rehfield who comes from Hollywood. He was a skating partner of Barbara Ann Scott in the colorful "Showboat" number.

The skating teams "Skating Sensations" and "The Maxwells" will provide comedy on skates for the show with numbers of slapstick and dead-pan comedy.

In keeping with the high quality of the show, the music and lighting effects will be of special significance. The revue will carry its own orchestra and lighting equipment.

The International Ice Revue is produced by Dorothie Littlefield who in the past has produced lavish ice shows.

Muskie Fishermen Out In Large Numbers

With only a week left of the muskie season, angling sportsmen fanned out through the Kawarthas at the week end into boisterous weather and rough water on every lake in the district.

The Churchill restaurant was crowded early Sunday morning with men in all kinds of outdoor raiment. Some of those who selected Hastings for the day were out in waders below the dam.

On the south shore of Rice Lake seven or eight boats were content with the lea of White's Island out from Dunnet's Landing, and others in the Harwood water favored the shelter of the old railway bed to Hiawatha.

Temperature and wind tested the enthusiasm of the muskie fraternity whose season ends Oct. 1. Only a few stray patches of sunshine briefly lit up the autumn scenery. It was more like a day in the last of the year's duck hunting.

Kiwanis Raises $475 Kids' Day

A total of 475 dollars was raised by the Kiwanis in their "Mile of Silver" staged as a part of their National Kid's program on Saturday. President Al Plaskett reported that the day was very successful considering the cold weather and that the club appreciated the splendid assistance of the public in this project to raise funds for underprivileged children.

While a number of the Kiwanis took their posts along the "Mile of Money," the picnic committee was in charge of another item of the day's program. Twenty children—10 from the orphanage and 10 other underprivileged children—were taken for a boat ride from Young's Point to Lakefield, where a picnic was held.

Cobourg Police Claim Man Admits Setting Fire To Kresge Building In 1948

Harvey David Sylvester, 32, Peterborough, the man whom police say walked into the provincial police office in Cobourg Sunday and confessed to starting the $200,000 fire in the Kresge Co. Ltd. store in August 1948, was remanded in police court today on a charge of vagrancy for a week. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said other charges may be laid after Sylvester is questioned by officials of the Ontario Fire Marshall's office.

Caretaker of Store

Sylvester was caretaker at the store when the fire broke out. August 9, 1949, Sylvester was examined in police court here with being mentally ill. The charge was dismissed after he was examined by a psychiatrist. The doctor's report said that Sylvester had a "fair vocabulary" and seemed to know the difference between right and wrong, but "something snapped" when he took things.

Sylvester had spent Friday and Saturday night in the police station here as an overnight lodger. After leaving the police station Sunday morning, he apparently travelled to Cobourg.

Cobourg police said he told them he had set fire to a building. Police asked "What building?" and he replied that two years ago he set fire to the Kresge store in Peterborough.

Returned to Peterborough

Peterborough police were notified and Constables Gordon Trennum and Edward Patterson drove to Cobourg to bring Sylvester here.

Sylvester, a tall, dark, gaunt-eyed man, with swarthy skin, when asked if he wanted bail set by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said there was no one to go bail for him. His father, David Sylvester, Provincial Police constable stationed in Peterborough about 15 years ago, died in Bowmanville about 10 years ago.

In Toronto today the Ontario Fire Marshal's office said Inspector T. E. P. Lucas would leave at noon for the city to question Sylvester.

Police suspected Sylvester at the time, but there was no evidence in the gutted building to pin the blaze on the caretaker.

The Kresge fire started about 9.30 p.m. Sylvester, said the store's manager, had left about 8.45 p.m.

It had apparently started in the basement directly under the cafeteria near the back of the building. Soon black, choking smoke belched out from the cellar.

Nineteen firemen and volunteers were overcome by the smoke trying to get at the blaze and had to be taken to hospital.

For about three hours the fire was out of control. Firemen had to break through the floor at the front of the buildings and through the back wall to extinguish the fire.

Thousands of residents went to the scene at the Simcoe and George Sts. to watch. The only entrance to the cellar from the outside was a small elevator shaft that went down from the sidewalk on Simcoe St near the back of the building.

Firemen found it almost impossible to get at the flames through the thick clouds of smoke. The Salvation Army and nearby restaurants supplied coffee and sandwiches to the firefighters as they toiled on.

There was some smoke damage to the third floor, but most of the damage was done in the cellar where large quantities of stock were stored and the first floor of the store proper.

IT'S NO FUN

It's no fun when you're an active, outdoor lad to be lying in hospital thinking of the other kids cavorting about. Anyway that's how eight-year-old Joseph Johnson of Burleigh Falls feels about it. About three weeks ago Joey fell 35 feet from a pine tree as he was collecting pine cones. He was taken to Civic Hospital with a badly broken right leg and he is likely to be there for another four or five weeks. Meanwhile Joey would like some of his school chums—or any other boys and girls about his own age who can spare a few minutes—to drop in and have a chinwag. That's an open invitation, kids. — D.W.

Garden Produce Withstood September Cold

Everybody agrees that it has been a mighty cold September but apparently it hasn't yet been frosty enough to seriously damage late garden produce.

"The frost has hit our squash and cucumber vines," says John Kitney, local market gardener. "We're still picking tomatoes though it did nip a few. This has certainly been a cold September."

Mr. Kitney said that the frost had not yet affected cauliflower, carrots, celery, turnips, and parsnips. Being more hardy they can stand greater cold than has been recorded to date.

According to the official Peterborough readings at the pump house the night lows during the past three days are as follows: Friday 35, Saturday 37, and Sunday 34.

H. F. Doig, market gardener, report that not even their flowers have been struck by the frost yet. Nothing has been frozen. The tomato vines are hale and the carrots untouched.

Helps Search For U.S. Bomber

Aboard the famous RCAF's Ice Wagon which took part in the search for the United States Air Force B-50 bomber over the week end was Flying Officer Al Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Marshall, 285 Reid St. The bomber was found Sunday with 16 survivors in Labrador.

F-O Marshall is the second Peterborough man to serve as a member of the Ice Wagon. During the 33-day demonstration and liaison trip to the United Kingdom, LAC Clifford T. McKinstry was a member of the crew. He was called back to Canada a few days before the aircraft returned.

The RCAF Ice Wagon is a North Star transport from the experimental and proving establishment at Rockcliffe airport, Ottawa. It is especially fitted for experimental research work in aircraft icing and the measurement of cloud properties.

The aircraft received so much attention in the UK that its stay there was extended to allow more than 500 technical experts to view the aircraft and attend classes by the National Research Council scientists and members of the RCAF crew.

BLONDE BOMBSHELL — This photo of halfback Royal Copeland gives a fair idea of why he's been labelled the best running half in Canada. The 24-year-old speed-boy joined Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union after five successful seasons with Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four. He helped Argos win three straight Canadian Football titles and the Grey Cup.

Argos Crush Rough Riders 36-15 As Alouettes Bow To Hamilton

(By The Canadian Press)

To the relief of the experts, Canada has finally had a football weekend in which all the games went according to the form chart.

Some of the scores brought the occasional lifted eyebrow and one game was decided by a touchdown with two minutes left to play. But the winning teams — which aren't necessarily the preseason favorites—kept winning and the losers—some of them sure-fire bets a couple of months back—kept losing.

The closest fit was the Western Interprovincial Union tilt in which Indian Jack Jacobs tossed a 35-yard touchdown pass to Tommy Ford in the dying minutes of the final quarter to give the second - place Winnipeg Blue Bombers a 15-9 victory over the third-place Saskatchewan Rough Riders.

But there was nothing close about what the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos did to Calgary's once-proud Stampeders. Les Lear's red-sweatered 1949 Dominion finalists took a 33-8 lacing for their fourth straight loss to Edmonton and their seventh defeat in eight starts.

Wallop Ottawa

In Toronto, Argonauts established themselves as the team to beat in the East by winning a surprisingly-lopsided 36-15 verdict over Ottawa Rough Riders before 24,874 fans—an attendance record for Canadian football. The victory was Argos' fourth in five starts and kept them two points ahead of their nearest opposition in the Interprovincial Union.

And Montreal Alouettes dusted off the Grey Cup they won last season and prepared it for probable shipment elsewhere as they lost 18-12 to Hamilton Tiger-Cats. It was their fourth loss in five starts and left them in last place, two points behind Ottawa, four behind Hamilton, and six behind Toronto.

At Windsor, the revitalized Toronto Balmy Beach club subdued Windsor Rockets 19-0 in the only Ontario Rugby Football Union game Sunday. It was the Rockets' third straight loss and the Beaches' first victory against one defeat. They still trail Sarnia Imperials by four points in the three-team group.

Oshawa Merchants Take Toronto Title

By The Canadian Press.

The invading Oshawa Merchants are champions of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association.

Merchants, who whipped the local talent to a fare-the-well in the Viaduct major league, made it look just as easy in the finals against Mahers, the champions of the West Toronto League, closing them out Saturday night with a 13-10 victory.

That gave the Merchants their title four games to one in the best-of-seven series.

Mahers treated Jerry Creasy with less respect than usual, touching him for nine hits. But the youthful college student survived, despite four errors behind him and eight walks he gave up himself, to win his 15th victory without a loss.

His mates backed Creasy up with an 18-hit assault.

PITCHING THREAT — One of the Big Four Football League's ablest quarterbacks is Andy Gordon, a 23-year-old United States import from Villanova. The former University of South Carolina star is playing his second season with Ottawa Rough Riders.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Lethbridge Maple Leafs, western intermediate hockey finalists last season, have been named to represent Canada in a European tour this winter.

"Lethbridge will be offered the trip," president Doug Grimston of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said in Vancouver on Saturday.

The Leafs will fly from Canada to Norway for their opening game. The team will also play in Sweden, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, England and Scotland.

Stroking with smooth precision against a snow-tinged wind that whipped up white caps on the Ottawa river, McMaster University's eight-man crew swept to a three-length victory over Ottawa University Saturday in the first annual P. D. Ross Memorial boat race.

Britannia E. P. Taylor's fleet two-year-old, won the $16,000 Coronation Stakes in record time at Toronto's Woodbine race track Saturday, beating Jim Fair's Bear Field by three lengths.

A western horse, Jim Speers' Scapa Flow, was third after running into trouble on the first turn.

One Hitter, the aptly-named son of Shut Out, beat Noor, the Irish-bred star from the west coast, again Saturday in the $29,850 Manhattan handicap at Belmont Park.

With a crowd 36,714 yelling for Noor to come on and save their money, Toronto's Teddy Atkinson booted One Hitter under the wire with a neck to spare. Calumet Farm's Ponder finished third, two lengths farther back in a field of 10.

Merwyn T. Wood, an Australian policeman, retained the world's single sculling championship on Saturday when he defeated John B. (Jack) Kelly, Jr., Canadian and United States champion, and Antony D. (Tony) Rowe of England in the race for the Philadelphia Gold Challenge Cup.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago came through under pressure with a three-under-par 69 for a 72 hole total of 271 to win first money in the $15,000 Kansas City open golf tournament Sunday. He beat out Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle, Wash., and Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plains, N. Y., by a single stroke.

Skip Alexander, Knoxville, Tenn., professional golfer, was injured seriously Sunday night in a plane crash in a railyard near Evansville, Indiana. Police said an ambulance driver reported three military officers were killed in the crash.

Alexander, who played in the Kansas City open golf tournament Sunday, was reported in serious condition in hospital.

His injuries included severe burns on the hands, arms and face and a broken leg.

B-A 88 98 was introduced

Today THE DEMAND IS GREATER THAN EVER

Three months ago we introduced the new 88 and 98 gasolines. We based our introduction on certain truths—that these gasolines would give more power, greater economy and better performance.

We told the motoring public these facts. We told them exactly what the new gasolines would do and why they were so good.

Today, 88 and 98 have been accepted by motorists from coast to coast. It was an acceptance fostered by performance. The new gasolines were found to do the things we promised they would.

Across Canada, week by week, the demand grows greater. Each day more motorists are demonstrating for themselves the power, economy and performance to be found in the new 88 and 98 gasolines.

Marriage-Counselling Aid Takes Sex Knowledge Poll

DURHAM, N.C., Sept. 25 (AP) A new marriage-counselling aid which may supplement the famous Kinsey studies of American sex behavior has been developed here.

Called the "Sex Knowledge Inventory," it aims at determining what people know about sex —not what they do about it.

Developed by Dr. Gelolo McHugh, assistant professor of psychology at Duke University and chairman of the parenthood division of the marriage and family council at Chapel Hill, it isn't available to the general public except through recognized marriage counsellors. It is intended to aid the marriage counsellor in determining the sex knowledge and attitude of people who come to him for help.

The inventory itself is a multiple-choice test containing 80 questions. With the test goes a marriage counsellor's manual designed to help him interpret answers and to guide him in therapy.

Areas covered include superstitions, misconceptions, possible causes for poor sexual adjustment, birth control, menstruation, sex act techniques, conception, pregnancy and childbirth.

For the general public the most interesting thing about the inventory will be the ultimate publication of mass results. That may tell what Americans know about sex—or, more probably, what they don't know about it.

The manuals and tests are being distributed to marriage counsellors throughout the country, and are in use at some 120 colleges and universities.

Dr. McHugh says preliminary findings "indicate a long road yet to be travelled in sex education, even among selected groups of people." An authoritative report may be made in about a year.

Cities All Over Prairies Making Great Progress

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Perhaps there should be more gossip about Winnipeg. This country's development has been so fast that the hussy of the opening of the West in the early century has become a somewhat dignified matron whose presence and position is rather taken for granted.

She might well be talked about more—for she has been nurturing and being nurtured by one of the world's wealthiest farm economies, where a crop failure is almost unknown; drawing from the fast-developing mineral resources of vast Manitoba; turning herself into an industrial and manufacturing power. She (with the head of the lakes) still holds the gateway between East and West, a natural distributing centre.

Not that less should be said about other Western cities—for the West is growing so much it is no longer an area for just one big city.

Certainly less should not be said about the oil which in three years has made Alberta a rich province and poured wealth into all Canada; or about Edmonton, bursting at its seams with growth; or Calgary, metropolis of that mixed economy of oil, cattle, farming and industry which is Southern Alberta; or rich and surprising Lethbridge where, when you think you have seen it all, you suddenly find you have not seen half of it.

And less should not be said about Saskatchewan— about Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert — still essentially agricultural, but fast adding other things, and which may be the next sensation of our economy.

This is not to discuss the perhaps tender question of which will ultimately be the biggest city of the Prairie Provinces, a position now held by Winnipeg with its more than 300,000 people. But it is to say that anything that drives the West ahead, or any city in the West, will also drive Winnipeg ahead.

Here are a few figures, given to Canadian Chamber of Commere delegates on their recent visit there:

Of more than 100 British agencies established in Western Canada last year, more than 95 per cent were established in Manitoba.

Manitoba apparel manufacturing plants, of which most are in Winnipeg, constitute the province's third largest manufacturing industry, with gross production estimated at more than $30,000,000, or four times that of 10 years ago.

Gross value of manufacturing in Manitoba actually exceeded that of agriculture in 1949 by close to $300,000,000; with 80 per cent of the total in Greater Winnipeg.

In all, it looks as if the hussy of yesterday, and the comfortable matron of today, will be a very rich lady within a few years.

MR. AND MRS. ELMER G. TELFORD, the bride formerly Grace Record. Parks Studio Photo

Deck with Harvest Fruits For Telford-Record Nuptials

Harvest fruits and sheathed corn were effective as a setting for the Telford-Record nuptials in St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday and the outstanding colors were repeated in the colors selected by the bridal party, making an altogether charming autumn scene.

Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson officiated as vows were pledged by Grace Daisy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Record, Chemong Rd., and Mr. Elmer Grattan Telford, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Grattan Telford, of Smith Township.

Wedding music was played by organist Mr. F. G. Mann and during signing of the register the hymn "Come gracious spirit" was sung by three uncles and a cousin of the bride, Wilbert, Harold, Gordon and Sherman Harrison.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an entrained gown of satin with panels of lace cascading from the hipline, and a wreath of orange blossoms and lily of the valley held her full-length veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of crimson roses.

Mrs. James Record, as matron of honor, was in a gown of warm-tan taffeta, and shoulder cape and hat of matching taffeta, and she carried a nosegay of yellow and bronze flowers. Bridesmaids Miss Barbara Huffman and Miss Effie McDonald were both in frocks of light yellow taffeta and had small capes and hats to match. Their nosegays were made up of brown and gold flowers.

The groom's attendant was his cousin Clifford Falkner, and the ushers were James Record and Maurice Telford, brothers of the bride and groom.

The wedding reception was held in the parish hall, where multi-colored asters and gladioli decorated the dining hall. Mrs. Record was receiving her guests, dressed in dark green flowered silk, and wearing a green felt hat and corsage of roses. Also receiving was the groom's mother, who was wearing a navy dress with pink yoke, a navy hat and corsage of pink roses.

Leaving later on a two-week motor trip east the bride was wearing a maroon suit with grey accessories.

On return the couple will live on the Chemong Rd.

Reeves-O'Rourke

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Campbellford, on Saturday, was the scene of a double ring ceremony, when the Rev. J. C. Maloney, solemnized the marriage of Mary Margaret, daughter of Mr. Thomas P. O'Rourke and the late Mrs. O'Rourke, Campbellford, and John Edward Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reeves, Toronto.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace gown over satin featuring long pointed sleeves, nylon net yoke, and full skirt leading to a long train. A matching Juliet cap held her fingertip veil and she carried red roses. Mrs. Leo O'Rourke, matron of honor, and Miss Teresa O'Rourke, bridesmaid wore pale green and pale pink net over satin gowns, with a slight train and they had matching hats. They carried yellow and mauve 'mums. Elizabeth Reeves was flower girl and wore yellow taffeta and carried a nosegay of pink 'mums.

Mr. Vincent Reeves was groomsman. Leo O'Rourke, Chas. O'Rourke and James Reeves, were ushers.

Present in the sanctuary were Monsignor P. P. Butler, Rev. Father Weise and Rev. Father Coughlin, from St. Peters Cathedral, Peterborough. Miss Colleta O'Keefe, presided at the organ.

The reception was held at the brides' father's home in West Seymour, where her aunt Mrs. W. Stewart received, wearing grey crepe and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother assisted wearing wine figured satin and corsage of red roses.

The couple left later for western points and the States, the bride travelling in a rose wool suit with grey topcoat and blue accessories and she wore a corsage of red roses. They will live in Guelph.

Out-of-town guests were present from New York, Salem, Ohio, Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Ajax, Guelph, Peterborough, Madoc, Marmora, Roseneath, Warkworth, Campbellford.

"When the Ump called '3 STRIKES' he could have meant me

"I remember how I'd looked forward to that game . . . how I'd prayed for just one afternoon's relief from miserable, sluggish, half-sick feelings. But even before I started for the park, I felt 'all in'. When the Ump called the first 'Out', he could have been looking right at me.

"But on the way home I saw Kruschen Salts displayed in a drug store window. Next morning I took my first small dose of Kruschen. Right from the first, it quickly brought me the relief I needed. Now I'm regular with Kruschen . . . enjoying my meals again . . . and every day, I'm 'right in there pitching'!"

If bad digestion, "irregularity" and that worn-out, listless feeling have '3 strikes' on you—try a little Kruschen Salts with your morning fruit juice, tea or coffee. Helps you get and keep "regular" . . . helps knock out sluggish, "liverish" feelings . . . gives you pep that wins! Ask your druggist.

University Women Gather for Tea, Annual Fall Event

The plan of the Peterborough University Women's Club to precede commencement of their season's activities with a fall tea is proving an excellent one.

This year's tea was held on Saturday afternoon and Mrs. J. C Dawson, 452 Hunter St. W. was hostess for the event. She welcomed to her home about 75 ladies, all of whom are intending to be members of the club this year, and this number is believed to embrace most of the women university graduates living in the city.

Such a beginning shows promise of an outstanding year for this club, and it is expected a group of university women living in Norwood will this year attend the meetings here.

Several Collegiate graduates who are entering first year at Queen's University today were able to accept the invitation sent to all the girl graduates planning university courses.

President Mrs. J. E. Watters was receiving with Mrs. Dawson at the door. Mrs. F. Rankin was accepting membership fees and Mrs. V. R. Henry was registering the guests and giving each a name label to wear during the tea. These attractive labels were the work of the Collegiate art class.

Mrs. C. G. Boyd, Miss Helen McGregor and Dr. Frances Stewart were hostesses in the living rooms, and guests were ushered to the dining room by Mrs. J. L. McKeever.

Past presidents of the club presided at the tea table where a centre bouquet of baby 'mums, tiny red rosebuds and gladioli was arranged with taste. They were Miss G. Moore, Mrs. A. Sollitt, Mrs. G. R. Langley, Miss Verna Burgess and Dr. Agnes Moffatt.

Marg Behan Wins Waddell Trophy In BG Section

Business Girls of the Peterborough Golf Club held their closing field day on Sunday and were glad that it was the last day of official play for the cold weather had a disheartening effect on their scores. However, a hot turkey dinner at six o'clock brought the day to an end on a high note.

Mrs. C. G. Graham, president of the ladies' section, and Mrs. C. B. Westbrook were dinner guests and each spoke briefly about golfing.

Awarding of prizes for the year gave the Waddell trophy to Miss Marg. Behan. Miss Eleanor Whittaker was the runner-up. The consolation award went to Miss Helen Mathias with Miss Marie Leahy the runner-up.

The preliminary tournament was also won by Miss Behan and Miss Lois Enborg was runner-up for this event.

Sunday was an open field day for nine and 18-hole players and the competitions were in separate draws. There were 18 prizes given out for the day's play.

Election of officers for next year resulted in the following slate being set up: captain, Miss Loretta Sullivan; vice captain, Miss Shirley Mortimer; secretary-treasurer, Miss Marjorie Bonter; assistant, Miss Wynn Davis; social convener, Miss Mary Curry; assistant, Miss Eleanor Whittaker; telephone committee, Misses Joan Hickey and Marie Leahy; ringer's scores; Misses Eleanor Whittaker and Vivian Sullivan; arrangements for tournaments, Misses Mary Sullivan and Joan Brown.

Social convener Mrs. F. A. Hucks who was in charge of all arrangements for the tea, was assisted in serving by her committee, Mrs. W. B Gordon, Mrs H Rogers, Mrs W Langan, Mrs Ross Moore, and Mrs. C H. Snearin o fthe program committee.

Trend Changes To Low Heels, Plainer Shoes

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON — (CP) — Medium heels and "flatees" are this year's choice in British footwear.

"Shoes will be smart, but plainer than they have been for 15 years," said one leading manufacturer.

The latest in heels is 1½ to 2½ inches for styles which formerly called for greater height. Simple and well-made in good leather and reptile skins, the low-heeled numbers with a plain, narrow fronts, may become a popular choice.

Reptile skins include the exceptionally hard-wearing armadillo and latest skin innovations are cod fish and catfish.

For a dull-surface, grey-black shoe cod is suggested. H, however, you desire more color, the catfish is striped with the markings of a tiger.

Flatees are now correct with any costume, including evening and formal wear. Simply-styled, weighing as little as five ounces, they have a soft pliability which makes them generally useful.

"Absolute Comfort"

"Our aim is absolute comfort from the minute you first wear the shoes," said a Norwich maker of suede, tartan-lined ballerina slippers with wedge sole and tiny heel.

Highlighting the evening range are the strip sandals with narrow strands of interlacing forming vamp and back. Slim, slender and feminine, with a "naked" look to the front, they will be on sale by Christmas priced around $8.50.

One gold-kid style with a symmetrical strip-front has a wedge heel with cut-away back for lightness, giving it the look of a Louis heel.

A favorite evening choice will be one of three velvet styles ranging from 38s. 11d. to 45s. Velvet is in high demand, especially with jewel embroidery. Another choice is black gabardine with black brocade embroidery.

Winter bootees are slimmer and more elegantly styled than in previous years. Colors are bright, with a good selection of tartan. A pretty "Annie get your gun" style, is brown suede lined with sheepskin, has slim, pointed toe and high heel. The calf-length top is decorated with hand-sewn daisies.

Lee Conley, Neil Selkirk Pledge Vows at All Saints'

With white gladioli and ferns decorating the altar in All Saints' Anglican Church on Saturday, Miss Lenore (Lee) Conley became the bride of Mr. Neil R. Selkirk in a ceremony performed by the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conley and the groom son of Mrs. Clifford Selkirk and the late Mr. Selkirk, all of Peterborough.

A gown of white embossed organdy, made with drop shoulder line and yoke of sheer nylon, long tight sleeves with points over the hands, and skirt with bustle effect and slight train, was the bride's choice for her wedding and her veil of illusion net was caught in a cap with white ostrich tips. She carried a bouquet of sunset roses and bouvardia.

Mr. Conley gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by Miss Jean Salisbury of Stirling, bridesmaid, and Mrs. J. A. Morrison of Quebec City, matron of honor.

Gowns wore by the two attendants were of gold slipper satin, styled on princess lines with off-the-shoulder neckline and they had matching gold mittens and hats of gold satin with ostrich plume trim. Each carried a bouquet of dark red gladioli.

Mr. Ernest Darling attended thegroom and ushers were Frank Conley and Albert Selkirk.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. C. Watkins and during signing of the register Mrs J. Morley sang "Because."

At the reception in the Club Aragon, Mrs. Conley was receiving her guests in a gown of dusky rose faille and hat of black velvet. The groom's mother was assisting dressed in hunter's green crepe with hat of matching velvet. Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

Leaving later for Quebec City and the United States, the bride was wearing a suit of navy velvet with hat to match and grey accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Selkirk will live at 1093 Monaghan Road.

DOROTHY DIX

Mothers-in-law Not Always Interfering Pests to Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I want to defend the mother-in-law. My mother was loved by her in-laws as if she had been their own mother and was always a welcome guest in their homes. When she went into her inlaws' homes it was not to criticize, or give advice, or try to run them. It was to help. To take care of the babies, entertain the children, to assist with the sewing. To be of service. She had money of her own and enjoyed sharing it with her children and grandchildren. When she came into a home she changed the atmosphere. She made things peaceful and soothing. If more mothers-in-law would try to be like her, there would be no mother-in-law problem.

A DAUGHTER.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: You are quite right. There are mothers-in-law who come into their children's homes are ministering angels, just as there are other mothers-in-law who are a black curse upon their children's houses. And the pity of it is that there are so many more mothers-in-law who bear divorce in their hands instead of an olive branch when they go to stay with their children.

She Means Well

Now no one will contend that the average mother-in-law, even the one who is a trouble-maker in her children's home, is a bad woman at heart, or that she deliberately and maliciously starts out to wreck her children's marriages. On the contrary, she is generally a good woman, kind and sympathetic and helpful to the needy. Moreover, she loves her children and wants to see them happy, and she is honestly shocked and horrified when she sees them getting divorces, their homes in ruins about them and their poor little children half-orphaned.

She doesn't once suspect that she is responsible for the catastrophe. She would deny it bitterly if you accused her of heading the home-wrecking crew. Why, she didn't do a thing. She just tried to teach her daughter-in-law how to keep house the way she did and to raise the baby the way she reared her children. And, thank heaven, she opened Tom's eyes and made him see Sally as she was instead of thinking her a goddess or something. Why, when she went to live with them Tom was just so in love that he was blind as a bat and thought everything Sally did was just right. If he hadn't had a mother maybe he wouldn't have found out any better. And Mother doesn't blame herself at all for Mary's and Sam's marriage going blooey. All she did was just to harp continually on every one of Sam's little peculiarities until Mary quit seeing him as a hero of romance and beheld him instead as a boor.

It is because even the best of women can be the worst of mothers-in-law that it is safest for no mother-in-law to live with her children.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: It amuses me the way you champion the men on that old, old question, whether or not a married man should have a night out. I have been married for more than four years and it has been my experience, as well as that of my married friends, that if you give a man an inch he will take an ell. When they get a night out they not only stay out until early morn but come home drunk as well. Can you defend this?

BROWN EYES.

ANSWER: I can't defend a man getting drunk under any circumstances, but it is easy to explain why he does it if his wife keeps him on the leash so tightly that he is rarely able to slip it even for a single evening. It makes it an occasion to celebrate and without regard to the consequences which he knows he will have to suffer anyway..

Anyway, you miss the point in my argument about husband's night off. It is this: That the fundamental passion of every human heart is for personal liberty. What we are free to do we often care little about doing, but the minute we are forbidden to do anything it becomes the one thing on earth that we are bound to do.

It isn't liberty that the husband wants. It is the sense of freedom. Leave the door open and he will sit by his own fireside. Lock it and he will climb out of the window. No wife ever yet kept her husband true to her by watching him. That is a matter of his own volition. Not of surveillance.

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you consider it proper for a young woman to constantly visit a man in his own home, there being no women in the house other than a servant? The girl has a nice home and a presentable family. She maintains that as long as a girl is a lady and the man a gentleman, there is no harm in her visiting him instead of his coming to see her. What do you say

A READER.

ANSWER: Any girl who goes to a man's home to visit him alone simply throws her cap over the windmill. It is one of the things that is simply not done, and no man who cared for a girl's good name would ever let her do such an imprudent thing. It isn't enough for a girl to BE good. She has to LOOK good.

Families Prefer Boy Boarders

SASKATOON (CP)—Equality of the sexes just doesn't apply in Saskatoon when it comes to student accommodation.

Five out of every six rooming-house keepers prefer boy boarders to girls.

Claude Penson, University of Saskatchewan housing registrar, said boys seemed to be generally preferred because girls were always "washing and ironing and occupying the bathroom."

Rooming houses insisting on boys were usually the larger type accommodating from two to six or more. Girls were more often wanted in private homes in singles or pairs.

There is no shortage of accommodation for boys. But Mr. Penson said that, unless "something happens," rooms for girls will be scarce this term.

A CARROT RING surrounded by slices of carrots and filled with peas, limas, or string beans makes a colorful vegetable serving for dinner or luncheon.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Carrot Ring Forms Halo For Creamed Vegetables

Every cook welcomes new ideas for preparing everyday foods. To put new interest into the preparation of much needed vegetables you must see the Examiner eleventh cookbook release "250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables." As you know, every week a new cookbook is made available to readers of this newspaper. So far the titles have been Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups Salads, Meat, Fish, and Eggs. Each of these cookbooks covers a cooking subject completely, giving step-by-step instructions; attractive, imaginative and thrifty recipes; and they are all illustrated with mouth-watering pictures that give you new and unusual ideas for serving foods.

The latest release, the Vegetable Book, is full of ideas to make what could otherwise be a drab course in the meal much more palatable and attractive. Here, for instance, is an idea from the Vegetable Book—a carrot ring surrounded by fresh carrots and filled with fresh peas—but it could be used in combination with any other vegetable or even with a creamed dish like creamed chicken.

Carrot Ring

2 cups diced cooked carrots; ½ teaspoon minced onion; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅛ teaspoon butter; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup milk.

Combine ingredients. Pour into a buttered ring mold and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Unmold and fill with seasoned cooked peas. Serves 6.

To obtain your copy of the Vegetable Book or any of the earlier books, all you need to do is clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper—one coupon for each book—and present them at the Examiner Office, or to your Examiner carrier, or at Braund's Home Food Markets, with 25c for each book. Or if you wish to obtain your copies by mail send the coupon with 30c for each book (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, Examiner, Peterborough.

4 Typically Canadian Dishes

By MARY MOORE

I hope Canadians will never be reduced to the low nutrition levels that some of our European neighbors have to endure or have endured.

However, I believe that because they have to make do in many European and Asiatic countries: because they must improvise, they are forced to be clever with their cooking, and national cooking traditions have developed from their concentration.

This month the subject of the Royal Bank letter is "Our Canadian Way of Life," and when I read it I felt that I belonged to the most privileged nation in the world. I still feel that way.

But, not more than fifteen minutes after I had read that I heard an announcer on the radio lamenting that we had no national cooking traditions. American tourists are not drawn or attracted to Canada because of the famous Canadian cooking they might enjoy.

Is it because we do not have to make things stretch, or exploit them to their last vestige of flavor?

It might be well if I, for one, take this as a personal challenge.

◇ ◇ ◇

Make 4 Choices

For the past few hours I have been asking every woman I talk to what she thinks would be a typically Canadian dish.

I have four answers with which I am in complete agreement: Beef and Kidney Pie, Split Pea Soup, Scalloped Potatoes, Cocoanut Macaroons. Would you like to add your choices to that?

I am thankful that we have as substantial a nucleus on which to build—for do you notice that not one of these dishes is expensive? It is the care and thought put into their making that give them ther famous flavor.

Do you know how to make the best Beef and Kdney Pie on your block?

◇ ◇ ◇

Beef and Kidney Pie

One pound flank, skirt or shin beef, 1 pound pork or beef kidney, salt, pepper, flour, water, plain or Melton Mowbray pastry, fat.

Cut the raw beef in 1-inch cubes. Cut the kidney in halves crosswise and remove veinous and fat portion. Cut them into 1-inch cubes. Soak the cut kidneys in cold water one-half hour. Drain and dry. Dredge the beef and kidneys in 2-3 cup flour to which add 1½ teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Saute in about 4 tablespoons bacon fat or other dripping until golden on all sides. Add about 3 cups boiling water, cover, reduce head so that meat barely simmers until tender—this may take 2½ hours. Pour into pastry lined casserole, cover with pastry, seal edges and bake at 450 deg. Fahr. until pastry is baked.

Variations: I have an English friend who insists that the finest Beef and Kidney Pie uses Melton Mowbray crust. I have to admit it is wonderful eating, but I think well made plain pastry has the edge on it—I like flaky pastry.

If you belong to the Melton Mowbray pastry school here it is: To ⅜ cup boiling water in a pan add ½ cup shortening or lard, bring to boiling point, and add 2 cups unsifted flour mixed with ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon baking powder all at once. Remove from heat and stir until smooth. Cover and let stand from 1 to 3 hours. Roll out to ¼-inch thickness, line sides of baking dish. Pour in filling. Seal on slashed top.

Watch this column for Split Pea Soup and Scalloped Potatoes and Cocoanut Macaroons—Canadian Style—next week and the one after.

SPEAKING OF FOOD —

A common aroma that immediately makes one think of tasty foods, is that never-to-be forgotten savoury odour that comes from chili sauce in the making. And speaking of chili sauce, right now tomatoes are at their peak of perfection and Dominion Stores are featuring fresh shipments arriving almost daily. Of course there are many other spices you'll want for making your family's favourite recipe, so why not make a point of first visiting your Dominion Master Market for your supplies.

Are you lucky Well, you've ample chance to find out. Your Dominion Master Market is presently holding a daily contest and the winner gets $10.00 in cash. All you have to do is get your free entry blank at your Dominion Master Market, fill out, then listen to station CHEX at 6.55 p.m. when some lucky person's name will be drawn. If your name is drawn you will be asked a question, the right answer gets you $10.00 in cash. It's that easy.

The art of making a good cup of coffee begins first with the selection of the particular blend of coffee that suits your taste. From the wide variety of nationally known brands and Dominion's own brands, Richmello and Early Morning you can select a coffee to suit your taste. And here's a tip, always make sure your coffee is fresh—this gives the brew a full, satisfying flavour and delicious aroma. Richmello coffee is priced at 92c lb. —Early Morning Brand is 89c per lb. and sold only at Dominion.

Refreshing Tang of Juicy Lemons!

The flavor is entirely pure fruit from real lemons

NO grating or squeezing of lemons, no long tiresome mixing . . . yet with Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling you get smooth, mellow-tasting lemon pies every time! JELL-O LEMON PIE FILLING makes the grand, old-fashioned kind of lemon filling — with all the enticing deliciousness of sun-ripened lemons.

Easier to make than some of your simplest desserts. Try this shortcut way to better, more sumptuous-tasting lemon pie. Results are always so dependable and satisfying. Not a lemon jelly. Get a package of Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling from your grocer. Enjoy it tomorrow.

6—In Memoriams

DECK—In loving memory of mother, Mrs Albert Deck, who passed away Sept. 22nd, 1949.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Lovingly remembered by son Bert and family.

PANTER—In loving memory of Mrs. Alice Panter, who passed away Sept. 26 1948.
Upright and just in all her ways,
Faithful and true to the end of her days,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by son Fred, and daughter-in-law Elsie.

Cupid Given Shot In Arm Weddings Climb With War

By The Associated Press.

The marriage rate in the United States has been climbing since the Korean War started June 25. In many placese it has risen 20 per cent, an Associated Press survey shows.

A check was made of 20 marriage licence bureaus scattered across the country. Every one reported "business" in July and August, 1950, was greater than in the same period of 1949, when the war was still cold and the draft only standby machinery

One bureau reported the midsummer parade to the altar broke all previous records, Kent county, Mich., had 408 applications during August.

This was not typical of the nation but cupid was consistently reported to have been given a shot in the arm by the fighting in Korea.

Big Boom.

New York, Detroit, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Minneapolis and smaller cities reported 20-percent increases over last summer. Philadelphia had the biggest wedding boom since 1946. Las Angeles, which had 14 per- cent rise.

In one two-day period in Saginaw, Mich., 36 draft-age men appeared at their draft board to annuonce their status had changed they were no longer bachelors.

Several wedding-ring manufacturers with national distribuation said their July sales this year doubled those of July, 1949. The average gain among manufacturers, However, was 20 per cent.

August Tops.

June traditionally is the month for weddings, but this year it was August in many places. This was true of San Francisco, which issued 834 licences this June, as compared to 915 in June 1949; 726 licence in July, compared to 654; and 877 licences in August, compared to 777.

The marriage rate in San Francisco, as in many other places had been falling since the late years of the Second World War.

David Dunn, head of the San Francisco marriage licence bureau, said many of the girls coming into his office these days say: "Well, he's going to be called up —maybe in November or December— we don't know when. Anyhow, the war has changed our plans, so we decide to go ahead and get married now."

Younger People Wed.

More younger people are getting married. In Michigan a girl under 18 must obtain parental consent before getting a licence County Clerk Edgar M. Branigan of Wayne County reported that the number of parental consent applicants has "at least doubled" since the outbreak of the Korean war.

Baltimore issed 1,179 marriage licences in July as compared to 980 in July last year. However, at least one of the weddings was called off.

A young fellow came in, paid his dollar and applied for a licence, for which there is a two-day waiting period. Next day he came in ot get his buck back.

"It's no use now," he complained. "I've just been to my draft board. They're calling me up soon."

P.S.— He didn't get his money back.

Jemima Hostess At Home Of Mackenzies

TORONTO —(CP)— Jemima, current first lady of the William Lyon Mackenzie homestead here, is 125 years old and was wearing seven petticoats when she arrived in town.

Jemima is 15 inches high, with jet black hair, and is a polished doll who has captivated A. C. Kyte, curator of the homestead.

"She is just loaned to us for the present," says Mr. Kyte, "but she is the only doll we have and we hope she will be able to live here permanently."

In her short span of years, Jemima has seen much of the world and has quite a history.

A Prized Possession

She was bought originally for the daughters of a Polish-English family in Poland, and became one of the girl's most prized possessions. In the Polish Revolution of 1848, she was among a few things that the daughter was able to take out of the country.

Her owner finally settled in India, where she married and had a son. Jemima was given to the son, Charles Potten, and was regarded by this time almost as an heirloom.

Charles Potten grew up and became a river pilot on the Hooghly River in India. Recently, he came to Canada, bringing the doll with him. Now she is on indefinite loan to the Mackenzie homestead.

Her clothes are as old as she is, and representative of the early 19th century in Poland. Her dress is of muslin, and the seven petticoats are all hand-made, with intricate rows of tucking. Girls' petticoats of the time were provided with the tucks, so that they could be let out as they grew. Although Jemima reached her full growth early in life, she also was provided with the tucking.

Hungarian Bride Reaches Canada

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept 25 (CP)—A young Hungarian bride of 17 months joined her husband here Saturday after a year and a half of battling the red tape that bound her to her Communist-governed homeland.

She is Ilona Bigus, wife of John Bigus of Niagara Falls, Ont., and is here today because the persistence of Canadian and British consular officials in Europe equalled the stubbornness of Hungarian emigration officials

Bigus, a laboratory technician, left here in the fall of 1948 to visit relatives in Hungary. He met Ilona there and married her.

When they attempted to come to Canada, the Hungarians explained that Ilona had forsaken her Hungarian citizenship by marriage to a Canadian and was considered a Canadian by the Hungarian government.

She was told she would have to produce a Canadian passport.

The Canadian consul in Budapest explained that Canada does not accept citizens that way but gave Ilona an affadavit. However, the Hungarians would not accept this and demanded a passport. After months of haggling, the British consul at Budapest finally persuaded the Hungarian authorities to accept the affidavit and Mrs. Bigus immediately boarded a plane for Canada, where her husband had returned a few months ago.

John B. Maclean Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP). — John Bayne Maclean, founder of the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company, died today. He had been ill with a heart ailment for several months. Mr. Maclean would have been 88 tomorrow.

Mr. Maclean, who served for more than 45 years with the Canadian Militia, was known even in civilian life by his military title, Lieutenant-Colonel.

Col. Maclean, in 1887, founded Canadian Grocer, the first weekly trade paper published in Canada. He later became head of one of Canada's greatest publishing houses, specializing in trade papers and magazines. It has branches throughout Canada and in Chicago and London.

He was widely recognized for the part he played, through the publications his company sponsored, in fostering a spirit of Canadianism.

He occupied the positions of commercial editor of the Mail, Toronto, and financial editor of the Empire, also published in Toronto. At one time he published Art Weekly in London and New York.

Telegraph Lines Cut By Alberta Fires

EDMONTON, Sept. 25 (CP) — Telegraph lines linking the Yukon and Alaska with Edmonton were cut during the weekend as forest fires in Northern Alberta and British Columbia spread to six new areas and encircled the settlement of Fort Nelson, B.C.

Two of the new fires were eating into marketable timber stands. One old fire, in the vetans' land settlement project near Wanham in Northern Alberta, was brought under control after it had destroyed three farms, some livestock and crops and hundreds of trees.

In Edmonton, 60 to 340 miles from the fire fronts, the sky remained clear most of yesterday, but towards evening a blanket of smoke up to 4,000-feet thick brought early dusk to the city.

Charge Dismissed Against Heffernan

A charge of gross indecency against Joseph Heffernan, no fixed address, was dismissed in police court here today.

The charge involved a 13-year-old boy. Fred Hamilton, no fixed address, was found guilty of a similar offence Sept. 14 and sentenced to penitentiary for 30 months and 10 strokes of the whip.

Seek Former Suitor As Girl Wounded

DETROIT, Sept. 25 (AP). — Police today sought Clarence Korte, 26, former suitor of 19-year-old Geraldine Sanford, as a suspect in the shooting of the girl.

Miss Sanford was critically wounded in the shoulder and chest when she was shot yesterday while riding in a car with her boy friend.

Soldier Buys Own Ticket To Get Into Korean War

WITH U.S. 25TH DIVISION, Sept. 25 (AP)—The soldier who bought his own ticket to the Korean war is happy.

"This is what I wanted," said Sgt. Richard R. Pretzer of San Francisco as he moved up with an attacking spearhead toward Chinju.

Everyone but Pretzer is wondering how he got here. Officially, Pretzer was—until yesterday—part of the 1st Infantry Division at Furth, Germany.

"But Germany was no place to be with a war in Korea," Pretzer explains. And his old division, the 25th was in Korea.

So Pretzer asked around. He found by re-enlisting he could have a furlough. He re-enlisted. Then Dick bought a plane ticket to California. In San Francisco he planked down his savings for another air ticket—to Tokyo.

At Tokyo's Haneda airport the red tape is thick. But the sergeant hitch-hiked a ride to Taegu, then climbed on a freight train to Pusan. There he found a truck headed for this front and climbed in.

He went right up to a rifle company.

Then Pretzer reported in—still on furlough. Days later, after the doughboys knew they had a fighting man with them, he told the true story.

Cables raced back to Washington. Friday a cable came back.

Dateline: Washington.

Text: Sergeant Pretzer is assigned to the 5th Division. Records will be forwarded from Germany.

Marmora Victors

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 25 — (ENS)—The Marmora juvenile baseball boys proved better opportunists here last week to down the Campbellford squad 7-6 and take the TVL juvenile ball title with three wins in the best-of-five series. They won the Carl Maier Trophy, which will be presented to them at a later date by the league president.

Play was keen on the high school diamond, with Campbellford errors proving their downfall, pitcher McNaughton getting wobbly support. Marmora tallied four soft runs in the third and that did it. The visitors played heads-up ball to earn the decision and they were congratulated afterward by the losers. The winning team is having Campbellford players as guests shortly at a dinner.

Score by innings:

Lt. Cmdr. Phillips Named C.O. Of Antigonish

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Naval headquarters announced today that Lt.-Cmdr. Raymond Phillips, 28, of Ottawa, has been appointed commanding officer of HMCS Antigonish, a frigate used for training and based at Esquimalt, B.C. He takes command Sept. 28.

He succeeds Lt.-Cmdr. William S. T. McCully, 31, of Kingston and Vancouver, who has been placed in charge of the torpedo anti-submarine school at HMCS Stadacona at Halifax.

Born in Ottawa, Lt.-Cmdr. Phillips attended schools in the capital and in Victoria.

Later he attended Queen's University, from where he entered the RCN as a cadet. He went overseas in January, 1939, for cadet training and eight months later was appointed to the British cruiser Southampton as a midshipman.

Seen Action

He served in the Southampton from start of the war until she was sunk by dive-bombers Jan. 11, 1941, in the Mediterranean, while escorting a convoy to Malta. In November, 1941 he joined the destroyer St. Laurent, engaged in escort duties on the North Atlantic. He then went to the Tribal class destroyer Haida.

Leaving the Haida in February, 1946, he attended flying training courses in the United Kingdom, receiving his wings a year later. He subsequently served in the aircraft carrier HMS Triumph, based on Malta, as a squadron pilot.

He returned to Canada in September, 1948, and for the next two years held appointments on the staff of the chief of naval personnel at naval headquarters.

Torpedo Officer

Lt.-Cmdr. McCully was born in Kingston and was a resident of Vancouver when he entered the RCN as a naval cadet in December, 1936. He took courses and training overseas with the Royal Navy during the early part of his career and later specialized as a torpedo officer.

In May, 1940 ,he was appointed to HMCS Restigouche just prior to her despatch from Halifax with two other Canadian destroyers, the St. Laurent and Skeena, to take part in the evacuation of France. Two years later he was appointed officer-in-charge of the torpedo school at HMCS Cornwallis, N.S.

In April, 1944, he joined HMCS Qu'Appelle, a destroyer then engaged in convoy escort duties, and was her executive officer until December of the same year, when he was appointed in command of the vessel.

He subsequently served for a brief period with the Royal Navy, then was appointed to naval headquarters in October, 1945, where he served on the staff of the Directors of Weapons and Tactics in Ottawa until appointed in command of the Antigonish in December, 1948.

OBITUARY

FREDERICK JAMES COLLINS

After an illness of three weeks, Frederick James Collins, 191 Lake St., died Sunday evening at his home. He was aged 59.

A life long resident of Peterborough, Mr Collins was a member of the C.G.E. Quarter Century Club. He was a machinist and was employed by the company 28 years. He joined the C.G.E. as a messenger, then to the punch press and in 1909 transferred to the machine shop to serve his apprenticeship.

Mr. Collins was educated at Sacred Heart and Murry St. schools. He was a member of Sacred Heart Church, the Holy Name Society and the Altar Society.

He was the son of the late John Collins and the former Mary Murray. He leaves his wife, Margaret Coughlin; two daughters, Mary and Ann at home; three sisters, Mrs. Raymond Collett (Kathleen), Mrs. Murt Whaley (May), Mrs. Joseph O'Dette [illegible] home on Lake St. to Sacred Heart Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Wednesday, to be followed by burial in St. Peter's cemetery.

Hoffman To Resign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP) —Paul G. Hoffman will resign as economic co-operation administrator this week and will be succeeded by William C. Foster, now deputy administrator. Hoffman is reported to be resigning to assume the directorship of the Ford Foundation, a research, educational and philanthropic organization set up by grants from the Henry Ford automobile family.

Granddaughter Of Victoria Dies In London

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—The Dowager Marchioness of Milford Haven, 87 granddaughter of Queen Victoria and sister of the late Czarina of Russia, died Sunday at her Kensington palace home. She had been in poor health for many months.

The King ordered one week's family mourning.

The marchioness was a cousin of King George V. The Duke of Edinburgh, Princess Elizabeth's husband, is a grandson.

Her husband, Prince Louis of Battenberg, who became first Marquess of Milford Haven and served as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty during the First World War, died 29 years ago.

She was the mother of Earl Mountbatten of Burma, of Princess Andrew of Greece and of Crown Princess Louise of Sweden.

Sweden In Mourning

In Stockholm the Swedish Court and the staffs of the King and Royal Princess went into two weeks' mourning Sunday for the marchioness.

Born April 5, 1863, the marchioness was formerly Princess Victoria Alberta Elizabeth Mathilde Marie, eldest daughter of the Grand Duke Ludwig IV of Hesse and of Princess Alice Maud Mary, second daughter of Queen Victoria.

In 1884, she married the first Marquess of Milford Haven, Louis Alexander, son of Prince Alexander of Hesse, who became a naturalized British subject on entering the navy in 1868, and was First Sea Lord at the outbreak of the First World War.

He retired from this post because of the anti-German feeling against him and later changed his German name of Battenberg to the English equivalent of Mountbatten. In 1917 he was created Marquess of Milford Haven and died in 1921.

PRETORIA, South Africa, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—Field Marshal Jan Smuts' ashes were scattered at the family monolith on a small hill behind the house on his farm at Irene Sunday. The simple ceremony was attended only by members of his family.

Discuss Revaluation Of Aussie Pound

CANBERRA, Sept. 25 — (Reuters)— Early revaluation of the Australian pound to something below parity with sterling is being discussed again by Federal ministers as an alternative to a proposed wool export tax, usually well-informed quarters said here today.

The Australian pound now is valued at about $2.45 in Canadian funds, compared with the British pound at about $3.10.

Ministers met today in preparation for the budget session in parliament opening Wednesday.

Revaluation has twice been rejected by the cabinet after lengthy discussions in recent weeks in favor of a wool export tax but oppostion to this has been more buiter than expected.

Falls To Barn Floor When Ladder Breaks

MILLBROOK, Sept. 25 (ENS) —Ernest Armstrong fell from the ladder of the hay mow in his barn Saturday morning, when the ladder broke, sending him onto the bare floor.

Dr. J. W. Wright was called and X-rays, taken in Peterborough, revealed a broken collarbone.

CANADA PRODUCES WHEAT FOR ALL THE WORLD

Each year, Canada, one of the world's greatest granaries, ships abroad millions of bushels of wheat and other life-sustaining grains. The peoples of many lands depend on Canada's rich harvest for their daily bread.

Why Seagram's sells Canada first

This advertisement is an adaptation of one of a series created by The House of Seagram to tell the peoples of other lands about Canada and her various products. For the past two years this campaign has been appearing in newspapers and magazines printed in many languages and circulated throughout the world.

Our prosperity is based on our ability to sell our products to other countries. Every Canadian has a personal stake in foreign trade, for one out of every three dollars of Canada's national income results from our trade abroad. The more that the peoples of other countries know of the quality, variety and prestige of our products, the more likely they are to buy from us.

❖ ❖ ❖

We feel that the horizon of industry does not terminate at the boundary line of its plants; it has a broader horizon, a farther view—this view embraces the entire Dominion. That is why The House of Seagram believes that it is in the interest of every Canadian manufacturer to help the sale of all Canadian products in foreign markets. It is in this spirit that these advertisements are being published throughout the world.

Meeting Lobster Back Stage Sorely Tries Person's Taste

By JACK SCOTT

SHEDIAC, N.B. — It has nothing whatever to do with lobsters, our subject for today, but I'm reminded of the time Miss Yvette Dare, the exotic-type dancer, introduced me to her parrot, Lipstick, a splendid-looking bird who used to fly out from the wings to centre stage and unfasten a garment, loosely described as a sarong, worn by Miss Dare. This was always an agreeable sight and I enjoyed it for several years. Then I was introduced backstage to Lipstick and found her to be an ill-mannered and most untidy fowl. Somehow the act never seemed the same to me from that day.

What has this to do with lobsters? Simply that an old and deep affection for the flesh of the crustacean has been sorely tried by meeting several hundred lobsters, as it wer, backstage.

The visitor's taste buds are apt to throw up their hands in horror on beholding lobsters en masse, green-brown and downright vicious, crawling about, like a nightmare, in layers four deep.

His gastronomic memory of the delicacy may be impaired for life by the sound of lobsters being consigned to a boiling pot, with a farewell vocal effect too horrible to describe.

Moreover, if he is visiting Shediac, where people keep breaking boiled lobsters in two and eagerly shoving them at him, the visitor may reach the saturation point and turn a pale olive color at the mention of the word.

A great many people in Shediac are just getting over this unhappy condition, induced by the town's annual Lobster Festival, an affair at which citizens and visitors enjoy a gala show, crown a queen and, above all else, eat lobsters until they reach the snapping point.

During the three-day festivities there are three lobster-eating sessions of four hours apiece. In between these feats the celebrants keep in trim with oysters and the hard-shelled clams known as Quahaugs. The affair has been held two years now and, to everybody's astonishment, there have been no casualties.

Very Alive

Some of the world's finest lobsters come from the waters of Northumberland Strait between Prince Edward Island and the mainland, on which Shediac is located. Although lobsters may be trapped the year round, the season here runs from August 10 to October 5, dates blandly overlooked by a few furtive lobster-leggers who operate their own tiny illegal canneries along the coast.

The season is restricted because lobsters are getting scarcer all the time. Some of Shediac's nonagenarians can remember when nobody would dream of actually eating a lobster and they sold at half a cent a pound for fertilizer.

Jacques Cartier, writing in his diary of a trip to these parts, described lobsters so thick they had to crawl over each other three and four deep, like Toronto pedestrians, to move about. Another early tourist saw some with "a claw or snapper so large that it will hold a pint of wine."

The biggest I saw today when I visited one of the large packing plants near Shediac was a barnacled brute of 11 pounds. The kind that the good citizens kept thrusting at us ran about a pound and the first four or five were delicious. After that you're apt to lose your girlish laughter.

The lobsters are kept alive in large tanks fed by salt water (they succumb in fresh) and are sorted out by fearless gents who stomp in high rubber boots through a mass of snapping claws and lift out the victims with a trick grasp from the rear.

They are then boiled in vats and sold on the premises to tourists at 45 cents a pound or deshelled and packed in cans for export.

This particular outfit specializes in air-expressing live lobsters, packed in ice between layers of seaweed, anywhere in North America. I neglected to enquire what procedure the recipient is supposed to follow but I expect to find out later since I've sent my boss a couple of large and mean-looking specimens.

Shediac abounds in open-counter "canteens" run by colorful Acadians (nearly all the lobster business is done by French-Canadians) and very few tourists get through the place without gorging themselves.

Mortality Rate

At the snug basin for the lobster boats I met Arthur Pellerin, a 27-year-old fisherman in peaked cap and turtleneck sweater.

Arthur's boat is a 30-foot, open cockpit dory-like craft. Each morning before dawn he chugs out into the bay. He has 150 traps, or "pots," in eight fathoms of water and he spends some six hours hauling these up. The traps are lath and twine jobs which look vaguely like bird cages and have a one-way entrance for the lobster into what the fisherman call "the parlor." Pellerin's best day was a 400-pound catch at 19 cents a pound.

Arthur gave us a quick summary of the life of the lobster A lady lobster will lay up to 6,000 eggs, but very few of her children survive.

"They do not want to get to the top, like you and I," Arthur explained. "They wish only to get to the bottom. But until they grow the shell they must swim about and become a quick lunch for every fish in the sea. Not one in a hundred escapes. If they do escape then we are after them."

Lobsters grow by moulting, struggling free of one shell, including the claws, and hanging around nakedly until its new and larger armor-plate begins to grow. Mating usually takes place within a few hours after the lady lobster has a new outfit. Clothes aren't everything, as my wife sometimes says, but they help.

Resist Export Of Rubber To Russians

By A. L. McINTYRE

SINGAPORE, Sept. 25 (AP)— Resistance to the export of Malayan rubber to Russia is stiffening in this rubber-rich country since the Korean war started.

Rubber men are beginning to realize the potential damage being done by supplying vital war material to a possible enemy.

In Penang some rubber exporters have instituted a self-imposed ban on sale of rubber to Russia for patriotic reasons.

The Penang merchants, some of whom also stopped accepting orders from Communist China through Hong Kong, think it is time the Malayan and British governments acted to "stop this farce."

Malaya produces about 75 per cent of the world's rubber.

Malayan rubber exports to Russia for the first seven months of this year were 46,747 tons. Last year they totalled 63,414 tons, in 1948, 103,393 tons, and in 1947, 36,790 tons.

Busy Stockpiling

Both Britain and the United States believe Russia is stockpiling all natural rubber purchased from Southeast Asia. She has a sizable synthetic industry on which to depend.

Trade sources in Singapore think there will be little opposition generally to legislation restricting rubber sales to the Soviet Union.

However, doubts are expressed whether Indonesia, now independent and with an annual production of about 600,000 tons, will fall in line.

A ban on rubber exports to Russia or any of its satellites would release about 10,000 tons monthly for non-Communist countries, trade sources estimate.

Train Cats, White Rats Live As A Team

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP) A psychologist has trained four alley cats to live happily with a team of white rats. He says he thinks the world could learn a lesson in peaceful co-operation from them.

These natural enemies, said Dr. Loh-Seng Tsai of Tulane University, have been trained to help one another get a good feed by overcoming mutual handicaps.

"So why not human beings, races and nationalities?" asks Dr. Tsai, who has reported on his research to the American Psychological Association.

Get Used to Each Other

The cats and rats were placed together in cages until they got accustomed to living, playing and eating together.

The doctor has a device he calls the "Tsai co-operation apparatus" —a box-like affair on legs. It has three compartments, separated one from another by a screen gate which can be raised and lowered.

The first section is the entrance, where a cat and rat meet for each test.

When a gate is raised the animals move into the second chamber. This is where the co-operation takes place.

Learn Tricks

To get into the third compartment—where a dish of food awaits them—both the rat and the cat must step on floor buttons simultaneously. When this is done, says Tsai, the gate goes down and they are free to enter and eat the food.

But if only one of them steps on a button—or if both step on the same button—they get nowhere.

He claims that the animals have learned to do this:

If one of them is purposely kept in the entrance chamber while his team-mate gets through to the "co-operation" chamber, the partner in front will press a button that releases his buddy from the entrance room.

Conference To Sit In Camera

Frost Motion Urges Secret Session On Special Agenda

QUEBEC, Sept. 26—(CP)—The Federal-Provincial constitutional conference decided today to go into secret session on its complex discussions of Canada's constitutional setup.

The decision was taken shortly before the luncheon adjournment and stemmed from a motion by Premier Frost of Ontario that the conference from now on work behind closed doors.

The secret session begins at 2 p.m. and is expected to continue through the rest of today and all of Wednesday.

Mr. Frost's motion embodied a specific agenda for in camera discussions, a fact which drew some measure of disagreement from other provincial premiers. They felt this would restrict the discussion.

Adopt Motion

Then, after almost an hour-long debate, Prime Minister St. Laurent moved a substitute motion simply proposing that the conference go behind closed doors.

That motion was adopted without debate.

Mr. Frost's motion was not abandoned entirely. It will be discussed in the secret meeting and will serve as a sort of guide for the conference.

The Frost motion noted that some of the premiers in Monday's opening session called for a new, distinctively Canadian constitution to replace the present statute, the British North America Act.

It then suggested that the conference considered it desirable that agreement first be reached on a procedure for amending the constitution, the purpose for which the conference originally was called.

Frost Proposals

With this in mind, Mr. Frost proposed that the conference go into camera with this agenda:

23 Feared Dead In Plane Crash

TOKYO, Sept. 26 — (AP) — A Korea-bound transport plane plunged into the sea with 51 persons aboard. Twenty-eight were rescued, 22 are missing and one body was recovered.

The big plane crashed on take-off from a Southern Japan airbase about a half-mile from the end of the runway. Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said it carried 43 passengers and a crew of eight.

The circumstances were similar to the crash of a transport on a take-off from Kawajalein Island a week ago. Twenty-six navy personnel, also bound for Korea, perished—one of the navy's worst air disasters in the Pacific.

Details of today's crash were meagre. Twenty-five passengers and three crew members got into life rafts and were picked up by Japanese fishing boats. A nurse was among the survivors.

Warns Every Town Must Aid Evacuees

TORONTO, Sept. 26—(CP) — Provincial Secretary Arthur Welsh said Monday night that every town and city in Ontario might be called on to provide food, shelter and clothing for evacuees from industrial centres in the case of an atomic attack.

He told a meeting of war veterans of the 48th Highlanders' Club that municipalities should survey the equipment and facilities they could fit into a civil defence scheme.

The greatest danger from an atomic attack was flying glass and rubble and fires. "The civil defence organization must teach th e people how to protect themselves from flying glass and rubble and must seek alternative supplies of electrical power, gas and water."

Bees Win Battle

CHATHAM, Sept. 26 — (CP)—William Long, 81, is recovering from bee stings suffered during the week end on a honey-gathering expedition that almost cost him his life. He spent 48 hours in the bush after setting out from his isolated log cabin 35 miles from here. He said bees stung him so badly that he could not see for a time. While 50 neighbors searched the bush, he existed on berries and water until he stumbled into a farm home Sunday.

16 Survivors Brought Back To Goose Bay

HALIFAX, Sept. 26 (CP). — Sixteen American airmen are safe in Goose Bay after a tricky rescue Monday from the barren Labrador muskeg where they parachuted Thursday from their disabled bomber.

The rescue was effected after the survivors were spotted by an R.C.A.F. search plane Sunday, 95 miles southwest of the big northern base. A Helicopter landed in the Labrador wilderness, picked up the men and took them to the shore of a large lake nearby, from where two Albatross amphibians ferried them to Goose Bay for medical attention.

The only man injured among the 12 crew members and four passengers suffered a broken leg when he landed in a river after jumping from the bomber.

The four-engined plane was on a routine training flight from Goose Bay to Tucson, Ariz., when two engines caught fire and another stalled and those aboard had to jump.

An RCAF source said one of the big plane's engines caught fire shortly after it cleared Goose Bay Thursday night. This blaze was controlled, but then flames shot out from another engine and the aircraft turned back towards Goose Bay.

Find One Another

The men found one another slowly after landing. The aircraft crashed about four miles from the rocky bluff where they made camp and awaited rescue.

They made a shelter out of the parachutes and stretched others out to signal search planes. One called for food and water, another for a doctor, and a third said "All's well."

Their main worry was lack of food, but morale was high except on the second day—Saturday — when bad weather kept search planes grounded.

Sunday a giant armada of American and Canadian planes took off on a hunt extending from Labrador to the south-west United States—the route the plane was to have travelled.

DELAY MEETINGS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP). —Meetings of the Atlantic pact defence ministers and military chiefs here were postponed today until Oct. 24 and 28. They had been scheduled to meet 12 days earlier.

2 UN Armies Meet, Trap Closing

MacArthur Announces Seoul Liberated, Mopping Up Continues

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 26 — (AP)—An Army spokesman tonight said U.S. troops south of Seoul had made contact with 1st Cavalry tanks speeding up from the old southeast beachhead.

If the link-up is solidified thousands of North Korean troops will be hopelessly trapped in southwest Korea.

The spokesman said the first contact was made when two tanks of the 1st cavalry met units of the 7th division between Osan and Suwon.

Suwon, 20 miles south of Seoul, was seized by the U.S. 7th several days ago. It then sent patrols on to Osan, 10 miles farther south.

Liberate Seoul

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today the United Nations forces have liberated Seoul from North Koreans who held the capital in Communist bondage almost three months.

This was the big initial victory for the 53 non-Communist countries behind the first armed peace enforcement measure undertaken by the United Nations.

But mopping up of an estimated 5,000 die-hard Communist defenders in Seoul remained to be done by Allied forces fighting house by house and street by street.

The allied forces hoped to complete the clean-up task with a minimum of destruction to the city.

Four big blazes were burning as the ravages of battle.

The allied force credited with liberation of the 500-year-old capital of 1,000,000 normal population is American and South Korean.

It was officially in control just three months and a day after the Korean Reds—Communist-trained and Russian-armed—invaded the U.N.-sponsored republic across parallel 38 June 25.

London Has Service For Late Jan Smuts

LONDON, Sept. 26 — (CP). — The South African flag flew at half-mast today over Westminster Abbey at a memorial service for Jan Christian Smuts, South Africa's wartime Prime Minister.

Government and Opposition leaders, including Prime Minister Attlee and Winston Churchill, attended, along with field-marshals, ambassadors, and prominent educationists.

Canada was represented by Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew and L. Dana Wilgress, High Commissioner in London.

The King and Queen sent personal representatives.

Seoul Now City of Horror Reds Fight House To House

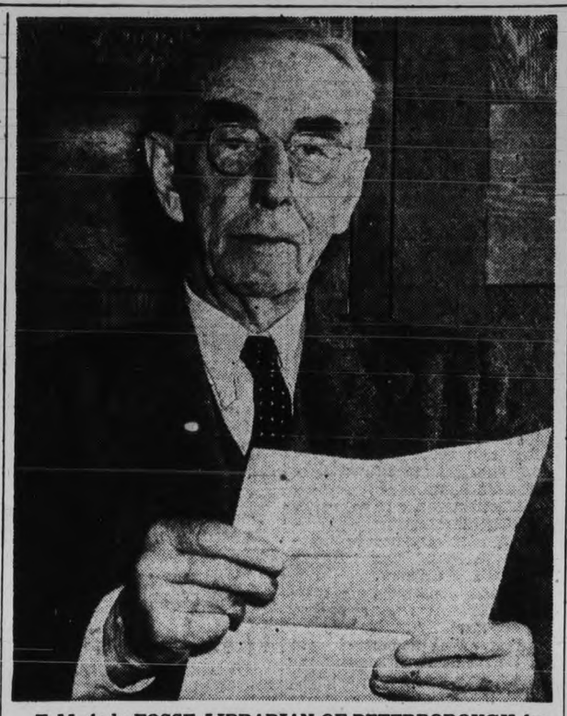
By DON WHITEHEAD

SEOUL, Sept. 26—(AP)—This is a flaming, smoke-filled city of horror today.

Great fires are raging and a black dome of smoke hangs in the sky.

Street by street U.S. Marines are nearing the heart of the city behind flame-throwing tanks, heavy artillery and air bombardment.

Seoul is not being spared. It is a fight to the death, with the Reds defending from houses, ridges and rooftops in a desperate stand.



(This dispatch was sent from Seoul at 6 p.m., Tuesday (5 a.m., EDT). Gen. MacArthur in Tokyo announced at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday that United Nations forces had completed "the envelopment and seizure of the city" and liberated it "in such a manner as to cause the least possible damage to civil installations.")

The Reds chose to defend Seoul. And the Americans are not sparing any building where the Reds had established defences. Seoul is being scarred and battered terribly—but the Allied high command is not sacrificing lives to save the face of Seoul.

And strange things happen in the battered streets . . . the Marine racing down a street into battle with two live ducks strapped to his packs and quacking madly . . . The Red platoon that marched out of the flames and smoke squarely into muzzles of American guns; this was a brief and wild slaughter of the Communists.

Along the battered street civilians poured out of their homes to watch the Marines even though bullets zipped overhead and occasionally Red shells whistled above them.

Every few hundred feet were thick earthen barricades across the street—thrown up by the Reds in the last few days for their defence of Seoul. One South Korean said the Reds forced American prisoners of war to help build the barricades.

F. M. de la FOSSE, LIBRARIAN OF PETERBOROUGH for 36 years who died this morning in the Civic Hospital in his 91st year.

Venerable Retired Librarian F. M. de la Fosse, 90, Dies

Peterborough's librarian emeritus and distinguished elder citizen Frederick Montague de la Fosse died early this morning in Civic Hospital, in his 91st year, after an illness of ten days. He had been Public Librarian from 1910 to 1946, and his erect lithe figure and walking-stick were for nearly half a century part of the city's character.

He was born in India, son of Captain Charles de la Fosse and Isabella Ricketts, in 1860. He is survived by his widow, the former Amy Vernon Halliday, by two daughter, Mrs. George D. Frewer (Margery) of Florida and Mrs. William West (Philippa) of Arizona, and by one son Francis C. de la Fosse of Longueuil, Quebec. A grandson, Lieutenant-Commander Frederick C. Frewer of Montreal is presently captain of H.M.C.S. Micmac. There are four other grandchildren, and several great-grandchildren.

Mr. de la Fosse, despite his French name, was as English as any of his "English Bloods," the book he wrote about young English gentlemen and their experiences in the backwoods of Canada. His family is of Huguenot extraction. When the Edict of Nantes which gave French Protestants political and religious freedom, was revoked in 1685, the de la Fosse ancestors moved to England.

Born In Bengal

Frederick Montague de la Fosse was born in Bengal, India, in 1860, where his father was a captain of artillery. When he was seven, Captain de la Fosse returned with his family to England, to recover his health. He died not long afterwards, and within a few years the mother also died, leaving her family orphans. The young de la Fosse was taken under the wing of an uncle who was also his godfather, and sent to Wellington College, famous English school which has trained many great soldiers of the Victorian and Georgian eras. When he entered Wellington, his headmaster was the great ecclesiastic Edward W. Benson, Archbishop of Canterbury during the golden jubilee of Queen Victoria's coronation. At school he was more noted for his prowess on the playing fields than for his studies.

Like other adventurous young Englishmen of his time the young de la Fosse was attracted by alluring advertisements about farming opportunities in Canada. Upon finishing school in this 18th year he came to Canada, his family

41 Killed, Wounded In US Error Bombing

TOKYO, Sept. 26 (AP) — A British army spokesman reported today 21 men were killed and 20 wounded in the error bombing of the British 27th Brigade by American planes Saturday.

The spokesman said the number of casualties was determined personally by Air Vice-Marshal C. A. Bouchier on a two-day visit to the front in South Korea.

(Reuters News Agency reported from Waegwan, Korea, Sunday there were 150 casualties as a result of the mistake bombing.)

4th Man Escapes From Sorel Jail

SOREL, Que., Sept. 26—(CP)—A fourth prisoner escaped from jail here Monday—shortly after jail governor Lucien Badeau was suspended and a full-scale investigation was ordered by the Provincial government into a series of recent breaks.

Provincial police officers have been running the jail since last week, when Mr. Badeau was pulled off the job.

Ironically, the Provincials were not aware of the escape of Gerard Picard until he was captured and returned to them by city police.

It has been reported that three prisoners broke out twice, committed burglaries in Sorel and then stole back to their cells. One escapee didn't bother returning the second time and still is at large.

Frost Damage Said $165,000

PICTON, Sept 26.—More than 10,000 tons of corn and tomatoes in Prince Edward County were destroyed by severe frost early Monday morning. Ground temperatures varied from 20 to 27 degrees and although many farmers fought the frigid air with hay and straw smudges, they were unable to save crops.

Local canners estimate the loss to county farmers of close to $165,000 for tomatoes ruined by frost and $250,000 for corn. Farmers this year were receiving an average of 65 cents a bushel for tomatoes and $25 a ton for corn

Several areas close to water escaped with slight damage.

Tomato and corn fields on the Cressy, Waupoos Peninsula, were not seriously affected, nor were those near the shores of east and west lake and lake Ontario. From Picton, Bloomfield, Wellington districts north, however, most growers suffered almost total loss.

Howard Leavens, local canner, said that most factories north of Picton, including those in Hastings and Lennox Counties, would be forced to shut down in a day or two due to frost damage.

Donald Baxter, MPP, and his father, Ed Baxter, who operate a canning factory in Bloomfield, estimated their growers lost at least 50,000 bushels of tomatoes. He himself had a 14-acre patch with 3,000 bushels ruined. Even green tomatoes were frozen, Mr. Baxter said.

Farmers using smudges to stop the frost gave up by 5 o'clock Monday morning when they discovered the frost penetrating the smudges and freezing within six feet of the hay and straw fires.

Throw Out UE In Purge At CCL Parley

Communists Warned Further Kicks In Store For Reds

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26—(CP) Communists at the Canadian Congress of Labor convention got a warning today that they are going to get further rough handling.

President A. R. Mosher, whose executive Monday led the CCL in tossing out the Red-dominated United Electrical Workers, told the convention today that party liners are not going to get much chance of putting over ideological ideas at the meeting.

"The time has come," he said, "when 95 per cent of the delegates at this convention are not going to have their minds diverted from the important things they've come here to do by a small minority that wants to kick up a racket."

Single Speaker

President Mosher's reference apparently was in connection with the fact that Monday some left-wingers tried loudly to get the floor after the convention had heard one spokesman for the executive and one for the Electrical Workers union in its appeal against expulsion.

Under the C.C.L. constitution, each party to a scrap of this kind is allowed a single spokesman.

Opening move of the annual meeting of spokesmen for 360,000 unionists Monday was to heave out of its ranks the Communist-dominated United Electrical Workers of America. After that drastic move against its 25,000-member affiliate, third largest union in the Congress, the 700-odd delegates got set today for further wallops against the Red element in Canadian labor.

Later in the week, the convention is expected to give its executive council power to suspend unions on the outright ground of being dominated by Communists. It has not had that power up to now, and has had to use various devices for getting rid of Left-wing bodies.

Expulsion of the Electrical Workers, forecast for several months following the union's suspension by the CCL executive council last December, came as something of an anti-climax in a quiet meeting Monday.

Will Go Through

A year ago at Ottawa, the convention was in a turmoil as left-wingers fought unsuccessfully against the expulsion of the Red-run International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the suspension of five top officers of the UEW.

In a vote on the question of expelling the UEW, the left-wingers mustered perhaps 50 hands of 700-odd delegates. This made it clear the anti-Red policies of the CCL executive will go through during the next four days of the convention.

These will include declarations on foreign policy and other questions, in which the CCL will adopt a stiff anti-Communist line.

Can't Establish Crime Though $100,000 Taken

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 26 (AP).—Twelve persons, including eight young women whom authorities say admit took part in a long-time theft of telephone company funds by smuggling out rolls of quarters in their brassieres, were freed today because no one has been able to establish a crime.

Between $8,00 and $10,000 in coins, currency, and negotiable bonds was impounded by Judge George E. Holt during a writ of habeas corpus hearing.

The money allegedly is part of the loot taken over a period of two years by girl employees in the counting room of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. Police estimated "several hundred thousand dollars" have been taken during a period of years.

Admit Taking Money

County Solicitor Michael F. Zarowny said he was placed in this unique position:

He has the oral admissions of eight women and four men that they participated in a swindle of telephone company funds. The girls who worked in the coin-counting room of the company admitted, he said, taking as much as $150 a day by hiding rolls of nickels, dimes and quarters in their brassieres before the coins were run through the counting machines.

But the telephone company, which has no official check of the money until it is run through the counting machine, is unable to establish how much of the money was taken, or when, and therefore will not file an affidavit charging theft.

Miami Detective Chief H. V. Howard said he could not sign an affidavit because no one had filed an official complaint. An admission is not sufficient evidence to prosecute, he said.

Thus, said Zarowny, no crime has been established. And until a crime is established, the 12 persons can no longer be held nor can they be charged.

"We will continue the investigation," said Zarowny, "and hope that some way we can establish a crime."

Two Women Escape Police Dragnet

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 26 —(CP) —Two women in a Michigan car who escaped a Provincial police dragnet after forcing a heavy transport into a deep ditch near Delaware Monday night, may be hiding in London, police said today.

The transport loaded with 10 tons of brass castings bound for Long Branch from Wallaceburg hurtled into the ditch where its right front corner was buried in the side of the ditch. Driver MacKenzie of Lakeview wa[illegible] injured.

Move Yukon's Capital? Howl Heard In Ottawa

DAWSON, Y.T., Sept. 26—(CP) —The capital of the Yukon is setting up a howl that echoes through the musty, empty saloons of the '99ers.

Word is that the Dominion government intends to move the capital from Dawson to Whitehorse, some 250 air miles south of here.

At a recent meeting, Mayor Howard Firth and his three aldermen threatened to resign if the seat of Yukon's government were moved. So did Charles Lellevre, Dawson's representative on the Territorial Council, the three-man body that administrates the Yukon.

"We've been hearing about this proposed transfer of the capital to Whitehorse these past two years," Mayor Firth said. "But a persistent recurrence of the rumor has now given us real cause for anxiety."

"We'll show them back there at Ottawa that we're not going to be pushed around like a bunch of sitting ducks," Dentist William Joiner told the meeting.

"Why!" thundered Alderman Jim Mellor, "it's like shoving our last frontier nearly 500 miles to the south."

A general citizens' committee was formed on the spot to oppose any such transfer. The committee sent telegrams to Prime Minister St. Laurent, Resources Minister Winters and J. Aubrey Simmons, Yukon's representative in Ottawa to tell them this.

From a roaring boom town of 25,000 at the turn of the century, when it was the centre of the Klondike gold rush, Dawson today is a village of a little more than 1,000.

It still hopes for another rush and gold mining companies in the district still dredge between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 worth of gold each year.

Try Rescue For 7 Hours, Seal Off Pit

Flames Broke Out In Conveyor Belt, 120 Miners Escaped

CRESWELL, Northumberland, England, Sept. 26—(AP) —A raging underground fire trapped and killed at least 80 men today at the Creswell coal mine.

Caught behind a wall of flame from burning rubber and timber roof supports, they were choked to death by gas and fumes.

Another 120 men crept to safety on their hands aid knees.

An official death list issued this afternoon contained 80 names. However, estimates of the toll had ranged from 83 to 90.

All but three of the dead miners were sealed—perhaps forever—in the deep shaft. Three bodies had been brought out by rescue workers shortly after the start of the blaze.

No One Could Live

An official statement said there was "no possibility" that any of the other 77 men were alive below ground.

The entire underground fire area was being sealed off tonight behind walls of sandbags. Schoolboys of 10 and 12 helped fill the bags.

The Creswell mine had been known as one of the safest coal pits in Britain.

The blaze took the heaviest toll of lives of any British mine disaster since 1947, when 104 died in the undersea workings of the Whitehaven pit on the northwest coast.

After rescue operations had been carried out for seven hours, the blazing pit was sealed off.

Smoke and intense heat drove back rescuers and hope for the trapped men was abandoned at 7 a.m. EST, when the fire had been burning for nine hours.

Heavy Clouds Spoil Eclipse

By The Canadian Press

The earth's shadow blacked out the moon Monday night but many Canadians couldn't see it for clouds and smoke.

In central British Columbia, Regina, Winnipeg, Ottawa and Montreal, professional and amateur astronomers had a good view of the total eclipse, caused by the earth's intervention between the moon and the sun.

But in Toronto, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria heavy clouds or smoke from Alberta forest fires blocked the show.

The total eclipse began at 10:31 p.m. (EDT), and reached a complete blackout at 11:54 which lasted for 46 minutes.

[illegible]vestigators [illegible]ngsters

[illegible]pt. 26 (AP). —[illegible]nvestigators were [illegible]nday night in separate [illegible]ngs shortly before they were to have reported on activities of Chicago gangsters.

William J. Drury, 48, a former Chicago police lieutenant, was riddled with shotgun pellets while a representative of the U.S. Senate Crime Committee was trying to arrange a meeting with him.

A short time later, Marvin J. Bas, 45, a lawyer who had been digging up crime syndicate information for a Republican candidate for Cook county sheriff, was shot down on a northwest side street.

Both killings were coldly efficient. Drury's slayers waited in a garage behind his home until he had backed his automobile into the structure. They fired four times point blank through the left windshield.

Two women saw Bas shot to death by two well-dressed gunmen. One dropped him with a pistol shot and the other leaned over him and finished him off with a shot below the left ear.

Say Wheat Crops Not Too Bad Despite Frost

OTTAWA, ept. 26—(CP)—A wheat crop that might have been the largest in history—except for frost—will be cleared from Canada's prairie fields and prepared for storage and market in the next two weeks.

Offering silent prayers for continuing good weather, western farmers have hauled away about 250,000,000 of the 490,000,000-bushel crop they are expected to harvest this year.

A small segment of the prairie farm population is working in gloom, facing fields blackened by crop-killing frost that destroyed about 54,000,000 bushels and weakened the quality of millions more.

However, all told, the harvest is not considered "too bad" by government grain experts. Though sharply below the 544,000,000-bushel crop farmers had hoped for, the crop still is a big gain over the 367,000,000 bushels realized last year and well above the 394,000,000-bushel 1940-49 10-year average.

Other Crops

The loss through frost has not been felt in wheat alone. The harvest of oats, barley, rye and flaxseed now going on will see clearance of quantities below that estimated by the government's Bureau of Statistics.

The oat crop now is estimated at 414,000,000 bushels, down from last month's estimate of 433,000,000. A harvest of 179,000,000 bushels of barley is expected, compared with last month's estimate of 184,000,000. The rye crop likely will be about 14,500,000, down from 15,500,000; flaxseed, 4,900,000, down from 5,100,000.

Throw Out UE

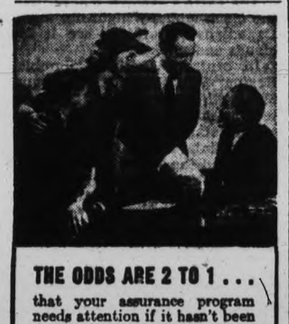
In Monday's opening meeting, President A. R. Mosher told the convention that Communist unions should be outlawed from the Congress. This foreshadows a move by the executive—to develop later—giving it power to put out unions considered to be Red-dominated.



It will hit first, it is expected, at the 5,000-member International Union of Fur and Leather Workers. Others to be affected probably will be the British Columbia Shipyard Workers' Federation and the Maritime Marine Workers' Federation.

Monday's scrap was fought out between Pat Conroy, national secretary-treasurer of the CCL, speaking for the executive, and George Aldridge, UEW president in Leaside.

Conroy charged that the UEW officers were "crawling on their bellies to Joe Stalin." He alleged every national officer of the union was "a complete vassal and slave of the Communist party."

Listening to him in the gallery of Winnipeg's Civic Auditorium was Clarence Jackson, national director of the UEW, and some of his other officers.

In presenting their case, Aldridge said the Electrical Workers' Union had been tossed out of the CCL illegally on the ground of delayed payment of its monthly per capita dues. He said that was used "merely as a convenient excuse."

Venerable Librarian

contracting to pay £100 a year for an apprenticeship to a Canadian farmer. The so-called farmer was a bushman in the wilds of Muskoka who had cleared a couple of acres. During the two years Mr. de la Fosse stayed on this land he cleared by hand a farm of his own—50 acres—and stored his memory with fantastic incidents of the pioneer life there. These bore fruit in numerous essays and accounts (some of which have been published in the Examiner), and in his book "English Bloods."

Mr. de la Fosse removed to Toronto about 1880, acting as secretary to the Provost Body of Trinity College for some years. He married in 1885 and later moved to Lakefield living in semi-retirement. His wife, invalided, died after the turn of the century.

New Career

In 1910, at the age of fifty, a new career began for Mr. de la Fosse, a career for which his interest in scholarship and books admirably fitted him. He became first Public Librarian of Peterborough, a position he held with distinction for 36 years until his retirement in January, 1946.

During his long service at the library he enriched the collection with discrimination and built up the section on local history with care. His vivid personality, generous nature and gentlemanly disposition endeared him to two generations of Peterborough folk.

As librarian he was honoured by various American and Canadian societies of librarians and bibliophiles.

Among his publications are books of verse, printed privately.

Link With Past

Mr. de la Fosse was a remarkable link with the past, not only of Ontario, but of Britain. As a schoolboy he encountered Gladstone. He remembered as a small child sitting on the knee of his great-aunt, who had sat on the knee of her godmother who had been touched by Queen Anne, the last Stuart monarch. Queen Anne was the last British sovereign to give the Royal Touch.

In 1925 he married the former Amy Vernon Halliday.

Last July 25th, on his 90th birthday Mr. and Mrs. de la Fosse received a host of admirers and friends at their Water Street residence, and private and civic congratulations. Mr. de la Fosse was active and alert until ten days ago when he was taken to Civic Hospital suffering from weakness and a cracked hip-bone.

The funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from St. John's Church, of which he was a member and official. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will conduct the service. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Comstock's. Burial will be ni Little Lake Cemetery. The family gratefuly decline floral tributes.

Dairy Cows Lying Down On Job

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP). — Canada's dairy cows haven't been doing so good this year.

The Bureau of Statistics reported Monday that milk production during the first seven months totalled 9,805,000,000 pounds, a decline of 8,000,000 pounds from the corresponding period last year.

July production was 1,866,000,000 pounds compared with 1,887,000,000 in July, 1949. But the Bureau said that advance estimates for August indicate a small gain over a year earlier, reversing the July reduction.

Of this year's July output, 1,184,000,000 pounds or 63 per cent went into factory production Sales of fluid milk and cream totalled 350,055,000 pounds, an increase of about 9,000,000 pounds in comparison with last year. This included 286,000,000 pounds of fluid milk, comprising about 18 per cent of the farm milk supply and fluid cream sales of 64,000,000 pounds representing 3 per cent of the total milk output.

2 UN Armies

Special Communique

MacArthur issued a special communique at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday (12:10 a.m., EST) to announce the end of effective Red resistance in Seoul. It said:

"Seoul, capital of the Republic of Korea, is again in friendly hands, United Nations forces, including the 17th regiment of the ROK (Republic Of Korea) army and elements of the U. S. seventh (army) and 1st Marine division, have completed the envelopment and seizure of the city. . .

"The liberation of the city was conducted in such a manner as to cause the least possible damage to civil installations."

The big gamble to break the back of Red Korean resistance and end the war of liberation soon was paying off with surprising speed.

That calculated risk involved a hazardous landing far behind enemy lines at Inchon and a quick drive for Seoul. Eleven days elapsed between the Inchon beachhead landings and announcement of Seoul's liberation

Symbolic Prize

The capital not only was a symbolic prize but the hub of virtually all road and rail lines into southeast Korea where more than 100,000 Communists were floundering away from the old allied defence box.

The 10th corps directing the Seoul fight said Seoul's military defences actually were broken by 2 p.m. Monday—just 10 days after the Inchon landings.

MacArthur said Seoul's Communist garrison was fleeing northward in disorder.

The Reds appeared to be shattered everywhere as a unified fighting force.

Allied forces hammered out sharp new gains throughout the whole battle zone—in what may be the war's conclusive offensive —against resistance ranging from bitter to feeble.

Advance 35 Miles

South Koreans thrust 35 miles out of the old beachhead all along the northern wall.

British and American infantrymen gained nearly that same distance along the western perimeter.

Fighting inside Seoul raged throughout Monday night and into Tuesday.

Beat Off Attack

AP Correspondents Tom Lambert and Bill Ross said U.S. marines beat off a massed counter-attack in a fierce all-night battle.

The Reds hurled their largest attack of the Seoul fighting at the 1st Marine Regiment about 500 yards south of the governor's palace.

Marines firing bazookas knocked out 11 Red tanks and broke the assault.

"We may be able to take just about all of the city today (Tuesday)," a marine general said in the forenoon, "if the Reds shot their main bolt last night."

Front intelligence officers and air observers said 2,000 Communists fled the city in about 100 vehicles Monday night.

Hundreds Slain

One marine battalion reported killing 1,800 Reds in 36 hours on Seoul's northwest outskirts. Hundreds of Reds were slain elsewhere in the city and many were captured.

But frontline officers estimated that between 3,000 and 5,000 Reds still fought in a city ripped by small arms and mortar fire and burning in four battle areas.

The Reds fought in trenches dug between streetcar tracks, in houses, alleys and Seoul's twisting streets. They sniped from windows, hillsides and buildings.

The marines fought with rifles, carbines, grenades and tanks against Red small arms and automatic weapons, Correspondent Lambert reported.

American marines laid a mortar barrage on the outskirts of Duk Soo palace grounds late Monday to clear out Communists, hoping to spare the palace itself.

Limited communications prevented any hour-by-hour account of the battle. Early Tuesday, marines were reported near Duk Soo the granite palace where Russians and Americans in the past had met in vain on proposals to unify Korea.

Heart of City

Duk Soo is considered the heart of a somewhat lop-sided city. It is in the northern section. Around it cluster modern municipal buildings and hotels.

Despite MacArthur's announcement that the fight for Seoul was waged so as "to cause the least possible damage," North Korean holdout desperadoes appeared determined to provoke the greatest amount of destruction.

"A damned shame if we have to damage the city," crackled Col. Lewis Puller of the 1st Marine Regiment. "But if we have to—that's all there is to do."

Tuesday's official communiques reporting Seoul's liberation sketched the broad military strategy, not the continuing fox-hole combat.

Reds Crack

MacArthur said the Communists cracked and began to flee after a three-pronged drive virtually ringed the city and captured main Red defensive positions including dominating South Mountain.

This 700-foot peak near the Han River gave the Reds virtual control of the city—until Allied troops stormed it with aerial softening help.

MacArthur said U.S. and South Korean Marines and "special troops" drove one prong across the Han River to carve out a wide perimeter.

Other marines then smashed into Seoul from the southwest after thrusting across the Han nine days after the Inchon landing.

A third river crossing force Monday sent the U.S. 7th Division's 32nd regiment and the South Koreans' crack 17th Regiment into the southeastern edge of the city. It was this force that won South Mountain.

Sealed Fate

MacArthur indicated and his spokesman said the southeast river crossing militarily sealed the fate of Seoul and drove the Reds into a frenzied search for escape.

This steel prong completed encirclement of the capital and convinced the Reds they had lost, the spokesman said.

Seoul's liberation is the dramatic high-spot of this war to restore a nation nurtured by the UN. But the battering Allied attacks from the southeast, where Allied forces had been pressed back so long, were of extreme military importance.

MacArthur's spokesman for the first time officially called the U.S. 1st Cavalry thurst through the centre of the old North Korean line a breakthrough.

This means enemy defences have been cracked so wide they cannot be restored.

Speeding Ahead

Foot troopers of the 1st Cavalry captured Chongju—more than half the distance between Taegu and Seoul—Monday afternoon. Advance elements sped westward another 10 miles to enter Chochiwon.

Both of these captured towns were within 40 miles of U.S. 7th Division patrols spearing southward in the second front's Osan area.

MacArthur's spokesman said a link-up of the two forces would cut off the bulk of Red troops left in Southern Korea. At one time they were estimated 130,000 strong. Many fled north soon after the Inchon landing.

And, said the spokesman, Allied forces on the southern front killed or wounded 20,000 Reds between Sept. 18 and 23.

The veteran U.S. 24th Division —battered down "Heartbreak Highway" in the early days of the war—captured Kumchon on the road back and punched northwest several miles toward Taejon.

AP correspondent Ben Price said the 24th was "going like a house afire."

Gold Stocks Buck Downward Trend

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP). — Gold stocks bucked a mild downward trend as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Activity slowed to a comparative crawl as profit-taking appeared in leading industrials, strong gainers in three previous sessions.

Buyers turned their attention to key gold producers. Junior issues showed gains ranging up to 10 cents and several seniors firmed fractionally. Lower-priced issues tended slightly lower. Keybocon, a feature of recent markets, moved briskly on its own to a new high at 28 cents.

Industrials labored under profit-taking of recent gains that pulled the board to the highest average levels in 16 years. Gains and losses were about balanced but leaders of the upturn paced the losses with declines ranging from fractions to more than a full point. Canada Cement was the widest loser, dipping 3¼ at 45 following an advance of 4½ yesterday.

Papers, utilities, foods and refining oils showed majorities of declines in the groupings. Constructions, financial institutions and steels were higher.

Losses almost tripled gains in base metals. Consolidated Smelters, International Nickel and Noranda lost fractions. Steep Rock traded heavily at $4.10, unchanged from yesterday.

Western oils were about evenly balanced, slipping slightly from opening gains.

Volume for the first three hours was 748,000 shares.

Congregation Marks 115th Anniversary

MILLBROOK, Sept. 26 (ENS)—The 115th anniversary of Grace Presbyterian congregation was commemorated with special services on Sunday. The speaker was the Rev. James M. Ritchie, of Hastings, and the soloist was Sam Castle, of Peterborough.

At the evening service Mr. Castle sang an arrangement of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "My Task." Centreville Church choir led in the service of song.

The duet in the anthem was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Grace Muspratt, who played the organ.

The chancel of the church was decorated with gladioli, asters, zinnias and ferns.

The Rev. Walter Patterson, pastor of Grace Church, pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Patterson is retiring this fall.

The cornerstone of the present church building was laid in 1896, shortly after the church on Tupper St. was burnt.

Try Rescue

Decision to give up rescue attempts and seal off the burning section of the mine was announced by Sir Hubert Houldsworth, chairman of the East Midlands division of the National Coal Board.

80 Men Missing

He said a check showed 80 men missing.

More than half of the approximately 200 men working in the mine escaped when the fire flared, crawling through dense smoke and rubber fumes to reach the main shaft.

Scorched and blackened volunteers who went below to fight the fire staggered to the surface saying "it is hell down below."

The flames broke out soon after midnight in a conveyor belt.

About 90 men were in the section affected by the fire. Sir Hubert said, adding that the fire there was "intense and the air very foul."

It was Britain's second coal mine disaster in recent weeks. Thirteen men were killed and 116 others were entombed for two days before they were rescued after a cave-in Sept. 8 near New Cumnock, Scotland.

Centre of Community

The Creswell Mine is a mile from Creswell Crags, a noted beauty spot near Welbeck Abbey, the home of the Dukes of Portland. The colliery, employing more than 1,500 workers, is the centre of a community of 6,000 persons.

This afternoon Sir Hubert and the Mineworkers Union, in a joint statement, said despite rescue efforts "it was not possible to rescue any of the trapped men."

The statement added:

"All possible steps were taken to combat the fire but it was impossible to prevent it spreading. After a full inspection underground . . . it was the unanimous opinion that there was no possibility of any of the men remaining in the districts affected being alive.

"It was also considered that any attempt to recover the bodies was bound to fail and that such attempts would inevitably involve further loss of life.

Seal Off Pit

"It was then unanimously resolved that no course remained except to seal off the affected part of the pit. This work is now taking place."

A long moan went up from waiting wives and children of the trapped men when the decision was announced.

Virtually the whole community of 6,000 persons had been clustered around the pit head since early morning.

Above ground, hundreds of men filed sandbags to be taken below to seal off the fire. Rescue teams rushed here from surrounding mines.

The flames broke out at 4 a.m., apparently in a conveyor belt about 1,000 yards from the bottom of the pit. The mine has an elaborate network of more than 15 miles of such belts—one of them 1,932 yards long—to carry coal from the coal face to the main shaft.

Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie officiated at an early celebration of Holy Communion.

Rev. F. F. Downing, rector of Tweed, officiated at the 11 a.m. service of Morning Prayer. Mrs. R. Frost was organist in the absence through illness of Mrs. L. R. Rundle.

The choir sang "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty, the King of Creation" during the offertory.

Children's Joint Rally

MARMORA, Sept. 26 (ENS) — St. Andrew's United Church Sunday School joined the church congregation for the annual Rally Day service whcih was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George D. Young, B.A., B.D., on Sunday. The form of service issued by the Ontario Religious Education Council was followed and the church was well filled for the occasion.

The choir sang an anthem.

U.S. Farm Dept. Being Pressed For 1951 Goals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) —The international situation is outside the scope of the Agriculture Department, but no other agency of the United States government is keeping a closer tab on world developments.

The reason: the department soon must draw up a 1951 farm-producing program for the U.S. that will fit next year's prospective demands.

Food requirements would be one thing under peace, but quite another under war. The department has the responsibility of guessing right when it sets up a program. It is too late to change, until another year rolls around, once plans have been made and crops have been sown.

If it guesses wrong one way, it may find itself confronted with big surpluses requiring heavy government price-support outlays; if it guesses wrong the other way, prices will jump and there may be real shortages.

Under Heavy Pressure

The department is under heavy pressure from farmers to announce 1951 plans now. The farmers want to get what materials they'll need, do the amount of fall plowing that would be called for and the like.

The department already has announced the 1951 wheat program calling for 72,500,000 acres compared with about 69,000,000 this year. The program was announced early because much of that grain is planted in the fall.

The department must announce by Oct. 15 whether it will continue rigid production and marketing controls on cotton.

The only crops for which rigid-production controls are likely to be maintained next year are tobacco and peanuts.

Unless the international situation worsens, the department is likely to keep acreage allotments on corn, but to increase them over this year's levels. Much depends also on how this year's crop turns out quality-wise.

Conference

1. To consider an amending procedure and, if possible, to propose a method for the drafting of a new constitution to be enacted by the Canadian parliament and by each of the provincial legislatures. This constitution would be a consolidation and a revision of the B.N.A. Act.

2. To consider what number of provinces and what percentage of population should be required to authorize the amending of constitutional provisions dealing with matters within the joint jurisdiction of the Dominion and the provinces.

3. To consider what constitutional provisions should be defined as fundamental rights.

As the conference opened its second day Mr. St. Laurent sought to swing the delegates back to the original purpose of the conference—that of devising a method of amending the constitution in Canada.

No Criminal Cases For Court At Fall Sittings

COBOURG, Sept. 26 (ENS)—Fall sittings of Supreme Court opened Monday before Mr. Justice Dalton Wells with a small civil docket. Signifying the absence of any criminal cases, Sheriff Fred C. Richardson presented His Lordship with the traditional pair of white gloves and the presiding judge expressed his pleasure at there being no criminal cases to be tried.

Two motor car accidents cases and two divorce actions comprise the civil docket, one accident case requiring a jury. As the grand jury had no criminal work to do and since the customary inspections had taken place at the spring assizes, the grand jury panel was dismissed before court was assembled.

The jury case is a $50,000 motor accident damage action brought by Mrs. A. B. Cryderman of Bowmanville against Ernest and Albert West of Orono and J. W. Gillespie of East Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Cryderman, as administratrix of the estate of her husband, said to have been killed in the accident, is the plaintiff.

On the non-jury list is a motor accident case brought by Dr. Daniel McVicker of Deseronto against Roy Ament of Haldimand township, the amount of the claim being $1,500.

First witness called Monday afternoon in the $50,000 damage action was D. Donovan of Toronto, land surveyor who produced a plan of the accident scene and photographs. He said his plan covered 600 feet of the highway at the scene of the accident of a straight highway that was level and had no obstructions.

Riding Bicycle

Dr. H. Rundle of Bowmanville, physician to the Cryderman family, testified that Mr. Cryderman, who was riding a bicycle at the time of the fatality, was 47 years of age, six feet tall, and in good health. The plaintiff alleges that Cryderman was struck first by the car driven by Ernest West and owned by Albert West and after the impact was run over by the car driven by the other defendant.

Dr. K. Slemon of Bowmanville, who attended at the scene of the accident, which occurred on June 19 near Bowmanville, testified that he arrived around 12.45 p.m. and found Mr. Cryderman lying on his back on the highway. He was unconscious and after being taken to Bowmanville Hospital an examination revealed he had a fractured skull and chest injuries. He died about an hour and a half later.

Deafened People Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone are so proud of their achievement that Mr. George H. Eaton, a Factory Trained Consultant, will be at the Empress Hotel in Peterborough on Thursday, September 28th, from 2 to 8 p.m. to give you a demonstration of this remarkable hearing device. If you find it inconvenient to meet Mr. Eaton during the above hours, phone him at the hotel and he will be glad to call on you in your own home. Hearing Aid Centre of Ottawa, 44 Bank Street, Ottawa. ## Rotary Club Hears Reports Of Conference

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 26 — (ENS)—Rotarians Walter Wiggins and Ralph Locke, were speakers at the noon luncheon of the Campbellford Rotary Club on Monday. They had attended the Rotary International Conference in Detroit this summer and were reported back to the club.

Mr. Wiggins told of an address by a Norwegian cabinet minister, and of one by the president of the fourth general assembly of the UN. The latter is slated to be the next president of the Phillipines.

Mr. Locke, who has attended three international conventions, spoke of the fellowship and understandnig between the various groups at the international conference, and of the interest they take in each other.

Rotarian Franklin Linton, chairman of the programme committee, outlined the programs which will take place during the next few months. There will be many outstanding speakers.

A "beef" session was held towards the end of Monday's meeting. Members wrote their "beefs" on pieces of paper which were handed in to the chair.

Dr. W. F. Baker said his committee was in favour of sponsoring two hockey teams this season, the Bantams and the Midgets. This will be discussed by the board, and will probably go to a vote of the club.

Prize For Twin Babies Shown At Fall Fair

The Agricultural Society is also awarding prizes for Indian work. This includes clothes baskets, shopping baskets, cedar paddle, rustic chair, quill work and axe handles. The fair will be held October 12 and 13.

Oshawa Police Given Bonus

OSHAWA, Sept. 26—A cost-of-living bonus of $7.50 per month was granted to members of the Oshawa Police Department Monday by the police commission.

A request from officers for the increase received full approval from County Judge D. B. Coleman, commission chairman. Several officers had threatened to leave the force in favor of higher paying jobs if their request were rejected.

An irate cyclist, Patrick O'Donnell of Elliott Ave. asked the commission to pay cost of replacing bicycle tires which he claimed were slashed in the station. The matter will be investigated.

In a letter, the complainant explained his cycle was picked up by police and locked up in the cell block where, he said, "drunks slashed the tires with a knife or razor blade."

"That's liable to happen," said Chief Owen Friend, who had not heard of the incident. "The only place we have to put the bikes is where the drunks are."

Flies To Sick Husband

BONARLAW, Sept. 26. (ENS)—Mrs. Jennie Wellman left by plane on Saturday for Belfast, Ireland, where her husband Dr. W. P. Wellman, is reported seriously ill.

Dr. Wellman, who has spent the past year on board HMCS Magnificent, was removed from Londonderry to Belfast for treatment

Military Defeat Insufficient Erase Communism CCF Told

"When peace comes in Korea the United Nations should strive to create a united democratic Korea with land reform and social justice," said J. W. Noseworthy, M.P. for York South, at the local CCF executive meeting Monday night.

Mr. Noseworthy said that an international police force has long been an objective of democratic socialist movements throughout the world. "The CCF supports the United Nations' action in Korea, but a military defeat will not erase Communism The elimination of poverty in Asia and elsewhere is necessary to make the spread of Communism more difficult."

Capitalistic European exploitation of Asiatic people has killed Asiatic trust in anything western and for friendly understanding economic help is needed to restore any hope of democratic influence and to prevent the spread of Soviet influence," concluded the speaker.

In his address, Mr. Noseworthy also attacked the government's handling of the recent national railway strike. He argued that a conciliator was appointed too late to avoid the strike and that the government delayed the calling of parliament too long after the strike had started. As a result of the pressing need to restore transportation and communications, the debates in the house were too rushed.

Mr. Noseworthy will leave on Thursday to serve as a Canadian delegate at the United Nations Assembly at Lake Success.

E. B. Jolliffe, leader of the official opposition in the Ontario Legislature and Mr. Noseworthy will be the main speakers at the first Peterborough CCF annual dinner to be held in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel, October 30.

Moderator Criticizes Spiritual Poverty

GUELPH, Sept. 26 (CP). — Dr. F. Scott Mackenzie, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, said here Monday night the work of the church is languishing for lack of spiritual support.

He told the opening session of the annual five-day council meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, western division, that financial support was superficial. "for spiritual poverty lies beneath."

About 85 delegates from across Canada are attending the conference.

Ukrainian Residence

SASKATOON, Sask. (CP). — Students of Ukrainian origin attending the University of Saskatchewan and the Normal School here are to have a new $175,000, 40-room residence. The building, to be completed next year, is being built by the Ukrajnian Greek Catholic Church.

Liberals Elect Mrs. MacMillan

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 26 — (ENS). — The re-organization meeting of Campbellford Women's Liberal Association was attended by about 25 members and Mrs. P. H. MacMillan was elected president; Mrs. Marshall West, vice-president, and Mrs. Samuel Bibby, secretary-treasurer.

Ward representatives are: Ward 1, Miss Marie Crosson; Ward 2, Mrs. Leo Doherty; Ward 3, Mrs Forest Dennis; Ward 4, Mrs. Mae Phillips.

Dr. F. G. Robertson, (Lib., Northumberland) reviewed the events of the recent session of Parliament.

Walter Thompson (Lib., Ontario County), who was formerly a Hastings boy, spoke about his own life as a lawyer, a politician and a farmer, and explained why he was aspiring to be the future leader of the party in the Province of Ontario.

Mrs. Helen Upper of Colborne took charge of the re-organization of the women, and also thanked the speakers for their talks.

Mayor Becomes Father

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 26 — (ENS)—Mayor J. E. Ayrhart, of Campbellford, is the proud father of a baby boy, born at the private patients' pavilion, Toronto General Hospital on Saturday. Mrs. Ayrhart (the former Mildred Dale) and the baby are both reported well. The Ayrharts have named the baby William Maurice.

FELLING and EXAMINING

Trees become logs on their way to the sawmill . . .

After the tree has been felled it is examined for defects, straightness etc., so that the logs may be cut from it to produce the maximum of commercial quality lumber.

The tree is then measured into log lengths and sawn into logs after it has had the limbs and top growth removed. The logs so produced are now ready to be hauled to skid-ways at convenient locations on the branch draw roads.

Another Dominion-Provincial Conference

The groundwork for the present Quebec conference of provincial and federal governmental leaders was laid many months ago. The provincial premiers conferred in Ottawa with the Prime Minister and his associates then on the needs for constitutional reform, particularly to bring order out of chaos in overlapping taxation and social measures. Enough agreement was reached to set various provincial and federal technical experts to work, and to resume the conference of principals at this time.

• • •

One good augury of success, apart entirely from the need for reform, is the holding of the conference in Quebec—a bow to Premier Duplessis' nationalistic sensibilities. Mr. Duplessis' attitude does not seem to have changed very much. He wants a clear statement from Westminster that the provinces have the right to amend their own constitutions. That is all well and good, but hardly realistic. Westminster will give the declaration any time it is asked; but why ask before it is perfectly clear to whom the authority to change the constitution will descend? Premier Duplessis implies: give it to the provinces. Already the provinces have the authority to amend their own constitutions; they have always had that authority. At the last session of the Federal Parliament the way was cleared for the Dominion to amend the constitution in all matters within its jurisdiction, excepting two or three specifically named. It is the gray area between which is confounding Canadians, and has done so for most of the years of Canada's federated history.

• • •

It is in the region of these areas which the present Conference is called on to ponder and plan. We think that Premier Frost's attitude—to deal with the specific issues and let matters of general principle ride—is a good approach, even if it is "patchwork", as Premier Duplessis suggests. The conference could too easily bog down in a legal mire of interpretation of constitutional authorities.

• • •

At the last session of Parliament the Supreme Court of Canada was made fully supreme. Let it, as dispassionate and unprejudiced a group as can be found anywhere, define the jurisdictional areas and interpret the constitutions from time to time as cases and occasion demand.

Centenary Collection

The collection of prints, photographs, books and documents which the Public Library staff has assembled for display during this centenary summer and autumn repays a thorough visit. In the two upstair gallery rooms are the Honourable Peter Robinson's hand-written accounts concerning the Irish immigration to this country which he organized in 1825, early letters from notable people, old prints of Peterborough worthies of a century ago, books from the hands of Peterborough authors past and present, views of the community as it was in various decades, present-day photographs of old and new buildings, and foretastes of the future in community planning charts and architects' drawings of proposed buildings like the new Federal Building. Adjoining this special exhibition in two other rooms is the Denne Collection of old pictures. At the doorway to this treasure-trove is a bicycle that somebody's grandfather rode through George street's mud long ago.

Miss Genevieve Sullivan who patiently organized the display is to be congratulated on the results of her efforts.

Forgotten Notable Son?

The Lethbridge Herald asks if Peterborough has forgotten George A. Cox? It is referring to our editorial of a fortnight ago on 'Peterborough's Great Sons' in which, mentioning only a few names like Flavelle, Wood and Morrow, we reminded our readers that this district has produced great men of finance and commerce, and today is a significant breeding-ground of engineers, scientists and students of the humanities. We did not specifically mention, though we have not forgotten, Senator George A. Cox who in Toronto became president of a great insurance company, founded another and was a large figure in railways and banking in Canada. Before he left Peterborough for Toronto (in 1888) he had a big hand in Peterborough's finance and business, and in the province's. He was president of the Midland Railway, later absorbed by the Grand Trunk, from 1878 to 1884.

Peterborough has unhappy memories of the Midland Railway. It was a line built from Port Hope to Lindsay in 1857 under the name Port Hope, Lindsay and Beaverton Railway. In return for a promise to build a branch from Millbrook to Peterborough the town which had then a total assessment of $59,537, borrowed $120,000 which it gave the railway. The sorry result of this financing was a loss to the town of $70,000 and its decline toward bankruptcy. The Peterborough City Trust was established in 1861, to protect the ratepayers of the future against wild schemes and profligate municipal spending. Can the city of Peterborough, which is this year at long last able to get along without the financial control of the City Trust, forget George A. Cox, a prime mover in the Midland Railway which was later absorbed by the Grand Trunk, which was later taken up in the Canadian National system—none of which railway companies has ever paid its way from the time the Midland Railway was laid in 1857? Senator Cox may personally have had great success in his railway ventures; Peterborough did not, civically.

Bombing Britons

Canadian veterans will have sympathy with the British soldiers in Korea who were bombed by American fliers recently; and they will sympathize with the American bombers who unwittingly dropped their missiles on friends and allies. These accidents of war do happen; perhaps they are inevitable when a front is fluid, when attack plans go wrong, or when communication wires are crossed. Canadians on the Falaise Road in August of 1944 knew the dislocation and dismay caused by friendly bombers dropping their loads on the wrong targets. The United States Eighth Air Force caused havoc during the preparations for an attack, when it hit our Third Division headquarters. A week later in the same phase of the war, the R.C.A.F., missing their targets, dropped bombs for over an hour within our own lines, killing and wounding some Canadians and Poles, and destroying much transport and ordnance.

The troops under the bombardment naturally feel unhappy about the situation, but their immediate rage should not lead to any international recriminations. The fortunes of war are not always just. War is as blind as love.

Are Canadians Frigid?

We received in the mail this morning our copy of Finlandia Pictorial, a magazine which comes to us every month and which is devoted to the interests of Finland. In the current issue there is a page devoted to some handsome photographs of five of the principal statues in the Finnish capital of Helsinki. And—this is the point—every one of the five is a figure of a nude woman.

In artistic merit they vary. Two look like fine pieces of work, so far as we can tell; it is hard to judge a statue from a photograph. One looks like a good but uninspired piece of marble carving, and one is just a piece of nineteenth century cheesecake in bronze. But the presence of these five figures in the capital city of Finland is evidence that the Finns are interested in women, think a good deal about women, and consider women important.

If we may judge by our capital city of Ottawa, Canadians hold no such opinions. Ottawa is full of statuary, but not of women. Offhand we can only recall a statue of Queen Victoria, fully clothed, and a fully clothed but careless bronze female who is loosely associated with a figure of D'Arcy McGee. There are no statues in Ottawa or in any other Canadian city known to us which glorify women, or reveal any interest in them whatever.

It is useless to say that Canada is too cold for nude statuary. Helsinki is much colder. It is a difference in temperament, not a difference in climate. The thoughts of Canadians, it appears, are fixed upon dead politicians in bronze frock coats; the thoughts of the Finns are upon female beauty, that inspiration of nobility and poetry since the dawn of time.

There are two schools of thought at present about the Canadian national temperament. Several of our critics think we are a dull, tame, lacklustre people: several others maintain that we are everything that the heart could ask. The evidence of our national statuary is on the side of the former group.

NOTE AND COMMENT

An Ohio man is reported to be breaking in a rhinoceros for riding. It may be practical but we don't suppose he'll ever make it fashionable.

Church officials say that students at Toronto University need missionaries just as badly as heathens in other countries. Yes, but where is the glory in being eaten by university students?

Americans Feel New Economic Controls

By KENNETH HARRIS

THE American man-in-the-street, the housewife and the businessman have this week been feeling the first effects of the new economic machinery set up by the recently passed Defence Production Act. The two agencies which have now come into action are the Federal Reserve Board and the National Production Authority.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE Federal Reserve Board has imposed definite limitations on the hire-purchase system. The post-war era of "nothing down and three years to pay" has ended. To buy an automobile, Americans must now put down a third of the cost in cash and finish paying in 21 months. As a result, thousands of Americans who were going to buy cars will cancel their orders. Household appliances, such as washing machines and refrigerators, require 15 per cent. down and completed purchase in 18 months. Furnishings require 10 per cent. down and 18 months payment.

❖ ❖ ❖

TO people in other parts of the world, these restrictions may seem unimportant, particularly since many of the goods involved—television sets, raidios, etc.—appear to them luxuries. From the point of view of the American, however, it is different. These things seem to him a very important part of living, and as Americans tend to spend a high proportion of what they earn and to save little, many are unable to produce the amounts of cash required by the new regulations. Probably nobody will be much worse off, but everybody is sitting up and taking notice.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE other agency which has this week gone into action in a big way is the National Production Authority. Everybody knew that a number of scarce raw materials would be put on the "inventory control" list, but few people expected that would be as many as thirty-two of them. A new order tells manufacturers to limit "inventories" or stocks, to what they need for "normal" supply. Anybody who tries to grab more of these materials than he needs at a "normal" rate of production—and anybody who sells part of what he has got to somebody whom he knows wants to hoard—is liable to a fine of $10,000 and a year's gaol.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE order will ensure that the use of these commodities is pegged down to what is "normally" needed, while the rest flows to the requirements of the defence programme. The order is also aimed at holding down prices by restricting competitive bidding by manufacturers for supplies. Steel, timber, nylon yarn, wool and rubber are prominent on the list. The official opinion is that the man-in-the-street and the housewife will not feel scarcities as a result of this order. Only would-be profiteers and would-be hoarders will be hit.

❖ ❖ ❖

A THIRD Government agency is in the news this week, not because it has yet come into action but because it may have to come into action much sooner than was hoped. This is the Economic Stabilization Agency—created by the Defence Production Act. Its function is to protect the citizen and the economy from dangerous developments in wage-price relationships. Under the Agency are, on the one hand, the National Price Administration, with power to look into prices, and, on the other, the National Wage Board, with authority to look into wages. President Truman in a broadcast said he hoped that as a result of everybody's using voluntary restraint, he would not have to do anything about prices and wages for the time being. But this week, Mr. Symington, head of economic mobilization as a whole, has spoken very strongly about "chiselers" who send up prices by hoarding, and about those who are trying to take advantage of scarcity to put up prices directly. Now, Mr. Chester Bowles, who ran the war-time price control agency—the Office of Price Administration—has talked with the President and has announced that he is "concerned—very worried" about the way prices are still going up.

❖ ❖ ❖

UNFORTUNATELY for the President and for whoever will have to run the Economic Stabilization Agency (some people think it will be Chester Bowles) Congress, in enacting the Defence Production Act, stipulated that price controls on an industry must be accompanied by wage controls on that industry. If President Truman wants to put price control on some industry he may, therefore, get opposition from the workers' unions as well as the employers in the industry concerned. As things are, some unions have been hurrying to get into a strong position. In the motor industry alone, for instance, three leading companies, General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have put up wages since the Korean war. With prices still rising and with these wage increases, it looks as if the President will have to call the Economic Stabilization Agency into action sooner than he bargained.

Repairing The Kremlin

(New York Herald Tribune)

Although the restoration of the White House has not yet been completed in Washington, the Russians — who have their own efficient ways of handling labour—have finished their four-year repair job on the walls and towers of the Kremlin, the most curtained part of the Iron Curtain.

In 450 years the vast and substantial Kremlin has taken a lot of pushing around. When Napoleon evacuated Moscow in 1812 he tried to blow up a part of it with little success—or perhaps a shortage of gunpowder. And in 1917, when it was attacked in the Bolshevist revolution, it suffered considerably. But these marks, and those of earlier centuries, can now be considered as completely erased. In two miles of Kremlin walls masons have set 600,000 new bricks, and even, perhaps, the bells have been returned which twice a day sound the Internationale across Red Square.

"WHO IS GOING TO PUSH WHO INTO WHAT SEA?"

Energy Problems

(MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

A YEAR ago, with Sir John Russell as its President, the great concern of British Association (for the Advancement of Science) meetings was with world food supplies. The rapidly rising demands of a growing population are for many other forms of energy than go to the production of food, and Sir Harold Hartley, whose presidential theme last week was "Man's Use of Energy," might well think he had the less simple problem. If the stomach's capacity has a limit there is none to man's appetite for energy, and he finds new uses for it every day. World energy consumption today calls, on Sir Harold's reckoning, for a yearly intake equivalent to four thousand million tons of coal, of which, on a thermal basis, about 30 per cent. comes from plant and animal growth and from water-power. For the rest we rely on the capital resources of coal and oil—about which he is not unduly pessimistic. World coal will last for centuries, and if oil and natural gas are less reliable and harder to define there seem good prospects of substitutes being found in time. Water-power, if everywhere fully developed, could equal all the energy in use today, but its reserves, like those of coal and oil, are too unequally distributed.

Much the same applies to the world's distribution of fertilizers, but a more difficult, and likely to be more immediate, problem is that of the reserves of metal. But copper, zinc, lead, and tin are not likely to last, as at present used, for more than a few decades, and if they are all used as freely as in the United States we may be short in ten years. An iron and light-alloy metal economy, with non-ferrous metals strictly reserved for essential uses, is what we must soon expect.

❖ ❖ ❖

AFTER the great waste of easily won materials in the past, however, we are improving. New demands for heat and power are now largely met by increased efficiency, though war-time economies have shown how much room there still was for improvement. It is in the energy industries that the best progress has been made—so much so that the best hope now lies in raising the standard of backward plants to the best practice—except in the case of electricity generation, which has a problem of its own in the loss in the condensers of about 60 per cent. of the heat used. The large fuel economies to be had from the combined use of heat and power, so far neglected, may be of major importance. In the general use of heat and power in industry, transport, and the home the case is worse—a general efficiency of probably less than 15 per cent., with a great waste of the coal needed for increased production. Some of today's developments point the way; the gas turbine is being rapidly developed to use a variety of fuels, including by-product or waste gases; it may soon be effectively linked with the schemes for the underground gasification of coal.

❖ ❖ ❖

SIR Harold Hartley recurred more than once last week to the need, in tapping new sources of energy, to take account of their unequal distribution. The transport of energy assumes a new importance. The transmission of high-voltage direct current over long distances is now only awaiting development and should link consuming centres over great distances with new sources of hydro-electric power. If Britain, too, can be quickly linked with a European power grid there is the chance of sharing in European co-operation without awkward problems of supra-national authority. If tidal energy is to be enlisted there is good ground for the suggestion that the problem must be tackled with more courage than was shown over the Severn Barrage.

As for the sun while more than half the energy of solar radiation is going waste, we surely owe it to our own needs (to say nothing of posterity) to pursue long-term researches in that field while we go on living on reserves. France is already preparing, on the West African coast, to drive a turbine by steam from the evaporation under vacuum of warm surface sea-water, the condenser being cooled by water from the depths. Egypt, in the Qattara Depression power scheme, relies on solar energy to evaporate the Mediterranean waters after they have been used.

❖ ❖ ❖

BUT what of atomic energy, whose promise is so much more diffidently advanced than seemed likely a few years ago? To Sir Harold Hartley the peaceful uses of nuclear fission are still clearly a matter of long-term policy — "the unsolved problems of these peaceful uses loom so large." Their recent discussion at the World Power Conference has only underlined the intense effort over a long period still needed for their solution.

It would indeed be the tragedy that Sir Harold suggested, if the immediate development of more conventional and better understood sources of energy were delayed from any fear of competition from nuclear piles. Meanwhile the piles, and other associated plants, have given us (with the radioisotopes), a powerful new technique of research and also the new science of auto-mechanisms, which may well be described as the last chapter in man's use of energy. They are the substitutes for the drudgery of the human brain and so varied in accomplishment that where some are liable to failure others of their kind are ready to detect the errors and correct them. Such automatic controls are going to save man-power over ever-widening fields, thus reducing the quantity of energy required. One of the lessons of the past is that we had better not be too slow to make full use of them.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech. And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there....And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded. And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do. Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.

So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of the earth. (Gen. 11: 1, 2, 4-9.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh in vain. (Ps. 127: 1.)

54 Plus 36

(Financial Post, Toronto)

A customer walked into a Toronto drugstore last week and asked for a special brand of tooth powder. When he was told that the price was 54 cents he said to make even change he would also take a package of cigarettes at 36 cents. He laid down a dollar bill.

After putting the two packages on the counter the young lad waiting on him went to one end of the store and got a pad of paper and to the other for a pencil. Then he started to figure out the change. He was doubtful when the customer told him the answer instantly, and highly indignant at the suggestion that such simple arithmetic should be done in the head.

This temporary clerk must have been at least 16 years old, and presumably had spent some years at school. If after that he is still unable to add 36 and 54 and subtract from 100 without the use of pencil and paper, then surely something is radically wrong with the way elementary mathematics are taught in our public schools.

Dancing Teacher Charges Contest Winner Pre-Arranged

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — Mrs. Bertha Knapp, Detroit dancing teacher, said here Monday that 20-year-old Margaret Bradford of London and Windsor, was chosen Miss Canada 1950 by "pre-arrangement."

S. Radcliffe Weaver of Hamilton, promoter of the contest at Burlington last Aug. 10, replied that Mrs. Knapp, formerly Miss Bradford's chaperone, "is sore because Miss Bradford will not now have anything to do with her."

Miss Bradford, in Windsor, said she was chosen title winner in a competition with four other girls and "to the best of my knowledge these finals were conducted fairly and I would like to feel the judges did an honorable job."

She added: "I cannot deny that last May Mr. Weaver told me there would be no formal Miss Canada contest . . . in order to keep his franchise going he told me he was anxious that I, in tribute to my progress in singing, be named Miss Canada 1950."

Mr. Weaver said that original plans had been for Miss Bradford to go to the American contest at Atlantic City as Miss Canada. Two weeks before any final decision was made, entries were received from four other girls and a contest was held.

Newspaper Pressure

Mrs. Knapp said "there wouldn't have been a contest at all if newspapers hadn't put pressure" on Mr. Weaver.

Two of the judges—Don Wright of London, Ont., and Mrs. Evelyn Webster of Hamilton—said the judges made their choice by secret ballot after an hour's deliberation. Mrs. Webster said that "if Miss Bradford was to be Miss Canada by pre-arrangement, we certainly knew nothing about it."

David Knapp, Mrs. Knapp's son and Miss Bradford's fiance, said at Detroit the arrangements for the selection went on over a period of months.

"Margaret and I postponed our wedding on the understanding from Mr. Weaver that she would be Miss Canada 1950."

Two Vehicles Collide On Narrow Roadway

A headon collision between two cars Monday, a mile south of Bailieboro, caused $300 damage. Nobody was injured.

Merle McMahon, R.R. 1 Bailieboro, was driving west along the boundary road between Hamilton and South Monaghan townships when he collided with the eastbound car driven by Jack Crago, Newcastle. The boundary road is narrow and the two vehicles blindly approached each other from either side of a hill, a mile and a half east of Highway 28.

Damage was to the left front of both cars.

Provincial Constable C. E. Meadows, Cobourg, investigated.

3 Prisoners Pass Up Good Escape Chance

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — Three prisoners passed up an easy chance to escape from the suburban New Toronto jail on Monday. Sgt. Fred Hardy, unarmed and alone, let them out of their cell when a pipe burst and flooded the cell with live steam.

One of the prisoners plugged the hole in the pipe with a cloth and the three walked back into the cell.

Said Sgt. Hardy: "They were very co-operative."

Request Hydro Not To Cut Power To Plants Making Defence Goods

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — The federal government has asked the Ontario Hydro Commission to do all posible to maintain a steady flow of power to companies making defence supplies.

Robert H. Saunders, commission chairman, said Monday the dominion is particularly concerned that power shortages should not affect operations at one Ontario plant which is a key source of magnesium.

(Magnesium is an important need in Canada's stepped-up program of jet-fighter construction.)

Some Canadian magnesium is used also in Britain's defence program.

The federal government also is anxious that no necessary power be withheld from Southern Ontario plants which make steel and ferrous alloys used in steel, and magnesium production, it was learned. The government considers these operations essential.

Mr. Saunders coupled his statement about the federal government request with a new appeal for voluntary saving of power throughout Ontario. Record industrial consumption is straining hydro facilities, despite the inauguration of several new power developments this year.

Late last week he announced a decision to cut the supply of "surplus" power to some industries in the Niagara peninsula North American Cyanamid Company at Niagara Falls, fertilizer manufacturers, and the Norton Company at Chippewa, which makes magnorite and abrasives, announced the layoff of a total of 140 men as a result.

The retail merchants division of the Greater Niagara Chamber of Commerce met in Niagara Falls Monday and pledged support of a plan for self-imposed power restrictions.

Workers Halt 3-Week Strike

OAKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 26 (CP) —The three-week strike at the Wood Specialties Ltd., plant here was called off Monday night after a meeting of Local 95 International Woodworkers of America (CIO).

Tim Cooper, local president, said in a statement the workers decided to go back to work because of an injunction against picketing obtained by the company in Toronto Monday. The company had obtained a partial injunction last Friday.

Some 130 workers were involved in the walkout for improved working conditions.

A company spokesman said on Monday night work would be resumed today and 90 per cent of workers would be on their usual jobs within six days.

Brings Family From Germany

WINDSOR, Sept. 26 — (CP)— Frank Mallat, Windsor service station operator, is slowly but surely realizing his dream of bringing his family from behind the iron curtain to freedom in Canada.

Frank met his brother, Adolph Mallat for the first time in 23 years Sunday. Adolph, his wife and their infant son, forced from their homes in East Germany by the Russian occupation, had been brought to Canada through the intercession of Frank, who has been in Canada since 1927.

In the past, Frank has brought his sister and mother from the Old Country. The mother, Mrs. Pauline Mallat, was present Sunday to make the re-union even more joyful.

For the next year Adolph will work with Frank at the service station while they try to bring another brother, Harold, to Canada from East Germany. A fourth brother, Rudolph, lives in the American zone of Germany and has no desire to move.

Port Alfred—loading aluminum

"... add a pinch of bauxite"

It is a recipe for a bigger, richer, more comfortable Canada.

The "pinch" is scores of shiploads of the red earth — bauxite — from British Guiana. A three-thousand-mile ocean journey ends at Port Alfred on the Saguenay River. Then the bauxite goes by rail to the electrical "kitchen" at Arvida a few miles away. There aluminum is refined from the bauxite by using electricity provided by harnessing the same Saguenay.

You see, the Saguenay provides two essentials for making aluminum — deep water for cargo ships and cataracts for power — within a few miles of one another.

Standing on the dock at Port Alfred, you see something unique. You watch freight cars filled with bauxite disappear over a hill and return w shining aluminum. The process of turning bauxite into aluminum has added Port Alfred and the city of Arvida to Canada's living space, and opened new opportunities for thousands of Canadians.

CBC Plans To Present Highlights Of Half Century In Drama

By GLEN CURRIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A glance at the production schedule of CBC's Stage 51 indicates that drama supervisor Andrew Allan—for the early part of the season at least—is relying on writers who have proved their worth in the past.

The first seven weeks of CBC's top Sunday night drama program consists of adaptations by Allan, John Bethune, Len Peterson, Ron Hambleton and Lister Sinclair—script writers tried, trusted and found true by Allan and the script department head Alice Frick.

But there is something new added—block programming.

Heretofore, to all appearances, there has been little attempt to correlate succeeding productions in the stage series. This season, plays will be grouped in blocks under various flexible headings—chronological, regional or subject matter.

Something Different

Describing the first group of plays — all adaptations — Allan says:

"Since 1951 completes the first half of our chaotic century, Stage 51 is going to begin with a fortnight's view of the dear, dead Victorian era, before proceeding in the next five weeks to a play for each of the five decades since 1901.

The tribute to the Victorians consists, quite logically, of two dramatizations of the life of Queen Victoria, entitled "The Young Victoria" and "The Widow of Windsor." The former will open the season Oct. 8.

The first decade of the 20th century is presented in "The Diary of a Nobody." Next in line is unavoidably a war play—"All Quiet on the Western Front."

Choose "Main Street"

For the 20s, Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" is the choice. The horrors of the depression are caught next in "Love on the Dole." To bring the series up to the 40s will be "The Plague," a contemporary French novel, to illuminate, in Allan's words, "the re-emergence of the individual in a world bent on self-destruction."

With the historical review under its belt, Stage 51 intends to present, among others, blocks of original Canadian scripts, adaptations of Canadian works and translations of modern Swedish plays. There also will be a dramatization of one of Robert Louis Stevenson's novels, to celebrate the centenary of his birth.

What might be the highlight of the 34-week season is the proposed presentation in April of both parts of Shakespeare's Henry IV, with the misadventures of Sir John Falstaff" for it is worth the listening to."

Interesting feature of the series is the fact that at the time of writing there are only about one-third of the scripts in hand. At that, says script editor Frick, "this year we're further ahead than usual."

Welcome Scripts

As a result, although there is little shortage of scripts coming in, new scripts are always welcome. The new system of programming is flexible and room can always be made for any script that warrants it. One of the prime ideas behind the series still is to show that Canadian writers are the equal of any, and to give them a chance to be heard.

A word of warning. If you have an idea for an original play or adaptation, submit your idea first before laying in a supply of 20-pound bond typing paper. No matter how well it's written, if the basic theme is not quite what is wanted, it'll just be a waste of time.

But don't worry too much about their digging up scripts. If the worst comes to the worst, they can disinter Lister Sinclair's "We All Hate Toronto!"

Fight Experts Divided On Louis Bout

By MURRAY ROSE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP). — With the Joe Louis-Ezzard Charles heavyweight championship fight only a day away, experts are disagreeing violently on the outcome at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

Gene Tunney, the only retired, undefeated heavyweight champion to stay retired, was among those on the Louis bandwagon.

"Joe will knock him out in five rounds," said Tunney.

"If Jack Dempsey is not the greatest fighter who ever lived, then Joe Louis is," said Tunney. "There is no reason to think, because Louis is 36, that he has not retained the skill and power that he had when he retired."

Tunney and the others who predict a Louis victory, believe Joe is going to catch Ezzard at least once, and that will be enough.

Charles' backers, headed by fight manager Vic Marsillo, wail that Ezzard is the most underrated heavyweight challenger since Tunney first stepped into the ring against Dempsey.

Expects Knockout

Marsillo believes the 29-year-old Cincinnati negro will knock Louis out.

"Unless he freezes, and I don't think he will, he is going to stick Joe and get out of there. He will keep on doing that until Joe's legs give out. Then he will chop him up," Marsillo says.

The Tunney-Marsillo remarks were echoed up and down Bashed Beak Boulevard. Many boxing writers, here from all parts of the world, are uncertain, especially those who have visited the training camps.

Charles has looked fast and sharp.

Louis has been alternately "terrible" and "very good."

His latest drills have caused several writers to switch from Charles to Louis. Both finished training Monday.

Bookmakers still have Louis the favorite at 1 to 2. If you like Louis to win by a knockout, it is even money. Six-to-five and pick 'em is the bookies' term for this. If you like Charles by a knockout you can get 5 to 1 odds.

Swimmers Better Time In 100-Yard Free Style

Ralph Wood was pressed to the limit Monday night to edge Scott Pearton in the weekly YMCA handicap swim, the 100-yard free style. Michael Triggs won third place from Brian Bell by only a touch.

Besides Wood and Pearton, the other swimmers bettering their times for the 100-yards were Brian Bell, Michael Triggs, Donald Wood, Terry Northrop, Wilton Tranter and John Boorman. Donald Wood turned in the fast time of one minute and two seconds. John Boorman was close behind Wood with a time of 1:04.8 minutes.

In the half-mile relay race which followed the handicap swim Donald Wood's team of Ralph Wood, Terry Northrop, Ross Dobbin and Bob Malby won by a foot over Jim Starr's team.

There'll be ice in Civic Arena along about the middle of this week. The "International Ice Revue" opens here Thursday and runs three nights. Starring Eileen Seigh, runner-up to Barbaa Ann Scott for the North American figure skating title—ere both turned pro—this revue is reported to be about tops in the business today A big cast of talented ice performers has been gathered from American and Canadian centres, including the adagio team of Peggy and Bob White. Fancy figures, drama on the frozen surface, comedy, in fact a typical ice revue with the best performers available. Should be quite popular here.

Orillia Bombers tackle the local Orfuns at 8:15 tomorrow (Wednesday) night in Morrow Park., An ORFU senior "B" fixture under the floodlights. Given decent weather, this grid game ought to pack 'em in. Both the Bombers and Orfuns are fighting fiercely to stay in contention in a powerful football grouping. Coach Harv Bamforth's bunch have dropped two heart-breakers so far and can't afford another reverse. In fact, they'll bet money with anyone that they'll ground the speedy Bombers on the morrow. We will, too. But it is bound to be a fast and bruising battle from start to finish, with grand grid action seen.

Along The Grid Front

PCVS and St. Peter's squads are away this week, so the ORFU scrap Wednesday will be the only football seen here this final week of September. PCVS seniors meet East York in Toronto on Friday as St. Peter's seniors open their schedule up at Oakwood the same night. PCVS juniors begin regular play Saturday in Oshawa. Orfuns, after tomorrow play in Orillia on Saturday, with Cobourg Ghosts here the following weekend. Schedule winds up Oct. 21, with top team toddling into provincial playoffs, and the rest hanging up their cleats for this year. So, it's do or die now every game for the big-shouldered Orfuns, who have all their Ottawa and Toronto imports ready to strut their stuff tomorrow.

Claude Cornwell kept careful track of the batting and fielding averages of East City, champs of the City Softball League this season, and he gave 'em to us the other day. We'll run the hitting marks today. Al Cournyea led in the the schedule with .449 as Jake Jaquith was tops in playoffs with .429. There were 18 loop games and 14 in playoffs. Actually, Red Sullivan was the most consistent hitter on the club, being second both in the schedule and in the playoffs, as well as leading in homers with 10, five in each section. Jake Wade was another good consistent sticker for the champs. Four hit above the .300 mark in each.

Toronto Plays Mutuals

Mutuals are in OASA intermediate "A" quarter-finals now and they play Toronto Evans Motors at 7.30 tomorrow night in the Bowl. Losing their opener in Toronto last p.m., the Russelle squad have to hustle in this return go, and they hope to get either Bob Greenlaw or George Hunter back to hurl this game. After eliminating Oshawa and New Toronto, they thought they were in semi-finals but find now the winner of this series must meet the Hamilton area winner in provincial semi-finals next week. Mutuals came up with a sloppy game last eve and they feel they can even the series on the morrow. It could be a right snappy softball playoff.

Al Menzies last night was voted the most valuable player on the Petes' senior ball team this year, and he gets the Jack Legris Trophy, won in '49 by Joe Stewart. A committee consisting of Alex Kay, Ray Pammett and this writer, voted unanimously for Menzies, after seriously considering all candidates. Lefty Dadson and Gunner Whitehill received honorable mention, the former for his all-around work throughout the season and good hitting, and the latter for carrying the burden on the mound successfully during the tough mid-season drive. Joe Lowrey's fielding was taken into account, too, as was the defensive work of Danny Brown. But it was Menzies all the way. Leading hitter and fine catcher and team player, Al—who once before won the Fred Craig Trophy in minor ball—was tops.

Junior Soccer Tilts

Prince of Wales junior soccer eleven received a severe jolt, Monday afternoon, at Grove school grounds, when the Grove aggregation won 2-0 in a neat tilt.

Prince of Wales carried the mid-field play but lacked finish around goal, while Patterson and Simmons registered two smart goals in the first period for Grove and held the advantage for the rest of the period.

Grove—L. Griffin, goal; J. Bailey and R. Merritt, full backs; G. Keene, G. Casey and R. Wood, half backs; B. Copping, D. Patterson, W. Simmonds, E. Hargreaves and F. Davey, forwards. Subs., F. Simmons, G. Duncan, L. Wood, R. Sherry.

Prince of Wales—J. Parker, goal; R. Conners and G. Aiken, full backs; V. Kent, J. Playford and I. Faulkner, half backs; T. Downer, B. Burns, P. Robinson, J. MacFadden and T. Davis, forwards. Subs., C. Coombs, A. Stevenson, J. Victor.

Referee, Mr. Cunningham.

Northenders Win .....

Queen Alexandra-Queen Elizabeth juniors participating in soccer for the first time defeated Queen Mary eleven 5-1 at Queen Alex grounds, Monday afternoon.

The northenders were more aggressive throughout the period to open the scoring through Lymburger, while Milne, Queen Mary, evened up the count, but later Levine and Orgill made the score read 3-1 for the combines.

Queen Mary—D. Perriett, goal; P. Reader and W. Routley, full backs; P. Milne, R. Burgess and B. Austin, half backs; G. Drury A. Deck, P. Cromie, W. Dorrington and H. Young, forwards. Subs F. Innis, A. Madigan, R. Davis, R. Beard.

Referee, Mr. Anderson.

TIGER-CAT BACK — Bill Gregus, 22-year-old fullback, is one of the U.S. imports with Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Big Four this year. Weighing 210 pounds, the 5 foot, 11 inch player hails from White Forest, North Carolina.

Mutuals Drop First One In OASA Play

Peterborough Mutuals came up with a poor display in Toronto last night to drop a 12-0 decision to Toronto Evans Motors. It was the first game of their two-of-three OASA Intermediate A quarter-finals, the second one being in the Bowl here this Wednesday evening at 7:30. The site of the third game has not been named yet.

The homesters pounced on Howie Dalton at the start for six runs in two frames. After that he hurled well, but had wretched support, many of the winners' 16 hits being of the scratchy variety. Meantime, Beck on the Toronto slab pitched four-hit ball—though having few strikeouts—and he received perfect backing from his teammates.

Reg Leether got two of Muttuals' four hits, while Whitworth and Mills were the main guns for Toronto with three bingles apiece, Phips and Beck collecting two apiece. None of the blows were for extra bases. Score by innings:

Sullivan Consistent For Champs' Hitters

Al Cournyea led East City, the men's city softball champions this season, during the regular schedule at bat with a mighty .449 average. However, he fell off in playoffs, while Jake Jaquith—who was down in the schedule games—led the way in playoffs with .429. Red Sullivan was in all 18 schedule games and finished second at bat with .350, and he was also second in playoffs with .345 for the whole 14 games. Sullivan led in homers with 10 for the season, five in the playoffs, Russ Scriver being next with a total of five.

Following are the batting averages in both schedule and playoffs, as compiled by Claude Cornwell:

Canadian Football

By DON GRANT

Just as a hockey team must have players who can skate, a football team must have players who can tackle. Tackling is one of the two most important football fundamentals.

Most coaches stress four types of tackling, the straight-on or the head-on tackle, the side or angle tackle, the tackle from the rear and the smothering tackle.

The head-on tackle is used mostly on plays before the carrier can break out into open territory. The tackler after he drives toward the carrier generally lengthens his stride three yards from the runner and transforms into a wrestler in preparation for the tackle( body crouched, arms spread and eyes fixed on the thigh of the carrier).

For the side tackle the footballer must learn to beat his opponent to the position, drive across the carrier's path in front of him. Just as the tackler's body touches the carrier's body at the thigh, he should wrap his arms around the carrier's legs, locking his hands behind the knees. The drive of the tackler usually throws the carrier on his side and leaves the tackler free.

The tackle from the rear is one of the color points of football when executed properly. It is only used when nothing else will stop the carrier from scoring because it demands courage of the highest order on the part of the tackler. Some of these tackles are classed as illegal but most players would rather be penalized than to allow a touchdown.

The method for this tackle is to dive at the carrier and try to throw the arms around his body, dragging him to the ground. An alternate method is to try for an ankle, but this is dangerous, the tackler taking a chance on receiving an accidental kick from the ball carrier.

The last type of tackle, the smothering tackle is used when the defending team is trying to smear an end run. The primary obect of the tackler should be to tackle the carrier so that he can't flip a lateral to another runner on the play. The tackle should be made high on the carrier's body.

Pitching—Harry Taylor, Red Sox—pitched Boston to 3-0, two-hit victory over Philadelphia in his American League starting debut.

IN MAIN BOUT—Seelie Samara, pictured above, who will meet Hi Lee in the main bout of tonight's mat show at the Brock Arena. This will be the first appearance of the heavyweight grapplers since last spring and a large crowd will undoubtedly welcome back the mat sport. Supporting the main bout will be Pat O'Shocker and Pat Flanagan in the semi-final and Jack Moore and Abe Zvonkin in the opener. It is a classy card to start the new season. There will be no increase in prices.

Orioles Edge Rochester In 6-5 Victory

By The Associated Press

The spot hitting of Austin Knickerbocker came through againt for Baltimore Orioles Monday night.

Knickerbocker, a right-handed hitting utility outfielder, clouted a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Orioles a 6-5 victory over Rochester, squaring the final International League playoff series at 2-2.

It was Knickerbocker's second home run in the playoffs against Rochester.

Home runs stole the spotlight from a mound duel between the league's two all-star pitchers. Butch Woyt hit a grand-slammer in the third for Baltimore to erase a Red Wing 3-0 lead. Del Wilber slammed a two-run homer in the seventh to put Rochester back on top, 5-4, then came Knickerbocker's game-deciding blow in the ninth.

The wining pitcher was lefty Bill Kennedy. The loser was Tom Poholsky, right-hander who closed the season with an 18-6 record. Both allowed eight hits.

The series resumes tonight (8.15 p.m. EST) in Baltimore and Wednesday the scene shifts back to Rochester for the sixth, and, if necessary, seventh games.

The winner will meet the American Association victor, either Columbus or Indianapolis, in the Little World series.

Curtis Remains Head Man In Big 4 Scoring

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — Ulysses Curtis of Toronto Argonauts is still head man in the Big Four Football Union individual scoring race.

The shifty Negro half added 10 points Saturday to bring his total to 40 in five games, six better than Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, the former Cleveland pro who led the scoring pack for the first three games.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show that Billy Bass of the Argos and Virgil Wagner of Montreal Alouettes pulled up into a three-way tie for third place with Bill Larochelle, Canadian-born half of Ottawa Rough Riders. Each has 25 points.

Argos' Nick Volpe, the placement-kicking school teacher, ranks sixth with 24 points, all of them converts. He has missed on only two convert attempts in 26 tries.

Johnny Chorostecki of Sarnia Imperials still tpos the Ontario Rugby Football Union with 51 points in three games although his team was not engaged in scheduled play for Saturday.

Yanks Trip Senators Twice As DiMaggio Sparks Wins

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Peerless Joe DiMaggio is the "villain" in New York Yankees' mad dash to their 17th American League pennant.

His booming bat has blazed the Yanks into the commanding 3½-game lead they hold today. And it will be nothing less than a miracle if the booming bombers don't win their second straight championship.

Casey Stengel's marauders have six games left to play and need win only four to sew things up. If they win only three the runner-up Detroit Tigers would have to take all of their seven just to tie the Yanks. Three Yankee victories would eliminate the third-place Boston Red Sox.

With a little luck, New York can eliminate the Tigers today. All they have to do is beat Washington twice while St. Louis knocks off Detroit twice.

DiMaggio has been tearing the seams out of the ball since the stretch drive began Sept. 1. The big guy has hit safely in his last 17 games and in 21 of 22.

Terrific Pace

His terrific .391 slugging pace has lifted his season average over the .300 mark for the first time this year. During the streak DiMaggio has belted 34 hits with half of them going for extra bases —eight doubles and nine home runs.

DiMaggio's lusty slugging has inspired Yogi Berra and Johnny Mize to greater deeds. During this same stretch Berra has been banging away at a .312 gait and Mize at .282. The trio as a group is clouting away at a .330 clip and has pounded 22 home runs and batted in 65 runs.

The awesome trio's batting has been carrying the load, as the pitching didn't jell until recently. In the 22 games played since Sept. 1 the Yankee staff turned in only 10 complete games but five of these route-going jobs have occurred in the clutch—the last five games.

Allie Reynolds and Ed Ford, sensational rookie lefthander, did the trick Monday as they turned back Washington Senators 8-3 and 7-4.

Reynolds scattered nine hits to hang up his 15th victory in the opener and Ford granted only seven in bagging his ninth without a setback in the finale.

DiMaggio was the big noise in both. He got three of the Yanks' 15 hits in the opener and his three-run double ignited a six-run third-inning rally in the nightcap. Mize followed DiMaggio's base-clearing blast with his 24th home run.

The Red Sox kept their faint hopes alive by sweeping a double-header from the hopeless Philadelphia Athletics 8-0 and 3-0 in the only other American League activity.

Mel Parnell blanked the A's on three hits in the opener for his 18th victory. Harry Taylor shut out the A's on two safeties in the finale.

Philadelphia Phillies made hay in the National League pennant drive. They divided a double-header with the Braves in Boston while the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers split a day-night twin bill with New York Giants to remain five games back.

Philadelphia now needs to win only four of its remaining seven games to clinch its first pennant since 1915. If the Phils win only three games the Dodgers would be forced to take all of their nine to tie the whiz kids.

Ken Heintzelman, making his first start since July 30, pitched the Phils to a 12-4 victory in the opener. He allowed 11 hits while the Phils slugged 21-game winner Warren Spahn and four successors for 18 blows.

The Braves took the nightcap 5-3 to spoil Jim Konstanty's record-tying 70th relief appearance. Max Surkont was the winner

Konstanty tied Ace Adams of the Giants for most games pitched in a single season. Adams set the mark in 1943 when he worked in 65 games as a reliefer and five as a starter.

Preacher Roe turned in his 19th victory—a 3-2 verdict—for the Dodgers in the day half of their doubleheader with the Giants. Pee Wee Reese smashed a two-run homer in the fourth for the winning blow.

The Giants scored three runs in the eighth inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit and win the night encounter 4-3. Sal Maglie gained credit for the victory, his 17th. Carl Erskine was the loser.

Handy-man Billy Goodman, the 24-year-old utility player who didn't break into the Boston Red Sox lineup as a regular until Ted Williams was hurt a couple of months ago, has all but wrapped up the American League batting crown.

Billy, who has played all over the infield and outfield for the Sox, boasts a .355 average with eight games remaining. Detroit Tigers' George Kell, who won the title last year, is 17 points back at .338.

Slugging Stan Musial holds a comfortable lead in the National League, even though his hitting has slipped along with that of his St. Louis Cardinal mates. Down to .345, Musial still has an eight-point lead over Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, who is pulling out of a prolonged batting slump himself

Lethbridge Maple Leafs, Western Canada intermediate hockey champions last year, have decided to accept the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's offer to represent Canada in an extensive European hockey tour and in the world amateur championships in 1951.

The colors of Col. R. S. McLaughlin's Parkwood stable were carried to their last victory when Nephisto breezed home by seven lengths to win the $5,000 added breeders stakes at the closing day of the Woodbine Park fall meeting. Col. McLaughlin has sold his famed stable to E. P. Taylor, Toronto industrialist, and the new owner takes over today.

Roy Heximer of Niagara Falls, Ont., sharp-shooting right winger with Calgary Stampeders of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League last season, has signed with Edmonton Flyers.

Owen Sound Crescents drew first blood in the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior "A" finals when they turned back St Catharines Athletics 9-7 at Owen Sound before 1,800 fans. It was the first game in a best-of-seven series.

Doug Gillespie, Don Campbell, Jack Foote and Arnold Smith each punched two goals past Bill Whittaker who played a great game in the St. Kitts cage. The other tally went to Bill Allum.

Jimmy McMahon and Jimmy McNulty each scored twice for the Athletics with Tony Damico, Leo Teatro and Ken Croft potting the others.

McMahon was forced to leave the game after he scored his second goal with only five seconds left. He was carried from the floor on a stretcher, suffering from what appeared to be a back injury. Earlier, Bill Allum of Owen Sound had been sent to the sidelines with a leg injury.

Montreal Lawyer Testifies Wife Owned Gambling Bldg.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 (CP)—A Montreal city lawyer testified Monday that his wife owned a building on downtown Bleury St. between 1940-45 when it was raided repeatedly for being a gaming house.

Edouard Masson appeared as a witness in a Superior Court inquiry into charges of graft and corruption in the city police force. Mr. Masson is a lawyer representing the city in the inquiry. He was called to the witness stand by Pacifique (Pax) Plante, ousted chief of the city police morality squad who instituted the investigation. Mr. Plante and Jean Drapeau are appearing for 73 petitioners, including a city councillor, who asked for the inquiry.

Mr. Masson said the house was bought in his wife's name in March 1940, and was sold after his wife's death in September, 1945. Witness said he had complete administration of the building.

Shortly after the purchase he said he rented the top floor to a Ludger Audette, who, on the lease, said he was operating a sporting and social club.

Mr. Masson said he visited the building once after being advised by police that people had been arrested in connection with gambling house operations on the floor rented by Audette.

No Subdivision

The lawyer said he found that the floor was as it had always been and contained no subdivision.

Mr. Masson said a court action was taken against his wife following many raids but the affair was dropped in Superior Court for three years.

He said it was specified in a deed prepared by a notary that he was selling the building because it was a gambling den and he did not want any connection with such activities. He added that the building never was padlocked by police.

The inquiry was launched by the Superior Court after Mr. Plante wrote a series of articles in a Montreal daily French-language newspaper.

Following the articles, Mr. Plante circulated a petition charging that laxity existed in police action against gambling and prostitution.

Liaison Staff Arrives

TOKYO, Sept. 26 — (AP).—A South African Air Force squadron liaison staff has arrived at Far East Air Force Headquarters in Tokyo. The fighter squadron, composed of Second World War veterans who saw action in Africa, Europe and the Pacific, will fly with the United Nations forces in Korea.

Gets 10 Years In Pen

SARNIA, Sept. 26—(CP)— Leo Mundy, 26, of Point Edward, was convicted Monday of assaulting 74-year-old Charles Glynn with an offensive weapon with intent to rob, and was sentenced to 10 years in Kingston penitentiary by Magistrate J. C. Dunlap.

Grouse Season

HALIFAX—(CP)—Open season for ruffed grouse on Cape Breton island this year will be Oct. 15-31, the Nova Scotia Forests Department announced. Season on the mainland will be Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. Bag limit in all districts is five birds a day with a total season limit of 15.

PIGS WERE SAVED from the blaze which totally destroyed the barn on William Burke's property, Forsyth St., Marmora, Saturday afternoon. Hay and grain were lost but Mr. Burke had time to release six pigs housed in the barn. The building was at the back of Mr. Burke's house and when the fire started, wood was being cut in the back yard. — (Photo by John Bolton, Peterborough)

Ice Cream Spot Stars Hangout

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26 (AP) —Critics of Hollywood morals may be surprised to learn the favorite hangout of the film famous is not a gin mill but an ice cream parlor.

It is safe to say that more movie stars patronize Wil Wright's four ice cream dispensaries than visit the satin-lined night spots of the Sunset Strip.

Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan used to come in regularly when they were courting," reports Wil (short for Wilbur). "Also Laraine Day and Leo Durocher. Bing Crosby is a regular customer. I even air mail quarts of ice cream up to his ranch at Elko, Nev. He likes pistachio."

Ingrid Bergman used to be a steady patron, too, but never with Roberto Rossellini.

Somebody took Howard Hughes a pint while he was in the hospital after his plane crash, and he became an addict. When David Selznick was opening "Portrait of Jenny," he ordered special favors for a party. They were ice cream portraits of his then bride-to-be, Jenifer Jones. Joan Crawford is another Wil Wright enthusiast, buying for her four kids.

Wright likes ice cream after meals, he said, but confessed he goes for delicatessen foods, especially marinated herring.

Old Map Found

KETTLEBY, Ont. (CP). — A 90-year-old linen-backed map of York County which shows the location of every farm in the county in 1860, has turned up here. The owner, Frederick J. Foley, says he will not part with it unless he gets a good price from a museum.

Baby Dies Naturally Free Indian Couple

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP). —Police Monday released an Indian couple when an autopsy showed death to their seven-week-old infant Sunday resulted from pneumonia.

The unidentified couple were held on a vagrancy charge after they told police on arrest Sunday five other children of theirs — ranging from nine months to four years — had died under similar circumstances in the past.

The mother, 25, told police she fed the child at 3 a.m. Sunday, fed it again when its stomach bloated and it cried, and then took it to hospital when it stopped breathing.

The mother was arrested Friday on a drunk charge.

Guilty of Consuming

Mossom Lancaster, 302 Reid St., in police court Monday, pleaded guilty to a charge of consuming while on the black list Sept. 17 and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

30 Professors Took Course

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 (CP) — Success of an educational experiment conducted by the National Conference of Canadian Universities last summer now is benefiting students across Canada, it was learned here Monday.

The experiment consisted of a summer school for university teachers, believed to be the first of its kind, held during the last three weeks of June at the Royal Military College in Kingston, where 30 university professors and lecturers were taught how to teach students.

The school director, Thomas H. Matthews, registrar of McGill University and NCCU honorary secretary, said results of the first session showed its practicality, and plans are being made to continue the school.

$10.00 TO CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

If This Famous Treatment Doesn't HELP You GREATLY

IF YOU ARE SERIOUSLY ILL, SEE YOUR DOCTOR

BUT

If you have been feeling irritable, restless, tense and jumpy, if your nerves make it difficult for you to get more than three or four hours rest at night, or if your appetite has left you

THEN

There may be no need to get away for a rest, take costly treatments or cause extra expense by family upsets that mean special household help, nursing, or time missed from work, if you act now!

HOW?

By taking the Dr. Chase six week Nerve Food treatment right in your own home and carrying on your regular work or housekeeping duties. In many cases, benefits are felt almost immediately. This well tested and proven formula of Vitamin B1, iron, and other essential minerals will help to restore your nerves to a new quiet strength; will help you to rest better than you have for weeks; will help to improve your appetite so that you are waiting eagerly for every meal.

$10.00

The six week treatment requires six small boxes, ($4.14), or two large-size boxes ($3.58), of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Take them according to the directions enclosed with every box. If at the end of this treatment you are not more than delighted with how much better you feel, return promptly to the Dr. Chase Medicine Co. Ltd., Oakville, Ont., the six direction sheets from the small boxes, or the two large top carton flaps from the large size. Back comes $10.00, (more than twice the cost of the treatment), directly to you. No quibbling, correspondence or delay, and we earnestly suggest that you use this $10.00 to consult your Doctor.

We make this agreement with you to demonstrate, beyond question, the great merits of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. For our files contain thousands of case histories, showing the benefits obtained by taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The records show, that in many of these cases, results were obtained in 21 to 28 days.

Under these conditions you owe it to yourself and your family to get started on this helpful home treatment right away. For either we pay you double the cost of the treatment—or you find out it is worth ten times the cost to you to enjoy a better life—with more relaxing rest—better appetite and a renewed zest for living.

Sylvester Faces Arson Charge In Kresge Fire

Harvey David Sylvester, 32, Peterborough, was charged in police court today that he "did wilfully set fire to the S. S. Kresge Co. Ltd. store" August 17, 1948.

He was remanded without plea and without bail to Monday. Sylvester was charged yesterday with vagrancy and the second charge was laid today after Inspector T. E. P. Lucas of the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office questioned him

Police said that Sylvester walked into the Cobourg office of the Ontario Provincial Police Sunday and confessed to starting the $200,000 fire. When the fire started, Sylvester was caretaker of the store. Police suspected the tall, black-eyed man at the time, but had no evidence.

He had spent last Friday and Saturday nights in the Peterborough police station as an overnight lodger before going to Cobourg to make his "confession."

Market Meters Set Precedent

Peterborough's order for 12-hour parking meters from Western Clock Company is making metering history, City Clark Outram mentioned to the board of works Monday.

It was "blazing the trail" for other municipalities who will be looking on the Peterborough enterprise in cash collecting perhaps with some coveting interest. "By all the other cities in Canada" was the breadth of spectatorship visualized by Mr. Outram.

The 100 meters for the market should be delivered by the end of the year. There is no place for coppers in their mechanism. Rates are: 5c an hour; six hours for 25c; 12 hours for 50c.

The city is getting a 50-50 split on the first collections, Mr. Outram told the board. On the other meters it was 75-25, in favor of the manufacturer, but Mr. Outram expects more business on the market. That means these meters should pay for themselves faster that the first lot. "There won't be any selling of the market square for at least six months, any way" he remarked. The company has to be paid for the machines before they become the property of the city.

"Let's get going", said Ald. E. C. Braund. "We don't want them wrapped up in moth bals for six months. There is a question of surfacing the market square with asphalt."

His motion seconded by Ald Gillespie left to City Engineer Chalmers the preparations for the meters, and paving the square if he considers that step advisable.

IRONY OF CIRCUMSTANCE

It is an ironic coincidence that on the very day that Mr. F. M de la Fosse died, today, workmen began first stages in the re-erection of the Victoria Park fountain whose refurnishing was a project near to his heart and which he promoted in the last year of his life.

GOLFERS' GOAT

Mostly, golf gets a golfer's goat. But at the Peterborough Golf Club, golfers have to be careful that a goat doesn't get their golf. Monday, three goats disconcerted a male threesome by chasing them around the home of Reg. Faryon. A few minutes later, the goats took after two women, who were finally rescued by another male threesome.—J.E.

4-Lane Highway Be Extended To Newcastle

The four-lane highway from Toronto to Bowmanville will be extended to Newcastle, the Ontario Department of Highways announced today.

In this long range building for the future, the Department decided to eliminate traffic congestion at Bowmanville where the approach to the town was considered unsuitable.

Grading and necessary access construction is almost completed on the 19 miles from Oshawa to Bowmanville. The extension of the four lanes for three miles between Bowmanville and Newcastle may be completed by the end of this year. Tenders for its construction are to be let soon.

Plans for speeding traffic between Newcastle and Peterborough are being projected by the rebuilding of 35 Highway from Newcastle to Pontypool, where it will proceed on an angle to Peterborough. Five miles between Orono and Kirby have already been completed.

Trent Canal Closes Oct. 14

The Trent Canal will be officially closed on October 14, according to C. K. Hurst, assistant superintendent.

"The bulk of the navigation has gone through this season," stated Mr. Hurst Figures reveal that only 11 boats went through Lock 19 during the week ending September 23. Five went up and six down.

Although the canal will be officially closed in October, the northern section in the Severn River district is expected to be navigated well into November or during the hunting season.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM CLYSDALE

Mrs. William Clysdale, 93, of 265 Burnham St. died at her residence Monday. She was born in Asphodel, the former Elizabeth Borland, daughter of the late John Borland and Ann Richmond. Mrs. Clysdale had lived in Peterborough for the past 31 years, coming here from Norwood. Her husband, William Clysdale, predeceased her.

Mrs. Clysdale was a member of George St. United Church and the Women's Missionary Society, in which she was a faithful worker.

She leaves one daughter, Mary Ethelwyn, at home; two sons, Stewart John of Dummer and Milton Noble at home and one sister, Mrs. Mary Reid of Otonabee.

The funeral will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home on Thursday at 3 p.m. The Rev. A. A. Mathews of George St. United Church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Norwood Cemetery.

Expulsion of UE From CCL No Surprise To Local Group

"Expulsion of the United Electrical Workers from the Canadian Congress of Labor comes as no surprise," C. R. Sullivan, UE area representative told the Examiner today. "The entire affair was planned in advance by the top CCL leaders and carried out without the slightest semblance of trade union rights or constitutional rules."

Mr. Sullivan was commenting on the decision to expel the left-wing UE Monday at the CCL convention in Winnipeg. A 70-minute UE appeal against a previous suspension was brushed aside by Pat Conroy, CCL secretary-treasurer, and the outright expulsion of the UE was carried by a vote of 650 to 50.

Mr. Conroy described the UE leaders as "prisoners of the Communist Party, crawling on their bellies to Joe Stalin."

"I say that there is no room in this Congress for the UE. You are out and you are going to stay out," he said.

After Ten Years

"Ironically enough, this expulsion comes on the 10th anniversary of the CCL," said Mr. Sullivan. "The Canadian UE president, C. S. Jackson, was one of the small committee which drafted the original constitution of the CCL in 1940."

The UE area representative attacked the CCL action on the following grounds:

One, the UE was suspended illegally last December without even a meeting of the CCL executive on the grounds that it had failed to pay its per capita tax.

Two, immediately afterwards the CCL affiliated the rival IUE an action that clearly demonstrated the CCL leaders had not regard for what the ensuing convention would decide."

Three, on Labor Day A. R. Mosher, Congress president, "again disregarded the convention by announcing 'The UE will undoubtedly be expelled from the Congress at the convention in Winnipeg.'"

Four, the CCL delegates on Monday "refused the delegates the right to debate this important issue."

Jibes At Contract

Mr. Conroy jibed at the UE for securing as the principal items on their 1950 contract only a reduction from 45 to 43 hours a week with maintenance of take-home pay. The rival IUE, he said, had obtained a 42-hour week and a 12-cent-an-hour increase.

George Wallace, president of Local 524, UE, had this reply for Mr. Conroy: "We are the first to agree that we did not get all the GE workers demanded and should have had. But this was directly the result of a split in our ranks when we were in the midst of negotiations with the company. This raiding and division was created in the plant by a group (i.e. the IUE) directed by Mr. Conroy and his kind."

Mr. Sullivan charged that Mr. Conroy had given full support to "breaking the strike of the railway workers."

"At that time he knew the average wage of railway workers on strike was 94-cents-an-hour, compared with a sweeper's rate of $1.02 in the Peterborough GE plant."

CANADIAN BACON TOPS

Canadian bacon was given the highest rating in a British test on the quality of imported bacon from various countries.

Mayor To Open Handicraft Show

Peterborough's handicraft activities will take place under one roof after Wednesday night when Mayor M. J. Swanston and Mr. R. J. Bolton, chairman of the Recreation Commission officially open the handicraft centre at Dixon House.

Special guests for the opening will be the City Council and the Recreation Commission. Anyone interested is also welcome, Alex Sinclair, recreation director, said today.

Besides demonstrations of the various handicrafts there will be displays of completed work in leathercraft, pottery, weaving, metalcraft and copper.

In the spring the Commission, upon the suggestion of Mrs. James Wharry, chairman of the handicraft committee, decided to place all the handicrafts at Dixon House. This part of the building will be known as Peterborough's handicraft centre. Mrs. Wharry will be in charge of the activities.

New VLA Plot Of 110 Acres

A new Veterans' Land Act plot of 110 acres is expected to be ready for building by spring, according to Archie Wilson, district VLA officer. The land is located on the Lakefield road, near the Buckhorn turn.

Mr. Wilson said the survey of the land is not yet complete, but that he expects about 30 acres along the road will be subdivided for home-building, and that the remaining 70 or 80 acres will be sold as a farm to a veteran.

The land is still in the process of being purchased, and allocation of the lots is expected to be made sometime during the winter.

All lots in the VLA plot at the turn into Lakefield have been sold for some months, Mr. Wilsen reported.

Permission Obtained To Set Up Billboards

Permission to E. L. Ruddy Company to set up two two-panel billboards in the vicinity of McDonnel St. west was recommended to the council Monday night by the board of works.

One of the locations is at the rear of the Reuben Wilson service station lot at the northeast corner of Reid and McDonnel Streets. The other is at the southwest corner of Donegal and McDonnel Streets, the old Green foundry property.

Approve Change In Plans Of City Hall

Any changes in the plans and specifications of the city hall are to be submitted to the whole council in committee of the whole as recommended by the board of works Monday night in a motion by Mayor Swanston, seconded by Ald. T. D. Miller.

"That's O.K. with me," said Ald. E. C. Braund, "but I'd hate to see the work held up for some $50 job."

"Every member is to know what is going on," said Mayor Swanston.

"That means the committee of the whole takes over from the building committee?" Ald. J. E. Gillespie asked. "Takes it out of the hands of the special building committee?"

That was it, Mayor Swanston said.

Five items, including change orders relating to the work at the city hall, were approved by the board. They amounted to $7,754.61. The largest item was $4,208.05 for changes in plumbing.

"Putting pipes out of sight," said City Clerk Outram.

"Looks to me as if we're going to pay for every extra barrow of cement," was the remark of Ald. Doug. Miller.

Increasing the capacity of the oil storage tank from 5,000 to 10,000 gallons involved $1,024.85; a change in some doors tacked on $221.

There is also a credit of $1,400 which result from a recommendation by City Engineer Chalmers regarding the routing of a storm drain on the Water St. side.

That will reduce the total of the cost of the changes to around $6,000.

Funeral Service Held For Mrs. Bruce Clark

The funeral service for Mrs. Bruce C. Clark, the former Helen Taylor Black, was held Friday at Mark St. United Church, the Rev. B. S. Moorwood officiating.

Pallbearers were Carmen Jaquith, Wesley Wakeford, Eldon Downer, Donald Trude, Wilbert Graham and Jack Black. Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Three Children Knocked Down

Three children were knocked down by cars in two accidents Monday. In one Melvin Putman, three and a half years old, suffered a fractured leg and lacerated scalp. The two children in the second accident, Mary Hum, 5, and Leonard Minty, 5, were believed not seriously hurt.

Melvin Putman was struck by a light stake truck driven by Floyd Post, RR 3, Peterborough, east on King St. Approaching Boswell St., said Post, he caught a glimpse of the child's head as he was passing a parked car. The youngster had apparently been playing on the south side of the street and darted out into the path of the truck.

Dr. Ralph Clark took the youngster to the Civic Hospital.

Driver of the car which knocked down the two children was John Moore, 470 Albertus St. He told police he was driving east on Hunter St. At George St., he stopped for the light and then turned right to go south without seeing any children. The car struck both youngsters.

Mary suffered a bruised knee and Leonard a bruised hip. Moore took the pair of them to the Clinic where Dr. R. M. Matthews examined them. Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Minty, 227½ Hunter St. Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hum, 225½ Hunter St. Constable Douglas Farthing investigated both accidents.

Crown Appeals For Increased Sentence When Prisoner's Record Made Available

TORONTO, Sept. 26—(CP)—The Crown Monday sought to have a six-month jail term increased to four years on the grounds that it could not produce the convicted man's previous record at his trial.

The reason, the Crown said, was a mistake by R.C.M.P. officials in identifying his fingerprints.

Paul Lalonde, 24, received the six-month term when convicted at Lindsay June 26 on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft. A co-accused, whose record was read at the trial, was sentenced to five years.

The Ontario Court of Appeal Monday was told that since then the R.C.M.P. had discovered Lalonde was Pierre Gouin, who has several previous convictions

Judgment was reserved.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

WINS WITH PONIES

Miss Carilee Ferguson of Peterborough gathered up all the prize money in the hackney ponies class at Lindsay Exhibition. She won the five classes in this division of the horse show.

ILLEGAL USE OF DRUGS

Optimists, at their regular meeting Monday evening at the Empress Hotel, were addressed by Don Irving, a member of the club, who spoke on "Pharmacy" and about drugs and narcotics in particular. His remarks were accented by a film showing illegal uses of drugs. He was thanked by Ernie Brailsford. President Stewart Gardiner presided.

TO MOVE MARKET

A motion by Aldermen Braund and Young Monday night authorized City Engineer Chalmers to get the proposed George St. market ready by the time the old market square is to be put to metering and more profitable use. So far no details of the market opposite George St. wharf have been mentioned.

HOLD RECREATION CONFERENCE

A district recreation conference will be held in Lindsay, October 28, the committee of the East Central Recreation zone decided at a meeting in Lindsay Monday. Alex Sinclair, recreation director, said today that anyone interested in attending the conference should contact either himself or Wilfred Langan, zone chairman.

CROWN AT CONFERENCE

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw resumed his duties in police court Monday after returning from a week-long conference held in Washington by the Canadian Bar Association and the American Bar Association. Among his other activities at the conference was a visit to the headquarters of the FBI. Another Peterborough visitor was Basil Hall.

Students Elect Mary Craw

With the exception of three spoiled ballots the PCVS students council election Monday saw a 100 per cent vote. All the students of Grades X, XI, XII and XIII were eligible to vote and the 796 cast their ballots.

Mary Craw, who was head of the Bow party during the election campaign, was elected president while the other officers elected were: James Armitage, vice-president; Carol McKenzie, treasurer; Donald Hillis, secretary. Only one member of the Buttons party succeeded in the election, Donald Hillis.

The defeated candidates, Kay Grier, Ronald Strickland, Jennie Luther and Donald Ash will be chairman of the standing committees such as the Social Functions and the At Home. All four candidates will be directors on the council.

C. S. Browne, principal, said today when announcing the results that the teaching staff was quite satisfied with this year's campaign. He pointed out that the quality of the speeches was above average. He explained that the speeches affect the results of the voting. Many of the students do not know the candidates and depend on their speeches to help determine whom to vote for.

Dean J. B. Ferguson Buried In Warkworth

Celebrant of the mass at the funeral of the late Dean J. B. Ferguson at Warkworth Monday, Bishop Berry of Peterborough was assisted by Rev. James Hasyes, Toronto, a nephew of the deceased, as deacon, and Rev. J. G. Weiss, Peterborough, deacon. The sermon was by Very Rev. E. J. McCorkell, CSB, Toronto superior general of the Basilican Order.

Dean Ferguson was pastor for 30 years at Warkworth and was also in charge of the parishes of Burnley and Harwood. Burial was in the parish cemetery at Warkworth.

Relatives attending were: brothers Michael of Detroit and Hugh of Chesley ;Mrs. Neil Hayes, sister, Toronto.

Denies Stealing Wood Set Free On $500 Bail

Harold B. McKnight, R.R. 4, Port Hope, was charged in police court today with stealing three loads of slabwood containing from three to four cords each, from the wood yard of Clarence Reid in Cavendish township near Bobcaygeon between Sept. 12 and Sept. 17.

McKnight elected trial in magistrate's court, pleaded not guilty. He was remanded to Tuesday on $500 bail.

DeLaval Lawn Placed First Western Clock Second In Horticultural Contest

De Laval Company receives first honors in the industrial section of Peterborough Horticultural Society's lawn and garden competition this season, in the results announced today by Wm. C. Wilks, secretary of the Society. Western Clock Company was placed second, and Canadian General Electric Company third by the judge, Mr. A. E. Hick of Lindsay.

Mr. Hick commented that De Laval was one of the finest lawns he had ever seen. It is almost entirely free of weeds, is well rolled, has lively, vigorous color, and was altogether in splendid condition when judged.

"The evergreen plantings are in strict alignment, with a suitable setting of red geraniums. The superiority of the De Laval lawn offsets the loss in points for the absence of floral beds and borders."

Commends Industries

"Peterborough should be proud of the number of its industries who are interested in the beautification of their respective properties, and also for the example and the lead they give to the city and entire district," Mr. Hick said.

The improvement of the De Laval lawn has undoubtedly been noticed by the general public passing that way and observing the work in the last few years of putting life in that turf. It has been primarily a lawn-making job, including levelling, rolling and top-dressing with rich soil This season was favorable to the growing of grass, especially in escaping scorching heat, and that lawn, only a fraction of the spacious green plaza at C.G.E., showed this summer the results of planned care and attention.

His awards in a secondary section of this class were: 1st, Peterborough Bus Lines, Hunter St. east; 2nd, Canada Packers Limited, George St., opposite their plant; 3rd, Quaker Oats Rockery.

Further comment of Mr. Hick was: "Peterborough should also be proud of its parks committee. It is also giving leadership in beauty. The Horticultural Society is worthy of the highest praise in sponsoring the numerous competitions which go to make Peterborough a city well worthy of advanced beautification.

Evidence of Care

Mr. Hick based his recognition of the Bus Company lawn on its well-trimmed neatness and evidence of care. "A splendid showing of flower beds and borders which practically surround the entire building is in keeping with an arrangement of evergreens."

The planting by Canada Packers was "an example of what can be done to hide unsightly areas and to screen parked trucks and cars. It could be adopted by some other places of business to great advantage."

Citizens who have been vocally approving the development of Riverside Park and its striking detail of rock garden will endorse the Hick compliment: "The city's parks committee should be highly commended for developing the rock garden adjacent to Hunter St. bridge. It is really a thing of beauty, one well worthy of any community."

The Board of Education's trophy was won by Queen Mary School, the first time the west end school received this honor. "A splendid lawn and a foundation planting, combine merit worthy of full appreciation."

The rock garden of Quaker Oats Company has been noted in other years. That entire scheme of improvement on the north side of Hunter St. at the east end of the bridge is a grand counterpart of Riverside Park.

Other Winners

Mrs. Lawrie R. Mitchell, wife of the head of the local bus lines, carried off top awards in three classes of the Horticultural competitions.

For home gardens, without professional work:

1.—Mrs. L. R. Mitchell, 209 Geraldine Ave., 84 points; 2, Mr. L. Titterington, 207 King George St., 76 points.

Home rock gardens:

1. Mr. Titterington; 2, Ray Stabler, 581 Bethune St.; 3, Mr. John A. Smith, 150 Benson Ave.

Home lily pools: 1, Mrs. L. R. Mitchell; 2, Mr. J. A. Smith; 3, Mr. L. Titterington.

Best vegetable garden: 1, Mrs. A. C. Simmons, 250 Euclid Ave.; 2, John A. Smith; 3, Mr. G. Gelinas, 101 Romaine St.

Window Boxes: 1, Mrs. L. R. Mitchell; 2, Mr. Harry Gabbutt, 533 Chamberlain St.; 3, Mr. Wm. Buckley, 221 Princess St.

Land and gardens open to non-members of the society: Mrs. Percy Rodd, 505 Cambridge St.

Comment of the judges: "This is an outstanding example of what can be accomplished with a little effort. This property was part of a dump in Ashburnham four years ago. It is now a lovely place. The rear part has been transformed into a rockery of brilliant color by the use of petunias, gypsophila and other small growing annuals and perennials, the whole forming an attractive picture. This is beautiful example of the art in gardening, and is one of the brightest spots in the city."

Lawns on the Scenic Drive: 1, T. F. Doughty, 29 Monaghan Road; 2, Mr. J. Huggins, River Road.

Judges of the Lawns and Gardens, exclusive of the industrial section were: Clarence H. Bacon, and J. S. Mason.

The Lawn and Gardens competition committee is composed of D. J. Emery, chairman; Mrs. Alex I. Butcher, J. S. Mason, C. C. Plion, Frank Biddle and Clarence H. Bason.

Mr. Wilks said the society was grateful to private home owners, industrial executives, Board of Education and the Parks Committee of the Council "who have done so much to add to the beauty of our city, and to enchance its attractions. We sincerely trust that the same spirit of support and working together may prevail in the future."

Community Presents Gifts To Newlyweds

WARKWORTH, Sept. 26 (ENS) —A large crowd was present at the Norham Community Centre on Friday to honor Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hartford (nee Betty Lett) who were recently married.

A short program was followed by a presentation from the community of a bridge set, including table and chairs, a smoker's stand, a table lamp, a purse of money and various gifts of silverware.

Dancing and lunch followed the presentation.

Freed On Count Having Beer

George Rosebush, Kapuskasing, who drove to Peterborough last week to give his defence in police court in answer to a charge of having beer in his car illegally was found not guilty Monday after the Crown had presented its evidence.

The trial was held in an unusual two-day hearing because, after making arrangements for the case to be heard last week, the Crown found that Provincial Constable Bert Howden would not be available that day. Rosebush entered his defence and the case was adjourned to Monday.

Rosebush told the court he had checked out of the Flag Pole Lodge the afternoon of July 29. He was on his way to the home of his parents in Peterborough and eventually to his home in Kapuskasing. On the way he stopped at a dance near Chandos Lake. When he was leaving the lake, Constable Howden asked to see in his car trunk. He asked for the constable's credentials because he was in civilian clothes.

In his trunk were two cartons, one sealed containing full bottles of beer and the other empties. He said he had bought one case in Peterborough and one in Port Hope.

He protested when the constable confiscated the beer saying "I'm not committing any offence as I see it."

Constable Howden said after asking to see in Rosebush's trunk he showed the man his credentials. He said Rosebush took them from his hand and refused to return them. He said he had to use force to get them back.

He added that Rosebush told him he had bought one case in Port Hope and one in Bowmanville. He said he doubted the story because he knew there was no beer warehouse in Bowmanville.

"There is not sufficient evidence at all," said Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC. "Case dismissed."

Tulips, Large As Peonies

C. A. Cruikshank, Toronto, a Canadian representative of the Vantubertan Bulb House, one of the largest bulb houses in Holland, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Peterborough Horticultural Society Monday night at the YWCA.

More than 140 members of the Peterborough society and visitors from the surrounding rural area enjoyed the illustrated address on the planting, care of and forcing of bulbs in the winter by Mr. Cruikshank.

The speaker showed lantern slides of the latest developments in tulips, daffodils and hyacinths as well as several colored pictures of the National flower day in Holland.

In his address, Mr. Cruikshank explained the stress that is now being paced on the development of new varieties of tulips, one of which is a late double-flowered tulip with a bloom the size of a peony. This variety will be available to growers in approximately two years.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Gordon Fraser, president of the society and appreciation for the address was expressed by John Smith.

The three door prizes were won by Mrs. L. Thompson, Mrs. K. Jackson and Mrs. S. Stevens. The prizes were collections of bulbs.

Seven-Day Feast

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 26 — (AP). — Israel began observance of the ancient seven-day Feast of the Tabernacles Monday night. Special prayers for world peace were offered in the country's Synagogue. Feast of the Tabernacles, or Succoth, concludes the high Jewish religious holidays, including Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur.

Trains Delayed

ROME, Sept. 26 — (AP). — All trains originating in the Rome and Genoa areas are being delayed 15 minutes today by a strike of Communist-led railway trainmen who seek pay raises. Workers were told to report for duty 15 minutes late. Non-Communist workers are not taking part in the strike.

Two-Party Fight

LONDON, Sept. 26 — (AP).— A two-party fight will be waged between Labor and Conservative candidates in the North-east Leicester by-election Thursday, caused by appointment of Sir Terence Donovan, Labor member, as High Court Judge. Liberals and Communists, who contested the seat in the last election, decided not to enter a candidate.

O'Neill's Son Suicides

WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP).—Eugene O'Neill, 40-year-old son of the famed playwright, committed suicide Monday by slashing a wrist. He was reported to have been despondent over an old love affair. O'Neill was an instructor in the new school for social research in New York City, where he taught literature and drama.

Mrs. M. Matchett Funeral Service

CAVAN, Sept. 26 (ENS). — The funeral of Mrs. Margaret M. Matchett was conducted Friday by the Rev. T. G. Husser at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Syer, No. 7-A Highway.

The Rev. W. E. Honey of Lindsay, a former pastor at Cavan, had charge of the service at the graveside.

Pallbearers were her four nephews: Clarke Swain, Toronto; Wm. Swain, Cavan; Ross and David Swain, Valentia, and Harold Biglow, Port Hope, and Vincent Fee, Omemee. Burial was in Emily cemetery.

Mrs. Matchett died on Sept. 20 at the age of 87. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter who were among the first settlers of Cavan.

Her girlhood was spent in Cavan until her marriage to Mr. J. George Matchett of Lindsay, where they lived until the time of his death 50 years ago. She and her daughter Georgia then came back to Cavan and have lived here ever since.

In Failing Health

Mrs. Matchett had been in failing health for some years and on the Friday preceding her death, her condition became so serious that her daughter with whom she had been making her home, had her removed to the hospital in Peterborough, where she died the following Wednesday.

Mrs. Matchett is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Ray Syer (Georgia), and three sisters: Mrs. Joshua Swain (Ella), Cavan; Mrs. A. E. Jackson (Martha), West Vancouver, and Mrs. R. S. Swain (Anna), Valentia, and one brother Mr. W. F. Hunter of Cavan.

Mrs. Matchett has been a member of Cavan United Church and an active worker in its various organizations since her return 50 years ago.

Accepts Resignation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) —President Truman Monday accepted the resignation of Paul G. Hoffman, Administrator of the economic co-operation administration. The President announced that he is appointing William C. Foster to succeed Hoffman. Foster now is deputy administrator.

THERE'S A BIG DIFFERENCE IN TRUCKS

No other truck comes close to these 12 features you get in a GMC

Before you buy a new truck, study the chart above. It lists twelve important facts about the trucks offered by GMC and other makers in Canada. You'll find yourself drawing two main conclusions from it:

1. No matter what you want in a truck, GMC offers it... there's no need to look beyond GMC, for GMC and GMC alone offers every style, every capacity, every feature you can require.

2. You can't afford to buy any other make, if real truck value is what you're after! For time after time as you go through the list you'll find a feature you want—important to your profits or comfort or safety—that's offered by none of the other makers listed! No other maker offers more than 2 of the 12 features that the GMC line, up to and including the three ton, gives you.

GMC's many plus values help to explain why a GMC will give you years longer service—with lower maintenance cost. It's a real truck—built by the world's largest exclusive maker of commercial vehicles.

Your GMC dealer will be glad to show you the ruggedly handsome new 1950 models—in a wide range of types and sizes to fill every need. Measured in years of extra service, a GMC is your most economical buy.

UN Army Wives To Get Pay Cheques

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 —(CP)— The army had good news Monday for the wives of thousands of soldiers of the Canadian UN Force now in training.

They will start getting their regular monthly assignment cheques within the next week. An army spokesman, reporting that there have been complaints that some of the wives were lacking funds, explained the pay arrangements are now established.

The first monthly compulsory assignment cheques, those for September, will go out shortly, he said.

For example, $94 will go to the childless wife of a corporal or private, $103 to those who have two children.

The wife of a sergeant with no children will get $100. If she has two children, she gets $125.

August Different

Those cheques wil lgo out to wives of men who enlisted in August as the majority did. The pay arrangements in August itself worked differently.

Recruiting started Aug. 9 and recruits were given $10 or $12 advance pay. As of Aug. 25, the amount earned was cut in half if the man was married and half was sent to his wife, the rest he kept himself.

This same system will apply in September to those who enlisted in September.

A trained private gets $72 a month in basic pay, a marriage allowance of $30 and a subsistence allowance of $39, a total of $141. His wife's allowance comes out of that.

PALM TO PINE—Three scotch pines have been planted on a Winnipeg boulevard to mark the northern terminus of the Palm to Pine highway, stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to Winnipeg. Errick Willis, retiring president of the Canadian Good Roads Association, is shown planting the third pine. Behind him is Hon. R. F. McWilliams, left, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, and L. C. Frank, United States consul-general in Winnipeg.

Reporter On Tour Finds Westerners Live In Sky

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

On the prairies you live in the sky.

That is the best description this writer has heard of the peculiar fascination of the land of broad horizons.

It was given by Robert M. Campbell of Toronto, a delegate on the recent trip west of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. He got it from an artist, a chance train acquaintance some time ago.

Said the artist in effect:

Take the train window as a frame, and if you look out in mountain country you see three-quarters earth and one-quarter sky; look out in ordinary country and you have half-earth and half-sky; but look out on the prairies and you have less than one-quarter earth; virtually you are in the sky.

Prairie people whether or not they put it in these words, are very conscious of it.

Always Uncertain.

Their crops raise their heads into it. Sometimes it is kind; and then, almost in a twinkling, it may breathe frost, lightly taking from farmers millions of the dollars it has given them. It may give soft airs or searing heat—hail, wind, tornado. In the main, despite caprice, it gives great wealth.

Perhaps it is living in the sky that gives the westerner his traditional open, hearty manner.

There are a lot of other things about the west that draw one without one's knowing exactly why. In the years that this writer used occasionally to travel between Vancouver and the east, we never passed the station at Saskatoon, for instance, without wanting to get off.

Finally, we managed it twice, but without quite satisfying the yen just to walk around those broad, orderly streets; not to mention discovering that it is a city of bridges as it straddles the Saskatchewan river, or seeing its great relatively-new University of Saskatchewan.

Other Fascinations

The larger Western cities — Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton — have their own fascinations; but, to one from the east, perhaps the smaller cities (though they're getting pretty big now) appear more like what one considers typically west: say Saskatoon and Lethbridge; and probably many another such as Regina, Moose Jaw, Prince Albert, Medicine Hat or Brandon, if one knows them.

In case there is too much sentiment in this, here is a yarn without sentiment, but with a pang of some kind:

On a long trans-country trip one talks to many people and sees many places.

Finally, however, we came to a small and remote community and had barely time to walk along its main street.

On a sort of public bulletin board was a notice from the district nurse saying the railway had repaired the hospital boilers and the hospital would not be closed as scheduled—but its continuance, it was indicated, would depend on more community co-operation.

Have Own Idea

Alongside it was another notice calling upon citizens to meet on a certain date to discuss establishment of an ice rink. It appealed: "Mothers, do you want a place for your children to skate?" Beneath the rousing summons was a pencilled note:

"Postponed because of lack of interest."

I called it "the town that just didn't give a darn," and somehow had a perverse admiration for it as perhaps the only place in the country that seemed not concerned about past, present and future.

But that may be a visitor's quick impression, and possibly unfair; or the sky, and it's not a western one, may be nearly always unkind there.

Mayor Rejects Appeal For Street Meetings

VAL D'OR, Que., Sept. 26 (CP) —Mayor Oza Tetreault declined at a council meeting Monday night to consider an appeal by Baptist lay preachers against a bylaw prohibiting street prayer meetings without a permit.

Under the bylaw, 23 Baptists were arrested in the last two months in this northwestern Quebec mining town. Seventeen now are in jail serving two-month sentences.

The Baptists' written appeal said street preaching had been permitted in the last 11 years, and was prohibited only since September last year. It said that no matter what the consequence, Baptists would go on street preaching.

Appropriates Grave

NAPLES, Italy, Sept. 26 — (Ruters)— Nicola Costagliola, a 56-year-old Neapolitan, wandered into a cemetery, found a freshly-dug grave, crawled into it, and swallowed a bottle of poison. A grave-digger saw the body stir, called police and Nicola, still conscious, said he was "fed up with life." He was taken to hospital.

Enjoys Chimpanzee

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP). — Julian Huxley, the British biologist, whose grandfather helped Charles Darwin work out the evolution theory, visited the zoo Sunday and paid special attention to Nero, star of the chimpanzee show. "Fascinating fellow," said Huxley. Nero seemed impressed with Huxley, too.

Report 'Baltic Wall'

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 26 (AP). — A Stockholm newspaper reported Monday Russia is speeding construction of a gigantic "Baltic wall" of coastal defences all the way from Porkkalo, Soviet-held base in Finland, to Ruegen Island in the southern Baltic Sea.

FIRST EXPLORER

In 1728 Bering, a Danish explorer in the service of Russia, explored the northeast coast of Asia and the Bering Straits.

Police Find No Trace Of Youth In Lake

KINGSTON, Sept. 26 (CP).— Provincial Police said Monday night an all-day search disclosed no trace of Alexander David Creasor, 19, of Montreal, believed drowned in Sydenham Lake Sunday.

The search was started after a canoe in which Creasor left Sydenham was found late Sunday afternoon. Police said a high wind was blowing at the time and it was impossible to determine how far the craft had drifted.

They said it was impossible to drag the lake, about three miles long and two miles wide. The search is continuing.

Farmers Ask Ottawa Help To Curb Prices

OTTAWA, Sept. 26—(CP)— Two western farm leaders Monday asked the government to help farmers through the current inflationary-price period by granting general farm price-support or instituting price controls on goods, services, rents, wages and profits.

In conference with Trade Minister Howe and Agriculture Minister Gardiner, the spokesmen for Saskatchewan and Alberta farm groups said that while farmers would hesitate to strike, the representatives would not take responsibility for what transpired "if something is not done."

Mr. Howe and Mr. Gardiner replied, in effect, that while the government so far had decided not to accept either of the courses proposed, the new requests would be referred to Prime Minister St. Laurent and a reply given within the next 30 days or so, the farm leaders said.

Presenting a 5,000-word brief to the Cabinet ministers were C. J. Stimpfle of Edmonton, president of the Farmers Union of Alberta, and J. L. Phelps, President of the Saskatchewan Farmers Union.

Mr. Phelps said that farm prices were so out of line with prices of commodities which the farmer must buy to survive that some Saskatchewan farmers had decided to hold back their crops from market, in the hope of better prices in the future. Others were boycotting machinery producers. Still others were seriously considering the question of striking.

If UK Halts Machinery No Bacon–Poland

LONDON, Sept. 26—The Polish Government reacted obliquely Monday to British intimations that the shipment of heavy machinery to Poland might have to be reconsidered in the light of "a change of circumstances."

If Poland did not receive the tools she had ordered from Britain, eggs and bacon she had agreed to supply in payment would not be delivered, said Albert Morski, the Polish charge d' affaires, at a press conference.

Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, assured parliament last week that several machine tools that might add to the war potential of the Soviet Union or its satellites would not be delivered because they would be needed here.

Elected Chairman

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (Reuters).— The Congress of Exiled Soviet Zone Christian Democrats, which ended here Monday, elected Jakob Kaiser, West German Minister for All-German Affairs, chairman of the organization. From 1945 to 1947, when he was deposed by Russia, Kaiser headed the Soviet Zone Christian Democratic Party—the CDU.

Consider Apple Deal

KENTVILLE, N. S., Sept. 26 — (CP).—The United Kingdom government will consider a proposal for purchase of a quantity of Annapolis Valley apples at a later date, R J.. Leslie, general manager of the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board, said Monday night.

Strangles 3 Children

ALDEN, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP).— Two-year-old twin girls and their 15-month-old brother were strangled in their beds Monday. Authorities said their mother, Mrs. Donald Batchelder, 21, admitted the slayings and swallowed poison in an unsuccessful attempt to take her own life.

Father Loses Appeal On Behalf Of Girl

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — A father's appeal on behalf of his 14-year-old daughter, who lost an eye when struck by a bat which slipped from an Ottawa baseball player's hands, was dismissed Monday by the Ontario Appeal Court.

George L. Burton, the father, sought $10,296 damages. He claimed that the player, named Marchand, was negligent in losing his grip on the bat when he struck at and missed a pitched ball. Mr. Burton claimed also that the city of Ottawa was negligent in not guarding more closely against such accidents.

The appeal court upheld a judgment given last Feb. 10 by Mr. Justice Dalton Wells that neither the player nor the city was to blame.

Police After Gang

TIMMINS, Sept. 26— (CP)— Police today are searching for a gang of six teen-agers who literally pulled the plug on the Aquacade Diving Act playing at the Northern Ontario Exhibition. Police said the youths slipped under the canvas and using tent poles jabbed holes into the canvas tank.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM ARCHIE BROOKS of Norwood are shown following their marriage in St. John's Anglican Church, Havelock. The bride was formerly Helen Ilene Clarke, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Clarke of Havelock and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks of Norwood. The couple will live in Norwood.

Dunford-MacNaughton

The marriage took place Saturday at two o'clock in St. Aidan's Anglican Church, Young's Point, of Margaret Isabelle MacNaughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron MacNaughton, to Douglas Wellington Dunford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Dunford of Burleigh Falls. Canon F. J. Fife officiated in the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown with lace bodice and full net skirt with an insert of lace. Her long veil of embroidered net was caught with white roses and lily-of the valley, and she wore long lace mittens.

The bouquet was crescent shaped of pink roses and white baby 'mums.

Attendants were Misses Lorene Hackaday, Faye Darling, bridesmaids, and Mrs. L. Jackson, matron-of-honor. They were in frocks of aqua, yellow and pink taffeta, styled with wide neckline and bustle back. Each wore a flowered headress with woven ribbon, and long mittens to match. The bridesmaids carried ring bouquets of bronze and yellow 'mums, and the matron of honour carried yellow 'mums.

Mr. David Dunford was groomsman and Frank Dunford and Braden McNaughton were ushers.

Before the bride entered and during the signing of the register Miss Iris Whalon sang "Through The Years" and "At Dawning". She was accompanied by Mrs. David Darling at the organ.

A reception was held in the parish hall where the bride and groom received the guests. They were assisted by the brides' mother, who wore a grey suit and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations, and the groom's mother in a navy dress with black accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Friends of the bride who served were Misses Margaret Fitzgerald, Muriel Forsyth and Margaret Handley of Peterborough and Shirley Abbott, Evelyn Garrett and Isabelle McIlmoyl of Young's Point. Guests were from Huntsville, Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough and Lakefield.

When leaving on a honeymoon to Toronto and United States the bride wore a cocoa brown suit with green accessories and carried a beige gabardine topcoat. Her corsage was of gardenias.

On return the couple will live at the groom's home at Stony Lake near Burleigh Falls.

SPEAKING OF FOOD —

Fall is here and time for us to talk about housecleaning. Here's a tip . . . you will find a good range of housecleaning supplies at your Dominion Master Market in Peterborough, and at everyday low prices.

Now that it's hot cereal time again, why not dress up your oatmeal standby . . . it's easy. First, substitute milk for water when cooking oatmeal, then toss in some chopped figs, dates, prunes or apricots the last five minutes of cooking. The result will really delight the family, in fact you'll send them off to school and work cheering!

It's simple arithmetic . . . gather a few congenial friends together for bridge, a radio programme, or sparkling conversation . . . then add a popcorn party. Everybody loves to pop corn. You will find supplies at your Dominion Master Market.

Here's a dessert that should be a winner.

OPEN-FACE PLUM PIE

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg
½ cup sugar
Pinch salt
1½ lbs. prunes or Italian plums
Powdered sugar

Start your oven at 400° F. or moderately hot and grease a 9" pie plate

Sift flour and baking powder together three times. Then work or cream together softened butter or margarine and flour until well mixed. Beat egg in another bowl until frothy, add sugar and salt gradually and keep on beating hard until mixture is creamy. Add egg mixture to creamed butter and flour and work together.

Dump dough in centre of pie plate and pat dough evenly over bottom and sides of plate.

Next cut plums in quarters (without pits) and arrange them in tight, neat rows over the dough. Bake 15 minutes, then lower oven temperature to 350° F. or moderate and continue baking for 45 minutes. Remove from oven and shower with powdered sugar

Plums are in season now and at a price to fit every purse.

Little-Rusk

At All Saints' Anglican Church on Saturday, the wedding took place of Shirley Mary Ann Rusk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rusk, and Ronald John Earn Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Little, all of Peterborough. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite performed the ceremony and the bride's cousin Mrs. W. Turner played the music.

The bride wore white satin styled on princess lines with long sleeves and had white lace mittens and a lace headdress which held her floor-length veil. She carried a horseshoe of red roses. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Pauline McClennan as maid of honor, and her sisters, Miss Helen Rusk as bridesmaid and Roxy Rusk as flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a frock of pink taffeta and the sisters were in dresses of pink and blue satin. Each wore white lace mittens and a beaded tiara. The former carried pink roses, the bridesmaid yellow roses with an orchid 'mum in the centre and the latter had tea roses with white baby 'mums.

The groomsman was James Hutchinson and ushers were Robert Rusk and Donald Little, brothers of the bride and groom.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents, 520 Elm St. Her mother was receiving in navy dress and hat, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing powder blue lace and blue felt hat. Each had a corsage of white 'mums.

As her going-away outfit the bride chose a navy suit and wore a corsage of chrysanthemums.

The couple will live in Peterborough.

It was announced that the fur neckpiece would be drawn for at the home of Mrs. Thora Rolfe on Saturday, September 30

Refreshments were served by Miss Betty Fee, Miss Elaine Cook and Mrs. Lambert.

Agnes McMurray Bride of F. J. McMurray

An autumn wedding solemnized in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Douro, last Thursday was of Agnes Marie, second daughter of Mrs. Leonard McMurray and the late Mr. McMurray, and Frederick James McMurray, son of Mrs. Patrick McMurray, 532 Rogers St., and the late Mr. McMurray.

The Rev. J. J. McCarthy officiated at the nuptial mass. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Victor Kennedy who also sang "On This day," during signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Clarence McMurray, the bride, was gowned in white slipper satin with embroidered yoke, her fingertip veil held with a heart-shaped lace headdress, and she carried a cascade of red roses and bouvardia. Miss Beverley Driscoll, niece of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She was gowned in pink taffeta with a lace headdress in matching shade and she carried pink roses.

Groomsman was Mr. Gerald McMurray, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Frank Driscoll and Leo McMurray.

A reception was held in the Empress Kawartha Room where the bride's mother received, dressed in rose crepe with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bride and groom left for Toronto and Detroit, the bride travelling in a suit of wine gabardine and wearing grey accessories. They will live in Peterborough.

Collins-Calberry

The marriage of Jean Kathleen Calberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Calberry, Peterborough, to Jack Kenneth Clayton Collins took place Monday evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Collins, 57 River Rd. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Walter S. Crone.

Pink and white streamers and bouquets of snapdragon, asters and baby 'mums decorated the house for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a dress of powder blue crepe with blue lace top, a black hat and matching accessories. She had a corsage of pink roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Hazel Collins, sister of the groom, who was frocked in peacock blue taffeta with black cut velvet. She wore a blue hat, accessories to match, and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mr. Jack Calberry, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

At the reception following the ceremony the bride's mother received wearing a dress of blue flowered nylon and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a grey silk crepe dress and a corsage of red roses.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Collins will live at 57 River Rd.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman, 37, Not Fascinated By Suitor 5 Years Younger

DEAR MISS DIX—A man five years younger than I wants to marry me. He is kind, reliable, gentle, generous. Interested in my hobbies. He loves me very much. He is in a prosperous business. But he doesn't come up to my ideals. He is careless about his manners and it jars my nerves. He is not good-looking and does not fascinate me. I am 37 years old and I realize that my chances are slight of finding another opportunity to marry, and that the space of time in which I hope to have a child is short. That is something I greatly desire.

Dorothy Dix

But I wonder if I should remain single and live in these dreams, or marry.

A.B.

ANSWER: That is a question that no one in the world can answer but yourself, for only you can tell whether you prefer dreams that never come true to the reality of a warm human companionship. There is no reason in these days why a woman should marry just to be a-marrying. The bachelor girl can have her own home, her social circle, her pleasant trips, her freedom, her busy, interesting life, and she is generally well off from every practical standpoint, if not better off, than her married sister.

No Need To Marry

So there is no reason for any woman marrying except for love. If you do not love this man and his little peculiarities get upon your nerves, and especially if you feel that he is you inferior, you are not likely to find happiness in such a union. But if your only objection to him is that he does not thrill you, you are certainly a romantic goose to throw away all that he offers you.

It seems to me that this man is offering you so much that you might well overlook his little lapses in manners, but if you are going to let them make you unhappy, then let him alone. Leave him free to marry some woman who will care more for his kind heart and the luxuries he can give her than she will about his dificiency in manners.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I board with my aunt. Pay her $10 a week and she gives me a nice room and good meals. I like to sit with my legs over the arms of upholstered chairs and she objects. Says it spoils and soils a chair, but I don't see why I should worry about her chairs, so I still sit that way. I like to do my laundry in the bathroom and hang it there to dry. She has asked me to do it in the basement, where there are tubs and lines, but I don't feel like going down with it, so I use the bathroom. Is she being too fussy, or am I being stubborn? Should she serve lunch to me and my boy friends when I have them in? I'll do as you say.

EIGHTEEN.

ANSWER: If you will do as I say, you will sit down and for the first time in your life look yourself squarely in the face and see what a little monster of selfishness you are. Apparently you haven't a thought for the rights or comfort or pleasure of anybody else in the world except yourself. And let me tell you one thing, my child, that selfishness is not only one of the most unlovely faults that a woman can have, but it is also one of the greatest handicaps that she can carry.

As for your own particular case. Your $10 a week doesn't begin to pay a fair board for the nice room and food your aunt gives you Certainly it doesn't pay for your ruining her furniture and messing up the bathroom, and so the least you can do to show your appreciation of her kindness to you is to respect her wishes. Anyway, sitting sprawled over chairs is an ungraceful attitude and forms a bad habit. If you don't feel able to sit up, go to bed. Respect for other people's property is merely an indication of decent upbringing.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been secretly married a year this month. My husband keeps putting off our living together, telling me that he wants to get in a better position, although he makes enough for us to live on. I am afraid that our marriage will go blooey like all other secret marriages seem to do. I have noticed that after six months that couples get tired of each other and that's the end of the beautiful thing. I don't want ours to peter out that way, what must I do?

MRS. A. O. C.

ANSWER: Tell him that you are tired of a hole-and-corner marriage and that he owes it to you to acknowledge you before the world as his wife. If he has got tired of you and lost his enthusiasm for marriage, it is far better for you to know it now than later.

GIVES WIFE ADVICE

"Do you mind a mere male having something to say about washdays? My wife keeps my shirts sparkling white, which is important in my business. She tells me the secret is Reckitt's Blue, which prevents clothes turning yellow. She takes no chances with anything that may damage fabric. Just a swish or two of Reckitt's Blue in the final rinse is all there is to it. The fact that Reckitt's Blue costs only a few pennies a month makes sense to me, too." A-S-R

Audrey Oliver Elected Captain Kawartha BG's

Kawartha BG's teed off at one o'clock Sunday afternoon to play nine holes for their last golfing competition this year.

Prizes of the day were won by Shirley Siddall, Margaret Lundy and Audrey Oliver with the three longest drives; Peg White and Doris Ackford with low and second low net; Barbara Siddall and Ruth McKee with low and second low gross; Corinne Coons and Helen Cadigan for their approaching and putting.

There were also special draw prizes for the closing day and these went to Joan Austin, Barbara Allen and Sybil Hood.

Following dinner at the club house, the 42 business girls heard a report of finances from Miss Ruth McMullen and then elected officers for 1951.

Captain of the BG's next year will be Miss Audrey Oliver; vice captain, Miss Barbara Siddall; secretary-treasurer, Miss Meg Benson; ringer, Miss Doris Ackford; social convener, Miss Jean Hamley.

WMS Has Charge Evening Service

The WMS of Mark St. United Church had charge of the evening service Sunday evening. Miss Grace Woodcock, a returned missionary from Bolivia, was the special speaker. She took as her text the 115 Psalm, verse 17, and built her talk around two natives of the upper class of India, who had become converted and did a most wonderful work among the Indians of Bolivia.

After the evening service, there was a fireside meeting with a good program. Mrs. Ed. Denure, who is the WMS president, presided. Mr. Jack Telford sang two solos, Miss B. Pomeroy playing the accompaniment. Mrs. Croft gave two accordion solos and Rev. Mr. Moorwood led in a number of spiritual songs with Mrs. Searles, organist, presiding at the piano. After the program, Miss Woodcock showed some interesting slides of Bolivia, explaining the customs and lives and legends of the people of Bolivia. Following the showing of the slides, the members of the missionary society served lunch. Mrs. E. Denure thanked all those who took part in making a pleasant evening.

CAREFUL ARRANGEMENT of vegetables in a pattern and a tasty sauce served separately gives elegance to the vegetable course.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Dress Up Vegetable Dish To Look More Appetizing

Everybody would eat more vegetables if they were taken out of the drab class and dressed up to look as attractive as a meat platter or a cake. For some excellent ideas to give sparkle to your vegetable service you should see "250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables," the eleventh in the series of twenty-four cookbooks being released a book a week to readers of the Examiner.

The Vegetable Cookbook contains the latest ideas on the correct way to prepare vegetables and has many apetizing recipes for cooking them. Just as important are the wonderful photographic illustrations to suggest attractive arrangements of vegetable platters and unusual garnishings. For instance, a carefully arranged platter with cauliflower in the centre and alternate piles of lima beans and asparagus could be served with a rich Hollandaise Sauce in a separate gravy boat. Here is one of the three recipes for Hollandaise Sauce that are given in the Vegetable Book:

Hollandaise Sauce

½ cup butter, 2 egg yolks, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash cayenne, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Divide butter into 3 portions. Place egg yolks with ⅓ of the butter in top of double boiler. Keep water in bottom of double boiler hot but not boiling. Stir eggs and butter constantly; when butter melts add another portion and as it melts and the mixture begins to thicken add remaining butter. Keep stirring constantly. As soon as mixture is thick, remove from heat and add seasonings. The sauce is delicious served over vegetables. Should sauce separate, beat in 2 tablespoons boiling water, drop by drop. Make 1 cup sauce.

To obtain your copy of this valuable cookbook, all you need do is clip a coupon from any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25 cents to the Examiner office, your Examiner carrier or Braund's Home Food Markets. Or if you wish to send for your copy by mail, enclose the coupon with 30 cents (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, the Examiner, Peterborough.

Fritters Are Popular Autumn Dish

By MARY MOORE

One of the farmers' wives on the market called to me as I was passing and said "Mrs. Moore there are going to be more green toatoes than ripe ones with the weather like this, so put a piece in the paper so folks 'll know how to use 'em up."

This is that piece.

Do you know what is surprisingly good? Green Tomato Fritters. I tried these on the family and they were quite popular. Of course, my family is so hungry every mealtime that the only time I could be surprised is when they are not enthusiastic over their meals.

I pepped up a meal that was threatening to limp along on the tail end of a roast of beef, with these hot crusty fritters, and some carrot rings in a mild white sauce dotted with chopped sweet green pepper.

✧ ✧ ✧

Green Tomato Fritters

One and one-half cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs (yolks and whites beaten separately) or 1 egg (when you would use 2 teaspoons baking powder), 2-3 cup milk. Sift dry ingredients together; gradually add egg yolks and milk mixed together, beat until smooth and fold in stiffly beaten whites. Fold it up to 2 cups chopped greep or slightly ripe tomatoes, and drop into hot fat 375 deg. Fahr. and fry until golden brown, turning once.

Or reduce flour content by ½ cup and dip thick slices of green tomatoes in this batter, and fry in shallow fat.

✧ ✧ ✧

Crumber Fried Green Tomatoes

This is the well-known method of serving green tomatoes, and they often have bacon to make them even better. Dip thick slices green tomatoes in beaten egg diluted with 2 tablespoons water, then dip in very fine salted cracker crumbs. Fry in about 3 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, turning carefully once.

✧ ✧ ✧

Sweet Green Tomato Pickle

One peck green tomatoes, 3 lbs. Bermuda onions, 1 cup salt, 2 quarts water, 3 quarts water, 3 quarts vinegar, 2 lbs. sugar, 2 tablespoons whole cloves, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons each root ginger, whole allspice, mustard seeds, stick cinnamon. Slice the tomatoes and onions after washing, and peeling the onions, sprinkle with the salt and let stand over night, then drain. Add the water, 1 quart vinegar and boil 10 minutes and drain. Add the sugar, the 2 quarts vinegar, and the spices tied in a thin bag. Boil carefully stirring almost constantly for about one hour or until the syrup is somewhat thickened. Pour into sterile jars and seal. This is a delicious and inexpensive pickle, and one of the prize packs of one of my neighbors who is considered an expert cook. I am going to make it up for an ingredient in some of my Christmas parcels.

✧ ✧ ✧

Green Tomato Mincemeat

Twelve medium-sized green tomatoes, 12 sour apples, 3 cups brown sugar, 1 cup mixed peel, 1 cup cider, 3 cups finely chopped suet, 1 lb. (or more) raisins, 1 tablespoon each cinnamon, cloves nutmeg and salt (or replace some of these spices with a small amount of allspice). Mix all ingredients, and boil 20 minutes, timing it after it boils all over. Stir all of the time. Pour into sterile jars and seal. This amount will make 6 pies.

6—In Memoriams

INNES—In memory of my mother, Mrs. Gordon Innes, who passed away Sept. 24, 1925.
Memories are all I have
Of the one who is so dear,
All I can do is think of her
Each day of the year.
Until at last, in God's good time,
With her I shall abide,
And the one who is so dear to me
Will be ever at my side.
—Ever remembered by daughter Mildred, George and grandchildren Ellis.

PANTER—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Alice Panter, who passed away two years ago today.
September comes with sad regret,
And one that we will not forget,
Thy will be done seems hard to say,
When one we loved was called away.
Things have changed in many ways,
But one thing never changes,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Sadly remembered by husband and family.

PANTER—In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Alice Panter, who passed away September 26, 1948.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
—Ever remembered by daughter Hazel and family.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mrs. A. Ferguson and family wish to express their sincere thanks to the doctors, nurses and sister of St. Joseph's Hospital, relatives, fellow employees of Brinton Carpet, manager and staff of the Club Aragon, friends and neighbors, and all those who sent flowers and assisted in every way during their recent and sad bereavement.

Mrs. Thomas Starr wishes to take this opportunity of thanking attending doctors, nurses and sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, relatives and neighbors and many kind friends who sent flowers and gifts and in any way helped during my recent confinement.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillier wish to thank Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church for the lovely service he gave, Belleghem Funeral Home, all those who sent floral tributes and the loan of cars and to all who helped in any way in the loss of a dear friend, Donald McMillan.

2,099 Ontario Divorces

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP). — Ontario divorces granted during the year ended May 31 numbered 2,099, officials at Osgoode Hall, home of Ontario's Supreme Court said today. Some 850 concerned couples in the Toronto area. Ontario's biggest year for divorces was 1947, when there were 3,509.

236 Die, Missing In Disasters

By The Canadian Press.

At least 236 persons are dead or missing in mine, flood, and plane disasters around the world Monday and today.

At Creswell, England, a raging underground fire in a coal mine trapped and killed 80 men.

At least 100 persons were drowned in a flash flood brought on last night by a torrential downpour in the mountainous region of Sefrou, in French Morocco.

In Argentina, eight persons were drowned and 20 missing after a barge full of Roman Catholic pilgrims overturned today in the Doce River.

A Korean-bound transport plane plunged into the sea off Southern Japan today. Of the 51 persons aboard, one body was recovered, 22 were missing, and 28 were rescued.

In Spanish Morocco, all five occupants of a Spanish military plane died when it croshed yesterday in the sea off Marchia Base.

Teams Protest Illegal Blocking

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP). — J. P. (Jimmy) McCaffrey, vice-president and general manager of the Ottawa Rough Riders, said today that alleged illegal blocking by backfielders of Toronto Argonauts has been protested by the three others teams in the Big Four Football League.

He said president T. H. C. Alison of the Canadian Rugby Union will be in Ottawa this Saturday to watch the return game between Argos and Rough Riders.

"We are not protesting the work of the officials in last Saturday's game at Toronto when the Argos were called back several times for the offence," he said. "But we do think, along with the other clubs, that they are getting away with it too much."

Children Join Adults For Rally Day Service

The 50th Heavy A.A. Regiment, R.C.A. will start training as a whole unit one night a week next week, Capt. Roy Leamen, head of the A. and T. announced today. The training night will be Tuesday.

In order to reach a higher standard of training for officers, warrant officers, N.C.O.'s and prospective N.C.O.'s, said Capt. Leamen, specialist courses will be held Thursday night.

By switching to this type of training, he added, all the ranks will benefit from more individual instruction.

"We have the best training directive ever arranged for the unit and we are looking forward to a good year with it."

Previously the 50th regiment met as a whole two nights a week, Tuesday and Thursday. This new schedule will continue until the end of the training period in June.

Oshawa Named Scene Of Regiment Reunion

Members of the Midland Regiment are expected to pack Oshawa Armories September 30 for the units 10th anniversary.

The regiment was recruited in Durham, Victoria and Northumberland counties in July, 1940, and trained in Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Lindsay.

Although the unit did not see overseas action, officers and men were at times drawn from it as reinforcements for other units. Several officers of the regiment in this way received decorations for bravery.

Some members of the regiment joined the Royal Rifles, the Canadian regiment that was captured at Hong Kong. A special service will commemorate the death of former Midland Regiment members who died at Hong Kong and other places.

In charge of the reunion is Lieut.-Col. J. C. Gamey, MM, ED who commanded the Midlands during most of the regiment's existence.

St. Mike's Plan Entr Second Team In OHA

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP).— St. Michael's College Old Boys have applied to the Ontario Hockey Association to enter a second Toronto team in the Senior A group, it was learned today.

If a franchise is granted, ther will be four teams in the group The other clubs are Toronto Marboros, Hamilton Tigers, and th Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

For a while the future of th league was in doubt when Owen Sound Mercurys and the Kitchener-Waterloo entry withdrew. The Flying Dutchmen came back when a new group in Kitchener and Waterloo undertook to sponsor the team.

Plans call for Johnny O'Flaherty, who recently retired from playing with Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League, to coach the St. Michael's team.

Friends Pay Last Respects To Vern Dawson

Funeral service Monday afternoon of Robert Vernon Dawson, 619 Gilmour St., sales manager and director of the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co., and president of the Peterborough Baseball Club was largely attended.

Mr. Dawson died Friday afternoon in hospital after two weeks' illness.

Some of those attending the brief Anglican service at the Comstock chapel were forced to stand at the rear; others were unable to enter.

A half-mile procession of cars followed the hearse and the immediate family to Little Lake cemetery where Mr. Dawson was buried.

As president of the senior baseball club Mr. Dawson was credited—along with his colleagues E. George Clarke and Hugh Campbell — with giving baseball in Peterborough a new lease on life. He was one of the principal advocates of installing floodlights this year at Riverside Park. And he saw to it that the club fulfilled its share of the cost which was $15,000.

The club more than met its objective.

Many of the out of town people who attended the funeral were business associates whom Mr. Dawson had met in his extensive travels through the country as sales manager of the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co. Some were from Toronto and Montreal carpet firms and others from the larger departmental stores in those two cities.

J. M. Mackie, president of the firm, made the trip from Montreal.

Friend Admits Driving Car Owner Drunk

A charge of being drunk in control of a car against Lance Kemp, R.R. 10 Peterborough, was dismissed when his friend and companion in the car, Jack Conway, R.R. 9 Peterborough, told the court today he was the driver.

The charge was laid following an accident in which Kemp's car ran into a ditch on the Chemong Highway on the afternoon of July 27.

Kempt, however, pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and was fined $10 and costs.

When Conway told the court he had been the driver of the car, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw asked Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., for permission to lay charges of careless driving and driving without a licence against Conway.

Normally under the Highway Traffic Act, a charge must be laid within 10 days of the alleged offence, but when a delay is caused by the accused, a magistrate can set aside the normal ruling.

Conway pleaded guilty to both charges. He said he had drunk one and a half pints in the morning. He was driving Kemp's car because Kemp "wasn't capable of driving."

He explained that he drove onto the shoulder of the highway and was pulled into the ditch because a car approaching him was passing a truck, also approaching. He was trying to avoid a head-on collision.

Magistrate fined him $20 and costs on the careless driving charge and $10 and costs on the charge of driving without a licence, a total of $35.

Conway walked to the doorway where Kemp was standing. Kemp gave him $35 and Conway paid the fines. A person convicted of being drunk in charge of a car is liable to a jail term of seven days.

Hear Pastors From W. Africa

HARWOOD, Sept. 26 — (ENS) —The Rev. Theodore Tucker and the Rev. Frederiko Musilli, both of Angola, West Africa, were guest speakers at Harwood Bethesda United Church anniversary services on Sunday.

Mr. Musilli, who was ordained for the ministry a year ago in Africa, spoke to the congregation in his native language and also in Portugese and Mr. Tucker translated his message into English to the congregation which filled the church to capacity. Both pastors are commissioners to the World Council of Churches in Toronto.

The senior and junior choirs combined in th eanthem, "O Worship the King" by Maunder. At the morning service the senior choir sang "O Lord How Manifold" and the guest soloist, Mrs. M. Crews, Canton sang the Stranger of Galilee."

At the evening service, Mr. Tucker, who is a native pastor of West Africa, related some of his life's experiences. He expressed his warm appreciaton to the congregation for their missionary offering which made it possible to carry on their work in Africa.

A male quartet made up of Frank Shearer, Kenneth Symons, Thomas Chadwick and Glenn Hogg sang "Onward and Upward." Mrs. Crews sang a solo and the senior choir concluded with Caleb Simper's "Break Forth into Joy" with the solo part taken by T. Chadwick.

The minister of the church, the Rev. A. E. Larke extended the thanks of the congregation to the visiting ministers and soloist and all others who had helped to make the anniversary services a success. The new reed electric organ which was installed a month ago added much to the service of song.

The special offering for the day amounted to $500.

$75 Pension Possible Phillips Declares

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP). — Dr. Mackinnon Phillips, newly-appointed Ontario Health Minister, said Monday the federal government could increase the old-age pension to $75 a month by economizing in other government departments.

Dr. Phillips told the Toronto Women's Progressive Conservative Association: "I think it is a sin and a shame that our old-age pensioners are getting only $40 a month."

Great Land Reform Started For Peasants In Italy

By PATRICK CROSSE

SANTA SEVERINA, Italy, Sept. 26 (Reuters)—For the first time in living memory almost the whole population of this poverty-stricken Southern Italian village went to work today.

Four hundred of the hilltop village's 462 families trooped down a steep rocky track to the valley below to put in their first day's work on their own land, which till Monday belonged to six local barons.

They were the first families to benefit from Italy's projected land reforms, greatest planned agricultural transformation ever carried out in Western Europe.

During the next two years 250,000 peasant families throughout Italy are to be given 2,640,000 acres broken off from big estates, according to present plans.

The reform was initiated Monday when the 400 landless families of Santa Severina lined up to draw lots for the 3,436 acres evpropriated from local landlords.

The size of plot given each family depended on the number of children, ranging in Santa Severina from one to 14. Its location depended on the drawing of a number from a hat.

Hard Work Ahead

Today the new peasant owners faced the task of scratchiig a living from barren soil neglected for centuries by landlords who found it easier to give their thousands of acres over to sheep-grazing.

First to get to work was hardbitten 60-year-old Nicola Bomparola, whose new plot adjoined the two acres he grabbed last year from Baron Giulio Berlingari, biggest local landowner.

He was the only squatter to stand out alone against the baron's threats. Monday, under the new reforms, he became the legal owner of the two acres, as well as of another 10 acres expropriated from the same landowner.

His eight sons, ranging in age from 14 to 24, his two young daughters and his wife, 44-year-old Filomena, were at work shortly after dawn, digging a channel to carry a small trickle of water from a mountain spring across the arid soil of their new plot.

Allowed Advance

Bomparola himself, after setting them to work, returned to the village with plans for the purchase of some spades, two pigs and some fertilizer.

If his plans are approved he will be allowed to draw on the fund the equivalent of $350 held to the credit of each new peasant proprietor.

Within the next few days a total of 150,000 acres will be distributed to some 12,000 families in the Sila region amount Santa Severina, a mountainous tract at the southern end of the Apennines.

The rest of the land reform throughout Italy will later be carried out on the basis of experience gained in this first distribution in one of the most poverty-stricken regions of the country.

To Re organize Boxing Clubs

A re-organization meeting of the Peterborough Boxing Club sponsored by the Recreation Commission, will be held Wednesday night at 7 in Ashburnham Hall, recreation director Alex Sinclair said today.

Plans for the coming season will be discussed and will depend upon the number of last year's boxers and interested amateurs who turn out. Lou Carveth has taken over the coaching duties of the club, filling the vacancy left by Ron Menzies who joined the Department of Lands and Forests at Parry Sound.

Last year the club met each Monday, Wednesday and Friday night at Ashburnham Hall for training.

During the summer months the club was discontinued. Several of the club's boxers continued entering boxing cards in Lindsay and othter centres, scoring knockouts and receiving several decisions.

RCAF Not Getting Qualified Men

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP)—The RCAF, not getting enough qualified young men who want to fly, announced Monday it has begun to dip into the reservoir of veteran pilots from the Second World War to fill the gap.

The first group of 27 veterans under 27 years of age reported to the air force's London, Ont., base Monday for eight weeks' indoctrination training, headquarters said in a statement. They were selected from among hundreds of veterans who replied to a letter asking men to accept short-term —five to six year—commissions.

How many of these groups are called back into service depends on one thing, a spokesman said. That is the pace at which younger men, too young to have served in the last war, came forward. Their age limits are 18 to 25.

The pace so far hasn't been fast enough. It will be examined again in six weeks' time and if it still isn't satisfactory another group of veterans will be called back to uniform. This six-week system will be continued indefinitely.

Warn Hotelmen Against Boycott Of Beer Brands

TORONTO, Sept. 26. — Judge W. T. Robb, chairman of the Ontario Liquor License Board, Monday warned license holders that boycotting of any particular brand of beer is contrary to regulations and may result in suspension or cancellation of licenses.

The board's regulations, the chairman said, provide that license-holders must maintain an adequate supply of liquor (which includes beer), when available, of the brands commonly in demand.

"The board feels sure that licensees will not be foolish enough to jeopardize their privileges and that the public will be able at all times to purchase such brands of beer as they are desirous of purchasing," Judge Robb said.

Last week John J. Corcoran, president of the Hotel Proprietors' Association, blamed the three-cent increase in the price of beer on Canadian Breweries, and said the increase came without warning and to the benefit of only the breweries.

Judge Robb said Monday night no representations were made to the license board by Canadian Breweries or any other brewery concerning a price boost. Because, in his budget, Finance Minister Abbott gave notice of a tax increase which affected beer prices, it became the duty of the board to revise its price lists, the chairman said.

"The brewers and Brewers' Warehousing Company and the license holders," he said, "had the fullest opportunity to make submissions on the question to the Liquor Control Board and did so."

A name to endure

Nova Scotia

Three hundred and thirty years ago King James I granted the land of Acadia to Sir William Alexander. This Scots colonizer renamed it Nova Scotia (New Scotland) in honour of his native country.

Throughout three centuries of colourful history Nova Scotians have made theirs a name to endure by notable contributions to Canada. From famous ports Nova Scotian fishing fleets have harvested the wealth of the Atlantic. Coal mining, lumbering and rich agricultural communities contribute still further to the resources of this maritime province.

Wisely preparing for the future of her sons and daughters Nova Scotia has, over the years, established educational institutions of great renown. From them continues to come much that will endure in the progress of the Province . . . and Canada.

Fall Strikes With Beauty In Hills of New Brunswick

FOLLY LAKE, N.B.—I seem to have been mentioning autumn in most of these recent burblings from "down east," but the season in this part of the world demands something more than a passing reference. The New Brunswick hills in autumn! Could anything be more beautiful?

We have the trailer parked now in the kind of location we dreamed about before starting out on the trip, but never quite found until now.

Folly Lake is a cold, spring-fed pond a few miles south of Moncton on the road to Halifax, our next stop. We manipulated the caravan about so that we're no more than three feet from the water's edge. So close, in fact, that a piece of bread tossed from the door brings us a visit from a swarm of small and apparently starving trout.

But what makes this location so rewarding now is the coloring in the woods that rim the lake. No man-made garden ever had such vivid or such subtle shades or wrought such a confusion of emotions in man.

Down here, where people set their shoulders and brace themselves for winter, this spectacular display of nature is a very definite intermission between the seasons. At the camp nearby, for example, the proprietor is torn between the necessity of getting in some new plumbing in his cabins before the first severe frost or accepting the invitation of the warm, bright days to go fishing. Today he has gone fishing, but with a fatalistic knowledge that he'll regret it.

Try to Beat Snow

We have our own share of indecision. Yesterday, under the spell of a golden sun, we decided definitely to take a side trip to Prince Edward Island instead of going right on to Halifax, where we'll be wrapping up the trip. But last night a winter's wind howled through the screen windows and convinced us that we'd better hurry on if we want to beat the snow.

The season is an ideal time to look at things in retrospect and today I've been looking back on the trip that way. Gals went in to Moncton to get their hair done (we are going to have a very formal dinner party in Halifax to celebrate our arrival) and left me to contemplate the scenery and our wanderings in the last four months.

The thing that's impressed me most of all about Canada, I think, is the wonderful neighborliness of people. We may be divided in a lot of ways, geographically and historically, but that big hello is as hearty and sincere from coast to coast.

This is no idle comment. On a trip like this you pretty well have to invade the privacy of a lot of people who, in most cases never heard of you and have every right to be suspicious of what you're up to. Sometimes when I approach a family cold and begin asking them questions about their personal lives, I wonder if they're going to come right out and say it's none of my business.

Everyone Friendly

But in all our travels this summer we've found nothing but friendliness. Wherever we've stopped there, suddenly, are neighbors as interested in our life as we are in their's.

This began at Cultus Lake only 60 miles from home base where a Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thayer helped us solve the mysteries of the trailer. And it's been that way ever since, right up to Shediac where a grand old gent named Georges Legere took us in tow and treated us like visiting royalty.

When this tour jells into focus I think our greenest memory of Canada will be those friendly faces. And I think this is worth mentioning as something more than a personal note. It's kind of reassuring to get away from the safe and accepted orbit of your own familiar circle, out on your own as strangers, and find that people are pretty damn nice wherever you go.

Caravan for Summer

Well, a caravan is a very swell way to live so long as the weather allows you to use the outdoors for extra room. On those days when it rains, even a modern outfit like this can't accommodate four people decently, or certainly not with anything resembling gracious living, and I would dread the prospect of living through a winter this way.

To us, the interesting point is that we get along better in these cramped quarters now than we did when we started out. We've found that it requires a good deal of give and take and an awful lot of organization to keep from getting in each other's hair. In a netshell, we've had to learn to live together as a family never does in a home. There's no such thing as being alone in a trailer.

As for the mechanical troubles that marred the first half of the trip, we've worked them out and proved, I think, that anybody can have a gypsy's life and that it has its definite rewards.

But, let's face it. Even sitting here beside this gem of a lake, gazing across at the russet flame through the New Brunswick maples and feeling that extra aliveness that most of us develop in strange surroundings, the biggest discovery of all is a very old and hackneyed one:

There's just no place like home.

Yugoslavia Asks Restoration Of 38th Parallel

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Yugoslav Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj called Monday for the temporary re-establishment of the 38th Parallel as the demarcation line in Korea. He attacked those supporting North Korea's aggressive course.

In a policy speech before the UN General Assembly, the Yugoslav official declared that Marshal Tito's government "considers that the present policy of the government of North Korea does not serve the cause of true independence and unity of the Korean people."

In the same speech he charged that the Russian bloc is increasing the pressure on Yugoslavia by provoking border incidents almost daily.

Simultaneously Yugoslavia introduced two resolutions designed to strengthen the Assembly's efforts to prevent aggression.

One calls for the establishment o. a permanent mediation commission made up of small powers. The other requires a country involved in armed conflict to issue a cease-fire order within 24 hours and to withdraw its armed forces from disputed territory. Failure to do so automatically would brand the country as an aggressor.

Have 12 Members

The 12-member mediation commission suggested by Yugoslavia would comprise the six non-permanent members of the Security Council and six members elected by the Assembly. The permanent members of the Security Council — the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China—would not be eligible for membership.

Policy addresses by leading UN diplomats, including Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, were on tap for today's Assembly session.

Phone Girls Steal Thousands Of Dollars

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 26 (AP) — The theft of hundreds of thousands of dollars over a period of years from the Southern Bell Telephone Company here was disclosed Monday and 12 persons are under arrest.

Two girls admitted they took as much as $150 a day each. All the thefts were from the counting room where silver from pay stations was counted. The girls stuffed rolls of quarters in their brassieres.

I. R. Mills, safety director of West Miami, uncovered the case Sunday when Rita Orr 18, reported some money stolen from her home. Mills investigated. He found three suitcases full of money in an automobile in front of the house. Two of the suitcases contained $4,107 in quarters.

Rita's sister Marie, and Mrs. Betty Corrigan 23, also employed by the telephone company, were said by Mills to have told "the whole story."
